§ 6. Suspension of certificate of authority. When any insurance company shall violate the provisions of this act, the said insurance commissioner shall have the power to suspend the certificate of authority of such insurance company for a period not to exceed one year.

§ 7. Penalty. Any person, firm or corporation violating the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

NOTE.—The taking effect of this act has been delayed by the filing of a referendum petition. The act will be voted on at the general election in November, 1920, or at any special election which may be called by the Governor prior to such general election.

TITLE 280.

INTEREST.

ACT 1675.

An act, to be known as the usury law, relating to the rate of interest which may be charged for the loan or forbearance of money, goods or things in actions, or on accounts after demand, or on judgments, providing penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof, and repealing sections one thousand nine hundred seventeen, one thousand nine hundred eighteen, one thousand nine hundred nineteen, and one thousand nine hundred twenty of the Civil Code and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act.

This act was an initiative measure submitted and approved at the general election November 5, 1918. See Stats. 1919, lxxxiii.

§ 1. The rate of interest upon the loan or forbearance of any money, goods or things in action or on accounts after demand or judgments rendered in any court of this state, shall be seven dollars upon the one hundred dollars for one year and at that rate for a greater or less sum or for a longer or a shorter time; but it shall be competent for parties to contract for the payment and receipt of a rate of interest not exceeding twelve dollars on the one hundred dollars for one year and not exceeding that rate for a greater or less sum or for a longer or shorter time, in which case such rate exceeding seven dollars on one hundred dollars shall be clearly expressed in writing.

§ 2. No person, company, association or corporation shall directly or indirectly take or receive in money, goods or things in action, or in any other manner whatsoever, any greater sum or any greater value for the loan or forbearance of money, goods or things in action than at the rate of twelve dollars upon one hundred dollars for one year; and in the computation of interest upon any bond, note, or other instrument or agreement, interest shall not be compounded, nor shall the interest thereon be construed to bear interest unless an agreement to that effect is clearly expressed in writing and signed by the party to be charged therewith. Any agreement or contract of any nature in conflict with the provisions of this section shall be null and void as to any agreement or stipulation therein contained to pay interest and no action at law to recover interest in any sum shall be maintained and the debt cannot be declared due until the full period of time it was contracted for has elapsed.

§ 3. Every person, company, association or corporation, who for any loan or forbearance of money, goods or things in action shall have paid or delivered any greater sum or value than is allowed to be received under the preceding sections, one and two, may either in person or his or its personal representative, recover in an action at law against the person, company, association or corporation who shall have taken or received the same, or his or its personal representative, treble the amount of the money so paid or value delivered in violation of said sections, providing such action shall be brought within one year after such payment or delivery. And any person, company, association or corporation, who shall ask, demand, receive, take, accept or charge more than twelve per centum per annum upon the sum of money actually loaned for the forbearance, use or loan thereof, when the repayment of the money loaned shall be secured by a mortgage, trust deed, bill of sale, assignment, pledge, receipt or other evidence of debt, except corporation bonds, and municipal and other public bonds, upon property, real or personal or by assignment of wages, or ask, demand, receive, take, accept or charge more than an amount equal to five per cent so actually loaned and secured in all sums of one thousand dollars or less, and three per cent on all sums over one thousand dollars in full for all examinations, views, fees, appraisals, commissions, renewals made within one year from date of loan and charges of any kind or description whatsoever, except abstracts or certificates of title charges made under the Torrens land law or otherwise, in the procuring, making and transacting of the business connected with such loans, or who shall ask, demand, receive, take, accept or charge any fee, bonus or commission whatsoever for the use or loan or the procuring of such loan of any sum of money for a shorter period than six months when said loan is not secured by a mortgage or pledge upon real estate, or shall violate the provisions of sections one and two of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished for the first offense by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than three hundred dollars, or by imprisonment not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and for each subsequent offense and conviction shall be punished by a fine not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars and by imprisonment not less than six months nor more than one year. The penalties herein provided for the violation of this section and said sections one and two shall apply to and be imposed upon each member of any unincorporated company, association, or of any copartnership and upon each officer and director of a corporation who shall violate either of said sections.

§ 4. Sections one thousand nine hundred seventeen, one thousand nine hundred eighteen, one thousand nine hundred nineteen and one thousand nine hundred twenty of the Civil Code and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

§ 5. This act whenever cited, referred to, or amended may be designated simply as the "usury law."

TITLE 262.

INTOXICATING LIQUORS.

ACT 1696b.

An act enforcing the provisions of article eighteen of the constitution of the United States; prohibiting the manufacture, sale, storage, service, gift, transportation, importation or exportation of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes; regulating all other traffic in such liquors; and providing penalties for violations hereof.

See note at end of statute.

§ 1. Intent of act. This entire act shall be deemed to be an exercise of the power granted by article eighteen of the constitution of the United States and of the police power of the state for the protection of the public health, peace, safety, and morals of the people of the state, and all of its provisions shall be liberally construed for the accomplishment of these purposes.

§ 2. Definitions. The words "intoxicating liquors" or "intoxicating liquor," wherever used in this act, shall be construed to include any distilled, malt, spirituous, vinous, fermented or alcoholic liquor, which contains more than one-half of one per cent by volume of alcohol, and all alcoholic liquids and compounds whether proprietary, patented or not, which are potable or capable of being used as a beverage, and which contain more than one-half of one per cent by volume of alcohol.

For the purposes of this act a wholesale druggist is one who sells drugs at wholesale and not to the general public.

A retail druggist is a registered pharmacist, authorized to practice in this state, conducting a regular retail business in drugs and who sells to the general public.

§ 3. Interpretation of words. In the interpretation of this act words of the singular number shall be deemed to include their plurals, and words of the masculine gender shall be deemed to include the feminine and neuter, as the case may be.

The word "person," wherever used in this act, shall be construed to mean and include natural persons, firms, copartnerships, corporations, clubs, and all associations or combinations of persons, whether acting by themselves or by a servant, agent or employee.

§ 4. Manufacture, etc., of intoxicating liquor. It shall be unlawful for any person, directly or indirectly, to manufacture, receive, sell, serve, give away, transport, or otherwise dispose of any intoxicating liquor within the state of California, or to import any such liquor into or to export any such liquor from said state, except as provided herein.

§ 5. Possession. It shall be unlawful for any person, while on any street, alley, park, road, or highway, or in any car, aeroplane, boat, motor, or other vehicle or means of transportation, or in any club, hotel, hall, theater, store, or other public or semi-public place, to have on his person or in his possession any intoxicating liquor, except as provided herein.

§ 6. Storage. It shall be unlawful for any person to have, keep, or store any intoxicating liquor in any public or semi-public place, except as provided herein.

§ 7. Orders for sale. It shall be unlawful for any person to solicit, take or receive any order for intoxicating liquor, or to give information how such liquors may be obtained or where such liquors are; except that persons holding valid permits to manufacture or sell intoxicating liquors for nonbeverage purposes, may accept orders for such liquors on the premises where they may be legally sold, and representatives of such manufacturers and of wholesale druggists may take orders for such liquors from persons holding valid permits to purchase same.

§ 8. Advertisements. It shall be unlawful for any person to advertise any intoxicating liquor by means of any sign or billboard, or by circular, poster, price list, newspaper, periodical, or otherwise, or to advertise the manufacture, sale, keeping for sale, or furnishing of such liquors, or the person from whom, or the place where, or the price at which, or the method by which any such liquors may be obtained; provided, that manufacturers and wholesale druggists, holding valid permits under this act, may send price lists to those to whom they may legally sell such liquors.

It shall be unlawful to permit any sign or billboard, painted, erected or otherwise constructed after the thirtieth day of June, 1919, containing any advertisement, rendered unlawful by this section, to remain upon one's premises, or to circulate or distribute any circulars, price list or other advertisement rendered unlawful by this section, and it shall be the duty of every peace officer to remove and destroy any such advertisement when it comes to his notice or upon demand of any citizen.

§ 9. Nothing in this act shall be construed as rendering unlawful:

(a) Manufacture for nonbeverage purposes. The manufacture of intoxicating liquors for nonbeverage purposes by any person holding a valid permit so to do, obtained as herein provided.

(b) Storage for nonbeverage purposes. The keeping or storing of intoxicating liquors on the premises where lawfully manufactured or in any place where such liquors may legally be sold, or in cellars, vaults or warehouses owned or leased by persons holding valid permits to manufacture, keep or sell such liquors for nonbeverage purposes, or the keeping of wine for sacramental purposes in any church or in the residence of, the pastor or priest of any church, or the distributing and use of wine at any sacramental service.

(c) Sale and delivery by wholesale druggists. Statement on container. Removal of statement from container. The sale and delivery of intoxicating liquors, by those lawfully manufacturing the same or by wholesale druggists holding valid permits so to do, to other manufacturers of such liquors or to other wholesale druggists or to retail druggists holding valid permits under this act; provided, the person so selling such liquors shall keep a record of all liquors so sold in which shall be entered the date of the sale, the kind of liquor sold, the quantity of each kind, and the name and address of the person to whom sold, such record to be open to public inspection; provided, however, that where spirituous liquors are sold the records required to be kept by the United States Internal Revenue Department shall be sufficient record; and provided, further, that the person so selling such liquor shall securely fasten to the container holding it a legibly written or printed statement, in English, signed by said person and giving the following information: Kind and quantity of contents, by whom sold (giving name and address), to whom sold (giving name and address), and date of sale.

It shall be unlawful for any person to remove such statement from such container, until said container and contents have been delivered to the purchaser at the address stated in such statement, and it shall be unlawful to empty all or part of the contents from any such container anywhere except at the address stated in aforesaid statement, and when the contents of any such package have been emptied from it, said statement shall immediately be removed and destroyed.

(d) Sale of wine for sacramental purposes. Record of sale. Statement on container. Removal of statement from container. The sale or furnishing of wine for sacramental purposes by the manufacturer of the same or by retail druggists, holding valid permits so to do obtained under this act; provided, such wine is furnished only to a regularly ordained priest or minister or upon the written order of the local official board or governing body of a religious organization, and that the person furnishing such wine shall keep a record in which shall be entered the date of the furnishing, the quantity furnished and the signature of the person obtaining the same, such record to be open to public inspection; and provided, further, that the person so furnishing such wine shall securely fasten to the container holding it a legibly written or printed statement, in English, signed by said person and giving the following information: Kind and quantity of contents, by whom furnished (giving name and address), to whom furnished (giving name and address), date of furnishing, and a statement that it was furnished for sacramental purposes.

It shall be unlawful for any person to remove from any container holding wine obtained for sacramental purposes the statement provided for in this section or to use all or part of said wine for any purpose other than sacramental purposes.

(e) Dispensing by retail druggists on prescription. Prescription to be fastened to container. Removal of prescription from container. The dispensing of intoxicating liquors by retail druggists, holding valid permits so to do, for medicinal purposes only, upon a prescription issued, signed and dated by a duly licensed physician regularly practicing his profession; provided, that the name of the person applying for the prescription, and the name and address of the person for whose use the prescription is made shall be inserted therein by the physician issuing the same at the time the prescription is made or given, and that not more than one sale or furnishing is made upon such prescription, that not more than eight ounces of spirituous liquor, and not more than sixteen ounces of vinous or malt liquor is sold on any one prescription, and that all such prescriptions are kept on file at the place of business of said druggist, open to public inspection; and provided, further, that said druggist shall paste upon or securely fasten to the container holding such liquor a legibly written or printed copy of the prescription on which such liquor was furnished.

It shall be unlawful for any person to remove said copy of such prescription from said container until all of the liquor has been removed therefrom, and it shall be unlawful to empty all or part of said liquor from said container until it has been delivered at the address mentioned in said prescription or to use said liquor for any purpose other than the medicinal purpose for which it was furnished.

(f) Sale of ethyl alcohol. Statement on container. The sale and delivery by any person, holding a valid permit so to do obtained as herein provided, of ethyl alcohol to manufacturers of toilet, medicinal, antiseptic, culinary, or other nonbeverage preparations, or to the superintendent or authorized officer of a hospital, museum or laboratory or of an art, educational or public institution; provided, such manufacturer, superintendent or other person has a valid permit, obtained as herein provided, to receive and possess such alcohol; and provided, further, that the person selling such alcohol shall keep a record of all such sales in which shall be entered the date of the sale, kind and quantity of liquor sold, and the name and address of the person to whom sold; such record to be open to public inspection; and provided, further, that the person selling such alcohol shall securely fasten to the container holding it a legibly written or printed statement in English, signed by said person, and giving the following information: Kind and quantity of contents, by whom sold (giving name and address), to whom sold (giving name and address), purpose for which sold and date of sale.

When any container is emptied the aforesaid statement shall forthwith be removed therefrom and destroyed. It shall be unlawful for any person to remove aforesaid statement from such container until all of the alcohol has been removed therefrom, and it shall be unlawful to empty all or part of said alcohol from said container at any place other than the address of the purchaser as given in said statement, or for any purpose other than that for which it was sold.

(g) Manufacture and sale of flavoring extracts, etc. Not to be sold as beverages. The manufacture and sale of such preparations as flavoring extracts, essences, tinctures and perfumes, which do not contain more alcohol than is necessary for legitimate purposes of extraction, solution or preservation, and of remedies which do not contain more alcohol than is necessary for extraction, solution or preservation and which do contain drugs in sufficient quantities to medicate the compound; provided, that when any of the aforesaid preparations are manufactured in California, they shall be manufactured only by persons holding valid permits to keep alcohol for nonbeverage purposes, and such preparations, whether made in California or imported, shall be sold only for lawful purposes and not as beverages.

(b) Intoxicating liquor in private homes. The keeping of any intoxicating liquor obtained before this act goes into effect at a time when and place where such liquor can be legally sold by any person at his home and the serving of same to members of his family or to guests, as an act of hospitality, when nothing of value or representative of value is received in return therefor, and when such home is not a place of public resort.

(i) Transportation for nonbeverage purposes. Statement on container. The transportation out of or into the state of California of intoxicating liquor for nonbeverage purposes when such liquor is shipped or received by a person holding a valid permit, obtained as herein provided, to manufacture, sell or receive such liquors; and provided, there is securely fastened to the container holding such liquor a legibly written or printed statement in English, signed by the shipper and giving the following information: Kind and quantity of liquor therein, by whom sold (giving name and address), to whom sold (giving name and address), purpose for which sold and date of sale.

It shall be unlawful to remove aforesaid statement from said container while in transit within the state of California.

§ 10. Removal of statement from container. Display of statement. It shall be unlawful for any person to carry or transport any intoxicating liquor within, into or out of the state of California without having on the outside of the container holding such liquors the written or printed statement required in the various paragraphs of section nine of this act, and said statement must be so attached that the words thereon may at all times be easily seen and read.

§ 11. Permit for manufacture, sale, etc. Permits to sell intoxicating liquor for nonbeverage purposes, subject to the limitations and provisions herein provided, shall be issued by the state board of pharmacy of California to wholesale and retail druggists.

Permits to manufacture, import, sell and export intoxicating liquor for nonbeverage purposes, subject to the limitations and provisions herein provided, shall be issued by the state board of pharmacy to such persons as make sufficient showing that they have a legitimate demand, under this act, for intoxicating liquors for nonbeverage purposes.

Permits to buy and keep alcohol for nonbeverage purposes shall be issued by the state board of pharmacy to manufacturers of toilet, medicinal, antiseptic, culinary or other nonbeverage preparations, and to the superintendent or authorized officer of any hospital, museum or laboratory or of any art, educational or public institution.

§ 12. Application for permit. Any person desiring to obtain a permit as provided herein, shall file written application with the state board of pharmacy, giving his name and address, nature of his business or official position and full statement of grounds on which application is made. With each such application shall be sent a filing fee of five dollars, which shall be deposited in a special fund to be known as the "prohibition enforcement fund," which fund is hereby created for the payment of all expenses of said board in administering this act in the manner provided herein.

The state board of pharmacy shall issue a permit when it is shown by applicant for such permit that he has a legitimate demand for intoxicating liquors and that he will observe all laws relating to the sale of such liquors. Such permits shall be for two years; provided, that any such permit may be revoked by the state board of pharmacy, if after a hearing, notice of which has been given to the holder of such permit, said board shall be satisfied that said holder has not observed the law relating to sale of intoxicating liquor. When any such permit shall have been revoked, it shall be discretionary with the state board of pharmacy whether or not any new permit shall thereafter be issued to the holder of the permit revoked.

§ 13. Penalties. Any person holding a permit, obtained as herein provided, who manufactures, sells or furnishes intoxicating liquor in violation of this act shall, for a first offense, be fined not more than one thousand dollars and for a second offense shall be fined not less than two hundred dollars nor more than two thousand dollars and be imprisoned in the county jail for a term not exceeding six months; for a third and each subsequent offense he shall be fined not less than five hundred dollars nor more than five thousand dollars and be imprisoned in the state prison for a term not exceeding two years.

Any other person violating this act shall, for a first offense, be fined not more than six hundred dollars; for a second offense not less than two hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars and be imprisoned in the county jail for a term not exceeding six months; for a third and each subsequent offense he shall be fined not less than three hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars and be imprisoned in the state prison for a term not exceeding one year.

§ 14. Place of prosecution. In case of an unlawful sale where a shipment or delivery of intoxicating liquor is made by a common or other carrier, the sale or delivery thereof shall be deemed to be made in the county wherein the delivery is made by such carrier to the consignee, his agent or employee. A prosecution for such sale or delivery may likewise be had in the county wherein the sale is made or from which the shipment is made or in any county through which the shipment is made.

§ 15. Local or national jurisdiction. Nothing in this act shall be construed as limiting the power of any city or county, or city and county, to prohibit the manufacture, or sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes within its corporate limits; neither shall anything in this act be construed as authorizing anything prohibited by any act of Congress, now in force or hereafter adopted, relating to the liquor traffic.

§ 16. Time of taking effect. This act shall take effect and be in force on the same day as the provisions of article eighteen of the constitution of the United States, prohibiting the manufacture, sale, transportation, importation or exportation of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes, take effect.

NOTE.—The taking effect of this act has been delayed by the filing of a referendum petition. The act will be voted on at the general election to be held in November, 1920, or at any special election which may be called by the Governor prior to such general election.

TITLE 264.

INVESTMENT COMPANIES.

ACT 1700.

An act providing for the regulation and supervision of companies, brokers, agents, and sales of securities as the same are therein defined, and to prevent fraud in the sale of securities; providing for the enforcement of said act and penalties for the violation thereof; and creating a state corporation department and the office of commissioner of corporations.

Amended 1919, p. 231.

§ 1. Title. This act shall be known as the "corporate securities act."

§ 2. Words defined. Words used in this act in the present tense include the future as well as the present; words used in the masculine gender include the feminine and neuter, and in the neuter, the masculine and feminine; the singular number includes the plural, and the plural, the singular; "writing" includes "printing" and "typewriting"; "oath" includes "affirmation"; the word "county" includes "city and county"; and "territory" includes "district." The following words have in this act the signification attached to them in this section, unless otherwise apparent from the context:

1. The word "department" means the "state corporation department" created by this act.

2. The word "commissioner" means the "commissioner of corporations."

3. "Company." The word "company" includes all domestic and foreign, private corporations, associations, joint stock companies, and partnerships, of every kind, and also trustees, as hereinafter defined; excepting therefrom:

(a) All national banking associations and other corporations organized and existing under and by virtue of the acts of the congress of the United States;

(b) All public utilities subject to the jurisdiction, control, and regulation of the railroad commission of this state;

(c) All corporations now or hereafter organized under the laws of this state for the purpose of conducting the business of banking within this state and all corporations transacting insurance business within this state;

(d) All corporations, associations, or societies transacting business under the supervision, examination, and license of the bureau of building and loan supervision; and

(e) Every corporation organized under the laws of this state exclusively for the purposes provided in any of the following titles, to wit: XIa, XII, XIIa, XIV, XXI, XXII, of Part IV, Division First, of the Civil Code, and in accordance with the provisions of such titles.

4. "Trust." The word "trust" as used in this act includes all voluntary trusts, as the same are defined in the Civil Code, expressly created by or declared in an instrument in writing, other than a will or a judicial writ, order, decree, or judgment, to carry on any business or to secure the payment or repayment of money.

5. The word "trustee," except as hereinafter used in subdivision nine of this section, includes only persons or companies executing trusts as hereinbefore defined.

6. "Security." The word "security" includes:

(a) All shares or other interests or rights into which the capital, capital stock, or property of companies or rights of stockholders or members thereof are divided, including all treasury shares and shares of their own capital stock purchased or otherwise acquired by companies upon delinquent assessment sales or in any other lawful manner, and all certificates and other instruments issued by them or their authority, evidencing or representing such shares, interests, or rights;

(b) All bonds, debentures, and evidences of indebtedness issued by any company; and

(c) Any instrument issued or offered to the public by any company, evidencing or representing any right to participate or share in the profits or earnings or the distribution of assets of any business carried on for profit; excepting therefrom the following:

(1) Bills of exchange and promissory notes not offered to the public by the drawer, maker, or underwriter thereof, and all mortgages and deeds of trust of property situated in this state, executed to secure the payment thereof; and

(2) Any security listed in any standard manual of information, as to which the commissioner shall first make and file his written finding to the effect that such security is fully and accurately described in such manual and that a sale thereof will not, in his opinion, work a fraud upon the purchaser thereof; provided, that if such finding shall thereafter be vacated or set aside, such security shall not thereafter be deemed to be included within this exception.

7. "Sale." A "sale," within the meaning of this act, includes every contract by which, for a pecuniary consideration, called a price, one transfers to another an interest in property, and also an exchange, a pledge, a hypothecation, and any transfer in trust or otherwise as security for the performance of an obligation, and also any issue of any security by a company; and the word "sell," as used in this act, includes every act by which such sale is made.

8. "Agent." The word "agent" as used in this act means and includes every person or company employed or appointed by a company or a broker who shall, within this state, either as an employee or otherwise, for a compensation, sell, offer for sale, negotiate for the sale of, or take subscriptions for any security of any company of its own issue offered for sale by it.

9. "Broker." The word "broker" as used in this act includes every person or company, other than an agent, who shall, in this state, engage, either wholly or in part, in the business of selling, offering for sale, negotiating for the sale of, or otherwise dealing in any security or securities issued by others, or of underwriting any issue of securities or of purchasing such securities with the purpose of reselling them or of offering them for sale to the public for a commission or at a profit; excepting therefrom the following:

(a) Any owner of any security who is not the issuer or an underwriter thereof, who sells or exchanges the same for his own account; provided, that such sale or exchange is not made in the course of repeated and successive transactions of like or similar character by him;

(b) Any trustee of a trust created by or declared in a will or a judicial writ, order, decree or judgment, who, in such capacity, lawfully disposes of any property;

(c) Any company transacting a banking or insurance business in this state, selling a security for an owner thereof or a broker, other than an underwriter thereof, at a commission of not more than two per cent of the par or face value thereof; provided, such sale is not made in the course of repeated and successive transactions of like or similar character by such company;

(d) One, not the issuer, who disposes of securities to a broker or to a purchaser who, as a part of his regular business, purchases such securities;

(e) Any pledge holder selling, in good faith and not for the purpose of avoiding the provisions of this act, and in the ordinary course of business, a security pledged with him as security for a bona fide debt.

10. "Actual fraud." The words "actual fraud," as used in this act, are defined in section one thousand five hundred seventy-two of the Civil Code. [Amendment approved May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 231.]

§ 3. Permit to sell securities. Application. Commissioner appointed attorney. No company shall sell, except upon a sale for a delinquent assessment made in accordance with the provisions of Article II of Chapter II of Title I of Part IV of Division First of the Civil Code; or offer for sale, negotiate for the sale of, or take subscriptions for any security of its own issue until it shall have first applied for and secured from the commissioner a permit authorizing it so to do. Such application shall be in writing, shall be verified as provided in the Code of Civil Procedure for the verification of pleadings, and shall be filed in the office of the commissioner. In such application the applicant shall set forth the names and addresses of its officers, the location of its office, an itemized account of its financial condition, the amount and character of its assets and liabilities, a detailed statement of the plan upon which it proposes to transact business, a copy of any security it proposes to issue, a copy of any contract it proposes to make concerning the same, a copy of any prospectus or advertisement, or other description of such securities, then prepared by or for it for distribution or publication, and such additional information concerning the company, its condition and affairs as the commissioner may require. If the applicant is a partnership or an unincorporated association or joint stock company, it shall file with its application a copy of its articles of partnership or association, and all other papers pertaining to its organization. If the applicant is a trustee, it shall file with its application a copy of all instruments by which the trust is created and in which it is accepted, acknowledged, or declared. If the applicant is a corporation, it shall file with its application a copy of all minutes of any proceedings of its directors or stockholders or members relating to or affecting the issue of such securities, and also a copy of its articles of incorporation and of its by-laws and of any amendments thereto. If the applicant is a corporation or association organized under the laws of any other state, territory, or government, it shall also file with its application a certificate, executed by the proper officer of such state, territory, or government not more than thirty days before the filing of such application, showing that such applicant is authorized to transact business in such state, territory, or government; and also, in such form as the commissioner may prescribe, its written instrument, irrevocably appointing the commissioner and his successor in office its true and lawful attorney upon whom all process in any action or proceeding against it may be served, with the same effect as if said corporation or association were organized or created under the laws of this state and had been lawfully served with process therein.

§ 4. Examination of application. Permit issued. Permit to sell security. Upon the filing of such application, it shall be the duty of the commissioner to examine it and the other papers and documents filed therewith, and he may, if he deems it advisable, make or have made a detailed examination, audit, and investigation of the applicant and its affairs. If he finds that the proposed plan of business of the applicant is not unfair, unjust, or inequitable, that it intends to fairly and honestly transact its business, and that the securities that it proposes to issue and the methods to be used by it in issuing or disposing of them are not such as, in his opinion, will work a fraud upon the purchaser thereof, the commissioner shall issue to the applicant a permit authorizing it to issue and dispose of securities, as therein provided, in this state, in such amounts and for such considerations and upon such terms and conditions as the commissioner may in said permit provide. Otherwise, he shall deny the application and refuse such permit and notify the applicant in writing of his decision. Every permit shall recite in bold type that the issuance thereof is permissive only and does not constitute a recommendation or indorsement of the securities permitted to be issued. The commissioner may impose such conditions as he may deem necessary to the issue of such securities, and shall have the power to establish such rules and regulations as may be reasonable or necessary to insure the disposition of the proceeds of such securities in the manner and for the purposes provided in such permit, and may, from time to time for cause, amend, alter, or revoke any permit issued by him, or temporarily suspend the rights of the applicant under such permit.

§ 5. Certificate of agent or broker. Fee. No person or company shall act as agent or broker until such person or company shall have first applied for and secured from the commissioner a certificate, then in effect, authorizing such person or company so to do. Every such certificate shall expire on the thirty-first day of December next after its issuance, unless sooner revoked. To secure such certificate, the applicant shall make and file in the office of the commissioner an application therefor in writing, verified by or in behalf of the applicant. In such application, the applicant shall set forth, in addition to such other information as may be required by the commissioner:

1. The name and address of the applicant, and, if it be a corporation, association, or joint stock company, the name and address of each of its managing officers and agents, and, if it be a partnership, the name and address of each of the partners;

2. A succinct statement of facts showing that the applicant, and its managing officers and agents, if it be a corporation, or members, if it be a partnership, have a good business reputation;

3. If the applicant is a broker, the general plan and character of the business of the applicant.

For filing such application, the applicant shall pay a fee as hereinafter provided. If the applicant is a corporation or association organized under the laws of any other state, territory, or government, it shall file with its application a copy of its articles of incorporation or association, together with a certificate executed by the proper officer of such state, territory, or government not more than thirty days before the filing of such application, showing that such applicant is authorized to transact business in such state, territory, or government, and also, in such form as the commissioner may prescribe, its written instrument, irrevocably appointing the commissioner and his successor in office its true and lawful attorney upon whom all process in any action or proceeding against it, arising out of or founded upon the actual fraud of such applicant in the sale of securities within this state, may be served, with the same effect as if said corporation or association were organized or created under the laws of this state and had been lawfully served with process therein.

§ 6. Certificate issued. The commissioner shall examine such application, and shall make such further investigation of the applicant and its affairs as he shall deem advisable. If, from such examination, the commissioner shall be satisfied of the good business reputation of the applicant and of its officers or members, if any, he shall issue such certificate. Otherwise, he shall refuse the same and deny the application and notify the applicant of his decision. The commissioner may at any time revoke any broker's or agent's certificate issued by him if he shall find that the holder thereof is of bad business repute, or has violated any provisions of this act, or has engaged, or is about to engage in any fraudulent transaction.

§ 7. Advertisements submitted to commissioner. No person, partnership, association, or corporation, other than a broker holding a broker's certificate, then in effect, shall issue, circulate, or publish any advertisement, pamphlet, prospectus, or circular concerning any security, to be issued by any company, that such person, partnership, association, or corporation desires or proposes to sell, until the company proposing to issue such security shall have first secured from the commissioner a permit authorizing it to issue or sell such security; nor shall any company, broker, or agent, or any other person, issue, circulate, or publish any advertisement, pamphlet, prospectus, or circular concerning any security sold or offered for sale by it, unless the name of the company, broker, agent, or person issuing, circulating, or publishing the same shall be subscribed thereto, and a true copy thereof shall have been first filed in the office of the commissioner, or deposited in a United States postoffice, properly inclosed in a sealed envelope, addressed to the commissioner at Sacramento, California, with the postage duly prepaid thereon; nor shall any company, broker, or agent, or any other person, issue, circulate, or publish any such advertisement, pamphlet, prospectus, or circular after notice in writing given to it by the commissioner that, in his opinion, the same contains any statement that is false or misleading or otherwise likely to deceive a reader thereof.

§ 8. Report by company on sale of securities. Every company authorized by the commissioner to sell securities shall thereafter, at such times as it may be required by the commissioner, make and file in the office of the commissioner a report, setting forth, in such form as the commissioner may prescribe, the securities sold by it under the authority of any permit issued by him, the proceeds derived therefrom, the disposition of such proceeds, and such other information concerning its property, officers, or affairs, relating to or affecting the value of such securities, as the commissioner may require.

§ 9. Statement by broker on sale of securities. Every broker shall, at such times as it may be required by the commissioner, make and file in the office of the commissioner a true and correct statement concerning any security sold or offered for sale by such broker, showing the name and location of the principal office of the issuer of such security; the names of its managing officers, if it is a corporation, or of its members, if it is a partnership; its assets, liabilities, and issued capital stock, at the close of its fiscal year then last ended, or at a later date; its gross income, expenses, and fixed charges for the year next preceding such date, or for such time as such issuer of such security has transacted business, if for less than one year, and the approximate price at which such broker has sold or proposes to sell such security, together with such other information, of which the broker may have knowledge, as the commissioner may require.

§ 10. Papers open to public inspection. All papers, documents, reports, and other instruments in writing filed with the commissioner under this act shall be open to public inspection; provided, that if, in his judgment, the public welfare or the welfare of any company, broker, or agent demands that any portion of such information be not made public, he may, in his discretion, withhold such information from public inspection for such time as in his judgment is necessary. The commissioner may at any time give, issue, or make public any information concerning any company or any contracts, stocks, bonds, or other securities sold or offered for sale within this state, if in his judgment the giving, issuing, or publishing of the same will be of public interest or advantage or will tend to prevent the fraudulent sale of such securities.

§ 11. Review of orders, etc., of commissioner. Every order, decision, permit or other official act of the commissioner shall be subject to review, in accordance with the provisions of Chapter I of Title I of Part III of the Code of Civil Procedure; and any party aggrieved by any such order, decision, or permit of the commissioner may appeal therefrom to the superior court of the county of Sacramento, by serving upon the commissioner a notice of such appeal, a demand in writing for a certified transcript of all the papers on file in his office affecting or relating to such decision, and the payment of the fee therefor, within sixty days after the making of any such order, permit, or decision. Thereupon, the commissioner shall, within ten days, make and certify such transcript, and the appellant shall, within five days thereafter, file the same and the notice of appeal with the clerk of said court. Upon the hearing of such appeal, the burden of proof shall lie upon the appellant, and the court shall receive and consider any pertinent evidence, whether oral or documentary, concerning the action of the commissioner from which the appeal is taken, but shall be limited to a consideration and determination of the question whether there has been an abuse of discretion on the part of the commissioner in making such order, decision, or permit.

§ 12. Securities void. Every security issued by any company, without a permit of the commissioner authorizing the same then in effect, shall be void, and every security issued by any company, with the authorization of the commissioner but not conforming in its provisions to the provisions, if any, which it is required by the permit of the commissioner to contain, shall be void.

§ 13. Penalty for company violating act. Every company which shall directly or indirectly issue or cause to be issued any security contrary to the provisions of this act, or of the constitution of this state, or in nonconformity with a permit of the commissioner authorizing the same, or which applies the proceeds from the sale thereof, or any part thereof, to any purpose other than the purpose or purposes, if any, specified in such permit, or to any purpose specified in such permit in excess of any amount limited in such permit to be used for such purpose, shall be guilty of a public offense and shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars.

§ 14. Penalty for officers, etc. Every officer, agent, or employee of any company, and every other person, who knowingly authorizes, directs, or aids in the issue or sale of, or issues or executes, or sells, or causes or assists in causing to be issued, executed, or sold, any security, in nonconformity with a permit of the commissioner then in effect authorizing such issue, or contrary to the provisions of this act, or of the constitution of this state, or who, in any application to the commissioner, or in any proceeding before him, or in any examination, audit, or investigation made by him or his authority, knowingly makes any false statement or representation, or who, with knowledge of its falsity, files or causes to be filed in the office of the commissioner any false statement or representation concerning such company or the property which it then holds or proposes to acquire, or concerning its officers or its financial condition or other affairs, or concerning its proposed plan of business, or who, with knowledge of the falsity of any such statement or representation, issues, executes, or sells, or causes to be issued, executed, or sold, any security, without first informing the commissioner of the falsity of such statement in writing, or who, directly or indirectly, knowingly applies, or causes or assists in causing to be applied, the proceeds, or any part thereof, from the sale of any security to any purpose contrary to the provisions of the permit authorizing the issue of such security, or to any purpose specified in such permit in excess of any amount limited in such permit to be used for such purpose, or who, with knowledge that any security has been issued or executed in violation of any of the provisions of this act, sells or offers the same for sale, or who, with knowledge that any advertisement, pamphlet, prospectus, or circular concerning any security contains any statement that is false or misleading, or otherwise likely to deceive a reader thereof issues, circulates, or publishes the same, or shall cause the same to be issued, circulated, or published, or who, in any other respect, willfully violates or fails to comply with any of the provisions of this act, or who, in any other respect, willfully violates or fails, omits, or neglects to obey, observe, or comply with any order, permit, decision, demand, or requirement, or any part or provision thereof, of the commissioner under the provisions of this act, is guilty of a public offense and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison not exceeding five years, or in a county jail not exceeding two years, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

§ 15. State corporation department created. There is hereby created a state corporation department. The chief officer of such department shall be the commissioner of corporations. He shall be appointed by the governor and hold office at the pleasure of the governor. He shall receive an annual salary of five thousand dollars, to be paid monthly out of the state treasury upon a warrant of the controller. He shall within fifteen days from the time of notice of his appointment take and subscribe to the constitutional oath of office and file the same in the office of the secretary of state and execute to the people of the state a bond in the penal sum of ten thousand dollars with corporate security or two or more sureties, to be approved by the governor of the state, for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office.

§ 16. Clerks and deputies. Duty of attorney general. The commissioner shall employ such clerks and deputies as he may need to discharge in proper manner the duties imposed upon him by law. The attorney general shall render to the commissioner opinions upon all questions of law, relating to the construction or interpretation of this act or arising in the administration thereof, that may be submitted to him by the commissioner, and shall act as the attorney for the commissioner in all actions and proceedings brought by or against him under or pursuant to any of the provisions of this act. Neither the commissioner nor any of his clerks or deputies shall be interested in any company which shall have applied for or secured a permit to sell securities, or in any broker, or agent as a director, stockholder, officer, member, agent, or employee. Such clerks and deputies shall perform such duties as the commissioner shall assign to them. He shall fix the compensation of such clerks and deputies, which compensation shall be paid monthly, on the certificate of the commissioner and on the warrant of the controller, out of the state treasury. Each deputy shall, within fifteen days after his appointment, take and subscribe to the constitutional oath of office, and file the same in the office of the secretary of state.

vestigation of the books, records, accounts, and other papers, and of the business of any company, broker, or agent permitted or authorized by him to sell securities, to make dividends, to create debts, to divide, withdraw, or pay to the stockholders, or any of them, any part of its capital stock, or to increase or reduce its capital stock. In any examination, audit, or investigation made or hearing conducted by him, he shall have the power to take the testimony of any witness and to issue subpoenas requiring the attendance upon such examination, audit, investigation, or hearing in any part of the state of witnesses and the production of books, documents, and other things under their control, and in any such case to take or cause to be taken the deposition of any witness residing within or without the state. All of the provisions of Chapter II of Title III of Part IV of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to the means of production of evidence out of court, shall be applicable to any examination, investigation, or hearing under this act. No person shall be excused from testifying or from producing any book, document, or other thing under his control upon any such examination, audit, investigation, or hearing upon the ground that his testimony, or the book, document, or other thing required of him, may tend to incriminate him, or may have a tendency to subject him to punishment for a felony, or to a penalty or forfeiture; but no person shall be prosecuted, punished, or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any act, transaction, matter, or thing concerning which he shall have been so compelled to testify under oath, or to produce such documentary or other evidence; provided, that no person so testifying shall be exempt from prosecution or punishment for perjury if committed by him in his testimony. The authority to make or conduct any such examination, audit, investigation, or hearing, including the authority to administer oaths, and to subpoena witnesses and take their testimony, may be delegated by the commissioner to any deputy or examiner appointed by him for that purpose. Such appointment shall be made by an instrument in writing, signed by the commissioner under his official seal, and upon such examination, audit, investigation, or hearing, the same shall be produced by such deputy or examiner at any time upon demand therefor.

§ 18. Service of process. In any action or proceeding commenced or prosecuted in this state against any corporation or association which shall have appointed the commissioner its attorney, as provided in section three of this act, and in any action or proceeding commenced or prosecuted in this state, arising out of or founded upon the actual fraud of any corporation or association which shall have appointed the commissioner its attorney, as provided in section five of this act, service of process may be made upon the commissioner. In any such case, the commissioner shall forthwith forward by mail, postage prepaid, to the person designated by such corporation or association by an instrument in writing duly executed by it and filed with the commissioner, at the address stated in such instrument, or, if no such designation has been made, to the secretary of such corporation or association at its last known post-office address, a copy of such process; whereupon, and upon the payment of the fee herein provided for, service of such process upon such company shall be deemed to be complete and to be personal service upon such corporation or association, with the same effect as if said corporation or association were organized or incorporated under the laws of this state and had been lawfully served with process therein. The certificate of the commissioner, under his official seal, of such service, shall be competent and sufficient proof thereof.

§ 19. Offices. The commissioner shall have his principal office in the city of Sacramento, and may establish branch offices in the city and county of San Francisco, and in the city of Los Angeles, and he shall from time to time obtain the necessary furniture, stationery, fuel, light, and other proper conveniences for the transaction of the business of the department; the expenses of which shall be paid out of the state treasury on the certificate of the commissioner and the warrant of the controller.

§ 20. Fees. "Corporation commission fund." The commissioner shall charge and collect the following fees:

1. For filing any application for a permit to issue securities, ten dollars, plus—

One twentieth of one per cent of the amount of any excess of the aggregate value of the securities sought to be issued over twenty thousand dollars and not exceeding fifty thousand dollars;

One twenty-fifth of one per cent of such amount in excess of fifty thousand dollars and not exceeding one hundred thousand dollars;

One fiftieth of one per cent of such amount in excess of one hundred thousand dollars and not exceeding five hundred thousand dollars; and

One one-hundredth of one per cent of such amount in excess of five hundred thousand dollars.

The value of such securities shall be deemed to be their par or face value, if they have a par or face value; otherwise, the price at which the company proposes to sell or issue the same, or the value, as alleged in the application, of the consideration (if other than money) to be received in exchange therefor.

2. For filing any application for a permit or other authority to make dividends, create debts, or to divide, withdraw, increase, reduce or pay to the stockholders or any of them the capital stock, or any part thereof, the same amount that would otherwise be chargeable or collectible if such application were for a permit to issue securities; provided, that in any such case the value shall be determined by the amount of dividends made, debts created, or capital stock divided, withdrawn, increased, reduced, or paid.

3. For filing any application for a broker's certificate, five dollars.

4. For filing application for an agent's certificate, one dollar.

5. For any examination, audit, or investigation, ten dollars per day or fraction thereof, if made by the commissioner, or the actual amount of the salary or other compensation, not exceeding ten dollars per day, paid to any deputy or other employee of the commissioner, if made by a deputy or other employee, for each day or fraction thereof that such commissioner, deputy, or other employee shall necessarily be absent from his office for the purpose of making such examination, audit, or investigation, plus the actual amount of traveling expenses reasonably incurred in the performance of such work.

6. For copies of papers and records not required to be certified or otherwise authenticated by the commissioner, ten cents for each folio.

7. For certified copies of official documents, orders, and other papers filed in his office; for making and mailing copies of process served upon him under the provisions of section eighteen of this act, and for transcripts on appeal, fifteen cents for each folio and one dollar for each certificate under seal affixed thereto.

8. For certificate of service and mailing of process served upon the commissioner under the provisions of sections eighteen of this act, two dollars.

No fees shall be charged or collected for copies of papers, records, or official documents furnished to public officers for use in their official capacity or for the reports of the commissioner in the ordinary course of distribution; but the commissioner may fix a reasonable charge for publications issued under his authority.

All fees charged and collected under this section shall be paid at least once each week, accompanied by a detailed statement thereof, into the treasury of the state to the credit of a fund to be known as the "corporation commission fund," which fund is hereby created.

§ 21. Appropriated for use of commissioner. Revolving fund. All moneys which shall be paid into the state treasury and credited to the "corporation commission fund" are hereby appropriated to be used by the commissioner in carrying out the provisions of this act; and the controller shall draw his warrant on said fund from time to time in favor of the commissioner for the amounts expended under his direction, and the treasurer shall pay the same. The commissioner may, with the consent of the board of control, withdraw from said fund a sum not exceeding one thousand dollars, to be used as a revolving fund where cash advances are necessary. The commissioner must account for the sum withdrawn for said revolving fund at any time upon demand of the board of control.

§ 22. Seal. The commissioner shall adopt a seal bearing the following inscription: "Commissioner of Corporations State of California." The seal shall be affixed to all writs, orders, permits, and certificates issued by him, and to such other instruments as he shall direct. All courts shall take judicial notice of said seal.

§ 23. Copies of orders, etc. The commissioner may execute in duplicate any order, finding, or permit issued by him, and each of such parts shall be deemed to be an original. An original of every such order, finding, or permit shall be retained and preserved by him in his office. Copies of all documents, orders, and permits made, executed, or issued by the commissioner, and of all papers filed in his office, when certified by the commissioner under his official seal, shall be received in evidence in all cases in like manner and with the same effect as the originals. Any order or permit issued by the commissioner, or a copy thereof certified by the commissioner under his official seal, to be a true copy of the original order or permit, may be recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which is located the principal place of business of the company affected thereby or in which is situated any property of such company, and such record shall impart notice of such order or permit, and of all its provisions, to all persons. A certificate under the seal of the commissioner that any such order or permit has not been amended, altered, revoked, or suspended may also be recorded in the same offices and with like effect.

§ 24. Official reports prima facie evidence. Every official report made by the commissioner, and every report, duly verified, made to him by any deputy, clerk, or other person employed by him, of any examination, audit, or investigation made by him or under his direction, and copies of such reports, certified by the commissioner, shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated for all purposes in any action or proceeding wherein any company, broker, agent, or the commissioner is a party.

§ 25. Subscription for shares prior to incorporation. Election of officers prior to issuing shares. Neither this act nor any provision hereof shall be deemed to prohibit subscriptions for shares of a corporation made prior to the incorporation thereof and set forth in its articles of incorporation; but such subscriptions shall be deemed to have been made and accepted upon the condition that such corporation, when incorporated, shall with reasonable diligence apply for and secure from the commissioner a permit authorizing the issue of the shares so subscribed for, in accordance with such subscriptions. The directors or trustees named in the articles of incorporation may, prior to the issue of any shares, organize by the election of a president, who must be one of their number, a secretary and a treasurer; and such directors, or a majority of them, or such president and secretary may, in the name of and in behalf of the corporation, present an application to the commissioner as herein provided.

§ 26. Acts continued. Decisions, etc., continued in force. Appeals not affected. Examination, etc., continued to final determination. This act, in so far as it does not add to, take from, or alter an act entitled "An act to define investment companies, investment brokers, and agents; to provide for the regulation, supervision and licensing thereof; to provide penalties for the violation thereof; to create the office of commissioner of corporations, and making an appropriation therefor," approved May 28, 1913, as amended by an act entitled "An act to amend section three of an act entitled 'An act to define investment companies, investment brokers, and agents; to provide for the regulation, supervision and licensing thereof; to provide penalties for the violation thereof; to create the office of commissioner of corporations, and making an appropriation therefor,' approved May 28, 1913," approved June 3, 1915, shall be construed as a continuation thereof.

All decisions, orders, rules, findings, certificates, or permits heretofore made or issued, and acts done by the commissioner, shall continue in force and have the same effect as if they had been lawfully made, issued, or done under the provisions of this act.

This act shall not affect any appeal pending from any decision of the commissioner, or any proceeding to which he, in his official capacity, is a party; but the same may be prosecuted or defended with the same effect as if this act had not been passed. Any examination, audit, or investigation undertaken, commenced, or prosecuted prior to the taking effect of this act may be conducted to a final determination in the same manner and with the same effect as if it had been undertaken, commenced, or prosecuted under the provisions of this act, and in the manner herein provided. No action or proceeding, either civil or criminal, or cause of action arising under any law of this state shall abate by reason of the passage of this act, but actions or proceedings may be commenced and prosecuted upon such causes in the same manner and with the same effect as if this act had not been passed.

§ 27. Foreign and interstate commerce. Neither this act nor any provision hereof shall apply to or be construed as a regulation of commerce with foreign nations or among the several states, except in so far as the same may be permitted under the provisions of the constitution and the acts of the congress of the United States.

§ 28. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

§ 29. Repealed. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

TITLE 266.

IRRIGATION.

ACT 1723j.

An act to authorize irrigation districts to co-operate and contract with the United States under the provisions of the federal reclamation laws for a water supply, or the construction, operation or maintenance of works, including drainage works, or for the assumption by the district of indebtedness to the United States on account of district lands; and to provide the manner and method of payments to the United States under such contract, and for the apportionment of assessments, and levy thereof, upon the lands of the district to secure revenue for such payments, and to provide for the judicial review and determination of the validity of the proceedings in connection with such contract.

§ 1. Irrigation districts may co-operate with the United States. In addition to the powers with which irrigation districts have been vested under the act approved March 31, 1897, and acts amendatory thereof or supplementary thereto and acts of or to which said act is amendatory or supplementary, irrigation districts heretofore or hereafter organized under said acts shall have the following powers: To co-operate and contract with the United States under the federal reclamation act of June 17, 1902, and all acts amendatory thereof or supplementary thereto, or any other act of congress heretofore or hereafter enacted authorizing or permitting such co-operation, for purposes of construction of works, whether for irrigation or drainage, or both, or for the acquisition, purchase, extension, operation or maintenance of constructed works, or for a water supply, or for the assumption as principal or guarantor of indebtedness to the United States on account of district lands.

§ 2. Power of board of directors. Transfer of books. Appointment as fiscal agent. The board of directors shall generally perform all such acts as shall be necessary to carry out the enlarged powers in this act enumerated. Said board may enter into any obligation or contract with the United States for the aforesaid purposes, and may provide therein for the delivery and distribution of water for the lands of such district under the aforesaid acts of congress and the rules and regulations established thereunder. The contract may provide for the conveyance to the United States as partial consideration for the privileges obtained by the district under said contract, of water rights or other property of the district; and in case contract has been or may hereafter be made with the United States as herein provided, bonds of the district may be transferred to, or deposited with the United States, if so provided by said contract and authorized as hereinafter set forth, at not less than ninety-five per cent of their par value, to the amount to be paid by the district to United States or any part thereof; the interests, or principal, or both, on said bonds to be raised by assessment and levy as hereinafter prescribed, and to be regularly paid to the United States and applied as provided in said contract. Bonds transferred to or deposited with the United States may call for the payment of such interest not exceeding six per cent per annum, may be of such denomination, and may call for the repayment of the principal at such times as may be agreed upon between the board and the secretary of the interior. The contract with the United States may likewise call for the payment of the amount or amounts to be paid by the district to the United States or any part thereof at such times and in such installments and with such interest charges not exceeding the aforesaid rate as may be agreed upon, and for assessment and levy therefor as hereinafter provided. Moreover the board may accept on behalf of the district, appointment of the district as fiscal agent of the United States, or authorization of the district by the United States to make collection of moneys for or on behalf of the United States in connection with any federal reclamation project, whereupon the district shall be authorized so to act and to assume the duties and liabilities incident to such action, and the said board shall have full power to do any and all things required by the federal statutes now or hereafter enacted in connection therewith, and all things required by the rules and regulations now or that may hereafter be established by any department of the federal government in regard thereto. Districts co-operating with the United States may rent or lease water to private lands, entrymen, or municipalities in the neighborhood of the district, in pursuance of contract with the United States.

§ 3. Election on proposal to enter contract. Notice. Ballots. Any proposal to enter into a contract with the United States for the repayment of construction moneys, the cost of a water supply or the acquisition of property, and to issue bonds, if any be proposed, shall be voted upon at an election wherein proceedings shall be had in so far as applicable in the manner provided in the case of the ordinary issuance of district bonds. Said proposal, with such plans and estimates of cost as have been made in connection therewith, shall be submitted to the state engineer for his examination and report, and the proceedings in that regard shall be in accord with section thirty of the act approved March 31, 1897, as amended, in so far as the same may be applicable. Notice of the election herein provided for shall contain in addition to the information required in the case of ordinary bond election a statement of the maximum amount of money to be payable to the United States for construction purposes, cost of water supply and acquisition of property, exclusive of penalties and interest, together with a general statement of the property, if any, to be conveyed by the district as hereinabove provided. The ballots at such election shall contain a brief statement of the general purpose of said contract and the amount of the obligation to be assumed, as aforesaid, with the words "Contract—Yes" and "Contract—No," or "Contract and bonds—Yes" and "Contracts and Bonds—No," as the case may be. The board of directors may submit any such contract or proposed contract and bond issue if any, to the superior court of the county wherein is located the office of said board to determine the validity thereof and the authority of the board to enter into such contract, and the authority for and validity of the issuance and deposit or transfer of said bonds; whereupon the same proceedings shall be had as in the ordinary case of the judicial determination of the validity of bonds and with like effect.

§ 4. Distribution of water. All water, the right to the use of which is acquired by the district under any contract with the United States shall be distributed and apportioned by the district in accordance with the acts of congress applicable thereto, the rules and regulations of the secretary of the interior thereunder, and the provisions of said contract, and provision may be made in the contract between the district and the United States for the refusal of water service to any or all lands which may become delinquent in the payment of any assessment levied for the purpose of carrying out any contract between the district and the United States.

§ 5. Rights of way conveyed. Any rights of way or other property owned or acquired by the district may be conveyed by the board to the United States in so far as the same may be needed for the construction, operation and maintenance of works by the United States for the benefit of the district under any contract that may be entered into with the United States pursuant to this act.

§ 6. Payments by annual assessments. All payments due or to become due to the United States under any contract between the district and the United States, including such payments of interest and principal on bonds as may be required in connection with a deposit or transfer thereof to the United States, shall be paid, unless otherwise provided by contract, by revenue derived from annual assessments, apportioned as hereinafter prescribed, and levies thereof, upon such real property within the district as may be assessable for district purposes under the laws of the state, and such real property shall be and remain liable to be assessed and levied upon for such payments as herein provided. It shall be the duty of the board of directors annually to levy an assessment sufficient to raise the money necessary to meet all payments when due as provided in the contract. All money collected in pursuance of such contract by assessments and levies, or otherwise, shall be paid into the district treasury and held in a fund to be known as the "United States contract fund," to be used for payments due to the United States under any such contract. Public lands of the United States within any district shall be subject to assessment for all purposes of this act to the extent provided for by the act of congress approved August 11, 1916, entitled "An act to promote reclamation of arid lands," or any other law which may hereafter be enacted by congress in the same relation, upon full compliance therewith by the district. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed to relieve the district from obligation to pay as a district in case of default of any land, unless so provided by the said contract between the district and the United States.

§ 7. Apportionment of assessment. The assessment required in any year to meet the payment due to the United States for all purposes under the contract as in this act provided may be apportioned in accordance with the benefits, and in the ascertainment of such benefits there shall be taken into account the provisions of the contract between the United States and the district, the federal laws applicable thereto, and the notices and regulations issued in pursuance of said laws, and in case such contract is for the assumption by the district as principal or guarantor of indebtedness to the United States theretofore existing on account of district lands, there shall be further taken into account the provisions of existing contracts carrying such indebtedness and the amounts of such liens as may be released in pursuance of the contract between the United States and the district.

§ 8. Change in boundaries. Where contract shall have been entered into between the United States and any irrigation district the district shall not be dissolved, nor shall the boundaries be changed, except upon written consent of the secretary of the interior filed with the official records of the district. If such consent be given and lands be excluded, the areas excluded shall be free from all liens and charges for payments to become due to the United States.

§ 9. Acts in force. The provisions of the general irrigation district act, approved March 31, 1897, and acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto, shall be and remain in force as regards irrigation districts in this act referred to except in so far as herein modified expressly or by necessary implication; and nothing in this act shall be so construed as to affect irrigation district operations not related to co-operation with the United States. However, the provisions of section fifty-three of said act, approved March 31, 1897, shall not apply in case of any contract between an irrigation district and the United States.

An act to recognize and declare valid all proceedings in Carmichael irrigation district. [Approved March 20, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 12. In effect July 27, 1917.]

The amendments of 1917 and 1919 follow:

See note at end of statute.

§ 1. Majority of owners may organize irrigation district. Petitioners must hold twenty per cent in value of land. Evidence of title. Holder of undivided interest. A majority in number of the holders of title or evidence of title to lands susceptible of irrigation from a common source and by the same system of works, including pumping from subsurface or other waters, such holders of title or evidence of title representing a majority in value of said lands, may propose the organization of an irrigation district, under the provisions of this act; or the organization of such an irrigation district may be proposed by not less than five hundred petitioners, each petitioner to the number of at least five hundred to be an elector residing in the proposed district or the holder of title or evidence of title to land therein; provided, that the said petitioners must include the holders of title or evidence of title to not less than twenty per cent in value of the lands included within the proposed district. The lands proposed to be included within any such irrigation district need not consist of contiguous parcels. Any holder of land under a possessory right acquired by entry or purchase from the United States or the state of California shall be deemed to be a holder of evidence of title to said land within the meaning of this act. The county assessment-roll of the county in which any lands included within such proposed irrigation district are situated, which assessment-roll has been last equalized at the time of the first publication of said petition as provided in section two of this act, shall be conclusive evidence as to the value of said lands and the holders of title or evidence of title to said lands. If any parcel of land is assessed on any assessment-roll to unknown or fictitiously named owners, or to unnamed owners in addition to any owner or owners named thereon, said parcel of land shall be deemed, for any of the purposes of this act, to have but one owner in addition to any owner or owners whose true name or names may be purported to be given on such assessment-roll. The holder of title or evidence of title to an undivided interest in any land affected by any of the provisions of this act may sign any petition provided for in this act, and such undivided interest shall be counted and valued as though it were a separate interest, and if the assessment-roll shall fail to indicate the extent of any such undivided interest, the holders of title or evidence of title whose undivided interests in any land are not specifically defined shall be deemed to have equal shares therein. Guardians, executors, administrators or other persons holding property in a trust capacity under appointment of court may sign any petition provided for in this act, when authorized by an order of court, which order may be made without notice. A certificate of acknowledgment taken before a notary public or justice of the peace of any state, or an affidavit by any person in the presence of whom such petition was signed, shall be sufficient evidence of the genuineness of such signature and of the fact of place of residence of any petitioners under this act. [Amendment approved May 16, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 714.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 751.

§ 2. Petition to organize irrigation district. Publication. Hearing. Investigation of state engineer. Report that project is not feasible. Final hearing. Changes in boundaries. In order to propose the organization of an irrigation district, a petition signed by the requisite majority of holders of title or evidence of title to lands within the proposed district or by at least five hundred petitioners, as provided in section one of this act, shall be presented to the board of supervisors of the county in which the lands within the proposed district, or the greater portion thereof, are situated. Said petition shall set forth generally the boundaries of the proposed district and also shall state generally the source or sources (which may be in the alternative) from which said lands are proposed to be irrigated, and shall pray that the territory embraced within the boundaries of the proposed district may be organized as an irrigation district under the provisions of this act. The petition may consist of any number of separate instruments, and must be accompanied with a good and sufficient undertaking, to be approved by the board of supervisors, in double the amount of the probable cost of organizing such district, conditioned that the sureties shall pay all of said costs in case said organization shall not be effected. Said petition shall be presented at a regular meeting of said board and shall be published for at least two weeks before the time at which the same is to be presented in some newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the county where said petition is presented together with a notice stating the time of the meeting at which the same will be presented; and if any portion of the lands within said proposed district lie within another county or counties, then said petition and notice shall be published, as above provided, in a newspaper published in each of said counties. When contained upon more than one instrument, one copy only of such petition need be published, but the names attached to all of said instruments must appear in such publication. On or before the day on which said petition is presented to said board of supervisors, a copy of said petition shall be filed in the office of the state engineer. Signatures to the petition may be withdrawn at any time before the publication is commenced as in this section required, by filing a declaration, signed by the petitioner, with the board of supervisors before which the petition is to be presented, stating that it is the intention of the petitioner to withdraw therefrom, which declaration shall be acknowledged in the same manner as conveyances of real estate are required to be acknowledged. When said petition is presented, said board of supervisors shall hear the same and shall proceed to determine whether or not said petition complies with the requirements hereinbefore set forth and whether or not the notice required herein has been published as required, and must hear all competent and relevant testimony offered in support of or in opposition thereto. Said hearing may be adjourned from time to time for the determination of said facts, not exceeding two weeks in all. No defect in the contents of the petition or in the title to or form of the notice or signatures, and no lack of signatures thereto, or to the petition as published, shall vitiate any proceedings thereon; provided, such petition or petitions have a sufficient number of qualified signatures attached thereto. The determination of the board shall be expressed by resolution. If it shall determine that any of the requirements hereinbefore set forth have not been complied with, the matter shall be dismissed, but without prejudice to the right of the proper number of persons to present a new petition covering the same matter or to present the same petition with additional signatures, if such additional signatures are necessary to comply with the requirements of this act. If the board of supervisors shall determine that the petitioners have complied with the requirements hereinbefore set forth, it shall cause a copy of the resolution so declaring to be forwarded to the state engineer. Upon receiving a copy of said resolution, the state engineer shall make or cause to be made such preliminary investigation as may be practicable, with a view to determining the feasibility of the project proposed to be undertaken. He shall report as soon as practicable, but at all events within ninety days from the date of the adoption of the said resolution, in writing, on the matter to the board of supervisors from which the copy of said resolution was received, except that upon receiving a written request from the state engineer, the board of supervisors may at any meeting before the expiration of said ninety days grant to the state engineer not more than ninety days additional time in which to make said report. If the state engineer shall report within the time specified herein that the supply of water available for the use of the proposed district, or that may be acquired by any practicable means, including the condemnation of existing rights, is not sufficient or that the project is not feasible for any other reason or reasons, the hearing of the matter shall be continued for not more than two months and shall then be dismissed unless the board of supervisors shall be petitioned in writing by three-fourths of the holders of title or evidence of title to land within said proposed district to grant said petition; provided, that if the board of supervisors is not so petitioned, it may modify the plans for the proposed district in accordance with recommendations by the state engineer. If after receiving an adverse report from the state engineer the board of supervisors shall be petitioned as aforesaid or shall decide to modify the plans for the proposed district in accordance with recommendations by the state engineer, it shall, at the time to which the hearing of said matter shall have been continued, set a time for the final hearing thereof. If the continuance of the matter is not compelled by an adverse report as aforesaid, the board of supervisors, at its first regular meeting after the receipt of a report from the state engineer, or at the first regular meeting after the expiration of the time allowed for the making of such report if no such report has been received, shall set a time for a final hearing of the matter. In any case the time set for the final hearing as aforesaid shall not be less than one week from the meeting at which said time was set; provided, that notice of the time of such final hearing shall be given by registered mail to such party as shall have been designated for that purpose by the petitioners, or by publication for at least three days in one daily newspaper published in the county in which the lands within the proposed district, or the greater portion thereof are situated. A failure to give such last-mentioned notice, however, shall not affect the validity of subsequent proceedings. On a final hearing herein provided for, the board may adjourn from time to time, but at no time for a longer period than three days until a determination of the matter is reached. On said final hearing said board shall make such changes in the proposed boundaries as it may deem advisable and shall define and establish such boundaries, but said board shall not modify said boundaries so as to exclude from such proposed district any territory which is susceptible of irrigation from any of the sources proposed, unless said board shall decide to modify the plan for such proposed district, as herein provided, nor shall any lands which will not, in the judgment of said board, be benefited by irrigation by means of said systems or works be included within such proposed district. Lands already irrigated and riparian lands may be included in the district if in the judgment of the board of supervisors such land will be benefited, or if the water used thereon or the rights to the use of water thereon should, in the judgment of the board of supervisors, be taken or acquired for the district. Any person whose lands are susceptible of irrigation from any of the proposed sources may, upon his application, in the discretion of said board, have such lands included within said proposed district. [Amendment approved May 16, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 715.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 752.

§ 2a. Duty of state engineer. The state engineer shall have authority, and it shall be his duty, to give information so far as may be practicable to persons contemplating the organization of irrigation districts under the provisions of this act. Whenever the department of engineering shall deem it in the public interest that preliminary surveys and field investigations of proposed irrigation district projects shall be made at the expense of the state, the state engineer shall make such surveys and field investigations of such proposed irrigation district projects, and, pending the completion of such surveys and investigation, the state water commission shall have authority to withhold from appropriation any unappropriated waters likely to be needed therefor. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 755.]

§ 9. Canvass of votes. The board of supervisors shall meet on the second Monday succeeding such election, and shall proceed to canvass the votes cast thereat, and if upon such canvass it appears that a majority of all the votes cast are "Irrigation District—Yes," said board shall, by an order entered on its minutes, declare the territory duly organized as an irrigation district, under the name theretofore designated, and shall declare the persons receiving respectively the highest number of votes at said election to be duly elected. [Amendment approved May 16, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 718.]

§ 14. Board of directors, monthly meetings. Special meetings. Quorum. The board of directors shall hold a regular meeting on the first Tuesday of each month at the place selected as the office of the board; provided, that the board may, by resolution duly entered upon its minutes, fix any other time as the time for its regular monthly meeting, but no change in the time of holding regular meetings of the board shall be made until after the resolution proposing such change has been published once a week for two successive weeks in a newspaper published in the county in which the office of the district is kept. Such special meetings of the board of directors may be held as may be required for the proper transaction of the business of the district, but a special meeting must be ordered by a majority of the board. The order must be entered of record, and five days' notice thereof must by the secretary be given to each director not joining in the order. The order must specify the business to be transacted, and no other business than that specified in the order may be transacted at such special meeting, unless all the members are present and consent to the consideration of any business not specified in said order. All meetings of the board must be public and three members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business; provided, however, that when the board consists of three members only, then in such case two shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, but on all questions requiring a vote, except a motion to adjourn or a motion to adjourn to a stated time, there shall be a concurrence of at least the number constituting a quorum. A smaller number of directors than a quorum may adjourn from day to day. All records of the board shall be open to public inspection during business hours. Whenever any act is required to be done or proceeding taken by this act, or by an act supplemental or amendatory thereto, on the first Tuesday in any month, such act may be done or proceeding had upon the day specified in the resolution hereinbefore referred to as the time for the regular meeting of the board of directors; provided, also, that when a day other than the first Tuesday in the month shall have been specified as the time for the regular meeting of the board of directors, thereafter the newly elected officers of the district shall take office at noon on the day fixed for the regular monthly meeting of said board in March and said board shall meet for reorganization and the transaction of any other business of the district in the afternoon of said day. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 755.]

§ 14a. Publication of financial condition. The board of directors at their regular monthly meeting in January of each year shall render and immediately thereafter cause to be published a verified statement of the financial condition of the district, showing particularly the receipts and disbursements of the last preceding year, together with the source of such receipts and purpose of such disbursements. Said publication shall be made at least once a week for two weeks, in some newspaper, published in the county where the office of the board of directors of such district is situated. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 756.]

§ 15. Powers of directors. The board of directors shall have the power and it shall be their duty to manage and conduct the business and affairs of the district; make and execute all necessary contracts; employ and appoint such agents, officers, and employees as may be required, and prescribe their duties. The board and its agents and employees shall have the right to enter upon any land to make surveys, and may locate the necessary irrigation works and the line for canal or canals, and the necessary branches for the same on any lands which may be deemed best for such location. Said board shall also have the right to acquire, by purchase, lease, contract, condemnation, or other legal means, all lands, and waters, and water rights, and other property necessary for the construction, use, supply, maintenance, repair and improvements of said canal, or canals, and works, whether in this or in other states or in a foreign nation, including canals, and works constructed and being constructed by private owners, lands for reservoirs for the storage of needful waters, and all necessary appurtenances, and also where necessary or convenient to said ends to acquire and hold the stock of other corporations domestic or foreign owning waters, canals, waterworks, franchises, concessions or rights. Said board may enter into, and do any acts necessary or proper for the performance of, any agreements with the United States, or any state, county, district of any kind, public or private corporation, association, firm or individual, or any number of them, for the joint acquisition, construction, leasing, ownership, disposition, use, management, maintenance, repair or operation of any rights, works or other property of a kind which might lawfully be acquired or owned by the irrigation district, and may acquire the right to store water in any reservoirs or to carry water through any canal, ditch or conduit not owned or controlled by the district, and may grant to any owner or lessee of the right to the use of any water the right to store such water in any reservoir of the district or to carry such water through any canal, ditch or conduit of the district. [Amendment approved May 16, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 661.]

§ 15a. Limit on purchase. Petition of owners. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 757. Repealed 1919, p. 661.]

§ 15b. Dams. Conveyances. The board of directors of any irrigation district may also construct the necessary dams, reservoirs, and works for the collection of water for said district, and do any and every lawful act necessary to be done, that sufficient water may be furnished to each land owner in said district for irrigation and domestic purposes; provided, that where, within irrigation districts mutual water companies have been organized to furnish water to certain specified lands within said districts, the board of directors of such districts are hereby authorized and empowered to contract for the delivery of water for such lands as lie within the boundary of said water companies, through said mutual water companies only. The said board is hereby authorized and empowered to take conveyances, leases, contracts or other assurances for all property acquired by it under the provisions of this act, in the name of such irrigation district, to and for the uses and purposes herein expressed, and to institute and maintain any and all actions and proceedings, suits at law and in equity necessary or proper in order to fully carry out the provisions of this act, or to enforce, maintain, protect or preserve any and all rights, privileges and immunities created by this act, or acquired in pursuance thereof. And in all courts, actions, suits or proceedings, the said board may sue, appear and defend in person or by attorneys, and in the name of such irrigation district. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 758.]

§ 15c. Rules for use of water. It shall be the duty of the board of directors of any irrigation district to establish equitable by-laws, rules and regulations for the distribution and use of water among the owners of said lands, which must be printed in convenient form for distribution in the district. Said board shall have power generally to perform all such acts as shall be necessary to fully carry out the purposes of this act. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 758.]

§ 15d. Change election precincts. Lease canals. The board of directors, when they deem it advisable for the best interests of the district, and the convenience of the electors thereof, may at any time, but not less than sixty days before an election to be held in the district, change the boundaries of the divisions or election precincts of the district or of both; provided, such changes shall be made to keep each division as nearly equal in area and population as may be practicable. Such change of boundaries of the divisions and precincts must be shown on the minutes of the board. The board of directors of any irrigation district now or that may hereafter be organized in the state, shall also have the power, and such board is hereby vested with the authority, to lease the system of canals and works in the district, or any part thereof, whenever such leasing may be for the benefit of the district; provided, that when the directors of any irrigation district contemplate the leasing of the canals and works of such district, they shall give notice of such contemplation by publishing the same in some newspaper published in the county in which such irrigation district lies, at least three weeks prior to the making of the lease, and such lease shall be made to the highest bidder. But such board shall have the right to reject any and all bids. Such lease shall in no way interfere with any rights that may have been established by law, at the time such lease is made; and, further provided, that the board of directors shall require a good and sufficient bond to secure faithful performance of the lease by the lessees.

NOTE.—Section 15½ of the act was renumbered as § 15d and amended May 19, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 758.

§ 15½. [See § 15d and note.]

§ 16. Condemnation proceedings. In case of condemnation proceedings the board shall proceed, in the name of the district, under the provisions of title seven, part three of the Code of Civil Procedure of the state of California, and all pleadings, proceedings, and process in said title provided shall be applicable to the condemnation proceedings hereunder. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 759.]

§ 18. Apportionment of water. It is hereby expressly provided, that all waters distributed for irrigation purposes shall be apportioned ratably to each land owner upon the basis of the ratio which the last assessment of such owner for district purposes within said district bears to the whole sum assessed upon the district; and any land owner may assign the right to the whole or any portion of the waters so apportioned to him; provided, that when any rates of toll and charges for the use of water are fixed by the board of directors, as provided in section fifty-five of this act, the water for the use of which such rates of toll and charges have been fixed shall be distributed equitably, as may be provided by the board of directors, among those offering to make the required payment therefor; and provided, further, that if an irrigation district has contracted to deliver, and is delivering, water to mutual water companies for distribution to territory served thereby, the water shall be apportioned on such a basis as the board of directors shall find to be just and equitable and for the best interests of all parties concerned. [Amendment approved May 16, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 661.]

§ 19. Irrigation district officers to be elected. An election, which shall be known as the general irrigation district election, shall be held in each irrigation district on the first Wednesday in February in each odd-numbered year, at which a successor shall be chosen to each officer whose term shall expire in March next thereafter. The person receiving the highest number of votes for each office to be filled at such election shall be elected thereto. The elective officers of an irrigation district shall be as many directors as there are divisions in the district, and an assessor, a collector and a treasurer; provided, that if any two or more offices shall have been consolidated as provided in section seven or section twenty-seven hereof, only one person shall be elected to fill such consolidated offices. The term of office of each elective officer of an irrigation district elected at or after the general irrigation district election in one thousand nine hundred nineteen shall be four years, or until his successor is elected and has qualified. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 759.]

§ 19a. Official bonds. Within ten days after receiving their certificates of election hereinafter provided for, said officers shall take and subscribe the official oath, and file the same in the office of the board of directors, and execute the bond hereinafter provided for. The assessor shall execute an official bond in the sum of five thousand dollars, and the collector an official bond in the sum of twenty thousand dollars, and the district treasurer an official bond in the sum of fifty thousand dollars; each of said bonds to be approved by the board of directors; provided, that the board of directors may, if it shall be deemed advisable, fix the bonds of the treasurer and collector, respectively, to suit the conditions of the district, the maximum amount of the treasurer's bond not to exceed fifty thousand dollars, and the minimum amount thereof not to be less than ten thousand dollars; and the maximum amount of the collector's bond not to exceed twenty thousand dollars, and the minimum amount of the collector's bond not to be less than five thousand dollars. Each member of said board of directors shall execute an official bond in the sum of five thousand dollars, which said bonds shall be approved by the judge of the superior court of said county where such organization was effected, and shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder thereof, and filed with the secretary of said board. All official bonds herein provided for shall be in the form prescribed by law for the official bonds of county officers and the premiums thereon may be paid by the district; provided, that in case any district organized under this title is appointed fiscal agent of the United States or by the United States in connection with any federal reclamation project, each of said officers shall execute a further and additional official bond in such sum as the secretary of the interior may require, conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office and the faithful discharge by the district of its duties as fiscal or other agent of the United States under any such appointment or authorization, and any such bond may be sued upon by the United States or any person injured by the failure of such officer or the district to fully, promptly and completely perform their respective duties. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats 1917, p. 760.]

§ 19b. If election be not held. If an election is not held as herein provided, then upon the filing of a petition with the secretary of the board of directors of such district, signed by ten per cent of the electors residing within the boundaries of any such irrigation district, requesting that a special election be called for the election of such officers, the directors of such district shall thereupon call a special election thereof for the election of such officers, such election to be held within not less than fifteen, nor more than thirty days after the filing of such petition. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 760.]

§ 26. Qualification of director. A director shall be a resident and freeholder of the irrigation district and a resident of the division which he is elected to represent. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 761.]

§ 28. Number of directors. In any district the board of directors thereof must upon a presentation of the petition therefor, by a majority of the holders of title, or evidence of title, of said district, evidenced as above provided, order that on and after the next ensuing general election for the district, there shall be either three or five directors. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 761.]

§ 30. Estimate of money needed for improvement. Interest on bonds may be included in estimate. For the purpose of constructing or purchasing necessary irrigation canals and works, and acquiring the necessary property and rights therefor, and for the purpose of acquiring waters, water rights, reservoirs, reservoir sites, and other property necessary for the purposes of said district, and otherwise carrying out the provisions of this act, or any other act under which said district is or may be authorized to acquire property or construct works, the board of directors of any such district must, as soon after such district has been organized as may be practicable, and also whenever thereafter the board of directors shall find that the construction fund raised by the last previous bond issue is insufficient, or that the construction fund has been exhausted by expenditures herein authorized therefrom and it is necessary to raise additional money for said purposes, estimate and determine the amount of money necessary to be raised. For the purpose of ascertaining the amount of money necessary to be raised for such purposes, or any of them, said board shall cause such surveys, examinations, drawings and plans to be made as shall furnish the proper basis for said estimate. Said surveys, examinations, drawings and plans, and the estimate based thereon may provide that the works necessary for a completed project shall be constructed progressively during a period of years. In the estimate of the amount of money necessary to be raised by the first issue of bonds in any district, the board of directors may include a sum sufficient to pay the interest on all of such bonds for three years or less. All such surveys, examinations, drawings and plans shall be made under the direction of a competent irrigation engineer and shall be certified by him. [Amendment approved May 16, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 662.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 761.

§ 30a. Report submitted to commission. Report of commission. The board of directors shall then submit a copy of the said estimate and the said engineer's report to the commission authorized by law to approve bonds of irrigation districts for certification as legal investments for savings banks and for the other purposes specified in the act creating said commission. Said commission shall forthwith examine said report and any data in its possession or in the possession of said district and shall make such additional surveys and examinations at the expense of the district as it may deem proper or practicable, and as soon as practicable thereafter shall make to the board of directors of said district a report which shall contain such matters as, in the judgment of the said commission, may be desirable; provided, that it may state generally the conclusions of said commission regarding the supply of water available for the project, the nature of the soil proposed to be irrigated as to its fertility and susceptibility to irrigation, the probable amount of water needed for its irrigation and the probable need of drainage, the cost of works, water rights and other property necessary for a complete and satisfactory project, the proper dates of maturity for the bonds proposed to be issued and whether in its opinion it is advisable to proceed with the proposed bond issue. If the estimate of the amount of said bond issue shall have included any amount for the payment of interest on the bonds of such issue, as provided in section thirty of this act, and such estimate for the payment of interest, or any part thereof, is approved by the commission in said report, it shall be lawful for the board of directors, if the issuance of such bonds is thereafter authorized by vote of the electors of the district, to use for the payment of interest on any bonds of such issue so much of the proceeds of the sale of said bonds as may have been approved for that purpose in said report of the commission. [Amendment approved May 16, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 662.]

This section was added in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 762.

§ 30b. Report to board of directors. Order of amount of bonds. If after such examination and investigation the said commission shall deem it advisable that the said plans be modified or that the amount of the bonds proposed to be issued be changed, or that certain conditions should be prescribed to insure the success of the project, or that in its opinion it is not advisable to proceed with the proposed bond issue, it shall so state in its report to the board of directors. After receiving said report, or if no report is received within ninety days after the submission of said estimate and engineer's report to said commission, said board of directors, if it shall determine and shall declare by resolution that the proposed plan of works or some modified plan recommended by said commission is satisfactory and that the said project or said modified plan is feasible, shall make an order determining the amount of bonds that should be issued in order to raise the money necessary therefor; and provided, further, that if any district shall issue bonds to carry out any plans approved by said irrigation district bond commission as herein provided it shall be unlawful for said district to make any material change in said plans thereafter without the consent of said commission. [Amendment approved May 16, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 663.]

This section was added in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 762.

§ 30c. Special election for bond issue. After the making of the order specified in section thirty b of this act said board of directors may call a special election, at which shall be submitted to the electors of such district possessing the qualifications prescribed by this act, the question whether or not the bonds of said district in the amount determined in said order of said board shall be issued, and said board must call such an election and submit said question upon receipt of a petition signed by a majority of the holders of title or evidence of title to lands within the district, representing, also, a majority in value of said lands, or by at least five hundred petitioners, each petitioner to the number of at least five hundred to be an elector residing within the district or a holder of title or evidence of title to lands therein, provided that said petitioners shall include the holders of title or evidence of title to not less than twenty per cent in value of said lands. In determining the value of any lands within an irrigation district and the holders of title or evidence of title to such lands for the purpose of determining the sufficiency of any petition required by this act after the organization of the district, the assessment-roll of the district last equalized at the time of the presentation of such petition shall be conclusive evidence, but if no assessment-roll of the district has theretofore been equalized, then the county assessment-roll of the county within which any land within the district is situated, which county assessment-roll has been last equalized at the time of the presentation of such petition, shall be conclusive evidence of such facts for such land. [Amendment approved May 16, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 664.]

This section was added in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 762.

§ 30d. Notice. Notice of such election must be given by posting notices in three public places in each election precinct in said district for at least twenty days and also by publication of such notice in some newspaper published in the county where the office of the board of directors of such district is required to be kept, once a week for at least three successive weeks. Such notices must specify the time of holding the election, the amount of bonds proposed to be issued; and said election must be held and the result thereof determined and declared in all respects as nearly as practicable in conformity with the provisions of this act governing the election of officers; provided, that no informalities in conducting such an election shall invalidate the same if the election shall have been otherwise fairly conducted. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 762.]

§ 30e. Questions on ballot. Ballots. At said election questions as to the issuance of bonds may be submitted separately on the same ballot if estimates of the cost of the respective projects have been made and the irrigation district bond commission has reported thereon and the respective propositions have been stated in the notices of the election. At such election the ballots shall contain a general statement of the proposition or propositions to be voted on, including the amount of bonds proposed to be issued for each purpose, but no informality in such statement shall vitiate the election. Each proposition shall be followed by the words "Yes" and "No," on separate lines, with a small inclosed space after each of said words. The electors shall vote for or against any proposition by stamping a cross (X) in the voting space after the word "Yes" or "No" respectively. On the ballot shall be printed the following under the heading "Instructions to voters": "To vote for a proposition, stamp a cross (X) in the voting space after the word 'Yes' following the proposition. To vote against a proposition, stamp a cross (X) in the voting space after the word 'No' following the proposition." If two-thirds of the votes cast for and against any proposition are for "Yes," the board of directors shall cause bonds in the amount specified in such proposition to be issued; provided, that if said election shall have been called after the presentation of a petition therefor as provided in section thirty c of this act, the board of directors shall cause bonds in the amount specified in any proposition to be issued if a majority of the votes cast for and against said proposition are for "Yes." If the number of votes for any proposition is less than the number required herein to authorize the issuance of the bonds provided for therein, the result of the vote on said proposition shall be entered of record, but said proposition may be again submitted to the electors of the district at a special election upon the presentation to the board of directors of a petition therefor signed as provided in section thirty c of this act. [Amendment approved May 16, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 664.]

This section was added in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 763.

§ 31. Form of bonds. Interest. Life of bonds. May be paid at end of other periods. Subject to the provisions of this act, the board of directors shall prescribe the form of the bonds issued by the district and of the interest coupons to be attached thereto. An issue of bonds is hereby defined to be all the bonds issued in accordance with a proposal approved by the electors of the district. Each issue of the bonds of a district shall be numbered consecutively as authorized, and the bonds of each issue shall be numbered consecutively. The board of directors shall fix the date of said bonds, or may divide any issue into two or more divisions and fix different dates for the bonds of each respective division. The date of any bond must be subsequent to the election at which its issuance was authorized and prior to its delivery to a purchaser from the district. The date of issue of any bond authorized under this act or heretofore or hereafter issued in pursuance of this act shall be deemed to be the apparent date of the said bond appearing on the face thereof. Each bond shall be signed by the president and secretary of the board of directors of the district, who may be in office at the date of said bond or at any time thereafter prior to the delivery of said bond to the purchaser thereof from the district, and the seal of the district shall be impressed on each bond. The interest coupons shall also bear the signature of the secretary of the board of directors or a facsimile of such signature. The board of directors shall fix the denominations of said bonds, which shall not be less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars. Said bonds shall bear interest at a rate to be fixed by the board of directors, but the rate shall not exceed six per centum per annum. The interest shall be payable on the first day of January and the first day of July of each year. The board of directors shall also designate the place or places at which said bonds or any of them and the interest thereon shall be payable. Each issue or each division of any issue of said bonds shall be payable in gold coin of the United States in twenty series as follows, to wit: At the expiration of twenty-one years from the date of any issue or any division of any issue of said bonds, two per centum of the whole amount of such issue or division; at the expiration of twenty-two years from said date, two per centum of the whole amount of such issue or division; at the expiration of twenty-three years from said date, three per centum of the whole amount of such issue or division; at the expiration of twenty-four years from said date, three per centum of the whole amount of such issue or division; at the expiration of twenty-five years from said date, four per centum of the whole amount of such issue or division; at the expiration of twenty-six years from said date, four per centum of the whole amount of such issue or division; at the expiration of twenty-seven years from said date, four per centum of the whole amount of such issue or division; at the expiration of twenty-eight years from said date, four per centum of the whole amount of such issue or division; at the expiration of twenty-nine years from said date, five per centum of the whole amount of such issue or division; at the expiration of thirty years from said date, five per centum of the whole amount of such issue or division; at the expiration of thirty-one years from said date, five per centum of the whole amount of such issue or division; at the expiration of thirty-two years from said date, five per centum of the whole amount of such issue or division; at the expiration of thirty-three years from said date, six per centum of the whole amount of such issue or division; at the expiration of thirty-four years from said date, six per centum of the whole amount of such issue or division; at the expiration of thirty-five years from said date, six per centum of the whole amount of such issue or division; at the expiration of thirty-six years from said date, six per centum of the whole amount of such issue or division; at the expiration of thirty-seven years from said date, seven per centum of the whole amount of such issue or division; at the expiration of thirty-eight years from said date, seven per centum of the whole amount of such issue or division; at the expiration of thirty-nine years from said date, eight per centum of the whole amount of such issue or division; at the expiration of forty years from said date, eight per centum of the whole amount of such issue or division; provided, that if any bonds are not dated on the first day of January or the first day of July, they shall nevertheless be made payable on the first day of January or the first day of July next preceding the date on which they would become payable according to the foregoing schedule. Bonds of any issue may be made payable at the ends of other periods than are specified herein and the number of series may be more or less than twenty if the number of series and the length of the respective periods at the ends of which the respective amounts of bonds shall be made payable have been specified in the notice of the election at which the issuance of such bonds was authorized, or on the recommendation of the irrigation district bond commission, but in any event the bonds shall all be made payable on the first day of January or the first day of July next preceding the ends of the respective periods specified, unless said bonds are dated on the first day of January or the first day of July, and in no case shall the maturity of any bond be more than forty years from the date thereof, nor shall more than eight per centum of the total amount of any issue or division be made payable in any one year if the number of series is made more than twenty. Each bond shall be made payable at a given time for its full face value and not for a percentage thereof. [Amendment approved May 16, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 666.]

§ 33. Paid by annual assessment. Said bonds and the interest thereon shall be paid from revenue derived from an annual assessment upon the land within the district; and all the land within the district shall be and remain liable to be assessed for such payments as hereinafter provided. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 764.]

§ 35. Duty of assessor. The assessor must, between the first Monday in March and the first Monday in June, in each year, assess all real estate in the district, to the persons who own, claim or have possession or control thereof, at its full cash value, as follows: He must prepare an assessment-book, with appropriate headings, in which must be listed all such property within the district, in which must be specified, in separate columns, under the appropriate head: (1) the name of the person to whom the property is assessed, if the name is not known to the assessor, the property shall be assessed to "unknown owners"; (2) land by township, range, section or fractional section, and when such land is not congressional division or subdivision, by metes and bounds, or other description sufficient to identify it, giving an estimate of the number of acres and locality; (3) city and town lots, naming the city or town and the number and block, according to the system of numbering in such city or town; (4) the cash value of real estate, other than city or town lots; (5) the cash value of city and town lots; (6) the total value of all property assessed; (7) the total value of all property after equalization by the board of directors; (8) such other things as the board of directors may require. Improvements on any lands or town lots within such districts shall be exempt from taxation for any of the purposes mentioned in this act. Any property which may have escaped the payment of any assessment for any year, shall, in addition to the assessment for the then current year, be assessed for such year with the same effect and with the same penalties as are provided for in such current year. The term "improvements" as used in this section includes trees, vines, alfalfa and all growing crops and all buildings and structures of whatever class or description erected or being erected upon said lands or city or town lots. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 764.]

§ 39. Assessment for interest on bonds of irrigation district. Rentals, etc. Contracts for power or fuel. Unpaid warrants. The board of directors shall then, within fifteen days after the close of its session as a board of equalization, levy an assessment upon the lands within the district in an amount sufficient to raise the interest due or that will become due on all outstanding bonds of the district on the first day of the next ensuing January and the first day of the next ensuing July, or that the board of directors believes will become due on either or both of said dates, on bonds authorized but not sold; also sufficient to pay the principal of all bonds of the district that have matured or that will mature before the close of the next ensuing calendar year; also sufficient to pay in full all sums due or that will become due from the district before the time for levying the next annual assessment, on account of rentals, or charges for lands, water or water rights acquired by said district under lease or contract; also sufficient to pay in full all sums due or that will become due from the district, before the time for levying the next annual assessment, on account of contracts entered into by the district for power or fuel used or to be used for the pumping of water for the irrigation of land within the district; provided, the payment of the cost of such power or fuel has not been provided for by the levying of tolls or charges for the use of water or otherwise; also sufficient to pay in full the amount of all unpaid warrants of the district issued in accordance with this act and the amount of any other contracts or obligation of the district which shall have been reduced to judgment; also sufficient to raise such amount not exceeding two per centum of the aggregate value of the lands within the district according to the latest duly equalized assessment-roll thereof, as the board of directors shall determine may be needed to be raised by assessment for any of the purposes of this act. [Amendment approved May 11, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 472.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 765.

§ 39a. Duty of secretary. The secretary of the board must compute and enter in a separate column of the assessment-book the respective sums in dollars and cents to be paid as an assessment on the property therein enumerated. When collected, the assessment shall be paid into the district treasury and be apportioned to the several proper funds. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 765.]

§ 39b. Neglect to make assessment. Neglect of collector. If as the result of the neglect or refusal of the board of directors to cause such assessment and levies to be made as in this act provided, then the duly equalized assessment made by the county assessor of the county or each of the respective counties in which the district is situated shall be the basis of assessment for the district, and the board of supervisors of the county in which the office of the board of directors of said district is situated shall cause an assessment-roll of said district to be prepared, and shall make the levy required by this act, in the same manner and with like effect as if the same had been made by said board of directors and all expenses incident thereto shall be borne by such district and may be collected by suit at law, which shall be commenced by the district attorney of the county whose board of supervisors caused said assessment-roll to be prepared, unless the amount of such expenses shall be paid within sixty days from the time when proper demand shall have been made therefor. In case of the neglect or refusal of the collector or treasurer of any irrigation district to perform the duties imposed by law, then the tax collector and the treasurer of the county in which the office of the board of directors of such district is situated must respectively perform such duties and shall be accountable therefor upon their official bonds; but, in case any county tax collector shall collect any assessment for any irrigation district, he shall pay the same to the county treasurer, who shall place such money in special fund to the credit of the district and shall disburse the same to the proper persons for the purposes for which such assessments have been levied and shall not pay any part thereof to the treasurer of said district until said county treasurer shall be satisfied that all of the valid obligations for which such assessments were levied and for which payment has been demanded have been paid. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 765.]

§ 39c. Duty of district attorney. It shall be the duty of the district attorney of each county in which the office of any irrigation district is located to ascertain each year whether the duties relating to the levying and collection of assessments, as in this act provided, have been performed, and if he shall learn that the board of directors or any official of any such irrigation district has neglected or refused to perform any such duty, said district attorney shall so notify the board of supervisors or the county official required by this act to perform such duty in such case, and, unless such board of supervisors or such county official shall proceed to the performance of such duty within thirty days after the receipt of such notice the district attorney shall take such action in court as may be necessary to compel the performance of such duty, and said district attorney shall give such notice to other officials, and shall take such action, as may be necessary to secure the performance in their proper sequence of the other duties relating to the levying and collection of assessments, as in this act provided, that for the enforcement of the levying and collection of any assessment hereafter required to be levied and collected for the payment of any debt hereafter incurred, in case complaint shall be made to the attorney general of the state of California that the district attorney of any county has not performed any duty devolving upon him by the provisions of this section, or that he is not proceeding with due diligence or in the proper manner in the performance of any such duty, the attorney general shall make an investigation, and if it shall be found that such charge or charges are true, said attorney general shall take such measures as may be necessary to enforce the performance of the duties relating to the levying and collection of assessments, as in this act provided. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 766.]

§ 39d. Extension of time. If as the result of the neglect or refusal of any official or officials to perform any duty relating to the levying and collection of assessments, as in this act provided, it shall be impossible for such duty to be performed within the time required and such duty shall subsequently be performed, then the time within which all duties consequent upon the performance of such duty shall be performed shall be extended so as to allow the elapsing of the intervals required by this act to elapse between the performance of such duties, and the assessments herein provided for shall not become delinquent for at least thirty days after the first publication of the notice that such assessments are due and payable, as provided in section forty-one of this act. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 767.]

§ 39e. Assessment of land omitted. In the event any land within said district subject to assessment for the purposes of the district has not been assessed by the county assessor or does not appear upon the county assessment-roll adopted by said board of supervisors as the basis of assessment for the district, the land so omitted belonging to any person, association, corporation, or municipality shall be forthwith assessed by the county assessor upon an order of the board of supervisors and a description of the property so omitted shall be written in the roll prepared for the purpose of district assessments. In such case, before any assessment is levied, the board of supervisors must meet and equalize said assessment with that of the assessment of other lands in said district. The same notice shall be given by the board of supervisors of such meeting for the purpose of equalizing the assessment to be made as herein directed as is provided in this act to be given by the board of directors of an irrigation district when the said board is to meet for the purpose of equalizing assessments. All the powers and duties respecting the collection of all assessment on possession of, claim to, or right to the possession of land now provided in sections three thousand eight hundred twenty, three thousand eight hundred twenty-one, three thousand eight hundred twenty-two, three thousand eight hundred twenty-three, three thousand eight hundred twenty-four, three thousand eight hundred twenty-five and three thousand eight hundred twenty-nine of the Political Code, as regards county assessors shall apply, so far as applicable to irrigation district assessors. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 767.]

§ 39f. Unpaid tolls part of assessment. Whenever any tolls and charges for the use of water have been fixed by the board of directors, it shall be lawful to make the same payable in advance, and in case any such tolls or charges remain unpaid at the time hereinbefore specified for levying the annual assessment the amount due for such tolls and charges may be added to and become a part of the assessment levied upon the land upon which the water for which such tolls or charges are unpaid was used. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 768.]

§ 40. Assessment lien, when. The assessment upon land is a lien against the property assessed from and after the first Monday in March for any year. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 768.]

§ 52. Redemption of bonds. Proposals for redemption of bonds. Investment in United States or state bonds. Upon presentation of any matured bond or any matured interest coupon of any bond of the district, the treasurer shall pay the same from the bond fund. If funds are not available for the payment of any such matured bond or interest coupon, it shall draw interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum from the date of its presentation for payment until notice is given that funds are available for its payment, and it shall be stamped and provision made for its payment as in the case of a warrant for the payment of which funds are not available on its presentation. Whenever the bond fund contains ten thousand dollars in excess of the amount necessary to pay all bonds and interest coupons of the district that have matured or that will mature before the time when any part of the next annual assessment to be levied in the district will become delinquent, the board of directors may advertise, in the manner hereinbefore provided for the sale of bonds, for the receipt of sealed proposals for the delivery to the district for redemption of any of its bonds not due. Said advertisement shall state the amount which may be used for the redemption of such bonds. Any such proposals shall be opened by the board in open meeting at the time named in said advertisement, and the offer or offers of such bonds at the lowest rate or rates shall be accepted, provided that no bonds shall be redeemed at more than the par value thereof except by unanimous vote of the directors. In case two or more proposals are equal and there is not sufficient money available to accept them all, the lowest numbered bonds shall have the preference. In case not enough bonds are offered for redemption at prices which the board of directors accepts, the board may invest any money available for redemption of bonds in bonds of the United States or of the state of California and shall hold the bonds so purchased as part of the bond fund until such time as the board may determine that it is for the best interests of the district that such bonds or any of them be sold. In case of the sale of any such bonds, the proceeds of the sale shall be deposited in the bond fund. [Amendment approved May 16, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 667.]

§ 53. Construction of works. Contracts for emergency works. Bond of contractor. After adopting a plan for such canal or canals, storage reservoirs, and works, as in this act provided for, the board of directors shall give notice, by publication thereof not less than twenty days in one newspaper published in each of the counties composing the district (provided a newspaper is published therein), and in such other newspapers as they may deem advisable, calling for bids for the construction of such work, or of any portion thereof; if less than the whole work is advertised, then the portion so advertised must be particularly described in such notice. Said notice shall set forth that plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the board, and that the board will receive sealed proposals therefor, and that the contract will be let to the lowest responsible bidder, stating the time and place for opening said proposals, which, at the time and place appointed, shall be opened in public; and as convenient thereafter the board shall let said work, either in portions or as a whole, to the lowest responsible bidder; or they may reject any or all bids and readvertise for proposals or may proceed to construct the work under their own superintendence; provided, that in case of emergency or urgent necessity for the construction, extension or repair works for irrigation or drainage, the board of directors, by unanimous vote of those present at any regular or special meeting, may award contracts therefor without advertising for bids, but the cost of such work shall not exceed five hundred dollars and such additional amount as shall be equal to five cents for each acre of land in the district. Contracts for the purchase of material shall be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder. Any person or persons to whom a contract may be awarded shall enter into a bond, with good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the board, payable to said district for its use, for twenty-five per cent of the amount of the contract price, conditioned for the faithful performance of said contract. The work shall be done under the direction and to the satisfaction of the engineer, and be approved by the board. [Amendment approved May 16, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 668.]

§ 59. Directors may call election on question of special assessment. Levy of assessment. The board of directors may at any time call a special election and submit to the qualified electors of the district the question whether a special assessment shall be levied for the purpose of raising money to be applied to any of the purposes of this act or of any act supplementary hereto. Such election must be called upon the notice prescribed, and the same shall be held and the result thereof determined and declared in all respects in conformity with the provisions of section thirty d of this act. The notice must specify the amount of money proposed to be raised, and the purpose or purposes for which it is intended to be used, and it may state that said assessment shall be levied in two or three annual installments and specify the amount of the installment to be levied in each year. At the special election the ballots shall contain the words "Assessment—Yes" or "Assessment—No," or words equivalent thereto. If a majority of the votes cast are "Assessment—Yes," the board of directors shall, at the time of the annual levy hereunder, levy a sum sufficient to raise the amount voted, or, if the notice of election shall have provided for levying said assessment in annual installments, the board of directors shall, at the time of the annual levy in each of the years specified in said notice, levy such assessment as shall raise the amount of the installment provided in said notice to be raised in said year; provided, however, that in case of an unexpected emergency by which the flow of water in the canal or other supply is interrupted, the amount of the indebtedness, incurred in the repair of the works of said district, caused by such interruption, not to exceed in any one year forty thousand dollars, may also, in addition to the assessments hereinbefore provided for, be levied by the adoption of a resolution by at least four-fifths of the members of the board of directors, at the time of the levying of the annual as-assessment provided for in this act, without the submission of the question of such levy to a vote, as in this section hereinbefore provided. [Amendment approved May 16, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 668.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 768.

§ 60. Rate of assessments. The rate of assessments levied under the provisions of this act shall be ascertained by deducting fifteen per cent for anticipated delinquencies from the aggregate assessed value of the property in the district as it appears on the assessment-roll for the current year, and then dividing the sum to be raised by the remainder of such aggregate assessed value. Special assessments shall be computed and entered by the secretary and collected as a part of the regular assessment levied hereunder, and, when collected, shall be paid into the district treasury for the purpose or purposes specified in the notices calling the respective elections at which they were voted. [Amendment approved May 16, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 669.]

§ 61b. Directors may purchase irrigation works. The board of directors of irrigation districts may acquire, by purchase or condemnation, the irrigation system, canals and works through which lands in such districts have been or may be supplied with water for irrigation, and may exchange bonds of such irrigation district for such system or canals or works or for any portion thereof, or for any interest therein or for the capital stock of any corporation owning such system or any portion thereof, upon such terms and conditions as the said board of directors may deem best. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 769.]

§ 67a. Unexpended money. Whenever an object for which money has been specifically provided by assessment or by bond issue has been accomplished and any money provided therefor remains unexpended, the same shall in the discretion of the board of directors be transferred to the general fund and thereafter be available for any of the purposes of this act. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 769.]

§ 112. Title. This act may be referred to in any action, proceeding or legislative enactment as "the California irrigation district act." [Amendment approved May 16, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 669.]

This section was added in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 769.

NOTE.—The going into effect of sections 1, 2 and 9 of the above act as amended in 1919 (Stats. 1919, p. 714), has been delayed by the filing of a referendum petition. They will be voted on at the general election held in November, 1920, or at any special election called by the Governor prior to the general election.

An act relating to bonds of irrigation districts, providing under what circumstances such bonds shall be legal investments for funds of banks, insurance companies and trust companies, trust funds, state school funds and any money or funds which may now or hereafter be invested in bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, school districts or municipalities, and providing under what circumstances the use of bonds of irrigation districts as security for the performance of any act may be authorized.

Amended 1915, p. 692; 1917, p. 582; 1919, p. 1207.

The amendments of 1917 and 1919 follow:

§ 3a. Provisions directory. The provisions of section two of this act as to the points upon which said commission shall report are directory merely and the board may authorize such certification when in their opinion, subject to the provisions otherwise contained in this act, their findings justify such action. [New section added May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 583.]

§ 3b. No expenditures without consent of commission. Whenever the bonds of any irrigation district have been certified, as provided in this act, no expenditure of any kind shall be made from the construction fund of such district without the consent of the commission provided for in this act and no obligation shall be incurred chargeable against such fund without previous authorization of the commission nor shall any expense of any kind be incurred in excess of money actually provided by levy of assessment or otherwise. [New section added May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 583.]

§ 3c. Certification of irrigation district bonds by commission. Whenever the surveys, examinations, drawings and plans of an irrigation district, and the estimate of cost based thereon, shall provide that the works necessary for a completed project shall be constructed progressively over a period of years in accordance with section thirty of the California irrigation district act, and in accordance with a plan or schedule adopted by resolution of the board of directors of the district, it shall not be necessary for the commission to certify at one time all of the bonds that have been voted for the said completed project; but such bonds may be certified from time to time as needed by the district. If the commission shall certify all of the bonds necessary for the said completed project, even if said project is to be constructed progressively over a period of years in accordance with the aforesaid resolution of the board of directors, the bonds so voted and certified shall only be sold after prior written approval of the commission. [New section added May 25, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1207.]

ACT 1732i.

An act to be known as "the California irrigation act" providing for co-operation between the state of California and the United States and independent proceedings in the storage and diversion of water, the distribution thereof for irrigation, the manufacture of power and for domestic purposes; creating an irrigation board to form water districts, make contracts, construct reservoirs, divert and distribute water, generate, lease and sell electric current, lease water power, levy assessments, issue bonds of water districts; providing for the management, control and supervision of such water districts and of the works constructed pursuant to this act; directing the state department of engineering relative to such works; authorizing irrigation districts to reorganize under this act and generally providing a policy relating to storage, diversion and use of water, and adopting a plan for providing revenues therefor. [Approved June 4, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1173.]

Amended 1917, p. 1068; repealed May 16, 1919 (Stats. 1919, p. 672).

See post, Act 1732m.

ACT 1732j.

An act authorizing and empowering irrigation and reclamation districts to enter into contracts with the United States Reclamation Service for the reclamation of lands within such district under the provisions of the so-called "twenty year extension act."

§ 1. Irrigation and reclamation districts may contract with United States Reclamation Service. The board of trustees, or directors of any irrigation or reclamation district now organized under the provisions of the laws of the state of California, or of any irrigation or reclamation district hereafter organized under the laws of the state of California, may, in their discretion, whenever it is determined by such board that it is for the best interests of such districts, enter into a contract with the proper officers of the United States Reclamation Service for the reclamation, either by drainage or irrigation of lands within the boundaries of such district, or by preventing high water from overflowing the same, under the provisions of an act of congress approved August 13, 1914, entitled "An act extending the period of payment under reclamation projects, and for other purposes," which act is commonly known as the twenty-year extension act, and from and after the execution of such contract, the amount of indebtedness created thereby shall be and become a lien upon the lands to be benefited by such reclamation work.

§ 2. Payment of amounts due. The board of trustees or directors of any irrigation or reclamation district above mentioned, shall provide by a resolution duly adopted at a regular meeting, or special meeting of such board called for the purpose, for the payments of the amounts to become due under the contract with the United States, according to the provisions of such contract, by assessment upon the lands, in such district, which are to be benefited by such work, such assessment to be collected by the tax collector of the county within which such lands are situated, the same as other taxes are collected, or by any other officer authorized by law to collect assessments within said district.

An act defining a private irrigation plant and mutual water company and providing the conditions under which the owner of a private irrigation plant or a mutual water company may deliver water to others or others than its stockholders or members without becoming a public utility, and limiting such authority to the time the United States is a party to war or to a state of war; and declaring this act to be an urgency measure.

[Approved May 5, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 281. In effect immediately.]

§ 1. "Private irrigation plant." (a) The term "private irrigation plant," when used in this act, shall be construed to mean a water system which is not operated by a mutual water company as herein defined or by a public utility as defined in the public utilities act, approved December 23, 1911, and acts amendatory thereof, or in the act entitled "An act providing for the regulation of water companies, defining their powers and duties, defining the powers and duties of the railroad commission with reference thereto, and defining the conditions under which such water companies became subject to the provisions of the public utilities act and the railroad commission of the state of California," approved April 25, 1913.

(b) "Mutual water company." The term "mutual water company," when used in this act, means any private corporation or association organized for the purpose of delivering water solely to its stockholders or members at cost.

§ 2. Water may be delivered to other than stockholders, when. Statement filed with railroad commission. For the sole purpose of increasing the output of agricultural products in this state during the time the United States is a party to war or to a state of war, the owner of any private irrigation plant or any mutual water company may at its option deliver water to others or others than its stockholders or members, with or without compensation, without becoming a public utility subject to the jurisdiction of the railroad commission of the state of California; provided, that no delivery of water to others than stockholders or members shall be authorized until the orders for water of all stockholders or members made in accordance with the constitution, by-laws, rules or regulations of such mutual water company have been filled, and provided, further, that the temporary service herein authorized shall not be construed as granting any right to render or receive such service more than six months after such war need has ceased; and provided, further, that after June first, one thousand nine hundred seventeen, no such temporary service of water shall be made unless a statement is first filed with the railroad commission stating the private irrigation plant or mutual water company rendering such service, the party receiving such service, the lands irrigated and the rate, if any, charged for such service.

§ 3. Urgency measure. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure, and under the provisions of section 1 of article four of the constitution of the state of California shall take effect immediately. The facts constituting such urgency are as follows: The United States is now in a state of war and there is a shortage of crops in this state and throughout the nation generally. It is therefore necessary for the immediate preservation of public safety that this act take effect immediately so that the use of water in the irrigated area and the resulting crop returns of the state may be increased to the maximum output without delay.

An act to provide for co-operation in acquisition, construction and management of irrigation and drainage works between irrigation districts organized or existing under or by virtue of an act entitled "An act to provide for organization and government of irrigation districts and to provide for the acquisition thereby of works for the irrigation of the lands embraced within such districts, and also to provide for the distribution of water for irrigation purposes," approved March 31, 1897, and contiguous or adjoining districts in or organized under the laws of other states.

§ 1. Irrigation districts may co-operate with districts in adjoining states. It shall be lawful for irrigation districts organized or existing under or by virtue of an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization and government of irrigation districts, and to provide for the acquisition or construction thereby of works for the irrigation of the lands embraced within such districts, and also to provide for the distribution of water for irrigation purposes," approved March 31, 1897, to enter into agreements with irrigation districts in adjoining states for the joint construction, acquisition, management and control of diverting, impounding or distributing works for irrigation or draining the lands within the boundaries of their respective districts.

§ 2. Contracts. Such agreements may be evidenced by written contracts executed on behalf of their respective boards of directors or trustees, or by resolutions entered upon their respective minutes. Such contracts or certified copies thereof and certified copies of such resolutions shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder in each county in which is situated any of the lands of said districts or any of the reservoir sites or other real property owned by said districts or acquired under the provisions of this act.

§ 3. Ownership of property. Such agreements may provide for joint or several ownership or ownership in common of the property, necessary or convenient for the purposes of this act and may provide for the terms and conditions under which or the respective proportions in which such property shall be held. Any rights or disputes arising out of or from said agreements may be tried before and enforced by any court of competent jurisdiction in the state.

§ 4. Meetings held in adjoining state legal. Any meeting of the board of directors of any such district, held in conjunction with the board of directors of the co-operating district, in such district in the adjoining state, if duly and regularly called as required by law or if regularly adjourned to, shall be as lawful and valid as if held at the office of the board of directors of such district in this state.

§ 5. Lawful to divert water from state. It shall be lawful, for the purposes of such co-operative action to divert water from this state for impounding in the adjoining state or otherwise for distribution to the lands of the co-operating districts regardless of the state in which such lands are situated or to divert water from such adjoining state for impounding or otherwise for distribution to the lands of such co-operating districts in this or the adjoining state.

§ 6. Districts may hold property in adjoining state. So far as may be necessary for fully carrying out the purposes of this act such co-operating district in the adjoining state may hold title to property, in this state and such co-operating district in this state may hold title to property in the adjoining state.

An act to be known as "the California irrigation act" providing for co-operation between the state of California and the United States, and independent proceedings, in the storage and diversion of water, the distribution thereof for irrigation and other beneficial uses and purposes, the generation and manufacture of electric power; creating an irrigation board, and providing for the formation of irrigation districts and conservation districts, and the conversion of irrigation districts, reclamation districts, drainage districts and other political subdivisions of the state organized for the purpose of promoting irrigation, reclamation and drainage, into irrigation districts under this act; and empowering said irrigation board to make and approve contracts and agreements, to construct reservoirs and other works, divert, distribute and sell water and lease and sell water rights, and generate, lease and sell electric power, to apportion to the constituent units of conservation districts the water and electric power to be produced and generated by conservation district works, to levy assessments, and issue bonds of irrigation districts and conservation districts; providing for the management, control and supervision of such irrigation districts and conservation districts and of the works constructed pursuant to this act; directing the state department of engineering relative to such works; and generally providing a policy relating to the storage, diversion and use of water and the manufacture or generation of electric power, and adopting a plan for providing revenues therefor; and repealing the California irrigation act approved June 4, 1915, and chapter 646 of the statutes of 1917, approved May 28, 1917, amendatory thereof.

[Approved May 16, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 672.]

§ 1. Irrigation board created. Office. Officers. Compensation. Amounts paid by conservation districts. There is created a board to be known as the "irrigation board," which shall consist of three members, and shall constitute a body corporate and politic for the purpose of exercising the powers and performing the acts herein mentioned, and which shall have the power to sue and to be sued. Within thirty days of the date upon which this act takes effect the governor shall appoint the members of said board and the members so appointed shall serve for four years and until their successors have been appointed; provided, that the members of said board heretofore appointed under the California irrigation act approved June 4, 1915, shall serve out the terms for which they were appointed. Their successors shall be appointed, and all vacancies shall be filled by appointment in like manner. The office of the irrigation board shall be at the city of Sacramento; a branch office may be maintained in the city and county of San Francisco.

The irrigation board shall elect one of its members as president, and shall employ a secretary and such attorneys, engineers, superintendents, inspectors and other assistants as it may require, and shall fix the terms of their employment and compensation. Each member of the irrigation board shall receive as compensation the sum of ten dollars per day for each day employed by such member in the performance of duties under this act, and shall receive actual traveling expenses while engaged in such duties. All such salaries, compensation and expenses shall be payable out of any funds under the control of the irrigation board applicable to such payments. Where a conservation district has been formed, as hereinafter provided, the irrigation board shall apportion and certify to each district therein or component unit thereof, and to each private corporation, mutual ditch company and mutual water company admitted to the benefits of such conservation district, an amount for its share of the general cost and expense of the maintenance and operation of the irrigation board in connection with such district, or component unit, or private corporation or mutual ditch company, or mutual water company, for the ensuing or previous year, and also such additional amounts as are necessary for the purpose of defraying the cost of all administrative, engineering and other legal expenses necessary for laying out the plans therefor, and such amounts shall be paid by each of such districts, or component units, to the state treasurer, and shall be deposited in a fund to be held and paid out for the account of said conservation district in the same manner as hereinafter provided for the funds of said conservation district.

§ 2. Interest of state in water storage paramount. It is hereby declared that the state of California has a paramount interest in the storage and diversion of water, the irrigation of land and the production of electric power; that such storage, irrigation and production of electric power will make productive vast quantities of land that are comparatively unproductive and will increase production, property valuations and population in the state, make profitable the cultivation of small tracts and promote subdivision of larger tracts, and will promote the welfare and prosperity of all the people. The powers herein conferred upon the irrigation board are hereby declared to be police and regulatory powers and are necessary to the accomplishment of a purpose that is indispensable to the public interests.

§ 3. Powers of irrigation board. The irrigation board shall have power to make, or cause to be made, examinations and surveys, to make or adopt plans, and estimate, or cause to be estimated, the cost of all projects for the storage or diversion of water within the state of California, the distribution of said water, and the generation of electric power in connection with such storage, and the sale and distribution of such power, and to make and enter into contracts for the construction and maintenance of works for such projects and the supervision and administration thereof. The irrigation board shall also have power to confer and make agreements with any authorized department, board or officer of the United States government, or with any irrigation district, reclamation district, or drainage district, or other political subdivision of the state organized to promote irrigation, reclamation or drainage, or with any water, power, irrigation or other company, or corporation, or association, or person, or persons, with reference to such projects and concerning examinations, surveys, works and plans in connection therewith. Any plan finally approved by the irrigation board (and when in any case the approval of any authorized department, board or officer of the United States government is necessary, it is also approved by such authorized department, board or officer) shall be the official plan approved by the state of California and authorized by it for the project involved therein, but such plan may be modified or changed from time to time thereafter in like manner as originally adopted or approved.

§ 4. State engineering department to make surveys. The state department of engineering, or such engineer or engineers as may be appointed by the irrigation board, shall make such surveys, examinations, reports, plans and estimates as may be required by the board, either with or without the co-operation of the United States or any department thereof, whenever said board has under its control money available with which to pay the expenses in connection therewith. All such work and all supervision of construction shall be performed under such contracts and regulations as may be made or approved by the irrigation board or agreed upon between said board and the United States.

§ 5. Petition to organize irrigation district. Defects in petition. Evidence of title. Hearing. Notice of hearing. Objections to creation of districts. Order creating district. Approval of state engineer. Directors. Determining legality of district. Whenever the holders of title, or evidence of title, or of possessory rights to lands entered under the laws of the United States, or of the state of California, representing one-half or more of any body of land susceptible of irrigation (excepting lands embraced within the limits of incorporated cities or towns) desire to form an irrigation district under the provisions of this act, for the irrigation of said land, they may present to the irrigation board a petition signed by them, or their authorized agents, which petition shall set forth generally the boundaries of the proposed district, a description of the lands by legal subdivisions or other boundaries, the county in which they are situated, the number of acres in the proposed district, and in each tract with the names (if known) of the owners thereof, and designating as unsold any lands not reduced to private ownership; and also shall state generally the source or sources from which said lands are proposed to be irrigated, and the proposed name of the district, and shall pray that the territory within the boundaries of the proposed district may be organized as an irrigation district under the provisions of this act. The petition may consist of any number of separate instruments; and guardians, executors, administrators or other persons holding property in a trust capacity under appointment of court may sign any petition provided for in this act, when authorized by an order of court, which order may be made without notice. A certificate of acknowledgment taken before a notary public or justice of the peace of any state, or an affidavit by any person in the presence of whom such petition was signed, shall be sufficient evidence of the genuineness of such signature, and of the fact of residence of any petitioner and any fact going to the qualifications of any petitioner under this act.

No defect in the contents of the petition or in the title to or form of the notice or signatures, or the lack of signatures shall vitiate any proceedings thereon; provided, such petition or petitions have a sufficient number of qualified signatures attached thereto.

The certificate of the county assessor of the county wherein the lands described in the petition are situated that the titles and possessory rights of the respective signers thereto are as appear on the county assessment-roll or rolls last equalized at the time of filing the petition, or of the register of the United States land office of the district in which said lands are situated, or of the surveyor-general of the state of California, shall be sufficient evidence of the title or possessory right of any signer hereto, and where as to any tract the assessor is unable to make such certificate for the reason that it is assessed to an unknown owner or the assessment-roll does not purport to give the true name or gives the names of a portion only of the owners, the actual owners of such property shall be considered the owners for all the purposes of this act and owners of undivided interests may sign for such interest.

The petition must be verified by the affidavit of one of the petitioners, and shall be filed with the irrigation board. Upon the receipt of such petition the irrigation board, or such person as said board may authorize to act in such cases, shall designate a time and place for the hearing of said petition, which date shall be not less than twenty days nor more than thirty days from the date of the filing of the petition with the board. The secretary of the irrigation board shall cause notice of said hearing to be published at least once a week for two successive weeks, prior to the time of said hearing, in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in each of the counties in which any of the lands intended to be embraced within such proposed irrigation district are situated. Such notice shall designate the time and place when and where said petition will be heard, and shall set forth the exterior boundaries of said proposed district.

At the time and place designated, in said notice, any person owning land within the said proposed irrigation district, may appear and present written objections to the creation of such district. The irrigation board shall hear and receive such evidence as may be offered in support of the petition and in support of said written objections. The irrigation board may continue said hearing from time to time, by order entered upon its minutes, to the end that a full hearing may be had. Upon the final hearing of said matter, the irrigation board shall make an order approving said petition as originally presented, or as modified by such order, excluding from the district such lands as in the judgment of the irrigation board should be excluded, and upon the filing of such order with the irrigation board such irrigation district shall be deemed to be created. Upon application by any person whose lands are susceptible of irrigation from any of the proposed sources, the irrigation board, in its discretion, may order such lands included within said proposed district. The order shall describe the exterior boundaries of the district, as determined by the irrigation board, and also the exterior boundaries of any lands excluded therefrom, and shall be indorsed upon or attached to the petition, and be signed by the president and attested by the secretary of the irrigation board. A copy of the order creating such irrigation district, certified by such secretary, shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and a similarly certified copy of such order, together with a map showing the exterior boundaries of the district, and indicating the lands excluded therefrom, shall be filed in the office of the county recorder of each of the counties in which any of the lands within the said district are situated, and a properly certified copy of such order, together with the maps attached thereto, shall be received in all of the courts of this state as prima facie evidence of the organization of such district and of the boundaries thereof. Before the irrigation board makes such order, it may require that the project and proposed works be approved by the state engineer, or by such engineer or engineers as shall be designated by the irrigation board.

Each irrigation district created under the provisions of this act shall have a board of directors composed of owners of land within the district, elected by the owners of land in such district in the manner provided for the election of trustees of reclamation districts in section three thousand four hundred ninety-one of the Political Code of the state of California, except that such elections shall be called by and returns thereof made to the board of supervisors of the county in which the greater portion of the lands of the district are situated. Each such district shall have a board consisting of five directors; provided, that if so requested in the petition for the formation of said district, the irrigation board may order that there shall be only three directors. After the approval of the petition and the election of directors for the district, the directors shall adopt rules, not inconsistent with the laws of the state, for the government and control of the affairs of the district, which rules may be amended at any time by said board of directors.

The board of directors of any irrigation district created under this act may commence a proceeding in the superior court of any county, wherein a portion of the district is situated, to determine the legality of the existence of said district. The complaint in said proceeding shall describe the district by name and the exterior boundaries thereof, and shall contain a prayer that such district be adjudged a legal irrigation district. The summons in such proceeding shall be served by publishing a copy thereof once a week for four successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in each county where any part of such district is situated. Within thirty days after the last publication of said summons, any person who may be interested may appear and answer said complaint, in which answer the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of the district shall be set forth. If no answer shall be filed, the court must render judgment as prayed for in the complaint. If any answer shall be filed within said period, the court shall thereafter proceed as in other civil cases, but no district shall be adjudged invalid when it appears that such district has, for five years prior to the commencement of such proceeding, been performing its functions as an irrigation district under this act in good faith. The proceeding under this section is hereby declared to be a proceeding in rem, and the judgment rendered therein shall be conclusive against all persons whomsoever and against the state of California.

§ 6. Converting districts into irrigation districts. Hearing. Order of irrigation board. Any irrigation district formed under the provisions of any other law or statute of this state, and any reclamation district or drainage district (excluding from any such district the area embraced within the limits of any incorporated city or town) susceptible of irrigation from any project adopted or approved by the irrigation board, may become an irrigation district under the provisions of this act upon presenting to the irrigation board a consent thereto signed by the holders of title, or evidence of title, of more than half of the lands embraced in said district (excepting lands within incorporated cities or towns). Upon the filing of such consent, the irrigation board shall fix a date for a hearing of the matter involved in such consent. The secretary of the irrigation board shall publish a notice of such hearing once a week for four successive weeks preceding the date fixed therefor in a newspaper of general circulation published in each of the counties in which any portion of said district is situated. At the time and place designated in said notice the irrigation board shall hear and receive such evidence as may be offered in support of the proposal to convert such district into an irrigation district under the provisions of this act and in support of any written objection thereto filed with the irrigation board. The irrigation board may continue said hearing from time to time, by order entered upon its minutes, to the end that a full hearing may be had. Upon the final hearing of said matter, the irrigation board shall make its order, providing that said district (excluding therefrom the territory embraced in incorporated cities or towns) shall thereafter be an irrigation district subject to all of the provisions of this act, or, in its discretion, said irrigation board may decline to make such order. If the irrigation board shall make an order converting such district into an irrigation district, all of the lands therein (except lands lying within the boundaries of incorporated cities or towns), shall become, and shall thereafter be, subject to all of the provisions of this act.

§ 6a. Powers of board of directors. Action nullified by irrigation board. Compensation. The board of directors of an irrigation district created under this act shall have power to elect one of its members president thereof; and, subject to the approval of the irrigation board, to employ engineers and others to survey, plan, locate and estimate the cost of the works necessary for the improvement of the lands of the district by irrigation, reclamation and drainage and thereafter subject to the approval of the irrigation board, to modify or change such original plan or plans, or adopt new supplemental or additional plan or plans; to acquire by purchase, condemnation or other legal means, necessary property and rights of way, and the right to take material for the construction of all necessary works, including dams, canals, drains, sluices, bulkheads, water-gates, embankments, levees and pumping plants, and to construct, maintain and keep in repair all works requisite and necessary to that end, and to do all other acts and things necessary or required for the irrigation, reclamation and drainage of the lands embraced in the district, and to carry out the purposes of this act. All of the acts and proceedings of such board of directors, however, shall be recorded in the minutes of said board, and copies thereof, certified by the secretary of said board as recorded, shall, within ten days after the passage or adoption of the same, be filed with the secretary of the irrigation board, and the irrigation board, within twenty days after such filing may, by order filed with its secretary, reject and nullify the action of the board of directors of such irrigation district, and upon the filing of a certified copy of such order of rejection or nullification with the secretary of such irrigation district, the said order of said irrigation district board shall be invalid and unenforceable for any purpose; but if such action of such irrigation district board shall not be so rejected or nullified within the period above provided, the same shall be and remain in full force and effect. The irrigation board may confirm and ratify any action of said irrigation district board at any time, and upon such confirmation and ratification such act or order of said irrigation district board shall be valid and effective for all purposes. The several members of the board of directors shall each be entitled to receive for actual and necessary services performed and for expenses incurred by them, respectively, for and in the interest of the district, such compensation as the irrigation board may determine to be just and reasonable, which shall constitute an indebtedness of the district, to be paid in the same manner and out of the same fund as other debts of the district; provided, that no warrant or order drawn for such purpose shall be valid until approved by the irrigation board.

§ 6b. Conservation districts. Formation proceedings on. Right of private corporation, etc., to share in benefits. Petition to be included in. Proceedings to determine legality of district. The irrigation board shall have power to consolidate into single districts in the manner and for the purposes provided in this act, irrigation districts, reclamation districts, drainage districts and other political subdivisions of the state organized to promote irrigation, reclamation or drainage, which consolidated districts shall be known, and are herein referred to, as conservation districts; and, the purpose of the formation of such districts being primarily to provide for and promote the irrigation of the lands therein and in connection therewith and incidental thereto the reclamation and drainage of such lands, the legislature hereby expressly declares that every such conservation district, formed as herein provided, is and shall be an irrigation district within the meaning of section thirteen of article eleven of the constitution of the state of California, and within the meaning of every other provision of said constitution relating to irrigation districts. Such conservation districts shall be composed of two or more units all or any of which units may be irrigation districts, formed under the provisions of this or any other act or statute of this state, reclamation districts, drainage districts, or other political districts of the state organized to promote irrigation, reclamation or drainage, now or hereafter to be formed. The territory embraced within such units need not be contiguous in order to be embraced within the same conservation district, provided all or a portion of the territory embraced within said respective units is susceptible of irrigation from the works proposed to be constructed by said conservation district. Any private corporation engaged in the distribution of water to the public, for irrigation or other beneficial uses, or in the generation of hydro-electric power for sale to the public, and any mutual ditch company or mutual water company organized for the purpose of distributing water to the members or stockholders thereof, which private corporation, mutual ditch company or mutual water company is receiving or entitled to receive water from the same stream or streams for the storage or diversion of whose waters it is proposed to construct the works of said conservation district, shall have the right, upon payment of its proportion of the cost of constructing, operating and maintaining such works, to share in all of the benefits resulting from such construction, operation and maintenance, including its proportionate share of the water to be conserved thereby and the power to be generated and produced in connection therewith; provided, that nothing herein contained shall be deemed to confer upon said irrigation board, or upon any conservation district formed under the provisions of this act, the right to impair, or deprive any person, firm or corporation of any vested right in or to the waters of any stream or streams proposed to be stored or diverted by said conservation district, without due process of law.

Upon presentation to it of a petition signed by the respective governing boards of two or more of said units praying for the formation of a conservation district, the irrigation board shall fix a time and place for the hearing of such petition. The secretary of the irrigation board shall cause notice of said hearing to be given by publication once a week for four successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in each county wherein any part of said petitioning districts are situated, and also by mailing a written notice of such hearing to the governing boards of such other districts or political subdivisions of the state and to such private corporations, mutual ditch companies and mutual water companies as may be designated by the irrigation board. At the time fixed by the irrigation board for such hearing, or at such other time to which the hearing may be adjourned, the irrigation board shall hear and receive evidence in support of any objections which may be filed in opposition thereto, and shall also receive applications from other districts to become a part of such conservation district and from private corporations, mutual ditch companies or mutual water companies to participate in the benefits of such conservation district. If there shall be presented at such hearing a written objection or objections signed by the owners of more than one-half of the lands in any such unit district the signing of such petition by the governing board of such unit district shall be deemed to be nullified and the irrigation board shall have no power to include such unit district within the proposed conservation district.

The irrigation board shall include as a part of such conservation district the territory embraced within any district unit applying to be made part of the conservation district, which applying district shall be lawfully receiving or entitled to receive water from the same stream or streams whose waters are proposed to be stored or diverted by such conservation district, and shall admit to beneficial participation in said conservation district such private corporations, mutual ditch companies or mutual water companies likewise lawfully receiving or entitled to receive water and applying to the irrigation board to be admitted to such participation. The application of any unit district or private corporation, mutual ditch company or mutual water company, not so lawfully receiving or entitled to receive water, to be included as a part of said conservation district or to be permitted to share in the benefits thereof, may be approved or rejected by the irrigation board in its discretion. Upon the final hearing of said matter, the irrigation board shall make an order approving said petition, as originally presented, or as modified by such order. Such order shall describe said conservation district by exterior boundaries when the lands therein lie in one body, or by naming the unit districts embraced therein when said lands do not lie in one body, and shall also designate the private corporations, mutual ditch companies or mutual water companies, entitled to participate in the benefits of the works proposed to be constructed by said conservation district. Upon the filing of such order with the irrigation board such conservation district shall be deemed to be created. A certified copy of the order creating such conservation district shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and a certified copy thereof, together with a map showing the boundaries of the district, shall be filed in the office of the county recorder of each of the counties in which any of the lands within the said district are situated. A properly certified copy of such order, together with the map attached thereto, shall be received in all the courts of this state as prima facie evidence of the organization of such district in compliance with the provisions of this act, and of the boundaries thereof.

After the formation of a conservation district as herein provided, any irrigation district, reclamation district, drainage district, or other political subdivision of the state organized to promote irrigation, reclamation or drainage, theretofore existing and which was entitled to become a part of and unit in such conservation district at the time of its formation, and any such district or political subdivision of the state thereafter formed, any portion of the lands in which are receiving or entitled to receive water from the same stream or streams for the storage or diversion of whose waters said conservation district was formed, may, at any time prior to the making by the irrigation board of the order approving the apportionment as provided in section ten of this act, but not thereafter, file with the irrigation board a petition to be made a part of and unit in such conservation district. And any private corporation, mutual ditch company or mutual water company existing at the time of the formation of such conservation district, and at that time entitled to be admitted to participation in the benefits resulting from the construction of the works of such conservation district and any such private corporation, mutual water company or mutual ditch company thereafter organized and receiving or entitled to receive water from such stream or streams, may, at any time prior to the making by the irrigation board of the order approving the apportionment as provided in section ten of this act, but not thereafter, file with the irrigation board a petition to be admitted to such participation. Upon the filing of any such petition, within the time hereinbefore limited, the irrigation board shall fix a time and place for the hearing thereof and give such notice of said hearing and cause such proceedings to be had and taken at such hearing and such order to be made and filed, and certified copies of such order to be filed, as in the case of a hearing upon a petition, for the original formation of a conservation district, and the right of such petitioning district or political subdivision to become a part of and unit in such conservation district or of such private corporation, mutual water company or mutual ditch company to be admitted to participation in the benefits resulting from the construction of the works thereof, shall be determined in the same manner as if such district or political subdivision or private corporation or mutual water company or mutual ditch company had presented its petition or application at the hearing of the petition for the original formation of such conservation district.

The irrigation board, or the governing body of any irrigation district, reclamation district, drainage district, or other political subdivision of the state organized to promote irrigation, reclamation or drainage, constituting a unit of said conservation district, or any private corporation, or mutual water company or mutual ditch company admitted to participation in the benefits of such conservation district, may commence a proceeding in the superior court of any county wherein a portion of said conservation district is situated to determine the legality of the existence of said conservation district. The complaint in said proceeding shall describe the district by name, and the exterior boundaries thereof, when the lands therein lie in one body, or by naming the unit districts embraced therein when said lands do not lie in one body, and shall contain a prayer that such district be adjudged a legal conservation district. The summons in such proceeding shall be served by publishing a copy thereof once a week for four successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in each county wherein any part of such district is situated. Within thirty days after the last publication of said summons any person who may be interested may appear and answer said complaint in which answer the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of the district shall be set forth. If no answer shall be filed the court must render judgment as prayed for in the complaint. If any answer shall be filed within said period the court shall thereafter proceed as in other civil cases, but no district shall be adjudged invalid when it appears that such district has, for five years prior to the commencement of such proceeding, been performing its functions as a conservation district in good faith. The proceeding under this section is hereby declared to be a proceeding in rem and the judgment rendered therein shall be conclusive against all persons whomsoever and against the state of California.

§ 7. When works benefit overflowed lands. When any of the works constructed under the provisions of this act serve the purpose of drainage, flood control or reclamation of swamp and overflowed lands within an irrigation or conservation district formed under the provisions of this act, the irrigation board may estimate the proportion of the cost of said construction, which may be properly charged to the lands benefited by such drainage, flood control or reclamation; and assessments may be levied in the manner herein provided upon the lands so benefited for the purpose of paying such proportion of said cost of construction, together with a reasonable portion of the expenses of maintenance and repair of such works.

§ 8. Rules and regulations. The irrigation board may make and enforce any and all rules and regulations that in its opinion will promote the objects of this act, and may perform any act and exercise any power necessary to the accomplishment of the purposes herein expressed and full power is hereby conferred in the premises whether or not such powers are herein specially mentioned, and may sue and be sued in the same manner and with the same effect as a municipal corporation.

§ 9. Member may conduct hearing. For the purpose of performing any duty under this act the irrigation board may appoint one of its members to conduct any hearing or investigation. Such member shall make a written report of his proceedings and shall state the evidence introduced at any hearing and his conclusions thereon. Upon such report, or upon such further inquiry as the irrigation board shall deem proper, the irrigation board may pass upon and decide any question under consideration at said hearing or investigation. The decisions of the irrigation board shall be final except as to questions, the determination of which are vested in the courts by this act or by the constitution of this state or by the constitution of the United States.

§ 10. Apportionment of water. Lease of surplus water. Special board of apportionment. Oath. Notice. Hearing. Rates. Control of distribution of water apportioned. Prior to making any assessment, to provide funds for the construction or purchase of any project for the construction or purchase of which any conservation district shall have been formed, there shall be apportioned as hereinafter provided, to each constituent district or unit under such project the proportion to which it is entitled of all water stored or to be stored or diverted or to be diverted by such project for the irrigation of such conservation district, and of all power to be developed in connection therewith, which proportion of such water and power shall be forever applied to the purposes of said constituent district; provided, that any water or power that may be so apportioned and for which any constituent district or unit has not, to the full extent thereof, a beneficial use, may be leased by such district or unit, with the consent of the irrigation board, to any other territory within or without the said conservation district; the other districts or units, embraced in said conservation district to be entitled, however, to the first right to so lease such surplus water or power. The apportionment of water and power under this section shall be made by a special board of apportionment and confirmed by the irrigation board. The members of such special board of apportionment shall be three in number and shall be appointed by the irrigation board, subject, however, to the approval of two-thirds of the members of the advisory board hereinafter provided for. The members of such special board of apportionment shall be disinterested persons having no interest in any land within the conservation district within which such apportionment is to be made and not residing within such district. Before entering upon his duties each of the members of said special board of apportionment shall take and subscribe an oath that he is not in any manner interested in any real estate within said district, directly or indirectly; that he does not reside therein, and that he will perform the duties of a member of such board to the best of his ability. Said special board of apportionment shall determine, define and apportion to the several districts or units within said conservation district, and to the private corporations, mutual water companies and mutual ditch companies admitted to share in the benefits thereof, the amount and extent of the water to be produced, stored or diverted for the project contemplated by said conservation district and the amount and extent of the power to be produced or generated in connection therewith, and shall likewise determine, define and apportion the cost of the project, and shall make a report thereof to the irrigation board. Upon receiving such report the irrigation board shall fix a date for the hearing thereof, and notice to all persons in such conservation district shall be given by publication once a week for four successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in each of the counties in which any portion of the said district is situated. Such hearing shall be held upon a date not less than sixty nor more than ninety days after the first publication of said notice, and affidavits of the publication of said notice in the manner herein provided shall be made and filed with the irrigation board before such hearing. In addition to the publication of such notice the secretary of the irrigation board shall mail a copy thereof to the governing boards of such other districts or political subdivisions of the state and to such private corporations, mutual ditch companies and mutual water companies as may be designated by the irrigation board. At the time set for the hearing the irrigation board shall hear and receive evidence in support of objections which may be presented to the apportionment so made, and shall thereupon make its order approving, modifying or rejecting such apportionment. Any person aggrieved by the order of the irrigation board may commence an action in the superior court of any county in which any part of said conservation district is interested to have said apportionment corrected, modified or annulled. Such action must be commenced within thirty days after said order has been made and filed in the office of the secretary of the irrigation board, and if not so commenced no action or defense shall thereafter be maintained attacking the legality of said apportionment in any respect.

All works constructed at the expense of any irrigation district created under this act, or for any component unit of a conservation district, or for which the same is assessed or charged for the repayment of moneys expended for construction, shall forever be devoted to the purposes of such constituent district or unit under the administration of the irrigation board. No rates shall be charged by an irrigation district formed under the provisions of this act or by a conservation district for the use of water for irrigation therein or for power developed in connection therewith, except for the just proportion of such irrigation district or the units of such conservation district, or of the private corporations, mutual water companies or mutual ditch companies entitled to or receiving the benefits of the construction and operation of the works of said conservation district, for the expenses of the governing bodies and employees thereof and of the maintenance, operation, repair and supervision of the works constructed for the benefit of such irrigation district or conservation district, and except for the repayment of moneys appropriated and paid as the cost of construction of the said works and the payment of bonds issued therefor and the interest thereon.

It shall be the duty of the irrigation board, and said board shall have power to do all things necessary to that end, to control and supervise the distribution of the water and power apportioned as herein provided to the units of a conservation district and to the private corporations, mutual water companies and mutual ditch companies admitted to share in the benefits thereof.

§ 11. Power to contract for repayment of money expended. The irrigation board shall have power to contract with the United States and with the state of California for the repayment of moneys appropriated or expended in the construction of reservoirs, canals, ditches or other works necessary or convenient for any of the purposes herein mentioned. Such repayment shall be made from assessments upon the lands benefited by such works, or the proceeds of bonds issued thereon, from payments made by private corporations, mutual ditch companies or mutual water companies contributing their proportion of the cost of constructing, operating and maintaining such works as provided in section six b of this act, or from revenues derived by the irrigation board for water or power leased or sold by the irrigation board as provided in this act, or from either, all or any of said methods of repayment. The irrigation board may also deposit with the United States and with the state, bonds, notes, contracts, leases, agreements or other obligations for the payment of money, issued or executed by irrigation districts formed under the provisions of this act, or by conservation districts, or the component units of such conservation districts, the proceeds to be applied to said repayment upon such terms as may be agreed upon between the irrigation board and the United States or the State of California.

§ 12. Power to purchase land, etc., needed. The irrigation board shall have power to acquire within or without any irrigation district created under this act or any conservation district, from persons, associations or private corporations, by purchase, condemnation or other lawful means, any land, water, water rights, reservoirs, flumes, ditches, power lines, telegraph or telephone lines or other works or parts thereof necessary or convenient for the purposes herein mentioned, or necessary for the carrying out of any of the projects formed hereunder.

§ 13. Advisory board. The chairmen or presiding officers of the governing bodies of the respective irrigation districts, reclamation districts, drainage districts and other political subdivisions of the state organized to promote irrigation, reclamation or drainage, constituting units of a conservation district created under this act, and of the private corporations, mutual water companies and mutual ditch companies contributing to the cost of constructing, operating and maintaining the works of such conservation district, shall be and constitute an advisory board to consult with the irrigation board, and such advisory board shall perform such executive and administrative functions as may be determined from time to time by the irrigation board.

§ 14. Power to make contracts. Apportionment of revenues. Contracts between districts, etc. The irrigation board, except where special power is herein elsewhere conferred, shall have power to make, execute and carry out any agreements or contracts for the performance of any act or the construction of any works provided for in this act, and may make contracts for the sale or rental of unapportioned water or power for periods not to exceed forty years, upon such terms as the irrigation board shall prescribe. All revenues received by the irrigation board from such sales or rentals shall be apportioned to the districts constituting component parts of such conservation district and to the private corporations, mutual water companies and mutual ditch companies contributing to the construction of the project from which such revenues are derived. Such apportionment shall be made in the ratio of the respective amounts of assessments levied or charges made for the construction of the works in connection with which such revenues are derived.

For the purpose of carrying this act into effect and of accomplishing the ends and objects herein expressed, and the development and utilization of the water resources of this state, conservation districts, irrigation districts, formed under the provisions of this act, reclamation districts and other political subdivisions of the state organized to promote irrigation, reclamation or drainage, and private corporations organized for the purpose of selling or distributing water or electric power for domestic, irrigation, manufacture, or other beneficial uses and purposes, and mutual water companies and mutual ditch companies, may enter into contracts or agreements with each other or with other districts, political subdivisions, private corporations, associations or persons, for the development, appropriation or storage of water and the apportionment and distribution thereof, and the management, operation and maintenance of any works acquired pursuant to this section, and the division, distribution and payment of the cost and expense of such development, appropriation, storage, apportionment, distribution, management, operation and maintenance. And every and all such contract or contracts shall be valid and binding, in accordance with their terms and provisions respectively; provided, however, that before any such contract or contracts shall go into force or effect or become binding for any purpose, the same shall be submitted to and approved by the irrigation board; and provided, further, that where any such contract relates to or affects the sale, rental or distribution of water or electric power, or the beneficial use of water, by a public utility, the same shall, before it goes into force or effect or becomes binding, be submitted to and approved by the railroad commission of the state of California. And all such contracts approved as herein provided shall be binding and valid for all purposes, either in perpetuity or such term or terms as shall be specified or agreed upon therein or in the order or orders approving the same.

The provisions of this section are in aid of and in addition to other provisions of this act, and the same shall be construed and considered as so in aid of and in addition to, and not limited by or restricted by any of the other terms or provisions of this act. Nothing in this section contained shall be construed to affect or impair the organization or rights of mutual water companies or mutual ditch companies or the rights of the stockholders or members of such companies.

§ 15. Surveys, etc., of conservation districts. Assessment of land. Lien. Tax levy. Additional levy. Duty of auditor and tax collector. Moneys received under contracts, etc., collected by irrigation board. The irrigation board shall, upon the organization of any conservation district as in this act provided, proceed to make or cause to be made, all necessary examinations, surveys, plans and estimates of cost for the storage, diversion and distribution of water and the generation of electric power in connection therewith, and the sale and distribution thereof as may be necessary or requisite to enable said board to ascertain and estimate the requirements and works necessary as aforesaid for the purposes of said conservation district and the probable cost and expense thereof, and in that connection may use and adopt all previous estimates, surveys and reports it may have collected adapted to that purpose, and may employ all necessary engineers and other assistants for the accomplishment of said purposes, and the cost thereof shall be deemed a part of the expense of said project and may issue warrants therefor and same shall bear interest from date of issue at the rate of six per cent per annum until paid, and shall be payable out of the funds of said district, and may be included in any bond issue authorized for the purposes of said district.

Such estimate as is above provided for shall be in such form as shall be approved by said irrigation board and shall be entered in the minutes of said board and shall constitute a part of the records of said board, and the same, or a copy thereof, certified by the secretary of said board, shall be admissible as evidence in any proceeding before any court, commission or tribunal of this state wherein the matters therein set forth shall be admissible in evidence.

Whenever, for any of the purposes of this act, the irrigation board shall deem it necessary for the purposes of said district, or the levying of an assessment upon the property therein, or the issuance of bonds by said district, said board shall appoint three commissioners for such purpose or purposes. Such commissioners shall have no interest in any land in the district, either directly or indirectly, and each commissioner before entering upon his duties shall make and subscribe an oath that he is not in any manner interested directly or indirectly in any land in said district, and that he will perform the duties of commissioner to the best of his ability. Thereupon said commissioners shall proceed separately as to each unit within said district to view and assess upon the land within said district a sum sufficient to cover said estimated amount and shall apportion the same according to the benefits which will accrue to each unit within said district, and separately as to each tract of land within said unit. Such benefits to be estimated according to the benefits which will accrue to each tract of land in such unit by reason of the expenditure of said estimated sum, and shall estimate the same in gold coin of the United States.

Said commissioners shall prepare and certify a roll on which they shall state the name and address of the owner of each parcel of land in such unit, or if the name or address of any owner is unknown, then, that fact; also a description of each parcel of land by legal subdivisions or boundaries, and the total amount assessed against each parcel of land so described. No mistake in the name of the owner, or supposed owner of any parcel of land, shall invalidate the apportionment or assessment. A separate roll shall be made for the lands in each county where such unit includes land in more than one county. When completed said roll or rolls shall be filed with the irrigation board and certified copies of the particular roll for each county shall be filed with the county recorder of any county in which any lands within said unit may be, and each roll shall be open for inspection by the public for at least thirty days.

The irrigation board shall appoint a time and place not less than thirty days after said roll has been filed with said recorder or recorders when and where it will meet, within said conservation district for the purpose of hearing objection to said assessment and the apportionment thereof and notice of such hearing shall be published at least once a week for two successive weeks in some newspaper published in each county in which any lands within said district may be. At any time before or at the original date of such hearing, any person interested in any real estate upon which any charge has been apportioned and assessed, may file in the office of the secretary of said irrigation board written objections thereto, stating the grounds of such objections, which said statements shall be verified by the affidavit of such person or some other person who is familiar with the facts. Said irrigation board may postpone such hearing from time to time. At such hearing the irrigation board shall hear such evidence as may be offered touching the correctness of such assessment or the manner of its apportionment and may modify or amend the same and may reapportion all or any part of the entire assessment. No assessment or apportionment shall be increased except upon the hearing of objections thereto or after personal notice or notice by mail to the owner of the land upon which said increase is made. Said irrigation board must make and enter in its minutes an order approving said assessment and apportionment as finally fixed, and the decision of said irrigation board shall be final, and thereafter said assessment and apportionment shall be conclusive evidence of the validity of said assessment and apportionment, and no action or defense shall ever be maintained attacking the same in any respect. And the records of said irrigation board, or a copy thereof certified by its secretary, shall be received in evidence in all or any of the courts of this state, or before any board or tribunal authorized to hear or consider any matter wherein the same shall be admissible as evidence. No change shall be made in said assessment or apportionment after the consideration, approval and fixing thereof by said irrigation board, and all assessments upon the property of said district thereafter shall be levied in accordance therewith and consistent with the apportionment of benefits therein provided for and fixed, and if any assessments are called for or required in addition to the original amount estimated and apportioned for the purposes of said district, such additional amount shall be assessed, levied and raised in accordance with said apportionment and assessment of benefits so fixed in the first instance by said irrigation board. A certified copy of such assessment and apportionment roll as finally approved shall be filed in the offices of the county recorder of each county in which any land within said district is situated. Such assessment and apportionment shall thereafter constitute a first lien upon the land affected thereby until the full amount thereof is paid or until all bonds of the district issued thereon, together with the accrued interest, shall have been fully paid. The said irrigation board shall on the first Tuesday in May following the fixing and approval of said assessment and apportionment therein provided for, and annually thereafter on said date, levy an assessment, sufficient to raise the annual interest on the outstanding bonds of said district, and in any year in which any bonds shall fall due must increase such assessment to an amount sufficient to pay the principal of the outstanding bonds as they mature; also sufficient to pay in full all sums that may become due from the district before the time of collection of the next annual assessment, including an amount sufficient to pay in full the amount of any contract or obligation of the district which may come due during said year or may have been reduced to judgment. And to provide for and maintain a fund out of which the current and contingent obligations of said district can be paid in cash as they mature. In addition to the amounts estimated as necessary for the purposes aforesaid, a further levy of fifteen per cent additional shall be included and levied for the purposes of meeting any additional amounts that may be required on account of delinquencies and to insure the payment of all of the bonded indebtedness, including the interest thereon and other obligations of said district at maturity. Whenever there is a surplus in the funds of said district over and above all requirements as herein specified for the payment of the bonded indebtedness and interest thereon and accrued obligations of said district, such a surplus may be used and applied in retiring the outstanding bonds, or any thereof, of said district. The secretary of the irrigation board must compute and enter in a separate column of the assessment book the respective sums in dollars and cents to be paid as an assessment upon the property therein enumerated. In so doing, said secretary shall enter the names of the owners of such lands and the descriptions thereof in accordance with the last assessment-roll of the county in which the said lands are situated. Such assessment must be so levied and computed as to be in accordance with the apportionment and assessment of benefits herein provided for and so that all lands within said district shall be assessed and required to pay in accordance therewith.

The secretary of said board shall forthwith deliver a certified copy of that portion of said assessment so directed to be entered by him, so far as it applies or appertains to any land within any county situated within said district to the county auditor of such county, and such auditor shall accept and receipt for the same; and thereupon it shall be the duty of said auditor to include said assessment as an assessment against each parcel or tract of land therein described. It shall be the duty of said auditor to examine and ascertain as to any errors or discrepancies that may exist in said roll as to the ownership of, or the descriptions of, land as applied to any owner or owners thereof as compared with the assessment-roll of the said county for such year, and if any such difference or discrepancies are found, it shall be the duty of said auditor to correct the same accordingly so that the said roll as to ownerships and descriptions of land and assessments thereof shall correspond to the assessment-roll of said county and for such year. And it shall be his duty to audit, enter and certify the same to the tax collector of said county for collection in the same manner and form as county, school district and other taxes are included and certified by him to such tax collector, and all such assessments shall constitute a first lien upon the lands affected thereby as hereinbefore provided.

The board of supervisors is hereby authorized and empowered to employ what extra clerical force is necessary to perform the additional duties herein prescribed for the auditor. Said extra clerks shall receive as compensation for the work herein provided a per diem not to exceed five dollars which shall be paid by the districts operating under the provisions of this act in proportion to the amount of work done for each and it shall be the duty of the clerk of said board to issue warrants payable to such clerks employed as herein provided out of the funds of the districts, upon the presentation of a verified demand, approved by the auditor and the board of supervisors.

Upon receipt of the same from the auditor of such county it shall be the duty of the tax collector of said county to include the same as a separate entry and charge against the land therein described and to collect the same with the county, school district and other taxes so required to be collected by such county tax collector and to keep and deposit such district taxes in a separate fund, and when the same is collected it shall be the duty of such tax collector to pay the same over to the treasurer of such county at the same time and in the same manner as other taxes collected by him are paid over to such treasurer, and it shall be the duty of such treasurer to receive the same as other taxes are received by him and after receipt thereof to keep the same in a separate fund; and upon receipt of same, or any part thereof, it shall be the duty of such county treasurer within thirty days thereafter to pay the same and all thereof to the treasurer of the state of California, who shall receive and keep the same and deposit the same in a separate fund to the credit of the said district, and to be paid out by him upon the order and approval of the said irrigation board.

All moneys received under contracts, leases or other arrangements by such conservation district from any canal companies, mutual or other water companies, reclamation districts, or from any corporations, individuals, or other sources not herein otherwise provided for shall be collected by said irrigation board and by it deposited with the state treasurer, and thereafter to be disbursed as provided as to funds of such district under the order and direction of such irrigation board for the purposes and obligations of said district, including the payment and retirement of outstanding bonds with interest thereon.

From and after the time of the filing of such assessment-roll of such district with the auditor of any county the taxes therein enumerated, levied and assessed, shall be regarded and treated as are the other taxes of said county or the school districts thereof, and the same shall be included in and considered a part of such taxes and the same shall become delinquent at the same time and in the same manner as such other taxes, and with respect to any delinquency or delinquent notices the same shall become delinquent and notice thereof shall be published with and at the same time and in the same manner as other delinquent taxes, and the same shall be similarly treated for all purposes of notice and sale thereof for such delinquent taxes, and shall be subject to redemption from such delinquent district taxes at the same time and in the same manner and through the same officials as are such other taxes. And any and all charges and penalties in connection with such delinquency and interest thereon and penalties in connection therewith shall be similarly charged and collected, and the amounts so collected on account of any such delinquent taxes or interest or penalties thereon shall be received by the county treasurer and paid over to the state treasurer in the same manner as is hereinabove provided, and in the event of the sale of any property for delinquent taxes of such counties or other delinquent taxes, said district taxes shall be included therein and said property shall be sold therefor in connection with and including such other taxes, and upon a redemption thereof or upon a sale of said lands the said district taxes shall be included therein and together with interest and penalties thereon the same shall be received and paid over to the county treasurer, and by him paid over to the state treasurer, as hereinbefore provided.

§ 16. Issue of bonds. Estimate of amount necessary. Special election. Evidence of ownership. Warrants. Bonds legal investments. Additional bond issue. At any time after the irrigation board shall have made the examinations, surveys, plans and estimates of cost for the storage, diversion and distribution of water, and for the other purposes enumerated in this act, and after the same has been entered in the minutes of said board and shall have also had assessed and apportioned upon the lands in said conservation district the charges and benefits and apportionments provided for in this act, and after such apportionment and assessment roll shall have been finally fixed and approved by the said board, and after the same has been entered in the minutes of the said board must, as soon as may be practicable, proceed and issue the bonds of said district for the purposes aforesaid.

The said board shall, in connection with the previous estimates made and adopted by it, estimate the amount of money necessary to be raised by such bond issue for the purposes of said district, as aforesaid, and shall ascertain and determine the same and enter its order to that effect in the minutes of said board. And whenever thereafter the construction fund has been exhausted by expenditures herein authorized, and it is necessary to raise additional money for such purposes, it shall be the duty of said board to estimate and determine the amount of money necessary to be raised for such additional purposes.

For the purposes of such bond issue, or additional bond issue, the said board shall be authorized to employ engineers and other assistants and make all such further examinations and estimates as may be necessary, to fix and determine such matters and the conclusion and estimates of said board shall be entered in its minutes. Said irrigation board shall by order entered in its records order a special election to be held at such places in said district as shall be designated by said irrigation board, and at least one such place shall be designated as a voting place in each unit of said conservation district at which said election there shall be submitted to the owners of land in said district the question of whether or not the bonds of said district shall be issued in the amount specified in the order of said board, and which amount shall be stated in the order for such special election. For all purposes of this act relating to signing petitions and voting at any election, and for all other purposes where the question of title to land claimed to be owned by such voter or owner is involved, the equalized assessment-roll for the year last preceding in each county wherein any land of the said district is situated, shall be sufficient evidence of ownership of lands in the district, and the certificate of the register of the United States land office in which the lands are situated or of the surveyor-general of the state of California, shall be sufficient evidence of possessory right in any lands in the district entered under the laws of the United States or of the state of California. Guardians, executors, administrators and other persons holding land in a trust capacity under appointment of court may sign any such petition and may vote without obtaining any special authority therefor. Said irrigation board shall at the time of calling the said election designate in its order the voting places at which said election shall be held and where votes shall be cast and shall designate three landholders of the district to act as a board of election at each voting place.

Notice of such special election must be given by the irrigation board by posting notice thereof in at least three public places in each unit of the district at least twenty days prior thereto, and also by publishing such notice once a week for the same length of time in some newspaper of general circulation, published in each county in which any portion of said district may be situated, or if there be no newspaper published in any one of such counties, then in each county wherein such newspaper is published; and such notice must specify the time and place of holding said election and the aggregate face value of bonds proposed to be issued and the names of three landholders of said district to act as a board of election at each polling place. Affidavits of the publication and posting of such notice must be filed with the clerk of said irrigation board.

At such election each owner of lands in the district shall be entitled to vote in person or by proxy, and shall have the right to cast one vote for each acre of real estate owned by him in the district, such ownership to be determined from the next preceding assessment-roll of the county or counties in which the lands of the district are situated and the irrigation board shall, prior to the election, cause to be prepared and certified and furnished to the board of election at each polling place, a true and correct copy of each of said next preceding assessment-rolls so far as such assessment-roll applies to any lands within such district, and shall likewise cause to be prepared and furnished lists certified by the register of the United States land office and the surveyor-general of the state of California respectively showing the lands within the district entered upon under the laws of the United States and the state of California respectively, which said list, so far as disclosed by the records of said officers, shall contain the names of the persons entitled to possessory rights therein and the quantity of land held by each of said persons by virtue of said rights. Said certified rolls and certified lists shall be used by the board of election in determining the number of votes each voter is entitled to cast. Executors, administrators, special administrators and guardians may cast the vote of the estates represented by them. No person shall vote by proxy at such election unless authority to cast such vote shall be evidenced by an instrument in writing, duly acknowledged and certified in the same manner as grants of real property and filed with the board of election.

The ballots cast at such election shall contain the words "bonds, yes" or "bonds, no" and also the name of the person casting the ballot, with the number of votes cast by him. A list of the ballots cast shall be made by the board of election containing the name of each voter, and, if the ballots be cast by proxy, the name of the person casting it and the number of votes cast by each and whether the same be cast for or against the issuing of bonds.

If any person appointed as a member of the board of election shall fail to attend at the opening of the polls, the voters then present, voting individually, may appoint in his place any landholder in the district. Each member of said board of election must, before entering upon his duties, take and subscribe an official oath, to faithfully perform his duties as an officer of such election, which oath may be administered by an officer authorized to administer oaths, or by a landholder in the district.

The polls shall be kept open from ten o'clock A. M. of the day of election until five o'clock P. M. of that day.

At the close of the polls the board of election shall at once proceed to canvass the votes and declare the result, and shall forward a certificate showing such result and the number of votes cast for and against the issuing of the bonds to the irrigation board and shall also deliver to the said irrigation board all ballots cast at such election and all documents and papers used at such election.

Said irrigation board shall, upon the receipt of such canvass and declaration of the result from the said board of election, proceed to examine the same and shall ascertain and declare the result as shown by such canvass and declaration, and shall enter an order in its minutes that the said proposition for the issuance of said bonds has been carried or defeated, as the case may be.

Forthwith, upon the declaration of the result of said election by said irrigation board, the secretary of said board shall make a certified copy of the order of said board, declaring the result of said election, and shall forward said certified copy or copies to the recorder or recorders of the counties in which any land of said conservation district may be situated, and the same shall forthwith be filed and recorded in said recorder or recorders' office, and shall impart notice to all interested persons as to the result of said election.

Any person owning property within the said district, liable to assessment, may contest such election, by filing a written contest specifying the grounds of his objections thereto, with said irrigation board, said written contest to be filed within thirty days after the declaration of the result of said election by said irrigation board, and if no such contest and objections be filed within thirty days, no such contest and objections shall thereafter be received or filed. Such written contest shall specify the ground or grounds of contest to said election, and upon the filing of the same with said irrigation board shall expeditiously set the said contest for hearing, and shall have the right to postpone the hearing for such time as may be necessary, but not otherwise, and shall expeditiously hear and determine the same. For the purposes of such hearing the board may by subpoena, signed by the secretary, under its seal, compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of evidence. Disobedience of such subpoena or of any lawful order of the board in the premises shall constitute a contempt of the authority of the board punishable by the board in accordance with Title V of Part III, of the Code of Civil Procedure, and shall also constitute a misdemeanor under section one hundred sixty-six of the Penal Code. Said irrigation board shall, upon the conclusion of said hearing of said contest, proceed forthwith to enter its order and decision thereon. Such decision on the part of said irrigation board shall be final, conclusive and binding upon all parties interested as to validity and as to result of such election and shall be subject to review only in event suit is brought by the said district or by some person or corporation or association authorized to bring the same to determine the question of the validity of the said bond issue, and in the determination and adjudication of the question of the validity of said bond issue, as hereinafter specified, the court may review and consider the validity of said election for the issuance of said bonds, but in such action the certificate and determination of said irrigation board shall be received and accepted by the court as prima facie evidence of the result as to the validity of said election and the regularity of the canvassing, counting and return of the votes cast at said election. If a majority of the votes cast at such an election is in favor of the issuance of bonds, the irrigation board after canvassing the returns and declaring the result of said election shall cause bonds in the amount stated in the order for the election to be issued, executed and delivered to the state treasurer of the state of California. Said bonds shall be of the denomination of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars each; they shall be signed by the president of the irrigation board and attested by the secretary thereof, and shall be numbered consecutively in the order of their maturity, and shall bear interest at the rate not exceeding six per centum per annum, payable semi-annually on the first day of January and the first day of July in each year, at the office of said state treasurer, upon the presentation of the proper coupons therefor. Coupons for each installment of interest shall be attached to said bonds and shall bear the facsimile signature of the state treasurer of the state of California.

The principal of said bonds shall be made payable, by an order entered into the minutes of the irrigation board, upon the first day of July or the first day of January, and in such years as the irrigation board may prescribe. Said bonds shall be payable serially within forty years from their date in the manner following, to wit:

Not less than five per cent of the aggregate face value of the bonds issued shall be payable each year, beginning not later than the twentieth year from their date until the whole amount of said bonds have been paid.

Said irrigation board, subject to the provisions of this act, is authorized and empowered to take all such actions and make all such orders as may be necessary in connection with the issuance, sale and disposition of said bonds.

Form of bonds. Said bonds may be substantially in the following form:

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

No. —

(Name of district) Conservation District No. — for value received, hereby acknowledge itself indebted to and promises to pay to the holder hereof at the office of the state treasurer of the state of California, on the first day of —, 19—, the sum of $—, in gold coin of the United States of America, with interest thereon in like gold coin from date hereof until paid, at the rate of — per cent per annum, payable at the office of said treasurer semi-annually on the first day of January and the first day of July in each year on presentation and surrender of the interest coupons hereto attached. This bond is one of a series of — bonds of like tenor and effect, except as to denomination and maturity, numbered from — to —, inclusive, amounting in the aggregate to $—, issued in accordance with the California irrigation act, pursuant to an election held in said district on the — day of —, 19—, authorizing its issuance, and is based upon and secured by a lien upon and a valuation and apportionment levied on the land in said district and filed in the office of the state irrigation board on the — day of —, 19—. And the said district does hereby certify and declare that said election was duly called and held upon due notice, and the result thereof was duly canvassed and ascertained, in pursuance of and in strict conformity with the laws of the state of California applicable thereto, and that all of the acts and conditions and things required by law to be done precedent to and in the issue of said bonds have been done and have been performed in regular and in due form and in strict accordance with the provisions of the law authorizing the issuance of such district bonds.

In testimony whereof, the said conservation district, acting by and through the irrigation board of the state of California, has caused this bond to be signed by the president of said irrigation board, and attested by the secretary thereof, with his seal of office affixed, this — day of —, 19—.

By — —,
President of said board.

Attest: — —,
Secretary of said board.

And the interest coupon may be substantially in the following form:

No. — $—

The state treasurer of the state of California will pay to the holder hereof on the — day of —, 19—, at his office in the city of Sacramento, state of California, the sum of $— in gold coin of the United States out of the funds of — district — for interest on bond of said district numbered —.

State treasurer.

The state treasurer shall place the bonds prepared pursuant to this act to the credit of the district and the irrigation board may in its discretion direct the state treasurer to sell the whole or any designated number of said bonds for the best price obtainable therefor, but in no event for less than ninety per cent of the face value of said bonds and the accrued interest thereon. Before making a sale of said bonds, notice shall be given by the state treasurer by publication at least once a week for three weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the city of Sacramento, and also one or more papers in said district, that he will sell a specified amount of said bonds, and stating the day, hour and place of such sale, and asking sealed proposals for the purchase of said bonds, or any part thereof. At the time appointed the state treasurer shall open the bids and award the bonds to the highest responsible bidder. He may reject any and all bids. Any sale by the state treasurer and delivery of the bonds thereunder shall be conclusive evidence in favor of the purchaser and all subsequent holders of the bonds that such sale was made upon due authority and notice. The proceeds of sale of said bonds shall be placed in the state treasury to the credit of said district, and a proper record of such transaction shall be made upon his books. At any time after said bonds shall have been delivered to the state treasurer, an action may be commenced in the superior court of the county within which is situated the largest area of land within said district by the irrigation board in the name of the district or by any unit of said district or by any person owning property within the said district liable to assessment. Such action shall be brought and prosecuted against the lands in said district and all persons owning the same or interested therein, to have it determined as to whether or not said bonds when sold will be a legal obligation of such district. It shall be sufficient to describe said lands as all lands in the district (naming it) without a more specific description. The summons shall be published once a week for three weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county where the action is pending. Within thirty days after the first publication of summons any owner of land in such district, or any person interested, may appear and answer the complaint, which answer shall set forth the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of said bonds. The default of all defendants not so appearing may be entered. Such action shall be given precedence in hearing and trial over all other civil actions in such court and judgment rendered declaring such matter so contested either valid or invalid. Any party not in default may have the right to appeal to the supreme court within thirty days after entry of judgment and said appeal and the hearing thereof shall be expedited in said court. Judgment for the plaintiff in such proceedings shall be considered as a judgment in rem and shall be conclusive against said district and against all lands therein and all owners thereof and all other interested persons.

The irrigation board may draw warrants upon the state treasurer against the funds provided by sale of said bonds.

The money derived from the sale of any of said bonds shall be received by the state treasurer and shall by him be safely kept and placed to the credit of said district in a fund to be designated in the name of such district for the said district and may be drawn and expended upon warrants drawn against said fund as in this act provided.

Bonds of any district issued pursuant to the provisions of this act which are investigated and approved by any commission or officer now or hereafter authorized by the laws of this state to conduct such investigation and give such approval and by authority of which approval said bonds are declared to be legal investments for savings banks may be lawfully purchased or received in pledge for loans by banks, trust companies, guardians, executors, administrators and special administrators, or by any public officer or officers of this state, or of any county, city, city and county or other municipal or corporate body within the state having or holding funds which they are allowed by law to invest or loan.

If after said district has authorized the issuance and sale of a series of bonds under this act, it shall become necessary so to do, an additional bond issue or series of bonds may be authorized and sold and all proceedings shall be had and taken, and all procedure in connection with said second issue or series of bonds shall be had and taken in accordance with the provisions of this act as to the first issue of bonds; provided, that said second issue or series of bonds shall not be issued so as to in any manner interfere with the lien or security of the payment of the first issue of bonds, and said second issue or series of bonds shall, as to the lien thereof and as to the security of same, be subsequent and subordinate and subject to such first bond issue.

§ 17. Surveys, etc., of irrigation district. Estimates of costs. Assessments. Taxes. Surplus used in retiring bonds. Duty of auditor and tax collector. The irrigation board shall, upon the organization of any irrigation district as in this act provided, proceed to make or cause to be made, all necessary examinations, surveys, plans and estimates of cost for the storage, diversion and distribution of water and the generation of electric power in connection therewith, and the sale and distribution thereof as may be necessary or requisite to enable said board to ascertain and estimate the requirements and works necessary as aforesaid for the purposes of said irrigation district and the probable cost and expense thereof, and in that connection may use and adopt all previous estimates, surveys and reports it may have collected adapted to that purpose, and may employ all necessary engineers and other assistants for the accomplishment of said purposes, and the cost thereof shall be deemed a part of the expense of said project, and may issue warrants therefor and same shall bear interest from date of issue at the rate of six per cent per annum until paid, and shall be payable out of the funds of said district, and may be included in any bond issue authorized for the purposes of said district.

Such estimate as is above provided for shall be in such form as shall be approved by said irrigation board and shall be entered in the minutes of said board and shall constitute a part of the records of said board, and the same, or a copy thereof, certified by the secretary of said board, shall be admissible as evidence in any proceeding before any court, commission or tribunal of this state wherein the matters therein set forth shall be admissible in evidence.

Whenever, for any of the purposes of this act, the irrigation board shall deem it necessary for the purposes of said irrigation district, or the levying of an assessment upon the property therein, or the issuance of bonds by said irrigation district, said board shall appoint three commissioners for such purpose or purposes. Such commissioners shall have no interest in any land in the irrigation district, either directly or indirectly, and each commissioner before entering upon his duties shall make and subscribe an oath that he is not in any manner interested directly or indirectly in any land in said irrigation district, and that he will perform the duties of commissioner to the best of his ability. Thereupon said commissioners shall proceed to view and assess upon the land within said irrigation district a sum sufficient to cover said estimated amount and shall apportion the same according to the benefits which will accrue to each tract of land within said irrigation district, such benefits to be estimated according to the benefits which will accrue to each tract of land in such irrigation district by reason of the expenditure of said estimated sum, and shall estimate the same in gold coin of the United States.

Said commissioners shall prepare and certify a roll on which they shall state the name and address of the owner of each parcel of land in such irrigation district, or if the name or address of any owner is unknown, then that fact; also a description of each parcel of land by legal subdivisions or boundaries, and the total amount assessed against each parcel of land so described. No mistake in the name of the owner, or supposed owner of any parcel of land, shall invalidate the apportionment or assessment. A separate roll shall be made for the lands in each county where such irrigation district includes land in more than one county. When completed said roll or rolls shall be filed with the irrigation board and certified copies of the particular roll for each county shall be filed with the county recorder of any county in which any lands within said irrigation district may be, and each roll shall be open for inspection by the public for at least thirty days.

The irrigation board shall appoint a time and place not less than thirty days after said roll has been filed with said recorder or recorders when and where it will meet, within the county in which the greater portion of said irrigation district is situated for the purpose of hearing objection to said assessment and the apportionment thereof and notice of such hearing shall be published at least once a week for two successive weeks in some newspaper published in each county in which any lands within said irrigation district may be. At any time before or at the original date of such hearing, any person interested in any real estate upon which any charge has been apportioned and assessed, may file in the office of the secretary of said irrigation board written objections thereto, stating the grounds of such objections, which said statements shall be verified by the affidavit of such person or some other person who is familiar with the facts. Said irrigation board may postpone such hearing from time to time. At such hearing the irrigation board shall hear such evidence as may be offered touching the correctness of such assessment or the manner of its apportionment and may modify or amend the same and may reapportion all or any part of the entire assessment. No assessment or apportionment shall be increased except upon the hearing of objections thereto or after personal notice or notice by mail to the owner of the land upon which said increase is made. Said irrigation board must make and enter in its minutes an order approving said assessment and apportionment as finally fixed, and the decision of said irrigation board shall be final, and thereafter said assessment and apportionment shall be conclusive evidence of the validity of said assessment and apportionment, and no action or defense shall ever be maintained attacking the same in any respect. And the records of said irrigation board, or a copy thereof certified by its secretary, shall be received in evidence in all or any of the courts of this state, or before any board or tribunal authorized to hear or consider any matter wherein the same shall be admissible as evidence. No change shall be made in said assessment or apportionment after the consideration, approval and fixing thereof by said irrigation board and all assessments upon the property of said irrigation district thereafter shall be levied in accordance therewith and consistent with the apportionment of benefits therein provided for and fixed, and if any assessments are called for or required in addition to the original amount estimated and apportioned for the purposes of said irrigation district, such additional amount shall be assessed, levied and raised in accordance with said apportionment and assessment of benefits so fixed in the first instance by said irrigation board. A certified copy of such assessment and apportionment roll as finally approved shall be filed in the office of the county recorder of each county in which any land within said irrigation district is situated. Such assessment and apportionment shall thereafter constitute a first lien upon the land affected thereby until the full amount thereof is paid or until all bonds of the irrigation district issued thereon, together with the accrued interest, shall have been fully paid. The said irrigation board shall on the first Tuesday in May following the fixing and approval of said assessment and apportionment therein provided for, and annually thereafter on said date, levy an assessment, sufficient to raise the annual interest on the outstanding bonds of said irrigation district and in any year in which any bonds shall fall due must increase such assessment to an amount sufficient to pay the principal of the outstanding bonds as they mature; also sufficient to pay in full all sums that may become due from the irrigation district before the time of collection of the next annual assessment, including an amount sufficient to pay in full the amount of any contract or obligation of the irrigation district which may come due during said year or may have been reduced to judgment, and to provide for and maintain a fund out of which the current and contingent obligations of said irrigation district can be paid in cash as they mature. In addition to the amounts estimated as necessary for the purposes aforesaid, a further levy of fifteen per cent additional shall be included and levied for the purposes of meeting any additional amounts that may be required on account of delinquencies and to insure the payment of all of the bonded indebtedness, including the interest thereon and other obligations of said irrigation district at maturity. Whenever there is a surplus in the funds of said district over and above all requirements as herein specified for the payment of the bonded indebtedness and interest thereon and accrued obligations of said irrigation district, such a surplus may be used and applied in retiring the outstanding bonds or any thereof of said irrigation district. The secretary of the irrigation board must compute and enter in a separate column of the assessment book the respective sums in dollars and cents to be paid as an assessment upon the property therein enumerated. In so doing, said secretary shall enter the names of the owners of such lands and the descriptions thereof in accordance with the last assessment-roll of the county in which the said lands are situated. Such assessment must be so levied and computed as to be in accordance with the apportionment and assessment of benefits herein provided for and so that all lands within said irrigation district shall be assessed and required to pay in accordance therewith.

The secretary of said board shall forthwith deliver a certified copy of that portion of said assessment so directed to be entered by him, so far as it applies or appertains to any land within any county situated within said irrigation district to the county auditor of such county, and such auditor shall accept and receipt for the same, and thereupon it shall be the duty of said auditor to include said assessment as an assessment against each parcel or tract of land therein described. It shall be the duty of said auditor to examine and ascertain as to any errors or discrepancies that may exist in said roll as to the ownership of or the descriptions of land as applied to any owner or owners thereof as compared with the assessment-roll of the said county for such year, and if any such difference or discrepancies are found, it shall be the duty of said auditor to correct the same accordingly so that the said roll as to ownerships and descriptions of land and assessments thereof shall correspond to the assessment-roll of said county and for such year. And it shall be his duty to audit, enter and certify the same to the tax collector of said county for collection in the same manner and form as county, school district and other taxes are included and certified by him to such tax collector, and all such assessments shall constitute a first lien upon the lands affected thereby as hereinbefore provided.

The board of supervisors is hereby authorized and empowered to employ what extra clerical force is necessary to perform the additional duties herein prescribed for the auditor. Said extra clerks shall receive as compensation for the work herein provided a per diem not to exceed five dollars which shall be paid by the districts operating under the provisions of this act in proportion to the amount of work done for each and it shall be the duty of the clerk of said board to issue warrants payable to such clerks employed as herein provided out of the funds of the districts, upon the presentation of a verified demand, approved by the auditor and the board of supervisors.

Upon receipt of the same from the auditor of such county it shall be the duty of the tax collector of said county to include the same as a separate entry and charge against the land therein described and to collect the same with the county, school district and other taxes so required to be collected by such county tax collector and to keep and deposit such irrigation district taxes in a separate fund, and when the same is collected it shall be the duty of such tax collector to pay the same over to the treasurer of such county at the same time and in the same manner as other taxes collected by him are paid over to such treasurer, and it shall be the duty of such treasurer to receive the same as other taxes are received by him and after receipt thereof to keep the same in a separate fund and upon receipt of same, or any part thereof, it shall be the duty of such county treasurer within thirty days thereafter to pay the same and all thereof to the treasurer of the state of California, who shall receive and keep the same and deposit the same in a separate fund to the credit of the said district, and to be paid out by him upon the order and approval of the said irrigation board.

All moneys received under contracts, leases or other arrangements by such irrigation district from any canal companies, mutual or other water companies, reclamation districts, or from any corporations, individuals, or other sources not herein otherwise provided for, shall be collected by said irrigation board and by it deposited with the state treasurer, and thereafter to be disbursed as provided as to funds of such irrigation district under the order and direction of such irrigation board for the purposes and obligations of said irrigation district, including the payment and retirement of outstanding bonds with interest thereon.

From and after the time of the filing of such assessment-roll of such irrigation district with the auditor of any county the taxes therein enumerated, levied and assessed, shall be regarded and treated as are the other taxes of said county or the school districts thereof and the same shall be included in and considered a part of such taxes and the same shall become delinquent at the same time and in the same manner as such other taxes, and with respect to any delinquency or delinquent notices the same shall become delinquent and notice thereof shall be published with and at the same time and in the same manner as other delinquent taxes and the same shall be similarly treated for all purposes of notice and sale thereof for such delinquent taxes, and shall be subject to redemption from such delinquent irrigation district taxes at the same time and in the same manner and through the same officials as are such other taxes. And any and all charges and penalties in connection therewith shall be similarly charged and collected, and the amounts so collected on account of any such delinquent taxes or interest or penalties thereon shall be received by the county treasurer and paid over to the state treasurer in the same manner as is hereinabove provided, and in the event of the sale of any property for delinquent taxes of such counties or other delinquent taxes, said irrigation district taxes shall be included therein and said property shall be sold therefor in connection with and including such other taxes, and upon a redemption thereof or upon a sale of said lands the said irrigation district taxes shall be included therein and together with interest and penalties thereon the same shall be received and paid over to the county treasurer, and by him paid over to the state treasurer, as hereinbefore provided.

§ 17a. Defraying expenses before making assessment. Ascertainment of expenses. Upon the organization of an irrigation district hereunder and for the purpose of defraying the expenses of such organization, and for any other purposes of this act, prior to the making of the assessment provided for in section seventeen, the directors may incur an indebtedness not exceeding one-half as many dollars as there are acres in the district, and upon the certification thereof to the irrigation board, such board shall cause warrants to issue therefor bearing interest at a rate to be fixed by the board of directors, not to exceed six per centum per annum, and thereafter it shall be the duty of the irrigation board to levy an assessment sufficient to pay said warrants upon all of the lands within the district, in the same manner and at the same time, so far as possible, as other assessments are provided to be levied (except as to the appointment of commissioners). Said assessment shall be ascertained by dividing the number of dollars due or to become due upon the warrants which have been issued by the number of acres in the district, and assessing to each acre the result so obtained. Such assessment-roll shall be prepared and delivered to the county auditor or auditors by the secretary of the irrigation board as provided in section seventeen, and the said amount shall be collected by the tax collector of the county in the same manner as is provided for the collection of other assessments levied by the district.

Where an irrigation district is organized after the first Tuesday in May of any year, the irrigation board shall nevertheless, at the request of the board of directors of said district, cause an assessment to be levied payable at the same time as if levied prior to the first Tuesday in May as in this section provided, of an amount sufficient to defray the expenses of organization and other expenses of the district prior to the levying of the assessment provided for in section seventeen, not, however, to exceed the limit in this section specified.

§ 18. Issue of bonds. Estimate of amount necessary. Examination by engineer. Elections. Sale of bonds. Bonds as investment. Determining validity. Additional bond issue. At any time after the irrigation board shall have made the examinations, surveys, plans and estimates of cost for the storage, diversion and distribution of water, and for the other purposes enumerated in this act, and after the same has been entered in the minutes of said board and shall have also had assessed and apportioned upon the lands in any irrigation district organized under the provision of this act the charges and benefits and apportionments provided for in this act, and after such apportionment and assessment roll shall have been finally fixed and approved by the said board, and after the same has been entered in the minutes of the said board must, as soon as may be practicable, proceed and issue the bonds of said irrigation district for the purposes aforesaid.

The said board shall, in connection with the previous estimates made and adopted by it, estimate the amount of money necessary to be raised by such bond issue for the purposes of said irrigation district, as aforesaid, and shall ascertain and determine the same and enter its order to that effect in the minutes of said board. And whenever thereafter the construction fund of said irrigation district has been exhausted by expenditures herein authorized, and it is necessary to raise additional money for such purposes, it shall be the duty of said board to estimate and determine the amount of money necessary to be raised for such additional purposes.

For the purposes of such bond issue, or additional bond issue, the said board shall be authorized to employ engineers and other assistants and make all such further examinations and estimates as may be necessary, to fix and determine such matters and the conclusion and estimates of said board shall be entered in its minutes. Said irrigation board shall by order entered in its records order a special election to be held at such place or places in said irrigation district as shall be designated by said irrigation board, at which said election there shall be submitted to the owners of land in said irrigation district the question whether or not the bonds of said district shall be issued in the amount specified in the order of said board, and which amount shall be stated in the order for such special election. For all purposes of this act relating to signing petitions and voting at any election, and for all other purposes where the question of title to land claimed to be owned by such voter or owner is involved, the equalized assessment-roll for the year last preceding in each county wherein any land of the said irrigation district is situated, shall be sufficient evidence of ownership of lands in the irrigation district. Guardians, executors, administrators and other persons holding land in a trust capacity under appointment of court may vote without obtaining any special authority therefor. Said irrigation board shall at the time of calling the said election designate in its order the voting place or places at which said election shall be held and where votes shall be cast and shall designate three landholders of the irrigation district to act as a board of election at each voting place.

Notice of such special election must be given by the irrigation board by posting notice thereof in at least three public places in such irrigation district at least twenty days prior thereto, and also by publishing such notice once a week for the same length of time in some newspaper of general circulation, published in each county in which any portion of said irrigation district may be situated, or if there be no newspaper published in any one of such counties, then in each county wherein such newspaper is published; and such notice must specify the time and place of holding said election and the aggregate face value of bonds proposed to be issued and the names of three landholders of said irrigation district to act as a board of election at each polling place. Affidavits of the publication and posting of such notice must be filed with the secretary of said irrigation board.

At such election each owner of lands in the district shall be entitled to vote in person or by proxy, and shall have the right to cast one vote for each acre of real estate owned by him in the irrigation district, such ownership to be determined from the next preceding assessment-roll of the county or counties in which the lands of the irrigation district are situated and the irrigation board shall, prior to the election, cause to be prepared and certified and furnished to the board of election at each polling place, a true and correct copy of each of said next preceding assessment-rolls so far as such assessment-roll applies to any lands within such irrigation district, which said certified roll shall be used by the board of election in determining the number of votes each voter is entitled to cast. Executors, administrators, special administrators and guardians may cast the vote of the estates represented by them. No person shall vote by proxy at such election unless authority to cast such vote shall be evidenced by an instrument in writing, duly acknowledged and certified in the same manner as grants of real property and filed with the board of election.

The ballots cast at such election shall contain the words, "bonds, yes" or "bonds, no" and also the name of the person casting the ballot, with the number of votes cast by him. A list of the ballots cast shall be made by the board of election containing the name of each voter, and, if the ballots be cast by proxy, the name of the person casting it and the number of votes cast by each and whether the same be cast for or against the issuing of bonds.

If any person appointed as a member of the board of election shall fail to attend at the opening of the polls, the voters then present, voting individually, may appoint in his place any landholder in the irrigation district. Each member of said board of election must, before entering upon his duties, take and subscribe an official oath, to faithfully perform his duties as an officer of such election, which oath may be administered by any officer authorized to administer oaths, or by a landholder in the irrigation district.

The polls shall be kept open from ten o'clock A. M. of the day of election until five o'clock P. M. of that day.

At the close of the polls the board of election shall at once proceed to canvass the votes and declare the result and shall forward a certificate showing such result and the number of votes cast for and against the issuing of the bonds to the irrigation board and shall also deliver to the said irrigation board all ballots cast at such election and all documents and papers used at such election.

Said irrigation board shall, upon the receipt of such canvass and declaration of the result from the said board of election, proceed to examine the same and shall ascertain and declare the result as shown by such canvass and declaration, and shall enter an order in its minutes that the said proposition for the issuance of said bonds has been carried or defeated, as the case may be.

Forthwith, upon the declaration of the result of said election by said irrigation board, the secretary of said board shall make a certified copy of the order of said board, declaring the result of said election, and shall forward said certified copy or copies to the recorder or recorders of the counties in which any land of said irrigation district may be situated, and the same shall forthwith be filed and recorded in said recorder or recorders' office, and shall impart notice to all interested persons as to the result of said election.

Any person owning property within the said irrigation district, liable to assessment, may contest such election, by filing a written contest specifying the grounds of his objections thereto, with said irrigation board, said written contest to be filed within thirty days after the declaration of the result of said election by said irrigation board, and if no such contest and objections be filed within thirty days, no such contest and objections shall thereafter be received or filed. Such written contest shall specify the ground or grounds of contest to said election, and upon the filing of the same with said irrigation board it shall expeditiously set the said contest for hearing, and shall have the right to postpone the hearing for such time as may be necessary, but not otherwise, and shall expeditiously hear and determine the same. For the purposes of such hearing the board may by subpoena signed by the secretary under its seal compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of evidence. Disobedience of such subpoena or of any lawful order of the board in the premises shall constitute a contempt of the authority of the board punishable by the board in accordance with Title V of Part III of the Code of Civil Procedure, and shall also constitute a misdemeanor under section one hundred sixty-six of the Penal Code. Said irrigation board shall, upon the conclusion of said hearing of said contest, proceed forthwith to enter its order and decision thereon. Such decision on the part of said irrigation board shall be final, conclusive and binding upon all parties interested as to validity and as to result of such election and shall be subject to review only in the event suit is brought by the said irrigation district or by some person or corporation or association authorized to bring the same to determine the question of the validity of the said bond issue, and in the determination and adjudication of the question of the validity of said bond issue, as hereinafter specified, the court may review and consider the validity of said election for the issuance of said bonds, but in such action the certificate and determination of said irrigation board shall be received and accepted by the court as prima facie evidence of the result as to the validity of said election and the regularity of the canvassing, counting and return of the votes cast at said election. If a majority of the votes cast at such an election is in favor of the issuance of bonds, the irrigation board shall after canvassing the returns and declaring the result of said election cause bonds of said irrigation district in the amount stated in the order for the election to be issued, executed and delivered to the state treasurer of the state of California. Said bonds shall be of the denomination of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars each; they shall be signed by the president of the irrigation board and attested by the secretary thereof, and shall be numbered consecutively in the order of their maturity, and shall bear interest at the rate not exceeding six per centum per annum, payable semi-annually on the first day of January and the first day of July in each year, at the office of said state treasurer, upon the presentation of the proper coupons therefor. Coupons for each installment of interest shall be attached to said bonds and shall bear the facsimile signature of the state treasurer of the state of California.

The principal of said bonds shall be made payable, by an order entered into the minutes of the irrigation board, upon the first day of July or the first day of January, and in such years as the irrigation board may prescribe. Said bonds shall be payable serially within forty years from their date in the manner following, to wit:

Not less than five per cent of the aggregate face value of the bonds issued shall be payable each year, beginning not later than the twentieth year from their date until the whole amount of said bonds have been paid.

Said irrigation board, subject to the provisions of this act, is authorized and empowered to take all such actions and make all such orders as may be necessary in connection with the issuance, sale and disposition of said bonds.

Said bonds may be substantially in the following form:

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

No. —.

Name of district—.

Irrigation District —.

Organized under California irrigation act of 1919.

(Name of district) Irrigation District, for value received, hereby acknowledges itself indebted to and promises to pay to the holder hereof at the office of the state treasurer of the state of California, on the first day of —, 19—, the sum of $—, in gold coin of the United States of America, with interest thereon in like gold coin from date hereof until paid, at the rate of — per cent per annum, payable at the office of said treasurer semi-annually on the first day of January and the first day of July in each year on presentation and surrender of the interest coupons hereto attached. This bond is one of a series of — bonds of like tenor and effect, except as to denomination and maturity, numbered from — to — inclusive, amounting in the aggregate to $— issued in accordance with the California irrigation act of 1919, pursuant to an election held in said district on the — day of —, 19—, authorizing its issuance and is based upon and secured by a lien upon and a valuation and apportionment levied on the land in said irrigation district and filed in the office of the state irrigation board on the — day of —, 19—; and the said district does hereby certify and declare that said election was duly called and held upon due notice, and the result thereof was duly canvassed and ascertained, in pursuance of and in strict conformity with the laws of the state of California applicable thereto, and that all of the acts and conditions and things required by law to be done precedent to and in the issue of said bonds have been done and have been performed in regular and in due form and in strict accordance with the provisions of the law authorizing the issuance of such irrigation district bonds.

In testimony whereof, the said irrigation district, acting by and through the irrigation board of the state of California, has caused this bond to be signed by the president of said irrigation board, and attested by the secretary thereof, with his seal of office affixed, this — day of —, 19—.

By — —,
President of said board.

Attest: — —,

Secretary of said board.

And the interest coupon may be substantially in the following form:

No. —.

The state treasurer of the state of California will pay to the holder hereof on the — day of —, 19—, at his office in the city of Sacramento, state of California, the sum of $— in gold coin of the United States out of the funds of — irrigation district — for interest on bond of said irrigation district numbered —.

State treasurer.

The state treasurer shall place the bonds prepared pursuant to this act to the credit of the irrigation district and the irrigation board may in its discretion direct the state treasurer to sell the whole or any designated number of said bonds for the best price obtainable therefor, but in no event for less than ninety per cent of the face value of said bonds and the accrued interest thereon. Before making a sale of said bonds, notice shall be given by the state treasurer by publication at least once a week for three weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the city of Sacramento, and also one or more papers in the county in which the greater portion of said irrigation district is situated, that he will sell a specified amount of said bonds, and stating the day, hour and place of such sale, and asking sealed proposals for the purchase of said bonds, or any part thereof. At the time appointed the state treasurer shall open the bids and award the bonds to the highest responsible bidder. He may reject any and all bids. Any sale by the state treasurer and delivery of the bonds thereunder shall be conclusive evidence in favor of the purchaser and all subsequent holders of the bonds that such sale was made upon due authority and notice. The proceeds of sale of said bonds shall be placed in the state treasury to the credit of said irrigation district, and a proper record of such transaction shall be made upon his books. At any time after said bonds shall have been delivered to the state treasurer, an action may be commenced in the superior court of the county within which is situated the largest area of land within said irrigation district by the irrigation board in the name of the irrigation district or by any person owning property within the said irrigation district liable to assessment. Such action shall be brought and prosecuted against the lands in said irrigation district and all persons owning the same or interested therein, to have it determined as to whether or not said bonds when sold will be a legal obligation of such irrigation district. It shall be sufficient to describe said lands as all lands in the irrigation district (naming it) without a more specific description. The summons shall be published once a week for three weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county where the action is pending. Within thirty days after the first publication of summons any owner of land in such irrigation district, or any person interested, may appear and answer the complaint, which answer shall set forth the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of said bonds. The default of all defendants not so appearing may be entered. Such action shall be given precedence in hearing and trial over all other civil actions in such court and judgment rendered declaring such matter so contested either valid or invalid. Any party not in default may have the right to appeal to the supreme court within thirty days after entry of judgment and said appeal and the hearing thereof shall be expedited in said court. Judgment for the plaintiff in such proceedings shall be considered as a judgment in rem and shall be conclusive against said district and against all lands therein and all owners thereof and all other interested persons.

The irrigation board may draw warrants upon the state treasurer against the funds provided by sale of said bonds.

The money derived from the sale of any of said bonds shall be received by the state treasurer and shall by him be safely kept and placed to the credit of said irrigation district in a fund to be designated in the name of such irrigation district for the said irrigation district and may be drawn and expended upon warrants drawn against said fund as in this act provided.

Bonds of any irrigation district issued pursuant to the provisions of this act which are investigated and approved by any commission or officer now or hereafter authorized by a law of this state to conduct such approval and by authority of which approval said bonds are declared to be legal investments for savings banks may be lawfully purchased or received in pledge for loans by banks, trust companies, guardians, executors, administrators and special administrators, or by any public officer or officers of this state, or of any county, city, city and county or other municipal or corporate body within the state having or holding funds which they are allowed by law to invest or loan.

If after said irrigation district has authorized the issuance and sale of a series of bonds under this act, it shall become necessary so to do an additional bond issue or series of bonds may be authorized and sold and all proceedings shall be had and taken, and all procedure in connection with said second issue or series of bonds shall be had and taken in accordance with the provisions of this act as to the first issue of bonds; provided, that said second issue or series of bonds shall not be issued so as to in any manner interfere with the lien or security of the payment of the first issue of bonds, and said second issue or series of bonds shall, as to the lien thereof and as to the security of same, be subsequent and subordinate and subject to such first bond issue.

§ 19. Not applicable to counties with charter or city and county. Nothing in this act contained shall affect, or apply to, any irrigation, protection, flood control, conservation, or other improvement district situated wholly or in part within any county which has adopted a charter pursuant to section seven and one-half of article eleven of the constitution of California, ratified and approved as provided therein, prior to June 4, 1915, or within any city and county; and said board shall have no power of jurisdiction within any of said districts or within such counties or city and county.

§ 20. Stats. 1917, p. 1068, repealed. Proceedings initiated under former acts. The California irrigation act, approved June 4, 1915, and chapter six hundred forty-six of the Statutes of 1917, approved May 28, 1917, amendatory thereof, are hereby repealed; but any petition circulated for signature pursuant to the provisions of said amendatory act and prior to the effective date of this act may be filed as though prepared pursuant to the provisions hereof, and any proceeding initiated under said amendatory act but not completed prior to the effective date of this act, may be completed hereunder, all proceedings subsequent to such effective date, however, to be in conformity with the provisions hereof; and any district organized under the provisions of the acts hereby repealed shall be subject in all respects to the provisions of this act; and provided, further, that such repeal shall not affect the tenure of office of the present members of the irrigation board and that neither such repeal nor anything in this act contained shall affect the right of said board to any funds heretofore appropriated for the use of said irrigation board, and all such funds heretofore appropriated shall be used by said board to the extent and for the purposes for which the same were appropriated.

An act to provide for the development of electrical power by irrigation districts.

§ 1. Irrigation districts may maintain electrical power plants. Any irrigation district heretofore organized or hereafter to be organized under the laws relating to such district may provide for the construction, operation, leasing and control of plants for the generation, distribution, sale, and lease of electrical energy, including sale to municipalities, corporations, public utility districts, or individuals, of electrical power so generated; and said district, subject however to the conditions in this section contained, may make special appropriations of water for power purposes, as required by law; provided, however, that any use of water for generating such electrical power or energy at any given time of the year, which use is in excess of the water appropriated and beneficially used for irrigation purposes by such district at said period of the year, shall be subject to all prior existing appropriations by any municipal corporation, who or which is proceeding in good faith in the expenditure of money and the construction of works designed to divert the water appropriated; and the officers, agents, and employees of such districts shall have the same powers, duties and liabilities respecting such power and the construction, repair, maintenance, management, and control thereof as they now have or may hereafter have respecting such irrigation or such irrigation districts. The California irrigation district act shall be so construed, applied and enforced as to apply to such power as well as such irrigation.

§ 2. Management of works. The board of directors of any irrigation district and its officers, agents, and employees, shall do all necessary and proper acts for the construction, repair, maintenance, and management of such electrical power works for such purposes.

§ 3. Bonds. In case funds are not otherwise available the irrigation district may issue bonds for such purpose and all of the provisions of the California irrigation district act, relating to the issuance of bonds for other purposes in so far as the same are applicable to said bonds shall apply.

§ 4. Repealed. All acts or parts of acts in conflict with any of the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

ACT 1732o.

An act to authorize irrigation districts to refund outstanding bonded indebtedness.

§ 1. Refunding bonded indebtedness of irrigation district. The board of directors of any irrigation district organized or existing under or subject to the provisions of the California irrigation district act approved March 31, 1897, as amended, providing for the organization and government of irrigation districts, that has an outstanding indebtedness evidenced by bonds lawfully issued prior to January 1, 1913, may, by a majority vote of the members of the board, submit to the electors of the irrigation district at any election the proposition of the issuance of new bonds for the purpose of refunding the bonds outstanding, as the same become due. Such election shall be held, and the vote thereon shall be the same as provided by the California irrigation district act for the issuance of other irrigation district bonds; provided, no petition therefor need be circulated or signed; and provided, further, that a majority of the votes of those voting on said proposition shall be sufficient to carry the same. Such bonds shall bear interest at a rate the same as or lower than the bonds to be refunded and no refunding bond shall have a later date of maturity than twenty years from the date of its issue.

§ 2. Form. Sale. The refunding bonds shall be issued in substantially the manner and in the form required by law for the issuance of other bonds of the district. These bonds may be sold from time to time in the same manner as other bonds of the district, or, if the directors of the district and the holders of any of the bonds reaching maturity so elect, they may be exchanged in payment of the bonds so maturing as such bonds mature.

§ 3. Tax levy to pay interest and principal. The board of directors shall cause to be assessed and levied each year upon the assessable property in the district, in addition to the levy authorized for other purposes, a sufficient sum to pay the interest on or any principal of such refunding bonds in the same manner as is provided in the California irrigation district act in the case of other bonds.

An act to recognize and declare valid all the proceedings in the Jacinto irrigation district.

ACT 1732q.

An act declaring the conditions upon which an irrigation district may be dissolved, prescribing the procedure therefor, and the winding up of the affairs of the district when dissolved.

§ 1. Provisions for dissolution of irrigation districts. Any irrigation district organized under any of the laws of the state of California, providing for the organization of irrigation districts, which—

(a) Has been organized more than three years and has failed and neglected to secure an adequate water supply and which does not have a reasonable prospect of securing an adequate water supply for the lands of the district, and has failed and neglected to obtain the approval of the state water commission of the water supply of said district and has failed and neglected to obtain the approval of the state engineer of the plans of said district, and has failed and neglected to construct or acquire a system of works or the financing thereof, and has failed and neglected to obtain the approval of the irrigation district bond commission; or

(b) Has been organized for more than ten years and for more than five years after the construction or acquisition of a system of works has failed and neglected to maintain such works, or for five years or more after such works have been constructed or acquired has failed and neglected to supply or make available, water for the irrigation of more than ten per cent of the lands of the district;

May be dissolved and annulled by the superior court of the county in which said district is located by proceedings in an action brought by the attorney general in the name of the people of the state of California, upon his own information. Before such an action can be commenced in the courts the attorney general shall publish for two consecutive weeks in some newspaper published in the county in which the greater portion of the district is located, a notice to all parties in interest that it is his intention to begin such action for the dissolution of said district. The rules of pleading and practice in the Code of Civil Procedure not inconsistent with the provisions of this act are made applicable to the proceedings herein provided.

§ 2. Investigation by state engineer. Access to records. Report. Before the trial of the case the court may direct the state engineer to investigate all the affairs of said district; the water supply that may be obtained without prohibitive cost; the feasibility and practicability of irrigating all or a reasonable amount of the lands of said district; and all other matters which the court may direct, or the state engineer may deem pertinent as affecting the possible success or failure of the district as an irrigation enterprise and which may be necessary to enable the court to determine the question of dissolution.

For the purpose of making such investigation, the state engineer shall have access to all the records of the district, and all officers and employees and other persons in any manner connected with or employed by said district shall furnish such information as he may require which has already been obtained or determined, including maps, plans, estimates, field-notes, and other data.

The state engineer shall report his findings and conclusions to the superior court as soon as practicable, but within ninety days unless a longer time be granted him by the court, but in no case to extend beyond the period of one hundred eighty days in all.

§ 3. Upon dissolution county officers shall be ex-officio officers of district. Sale of property. Funds remaining after indebtedness is paid. Upon final judgment of dissolution in such action, the district in question shall be deemed dissolved and annulled. The court shall determine the amount of indebtedness outstanding against said district, including the costs of the court action herein provided for, and thereafter the appropriate county officers shall act as ex-officio officers of the district; the records and papers of every kind belonging to the district shall be turned over to the proper county officers. The county treasurer shall perform the duties of the district treasurer; the county tax collector shall perform the duties of the district tax collector; the county assessor shall perform the duties of the district assessor; the county clerk shall perform the duties of the secretary of the board of directors; the board of supervisors shall perform the duties of the board of directors; they shall proceed to levy and collect such additional taxes as may be necessary upon the lands embraced within such district in the same manner and with the same procedure for nonpayment that county taxes are levied and collected for the purpose of paying such outstanding indebtedness not provided for by previous assessments. All property of every kind belonging to the district, including lands sold to the district for taxes, shall be sold as the court may direct and the proceeds together with all money on hand shall be used to pay off the indebtedness. All funds remaining after all outstanding indebtedness has been paid shall be apportioned and be paid to the assessment payers according to the last assessment-roll.

§ 4. Indebtedness no bar to dissolution. The outstanding indebtedness, whether of bonds, warrants, or otherwise, of any irrigation district shall not operate as a bar to dissolution by the superior court when provision is made for the payment of such indebtedness in the manner provided in section three of this act.

§ 5. Intent of act. This act is designed to provide an alternative method for the dissolution of irrigation districts and shall not be deemed to repeal any other statute or statutes.

TITLE 273.

JUTE GOODS.

ACT 1766.

An act to authorize and empower the state board of prison directors to insure jute and jute goods against either fire or marine loss and to pay the cost of such insurance from the revolving fund for the purchase of jute.

Amended 1919, p. 175.

The title of the act was amended in 1919 to read as follows: "An act to authorize and empower the state board of prison directors to insure jute, jute goods, and other prison made goods and materials for the manufacture of the same, against either fire or marine loss and to pay the cost of such insurance from the revolving fund for the purchase of jute and from the manufacturing revolving fund."

The body of the act was amended as follows:

§ 1. Insurance of jute goods. The state board of prison directors is hereby authorized and empowered to insure from time to time against fire or marine loss, all jute and jute goods owned by the state, in such amounts as it may deem proper. The cost of such insurance shall be paid from the revolving fund for the purchase of jute. [Amendment approved April 30, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 175.]

§ 2. Insurance of other prison made goods. The state board of prison directors is hereby authorized to insure from time to time against fire or marine loss, all furniture, shoes, clothing or other articles manufactured at San Quentin prison and the materials from which the same are made, in such amounts as it may deem proper. The cost of such insurance shall be paid from the manufacturing revolving fund. [Amendment approved April 30, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 175.]

TITLE 274.

JUVENILE COURT.

ACT 1770a.

An act to be known as the juvenile court law, and concerning persons under the age of twenty-one years; and in certain cases providing for their care, custody and maintenance; providing for the probationary treatment of such persons, and for the commitment of such persons to the Whittier State School and the Preston School of Industry, the California School for Girls, and other institutions; establishing probation officers and a probation committee to deal with such persons and fixing the salary thereof; providing for the establishment of detention homes for such persons; fixing the method of procedure and treatment or commitment where crimes have been committed by such persons; providing for the punishment of those guilty of offenses with reference to such persons, and defining such crimes; and repealing the juvenile court law approved March eighth, nineteen hundred and nine, as amended by an act approved April fifth, nineteen hundred and eleven, and as amended by an act approved June sixteenth, nineteen hundred and thirteen, and all amendments thereof and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith.

Amended 1917, pp. 1002, 1022; 1919, pp. 476, 756, 1298.

The amendments of 1917 and 1919 follow:

§ 11. Support of ward. Paid to probation officer. Extent of parents' control. Duty of probation officer. Any order providing for the care and custody of a ward of the juvenile court may provide that the expense of support and maintenance of said ward shall be paid by the parent, parents, guardian of said ward or other person liable therefor, after citation thereto, or from the earnings, property or estate of said ward, and in such case shall state the amount to be so paid. If it is found, however, that the parent, parents, guardian of said ward, or other person liable therefor, are unable to pay or that the earnings, property, or estate, of said ward is insufficient to pay the whole expense of support and maintenance of said ward, the court may direct such additional amount as may be necessary for the maintenance and support of said ward to be paid from the county treasury of the county for the support and maintenance of said ward, the amount so ordered to be paid from the treasury of said county not to exceed, in the case of any one ward, the sum of twenty dollars in any one month. No order for payment shall be made in a sum in excess of the actual cost of supporting and maintaining said ward. No order for the payment of all or part of the expense of support and maintenance of a ward of the juvenile court from the county treasury shall be effective for more than six months, and upon said original and all subsequent hearings the case shall be continued on the calendar, but in no instance to exceed six months.

The judge of the juvenile court may provide that the amount, or any part of the amount, so paid by parents, parent, guardian or other person liable therefor or from the earnings, property or estate of said ward, shall be paid to the probation officer, to be by him paid as the court shall direct, first, to reimburse the person, association or institution that under court order is caring for and maintaining said ward and after such reimbursement to reimburse the county. For such purpose said probation officer shall keep suitable books and accounts and shall give and keep suitable receipts and vouchers, and if such funds shall be by said probation officer kept in a bank, said bank shall be designated by the judge of said court. The auditor of said county annually in the month of January shall audit such books and accounts and shall make a report thereon to the judge of said court and to the supervisors of such county prior to the thirty-first day of said month of January.

In all cases the court may determine whether or not the parent, parents, or guardian shall exercise any control of said ward and shall define the extent thereof. Any disobedience or interference with the custody and control of said ward shall constitute a contempt of court.

It shall be the duty of the probation officer to see that such parent, guardian, or other person liable therefor, comply with such orders, or upon three months failure to make such payment to report such failure to said court. The court may thereafter set aside, change or modify any order herein provided for. [Amendment approved May 9, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 476.]

§ 13. Transfer of juvenile court cases. Order of transfer. Whenever a petition has been filed in the juvenile court of a county other than that of the residence of a person coming within any of the provisions of this act, or whenever, subsequent to the filing of a petition in the juvenile court of the county where said person resides, the residence of said person is changed to another county, the entire case may be transferred at any time to the juvenile court of the county wherein said person then resides, and such court must take jurisdiction of the case upon the filing with it of such order. The expense of the transfer of said person shall be borne by the parent, parents, or guardian of the person so transferred or shall be paid out of the earnings, property, or estate of said person, or if the parent, parents or guardian are unable to pay the same or if the earnings, property or estate of said person is insufficient to pay the same the court shall order the same to be paid from the county treasury of the county ordering the transfer. Whenever a case shall be transferred thereunder, the order of transfer shall recite (a) each and all the findings, orders or modification of orders that may have been made in said case, and (b) that said person resides in or has removed to the county to which said matter has been transferred and (c) to said order of transfer shall be attached a certified copy of the original petition in said matter. Such transfer shall be accompanied by a summary of all the facts in the possession of the court or probation officer covering the history of said person. [Amendment approved May 18, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 755.]

month, and eight assistant probation officers, one hundred forty dollars per month each. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1298.]

§ 19c. Probation officers in counties of third class. In counties of the third class there shall be one probation officer and ten assistant probation officers. The salaries of said officers shall be as follows: Probation officer, two hundred twenty-five dollars a month; one assistant at a salary of one hundred seventy-five dollars a month; one assistant at a salary of one hundred sixty dollars a month; one assistant at a salary of one hundred fifty dollars a month; one assistant at a salary of one hundred thirty-five dollars a month; three assistants at a salary of one hundred dollars a month each; two assistants at a salary of eighty-five dollars a month each; one assistant at a salary of seventy-five dollars a month; provided, however, that in the event an adult probation department is created in counties of the third class, from and after the creation of such department and the appointment of an adult probation officer or any deputy or assistant or like officer who shall relieve the probation officer of the adult probation work, the offices of assistant probation officer at a salary of one hundred seventy-five dollars a month and of assistant probation officer at a salary of one hundred sixty dollars a month shall cease and determine and be abolished in counties of this class. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1002.]

§ 19i. Ninth, etc., classes. In each of the counties of the ninth, twelfth, thirteenth, fifteenth, seventeenth, eighteenth, nineteenth, twenty-sixth, twenty-seventh, thirty-third and thirty-sixth class, there shall be one probation officer whose salary shall be one hundred dollars per month. In counties of the ninth class there shall be two assistant probation officers, whose salaries shall be as follows: One assistant probation officer, whose salary shall be seventy-five dollars per month and one assistant probation officer whose salary shall be fifty dollars per month. In counties of the twelfth class, there shall be one assistant probation officer whose salary shall be seventy-five dollars per month. In counties of the thirteenth class there shall be one assistant probation officer whose salary shall be twenty-five dollars per month. In counties of the eighteenth class there shall be four assistant probation officers whose salaries shall be twenty-five dollars per month each. In counties of the twenty-third class there shall be one assistant probation officer whose salary shall be fifty dollars per month. In counties of the twenty-sixth class there shall be one assistant probation officer, whose salary shall be sixty dollars per month; provided, that in counties of the twelfth class the probation officer shall, as a part of his duties, and without any additional compensation, except his necessary expenses, do all necessary work that the board of supervisors of said county may designate or require, in looking after the indigent and poor of said county. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1023.]

§ 19k. Eleventh, etc., classes. In each of the counties of the eleventh, fourteenth and thirtieth class there shall be one probation officer whose salary shall be one hundred twenty-five dollars per month; provided, that in the counties of the eleventh class there shall be an assistant probation officer, whose salary shall be seventy-five dollars per month; and provided, that in counties of the fourteenth class there shall be an assistant probation officer, whose salary shall be fifty dollars per month; and provided, further, that in counties of the thirteenth class the probation officer shall, as a part of his duties, and without any additional compensation, except his necessary expenses, do all necessary work that the board of supervisors of said county may designate or require, in looking after the indigent and poor of said county. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1024.]

§ 19l. Thirty-second class. In each of the counties of the thirty-second class there shall be one probation officer, whose salary shall be seventy-five dollars per month. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1024.]

§ 19ll. Twentieth class. In each of the counties of the twentieth class there shall be one probation officer, whose salary shall be one hundred dollars per month. [New section added May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1024.]

§ 19m. Thirty-ninth, etc., classes. In each of the counties of the thirty-ninth, fortieth and forty-second classes, there shall be one probation officer whose salary shall be fifty dollars per month. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1024.]

§ 19mm. Twenty-first class. In each of the counties of the twenty-first class there shall be one probation officer, whose salary shall be sixty-five dollars per month. [New section added May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1024.]

§ 19nn. Forty-third class. In each of the counties of the forty-third class there shall be one probation officer, whose salary shall be fifty dollars per month. [New section added May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1024.]

§ 190. Twenty-fifth class. In counties of the twenty-fifth class there shall be one probation officer whose salary shall be one hundred fifty dollars per month, and one assistant probation officer whose salary shall be seventy-five dollars per month. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1025.]

TITLE 276a.

KELP.

ACT 1782.

An act to regulate the taking and harvesting of kelp and other aquatic plants of the state of California by recognizing and declaring their ownership in the state of California and providing for the control thereof by the fish and game commissioners, and providing for a license tax upon all persons, firms or corporations engaged in the industry of taking or harvesting kelp or other aquatic plants, and providing for the collection and disbursement of the revenues derived therefrom, and providing for a privilege tax upon all kelp taken in the waters of this state, and providing for the protection of kelp-beds, and for the manner of taking kelp and other aquatic plants, and providing for hearings by the fish and game commissioners, and providing penalties for the violation of this act.

§ 1. Kelp state property. All kelp and other aquatic plants in the waters of the state are hereby declared to be the property of the state of California.

§ 2. Powers of board of fish and game commissioners. The board of fish and game commissioners of the state of California are hereby empowered to carry out the provisions of this act, and to make proper rules and regulations for the taking and harvesting of kelp, and the conservation of kelp and aquatic plants, and to see that the laws, rules and regulations with reference thereto are strictly enforced, and to issue all licenses herein provided for, and collect the fees therefor, and to collect all moneys due or to become due under this act.

§ 3. License to harvest kelp. Every person, firm or corporation, desiring to engage in taking or harvesting kelp or other aquatic plants for profit in the waters of this state must first obtain a license before engaging in such occupation.

§ 4. Term. Fee. Privilege tax. Licenses granting the privilege to take or harvest kelp in this state shall be issued and delivered upon application by the state board of fish and game commissioners, who shall prepare suitable licenses, which shall license the holder of such license to take or harvest kelp or other aquatic plants in this state for the term of one year from the date of the issuance of such license. All licenses shall be numbered consecutively, and shall contain blanks for the name of the licensee, and place of business, which information shall be furnished by the applicant to the board of fish and game commissioners. The license herein provided for shall be issued to such applicant upon payment of ten dollars and before such license is delivered to the applicant said license must be countersigned by the president of the board of fish and game commissioners, and in addition to such license fee every person, firm or corporation taking or harvesting kelp shall pay a privilege tax of one and one-half cents per ton of wet kelp taken or harvested.

§ 5. Record of kelp harvested. Every person, firm or corporation engaged in taking or harvesting kelp in the waters of this state shall cause to be weighed, all wet kelp immediately after said kelp shall be delivered to the place of business designated in said license. and the weight thereof shall be entered in a book, or books, to be kept by said person, firm or corporation, said book or books to be open at all times to the inspection of the board of fish and game commissioners, or any of its deputies; every person, firm or corporation engaged in taking or harvesting kelp shall on or before the tenth day after the last day of each month during the term of said license, render a statement of the weight of all wet kelp cut or harvested during the preceding month, and pay to the board of fish and game commissioners, the privilege tax herein provided for.

§ 6. Notice of closing kelp-beds. Hearing. Complaint. Answer. Evidence. Witness' fees. Powers of superior court. Failure of witnesses to obey subpoenas. Depositions of witnesses. If at any time the taking or harvesting of kelp will tend to destroy or impair any kelp bed or beds or parts thereof, or shall tend to impair or destroy the supply of any food for game fish, said fish and game commission shall cause to be served on every person, firm or corporation, licensed to take or harvest kelp in the waters of this state, a notice in writing that said kelp bed or beds or parts thereof shall be closed to the taking or harvesting of kelp for a period not to exceed one year. Within ten days after the service upon any person, firm or corporation licensed to take or harvest kelp under the provisions of this act, of a notice that any kelp-bed or beds or parts thereof are closed to the taking or harvesting of kelp, said person, firm or corporation engaged in taking or harvesting kelp shall on making such order, by serving on the board of fish and game commissioners a demand to be heard upon the necessity for closing said kelp bed or beds or parts thereof for the taking or harvesting of kelp, and upon such demand for a hearing, said board of fish and game commissioners shall fix a time and place for the taking of evidence upon the necessity of closing said bed or beds or parts thereof, which time shall be not less than ten days nor more than thirty days from the date of such demand for a hearing, and said fish and game commission shall cause notices in writing of said time and place to be served upon the party or parties making a demand for said hearing at least ten days before the day set for the hearing, and if no demand is made for a hearing within the time prescribed herein, said kelp bed or beds or parts thereof shall remain closed to the taking or harvesting of kelp for the time mentioned in said order.

Complaint may be made by the commission or any of its deputies against any person, firm or corporation licensed to cut or harvest kelp in the waters of this state for any violation of the laws of this state, or any rules or regulations made by the board of fish and game commissioners for the taking or harvesting of kelp. Said complaints shall be made in writing, setting forth the particular offense charged to have been committed by said person, firm or corporation, a copy of which shall be filed with the board of fish and game commissioners and a copy of the same served upon the person, firm or corporation so charged. Said person, firm or corporation must appear or file an answer within five days from the date of service of a copy of said complaint, and if default be made, the board of fish and game commissioners shall issue an order revoking said license for the period hereinafter prescribed in this act, and said board of fish and game commissioners shall fix a time and place for the hearing of said charges, not less than ten days nor more than thirty days from the filing of said charges, and if the party accused appears and answers, a day may be fixed within the time prescribed in this act to take testimony. The evidence in any investigation, inquiry or hearing upon the necessity for closing any kelp bed or beds or parts thereof and the evidence in any hearing upon any charges made against any person, firm or corporation for violating any of the laws of the state of California for the preservation of kelp, or of the rules and regulations of the board of fish and game commissioners regulating the taking and harvesting and handling of kelp provided for in this section may be taken by any member of the board of fish and game commissioners, or such deputy fish and game commissioner or employee as the board may designate to take such evidence; and each member of the board and any of its deputies or employees designated to take evidence at the hearing provided hereby shall have the power to administer oaths, take affidavits and issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses at such hearing. Each witness legally subpoenaed attending a hearing shall receive for his attendance the same fees and mileage allowed by law to a witness in civil cases, which amount shall be paid by the party at whose request such witness is subpoenaed. The superior court in and for the county or city and county in which any inquiry, investigation, hearing or proceeding may be held under authority of this section, shall have power to compel the attendance of witnesses, the giving of testimony and the production of papers, as required by any subpoena issued under authority of this section.

The commission or representative of the commission before whom the testimony is to be given or produced may in the case of refusal of any witness to attend, or testify or produce any papers required by such subpoena, report to the superior court in and for the county or city and county in which the proceeding is pending by petition setting forth that due notice has been given of the time and place of the attendance of said witness or the production of said papers and that the witness has been summoned in the manner prescribed in this act and that the witness has failed and refused to attend or produce the papers required by the subpoena before the commission or its representatives, in the case or proceeding named in the notice of time and place of hearing and subpoena, or has refused to answer questions propounded to him in the course of said proceeding, and ask an order of said court to compel the witness to attend and testify or produce said papers before the commission or its representatives.

The court upon the petition of the commission or its representatives, shall enter an order directing the witness to appear before the court at any time and place to be fixed by the court in such order, the time to be not more than ten days from the date of the order, and then and there show cause why he has not attended and testified or produced said papers before the commission or its representative. A copy of said order shall be served upon said witness. If it shall appear to the court that said subpoena was regularly issued by the commission or its representative the court shall thereupon enter an order that said witness shall appear before the commission or its representatives at the time and place entered in said order, and testify or produce the required papers, and upon failure to obey said order said witness shall be dealt with as for contempt of court.

The commission or its representatives, or any party designated by the fish and game commission may, in any investigation or hearing before the commission, or its representatives, cause the deposition of witnesses, residing within or without the state, to be taken in the manner prescribed by law for like depositions in civil actions in the superior courts of this state, and to that end may compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents and papers.

§ 7. Revocation of license. If any person, firm or corporation, taking or harvesting kelp from any bed or beds or parts thereof, after service of a notice that said bed or beds or parts thereof are closed to the taking or harvesting of kelp, takes or harvests any kelp between the time of the service of said notice and the decision of the board of fish and game commissioners upon the hearing for the necessity for closing said kelp bed or beds or parts thereof, his license may be revoked for a period not to exceed one year.

§ 8. Revocation of license. If any person, firm or corporation, licensed to take or harvest kelp in the waters of this state shall violate any of the laws of the state of California, regulating the taking and harvesting of kelp, or any rule or regulation of the board of fish and game commissioners regarding the taking or harvesting of kelp, said board of fish and game commissioners may, after a hearing, as provided herein, revoke said license and withhold the issuance of a new license to any such person, firm or corporation for a period not to exceed one year thereafter.

§ 9. Penalty. Fines paid in part to "state university fund." Every person, firm or corporation, who takes or harvests kelp or other aquatic plants for profit in this state, without first obtaining a license therefor, is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail, in the county in which conviction shall be had for not less than fifty days nor more than one hundred and fifty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

All fines and forfeitures collected for any violation of this act and all license fees and two-thirds of the moneys collected from the privilege tax under this act must be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund and one-third of the moneys collected from the privilege tax under this act must be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the "state university fund." The amount so paid to the "state university fund" in accordance with the direction of this section, is hereby appropriated to be expended annually in accordance with law by the Scripps Institute for Biological Research.

§ 10. License not required, when. The fish and game commission of this state shall have the power, subject to such rules and regulations as it may deem proper, to grant permits to any department of the United States government or to any scientific or any educational institution to take or harvest kelp at any and all times for scientific or experimental purposes without the payment of the kelp license or privilege tax herein provided.

§ 11. Repealed. All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

TITLE 284.

LABOR STATISTICS.

ACT 1828.

An act to establish and support a bureau of labor statistics.

Amended 1889, p. 6; 1901, p. 12; 1907, p. 306; 1909, p. 36; 1911, pp. 39, 1205; 1915, pp. 925, 928; 1917, p. 328; 1919, p. 330.

The amendments of 1917 and 1919 follow:

§ 7. Powers of labor commissioner and deputies. Seal. Access to places of labor. The commissioner and his representatives duly authorized by him in writing shall have the power and authority, when in his judgment he deems it necessary, to take assignments of wage claims and prosecute actions for the collection of wages and other demands of persons who are financially unable to employ counsel in cases in which, in the judgment of the commissioner, the claims for wages are valid and enforceable in the courts; to issue subpoenas, to compel the attendance of witnesses or parties and the production of books, papers or records, and to administer oaths and to examine witnesses under oath, and to take the verification or proof of instruments of writing, and to take depositions and affidavits for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act and all other acts now or hereafter placed in the bureau for enforcement. The commissioner shall have a seal inscribed "Bureau of Labor Statistics—State of California" and all courts shall take judicial notice of such seal. Obedience to subpoenas issued by the commissioner or his duly authorized representatives shall be enforced by the courts in any county or city and county. The commissioner and his representatives shall have free access to all places and works of labor, and any principal, owner, operator, manager, or lessee of any mine, factory, workshop, manufacturing or mercantile establishment, or any agent or employee of such principal, owner, operator, manager or lessee who shall refuse to said commissioner, or his duly authorized representative, admission therein, or who shall, when requested by him willfully neglect or refuse to furnish to him any statistics or information, pertaining to his lawful duties, which may be in his possession or under the control of said principal, owner, operator, lessee, manager or agent thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not more than two hundred dollars. [Amendment approved May 7, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 330.]

§ 9. Assistants of labor commissioner. Offices. The commissioner shall appoint two deputies who shall have the same power as said commissioner; an assistant deputy who shall reside in the county of Los Angeles; a statistician and chief examiner; a stenographer; and such agents or assistants as he may from time to time require, at such rate of wages as he may prescribe, and actual traveling expenses for each person while employed. He shall procure rooms necessary for offices in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Sacramento, San Diego, and in such other places as he may deem necessary, at a rent not to exceed the sum of four hundred dollars per month. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 328.]

§ 10. Salaries. Traveling expenses. The salary of the commissioner shall be four thousand dollars per annum; the salary of each deputy commissioner shall be two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; the salary of the assistant deputy shall be two thousand one hundred dollars per annum; the salary of the statistician and chief examiner shall be, two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum; the salary of the stenographer shall be one thousand two hundred dollars per annum; to be audited by the controller and paid by the state treasurer in the same manner as other state officers. There shall also be allowed a sum not to exceed forty thousand dollars per annum for salaries of agents or assistants, for traveling expenses, and for other contingent expenses of the bureau. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 328.]

The amending act also contained the following provisions:

§ 3. Repealed. All the provisions of said act in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

TITLE 298.

LEGISLATION.

ACT 1901.

An act to establish a legislative counsel bureau and making an appropriation therefor.

Amended 1915, p. 49; 1917, p. 1398.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. Legislative counsel bureau created. A bureau is hereby created to be known as the legislative counsel bureau, which shall be in charge of a chief, who shall be a civil executive officer and who shall be known as the legislative counsel of California and who shall be appointed by the governor and who shall hold during the pleasure of the governor. The legislative counsel shall be chosen without reference to party affiliations and solely on the ground of fitness to perform the duties of his office. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1398.]

§ 2. Duty of legislative counsel. It shall be the duty of the legislative counsel to prepare and assist in the preparation, amendment and consideration of legislative bills when requested or upon suggestion as herein provided. Upon request he shall advise any state officer, commissioner or bureau as to the preparation of bills to be submitted to the legislature; and when requested so to do, he shall advise as to their work with any legislative committee appointed to carry on investigations between sessions of the legislature. He shall advise the legislature from time to time as to needed revision of the statutes. He shall present to each session of the legislature a statement calling attention to laws which have been repealed by implication or which have been declared unconstitutional by the courts but which have not been expressly repealed. It shall also be the duty of the legislative counsel, whenever in his judgment there is reasonable probability that an initiative measure will be submitted to the voters of the state of California under the laws of the state relating to the submission of measures by initiative, to co-operate with the proponents of said measure in the preparation of said law when requested in writing so to do by twenty-five or more electors proposing such a measure. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1398.]

§ 3. Preparation of legislative bills. Not to urge legislation. The legislative counsel shall prepare or assist in the preparation or amendment of legislative bills at the suggestion, in writing and as herein set forth, of the governor of the state, or of any judge of the supreme court or of the district courts of appeal or of the superior courts of the state, or of any committee of the senate or assembly of the legislature of the state. All such suggestions shall set forth the substance of the provisions desired or which may be needed with the reasons therefor. Such suggestion by a judge of the supreme court shall be filed with the clerk of that court. Such suggestion by a judge of a district court of appeal shall be filed with the clerk of that court. Such suggestion by a judge of a superior court shall be filed with the clerk of the district court of appeal of the district within which such superior court is located. When such suggestion is so filed with the clerk of the supreme court or of a district court of appeal, that clerk shall make and send to the permanent office of said bureau a certified copy of such suggestion, and all other suggestions shall be filed at said office, and all such papers so received at such office shall be there permanently filed and recorded and copies furnished to the legislative counsel. The legislative counsel shall prepare a bill in accordance with such suggestion and shall transmit it to the chairman of the judiciary committee of each house at the next succeeding session of the legislature.

From the time the legislature of the state convenes until it is adjourned finally, the legislative counsel shall give such consideration to and service concerning any bill before the legislature, as circumstances will permit, and which is in any way requested by the governor of the state or the senate or the assembly or any committee of the legislature having such bills before it for consideration, and after such adjournment the legislative counsel shall still remain so subject to such request by the governor of the state as to any bill still in his hands for rejection or approval or other action. Neither the legislative counsel nor any employee of the bureau shall oppose or urge legislation; but the bureau shall, upon request, and so far as may be in its power, aid and assist any member of the legislature as to bills, resolutions and measures, drafting the same into proper form and furnishing to them the fullest information upon all matters in the scope of the bureau. Neither the legislative counsel nor any other employee of the bureau shall reveal to any person outside thereof the contents or nature of any matter which has not become a public record, except with the consent of the person bringing such matter before the bureau. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1399.]

§ 4. Office in capitol. Temporary offices. The legislative counsel shall be in attendance upon all sessions of the legislature and his permanent office shall be in the state capitol in Sacramento, where he shall be provided with suitable and sufficient offices convenient to the chambers of the two houses of the legislature. For the convenience of members of the legislature, however, and when in his judgment the conduct of his work requires, he may maintain temporary offices at other places in the state of California. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1400.]

§ 5. Salaries. The salary of the legislative counsel shall be four thousand dollars per annum and shall be payable in equal monthly installments. The legislative counsel shall have authority to employ and to fix the compensation of such professional assistants and such clerical and other employees as he may deem to be necessary for the effective conduct of the work under his charge. The salary of the legislative counsel and of every other employee of the bureau shall be paid in the same way as the salaries of other state officers are paid. The legislative counsel shall be repaid all actual expenses incurred or paid by him in carrying out the provisions of this act. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1400.]

§ 6. Material available to bureau. The material (including books and other publications) of the state library shall be made available to said bureau, and all the officers of the state, the University of California, and all departments, commissions and bureaus and other official state organizations, and all persons connected therewith, shall give the legislative counsel ready access to their records and full information and reasonable assistance in any matters of research requiring recourse to them or to data within their knowledge or control. The bureau may co-operate with any of the educational institutions of the state in any manner approved by the legislative counsel and such institutions. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1400.]

§ 9. Unexpended balance available. The unexpended balance of the moneys heretofore appropriated for the support and salaries of the legislative counsel bureau by an act entitled "An act making appropriations for the support of the government of the state of California for the sixty-seventh and sixty-eighth fiscal years," approved May 19, 1915, is hereby made available to carry out the provisions of this act. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1401.]

An act providing for an investigation by the legislative counsel of laws relating to roads, streets, highways and bridges, and for the submission of a report thereon to the governor for presentation to the legislature.

§ 1. Report on road laws by legislative counsel. The legislative counsel is hereby directed to investigate and study the existing laws of this and other states relating to roads, streets, highways and bridges, and to prepare a report, accompanied by a draft of an act or acts, codifying and perfecting the laws of this state relating thereto. Such report shall be printed by the superintendent of state printing and shall be submitted to the governor on or before the first day of November in the year 1920, and shall be presented by him to the legislature at the opening of its forty-fourth session.

TITLE 300.

LEEVE DISTRICTS.

ACT 1913.

An act to provide for the formation of levee districts in the various counties of this state, and to provide for the erection of levees, dikes and other works for the purpose of protecting the lands within such districts from overflow and to levy assessments to erect and construct and maintain such levees, dikes and other works and to pay the necessary costs and expenses of maintaining said districts.

Amended 1907, p. 333; 1911, p. 1212; 1917, p. 824.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 8. Board of trustees must keep office. Powers of trustees. Yearly estimate of costs. Report to board of supervisors. The board of trustees must keep an office in or near the district for the transaction of the business thereof, and the books, maps, papers, records, contracts and other documents pertaining to the affairs of the district must be open for inspection to any person interested at all times. From and after the election and qualification of said trustee said district shall be deemed organized and shall have power to sue or be sued. The board of trustees shall have power to elect one of its members president thereof, to employ engineers and others, to survey, plan, locate and estimate the cost of the works and improvements necessary, in the way of erection or repair of levees, dikes and other works for the benefit of said district; to thereafter and at any time in its discretion modify or change said original plan or plans or to adopt any new supplemental or additional plan or plans, when in its judgment the same shall become necessary; to acquire by purchase, condemnation or otherwise, rights of way, and the right to take material for the construction of all works necessary for the accomplishment of the objects of the district including drains, levees and embankments, and to construct, maintain and keep in repair all works, requisite and necessary to that end; and to do all other acts and things necessary or required for the protection of the lands in said district from the overflow of any river, stream, streams or watercourse, and to employ the service of any person legal or otherwise which in the judgment of said board of trustees may be necessary to the welfare of the district. The said board of trustees shall each year estimate the total cost for all purposes of erecting, constructing or repairing levees, dikes or other works, and doing the necessary things for the protection of the lands and property within said district from the overflow of any river, stream, streams or watercourse, and maintain the same for one year, including all damages awarded to any person by reason of the erection or construction of any of said levees, dikes or other works for protection, and shall thereupon make a report of the foregoing matters to the board of supervisors in which said district is situated, showing the amount of money required by said district for all purposes for one year

§ 5. Salaries. The salary of the legislative counsel shall be four thousand dollars per annum and shall be payable in equal monthly installments. The legislative counsel shall have authority to employ and to fix the compensation of such professional assistants and such clerical and other employees as he may deem to be necessary for the effective conduct of the work under his charge. The salary of the legislative counsel and of every other employee of the bureau shall be paid in the same way as the salaries of other state officers are paid. The legislative counsel shall be repaid all actual expenses incurred or paid by him in carrying out the provisions of this act. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1400.]

§ 6. Material available to bureau. The material (including books and other publications) of the state library shall be made available to said bureau, and all the officers of the state, the University of California, and all departments, commissions and bureaus and other official state organizations, and all persons connected therewith, shall give the legislative counsel ready access to their records and full information and reasonable assistance in any matters of research requiring recourse to them or to data within their knowledge or control. The bureau may co-operate with any of the educational institutions of the state in any manner approved by the legislative counsel and such institutions. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1400.]

§ 9. Unexpended balance available. The unexpended balance of the moneys heretofore appropriated for the support and salaries of the legislative counsel bureau by an act entitled "An act making appropriations for the support of the government of the state of California for the sixty-seventh and sixty-eighth fiscal years," approved May 19, 1915, is hereby made available to carry out the provisions of this act. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1401.]

An act providing for an investigation by the legislative counsel of laws relating to roads, streets, highways and bridges, and for the submission of a report thereon to the governor for presentation to the legislature.

mitted to the governor on or before the first day of November in the year 1920, and shall be presented by him to the legislature at the opening of its forty-fourth session.

TITLE 300.

LEVEE DISTRICTS.

ACT 1913.

An act to provide for the formation of levee districts in the various counties of this state, and to provide for the erection of levees, dikes and other works for the purpose of protecting the lands within such districts from overflow and to levy assessments to erect and construct and maintain such levees, dikes and other works and to pay the necessary costs and expenses of maintaining said districts.

Amended 1907, p. 333; 1911, p. 1212; 1917, p. 824.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 8. Board of trustees must keep office. Powers of trustees. Yearly estimate of costs. Report to board of supervisors. The board of trustees must keep an office in or near the district for the transaction of the business thereof, and the books, maps, papers, records, contracts and other documents pertaining to the affairs of the district must be open for inspection to any person interested at all times. From and after the election and qualification of said trustee said district shall be deemed organized and shall have power to sue or be sued. The board of trustees shall have power to elect one of its members president thereof, to employ engineers and others, to survey, plan, locate and estimate the cost of the works and improvements necessary, in the way of erection or repair of levees, dikes and other works for the benefit of said district; to thereafter and at any time in its discretion modify or change said original plan or plans or to adopt any new supplemental or additional plan or plans, when in its judgment the same shall become necessary; to acquire by purchase, condemnation or otherwise, rights of way, and the right to take material for the construction of all works necessary for the accomplishment of the objects of the district including drains, levees and embankments, and to construct, maintain and keep in repair all works, requisite and necessary to that end; and to do all other acts and things necessary or required for the protection of the lands in said district from the overflow of any river, stream, streams or watercourse, and to employ the service of any person legal or otherwise which in the judgment of said board of trustees may be necessary to the welfare of the district. The said board of trustees shall each year estimate the total cost for all purposes of erecting, constructing or repairing levees, dikes or other works, and doing the necessary things for the protection of the lands and property within said district from the overflow of any river, stream, streams or watercourse, and maintain the same for one year, including all damages awarded to any person by reason of the erection or construction of any of said levees, dikes or other works for protection, and shall thereupon make a report of the foregoing matters to the board of supervisors in which said district is situated, showing the amount of money required by said district for all purposes for one year thereafter. Said estimate of moneys necessary for said district for each year, and said report shall be made to said board of supervisors by said board of trustees on or before the first day of September of each year after the formation of said district and said estimate made as aforesaid and report to said board of supervisors by said board of trustees as hereinbefore set out, shall in each instance form the basis of the estimates of the board of supervisors for the amount of money required to be raised by assessment on the lands and personal property within such district for such year. [Amendment approved May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 824.]

An act authorizing levee districts of the state to incur a bonded indebtedness for the purpose of building, constructing, or repairing levees of the district; or for excavating and constructing ditches or canals of such districts; or for the purpose of acquiring rights of way for any such levees, ditches, or canals; or for any and all of said purposes.]

Amended 1915, p. 914; 1917, p. 809.

The amendments of 1917 follow:

§ 1. Levee district may issue bonds. Report of engineer. Any levee district formed or organized by or under the laws of California, may incur a bonded indebtedness for the purpose of building, constructing, or repairing the levee or levees of such district; or in excavating or constructing any ditches or canals in such district, or other protective works; or to purchase and acquire any levee or levees, ditches or canals, or other reclamation works already constructed or in process of construction; or for the purpose of acquiring rights of way for any such levee, or ditches, pipe-lines or canals; or for building, repairing and constructing any and all kinds of work in water and river channels, wherever situate, as ancillary to land and levee protection, including the straightening of river channels, or diverting waters from the dikes and levees themselves, or the lands they are protecting, and in general for doing any and all work of every character and description for the purpose of securing, protecting, guarding and preserving the lands protected, and the dikes, levees, ditches, excavations or other protective works; or for any and all of said purposes, or for any one or more of said purposes.

Whenever it shall become necessary in the opinion of the board of trustees of any such levee district to build, construct, or repair any levee for the protection of the lands of the district from overflow; or to excavate or construct any ditches or canals, or to purchase or acquire any levee or levee system or parts thereof then constructed or in process of construction; or for acquiring rights of way for either of such purposes of building, constructing, or repairing the levee or levees of such district; or in excavating or constructing any ditches or canals in such district, or other protective works, or to purchase and acquire any levee or levees, ditches, or canals or other reclamation works already constructed or in process of construction; or for the purpose of acquiring rights of way for any such levee, or ditches, pipe-lines, or canals; or for building, repairing any and all kinds of work in water and river channels, wherever situate, as ancillary to land and levee protection, including the straightening of river channels, or diverting waters from the dikes and levees themselves, or the lands they are protecting, or in general for doing any and all work of every character and description for the purpose of securing, protecting, guarding and preserving the lands protected, and the dikes, levees, ditches, excavations or other protective works, or for any and all of said purposes, or for any one or more of said purposes, the trustees of such levee district shall, by resolution, employ some civil engineer, and direct him to make a report in writing to said board of trustees, containing his recommendations as to the best method of doing said work. Said report shall show:

1. A description of the work to be done, including all ancillary work.
2. The plans, profiles, cross-sections and specifications of the work required.
3. A general description of the lands required for rights of way for the work, if any such are required.
4. An estimate of the expenses of such work, including an estimate of the cost of requiring rights of way for such work, should such rights of way be required.
5. An estimate of the cost or value of any levee or levees, ditches or canals already constructed or in process of construction, or advisable or proposed to be acquired as part of the proposed system, including all work necessary to be done for the protection of said main works and ancillary thereto, and including moreover the amount necessary for the maintenance of the work proposed to be done for the first year.
6. An estimate of all incidental expenses likely to be incurred in connection with the work, such as clerical, engineering, inspection, printing and advertising. [Amendment approved May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 809.]

§ 2. Adoption of report. After the report of the engineer provided for in the next preceding section has been filed with the board of trustees of such levee district, said board shall consider the same and shall have power, by resolution, to adopt the same as filed by said engineer, or to modify or change the same, and to adopt the same as so modified or changed, and said report shall be adopted as originally presented if not modified or changed, but if modified or changed it shall be adopted as so modified or changed. [Amendment approved May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 811.]

§ 3. Notice of adoption. Publication. Within ten days after the adoption of the report as provided in section two of this act, the board of trustees of such levee district shall give notice thereof as hereinafter provided. Such notice shall specify a day and hour when and a place where any and all persons may appear before said board and show cause, if any they have, why said work provided for in said report should not be carried out in accordance therewith, said time to be not less than twenty nor more than forty-five days from the adoption of said report.

Said notice shall briefly outline the proposed work, and shall refer to the said report on file with said board for a particular description of the work to be done. Such notice shall be given by conspicuously posting in three of the most public places within said district, and publishing in some newspaper printed and published in the county where said district is situated, or if said district is situated in more than one county then by posting in three of the most public places in that portion of the district, situated in each county and by publishing in a newspaper printed and published in each of the counties wherein any portion of said district is situated, for a period of three weeks prior to the day of hearing. Said publication shall be made once a week for three consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county where said district is situated. If said district comprises land situated in more than one county, then once a week for three consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in each of the counties where said lands are situated. It shall not be necessary that publication shall be made on the same day of the week in each of the three weeks, but not less than sixteen days, including the day of the first publication, shall intervene between the first publication and the last publication, and publication shall be complete on the date of the last publication. [Amendment approved May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 811.]

§ 5. Board may confirm resolution. Report of engineer. The board of trustee shall have power to set aside, modify, or confirm the resolution provided for in section two of this act; in case the board shall decide that it will be for the best interests of the district to proceed with the work, it shall, by resolution, so declare; and in case the said original plan of the work shall have been modified or changed, the board shall direct the engineer of the district to estimate the cost of the work in accordance with the plan so modified or changed, and to report the same to the board. The engineer of the district shall thereupon, in case such original plan shall have been changed or modified, make a report to the board in accordance with the modifications or changes adopted by it, and such report must show:

1. A description of the work to be done as changed or modified by the board, including all ancillary work.
2. The plans, profiles, cross-sections and specifications of the work as so changed or modified by the board.
3. A general description of the lands required for rights of way for the work, if any such are required.
4. An estimate of the expense of such work in accordance with the plan so modified or changed by the board, including an estimate of the cost of acquiring rights of way for such work, if any such rights are acquired.
5. An estimate of the cost or value of any levee or levees, ditches or canals already constructed or in process of construction, proposed to be acquired as part of the proposed system.
6. An estimate of all incidental expenses likely to be incurred in connection with the work as planned, such as clerical, engineering, inspection, printing and advertising, including all work necessary to be done for the protection of said main works, and ancillary thereto, and including furthermore the amount necessary for the maintenance of the work proposed to be done, for the first year. [Amendment approved May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 812.]

§ 7. Bonds for levee districts. Order for election. Conduct of election. Contests. Duty of supervisors. Form of bond. Form of interest coupon. Whenever in the judgment and opinion of the board of trustees in said district it would be for the best interests of said district, or the land owners therein, to issue bonds for the purpose of obtaining money to pay the cost of construction of said levee or levees, ditches or canals, or other protective works, or to purchase in whole or in part any system of levee, or levees, ditches or canals already constructed or in process of construction, or for any of the purposes set forth in section one of this act, or when a petition requesting them so to do, signed by the owners of more than one-half of the land of the district, is filed with the secretary of the board, the board of trustees of such district shall, by order entered upon the records of said board, order a special election to be held for the purpose of submitting the question of the issuance of bonds to the taxpayers of said district. Said order shall specify the amount of bonds it is proposed to issue which, in any case, shall not exceed the entire estimate of the expense of the work as planned, shall specify the rate of interest to be paid, not exceeding seven per cent, and the number of years, not exceeding forty, the whole or any part of said bonds are to run, and shall name a time and place for the holding of such election, which place shall be at some convenient place in the district. In the case of joint levee districts the said order shall specify a polling place within the district in each county, in which a portion of the district lies. The board shall also appoint one inspector, two judges and one clerk to conduct said election at each and every polling place designated, all of whom must be electors and taxpayers of said district. Notice of such election shall be given by publication, in a newspaper printed and published in the county in which said district or some part thereof is situated once a week for at least three weeks prior to such election. If said district is situated in more than one county, then publication shall be made in a newspaper printed and published in each county wherein a portion of said district is situated, and the provisions relating to publication provided in section three hereof shall apply, and such notice must contain a time and place for the holding of such election, the names of the election officers to conduct the same, and amount and denominations of the bonds, the rate of interest to be paid, and the number of years, not exceeding forty, the whole or any part of said bonds are to run. If any election officer appointed by said board and named in such notice is not present at the time for the opening of the polls, the voters present may appoint an election officer to take the place of such election officer so absent. Before opening the polls each officer of election must take and subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties imposed upon him by law. Any voter of the district may administer and certify such oath.

The polls shall be kept open for receiving votes from ten o'clock A. M. until four o'clock P. M. At such election any voter qualified to vote for the election officers of said district and none other shall be permitted to vote thereat, and such election shall be held as nearly as practicable in conformity with the general election law of the state, except that no sample ballot need be sent out, except that registration shall not be required, and except also that persons voting at such bond election shall put a cross (X) upon the ballots with pencil or ink after the words: "bonds—yes" and "Bonds—no" (as the case may be) to indicate whether they have voted for or against the issuance of the bonds. The said ballots shall be of the form: "bonds—yes" and "bonds—no," or words of similar import, together with a general statement of the amount and purpose of the bonds to be issued.

At the close of the polls the board or boards of election shall at once proceed to count the votes and declare the result, and shall forward a certificate showing the same and the number of votes cast for and against the issuance of the bonds to the clerk of the board of supervisors of the county in which the greater portion of the lands of said district is situated, and deliver a duplicate thereof to the board of trustees of the district, and shall also deliver to the clerk of the said board of supervisors all ballots cast at such election, and all documents and papers used at such election.

Any person owning land situated in said district may contest said election within twenty days after the result thereof has been declared by the board of supervisors, by filing a complaint in the superior court of the county where said land is situated, and if no contest shall be commenced within said time the declaration of the result by the board of supervisors shall be final and conclusive.

The returns of such election shall be canvassed and the result declared by the board of supervisors of the county to whom such returns of election are made, at a special meeting called for that purpose or at the next regular meeting of such board after such election. No ballot shall be rejected because of any distinguishing marks made thereon. If a majority of the voters of the district voting at such election shall vote in favor of the issuance of bonds, the board of supervisors shall be, and it is, authorized and directed to issue bonds of said district to the number and amount provided in such proceedings, payable out of the bond fund of such district, naming the same, and provide that the money shall be raised by taxation upon the taxable property in said district for the redemption of said bonds and the payment of interest thereon, provided that the total amount of bonds so issued shall not exceed the entire estimate of the expense of the work as planned or determined by section one, together with the expense of the maintenance of said works for one year after their completion.

The board of supervisors to whom said returns of election are made, by an order upon its minutes shall prescribe the form of said bond and the interest coupons attached thereto, and provide whether the same shall be paid in lawful money of the United States or in gold coin, and fix the time when the whole or any part of the principal of said bonds shall be payable, which shall not be more than forty years from the date thereof; and said bonds shall be issued in sums of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars each, and shall not have more than forty years to run, and shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding seven per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, and said bonds shall be substantially in the following form:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

No. —

— Levee District.

In the county (or counties) of —
state of California.

— district, of the county of (or counties or) —, state of California, for value received, hereby acknowledges itself indebted and promises to pay to the holder of this bond on the first day of —, 19—, at the office of the treasurer of the county of — in the city of —, state of California, the sum of — dollars in gold coin (or lawful money) of the United States, with interest at the rate of — per cent (—%) per annum, payable semi-annually upon the first day of — and the first day of — of each and every year from and after the date hereof, at the office of the treasurer aforesaid, on presentation and surrender of the interest coupons hereto attached, until this bond is fully paid. This bond is issued by the board of supervisors of the said county of — in conformity with the resolution of said board dated the — day of — 19—, and under the authority conferred upon the said board by the provisions of the act of the legislature of the state of California, entitled "An act authorizing levee districts of the state to incur a bonded indebtedness for the purpose of building, constructing and repairing levees of the district, or for excavating and constructing ditches or canals of such district, etc.

(Here will be inserted in the final draft the correct designation of the act approved March 8, 1911, together with acts amendatory thereof.)

It is hereby declared that said — levee district is a levee district duly created, organized, established and incorporated in strict conformity to the laws of the state of California relating thereto.

It is furthermore declared that a majority of the qualified electors of said levee district voting at a special election held therein on the — day of — 19—, which said election was held to determine whether bonds of said levee district, in the amount of $— should be issued and sold for the purpose of raising money for the purposes prescribed in said act, voted in favor thereof.

It is hereby further declared that said election was duly called, duly held and duly conducted and the notices thereof duly given, and the result thereof canvassed and declared in accordance with the provisions of the act above mentioned, and that all other proceedings of the board of supervisors of such — levee district, and of the board of supervisors of said county, in the matter of the issuance of this bond, were regular and in strict accordance with the provisions of the said act above mentioned, and the constitution of the state of California; and that the total bonded indebtedness of said district authorized at said election does not exceed the entire estimate of the expense of the work planned and the cost of the maintenance of said work for one year after the date of their completion.

This bond is in the form prescribed by the order of said board of supervisors, duly made and entered in its minutes on the — day of —, 19—, and in substantial conformity to the form prescribed by said act, and this bond shall be payable out of the bond fund of said — levee district, and the money for the redemption of said bond, and the payment of the interest thereon, shall be raised by taxation upon the taxable property of said district.

In witness whereof the said board of supervisors has caused this bond to be signed by its chairman and by the auditor of said county, with its seal of office attached this — day of —, 19—.

Chairman of the board of supervisors of the county of —.

Attest: — —.

Auditor of — county.

The interest coupon shall be in the following form:

On the — day of —, 19—, the treasurer of the county of —, state of California, will pay to the holder hereof out of the bond fund of the — levee school district of said county, at his office in the city of — in said county, the sum of $— for interest on bond of said district, No. —.

§ 8. Bonds to be numbered and signed. Bonds issued under this act shall be numbered consecutively, signed by the chairman of the board of supervisors and attested by the county auditor, who shall affix thereto his official seal. The coupons shall be numbered consecutively and signed by the treasurer by original, or engraved, or lithographed facsimile signature, and the bonds and coupons shall be payable at the office of the county treasurer. In case any officer whose signature or attestation or countersignature appears on any bonds or coupons thereof issued under the provisions of this act shall cease to be such officer before the sale or delivery of said bonds to the purchaser thereof, such signature, countersignature or attestation appearing either on the bonds or the coupons or on both shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if such officer had remained in office until the sale or delivery of such bonds. [Amendment approved May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 812.]

§ 8a. Sale of bonds. Said bonds must be sold in the manner prescribed by the board of supervisors, but for not less than par. The board of supervisors may sell all the bonds of said issue at one time, or may sell less than the whole, to wit, any part thereof, at one time, and from time to time. In the event the whole, or any part of said issue of bonds, may be offered for sale at one time, the board of supervisors may sell either the whole or any lesser number of the bonds so offered for sale. All moneys realized from the sale of said bonds shall be placed on deposit with the county treasurer to the credit of the bond fund of said district, and shall not be expended for any purpose other than that for which said bonded indebtedness was incurred as specified in section one of this act. [New section added May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 816.]

§ 8b. Action to have bonds declared valid. Summons. Treasurer's record. As soon as said bonds shall have been delivered to said county treasurer, the board of trustees, or any holder of title, or evidence of title, including possessory rights, to lands contained in the district, may, in order to determine that said bonds are a legal obligation of the district, institute a proceeding therefor in the superior court of the county in which the district was organized by filing with the clerk of said county a complaint setting forth that on a date therein named bonds of said district were delivered to the said treasurer, stating the amount of such bonds, and praying that such bonds be adjudged to be a valid legal obligation of such district. The summons in such proceeding shall be served by publishing a copy thereof once a week for four weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in each county in which any of the lands contained in said district are located. Within thirty days after the last publication thereof shall have been completed and proof thereof filed with the court, any person interested may appear and answer said complaint, in which case said answer shall set forth the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of said bonds. If no answer shall be filed within said time, the court must render judgment as prayed for in the complaint. If an answer be filed the court shall proceed as in other civil cases. Said proceeding is hereby declared to be a proceeding in rem and the judgment rendered therein shall be conclusive against all persons whomsoever and against the state of California. In the event said district comprises lands situated in more than one county, such action shall be brought in the superior court of the county in which the larger portion of the district is situated.

The treasurer of the county shall keep a record of all bonds by number, date of sale, amount, date of maturity, and the name and postoffice address of the purchaser when known, which record shall be open at all times for public inspection. [New section added May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 817.]

§ 8c. Bonds exempt from taxation. Bonds legal investment. Any bonds issued by any levee district under the provisions of this act are hereby given the same force, value and use as bonds issued by any municipality and shall be exempt from all taxation within the state of California.

The bonds of levee districts issued pursuant to this act may be lawfully purchased or received in pledge for loans by banks, trust companies, guardians, executors, administrators, and special administrators, or by any public officer or officers of this state, or of any county, city, or city and county, or other municipal or corporate body within the state, having or holding bonds [funds] which they are allowed by law to invest or loan. [New section added May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 817.]

§ 9. Tax to pay interest and principal. Levy and collection. Lien on property. Levy and collection of tax when land situated in more than one county. In addition to any other estimate which the board of trustees may be required by law to make and to submit to the board of supervisors of the county in which said district is situated, the board of trustees, on or before the first day of September of each year, shall certify to the board of supervisors, if said district is situated in one county, but if it comprises lands situated in more than one county, then the respective boards of supervisors of each county within which lands of said district are situated, the amount of interest upon all outstanding bonds to grow due within the said year, and the amount of moneys necessary to redeem any or all outstanding bonds that may grow due in said year. At the time when by law it is the duty of the board of supervisors of said county to fix the annual tax rate of such county, said board of supervisors must levy a tax upon the taxable property situated in such levee district, for the interest and redemption of said bonds, and such tax must not be less than sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds for that year and such portion of the principal as is to become due dur-

ment of the interest thereon, shall be raised by taxation upon the taxable property of said district.

In witness whereof the said board of supervisors has caused this bond to be signed by its chairman and by the auditor of said county, with its seal of office attached this — day of —, 19—.

§ 8. Bonds to be numbered and signed. Bonds issued under this act shall be numbered consecutively, signed by the chairman of the board of supervisors and attested by the county auditor, who shall affix thereto his official seal. The coupons shall be numbered consecutively and signed by the treasurer by original, or engraved, or lithographed facsimile signature, and the bonds and coupons shall be payable at the office of the county treasurer. In case any officer whose signature or attestation or countersignature appears on any bonds or coupons thereof issued under the provisions of this act shall cease to be such officer before the sale or delivery of said bonds to the purchaser thereof, such signature, countersignature or attestation appearing either on the bonds or the coupons or on both shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if such officer had remained in office until the sale or delivery of such bonds. [Amendment approved May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 812.]

§ 8a. Sale of bonds. Said bonds must be sold in the manner prescribed by the board of supervisors, but for not less than par. The board of supervisors may sell all the bonds of said issue at one time, or may sell less than the whole, to wit, any part thereof, at one time, and from time to time. In the event the whole, or any part of said issue of bonds, may be offered for sale at one time, the board of supervisors may sell either the whole or any lesser number of the bonds so offered for sale. All moneys realized from the sale of said bonds shall be placed on deposit with the county treasurer to the credit of the bond fund of said district, and shall not be expended for any purpose other than that for which said bonded indebtedness was incurred as specified in section one of this act. of such bonds, and praying that such bonds be adjudged to be a valid legal obligation of such district. The summons in such proceeding shall be served by publishing a copy thereof once a week for four weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in each county in which any of the lands contained in said district are located. Within thirty days after the last publication thereof shall have been completed and proof thereof filed with the court, any person interested may appear and answer said complaint, in which case said answer shall set forth the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of said bonds. If no answer shall be filed within said time, the court must render judgment as prayed for in the complaint. If an answer be filed the court shall proceed as in other civil cases. Said proceeding is hereby declared to be a proceeding in rem and the judgment rendered therein shall be conclusive against all persons whomsoever and against the state of California. In the event said district comprises lands situated in more than one county, such action shall be brought in the superior court of the county in which the larger portion of the district is situated.

The treasurer of the county shall keep a record of all bonds by number, date of sale, amount, date of maturity, and the name and postoffice address of the purchaser when known, which record shall be open at all times for public inspection. [New section added May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 817.]

§ 8c. Bonds exempt from taxation. Bonds legal investment. Any bonds issued by any levee district under the provisions of this act are hereby given the same force, value and use as bonds issued by any municipality and shall be exempt from all taxation within the state of California.

The bonds of levee districts issued pursuant to this act may be lawfully purchased or received in pledge for loans by banks, trust companies, guardians, executors, administrators, and special administrators, or by any public officer or officers of this state, or of any county, city, or city and county, or other municipal or corporate body within the state, having or holding bonds [funds] which they are allowed by law to invest or loan. ACT 1923.

An act to create a levee district to be called and designated Sacramento River west side levee district; to prevent the overflow of flood waters from the Sacramento River from flooding on to the lands within said district by the construction of levees along the west bank of the Sacramento River and adjacent thereto and maintain the same; pro-ing such year, and such proportion of the principal that at the end of ten years the sum raised from such levies shall equal at least twenty-five per cent of the amount of bonds issued, at the end of twenty years at least fifty per cent of the amount, and at and before the date of the maturity of the bonds shall be equal to the whole amount of the principal, and the money arising from such levies shall be known as the bond fund, and shall be used for the payment of bonds and interest coupons and for no other purpose whatever; and the county treasurer shall open and keep in his book a separate and special account which, at all times, shall show the exact condition of such bond fund.

Such tax shall be levied on all property in the territory comprising the district, and shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner and form as county taxes are collected, and when collected shall be held by the treasurer for the credit of said district, to be paid by orders of such treasurer issued under the authority of and signed by the president of the board of trustees of said district. Such taxes shall be a lien on all the property within the territory comprising the district, and of the same force and effect as other liens for taxes, and its collection shall be enforced by the same means and in the same manner as provided for in the enforcement of liens for county taxes.

In the event the said district comprises land situated in more than one county, then said estimate shall be furnished to the board of supervisors of each of the counties within which said lands of said district are situated. In such case at the time when by law it is the duty of the board of supervisors of said respective counties to fix the annual tax rate of each county, it shall be the duty of the board of supervisors of each of said counties respectively to levy a tax upon the taxable property in such levee district as may be situated in said county for the interest and redemption of said bonds, and such tax must not be less in the aggregate than sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds for that year and such portion of the principal as is to become due during such year, and such portion of the principal that at the end of ten years the sum raised from such levies shall equal at least twenty-five per cent of the amount of bonds issued, at the end of twenty years at least fifty per cent of the amount, and at and before the date of maturity of the bonds shall be equal to the whole amount of the principal, and the money arising from such levies shall be known as the bond fund and shall be used for the payment of bonds and interest coupons and for no other purpose whatever. The county treasurer of each county shall open and keep in his book a separate and special account which shall at all times show the exact condition of such bond fund. Such tax shall be levied on all property in the territory comprising the district situated in said county, and shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner and form as county taxes are collected, and when collected shall be held by the treasurer of each of said counties. Upon the first days of January, April, July and October of each year succeeding the date of issuance of said bonds, the county treasurer of each county, other than the county wherein the larger portion of the lands of said district is situated, shall transmit to the county treasurer of the county in which the larger portion of the lands of said district is situated all sums then in his possession in said bond fund, and the county treasurer of the county in which the larger portion of the lands of said district is situated shall issue his receipt therefor. Such taxes shall be a lien upon all the property within the territory comprising the district, and of the same force and effect as other liens for taxes, and the collection of said taxes shall be enforced by the same means and in the same manner as provided by law for the enforcement of liens for county taxes. [Amendment approved May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 818.]

§ 10. Redemption of bonds. Whenever there shall be in the bond fund of such district a surplus of one thousand dollars or more, over and above the interest maturing before the next levy, the treasurer shall give notice for two weeks in one or more newspapers of general circulation, printed and published in the county in which such district is situated, stating the amount of such surplus, and that on the day and hour named in such notice, sealed proposals will be received at his office for the surrender of bonds of the district, and shall at the time and place named open the proposals and accept the lowest bid; provided, that no bid shall be accepted for an amount exceeding the par value of such bonds with accrued interest; if bids are not offered at par, or less, sufficient to exhaust the amount on hand applicable to redemption, the treasurer shall publish for the same time and in the same manner a notice that he will redeem a bond or bonds of said district, giving the number or numbers thereof, and that if not presented for redemption within thirty days after the date of the first publication of such notice, the interest thereon will cease, and the amount due thereon will be set aside for the payment of such bond or bonds whenever presented. If any such bond be not so presented, interest thereon shall cease, and the amount due thereon shall be set aside as specified in said notice. All redemption of bonds other than those voluntarily surrendered shall be made in the exact order of their numbering, beginning with the lowest or first number. [Amendment approved May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 819.]

§ 11. Act full authority for issuance and sale of bonds. Levee district fund. This act shall without reference to any other act of the legislature of the state of California be full authority for the issuance and sale of the bonds in this act authorized, which bonds shall have all the qualities of negotiable paper under the law merchant, and when executed by the officials as provided in this act in conformity with the provisions of this act, and when sold in the manner prescribed therein and the consideration therefor received by the county treasurer for the benefit of said district, shall not be invalid for any irregularity or defect in the proceedings for the issuance and sale thereof, and shall be incontestible in the hands of bona fide purchasers or holders thereof for value. The moneys obtained from the sale of such bonds shall be by the county treasurer placed in a fund to be called the "— levee district fund," and all payments of any of the expenses of the work or improvements for which said bonded indebtedness was incurred shall be paid out upon warrants drawn by the board of trustees of said levee district. [New section added May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 820.]

An act to create a levee district to be called and designated Sacramento River west side levee district; to prevent the overflow of flood waters from the Sacramento River from flooding on to the lands within said district by the construction of levees along the west bank of the Sacramento River and adjacent thereto and maintain the same; providing for the election and appointment of officers of said levee district; defining the powers, duties and compensation of such officers; and providing for levying and collecting assessments upon the lands within said levee district.

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1211.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 3. Election. Manner of conducting. Commissioner takes office when. An election shall be held within forty days after the date upon which this act shall take effect, and on the last Monday of October of every fourth calendar year thereafter, at which election said commissioners shall be elected. Said first election shall be called by the reclamation board created by that certain act of the legislature of the state of California, entitled: "An act approving the report of the California debris commission transmitted to the speaker of the house of representatives by the secretary of war on June 27, 1911, directing the approval of plans of reclamation along the Sacramento River or its tributaries or upon the swamp lands adjacent to said river, directing the state engineer to procure data and make surveys and examinations for the purpose of perfecting the plans contained in said report of the California debris commission and to make report thereof, making an appropriation to pay the expenses of such examinations and surveys, and creating a reclamation board and defining its powers," approved December 24, 1911, or such board as may by law be made its successor. Said reclamation board shall also designate the voting place for said first election and for all succeeding elections. Notice of the time and place of holding all elections shall be given by said reclamation board by publication once a week for two weeks next preceding such election, in some newspaper published in Colusa county and also in some newspaper published in Yolo county. In the first election the reclamation board shall, prior to the election, procure from the assessors of said counties of Yolo and Colusa, respectively, a list certified by such assessors, respectively, containing a description of all the lands of the district situated in such counties, the name of the person to whom each tract is assessed and the acreage thereof as it appears from the last prior assessment-roll of said counties, which said list shall be furnished to and be used by the board of election hereinafter described in determining the number of votes each voter is entitled to cast. In all elections said reclamation board shall appoint an inspector and two judges of election, who shall constitute a board of election for such voting place. At the first election of commissioners each owner of land within said levee district as above defined, shall be entitled to cast one vote, in person or by proxy, for each commissioner to be elected therein for each acre of land or fraction thereof owned by such land owner within said district, such acreage to be determined by the aforesaid assessment-roll of the county in which the same is situated. In case of town lots, or where the acreage is not stated, the board of election officers shall determine the amount of acreage therein. The estates of minors, incompetents, deceased persons and beneficiaries under a trust shall be represented by the guardian, executor, administrator or trustee in person. Where a tract is situated partly within and partly without the boundaries of such district, and the assessment-roll contains the acreage of said tract of land as a whole, the same must be apportioned according to the number of acres lying within and without the boundaries of said district. In the case of all elections after the first election hereinbefore provided for, each land owner in said district shall be entitled to cast one vote, either in person or by proxy, for each commissioner to be elected therein for each dollar, or fraction thereof, assessed against his land, as shown by the first assessment list in said district as prepared by the assessors and heretofore filed with the reclamation board, as provided in section six of this act, or in the event that said assessment list has been equalized by the said reclamation board before the time of said election, then as shown by the said assessment list so equalized by the reclamation board. No person shall vote by proxy at such election, unless authority to cast such vote shall be evidenced by an instrument in writing, duly acknowledged and certified in the same manner as grants of real property, and filed with the board of election. In case no board of election shall be appointed, or if any member thereof shall fail or refuse to serve, the land owners present at the time of the opening of such election may appoint such board of election or supply the place of an absent member. Each member of the board of election must, before entering upon the discharge of his duties, be sworn to perform them faithfully. Any person entitled to vote at such election may administer the oath. The polls shall be kept open from ten o'clock A. M. till four o'clock P. M. on the day of said election. The board of election must keep a list of the names of the persons voting at such election, together with a statement of the number of votes cast by each, and shall canvass the votes and make a return thereof showing the number of votes cast for each person for levee commissioner and shall return therewith said list containing the names of the land owners voting at such election. Such election shall be by ballot, which ballots must contain the name of the person voting same, the total number of votes cast, the names of the persons voted for and the number of votes cast for each of said persons. The ballots must be inclosed in an envelope by the election board, and delivered, with the election returns, to the said reclamation board, and said reclamation board shall cause a certificate of election to be issued within five days to the person or persons receiving the highest number of legal votes. If a certificate of election shall be issued to any person who has not received the highest number of legal votes, and upon an affidavit being filed by a land owner in the said levee district, setting forth that such person did not receive the highest number of legal votes, and giving the names of the persons who cast illegal votes for such person, and the number of such illegal votes so cast, the said reclamation board shall canvass the election returns, and hear evidence touching the legality of any votes cast, and may revoke such certificate of election and issue a certificate to the person legally elected. Within fifteen days after receiving a certificate of election, and before entering upon the duties of his office, each levee commissioner shall take the oath of office prescribed by law, and file the same in the office of said reclamation board. All vacancies in the board of levee commissioners shall be filled by the said reclamation board, and such appointee shall hold office until the next succeeding election, and the qualification of his successor. Such person shall possess the same qualifications as an elected commissioner. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1212.]

§ 7. Charges become lien. Statement that assessment delinquent. Sale of property. Purchase by district. Redemption. Land not charged to be later charged. Correction of errors. To whom payments made. Moneys deposited in treasury. From and after the filing of the original list with the county treasurer of Colusa county, and from and after the filing of the duplicate original list with the county treasurer of Yolo county, the charges assessed upon any tract of land within each respective county shall constitute a lien thereon, and shall impart notice thereof to all persons. No subsequent act or conduct of the commissioners shall invalidate said assessment or lien, but such commissioners may be compelled by mandate or other proper proceeding to perform their duties, as required by law. The list thus prepared and filed must remain in the offices of the respective treasurers for thirty days from such filing, or longer if ordered by the board of levee commissioners, and during the time they so remain, any person may pay the amount of the charge assessed against any tract of land to the treasurer of the county in which such tract is situated, in gold coin of the United States, or in warrants of the district. At the end of thirty days the treasurers must return the lists to the board of commissioners of the district. The said board, from time to time in its discretion, may, by order entered in its minutes, direct the said assessment to be collected and paid in separate installments, of such amounts and at such time, respectively, as the said board may determine. After any order has been made calling in an installment of assessment, the secretary of the said district, for the information of the land owners, shall mail to each land owner, as described in the said assessment list, if his address be known to such secretary, or, if not, then to the county seat of the county in which such land may be situated, a statement stating the amount of the call of such assessment, and stating further that said installment, if unpaid at the expiration of thirty days from the date of such order, shall become delinquent, which said statement shall be mailed by said secretary within ten days after the date of any such order calling in any installment of such assessment, and each installment of assessment, from the time of the order of said board directing the same to be collected and paid, shall bear interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum until paid; if any such installment shall remain unpaid at the expiration of thirty days from the date of the order, then said installment shall become delinquent, together with the accrued interest thereon, and ten per cent of the amount of said installment and interest shall be added thereto, and collected for the use of the district; provided, further, that the commissioners must on the first day of January of each year, order the collection of a sufficient amount of said assessment to pay all warrants that have been issued and outstanding for a period of two years or more, together with the interest on such warrants. Immediately after the said installment has become delinquent, the board of levee commissioners must publish a notice at least once each week for three weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county or counties in which any land upon which such installment may be delinquent is situated, which notice shall contain a description of the property assessed, the name of the person to whom it is assessed, or a statement that it is assessed to unknown owners, if such be the fact; the amount of the delinquent installment, the amount of the interest at the date of delinquency, the amount of the penalty that has been added as above provided, and a notice that the property assessed will be sold on a date therein stated, at such time and place in said district as the board of commissioners may in said notice designate, to pay said installment with accrued interest and the penalty hereinbefore specified. At the time stated in said notice, or such other time to which said sale may have been postponed, the commissioners must sell said property to the highest bidder for gold coin of the United States. Out of the proceeds of said sale the commissioners must pay the amount of said installment with the accrued interest thereon and the penalty herein provided for to the county treasurer of the county of Colusa who shall place the same in the proper funds of said district, and the commissioners must pay to the owner of said property any surplus remaining after such payment to said county treasurer. The commissioners may postpone said sale from time to time by a written notice posted at the place of sale. If no bid is made for said property equal to the amount of said installment, accrued interest and penalty, the district shall become the purchaser, and the said property must be struck off to the district for the amount of said installment, accrued interest and penalty. A certificate of such sale shall be executed by the commissioners of said levee district to the purchaser, or to the district, if the property shall have been struck off to the district, and said certificate of sale shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the land sold is situated, or if situated in two counties, then in the office of the county recorder of each thereof. Any person interested in said property may redeem the same at any time within one year after the date of said sale, by paying in gold coin or in warrants of said district, to the county treasurer of Colusa county the amount of said installment with the accrued interest and penalty, and interest on the said sums at the rate of two per cent per month from the date of said sale.

If no redemption shall be made within said one year, the purchaser, or the district, if said property shall have been sold to the district, shall be entitled to a deed executed by said commissioners, and the effect of such deed shall be to convey said property free of all liens and encumbrances, excepting state, county and municipal taxes, and the liens of assessments now levied or which may hereafter be levied by any of the reclamation districts situate within said levee district, or by the Knights Landing Ridge drainage district, and the unpaid balance of said assessment of said levee district, if any, which said balance must be called in and collected in the same manner as other assessments; provided, that where said property shall have been deeded to the district and shall not have been sold by the commissioners, the same shall not be offered for sale for subsequent installments of said assessments so long as the district shall remain the owner of said property, but the commissioners may sell said property at any time at public auction after notice given for the same period and in the same manner as is herein provided for sales for delinquent installments, but not for a sum less than all delinquent unpaid installments with accrued interest and penalties, and the deed executed in pursuance of such sale shall convey said property free of all encumbrances, except state, county and other municipal taxes, the lien of any assessments levied or which may hereafter be levied by any reclamation district within said levee district, or the Knights Landing Ridge drainage district, and the unpaid balance of said assessment.

In all cases where an assessment has been, or shall hereafter be, levied for any purpose on the lands embraced within said levee district, if, for any reason, any tract or tracts of land shall not have been charged with said assessment, then such tract or tracts of land shall be charged in any subsequent assessment with such proportion of the former assessment as the benefits derived by said lands from the levee works, for which said former assessment was levied, bears to the whole amount of said former assessment; or a subsequent reassessment of such tract or tracts of land may be made separately for the purpose of charging said land with its proper proportion of the costs of levee protection. Such reassessment shall be made by assessors appointed by the reclamation board, as provided by this act, and must be made and approved in the same manner as other assessments. The assessors appointed by the reclamation board must make a list of the charges assessed against each tract of land; and, if there be any error or mistake in the description of the land or in the name of the owner, or if any land which should be assessed has been, or shall be, omitted from the list, or if there is any error or mistake in any other respect, the said assessors may amend or correct the same at any time before the filing of such list with the reclamation board as hereinbefore provided. Where payment is made in warrants of the district, legal interest must be computed thereon from the date thereof to the time of such payment, when said warrants must be surrendered to the county treasurer of the county of Colusa and by him canceled.

In the event that any land owner of the said district shall have paid the amount, or any portion of the amount, assessed against any tract of land before said assessment shall have been adjudged invalid, in whole, or in part, the amount so paid by said land owner, together with legal interest thereon from the date of such payment, shall be a credit and shall be credited by the treasurer of the county where the assessment list is filed, or by said district, or upon any subsequent assessment on the tract of land on which the said invalid assessment was paid, or be applied in satisfaction pro tanto of any such subsequent assessment thereafter levied on said tract.

All installments of assessment, after the original list and the duplicate original have been returned by the respective county treasurers to the board of levee commissioners that may be called in, shall be paid to the secretary of said board of levee commissioners, and the same and also all proceeds from any delinquent sale shall be paid into the county treasury of the county of Colusa, and be placed by the treasurer thereof to the credit of said district, and paid out upon warrants issued by the board of levee commissioners. At any time an assessment on any tract of land may be paid in full, notwithstanding the same has not been called in by the board of levee commissioners.

All moneys received from any source by the board of levee commissioners shall be paid by the said board, or the secretary thereof, into the county treasury of Colusa county, and be placed by the treasurer to the credit of the district, and paid out upon the warrants of the board of levee commissioners in the manner hereinbefore provided.

On the first Monday of each month the county treasurer of Yolo county shall transmit to the county treasurer of Colusa county all moneys that may be in his hands to the credit of said district arising from any source, and, likewise, all warrants that may be delivered in payment of any assessment, and all such moneys shall thereupon be placed to the credit of said district by said county treasurer of Colusa county. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1214.]

§ 3. Repealed. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

ACT 1924.

An act to validate bonds of Palo Verde joint levee district of Riverside and Imperial counties, California, and all proceedings relating thereto. [Approved May 16, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 541. In effect July 22, 1919.]

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 159.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. Tide-lands granted to Los Angeles. There is hereby granted to the city of Los Angeles, a municipal corporation of the state of California, and to its successors, all the right, title and interest of the state of California, held by said state by virtue of its sovereignty, in and to all tide-lands and submerged lands, whether filled or unfilled, within the present boundaries of said city, and situated below the line of mean high tide of the Pacific Ocean, or of any harbor, estuary, bay or inlet within said boundaries, to be forever held by said city, and by its successors, in trust for the uses and purposes, and upon the express conditions, following, to wit:

(a) Purposes for which lands may be used. That said lands shall be used by said city, and by its successors, solely for the establishment, improvement and conduct of a harbor, and for the construction, maintenance and operation thereon of wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays and other utilities, structures and appliances necessary or convenient for the promotion and accommodation of commerce and navigation, and said city, or its successors, shall not, at any time, grant, convey, give or alien said lands, or any part thereof, to any individual, firm or corporation for any purpose whatsoever; provided, that said city, or its successors, may grant franchises thereon for limited periods, in any event not to exceed thirty years for wharves and other public uses and purposes, and may lease said lands, or any part thereof, for limited periods, in any event not to exceed thirty years for any and all purposes which shall not interfere with commerce or navigation, and are not inconsistent with the trusts upon which said lands are held by the state of California;

(b) Harbor improved without expense to state. That said harbor shall be improved by said city without expense to the state, and shall always remain a public harbor for all purposes of commerce and navigation, and the state of California shall have, at all times, the right to use, without charge, all wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays and other improvements constructed on said lands, or any part thereof, for any vessel or other water craft, or railroad, owned or operated by the state of California;

(c) No discrimination in rates. That in the management, conduct or operation of said harbor, or of any of the utilities, structures or appliances mentioned in paragraph (a), no discrimination in rates, tolls, or charges, or in facilities, for any use or service in connection therewith shall ever be made, authorized or permitted by said city, or by its successors;

Right to fish reserved to people. Reserving, however, in the people of the state of California, the absolute right to fish in the waters of said harbor, with the right of convenient access to said waters over said lands for said purposes. [Amendment approved April 20, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 159.]

TITLE 311.

LOS ANGELES COUNTY.

ACT 2016.

An act to validate bonds of the Los Angeles county flood control district and all proceedings relating thereto, and making final and conclusive, except as therein provided, the official canvass of election returns of the election at which said bonds were voted.

§ 1. Los Angeles county flood control district bonds validated. Bonds in the amount of four million four hundred fifty thousand dollars of the Los Angeles county flood control district, and all the acts and proceedings of said district, leading up to and including the authorizing and issuance of said bonds, are hereby legalized, ratified, confirmed and declared valid to all intents and purposes, which district was created by the Los Angeles county flood control act, approved June 12, 1915, and which bonds were authorized by virtue of an election held in said district on February 20, 1917, at which a majority of the votes cast were in favor of incurring such bonded indebtedness, as found and determined by the board of supervisors of said district upon canvassing such election returns, and which finding and determination of the result of said election shall be and is hereby declared to be final and conclusive against all persons except the state of California upon suit commenced by the attorney general. Any such suit must be commenced within thirty days after this act takes effect and not otherwise.

And all said bonds when issued and sold as in said act provided shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and valid obligations of said district, and the faith and credit of said Los Angeles county flood control district is hereby pledged for the prompt payment and redemption of the principal and interest of said bonds and said bonds by their issuance shall be conclusive evidence of the regularity of all proceedings leading up thereto, and that they were duly authorized at said election.

MANUFACTURES.

ACT 2063.

An act to provide for the registration of factories, workshops, mills and other manufacturing establishments.

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 270.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. Registration of factories. Notice by commissioner of labor. The owner of any factory, workshop, mill or other manufacturing establishment, where five or more persons are employed, shall register such factory, workshop, mill or other manufacturing establishment with the bureau of labor statistics, giving the name of the owner, the name under which the business is carried on, the location of the plant, the address of the general offices or principal place of business and such other information as the commissioner of labor shall require. Such registration of existing factories, workshops, mills or other manufacturing establishments shall be made on or before January 1, 1914. All factories, workshops, mills or other manufacturing establishments hereafter established shall be so registered within thirty days after the commencement of business. Within thirty days after a change in the location of a factory, workshop, mill or other manufacturing establishment the owner thereof shall file with the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics the new address.

Whenever the commissioner of labor shall have been notified or otherwise becomes aware of the existence of a new factory, or factories, he shall forward a notification of said fact on or before the tenth day of each month to the state board of health and to the board of health or the health officer of the city and county wherein said factory or factories may be located.

MAPS.

ACT 2065.

An act requiring the recording of maps of subdivisions of land into lots for the purpose of sale, and prescribing the conditions on which such maps may be recorded, and prohibiting the selling or offering for sale of land by reference to said maps unless the same are recorded.

Amended 1913, p. 568; 1915, p. 1512; 1919, pp. 164, 177, 725.

The amendments of 1919 follow:

§ 1. Map of subdivision must be recorded. Whenever any tract or subdivision of land shall be laid out into lots for the purpose of selling the same by reference to a map or plat, the owner or owners thereof shall cause to be made out and filed with the county recorder of the county in which the same is situated, an accurate map or plat thereof on cloth, drawn and attested to by a civil engineer or licensed surveyor from his own survey of the ground. Said engineer or surveyor shall, in making the surveys, leave sufficient permanent monuments so that another surveyor or engineer may retrace his work. The nature and location of these monuments shall be plainly shown on the map; provided, however, that on all maps of tracts filed for the purpose of showing as acreage, land previously subdivided into numbered or lettered lots or parcels, no survey or certificate by surveyor or engineer shall be required. The map shall also particularly set forth and describe:

Matters set forth. First—All parcels of ground within such tract or subdivision used for public purposes or offered for dedication for public uses, whether they be intended for public highways, parks, courts, commons or other public uses and their dimensions and boundaries and the courses of their boundary lines.

Second—All lots intended for sale, or reserved for private purposes and not offered for dedication to the public use, either by number or letter, and their dimensions and boundaries and the courses of their boundary lines. All parcels of land offered for dedication as public highways and not accepted by the proper authorities upon presentation to them, shall also be designated by number or letter.

Third—The exact location of such tract or subdivision of land into lots with reference to adjacent subdivisions of land into lots, the maps or plats of which have been previously recorded, if any, or if none, then with reference to corners of a United States survey, or to some natural or artificial monument. [Amendment approved March 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 177.]

§3. Consent of owner. Certificate of auditor. Bond. Land intended for public use. Upon every such map or plat there shall be indorsed a consent to the making thereof, signed by the owner or owners of the tract or other subdivision of land shown thereon, and also by all other persons whose consent is necessary to pass a clear title to such land, and acknowledged by all the signers in the same manner as conveyances of real property; also a certificate from the county auditor, and from the auditor or other proper officer of any municipal corporation in which any part of such tract or other subdivision is situated, showing that there are no liens for unpaid state, county, municipal or other taxes, except taxes not yet payable against said tract or subdivision of land or any part thereof; also where a tax lien attaches against any such tract or subdivision or any part thereof a certificate of the clerk of the board of supervisors that a bond has been filed with said board as provided herein; and the owner or owners of any tract, or other subdivision of land shown thereon, shall execute and file with the board of supervisors of the county wherein such tract, or subdivision, or any part thereof, is situated, a good and sufficient bond to be approved by and in amount to be fixed by said board of supervisors and by its terms made to inure to the benefit of the county wherein such tract, subdivision, or any part thereof, is situate, and conditioned for the payment of all taxes which are at the time of filing of said map, a lien against any such tract, or subdivision, or any part thereof, but not yet payable. Except that no tax bond, or certificate in regard to tax bond, by the clerk of the board of supervisors, shall be required on any map which may be recorded on or after the date upon which the taxes for the current year have become payable and before the date upon which the assessment for the next succeeding year is based. Upon every such map or plat which shows any parcels of land intended for public use and not previously dedicated therefor, there shall be indorsed a statement of the dedication of such parcels of land intended for public use, executed by the owner or owners, and by all other persons whose consent is necessary to pass a clear title to such parcels of ground to the public, and acknowledged by all persons executing the same in the same manner as conveyances of real property. [Amendment approved May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 164.]

§4. Approval of map by city or county governing body. Certificate of examination as to value of territory. Highways to conform to those surrounding. The map or plat so made, indorsed and acknowledged shall be submitted to the governing body of the city, city and county, or county having control of public highways in the territory shown on such map or plat, for the approval of such governing body before such map or plat is filed for record in the recorder's office; provided, that said map or plat shall not be accepted or approved by such governing body unless the same is accompanied by a certificate of the county surveyor and county assessor, if such tract or subdivision of land lies in unincorporated territory, or city engineer, if such there be, and the city assessor of any incorporated city or town, in which the whole or any part of such tract or subdivision of land is situated, showing that each and every lot and block therein has been carefully examined as to its value for residence or commercial uses with their suggestions and recommendations to such governing body; and provided, further, that whenever such tract or subdivision of land lies within an incorporated city or town, the map or plat thereof shall first be submitted by the governing body thereof to the city planning commission, if such there be, of such city or town, or, if there be no city planning commission, to the city engineer, if such there be. Said city planning commission, or city engineer, shall report thereon to the governing body within ten days after receipt of said map or plat. If such tract or subdivision of land is in unincorporated territory but within three miles from the exterior boundaries of any city or town, the map or plat thereof shall first be submitted by the county board of supervisors to the city planning commission, if such there be, or to such city engineer as above provided of the city or town lying nearest to such tract or subdivision of land, whereupon such commission shall make an examination of such map or plat and submit a report thereon with its suggestions and recommendations to the governing body of the municipality. Said governing body shall thereupon submit a report thereon, with its suggestions and recommendations to the said county board of supervisors. Such governing body after considering the report of the city planning commission, or the city engineer, as the case may be, and said county board of supervisors, after considering the report of said governing body, shall approve or disapprove such map or plat within thirty days after the same is submitted to it as above provided. In the event of the failure, refusal or neglect of said city planning commission, or city engineer to so report within said ten days to the said governing body it shall then be the duty of said commission or city engineer to forthwith transmit said map or plat to said governing body for its action thereon. In the event of the failure, refusal or neglect of said governing body to so report to said county board of supervisors within twenty days after said county board has so filed said map or plat with said city planning commission, or city engineer, it shall then be the duty of said governing body to forthwith transmit said map or plat to said county board of supervisors for its action thereon. If approved, the said governing body or board of supervisors shall indorse, or cause to be indorsed, on said map or plat its approval of the same. Without such approval the said map or plat shall not be filed for record or be recorded. Such governing body may require the public highways, if any, offered for dedication by said map or plat and the parcel or parcels of land, if any, therein reserved or indicated for highway or right of way purposes, and not offered for dedication to public use, to be as wide as and to conform, as near as practicable, to the adjoining, surrounding or neighboring streets or highways of said city, city and county, or county. If such map or plat offers for dedication any highways said governing body or board of supervisors shall indorse thereon which of the highways so offered for dedication are accepted on behalf of the public, and thereupon such highways which have been so accepted, and no others, shall be and become dedicated to the public use. [Amendment approved May 18, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 725.]

An act to cure defects in maps or plats filed for record prior to January 1, 1917, and in deeds or conveyances referring to such maps.

§1. Defects cured in maps filed prior to January 1, 1917. Any map or plat recorded or filed with the county recorder of the county in which the lands shown on said map or plat are situated prior to the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred seventeen, shall for all purposes be deemed to have been properly so recorded or filed and to comply with all the requirements of the laws in force at the time it was so recorded or filed, notwithstanding any defect, omission or informality in the preparation or execution of such map or plat or of the affidavits, certificates, acknowledgments, indorsements, acceptances of dedication or other matters thereon or required to be thereon by any law in force at the time of such recording or filing, and all sales or conveyances of land by reference to any such map or plat shall be valid as though said map or plat had been made, certified, indorsed, acknowledged and filed in all respects in accordance with the laws in force at the time said map or plat was so recorded or filed. And any deed or conveyance referring to any such map or plat which, prior to the passage hereof, was copied into the proper book of records kept in the office of any county recorder shall impart after the passage hereof notice of its contents to subsequent purchasers and encumbrancers, notwithstanding any defect, omission or informality in the preparation or execution of such map or plat or of the affidavits, certificates, acknowledgments, indorsements, acceptances of dedication or other matters thereon or required to be thereon by any law in force at the time of such recording or filing.

An act to provide for the exclusion of any portion of the lands embraced within a subdivision or tract of land and for the alteration or vacation of recorded maps or plats thereof.

§1. Exclusion of land from subdivision. Upon the application of the owners of at least two-thirds of the area of the land included within the boundaries of any tract or subdivision of land described in a recorded map or plat, the superior court of the county or city and county wherein such land is situated, may cause all or any portion of such land to be excluded from the subdivision or tract and the recorded map or plat thereof to be altered or vacated as hereinafter provided.

§2. Petition. The application provided for in section one hereof shall be made by filing in the office of the county clerk of the county or city and county in which the tract or subdivision, or that portion of the land sought to be excluded, is situated, a petition signed and verified by the owners of at least two-thirds of the total area of the land included within the boundaries of the tract or subdivision, as shown on the recorded map or plat, praying that all or such portions of the land included within such subdivision or tract as is described shall be excluded therefrom. Such petition shall also show the reasons therefor.

The land sought to be excluded shall be accurately and distinctly described by reference to the recorded map or plat or by an accurate survey. The petition shall further show the names and addresses of all other owners of the land in the subdivision or tract so far as the same are known to the petitioners.

§ 3. Notice of filing petition. Upon the filing of a petition as hereinbefore provided, any judge of the superior court of the county or city and county wherein such land is situated, shall make an order directing the clerk of such court to give notice of the filing of such petition. Said notice shall be for not less than thirty, nor more than fifty, days as shall be by such judge directed, by publication in some newspaper of general circulation within the county, or city and county, or if there is no newspaper published therein by posting in three of the principal places in the county or city and county. Such notice shall contain a statement of the nature of the petition together with a direction that any person may file his objection to the petition, in writing, at any time before the expiration of the time of posting or publication.

§ 4. Hearing of application. Exclusion by court. When the time of posting or publication has expired there shall be filed with the clerk of the superior court an affidavit showing due posting or publication, whereupon the court may if no objection has been filed, proceed without further notice to hear the application. If upon such hearing the petitioners shall produce to said court satisfactory evidence of the necessity of the exclusion of said lands, and that the owners to two-thirds of the area of the land included within such tract or subdivision are such petitioners, and that there is no reasonable objection to making such exclusion, the court may proceed to exclude the lands sought to be excluded by the petition, and alter or vacate any recorded map or plat thereof, and enter its decree accordingly.

§ 5. Hearing of objections. If objection is made to the petition which, in the judgment of the court is material, the court shall proceed to hear such objection and may adjourn the proceedings to such time as may be necessary upon proper notice to the petitioners.

§ 6. Public highway not affected. Filing of decree. The exclusion of any territory herein provided for or the alteration or vacation of any recorded map or plat, shall not affect or vacate the whole or any part of any public highway. The exclusion of any land herein provided for or the alteration or vacation of any recorded map or plat, shall be complete with the filing in the office of the county recorder of the county or city and county in which such land is situated, of a copy of the decree of the superior court. The county recorder shall make, upon the face of any such recorded map or plat a memorandum stating briefly that such map or plat has been altered or vacated, whichever the case may be, and giving the date and reference of such decree.

§ 7. New map filed. In case any land has been excluded and any map or plat altered pursuant to the provisions of this act, a new map or plat shall be filed with the county recorder in the manner provided by law showing the boundaries of such subdivision or tract as same appears after the exclusion and alteration.

TITLE 326.MARKS AND BRANDS.*ACT 2103.

An act requiring the labeling of articles offered for sale and intended for personal wear, manufactured in state penitentiaries, reform schools or other institutions supported at public expense, and requiring that notice that such goods are on sale, shall be conspicuously posted in places where said goods are offered for sale.

§ 1. Articles manufactured at state institutions must be labeled. No person, persons, firm or corporation, by themselves, their agents or employees shall sell, offer for sale or expose for sale, or have in his or their possession for sale, any article intended for personal wear which was manufactured at a state penitentiary, state reform school or at any other institution supported at public expense and located without the boundaries of the state of California, unless said article shall have affixed, stamped or imprinted thereon, a label in letters three-eighths of an inch in height, designating the state penitentiary, state reform school or other public institution, where said article was manufactured.

§ 2. Notice that articles manufactured at state institutions are for sale. No person, persons, firm or corporation, by themselves, their agents or employees shall sell, offer for sale or expose for sale, or have in his or their possession for sale, any article intended for personal wear which was manufactured at a state penitentiary, state reform school or at any other institution supported at public expense and located without the boundaries of the state of California unless there is kept on exhibition in a conspicuous place, where said article is exposed or offered for sale, a notice at least twelve inches in length by six inches in height, stating that goods so manufactured are on sale there.

§ 3. Penalty. Whoever shall knowingly violate any of the provisions or sections of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished for the first offense by a fine of not less than twenty dollars nor more than one hundred dollars; or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than ten days and not exceeding thirty days; and for each subsequent offense by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than two hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than twenty days nor more than one hundred days, or by both such fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court.

§ 4. Duty of district attorney. It shall be the duty of the district attorney of each and every county in this state, upon application, to attend to the prosecution in the name of the people of any action brought for the violation of any of the provisions of this act within his district.

An act to perpetuate marks, brands and counterbrands established in the several counties of the state under sections three thousand one hundred sixty-eight and three thousand one hundred sixty-nine of the Political Code, to provide methods of perpetuation and declaring all marks, brands and counterbrands not so perpetuated to be inoperative and void.

§ 1. Notice to perpetuate marks, brands, and counterbrands. The county recorder of each county in whose office there are recorded more than one hundred marks, brands and counterbrands under the provisions of section three thousand one hundred sixty-eight of the Political Code, shall, within thirty days after this law goes into effect, cause to be published in a newspaper of general circulation in such county, the following notice:

"Every person, who, under and by virtue of compliance with section three thousand one hundred sixty-eight of the Political Code, owns a mark, brand or counterbrand, must, within three months after final publication of this notice, notify the county recorder of his desire to continue and perpetuate such mark, brand and counterbrand. This notification must be in words of positive and reasonable intentment and must be either by registered letter or by personal application addressed to said county recorder. Any person failing to so continue and perpetuate such mark, brand and counterbrand, shall lose all right, title and interest therein.

First publication: (naming date).

Last publication: (naming date).

County recorder of _____ county."

§ 2. Publication. The notice set forth in section one shall be published six times at intervals of four weeks, final publication to be not more than five months later than the original publication thereof.

§ 3. Continuance of marks, etc. Every person desiring to continue and perpetuate any mark, brand and counterbrand must comply with the provisions set forth in the notice under section one, and the county recorder shall, upon such compliance, write or stamp opposite the record of such mark, brand or counterbrand the word "perpetuated."

§ 4. Marks, etc., deemed abandoned. At the termination of three months after final publication of notice set forth in section one, the county recorders of the several counties shall transfer the records of all marks, brands and counterbrands perpetuated under section three to a new book set apart for the purpose described in section three thousand one hundred sixty-eight of the Political Code, and all marks, brands and counterbrands in the custody of the county recorders of the several counties not so continued and perpetuated shall be deemed to have been abandoned by the owner thereof and to be inoperative and void.

§ 5. Sections of Political Code not affected by act. Nothing in this act shall be construed as repealing sections three thousand one hundred sixty-eight and three thousand one hundred sixty-nine of the Political Code.

TITLE 328.MARSHALL MONUMENT.*ACT 2116.

An act to provide for the appointment of a guardian for the Marshall monument and grounds, prescribing his duties and appropriating money therefor.

Amended 1919, p. 1352.

The amendment of 1919 follows:

§ 3. Salary of guardian of Marshall monument. The guardian shall receive for his services seventy-five dollars per month, payable from the state treasury in the same manner as other state officers are paid. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1352.]

TITLE 331.MASTER AND SERVANT.*ACT 2135.

An act prohibiting employers of labor from coercing employees in the purchase of things of value, and prescribing a penalty for the violation of the provisions hereof.

§ 1. Unlawful to force employee to patronize employer. It shall be unlawful for any employer of labor, or any officer, agent or employee of any employer of labor to make, adopt or enforce any rule or regulation compelling or coercing any employee to patronize said employer, or any other person, firm or corporation, in the purchase of any thing of value; provided, however, that nothing herein shall be interpreted as prohibiting any employer of labor from prescribing the weight, color, quality, texture, style, form and make of uniforms required to be worn by their employees.

§ 2. Penalty. Any person, whether as an individual, or as an agent or employee of a firm, or as an officer, agent or employee of a corporation, who shall violate any of the provisions of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

An act to provide for the furnishing by public utility corporations, to employees thereof leaving their service, of service letters.

[Approved June 1, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1520. In effect July 31, 1917.]

§ 1. Service letters by public utility corporations. Every public utility corporation shall, upon request therefor made to it by any employee thereof leaving its service, give to such employee a letter covering and stating the period during which such service was and kind of service rendered to such corporation by such employee.

§ 2. Penalty. Every public utility corporation violating the provisions of this act shall, for each offense, suffer a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars, nor more than one hundred dollars; which fine shall be collected by the district attorney of the county in which such corporation has its principal place of business.

An act to forbid managers, superintendents, foremen and other persons having authority from their respective employers to hire, employ, or direct the services of other persons in such employments, to demand or receive any fee, gift or other remuneration in consideration of any such hiring, employment or permission to continue to perform work or services in such employment; and to provide for the enforcement of this act by the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics. [Approved April 12, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 61.]

Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 257.

See post, Act 2143d.

ACT 2140e.

An act to require employers to pay the cost of bonds and photographs required of and furnished by employees or applicants for employment.

[Approved April 20, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 151. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Employer must pay for bond or photograph. Whenever a bond or photograph of an employee or applicant for employment is required by any employer of labor, said employer shall pay the cost of such bond or photograph.

§ 2. Penalty. Any person violating any provision of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine not less than twenty-five dollars nor exceeding five hundred dollars.

§ 3. Enforcement. The commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics of the state of California shall enforce the provisions of this act.

ACT 2141b.

An act regulating the sanitation and ventilation in and at camps where five or more persons are employed; and providing a penalty for the violation thereof.

[Approved May 29, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 328.]

Amended 1915, p. 497; 1919, p. 244.

The amendments of 1919 follow:

§ 1. Camps to be kept clean. In or at any camp where five or more persons are employed, bunkhouses, tents or other suitable sleeping places must be provided for all the employees. Such bunkhouses, tents or other sleeping places must be in good structural condition, and so constructed as to provide shelter to the occupants against the elements and so as to exclude dampness in inclement weather. The bunkhouses, tents and other sleeping places shall be kept in a cleanly state, and free from vermin and matter of an infectious and contagious nature, and the grounds around such bunkhouses, tents or other sleeping places shall be kept clean and free from accumulation of dirt, filth, garbage, and other deleterious matter. [Amendment approved May 5, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 245.]

§ 2. Air space in bunkhouse. Bunks. Every bunkhouse, tent or other sleeping place used for the purpose of a lodging or sleeping apartment in such camp, shall contain sufficient air space to insure an adequate supply of fresh air for each person occupying such bunkhouse, tent or other sleeping place. Suitable bunks or beds shall be provided for all employees. Such bunks or beds shall be made of steel, canvas or other sanitary material, and shall be so constructed as to afford reasonable comfort to the persons occupying the same. [Amendment approved May 5, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 245.]

§ 4. Bathing facilities. Toilet facilities. For every such camp there shall be provided convenient and suitable bathing facilities of a reasonable nature to suit conditions, which shall be kept in a clean and sanitary condition. For every such camp there shall be provided convenient and suitable privy or other toilet facilities, which shall be kept in a clean and sanitary state. A privy other than a water-closet shall consist of a pit at least two feet deep, with suitable shelter over the same, and the openings of the shelter and pit shall be inclosed by screening or other suitable fly netting. No privy pit shall be filled with excreta to nearer than one foot from the surface of the ground and the excreta in the pit shall be covered with earth, ashes, lime or other similar substance. [Amendment approved May 5, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 245.]

§ 5. Garbage disposal. All garbage, kitchen wastes and other rubbish in such camp shall be deposited in suitable covered receptacles which shall be emptied daily or oftener if necessary, and the contents burned, buried or otherwise disposed of in such a way as not to be or become offensive or insanitary. All drainage from the kitchen sink shall be carried through a covered drain to a covered cesspool or septic tank or otherwise disposed of in such a way as not to become offensive or insanitary. [Amendment approved May 5, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 245.]

§ 6. Duty of employees. It shall be the duty of any person, firm, corporation, agent or officer of a firm or corporation employing persons to work in or at camps to which the provisions of this act apply and the superintendent or overseer in charge of the work in or at such camps to carry out the provisions of this act. At every such camp such owner, superintendent or overseer shall appoint a responsible person to assist in keeping the camp clean. [Amendment approved May 5, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 246.]

An act to provide for semi-monthly pay days of laborers in the employ of any county of the first or second class.

[Approved May 22, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 800. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Semi-monthly pay days of county employees. The wages of all employees of any county of the first or second class, whose compensation is based on a daily rate of payment, shall be paid at not less than two stated times in each calendar month, and at substantially equal intervals.

§ 2. Penalty for violation. Any officer, employer or agent of any county of the first or second class, or of any department or institution thereof, who fails, refuses or neglects to comply with the requirements of this act, in so far as the payments are prescribed or controlled by him, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

An act to regulate the payment of wages or compensation for labor or service in private employments, establishing regular pay days, providing penalties for the violation of its provisions, authorizing the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics to enforce this act, defining the duties of district attorneys relative to its enforcement, providing for the collection of certain penalties by civil action at the direction of said commissioner and for the disposition of penalties so collected; repealing an act entitled "An act providing for the time of payment of wages," approved May 1, 1911, as amended April 28, 1915, and repealing an act entitled "An act to regulate the payment of wages or compensation of employees in private employments; to provide for regular pay days in such employments; providing a penalty for the violation thereof; and authorizing the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics to enforce the provisions of this act," approved June 8, 1915.

§ 1. Wages of discharged employee. Whenever an employer discharges an employee, the wages or compensation for labor or service earned and unpaid at the time of such discharge shall become due and payable immediately. Whenever an employee not having a written contract for a definite period quits or resigns his employment, the wages or compensation shall become due and payable not later than seventy-two hours thereafter, unless such employee shall have given seventy-two hours previous notice of his intention to quit, in which latter case such employee shall be entitled to his wages or compensation at the time of quitting.

§ 2. Wages due semi-monthly. Exceptions. All wages or compensation other than those mentioned in section one of this act earned by any person in any employment not exempt by section eleven of this act, shall become due and payable semi-monthly or twice during each calendar month, on days to be designated in advance by the employer as the regular pay days; provided, however, that services rendered between the first and fifteenth days, inclusive, of any calendar month shall be paid for between the sixteenth and the twenty-sixth day of the month during which services were rendered, and for all services rendered between the sixteenth and the last day, inclusive, of any calendar month, said services shall be paid for between the first and tenth day of the following month; provided, however, that in agricultural, viticultural and horticultural pursuits, in stock or poultry raising, and in household domestic service, and when the employees in the said employments are boarded and lodged by the employer, the wages or compensation due any employee remaining in such employment shall become due and payable monthly or once in each calendar month, on a day designated in advance by the employer as the regular pay day, but no two successive such pay days to be more than thirty-one days apart, and the payment or settlement shall include all amounts due for labor or service up to the regular pay day.

§ 3. What wages shall include. The wages or compensation subject to the provisions of this act shall include all amounts for labor or service performed by employees of every description, whether the amount is fixed or ascertained by the standard of time, task, piece, or other method of calculating the same, or whether the labor or service is performed under contract, subcontract, partnership, subpartnership, station plan, or other agreement for the performance of labor or service; provided, that the labor or service to be paid for is performed personally by the person demanding payment. Nothing contained in this act shall in any way limit or prohibit the payment of wages or compensation at more frequent intervals, or in greater amounts, or in full when or before due.

§ 4. Notice of time and place of payment. In case of strike. Every employer shall post and keep posted conspicuously at the place of work, if practicable, or otherwise where it can be seen as employees come or go to their place of work, or at the office or nearest agency for payment kept by the employer, a notice specifying the regular pay days and the time and place of payment, also any changes in those regards occurring from time to time. Every employee who is discharged shall be paid at the place of discharge, and every employee who quits or resigns shall be paid at the office or agency of the employer in the county or city and county where such employee has been performing the labor or service for the employer. All payments of money or compensation shall be made in the manner provided by law. In the happening of any strike, the unpaid wages or compensation earned by such striking employees shall become due and payable on the employer's next regular pay day, and the payment or settlement shall include all amounts due such striking employees without abatement or reduction, and the employer shall return to each such striking employee any deposit or money or other guaranty required by him from such employee for the faithful performance of the duties of the employment. Any violation of the provisions of this section shall be punishable as for a misdemeanor, and any failure to post any notice as in this section prescribed shall be deemed prima facie evidence of a violation of this act.

§ 5. Failure of employer to pay. In the event that an employer shall willfully fail to pay, without abatement or reduction, any wages or compensation of any employee who is discharged or who resigns or quits, as in section one of this act provided, then as a penalty for such nonpayment the wages or compensation of such employees shall continue from the due date thereof at the same rate until paid, or until an action therefor shall be commenced; provided, that in no case shall such wages continue for more than thirty days; and provided, further, that no such employee who secretes or absents himself to avoid payment to him or who refuses to receive the payment when fully tendered to him, including any penalty then accrued under the provisions of this section, shall be entitled to any benefit under this act for each time as he so avoids payment.

§ 6. Refusal of employer to pay. Any person, firm, association, or corporation, or agent, manager, superintendent, or officer thereof, who having the ability to pay, shall willfully refuse to pay the wages due and payable when demanded, as herein provided, or falsely deny the amount or validity thereof, or that the same is due, with intent to secure for himself, his employer or other person, any discount upon such indebtedness, or with intent to annoy, harass, or oppress, or hinder, or delay, or defraud, the person to whom such indebtedness is due, shall, in addition to any other penalty imposed upon him by this act, be guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 7. Enforcement by bureau of labor statistics. It shall be the duty of the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics to inquire diligently for any violations of this act, and to institute the actions for penalties herein provided, and to enforce generally the provisions of this act.

§ 8. Enforcement by district attorney. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to limit the authority of the district attorney of any county or city and county to prosecute actions, both civil and criminal, for such violations of this act as may come to his knowledge, or to enforce the provisions hereof independently and without specific direction of the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics.

§ 9. Constitutionality. If any section, sentence, clause, or part of this act, is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, sentence, clause, or part thereof, irrespective of the fact that one or more sections, sentences, clauses, or parts be declared unconstitutional.

§ 10. Public employment excepted. Nothing in this act shall apply to the payment of wages or compensation of employees directly employed by any county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or other municipal corporation. Nor shall anything herein apply to employees directly employed by the state, any department, bureau, office, board, commission, or institution thereof. All other employments shall for the purposes of this act be deemed private employments and subject to the provisions hereof.

§ 11. Acts, Stats. 1911, p. 1268, Stats. 1915, p. 299, and Stats. 1915, p. 1292, repealed. An act entitled "An act providing for the time of payment of wages," approved May 1, 1911, as amended April 28, 1915; and an act entitled "An act to regulate the payment of wages or compensation of employees in private employments; providing a penalty for the violation thereof; and authorizing the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics to enforce the provisions of this act," approved June 8, 1915, are hereby repealed; but such repeal shall not affect any prosecution or action for the violation of either of said acts commenced within the time allowed by the statute of limitations of actions.

An act to promote the comfort, health, safety and general welfare of the people of this state as affected by injury causing the disability or death of employees in the course of their employment, providing for a complete plan of workmen's compensation by creating a liability on the part of immediate employers, principal employers, contracting employers and their insurance carriers to compensate employees and their dependants for such disability or death, irrespective of the fault of any party, providing the means and methods of enforcing such liability and providing for certain liens upon compensations; and regulating compensation insurance coverage against such liability, securing the payment of compensation and confirming the establishment and transactions of the state compensation insurance fund; and requiring safety in all employments and places of employment in this state and providing the means and methods of enforcing such safety; and requiring reports of industrial injuries; and providing penalties for offenses, as defined herein, by employers, their officers and agents, and by employees and other persons and corporations; and defining the powers and duties of the industrial accident commission under this act, and providing for a review of its orders, decisions and awards; and repealing sections two, twelve, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen, eighteen, nineteen, twenty, twenty-one, twenty-two, twenty-three, twenty-four, twenty-five, twenty-six, twenty-seven, twenty-eight, twenty-nine, thirty, thirty-one, thirty-two, thirty-three, thirty-four, thirty-five, fifty-one, fifty-two, fifty-three, fifty-four, fifty-five, fifty-six, fifty-seven, fifty-eight, fifty-nine, sixty, sixty-one, sixty-two, sixty-three, sixty-four, sixty-five, sixty-six, sixty-seven, sixty-eight, sixty-nine, seventy, seventy-one, seventy-two, seventy-three, seventy-four, seventy-five, seventy-five a, seventy-six, seventy-seven, seventy-eight, seventy-nine, eighty, eighty-one, eighty-two, eighty-three, eighty-four, eighty-five, eighty-six and eighty-seven of chapter one hundred seventy-six, Statutes of 1913, and all other acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith, except sections one, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven, thirty-six, thirty-seven, thirty-eight, thirty-nine, forty, forty-one, forty-two, forty-three, forty-four, forty-five, forty-six, forty-seven, forty-eight, forty-nine, fifty, eighty-eight and ninety of said chapter one hundred seventy-six, Statutes of 1913.

[Approved May 23, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 831. In effect January 1, 1918.]

§ 1. Intention of act. Social public policy of state declared. This act and each and every part thereof is an expression of the police power and is also intended to make effective and apply to a complete system of workmen's compensation the provisions of section seventeen and one-half of article twenty and section twenty-one of article twenty of the constitution of the state of California. A complete system of workmen's compensation includes adequate provision for the comfort, health, safety and general welfare of any and all employees and those dependent upon them for support to the extent of relieving from the consequences of any injury incurred by employees in the course of their employment, irrespective of the fault of any party; also full provision for securing safety in places of employment, full provision for such medical, surgical, hospital and other remedial treatment as is requisite to cure and relieve from the effects of such injury, full provision for adequate insurance coverage against the liability to pay or furnish compensation, full provision for regulating such insurance coverage in all its aspects including the establishment and management of a state compensation insurance fund, full provision for otherwise securing the payment of compensation, and full provision for vesting power, authority and jurisdiction in an administrative body with all the requisite governmental functions to determine any matter arising under this act to the end that the administration of this act shall accomplish substantial justice in all cases expeditiously, inexpensively and without encumbrance of any character; all of which matters contained in this section are expressly declared to be the social public policy of this state, binding upon all departments of the state government.

§ 2. Title. This act shall be known and may be cited as the "workmen's compensation, insurance and safety act of 1917" and shall apply to the subjects mentioned in its title.

§ 3. Definitions. The following terms as used in this act shall, unless a different meaning is plainly required by the context, be construed as follows:

(1) "Commission." The term "commission" means the industrial accident commission of the state of California created under the provisions of chapter one hundred seventy-six of the laws of 1913.

(2) "Commissioner." The term "commissioner" means one of the members of the commission.

(3) "Compensation." The term "compensation" means compensation under this act and includes every benefit or payment conferred by sections six to thirty-one, inclusive, of this act upon an injured employee, or in the event of his death, upon his dependents, without regard to negligence.

(4) "Injury." The term "injury," as used in this act, shall include any injury or disease arising out of the employment including injuries to artificial members. In case of aggravation of any disease existing prior to such injury, compensation shall be allowed only for such proportion of the disability due to the aggravation of such prior disease as may reasonably be attributed to the injury.

(5) "Damages." The term "damages" means the recovery allowed in an action at law as contrasted with compensation under this act.

(6) "Person." The term "person" includes an individual, firm, voluntary association, or a public, quasi-public or private corporation.

(7) "Insurance carrier." The term "insurance carrier" includes the state compensation insurance fund and any private company, corporation, mutual association, reciprocal or interinsurance exchange authorized under the laws of this state to insure employers against liability for compensation under this act and any employer to whom a certificate of consent to self-insure has been issued.

(8) Singular and plural. Whenever in this act the singular is used, the plural shall be included; where the masculine gender is used, the feminine and neuter shall be included. [Amendment approved May 22, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 911.]

§ 4. Assistant to attorney. The commission shall have power and authority to appoint an assistant to its attorney, who shall be an attorney at law of this state, and who shall hold office at the pleasure of the commission. It shall be the right and duty of such assistant attorney to perform any of the duties of the attorney of the commission under the direction of the commission or its attorney.

§ 5. Powers and duties. Said commission is hereby vested with full power, authority and jurisdiction under the provisions of this act and charged with the duties defined by the provisions of this act in addition to all other power, authority, jurisdiction and duties conferred upon it and exercised by it as heretofore created, constituted and existing.

§ 6a. Employer's liability. Misconduct of injured employee. (a) Liability for the compensation provided by this act, in lieu of any other liability whatsoever to any person, shall, without regard to negligence, exist against an employer for an injury sustained by his employees arising out of and in the course of the employment and for the death of any such employee if the injury shall proximately cause death, in those cases where the following conditions of compensation concur:

(1) Where, at the time of the injury, both the employer and employee are subject to the compensation provisions of this act.

(2) Where, at the time of the injury, the employee is performing service growing out of and incidental to his employment and is acting within the course of his employment.

(3) Where the injury is proximately caused by the employment, either with or without negligence, and is not caused by the intoxication of the injured employee, or is not intentionally self-inflicted.

(4) Where the injury is caused by the serious and willful misconduct of the injured employee, the compensation otherwise recoverable by him shall be reduced one-half; provided, however, that such misconduct of the employee shall not be a defense to the claim of the dependents of said employee, if the injury results in death, or to the claim of the employee, if the injury results in a permanent partial disability equaling or in excess of seventy per cent of total; and provided, further, that such misconduct of said employee shall not be a defense where his injury is caused by the failure of the employer to comply with any provision of law, or any safety order of the commission, with reference to the safety of places of employment; and provided, further, that in case of an injury suffered by an employee under sixteen years of age, it shall be conclusively presumed that such injury was not caused by serious and willful misconduct.

(b) Recovery of compensation. Where such conditions of compensation exist, the right to recover such compensation, pursuant to the provisions of this act, shall be the exclusive remedy against the employer for the injury or death; provided, that where the employee is injured by reason of the serious and willful misconduct of the employer, or his managing representative, or if the employer be a partnership, on the part of one of the partners, or if a corporation, on the part of an executive or managing officer or general superintendent thereof, the amount of compensation otherwise recoverable for injury or death, as hereinafter provided, shall be increased one-half, any of the provisions of this act as to maximum payments or otherwise to the contrary notwithstanding; provided, however, that said increase of award shall in no event exceed two thousand five hundred dollars.

(c) Liability. In all other cases where the conditions of compensation do not concur, the liability of the employer shall be the same as if this act had not been passed. [Amendment approved May 22, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 912.]

§ 7. "Employer." The term "employer" as used in sections six to thirty-one, inclusive, of this act shall be construed to mean: The state, and each county, city and county, city, school district, irrigation district, all other districts established by law, and all public corporations and quasi-public corporations and public agencies therein, and every person, firm, voluntary association, and private corporation, including any public service corporation, who has any person in service under any appointment or contract of hire, or apprenticeship, express or implied, oral or written, and the legal representative of any deceased employer. [Amendment approved May 22, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 913.]

§ 8. "Employee." (a) The term "employee" as used in section six to thirty-one, inclusive, of this act shall be construed to mean: Every person in the service of an employer as defined by section seven hereof under any appointment or contract of hire or apprenticeship, express or implied, oral or written, including aliens, and also including minors, whether lawfully or unlawfully employed, and all elected and appointed paid public officers, and all officers and members of boards of directors of quasi-public or private corporations, while rendering actual service for such corporations for pay, but excluding any person whose employment is both casual and not in the course of the trade, business, profession or occupation of his employer, and also excluding any employee engaged in household domestic service, farm, dairy, agricultural, viticultural or horticultural labor, in stock or poultry raising and any person holding an appointment as deputy clerk, deputy sheriff or deputy constable appointed for the convenience of such appointee, who receives no compensation from the county or municipal corporation or from the citizens thereof for services as such deputy; provided, that such last exclusion shall not deprive any person so deputized from recourse against any private person employing him for injury occurring in the course of and arising out of such employment.

(b) "Independent contractor." Partner receiving wages. Any person rendering service for another, other than as an independent contractor, or as expressly excluded herein, is presumed to be an employee within the meaning of this act. The term "independent contractor" shall be taken to mean, for the purposes of this act: Any person who renders service, other than manual labor, for a specified recompense for a specified result, under the control of his principal as to the result of his work only and not as to the means by which such result is accomplished. A working member of a partnership receiving wages irrespective of profits from such partnership shall be deemed an employee within the meaning of this section.

(c) "Casual." The term "casual" as used in this section shall be taken to refer only to employments where the work contemplated is to be completed in not exceeding ten working days, without regard to the number of men employed, and where the total labor cost of such work is less than one hundred dollars. The phrase "course of the trade, business, profession or occupation of his employer" shall be taken to include all services tending toward the preservation, maintenance or operation of the business, business premises or business property of the employer. The words "trade, business, profession or occupation of his employer" shall be taken to include any undertaking actually engaged in by him with some degree of regularity, the trade name, articles of incorporation or principal business of the employer to the contrary notwithstanding.

(d) Watchmen. Watchmen for nonindustrial establishments, paid by subscription by several persons, shall not be held to be employees within the meaning of this act. In other cases where watchmen, paid by subscription by several persons, have at the time of the injury sustained by them taken out and maintained in full force and effect insurance upon themselves as self-employing persons conferring benefits equal to those conferred by this act, the employer shall not be liable under this act.

(e) Employees of state, etc. It shall not be a defense to the state, or any political subdivision or institution thereof, or public or quasi-public corporation, that a person injured while rendering service for it was not lawfully employed by reason of the violation of any civil service or other law, rule, or regulation respecting the hiring of employees.

(f) Workmen under partnership agreement. Workmen associating themselves under a partnership agreement, the principal purpose of which is the performance of the labor on a particular piece of work, shall be deemed employees of the person having such work executed, and, in the event the average weekly earnings are not otherwise ascertainable, shall be deemed to be employed at an average weekly wage of twelve dollars; provided, however, that if such workmen shall have taken out and maintained in full force and effect insurance, in an insurance carrier as defined in this act, insuring to themselves and all persons employed by them benefits identical with those conferred by this act, the person for whom such work is to be done shall not be liable as an employer under this act.

§ 9. Medical treatment. Change of physicians. Employer maintaining hospital staff. Where liability for compensation under this act exists, such compensation shall be furnished or paid by the employer and be as provided in the following schedule:

(a) Such medical, surgical and hospital treatment, including nursing, medicines, medical and surgical supplies, crutches and apparatus, including artificial members, as may reasonably be required to cure and relieve from the effects of the injury, the same to be provided by the employer, and in case of his neglect or refusal seasonably to do so, the employer to be liable for the reasonable expense incurred by or on behalf of the employee in providing the same; provided, that if the employee so requests, the employer shall tender him one change of physicians and shall nominate at least three additional practicing physicians competent to treat the particular case, or as many as may be available if three cannot reasonably be named, from whom the employee may choose; the employee shall also be entitled, in any serious case, upon request, to the services of a consulting physician to be provided by the employer; all of said treatment to be at the expense of the employer. If the employee so requests, the employer must procure certification by the commission or a commissioner of the competency for the particular case of the consulting or additional physicians; provided, further, that the foregoing provisions regarding a change of physicians shall not apply to those cases where the employer maintains, for his own employees, a hospital and hospital staff, the adequacy and competency of which have been approved by the commission. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to limit the right of the employee to provide, in any case, at his own expense, a consulting physician or any attending physicians whom he may desire. Controversies between employer and employee, arising under this section, shall be determined by the commission, upon the request of either party.

(b) Time of disability payments. If the injury causes temporary disability, a disability payment which shall be payable for one week in advance as wages on the eighth day after the injured employee leaves work as a result of the injury. If the injury causes permanent disability, a disability payment which shall be payable for one week in advance as wages on the eighth day after the injury. Such indemnity shall thereafter be payable on the employer's regular pay day, but not less frequently than twice in each calendar month, unless otherwise ordered by the commission, subject, however, to the following limitations:

(1) Disability less than seven days. If the period of disability does not last longer than seven days from the day the employee leaves work as the result of the injury, no disability payment whatever shall be recoverable.

(2) Disability more than seven days. If the period of disability lasts longer than seven days from the day the employee leaves work as the result of the injury, no disability payment shall be recoverable for the first seven days of disability suffered.

2. Amount of disability payments. The disability payment shall be as follows:

(1) Temporary disability. If the injury causes temporary total disability, sixty-five per cent of the average weekly earnings during the period of such disability, consideration being given to the ability of the injured employee to compete in an open labor market;

(2) Same. If the injury causes temporary partial disability, sixty-five per cent of the weekly loss in wages during the period of such disability;

(3) Same. If the temporary disability caused by the injury is at times total and at times partial the weekly disability payment during the period of each such total or partial disability shall be in accordance with paragraphs one and two of this subdivision respectively;

(4) Aggregate disability payments. Paragraphs one, two, and three of this subdivision shall be limited as follows: Aggregate disability payments for a single injury causing temporary disability shall not exceed three times the average annual earnings of the employee, nor shall the aggregate disability period for such temporary disability in any event extend beyond two hundred forty weeks from the date of the injury.

(5) Computation of payments when disability permanent. If the injury causes permanent disability, the percentage of disability to total disability shall be determined and the disability payment computed and allowed as follows: For a one per cent disability, sixty-five per cent of the average weekly earnings for a period of four weeks; for a ten per cent disability, sixty-five per cent of the average weekly earnings for a period of forty weeks; for a twenty per cent disability, sixty-five per cent of the average weekly earnings for a period of eighty weeks; for a thirty per cent disability, sixty-five per cent of the average weekly earnings for a period of one hundred twenty weeks; for a forty per cent disability, sixty-five per cent of the average weekly earnings for a period of one hundred sixty weeks; for a fifty per cent disability, sixty-five per cent of the average weekly earnings for a period of two hundred weeks; for a sixty per cent disability, sixty-five per cent of the average weekly earnings for a period of two hundred forty weeks; for a seventy per cent disability, sixty-five per cent of the average weekly earnings for a period of two hundred forty weeks, and thereafter ten per cent of such weekly earnings during the remainder of life; for an eighty per cent disability, sixty-five per cent of the average weekly earnings for a period of two hundred forty weeks and thereafter twenty per cent of such weekly earnings during the remainder of life; for a ninety per cent disability, sixty-five per cent of the average weekly earnings for a period of two hundred forty weeks and thereafter thirty per cent of such weekly earnings during the remainder of life; for a hundred per cent disability, sixty-five per cent of the average weekly earnings for a period of two hundred forty weeks and thereafter forty per cent of such weekly earnings during the remainder of life.

(6) Same. The payment for permanent disabilities intermediate to those fixed by the foregoing schedule shall be computed and allowed as follows: If under seventy per cent, sixty-five per cent of the average weekly earnings for four weeks for each one per cent of disability; if seventy per cent or over, sixty-five per cent of the average weekly earnings for two hundred forty weeks, and thereafter one per cent of such weekly earnings for each one per cent of disability in excess of sixty per cent to be paid during the remainder of life.

(7) Same. In determining the percentages of permanent disability, account shall be taken of the nature of the physical injury or disfigurement, the occupation of the injured employee, and his age at the time of such injury, consideration being given to the diminished ability of such injured employee to compete in an open labor market.

(8) Only one payment. Where an injury causes both temporary and permanent disability, the injured employee shall not be entitled to both a temporary and permanent disability payment, but only to the greater of the two.

(9) Permanent disabilities presumed to be total. The following permanent disabilities shall be conclusively presumed to be total in character: Loss of both eyes or the sight thereof; loss of both hands or the use thereof; an injury resulting in a practically total paralysis; an injury to the brain resulting in incurable imbecility or insanity. In all other cases, permanent total disability shall be determined in accordance with the fact.

(10) Computation of percentage of permanent disability. The percentage of permanent disability caused by any injury shall be so computed as to cover the permanent disability caused by that particular injury without reference to any injury previously suffered or any permanent disability caused thereby.

(11) Schedule for determination of permanent disabilities. The commission may prepare, adopt, and from time to time amend, a schedule for the determination of the percentages of permanent disabilities, such table to be based upon the proper combinations of the factors indicated in subdivision seven above. Such schedule shall be available for public inspection and without formal introduction in evidence shall be prima facie evidence of the percentage of permanent disability to be attributed to each injury covered by said schedule.

3. Death of injured employee. The death of an injured employee shall not affect the liability of the employer under subsections (a) and (b) of this section, so far as such liability has accrued and become payable at the date of the death, and any accrued and unpaid compensation shall be paid to the dependents, if any, or, if there are no dependents, to the personal representative of the deceased employee or heirs or other persons entitled thereto, without administration, but such death shall be deemed to be the termination of the disability.

(c) Death benefits. If the injury causes death, either with or without disability, the burial expense of the deceased employee as hereinafter limited and a death benefit which shall be payable in installments equal to sixty-five per cent of the average weekly earnings of the deceased employee, upon the employer's regular pay day, but not less frequently than twice in each calendar month, unless otherwise ordered by the commission, which death benefit shall be as follows:

(1) If deceased employee leaves dependents. In case the deceased employee leaves a person or persons wholly dependent upon him for support, such dependents shall be allowed the reasonable expense of his burial, not exceeding one hundred dollars, and a death benefit, which shall be a sum sufficient, when added to the disability indemnity which at the time of death has accrued and become payable, under the provisions of subsection (b) hereof, and the said burial expense, to make the total disability indemnity, cost of burial and death benefit equal to three times his average annual earnings, such average annual earnings to be taken at not less than three hundred thirty-three dollars and thirty-three cents nor more than one thousand six hundred sixty-six dollars and sixty-six cents.

(2) If employee leaves persons partially dependent. In case the deceased employee leaves no person wholly dependent upon him for support, but one or more persons partially dependent therefor, the said dependents shall be allowed the reasonable expense of his burial, not to exceed one hundred dollars, and, in addition thereto, a death benefit which shall amount to three times the annual amount devoted by the deceased to the support of the person or persons so partially dependent; provided, that the death benefit shall not be greater than a sum sufficient, when added to the disability indemnity which, at the time of the death, has accrued and become payable under the provisions of subsection (b) hereof, together with the cost of the burial of such deceased employee, to make the total disability indemnity, cost of burial and death benefit equal to three times his average annual earnings, such average annual earnings to be taken at not less than three hundred thirty-three dollars and thirty-three cents nor more than one thousand six hundred sixty-six dollars and sixty-six cents.

(3) If no dependents. If the deceased employee leaves no person dependent upon him for support, the death benefit shall consist of the reasonable expense of his burial, not exceeding one hundred dollars and such other benefit as may be provided by law.

(d) Payments discharge employer. Payment of compensation in accordance with the order and direction of the commission shall discharge the employer from all claims therefor. [Amendment approved May 22, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 913.]

§ 10. Inspection of hospital facilities. Reports of receipts, etc. Facilities declared inadequate. The commission shall have power to inspect and determine the adequacy of hospitals and hospital facilities supplied by employers or by mutual associations of employees, with or without the concurrence of the employer, for the treatment of injuries coming within the provisions of this act. No part of any contribution paid by employees or deducted from their wages for the maintenance of such hospital facilities shall be devoted to the payment of any portion of the cost of providing compensation prescribed by this act. Nothing contained in this section shall be taken to prevent any hospital association or medical department furnishing the treatment prescribed in this act free of charge to employees. Every such hospital shall make to the commission from time to time, upon demand, but not less frequently than once a year, reports of receipts, disbursements and services rendered to or for employees. If in the judgment of the commission the services or equipment of any hospital are inadequate to meet the reasonable requirements of medical treatment contemplated in section 9 (a) of this act, the commission may, after notice and an opportunity to be heard, declare such facilities to be inadequate and thereafter injured employees of such employer may procure treatment elsewhere, and the reasonable cost thereof shall be a charge against such employer under said section 9 (a). Any finding of the commission after such notice, determining the fact of such inadequacy, shall be conclusive evidence in any proceeding for compensation of the fact of such inadequacy during the period covered by such finding. Such finding of inadequacy may be amended, modified or rescinded by the commission at any time upon good cause appearing therefor.

§ 11. Right to institute proceedings barred, when. (a) Unless compensation is paid or an agreement for its payment made within the time limited in this section for the institution of proceedings for its collection, the right to institute such proceedings shall be barred; provided, that the filing of an application with the commission for any portion of the benefits prescribed by this act shall render this section inoperative as to all further claims of any person or persons for compensation arising from the same transaction, and the right to present such further claims shall be governed by the provisions of section twenty (d) and section sixty-five (b) of this act.

(b) Periods within which proceedings for collection may be commenced. The periods within which proceedings for the collection of compensation may be commenced are as follows:

(1) Proceedings for the collection of the benefit provided by subsection (a) of section 9 or for the collection of the disability payment provided by subsection (b) of said section 9 must be commenced within six months from the date of the injury, except as otherwise provided in this act.

(2) Proceedings for the collection of the death benefit provided by subsection (c) of said section 9 must be commenced within one year from the date of death, and in any event within two hundred forty weeks from the date of the injury, and can only be maintained when it appears that death ensued within one year from the date of the injury, or that the injury causing death also caused disability which continued to the date of the death and for which a disability payment was made, or an agreement for its payment made, or proceedings for its collection commenced within the time limited for the commencement of proceedings for the recovery of the disability payment.

(c) The payment of compensation, or any part thereof, or agreement therefor, shall have the effect of extending the period within which proceedings for its collection may be commenced, six months from the date of the agreement or last payment of such compensation, or any part thereof, or the expiration of the period covered by any such payment; provided, however, that nothing contained in this section shall be construed to bar the right of any injured employee to institute proceedings for the collection of compensation within two hundred forty-five weeks after the date of the injury upon the grounds that the original injury has caused new and further disability; and the jurisdiction of the commission, in such cases, shall be a continuing jurisdiction at all times within such period; provided, further, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to an employee who is totally disabled and bed-ridden as a result of his injury, during the continuance of such condition or until the expiration of six months thereafter.

(d) Guardian for minor or incompetent. If an injured employee, or in the case of his death, one or more of his dependents, shall be under twenty-one years of age or incompetent at any time when any right or privilege accrues to such person under the provisions of this act, a general guardian, appointed by the court, or a guardian ad litem or trustee appointed by the commission or a commissioner may, on behalf of any such person, claim and exercise any such right or privilege with the same force and effect as if no such disability existed; and no limitation of time provided by this act shall run against any such person under twenty-one years of age or incompetent unless and until such guardian or trustee is appointed. The commission shall have power to determine the fact of the minority or incompetency of any injured employee and may appoint a trustee to receive and disburse compensation payments for the benefit of such minor or incompetent and his family.

(e) Refusal to submit to medical treatment. No compensation shall be payable in case of the death or disability of an employee if his death is caused, or if and so far as his disability is caused, continued, or aggravated, by an unreasonable refusal to submit to medical treatment, or to any surgical treatment, the risk of which is, in the opinion of the commission, based upon expert medical or surgical advice, inconsiderable in view of the seriousness of the injury.

(f) Previous disability does not affect later disability. The fact that an employee has suffered a previous disability, or receives compensation therefor, shall not preclude him from compensation for a later injury, or his dependents from compensation for death resulting therefrom, but in determining compensation for the later injury, or death resulting therefrom, his average annual earnings shall be fixed at such sum as will reasonably represent his annual earning capacity at the time of the later injury.

(g) Payments not due employee. Any payment, allowance or benefit received by the injured employee during the period of his incapacity, or by his dependents in the event of his death, which by the terms of this act was not then due and payable or when there is any dispute or question concerning the right to compensation, shall not, in the absence of any agreement, be construed to be an admission of liability for compensation on the part of the employer, or the acceptance thereof as a waiver of any right or claim which the employee or his dependents may have against the employer, but any such payment, allowance or benefit may be taken into account by the commission in fixing the amount of the compensation to be paid.

(h) Affirmative defense. The running of the period of limitations prescribed by this section is an affirmative defense and operates to bar the remedy and not to extinguish the right of the employee. It may be waived, and failure to present such defense prior to the submission of the cause for decision shall be a sufficient waiver.

§ 12. Average annual earnings. (a) The average annual earnings referred to in section 9 hereof shall be fifty-two times the average weekly earnings referred to in said section; in computing such earnings the average weekly earnings shall be taken at not less than six dollars and forty-one cents nor more than thirty-two dollars and five cents, and three times the average annual earnings shall be taken at not less than one thousand dollars nor more than five thousand dollars, and between said limits said average weekly earnings shall be arrived at as follows:

(1) Average weekly earnings. If the injured employee has worked in the same employment, whether for the same employer or not, during at least two hundred sixty days of the year preceding his injury, his average weekly earnings shall consist of ninety-five per cent of six times the daily earnings at the time of such injury where the employment is for six full working days a week. Where his employment is for five, five and one-half, six and one-half or seven working days a week, the average weekly earnings shall be ninety-five per cent of five, five and one-half, six and one-half or seven times the daily earnings at the time of the injury, as the case may be.

(2) If the injured employee has not so worked in such employment during at least two hundred sixty days of such preceding year, his average weekly earnings shall be based upon the daily earnings, wage or salary of an employee of the same class working at least two hundred sixty days of such preceding year in the same or a similar kind of employment in the same or a neighboring place, computed in accordance with the provisions of the preceding subdivision.

(3) If earnings be irregular. If the earnings be irregular or specified to be by the week, month, or other period, then the average weekly earnings mentioned in subdivisions (1) and (2) above shall be ninety-five per cent of the average earnings during such period of time, not exceeding one year, as may conveniently be taken to determine an average weekly rate of pay.

(4) When less than five days or seasonal. Where the employment is for less than five days per week or is seasonal or where for any reason the foregoing methods of arriving at the average weekly earnings of the injured employee can not reasonably and fairly be applied, such average weekly earnings shall be taken at ninety-five per cent of such sum as shall reasonably represent the average weekly earning capacity of the injured employee at the time of his injury, due consideration being given to his actual earnings from all sources and employments during the year preceding his injury; provided, that the earnings from other occupations shall not be allowed in excess of the rate of wages paid at the time of the injury.

(b) Overtime, board, etc. In determining such average weekly earnings, there shall be included overtime and the market value of board, lodging, fuel, and other advantages received by the injured employee, as part of his remuneration, which can be estimated in money, but such average weekly earnings shall not include any sum which the employer may pay to the injured employee to cover any special expenses entailed on him by the nature of his employment.

(c) If injured employee is under twenty-one. If the injured employee is under twenty-one years of age, and his incapacity is permanent, his average weekly earnings shall be deemed, within the limits fixed, to be the weekly sum that under ordinary circumstances he would probably be able to earn after attaining the age of twenty-one years, in the occupation in which he was employed at the time of the injury or in any occupation to which he would reasonably have been promoted if he had not been injured, and if such probable earnings after attaining the age of twenty-one years can not reasonably be determined, such average weekly earnings shall be based upon three dollars a day for a six-day week.

§ 13. Weekly loss in wages in case of temporary partial disability. The weekly loss in wages in case of temporary partial disability shall consist of the difference between the average weekly earnings of the injured employee, computed according to the provisions of section nine, and the weekly amount which the injured employee will probably be able to earn during the disability, to be determined in view of the nature and extent of the injury. In computing such probable earnings due regard shall be given to the ability of the injured employee to compete in an open labor market. If evidence of exact loss of earnings be lacking, such weekly loss in wages may be computed from the proportionate loss of physical ability or earning power caused by the injury.

§ 14. Who are deemed wholly dependent. (a) The following shall be conclusively presumed to be wholly dependent for support upon a deceased employee; provided, that these presumptions shall not apply in favor of aliens who are nonresidents of the United States at the time of the injury.

(1) A wife upon a husband with whom she was living at the time of his injury, or for whose support such husband was legally liable at the time of his injury.

(2) A child or children under the age of eighteen years, or over said age, but physically or mentally incapacitated from earning, upon the parent with whom he or they are living at the time of the injury of such parent or for whose maintenance such parent was legally liable at the time of injury, there being no surviving dependent parent.

(b) In all other cases, questions of entire or partial dependency and questions as to who constitute dependents and the extent of their dependency shall be determined in accordance with the fact, as the fact may be at the time of the injury of the employee.

(c) No person shall be considered a dependent of any deceased employee unless in good faith a member of the family or household of such employee, or unless such person bears to such employee the relation of husband or wife, child, posthumous child, adopted child or stepchild, father or mother, father-in-law or mother-in-law, grandfather or grandmother, brother or sister, uncle or aunt, brother-in-law or sister-in-law, nephew or niece.

(d) Distribution of death benefit. 1. If there is one or more persons wholly dependent for support upon a deceased employee, such person or persons shall receive the entire death benefit, and any person or persons partially dependent shall receive no part thereof.

2. If there is more than one such person wholly dependent for support upon a deceased employee, the death benefit shall be divided equally among them.

3. If there is more than one person partially dependent for support upon a deceased employee, and no person wholly dependent for support, the amount allowed as a death benefit shall be divided among the persons so partially dependent in proportion to the relative extent of their dependency.

(e) Commission may reassign death benefit. The commission may, anything in this act contained to the contrary notwithstanding, set apart or reassign the death benefit to any one or more of the dependents in accordance with their respective needs and as may be just and equitable, and may order payment to a dependent subsequent in right, or not otherwise entitled, upon good cause being shown therefor. Such death benefit shall be paid to such one or more of the dependents of the deceased or to a trustee appointed by the commission or a commissioner for the benefit of the person or persons entitled, as may be determined by the commission. The person to whom the death benefit is paid for the use of the several beneficiaries shall apply the same in compliance with the findings and directions of the commission. In the event of the death of a dependent beneficiary of any deceased employee, if there be no surviving dependent, the death of such dependent shall terminate the death benefit, which shall not survive to the estate of such deceased dependent, except that payments of such death benefit accrued and payable at the time of the death of such sole remaining dependent shall be paid upon the order of the commission to the heirs of such dependent or, if none, to the heirs of the deceased employee, without administration. [Amendment approved May 22, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 917.]

§ 15. Notice to employer. No claim to recover compensation under this act shall be maintained unless within thirty days after the occurrence of the injury which is claimed to have caused the disability or death, notice in writing stating the name and the address of the person injured, the time and the place where the injury occurred, and the nature of the injury, and signed by the person injured or someone in his behalf, or in case of his death, by a dependent or someone in his behalf, shall be served upon the employer; provided, however, that knowledge of such injury, obtained from any source, on the part of such employer, his managing agent, superintendent, foreman, or other person in authority, or knowledge of the assertion of a claim of injury sufficient to afford opportunity to the employer to make an investigation into the facts, shall be equivalent to such service; and provided further, that the failure to give any such notice, or any defect or inaccuracy therein, shall not be a bar to recovery under this act if it is found as a fact in the proceedings for the collection of the claim that there was no intention to mislead or prejudice the employer in making his defense, and that he was not in fact so misled or prejudiced thereby.

§ 16. Medical examination of employee. (a) Whenever the right to compensation under this act would exist in favor of any employee, he shall, upon the written request of his employer, submit from time to time, as may be reasonable, to examination by a practicing physician, who shall be provided and paid for by the employer, and shall likewise submit to examination from time to time by any physician selected by the commission or any member or referee thereof.

(b) If employee refuses to submit to examination. The request or order for such examination shall fix a time and place therefor, due consideration being given to the convenience of the employee and his physical condition and ability to attend at the time and place fixed. The employee shall be entitled to have a physician provided and paid for by himself present at any examination required by his employer. So long as the employee, after such written request of the employer, shall fail or refuse to submit to such examination or shall in any way obstruct the same, his right to begin or maintain any proceeding for the collection of compensation shall be suspended; and if he shall fail or refuse to submit to examination after direction by the commission, or any member or referee thereof, or shall in any way obstruct the same, his right to the disability payments which shall accrue during the period of such failure, refusal or obstruction, shall be barred. Any physician who shall make or be present at any such examination may be required to report or testify as to the results thereof.

§ 17. (a) Hearing on disputes. Service of notice. Upon the filing with the commission by any party in interest, his attorney, or other representative authorized in writing, of an application in writing stating the general nature of any dispute or controversy concerning compensation, or concerning any right or liability arising out of, or incidental thereto, jurisdiction over which is vested by this act in the commission, a time and place shall be fixed for the hearing thereof, which hearing, unless otherwise agreed to by all the parties thereto, must be held not less than ten days nor more than thirty days after the filing of such application. The person filing such application shall be known as the applicant and the adverse party shall be known as the defendant. A copy of said application, together with a notice of the time and place of hearing thereof, shall forthwith be served upon all adverse parties and may be served either as a summons in a civil action or in the same manner as any other notice that is authorized or required to be served under the provisions of this act. A notice of the time and place of hearing shall also be served upon the applicant.

(b) Jurisdiction of commission. The jurisdiction of the commission shall include any controversy relating to or arising out of the provisions of subsection (a) of section nine of this act, unless an express agreement shall have been made between the persons or institutions rendering such treatment and the employer or insurance carrier fixing the amount to be paid for the services.

(c) But one cause of action. There shall be but one cause of action for each transaction coming within the provisions of this act, and all claims brought for medical expense, disability payments, death benefits, burial expense, liens or any other matter arising out of such transaction may, in the discretion of the commission, be joined in the same proceeding at any time.

(d) Death of employer. The death of an employer subsequent to the sustaining of an injury by an employee shall not impair the right of such employee to proceed before the commission against the estate of such employer, and the failure of such employee or his dependents to cause the claim to be presented to the executor or administrator of the estate shall not in any way bar or suspend such right. [Amendment approved May 22, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 918.]

§ 18. Defendant's answer. (a) If any defendant desires to disclaim any interest in the subject matter of the claim in controversy, or considers that the application is in any respect inaccurate or incomplete, or desires to bring any fact, paper or document to the attention of the commission as a defense to the claim, or otherwise, he may, within five days after the service of the application upon him, file with or mail to the commission his answer setting forth the particulars in which the application is inaccurate or incomplete, and the facts upon which he intends to rely. A copy of such answer must be forthwith served upon all adverse parties. Evidence upon matters not pleaded by answer shall be allowed only upon such terms and conditions as may be imposed by the commission or commissioner or referee holding the hearing.

(b) Application for relief. If the defendant fails to appear or answer, no default shall be taken against him, but the commission shall proceed to the hearing of the matter upon such terms and conditions as it may deem proper. Such defendant failing to appear or answer, or subsequently contending that no service was made upon him, or claiming to be aggrieved in any other manner by want of notice of the pendency of the proceedings, may apply to the commission for relief substantially in accordance with the provisions of section four hundred seventy-three of the Code of Civil Procedure, and the commission is hereby authorized to afford such relief. No right to relief, including the claim that the findings and award of the commission or judgment entered thereon are void upon their face, shall accrue to such defendant in any court unless prior application shall have been made to the commission in accordance with this subsection, and in no event shall any application to any court be allowed except as prescribed in sections sixty-seven and sixty-eight of this act.

(c) Dismissal of application. If upon the filing of an application, such application shows upon its face that the applicant is not entitled to compensation, the commission may, upon its own motion or upon the motion of the adverse party, and after opportunity to the applicant to be heard orally or in writing, and upon good cause appearing therefor, dismiss the application prior to any hearing thereon. The pendency of such motion or notice of intended dismissal shall not, unless otherwise ordered by the commission, delay the hearing upon the application upon its merits.

(d) Attachment of defendant's property. Upon the filing of an application by or on behalf of an injured employee or his dependents or any other party in interest, the commission may, in its discretion, in the cases mentioned in section four hundred twelve of the Code of Civil Procedure, direct the county clerk of any county or city and county to issue writs of attachment authorizing the sheriff to attach the property of the defendant in an amount not to exceed the greatest probable award against him in such matter, to be fixed by the commission, as security for the payment of any compensation which may thereafter be awarded. The provisions of part two, title seven, chapter four, of the Code of Civil Procedure of this state, as far as applicable to proceedings before the commission, shall govern the proceedings upon attachment, and the commission shall be substituted for the superior court in said provisions for the purpose of this act. No writ of attachment shall be issued except upon the order of the commission or a commissioner, and such order shall not be made where it appears from the application or affidavit in support thereof that the employer was, at the time of the injury to the employee, insured against liability imposed by this act in any insurance carrier licensed to do business in the state of California. If it should at any time after the levying of an attachment be made to appear that such employer was so insured, and the requisites for dismissing said employer from the proceeding and substituting the insurance carrier as defendant under any of the methods prescribed under section thirty (e) of this act be established, the commission must forthwith discharge the attachment. In levying such attachment, preference must be given to the real property of the employer.

§ 19. Pleadings. Hearing. Testimony. (a) No pleadings, other than the application and answer, shall be required. The hearing on the application may be adjourned from time to time and from place to place in the discretion of the commission or commissioner or referee holding such hearing. Either party shall have the right to be present at any hearing, in person or by attorney or by any other agent, and to present such testimony as shall be pertinent under the pleadings, but the commission may, with or without notice to either party, cause testimony to be taken, or inspection of the premises where the injury occurred to be made, or the time-books and pay-roll of the employer to be examined by any commissioner or referee appointed by the commission, and may from time to time direct any employee claiming compensation to be examined by a regular physician; the testimony so taken and the results of any such inspection or examination to be reported to the commission for its consideration.

(b) Stipulation of facts. The parties to a controversy may stipulate the facts relative thereto in writing and file such stipulation with the commission. The commission may thereupon make its findings and award based upon such stipulation, or may in its discretion set the matter down for hearing and take such further testimony or make such further investigations as may be necessary to enable it to completely determine the matter in controversy.

(c) Evidence. The commission may receive as evidence, either at or subsequent to a hearing, and use as proof of any fact in dispute, the following matters, in addition to sworn testimony presented in open hearing:

(1) Reports of attending or examining physicians.

(2) Reports of special investigators appointed by the commission or a commissioner or referee to investigate and report upon any scientific or medical question.

(3) Reports of employers, containing copies of time sheets, book accounts, reports and other records, properly authenticated.

(4) Properly authenticated copies of hospital records of the case of the injured employee.

(5) All publications of the commission.

(6) All official publications of state and United States governments.

(7) Excerpts from expert testimony received by the commission upon similar issues of scientific fact in other cases and the prior decisions of the commission upon such issues; provided, however, that transcripts of all testimony taken without notice and copies of all reports and other matters added to the record, otherwise than during the course of an open hearing, be served upon the parties to the proceeding, and opportunity be given to produce testimony in explanation or rebuttal before decision is rendered.

(d) Affirmative defenses. The burden of proof lies upon the party holding the affirmative of the issue. The following are affirmative defenses, and the burden of proof shall rest upon the employer to establish them:

(1) That an injured person claiming to be an employee is an independent contractor or otherwise excluded from the protection of this act, where there is proof that such injured person was at the time of his injury actually performing service for the alleged employer.

(2) Intoxication of an employee causing his injury.

(3) Willful misconduct of an employee causing his injury.

(4) Aggravation of disability by unreasonable conduct of the employee.

(5) Prejudice to the employer by failure of the employee to give notice, as required by section fifteen.

(e) Autopsy. Where it is represented to the commission, either before or after the filing of an application, that an employee has died as a result of injuries sustained in the course of his employment, the commission may require an autopsy, and the report of the physician performing such autopsy may be received in evidence in any proceedings theretofore or thereafter brought. If at the time such autopsy is requested the body of such employee be in the custody of the coroner, the coroner must, upon the request of the commission or of any party interested, afford reasonable opportunity for the attendance of any physicians named by the commission at any autopsy ordered by him. If the coroner should not require, or shall have already performed such autopsy, he shall permit an autopsy or re-examination to be performed by physicians named by the commission. No fee shall be charged by the coroner for any service, arrangement or permission given by him.

If the body is not in the custody of the coroner, the commission shall have authority to authorize the performance of such autopsy and the exhumation of the body for such purpose if necessary. If the dependents, or a majority thereof, of any such deceased employee, having the custody of the body of such deceased employee, shall refuse to allow the performance of such autopsy, such autopsy shall not be held; but upon the hearing of any application for compensation it shall be a disputable presumption that the injury or death was not due to causes entitling the claimants to benefits under this act.

§ 20. Findings and award. (a) After final hearing by the commission, it shall, within thirty days, make and file (1) its findings upon all facts involved in the controversy, and (2) its award which shall state its determination as to the rights of the parties.

(b) The commission in its award may fix and determine the total amount of compensation to be paid and specify the manner of payment, or may fix and determine the weekly disability payment to be made and order payment thereof during the continuance of such disability.

(c) If, in any proceeding under sections six to thirty-one, inclusive, of this act, it is proved that an injury has been suffered for which the employer would be liable to pay compensation if disability had resulted therefrom, but it is not proved that any incapacity had resulted, the commission may, instead of dismissing the application, award a nominal disability indemnity, if it appears that disability is likely to result at a future time.

(d) Amending orders, etc. The commission shall have continuing jurisdiction over all its orders, decisions and awards made and entered under the provisions of sections six to thirty-one, inclusive, of this act and may at any time, upon notice, and after opportunity to be heard is given to the parties in interest, rescind, alter or amend any such order, decision or award made by it upon good cause appearing therefor, such power including the right to review, grant or regrant, diminish, increase or terminate, within the limits prescribed by this act, any compensation awarded, upon the grounds that the disability of the person in whose favor such award was made has either recurred, increased, diminished or terminated; provided, that no award of compensation shall be rescinded, altered or amended after two hundred forty-five weeks from the date of the injury. Any order, decision or award rescinding, altering or amending a prior order, decision or award shall have the same effect as is herein provided for original orders, decisions or awards.

§ 21. Findings filed in superior court. (a) Any party affected thereby may file a certified copy of the findings and award of the commission with the clerk of the superior court of any county, or city and county, and judgment must be entered by the clerk in conformity therewith immediately upon the filing of such findings and award.

(b) Judgment-roll. The certified copy of the findings and award of the commission and a copy of the judgment shall constitute the judgment-roll. The pleadings, all orders of the commission, its original findings and award, and all other papers and documents filed in the cause shall remain on file in the office of the commission.

(c) Stay of execution. The commission, or any member thereof, may stay the execution of any judgment entered upon an award of the commission, upon good cause appearing therefor and upon such terms and conditions as may be imposed. A certified copy of such order shall be filed with the clerk entering judgment. Where it is deemed desirable to stay the enforcement of an award and a certified copy of said findings and award has not been issued by the commission, the commission, or any member thereof, may order such certified copy to be withheld with the same force and under the same conditions as it might issue a stay of execution if said certified copy had been issued and judgment entered thereon.

(d) Entry of satisfaction. When a judgment is satisfied in fact, otherwise than upon an execution, the commission may, upon motion of either party or of its own motion, order the entry of satisfaction of the judgment to be made, and upon filing a certified copy of such order with the said clerk, he shall thereupon enter such satisfaction and not otherwise.

§ 22. Review of findings, etc. The orders, findings, decisions or awards of the commission made and entered under sections six to thirty-one, inclusive, of this act may be reviewed by the courts specified in sections sixty-seven and sixty-eight hereof and within the time and in the manner therein specified and not otherwise.

§ 23. Fees. Costs. No fees shall be charged by the clerk of any court for the performance of any official service required by this act, except for the docketing of awards as judgments and for certified copies of transcripts thereof. In all proceedings under this act before the commission, costs as between the parties shall be allowed or not in the discretion of the commission and the commission may, in its discretion, where payments of compensation have been unreasonably delayed, allow the beneficiary thereof interest thereon, at not to exceed one and one-half per cent per month, during such period of delay.

§ 24. (a) Claim not assignable. No claim for compensation shall be assignable before payment, but this provision shall not affect the survival thereof, nor shall any claim for compensation, or compensation awarded, adjudged or paid, be subject to be taken for the debts of the party entitled to such compensation, except as hereinafter provided. No compensation, whether awarded or voluntarily paid, shall be paid to any attorney at law or in fact or other agent, but shall be paid directly to the claimant entitled to the same, unless otherwise ordered by the commission. Any payment made to such attorney at law or in fact or other agent in violation of the provisions of this section shall not be credited to the employer.

(b) Lien against amount due as compensation. The commission may fix and determine and allow as a lien against any amount to be paid as compensation:

(1) A reasonable attorney's fee for legal services pertaining to any claim for compensation or application filed therefor and the reasonable disbursements in connection therewith.

(2) The reasonable expense incurred by or on behalf of the injured employee, as defined in subsection (a) of section nine hereof.

(3) The reasonable value of the living expenses of an injured employee or of his dependents, subsequent to the injury.

(4) The reasonable burial expenses of the deceased employee, not to exceed the sum of one hundred dollars.

(5) The reasonable living expenses of the wife or minor children of the injured employee, or both, subsequent to the date of the injury, where such employee has deserted or is neglecting his family, to be allowed in such proportion as the commission shall deem proper, upon application of the wife or guardian of the minor children.

(c) Notice of claim. Award by commission. If notice in writing be given to the employer setting forth the nature and extent of any claim that may be allowed as a lien, the said claim shall be a lien against any amount thereafter to be paid as compensation, subject to the determination of the amount and approval thereof by the commission. The commission may, in its discretion, order the amount of such claim as fixed and allowed by it paid directly to the person entitled, either in a lump sum or in installments. Where it appears in any proceeding pending before the commission that a lien should be allowed if the same had been duly requested by the party entitled thereto, the commission may, in its discretion, and without any request for such lien having been made, order the payment of such claim to be made directly to the person entitled, in the same manner and with the same effect as though such lien had been regularly requested, and the award to such person shall constitute a lien against unpaid compensation due at the time of service of said award.

(d) Excessive claim for legal services. No claim or agreement for the legal services or disbursements mentioned in paragraph (1) of subsection (b) hereof, or for the expense mentioned in paragraph (2) of said subsection (b), in excess of a reasonable amount, shall be valid or binding in any respect, and it shall be competent for the commission to determine what constitutes such reasonable amount.

(e) Preference of claim for compensation. A claim for compensation for the injury or death of any employee, or any award of judgment entered thereon, shall have preference over all other unsecured debts of the employer or insurance carrier. [Amendment approved May 22, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 919.]

§ 25. Liability of principal employers and contractors. The liability of principal employers and contracting employers, general or intermediate, for compensation under this act, when other than the immediate employer of the injured employee, shall be as follows:

(a) When any such employer undertakes to do, or contracts with another to do, or to have done, any work, either directly or through contractors or subcontractors, then such principal employer or contracting employer shall be liable to pay to any employee injured while engaged in the execution of such work, or to his dependents in the event of his death, or to any other person, any compensation which the immediate employer is liable to pay, and the commission shall have jurisdiction to determine all controversies arising under this section.

(b) The person entitled to such compensation shall have the right to recover the same directly from his immediate employer, and in addition thereto the right to enforce in his own name, in the manner provided by this act, the liability for compensation imposed upon other persons by this section, either by making such other persons parties to the original application or by filing a separate application; provided, however, that payment in whole or in part of such compensation by either the immediate employer or other person shall, to the extent of such payment, be a bar to recovery against the other.

(c) When any person, other than the immediate employer, shall have paid any compensation for which he would not have been liable independently of this section, he shall, unless he caused the injury, be entitled to recover the full amount so paid from the person primarily liable therefor, and jurisdiction to determine his claim shall be vested in the commission; provided, that such right of reimbursement against the person primarily liable for compensation shall not exist in favor of any insurance carrier insuring such other persons upon whom liability is imposed by this section, in any case where the immediate employer shall have joined with any of such other persons in taking out such policy of insurance or shall have contributed to the payment of the premium for such insurance, with the intent of securing joint protection thereby, anything in the policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

(d) Limitations on liability. The liability imposed by this section shall be subject to the following limitations:

(1) Such liability shall exist only in cases where the injury occurred on or in or about the premises on which the principal employer or contracting employer, whether general or intermediate, has undertaken to execute or to have executed any work, or when such premises or work are otherwise under his control or management.

(2) Such liability shall not exist in the event that the immediate employer, or other person primarily liable for the compensation shall, previous to the suffering of such injury, have taken out, and maintained in full force and effect, compensation insurance with any insurance carrier, covering his full liability for compensation.

(3) The commission may, in its discretion, order that execution against such principal employer or contracting employer be stayed until execution against the immediate employer shall be returned unsatisfied.

(e) The findings and award of this commission entered against the immediate employer shall be conclusive for or against all persons upon whom liability is imposed by this section as to the fact and extent of liability of such immediate employer.

§ 26. "Employee." Suits for damages from person other than employer. If employee joins in suit. The term "employee," as used in this section, shall include the person injured and any other person in whom a claim may arise by reason of the injury or death of such injured person. The death of the employee, or of any other person, shall not abate any right of action established by this section. The claim of an employee for compensation shall not affect his right of action for damages arising out of injury or death against any person other than the employer; and any employer having paid, or having become obligated to pay, compensation, may likewise bring an action against such other person to recover said damages. If either such employee or such employer shall bring such action against such third person, he shall forthwith notify the other in writing, by personal service or registered mail, of such fact and of the name of the court in which such suit is brought, filing proof thereof in such action, and, if the action be brought by either, the other may, at any time before trial on the facts, join as party plaintiff or must consolidate his action, if brought independently. If the suit be prosecuted by the employer alone evidence of any expenditures which the employer has paid or become obligated to pay by reason of said injury or death shall be admissible, and such expenditures shall be deemed a part of the damages, including a reasonable attorney's fee to be fixed by the court; and if in such suit the employer shall recover more than the amount he has paid or become obligated to pay as compensation he shall pay the excess to the injured employee or other person entitled. If the employee joins in or prosecutes such suit, evidence of the amount of disability indemnity or death benefit paid by the employer shall not be admissible, but proof of all other expenditures on account of said injury or death shall be admissible and shall be deemed part of the damages. The court shall, on application, allow as a first lien against any judgment recovered by the employee the amount of the employer's expenditures for compensation. When any injury or death shall have been suffered by an employee, no release or settlement of any claim for damages by reason of such injury or death and no satisfaction of judgment in such proceedings, shall be valid without the written consent of either both employer and employee, or one of them, together with the consent of the commission or the court in which any such action may be pending. [Amendment approved May 22, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 920.]

§ 27. Right to compromise. (a) No contract, rule or regulation shall exempt the employer from liability for the compensation fixed by this act, but nothing in this act contained shall be construed as impairing the right of the parties interested to compromise, subject to the provisions herein contained, any liability which may be claimed to exist under this act on account of such injury or death, or as conferring upon the dependents of any injured employee any interest which such employee may not divert by such compromise or for which he, or his estate, shall, in the event of such compromise by him, be accountable to such dependents or any of them.

(b) Valid release or compromise agreement. The compensation herein provided shall be the measure of the responsibility which the employer has assumed for injuries or death that may occur to employees in his employment when subject to the provisions of this act, and no release of liability or compromise agreement shall be valid unless it provide for the payment of full compensation in accordance with the provisions of this act or unless it shall be approved by the commission.

(c) Award based on release or compromise agreement. A copy of such release or compromise agreement signed by both parties shall forthwith be filed with the commission. When such release or compromise agreement is filed with the commission and approved by it, the commission may of its own motion, or on the application of either party, without notice, enter its award based upon such release or compromise agreement.

(d) Contents of release or compromise agreement. Every such release or compromise agreement shall be in writing, duly executed and attested by two disinterested witnesses, and shall specify the date of the accident, the average weekly wages of the employee, determined according to section twelve hereof, the nature of the disability, whether total or partial, permanent or temporary, the amount paid or due and unpaid to the employee up to the date of the release or agreement or death, as the case may be, and, if any, the amount of the payment or benefits then or thereafter to be made, and the length of time that such payment is to continue. In case of death there shall also be stated in such release or compromise agreement the date of death, the name of the widow, if any, the names and ages of all children, if any, and the names of all other dependents, if any, and whether such dependents be total or partial, and the amount paid or to be paid as a death benefit and to whom such payment is to be made.

§ 28. Compensation payable in lump sum. (a) At the time of making its award, or at any time thereafter, the commission on its own motion, either with or without notice, or upon application of either party with due notice to the other, may, in its discretion, commute the compensation payable under this act to a lump sum, if it appears that such commutation is necessary for the protection of the person entitled thereto, or for the best interest of either party, or that it will avoid undue expense or hardship to either party, or that the employer has sold or otherwise disposed of the greater part of his assets, or is about to do so, or that the employer is not a resident of this state, and the commission may order such compensation paid forthwith or at some future time.

(b) Determination of amount of commuted payment. The amount of the commuted payment shall be determined in accordance with the following provisions:

(1) If the injury causes temporary disability, the commission shall estimate the probable duration thereof and the probable amount of the temporary disability payments therefor, in accordance with the provisions of section nine hereof, and shall fix the lump sum payment at such amount so determined.

(2) If the injury causes permanent disability or death, the commission shall fix the total amount of the permanent disability payment or death benefit payable therefor in accordance with the provisions of said section nine, and shall estimate the present value thereof, assuming interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, disregarding the probability of the beneficiary's death in all cases except where the percentage of permanent disability is such as to entitle the beneficiary to a life pension, and then taking into consideration the probability of the beneficiary's death only in estimating the present value of such life pension.

(c) Manner of making lump sum payment. The commission in its discretion may order the lump sum payment, determined as hereinbefore provided, paid directly to the injured employee or his dependents, or deposited with any savings bank or trust company authorized to transact business in this state, that will agree to accept the same as a deposit bearing interest, or the commission may order the same deposited with the state compensation insurance fund. Any such amount so deposited, together with all interest derived therefrom, shall thereafter be held in trust for the injured employee, or in the event of his death, for his dependents, and the latter shall have no further recourse against the employer. Payments from said fund, when so deposited, shall be made by the trustee only in the same amounts and at the same time as fixed by order of the commission and until said fund and interest thereon shall be exhausted. In the appointment of the trustee preference shall be given, in the discretion of the commission, to the choice of the injured employee or his dependents. Upon the making of such payment, the employer shall present to the commission a proper receipt evidencing the same, executed either by the injured employee or his dependents, or by the trustee, and the commission shall thereupon issue its certificate in proper form evidencing the same, and such certificate, upon filing with the clerk of the superior court in which any judgment upon an award may have been entered, shall operate as a satisfaction of said award.

and shall fully discharge the employer from any further liability on account thereof.

(d) Payments from state compensation insurance fund. The commission may, where the employer is uninsured and the payments of compensation awarded are to be paid for a considerable time in the future, determine the present worth of said future payments, discounted at the rate of three per cent per annum, and order the said present worth paid into the state compensation insurance fund, which fund shall thereafter pay to the beneficiaries of said award the future payments as they become due.

§ 29. (a) Ways for securing payment of compensation. Every employer as defined in section seven hereof, except the state and all political subdivisions or institutions thereof, shall secure the payment of compensation in one or more of the following ways:

1. By insuring and keeping insured against liability to pay compensation in one or more insurance carriers duly authorized to write compensation insurance in this state.

2. By securing from the commission a certificate of consent to self-insure, which may be given upon his furnishing proof satisfactory to the commission of ability to carry his own insurance and pay any compensation that may become due to his employees, the commission may, in its discretion, require such employer to deposit with the state treasurer a bond or securities, but not both a bond and securities, approved by the commission, in an amount to be determined by the commission. Such certificate may be revoked at any time for good cause shown. So long as the certificate of consent to self-insure has not been revoked, and the self-insurer has deposited with the state treasurer such bond or securities, the self-insurer shall not be required or obliged to pay into the state compensation insurance fund any sums covering liability for compensation, excepting life pensions; but shall be permitted, and such permission is hereby given the self-insurer, to fully administer any and all such compensation benefits assessed against the said insurer.

(b) Action against employer. Right to attach property. If any employer shall fail so to secure the payment of compensation, any injured employee or his dependents may proceed against such employer by filing an application for compensation with the commission, and, in addition thereto, such injured employee or his dependents may bring an action at law against such employer for damages, the same as if this act did not apply, and shall be entitled in such action to the right to attach the property of the employer, at any time upon or after the institution of such action, in an amount to be fixed by the court, to secure the payment of any judgment which may ultimately be obtained. Such judgment shall include a reasonable attorney's fee to be fixed by the court. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, except in so far as they may be inconsistent with this act, shall govern the issuance of and proceedings upon such attachment; provided, that if as a result of such action for damages a judgment is obtained against such employer in excess of the compensation awarded under this act, the compensation awarded by the commission, if paid, or if security approved by the court be given for its payment, shall be credited upon such judgment; provided, further, that in such action it shall be presumed that the injury to the employee was a direct result and grew out of the negligence of the employer, and the burden of proof shall rest upon the employer to rebut the presumption of negligence. In such proceeding it shall not be a defense to the employer that the employee may have been guilty of contributory negligence, or assumed the risk of the hazard complained of, or that the injury was caused by the negligence of a fellow-servant. No contract, rule or regulation shall be allowed to restore to the employer any of the foregoing defenses. [Amendment approved May 22, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 921.]

§ 30. Right of employer to insure in mutual companies, etc. (a) Nothing in this act shall affect the organization of any mutual or other insurance company, or any existing contract for insurance, or the right of the employer to insure in mutual or other companies, in whole or in part, against liability for the compensation provided by this act; or to provide by mutual or other insurance, or by arrangement with his employees, or otherwise, for the payment to such employees, their families, dependents or representatives, of sick, accident or death benefits, in addition to the compensation provided for by this act; or the right of the employer to waive the waiting period provided for herein by insurance coverage; provided, however, that it shall be unlawful for any employer to exact or receive from any employee any contribution, or make or take any deduction from the earnings of any employee, either directly or indirectly, to cover the whole or any part of the cost of compensation under this act, and it shall be a misdemeanor so to do.

(b) Liability not reduced by insurance, etc. Liability for compensation shall not be reduced or affected by any insurance, contribution, or other benefit whatsoever due to or received by the person entitled to such compensation, except as otherwise provided by this act, and the person so entitled shall, irrespective of any insurance or other contract, except as otherwise provided in this act, have the right to recover such compensation directly from the employer, and in addition thereto, the right to enforce in his own name, in the manner provided in this act, either by making the insurance carrier a party to the original application or by filing a separate application, the liability of any insurance carrier, which may, in whole or in part, have insured against liability for such compensation; provided, however, that payment in whole or in part of such compensation by either the employer or the insurance company shall, to the extent thereof, be a bar to recovery against the other of the amount so paid; and provided, further, that as between the employer and the insurance company, payment by either directly to the employee, or to the person entitled to compensation, shall be subject to the conditions of the insurance contract between them.

(c) Insurance carrier directly liable to employee. Every contract insuring against liability for compensation, or insurance policy evidencing the same, must contain a clause to the effect that the insurance carrier shall be directly and primarily liable to the employee and, in the event of his death, to his dependents, to pay the compensation, if any, for which the employer is liable; that, as between the employee and the insurance carrier, the notice to or knowledge of the occurrence of the injury on the part of the employer shall be deemed notice or knowledge, as the case may be, on the part of the insurance carrier; that jurisdiction of the employer shall, for the purpose of this act, be jurisdiction of the insurance carrier; and that the insurance carrier shall in all things be bound by and subject to the orders, findings, decisions or awards rendered against the employer under the provisions of this act.

(d) Lien of employee on amount owing on policy. Such policy must also provide that the employee shall have a first lien upon any amount which shall become owing on account of such policy to the employer from the insurance carrier, and that in case of the legal incapacity or inability of the employer to receive the said amount and pay it over to the employee or his dependents, the said insurance carrier may and shall pay the same directly to the said employee or his dependents, thereby discharging, to the extent of such payment, the obligations of the employer to the employee; and such policy shall not contain any provisions relieving the insurance carrier from payment when the employer becomes insolvent or is discharged in bankruptcy, or otherwise, during the period that the policy is in operation or the compensation remains owing. Every contract insuring against liability for compensation, provided by this act, or insurance policy evidencing the same shall be conclusively presumed to contain all of the provisions required by this act.

(e) Employer relieved from liability by insurance carrier. (1) If the employer shall be insured against liability for compensation with any insurance carrier, and if after the suffering of any injury such insurance carrier shall serve or cause to be served upon any person claiming compensation against such employer a notice that it has assumed and agreed to pay the compensation, if any, for which the employer is liable, and shall file a copy of such notice with the commission, such employer shall thereupon be relieved from liability for compensation to such claimant and the insurance carrier shall, without notice, be substituted in place of the employer in any proceeding theretofore or thereafter instituted by such person to recover such compensation, and the employer shall be dismissed therefrom. Such proceedings shall not abate on account of such substitution but shall be continued against such insurance carrier. If at the time of the suffering of an injury for which compensation is claimed, or may be claimed, the employer shall be insured against liability for the full amount of compensation payable, or that may become payable, the employer may serve or cause to be served upon any person claiming compensation on account of the suffering of such injury and upon the insurance carrier a notice that the insurance carrier has in its policy contract or otherwise, assumed and agreed to pay the compensation, if any, for which the employer is liable, and may file a copy of such notice with the commission. If it shall thereafter appear to the satisfaction of the commission that the insurance carrier has, through the issuance of its contract of insurance or otherwise, assumed such liability for compensation, such employer shall thereupon be relieved from liability for compensation to such claimant and the insurance carrier shall, after notice, be substituted in place of the employer in any proceeding theretofore or thereafter instituted by such person to recover such compensation, and the employer shall be dismissed therefrom. Such proceeding shall not abate on account of such substitution, but shall be continued against such insurance carrier.

(2) Order of commission. The commission may, with or without the filing of the notice required by the preceding paragraph, enter its order relieving the employer from liability where it appears from the pleadings, stipulations or proof that an insurance carrier joined as party to the proceeding is liable for the full compensation which the employer in such proceeding is liable to pay.

(f) Insurance carrier subrogated to rights of employer. Where any employer is insured against liability for compensation with any insurance carrier and such insurance carrier shall have assumed the liability of the employer therefor in the manner provided by this section, or shall have paid any compensation for which the employer is liable, or furnished or provided any medical services required by this act, such insurance carrier shall be subrogated to all the rights and duties of such employer and may enforce any such rights of its own name.

(g) State fund may insure. The state compensation insurance fund may insure against any liability fixed under this act to the same extent as any insurance carrier.

§ 31. "Limited compensation policy." (a) If any insurance policy shall be issued covering liability for compensation, which policy shall contain any limitation as to the compensation payable, such limitation shall be printed in the body of such policy in bold-face type and in addition thereto the words "limited compensation policy" shall be printed on the top of the policy in bold-face type not less than eighteen point in size. Failure to observe the foregoing requirement shall render such policy unlimited.

(b) No insurance carrier shall insure against the liability of the employer for the additional compensation recoverable under the provisions contained in section 6 (b) hereof.

§ 32. Organization of state compensation insurance fund. Nothing contained in this act shall be taken or construed to limit, interfere with, disturb, or render ineffective in any degree, the creation, existence, organization, control, management, contracts, rights, powers, duties and liabilities of the state compensation insurance fund, but all such matters and things are hereby expressly confirmed, saved and continued.

§ 33. Definitions. The following terms, as used in sections thirty-three to fifty-four, inclusive, of this act, shall, unless a different meaning is plainly required by the context, be construed as follows:

(1) "Place of employment." The phrase "place of employment" shall mean and include every place, whether indoors or out or underground, or elsewhere, and the premises appurtenant thereto, where, either temporarily or permanently, any industry, trade, work or business is carried on, or where any process or operation directly or indirectly related to any industry, trade, work or business, is carried on, including all construction work, and where any person is directly or indirectly employed by another, but shall not include any place where persons are employed solely in household domestic service, or any place of employment, concerning the safety of which jurisdiction may have been vested by law heretofore or hereafter in any other commission or public authority.

(2) "Employment." The term "employment" shall mean and include any trade, work, business, occupation or process of manufacture, or any method of carrying on such trade, work, business, occupation or process of manufacture, including construction work, in which any person may be engaged, except where persons are employed solely in household domestic service.

(3) "Employer." The term "employer" shall mean and include every person, firm, voluntary association, corporation, officer, agent, manager, representative or other person having control or custody of any employment, place of employment or of any employee.

(4) "Employee." The term "employee" shall mean and include every person who may be required or directed by any employer, to engage in any employment, or, to go to work or be at any time in any place of employment.

(5) "Order." The term "order" shall mean and include any decision, rule, regulation, direction, requirement or standard of the commission or any other determination arrived at or decision made by such commission under the safety provisions of this act.

(6) "General order." The term "general order" shall mean and include such order, made under the safety provisions of this act, as applies generally throughout the state to all persons, employments or places of employment, or all persons, employments or places of employment of a class under the jurisdiction of the commission. All other orders of the commission shall be considered special orders.

(7) "Local order." The term "local order" shall mean and include any ordinance, order, rule or determination of any board of supervisors, city council, board of trustees or other governing body of any county, city and county, city, or any school district or other public corporation, or an order or direction of any other public official or board or department upon any matter over which the industrial accident commission has jurisdiction.

(8) "Safe" and "safety." The terms "safe" and "safety" as applied to an employment or a place of employment shall mean such freedom from danger to the life or safety of employees as the nature of the employment will reasonably permit.

(9) "Safety device" and "safeguard." The terms "safety device" and "safeguard" shall be given a broad interpretation so as to include any practicable method of mitigating or preventing a specific danger. [Amendment approved May 23, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 922.]

§ 34. Employer to make employment safe. Every employer shall furnish employment which shall be safe for the employees therein and shall furnish a place of employment which shall be safe for employees therein, and shall furnish and use such safety devices and safeguards, and shall adopt and use such practices, means, methods, operations and processes as are reasonably adequate to render such employment and place of employment safe, and shall do every other thing reasonably necessary to protect the life and safety of such employees.

§ 35. Use of safety devices. No employer shall require, permit or suffer any employee to go or be in any employment or place of employment which is not safe, and no such employer shall fail to furnish, provide and use safety devices and safeguards or fail to adopt and use methods and processes reasonably adequate to render such employment and place of employment safe, and no such employer shall fail or neglect to do every other thing reasonably necessary to protect the life and safety of such employees, and no such employer shall occupy or maintain any place of employment that is not safe.

§ 36. Construction of unsafe place. No employer, owner or lessee of any real property in this state shall construct or cause to be constructed any place of employment that is not safe.

§ 37. Employee not to interfere with safety devices. No employee or other person shall remove, displace, damage, destroy or carry off any safety device, safeguard, notice or warning, furnished and provided for use in any employment or place of employment, or interfere in any way with the use thereof by any other person, or interfere with the use of any method or process adopted for the protection of any employee, including himself, in such employment, or place of employment, or fail or neglect to do every other thing reasonably necessary to protect the life and safety of such employees. [Amendment approved May 22, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 923.]

§ 38. Jurisdiction of commission over places of employment. The commission is vested with full power and jurisdiction over, and shall have such supervision of, every employment and place of employment in this state as may be necessary adequately to enforce and administer all laws and all lawful orders requiring such employment and place of employment to be safe, and requiring the protection of the life and safety of every employee in such employment or place of employment.

§ 39. Power of commission to prescribe devices, standards, etc. The commission shall have power, after a hearing had upon its own motion or upon complaint, by general or special orders, rules or regulations, or otherwise:

(1) To declare and prescribe what safety devices, safeguards or other means or methods of protection are well adapted to render the employees of every employment and place of employment safe as required by law or lawful order.

(2) To fix such reasonable standards and to prescribe, modify and enforce such reasonable orders for the adoption, installation, use, maintenance and operation of safety devices, safeguards and other means or methods of protection, to be as nearly uniform as possible, as may be necessary to carry out all laws and lawful orders relative to the protection of the life and safety of employees in employments and places of employment.

(3) To fix and order such reasonable standards for the construction, repair and maintenance of places of employment as shall render them safe.

(4) To require the performance of any other act which the protection of the life and safety of the employees in employments and places of employment may reasonably demand.

(5) To declare and prescribe the general form of industrial injury reports, the injuries to be reported and the information to be furnished in connection therewith, and the time within which such reports shall be filed. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed to prevent the commission from requiring supplemental injury reports.

§ 40. Notice of hearing to consider general safety order. Upon the fixing of a time and place for the holding of a hearing for the purpose of considering and issuing a general safety order or orders as authorized by section thirty-nine hereof, the commission shall cause a notice of such hearing to be published in one or more daily newspapers of general circulation published and circulated in the city and county of San Francisco, and also in one or more daily newspapers of general circulation published and circulated in the county of Los Angeles, such newspapers to be designated by the commission for that purpose. No defect or inaccuracy in such notice or in the publication thereof shall invalidate any general order issued by the commission after hearing had.

§ 41. Order to make employment safe. Whenever the commission, after a hearing had upon its own motion or upon complaint, shall find that any employment or place of employment is not safe or that the practices or means or methods or operations or processes employed or used in connection therewith are unsafe, or do not afford adequate protection to the life and safety of employees in such employment or place of employment, the commission shall make and enter and serve such order relative thereto as may be necessary to render such employment or place of employment safe and protect the life and safety of employees in such employment and place of employment and may in said order direct that such additions, repairs, improvements or change be made and such safety devices and safeguards be furnished, provided and used, as are reasonably required to render such employment or place of employment safe, in the manner and within the time specified in said order.

§ 42. Time for compliance with order. The commission may, upon application of any employer, or other person affected thereby, grant such time as may reasonably be necessary for compliance with any order, and any person affected by such order may petition the commission for an extension of time, which the commission shall grant if it finds such an extension of time necessary.

§ 43. Investigation of unsafe employment. Whenever the commission shall learn or have reason to believe that any employment or place of employment is not safe or is injurious to the welfare of any employee it may, of its own motion, or upon complaint, summarily investigate the same, with or without notice or hearings, and after a hearing upon such notice as it may prescribe, the commission may enter and serve such order as may be necessary relative thereto, anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding.

§ 44. Obeying order. Every employer, employee and other person shall obey and comply with each and every requirement of every order, decision, direction, rule or regulation made or prescribed by the commission in connection with the matters herein specified, or in any way relating to or affecting safety of employments or places of employment, or to protect the life and safety of employees in such employments or places of employment, and shall do everything necessary or proper in order to secure compliance with and observance of every such order, decision, direction, rule or regulation.

§ 45. Review of orders. The orders of the commission, general or special, its rules or regulations, findings and decisions, made and entered under the safety provisions of this act, may be reviewed by the courts specified in sections sixty-seven and sixty-eight of this act and within the time and in the manner therein specified and not otherwise.

§ 46. Powers of supervisors, etc., not affected. Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to deprive the board of supervisors of any county, or city and county, the board of trustees of any city, or any other public corporation or board or department, of any power or jurisdiction over or relative to any place of employment; provided, that whenever the commission shall, by order, fix a standard of safety for employments or places of employment, such order shall, upon the filing by the commission of a copy thereof with the clerk of the county, city and county, or city to which it may apply, establish a minimum requirement concerning the matters covered by such order and shall be construed in connection with any local order relative to the same matter and to amend or modify any requirement in such local order not up to the standard of the order of the commission.

§ 46½. Restraining injunction against unsafe employments. If the condition of any employment or place of employment or the operation of any machine, device or apparatus shall constitute a serious menace to the lives or safety of persons about it, the commission, or a commissioner, may apply to the superior court of the county in which such place of employment, machine, device or apparatus is situated, for an injunction restraining the use or operation thereof until such condition shall be corrected. The said application accompanied by affidavit showing that such place of employment, machine, device or apparatus is being operated in violation of a general or special safety order of the commission, and that such use or operation constitutes a menace to the life or safety of any person or persons employed thereabout, accompanied by a copy of the order or orders applicable thereto shall constitute a sufficient prima facie showing to warrant, in the discretion of the court, the immediate granting of a temporary restraining order. No bond shall be required from the commission as a prerequisite to the granting of any restraining order. When in the opinion of the industrial accident commission a machine or any part thereof is in a dangerous condition or is not properly guarded or is dangerously placed, the use thereof shall be prohibited by the commission, and a notice to that effect shall be attached thereto. Such notice shall not be removed except by an authorized representative of the commission, nor until the machinery is made safe and the required safeguards or safety appliances or devices are provided, and in the meantime such unsafe or dangerous machinery shall not be used. [New section added May 22, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 924.]

§ 47. The commission shall have further power and authority:

(1) Museums of safety and hygiene. To establish and maintain museums of safety and hygiene in which shall be exhibited safety devices, safeguards and other means and methods for the protection of the life and safety of employees, and to publish and distribute bulletins on any phase of this general subject.

(2) Lectures. To cause lectures to be delivered, illustrated by stereopticon or other views, diagrams or pictures, for the information of employers and their employees and the general public in regard to the causes and prevention of industrial accidents, occupational diseases and related subjects.

(3) Advisers. To appoint advisers who shall, without compensation, assist the commission in establishing standards of safety and the commission may adopt and incorporate in its general orders such safety recommendations as it may receive from such advisers.

§ 48. Order admissible as evidence. Every order of the commission, general or special, its rules and regulations, findings and decisions, made and entered under the safety provisions of this act shall be admissible as evidence in any prosecution for the violation of any of the said provisions and shall, in every such prosecution, be conclusively presumed to be reasonable and lawful and to fix a reasonable and proper standard and requirement of safety, unless, prior to the institution of the prosecution for such violation or violations, proceedings for a rehearing thereon or a review thereof shall have been instituted as provided in sections sixty-four to sixty-eight, inclusive, of this act and not then finally determined.

§ 49. Penalty for violation. Every employer, employee or other person who, either individually or acting as an officer, agent or employee of a corporation or other person, violates any safety provision contained in sections thirty-four, thirty-five, thirty-six or thirty-seven of this act, or any part of any such provision, or who shall fail or refuse to comply with any such provision or any part thereof, or who, directly or indirectly, knowingly induces another so to do is guilty of a misdemeanor. In any prosecution under this section it shall be deemed prima facie evidence of a violation of any such safety provision, that the accused has failed or refused to comply with any order, rule, regulation or requirement of the commission relative thereto, and the burden of proof shall thereupon rest upon the accused to show that he has complied with such safety provision.

§ 50. Separate and distinct offense. Every violation of the provisions contained in sections thirty-four, thirty-five, thirty-six or thirty-seven of this act, or any part or portion thereof, by any person or corporation is a separate and distinct offense, and, in the case of a continuing violation thereof, each day's continuance thereof shall constitute a separate and distinct offense.

§ 51. Accident prevention fund. Percentage of amount of gross premiums. Estimates submitted to board of control. Revolving fund. All fines imposed and collected under prosecutions for violations of the provisions of sections thirty to fifty-four of this act shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the "accident prevention fund," which fund is hereby created. In addition to other sources of income of said accident prevention fund, the state compensation insurance fund shall pay into the said accident prevention fund, on or before the first Monday in July, 1918, and annually thereafter, the sum of two per cent upon the amount of the gross premiums received by it upon its business done in this state during the preceding calendar year, less return premiums and reinsurance in companies or associations authorized to do business in this state, which payment is intended to be the equivalent of the taxes imposed upon private insurance companies by the laws of this state relating to revenue and taxation. The state compensation insurance fund shall also pay into the said accident prevention fund interest from September 1, 1917, at the rate of four per cent per annum, payable quarterly, upon the sum of one hundred thousand dollars heretofore advanced by the state to said state compensation insurance fund as long as the said fund shall retain the said sum of one hundred thousand dollars. The commission is authorized to draw from said accident prevention fund toward the support of its department of safety. The commission shall submit from time to time to the state board of control an estimate of the amount it desires to withdraw from the accident prevention fund, and when such estimate shall be approved by the state board of control, the controller is directed to draw his warrant on said fund in favor of said commission for such amount, and the treasurer is authorized and directed to pay the same. The commission shall account to the state board of control and to the state controller for all moneys so received, furnishing proper vouchers therefor. The said accident prevention fund shall be a revolving fund.

§ 52. Unlawful to divulge confidential information. It shall be unlawful for any member of the commission, or for any officer or employee of the commission, to divulge to any person not connected with the administration of this act any confidential information obtained from any person, concerning the failure of any other person to keep any place of employment safe, or concerning the violation of any order, rule or regulation issued by the commission. Any member of the commission or any officer or employee of the commission divulging such confidential information shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 53. (a) Reports of injuries. Every employer of labor, without any exceptions, and every insurance carrier, and every physician or surgeon who attends any injured employee, is hereby required to file with the commission, under such rules and regulations as the commission may from time to time make, a full and complete report of every injury to an employee arising out of or in the course of his employment and resulting in loss of life or injury to such person; provided, that such report shall not be required unless disability resulting from such injury lasts through the day of the injury or requires medical service other than ordinary first aid treatment. Where the injury results in death a report shall be made by the employer to the commission by telephone or telegraph forthwith. Such reports shall be furnished to the commission in such form and such detail as the commission shall from time to time prescribe, and shall make specific answers to all questions required by the commission under its rules and regulations. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, corporation, agent or officer of a firm or corporation, to fail or refuse to comply with any of the provisions of this section, and any such person, firm, corporation, agent or officer of a firm or corporation, who fails or refuses to comply with the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor for each and every offense and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable by a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than one hundred dollars. Any such employer or insurance carrier who shall furnish such report shall be exempt from furnishing any similar report or reports authorized or required under the laws of this state.

(b) Filling out blanks. Every employer or insurance carrier receiving from the commission any blanks with directions to fill out the same shall cause the same to be properly filled out so as to answer fully and correctly each question propounded therein; in case he is unable to answer any such questions a good and sufficient reason shall be given for such failure.

(c) Information not open to public inspection. No information furnished to the commission by an employer or an insurance carrier shall be open to public inspection or made public except on order of the commission, or by a commissioner or referee in the course of a proceeding. Any officer or employee of the commission who, in violation of the provisions of this subsection, divulges any such information shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [Amendment added May 22, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 924.]

§ 54. (a) Investigation of injuries. The commission shall investigate the cause of all industrial injuries occurring within the state in any employment or place of employment, or directly or indirectly arising from or connected with the maintenance or operation of such employment or place of employment, resulting in disability or death and requiring, in the judgment of the commission, such investigation; and the commission shall have the power to make such orders or recommendations with respect to such injuries as may be just and reasonable; provided, that neither the order nor the recommendation of the commission shall be admitted as evidence in any action for damages or any proceeding to recover compensation, based on or arising out of such injury or death.

(b) Inspectors, etc., may enter place of employment. For the purpose of making any investigation which the commission is authorized to make under the provisions of this section, or for the purpose of collecting statistics or examining the provision made for the safety of employees, any member of the commission, or other person designated by the commission for that purpose, may enter any place of employment; and in the performance of such duties shall have the power to subpoena witnesses, administer oaths and take testimony.

(c) Penalty for violation. Any employer, insurance carrier, responsible agent or employee of such employer or insurance carrier, or any other person who shall violate or omit to comply with any of the provisions of this section, or who shall in any way obstruct or hamper the commission, any commissioner or other person conducting any investigation authorized to be undertaken or made by the commission, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [Amendment approved May 22, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 925.]

§ 55. Proceedings instituted before commission. (a) All proceedings for the recovery of compensation, or concerning any right or liability arising out of or incidental thereto, or for the enforcement against the employer or an insurance carrier of any liability for compensation imposed upon him by this act in favor of the injured employee, his dependents or any third person, or for the determination of any question as to the distribution of compensation among dependents of other persons, or for the determination of any question as to who are dependents of any deceased employee, or what persons are entitled to any benefit under the compensation provisions of this act, or for obtaining any order which by this act the commission is authorized to make, or for the determination of any other matter, jurisdiction over which is vested by this act in the commission, shall be instituted before the commission, and not elsewhere, except as otherwise in this act provided, and the commission is hereby vested with full power, authority and jurisdiction to try and finally determine all such matters, subject only to the review by the courts in this act specified and in the manner and within the time in this act provided.

(b) Orders, etc., prima facie lawful. All orders, rules and regulations, findings, decisions and awards of the commission shall be in force and shall be prima facie lawful; and all such orders, rules and regulations, findings, decisions and awards shall be conclusively presumed to be reasonable and lawful, until and unless they are modified or set aside by the commission or upon a review by the courts in this act specified and within the time and in the manner herein specified.

§ 56. Service of notice, etc. (a) Any notice, order or decision required by this act to be served upon any person or party either before, during or after the institution of any proceeding before the commission, may be served in the manner provided by chapter five, title fourteen of part two of the Code of Civil Procedure of this state, unless otherwise directed by the commission or a member thereof, in which event the same shall be served in accordance with the order or direction of said commission or member thereof. The commission or commissioner may also, in the cases mentioned in the Code of Civil Procedure of this state, order service to be made by publication of the notice of time and place of hearing. Where service is ordered to be made by publication the date of the hearing may be fixed at more than thirty days from the date of filing the application.

(b) Any such notice, order or decision affecting the state or any city and county, city, school district or public corporation therein, shall be served upon the same officer, officers, person or persons, upon whom the service of similar notices, orders or decisions is authorized by law.

(c) Secretary, etc., have powers of peace officers. The secretary, assistant secretaries and the inspectors appointed by the commission shall have all the powers conferred by law upon peace officers to carry weapons, make arrests and serve warrants and other process in this state.

§ 57. Powers of commission. (a) The commission shall have full power and authority:

(1) Rules of practice. To adopt reasonable and proper rules of practice and procedure.

(2) Representation of minors, etc. To regulate and provide the manner, and by whom, minors and incompetent persons shall appear and be represented before it.

(3) Appoint trustee to appear for minor or incompetent. To appoint a trustee or guardian ad litem to appear for and represent any such minor or incompetent upon such terms and conditions as it may deem proper; and such guardian or trustee must, if required by the commission or a commissioner, give a bond in the same form and of the same character required by law from a guardian appointed by the courts and in such an amount as the commission or a commissioner may fix and determine, such bond to be approved by the commission or a commissioner, and such guardian or trustee shall not be discharged from liability until he shall have filed an account with the commission or with the probate court and such account shall have been approved. The trustee or guardian shall be entitled to receive such compensation for his services as shall be fixed and allowed by the commission or by the probate court.

(4) Joinder of interested persons. To provide for the joinder in the same proceeding of all persons interested therein, whether as employer, insurance carrier, employee, dependent, creditor or otherwise.

(5) Notices. To regulate and prescribe the kind and character of notices, where not otherwise prescribed by this act, and the service thereof.

(6) Proofs. To regulate and prescribe the nature and extent of the proofs and evidence.

(b) Controversies over insurance policies. Acting as arbitrator. The commission shall also have jurisdiction to determine controversies arising out of insurance policies issued to self-employing persons, conferring benefits identical with those prescribed by this act.

The commission may try and determine matters referred to it by the parties under the provisions of part three, title ten, of the Code of Civil Procedure, with respect to controversies arising out of insurance issued to self-employing persons under the provisions of this act. Such controversies may be submitted to it by the signed agreement of the parties, or by the application of one party and the submission of the other to its jurisdiction, with or without an express request for arbitration. The state compensation insurance fund must submit to the commission, the consent of the other party being obtained, all controversies susceptible of being arbitrated under this section. In acting as arbitrator under the provisions of this section, the commission shall have all the powers which it may lawfully exercise in compensation cases, and its findings and award upon such arbitration shall have the same conclusiveness and be subject to the same mode of reopening, review and enforcement as in compensation cases. No fee or cost shall be charged by the commission to any party for arbitrating the issues presented under this section.

§ 58. Controversies over injuries outside of state. The commission shall have jurisdiction over all controversies arising out of injuries suffered without the territorial limits of this state in those cases where the injured employee is a resident of this state at the time of the injury and the contract of hire was made in this state, and any such employee or his dependents shall be entitled to the compensation or death benefits provided by this act.

§ 59. Reference of cases. The commission may upon the agreement of the parties, upon the application of either, or of its own motion, and either with or without notice, direct and order a reference in the following cases:

(1) To try any or all of the issues in any proceeding before it, whether of fact or of law, and to report a finding, order, decision or award to be based thereon.

(2) To ascertain a fact necessary to enable the commission to determine any proceeding before it or to make any order, decision or award that the commission is authorized to make under this act, or that is necessary for the information of the commission.

(b) Referees. The commission may appoint one or more referees in any proceeding, as it may deem necessary or advisable, and may refer matters arising out of the same proceeding to different referees. It may also, in its discretion, appoint general referees who shall hold office during the pleasure of the commission. Any referee appointed by the commission shall have such powers, jurisdiction and authority as is granted under the law, by the order of appointment and by the rules of the commission, and shall receive such salary or compensation for his services as may be fixed by the commission.

(c) Objection to appointments. Any party to the proceeding may object to the appointment of any person as referee upon any one or more of the grounds specified in section six hundred forty-one of the Code of Civil Procedure and such objection must be heard and disposed of by the commission. Affidavits may be read and witnesses examined as to such objections.

(d) Oath of referee. Before entering upon his duties, the referee must be sworn before an officer authorized to administer oaths, faithfully and fairly to hear and determine the matters and issues referred to him, and to make just findings and report according to his understanding.

(e) Report of referee. The referee must report his findings in writing to the commission within fifteen days after the testimony is closed. Such report shall be made in the form prescribed by the commission and shall include all matters required to be included in the order of reference or by the rules of the commission. The facts found and conclusions of law must be separately stated.

(f) Order, etc., based on report of referee. Upon the filing of the report of the referee, the commission may confirm, adopt, modify or set aside the same or any part thereof and may, either with or without further proceedings, and either with or without notice, enter its order, findings, decision or award based in whole or in part upon the report of the referee, or upon the record in the case.

(g) Hearings by referees. The provisions of the preceding subdivisions of this section shall not be construed to prevent the commission from requiring its referees merely to hold hearings and to make return of the testimony to the commission.

§ 60. Commission not bound by statutory rules of evidence and procedure. (a) All hearings and investigations before the commission or any member thereof, or any referee appointed thereby, shall be governed by this act and by the rules of practice and procedure adopted by the commission, and in the conduct thereof neither the commission nor any member thereof, nor any referee appointed thereby, shall be bound by the common law or statutory rules of evidence and procedure, but may make inquiry in such manner, through oral testimony and written and printed records, as is best calculated to ascertain the substantial rights of the parties and carry out justly the spirit and provisions of this act. No informality in any proceeding or in the manner of taking testimony shall invalidate any order, decision, award, rule or regulation made, approved or confirmed by the commission; nor shall any order, award, rule or regulation be invalidated because of the admission into the record, and use as proof of any fact in dispute, of any evidence not admissible under the said common law or statutory rules of evidence and procedure.

(b) Depositions. The commission, or a commissioner or referee, or any party to the action or proceedings, may, in any investigation or hearing before the commission, cause the deposition of witnesses residing within or without the state to be taken in the manner prescribed by law for like depositions in civil actions in the superior courts of this state, and to that end may compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, documents, papers and accounts; provided, that depositions taken outside of the state may be taken before any officers authorized to administer oaths.

§ 61. Power of commission to administer oaths, etc. Witness fees and mileage. The commission and each member thereof, its secretary, assistant secretaries and referees, shall have power to administer oaths, certify to all official acts, and to issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers, books, accounts, documents and testimony in any inquiry, investigation, hearing or proceeding in any part of the state. Each witness who shall appear, by order of the commission or a member thereof, or a referee appointed thereby, shall be entitled to receive, if demanded, for his attendance the same fees and mileage allowed by law to a witness in civil cases, which amount shall be paid by the party at whose request such witness is subpoenaed, unless otherwise ordered by the commission. When any witness who has not been required to attend at the request of any party is subpoenaed by the commission, his fees and mileage may be paid from the funds appropriated for the use of the commission in the same manner as other expenses of the commission are paid. Any witness subpoenaed, except one whose fees and mileage may be paid from the funds of the commission, may, at the time of service, demand the fee to which he is entitled for travel to and from the place at which he is required to appear, and one day's attendance. If such witness demands such fees at the time of service, and they are not at that time paid or tendered, he shall not be required to attend before the commission, member thereof, or referee as directed in the subpoena. All fees and mileage to which any witness is entitled, under the provisions of this section, may be collected by action therefor instituted by the person to whom such fees are payable.

§ 62. Power of superior court to compel attendance of witnesses, etc. The superior court in and for the county, or city and county, in which any inquiry, investigation, hearing or proceeding may be held by the commission or any member thereof or referee appointed thereby, shall have the power to compel the attendance of witnesses, the giving of testimony and the production of papers, including books, accounts and documents, as required by any subpoena issued by the commission or member thereof or referee. The commission or any member thereof or the referee, before whom the testimony is to be given or produced, in case of the refusal of any witness to attend or testify or produce any papers required by such subpoena, may report to the superior court in and for the county, or city and county, in which the proceeding is pending, by petition, setting forth that due notice has been given of the time and place of attendance of said witness, or the production of said papers, and that the witness has been subpoenaed in the manner prescribed in this act, and that the witness has failed and refused to attend or produce the papers required by the subpoena, or has refused to answer questions propounded to him in the course of such proceeding, and ask an order of said court, compelling the witness to attend and testify or produce said papers before the commission. The court, upon the petition of the commission or such member thereof or referee, shall enter an order directing the witness to appear before the court at a time and place to be fixed by the court in such order, the time to be not more than ten days from the date of the order, and then and there show cause why he had not attended and testified or produced said papers before the commission, member thereof or referee. A copy of said order shall be served upon said witness. If it shall appear to the court that said subpoena was regularly issued by the commission or member thereof or referee and that the witness was legally bound to comply therewith, the court shall thereupon enter an order that said witness appear before the commission or member thereof or referee at a time and place to be fixed in such order, and testify or produce the required papers, and upon failure to obey said order, said witness shall be dealt with as for contempt of court. The remedy provided in this section is cumulative, and shall not be construed to impair or interfere with the power of the commission or a member thereof to enforce the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers, and to punish for contempt in the same manner and to the same extent as courts of record.

§ 63. General power of commission. (a) The commission is hereby vested with full power, authority and jurisdiction to do and perform any and all things, whether herein specifically designated, or in addition thereto, which are necessary or convenient in the exercise of any power, authority or jurisdiction conferred upon it under this act.

(b) Power to issue writs, etc. The commission and each member thereof shall have power to issue writs or summons, warrants of attachment, warrants of commitment and all necessary process in proceedings for contempt, in like manner and to the same extent as courts of record. The process issued by the commission or any member thereof shall extend to all parts of the state and may be served by any persons authorized to serve process of courts of record, or by any person designated for that purpose by the commission or any member thereof. The person executing any such process shall receive such compensation as may be allowed by the commission, not to exceed the fees now prescribed by law for similar services, and such fees shall be paid in the same manner as provided herein for the fees of witnesses.

§ 64. Application for rehearing. (a) Any party or person aggrieved directly or indirectly by any final order, decision, award, rule or regulation of the commission, made or entered under any provision contained in this act, may apply to the commission for a rehearing in respect to any matters determined or covered by such final order, decision, award, rule or regulation and specified in the application for rehearing within the time and in the manner hereinafter specified, and not otherwise.

(b) No cause for action unless application for rehearing. No cause of action arising out of any such final order, decision or award shall accrue in any court to any person until and unless such person shall have made application for such rehearing, and such application shall have been granted or denied; provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the enforcement of any such final order, decision, award, rule or regulation in the manner provided in this act.

(c) Grounds for application. Such application shall set forth specifically and in full detail the grounds upon which the applicant considers said final order, decision, award, rule or regulation is unjust or unlawful, and every issue to be considered by the commission. Such application must be verified upon oath in the same manner as required for verified pleadings in courts of record and must contain a general statement of any evidence or other matters upon which the applicant relies in support thereof. The applicant for such hearing shall be deemed to have finally waived all objections, irregularities and illegalities concerning the matter upon which such rehearing is sought other than those set forth in the application for such rehearing.

(d) Service upon adverse parties. A copy of such application for rehearing shall be served forthwith upon all adverse parties by the party applying for such rehearing, and any such adverse party may file an answer thereto within ten days thereafter. Such answer must likewise be verified. The commission may require the application for rehearing to be served on such other persons or parties as may be designated by it.

(e) Rehearing. Upon filing of an application for a rehearing, if the issues raised thereby have theretofore been adequately considered by the commission, it may determine the same by confirming without hearing its previous determination, or if a rehearing is necessary to determine the issues raised, or any one or more of such issues, the commission shall order a rehearing thereon and consider and determine the matter or matters raised by such application. If at the time of granting such rehearing it shall appear to the satisfaction of the commission that no sufficient reason exists for taking further testimony, the commission may reconsider and redetermine the original cause without setting a time and place for such further rehearing. Notice of the time and place of such hearing, if any, shall be given to the applicant and adverse parties, and to such other persons as the commission may order.

(f) Changing order, etc. Action within thirty days. If after such rehearing and a consideration of all the facts, including those arising since the making of the order, decision or award involved, the commission shall be of the opinion that the original order, decision or award, or any part thereof, is in any respect unjust or unwarranted, or should be changed, the commission may abrogate, change or modify the same. An order, decision or award made after such rehearing, abrogating, changing or modifying the original order, decision or award, shall have the same force and effect as an original order, decision or award, but shall not affect any right or the enforcement of any right arising from or by virtue of the original order, decision or award, unless so ordered by the commission. An application for a rehearing shall be deemed to have been denied by the commission unless it shall have been acted upon within thirty days from the date of filing; provided, however, that the commission may, upon good cause being shown therefor, extend the time within which it may act upon such application for not exceeding thirty days.

§ 65. Grounds for rehearing of order awarding compensation. (a) At any time within twenty days after the service of any final order or decision of the commission awarding or denying compensation, or arising out of or incidental thereto, any party or parties aggrieved thereby may apply for such rehearing upon one or more of the following grounds and upon no other grounds:

- (1) That the commission acted without or in excess of its powers.
- (2) That the order, decision or award was procured by fraud.
- (3) That the evidence does not justify the findings of fact.
- (4) That the applicant has discovered new evidence material to him, which he could not, with reasonable diligence, have discovered and produced at the hearing.
- (5) That the findings of fact do not support the order, decision or award.

(b) Nothing contained in this section shall, however, be construed to limit the grant of continuing jurisdiction contained in subsection (d) of section twenty of this act.

§ 66. Grounds for rehearing of order not pertaining to compensation.

(a) At any time within twenty days after the service of any final order, decision, rule or regulation, other than an order or award pertaining to compensation, any party or parties, person or persons, aggrieved thereby or otherwise affected, directly or indirectly, may apply for such rehearing upon one or more of the following grounds and upon no other grounds:

- (1) That the commission acted without or in excess of its powers.
- (2) That the order or decision was procured by fraud.
- (3) That the order, decision, rule or regulation is unreasonable.

(b) Right of commission to adopt new rules, etc. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to limit the right of the commission, at any time and from time to time, to adopt new or different rules or regulations or new or different standards of safety, or to abrogate, change or modify any existing rule, regulation or standard, or any part thereof, or deprive the commission of continuing jurisdiction over the same, or to prevent the enforcement in the manner provided by this act, of any rules, regulations or standards of the commission, or any part thereof, when so adopted, or changed, or modified.

§ 67. Application for writ of review. (a) Within thirty days after the application for a rehearing is denied, or, if the application is granted, within thirty days after the rendition of the decision on the rehearing, any party affected thereby may apply to the supreme court of this state, or to the district court of appeal of the appellate district in which such person resides, for a writ of certiorari or review, hereinafter referred to as a writ of review, for the purpose of having the lawfulness of the original order, rule, regulation, decision or award, or the order, rule, regulation, decision or award on rehearing inquired into and determined.

(b) Record of commission. Such writ shall be made returnable not later than thirty days after the date of the issuance thereof, and shall direct the commission to certify its record in the case to the court. On the return day the cause shall be heard in the court unless for good cause the same be continued. No new or additional evidence may be introduced in such court, but the cause shall be heard on the record of the commission as certified to by it. The review shall not be extended further than to determine whether:

- (1) The commission acted without or in excess of its powers.
- (2) The order, decision or award was procured by fraud.
- (3) The order, decision, rule or regulation was unreasonable.
- (4) If findings of fact are made, such findings of fact support the order, decision or award under review.

(c) Judgment of court. The findings and conclusions of the commission on questions of fact shall be conclusive and final and shall not be subject to review; such questions of fact shall include ultimate facts and the findings and conclusions of the commission. The commission and each party to the action or proceeding before the commission shall have the right to appear in the review proceeding. Upon the hearing the court shall enter judgment either affirming or setting aside the order, decision or award or may remand the case for further proceedings before the commission.

(d) Jurisdiction of courts limited. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure of this state relating to writs of review shall, so far as applicable and not in conflict with this act, apply to proceedings in the courts under the provisions of this section. No court of this state, except the supreme court and the district courts of appeal to the extent herein specified, shall have jurisdiction to review, reverse, correct or annul any order, rule, regulation, decision or award of the commission, or to suspend or delay the operation or execution thereof, or to restrain, enjoin or interfere with the commission in the performance of its duties; provided, that a writ of mandamus shall lie from the supreme court or the district courts of appeal in all proper cases.

§ 68. Order, etc., suspended by application for rehearing. The filing of an application for a rehearing shall have the effect of suspending the order, decision, award, rule or regulation affected, in so far as the same applies to the parties to such application, unless otherwise ordered by the commission, for a period of ten days, and the commission may, in its discretion and upon such terms and conditions as it may by order direct, stay, suspend or postpone the same during the pendency of such rehearing.

(b) Stay of order by court. The filing of an application for, or the pendency of, a writ of review, shall not of itself stay or suspend the operation of the order, decision, award, rule or regulation of the commission subject to review, but the court before which such application is filed may, in its discretion, stay or suspend in whole or in part the operation of the order, decision, award, rule or regulation of the commission subject to review, upon such terms and conditions as it may by order direct, except as provided in the following subsection.

(c) Written undertaking by petitioner. The operation of any order or award entered by the commission under the provisions of sections six to thirty-one, inclusive, of this act, or any judgment entered thereon, shall not at any time be stayed by the court to which petition is made for a writ of review, unless a written undertaking be executed on the part of the petitioner by two or more sureties, to the effect that they are bound in double the amount named in such order, award or judgment; that if the order, award or judgment appealed from, or any part thereof, be affirmed, or the proceeding upon review be dismissed, the petitioner shall pay the amount directed to be paid by the order, award or judgment, or the part of such amount as to which the order, award or judgment is affirmed, if affirmed only in part, and all damages and costs which may be awarded against the petitioner; and that, if the said petitioner does not make such payment within thirty days after the filing with the commission of the remittitur from the reviewing court, judgment may be entered, on motion of the adverse party, in his favor, and to which the said undertaking may be transferred, in any superior court in which a certified copy of the order or award may be filed against the sureties for such amount, together with interest that may be due thereon, and the damages and costs which may be awarded against the said petitioner. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, except in so far as they may be inconsistent with this act, are applicable to said undertaking. Such undertaking shall be filed with the commission, and the certificate of the commission, or any proper officer thereof, of the filing and approval of such undertaking, is sufficient evidence of the compliance of the petitioner with the provisions of this subsection.

§ 69. Interpretation by court. (a) Whenever this act, or any part or section thereof, is interpreted by a court, it shall be liberally construed by such court with the purpose of extending the benefits of the act for the protection of persons injured in the course of their employment.

(b) Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, subdivision, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, subdivision, sentence, clause or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, subdivisions, sentences, clauses or phrases is declared unconstitutional.

(c) Employers engaged in interstate commerce. This act shall not be construed to apply to employers or employments which, according to law, are so engaged in interstate commerce as not to be subject to the legislative power of the state, or to employees injured while they are so engaged, except in so far as this act may be permitted to apply under the provisions of the constitution of the United States or the acts of congress.

§ 70. Other employers may come under provisions of act. (a) Any employer, having in his employment any employee not included within the term "employee" as defined by section eight of this act or not entitled to compensation under this act, and any such employee, may, by their joint election, elect to come under the compensation provisions of this act in the manner hereinafter provided.

(b) Other employers may come under provisions of act. Such election on the part of the employer shall be made by filing with the commission a written statement to the effect that he accepts the compensation provisions of this act, which, when filed, shall operate, within the meaning of section six of this act, to subject him to the compensation provisions thereof, and of all acts amendatory thereof, for the term of one year from the date of filing, and thereafter without further act on his part, for successive terms of one year each, unless such employer shall, at least sixty days prior to the expiration of such first or succeeding year, file in the office of the commission a notice in writing that he withdraws his election. Such acceptance shall be held to include employees whose employment is both casual and not in the course of the trade, business, profession or occupation of the employer, unless expressly excluded therefrom. In case any employer is insured against liability for compensation under this act, he shall be deemed to have so elected during the period that such policy shall remain in force, without filing such written notice with the commission, as to all classes of employees covered by such policy of insurance, anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding.

(c) Other employers subject to compensation privileges when. Any employee in the service of any employer who has made an election in either of the modes above prescribed, shall be deemed to have accepted, and shall, within the meaning of section six of this act, be subject to the compensation provisions of this act, and of any act amendatory thereof, if, at the time of the injury for which liability is claimed:

(1) The employer charged with such liability is subject to the compensation provisions of this act, whether the employee has actual notice thereof or not; and

(2) Such employee shall not, at the time of entering into the employment, have given to his employer notice in writing that he elects not to be subject to the compensation provisions of this act; or, in the event that such employment was entered into in advance of the election by the employer, such employee shall have given to his employer notice in writing that he elects to be subject to such provisions, or without giving either of such notices, shall have remained in the service of such employer for five days after the employer has filed his election, in which case the time at which the employee becomes subject to said compensation provisions shall be deemed to be at the beginning of said period.

(d) State employments. The state, and all political or other subdivisions thereof, as defined in section seven, and all state institutions, shall be conclusively presumed to have elected to come within the provisions of this act as to all employments otherwise excluded from this act.

the making of the order, decision or award involved, the commission shall be of the opinion that the original order, decision or award, or any part thereof, is in any respect unjust or unwarranted, or should be changed, the commission may abrogate, change or modify the same. An order, decision or award made after such rehearing, abrogating, changing or modifying the original order, decision or award, shall have the same force and effect as an original order, decision or award, but shall not affect any right or the enforcement of any right arising from or by virtue of the original order, decision or award, unless so ordered by the commission. An application for a rehearing shall be deemed to have been denied by the commission unless it shall have been acted upon within thirty days from the date of filing; provided, however, that the commission may, upon good cause being shown therefor, extend the time within which it may act upon such application for not exceeding thirty days.

§ 65. Grounds for rehearing of order awarding compensation. (a) At any time within twenty days after the service of any final order or decision of the commission awarding or denying compensation, or arising out of or incidental thereto, any party or parties aggrieved thereby may apply for such rehearing upon one or more of the following grounds and upon no other grounds:

- (1) That the commission acted without or in excess of its powers.
- (2) That the order, decision or award was procured by fraud.
- (3) That the evidence does not justify the findings of fact.
- (4) That the applicant has discovered new evidence material to him, which he could not, with reasonable diligence, have discovered and produced at the hearing.
- (5) That the findings of fact do not support the order, decision or award.

(b) Nothing contained in this section shall, however, be construed to limit the grant of continuing jurisdiction contained in subsection (d) of section twenty of this act.

§ 66. Grounds for rehearing of order not pertaining to compensation.

(a) At any time within twenty days after the service of any final order, decision, rule or regulation, other than an order or award pertaining to compensation, any party or parties, person or persons, aggrieved thereby or otherwise affected, directly or indirectly, may apply for such rehearing upon one or more of the following grounds and upon no other grounds:

- (1) That the commission acted without or in excess of its powers.
- (2) That the order or decision was procured by fraud.
- (3) That the order, decision, rule or regulation is unreasonable.

(b) Right of commission to adopt new rules, etc. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to limit the right of the commission, at any time and from time to time, to adopt new or different rules or regulations or new or different standards of safety, or to abrogate, change or modify any existing rule, regulation or standard, or any part thereof, or deprive the commission of continuing jurisdiction over the same, or to prevent the enforcement in the manner provided by this act, of any rules, regulations or standards of the commission, or any part thereof, when so adopted, or changed, or modified.

§ 67. Application for writ of review. (a) Within thirty days after the application for a rehearing is denied, or, if the application is granted, within thirty days after the rendition of the decision on the rehearing, any party affected thereby may apply to the supreme court of this state, or to the district court of appeal of the appellate district in which such person resides, for a writ of certiorari or review, hereinafter referred to as a writ of review, for the purpose of having the lawfulness of the original order, rule, regulation, decision or award, or the order, rule, regulation, decision or award on rehearing inquired into and determined.

(b) Record of commission. Such writ shall be made returnable not later than thirty days after the date of the issuance thereof, and shall direct the commission to certify its record in the case to the court. On the return day the cause shall be heard in the court unless for good cause the same be continued. No new or additional evidence may be introduced in such court, but the cause shall be heard on the record of the commission as certified to by it. The review shall not be extended further than to determine whether:

- (1) The commission acted without or in excess of its powers.
- (2) The order, decision or award was procured by fraud.
- (3) The order, decision, rule or regulation was unreasonable.
- (4) If findings of fact are made, such findings of fact support the order, decision or award under review.

(c) Judgment of court. The findings and conclusions of the commission on questions of fact shall be conclusive and final and shall not be subject to review; such questions of fact shall include ultimate facts and the findings and conclusions of the commission. The commission and each party to the action or proceeding before the commission shall have the right to appear in the review proceeding. Upon the hearing the court shall enter judgment either affirming or setting aside the order, decision or award or may remand the case for further proceedings before the commission.

(d) Jurisdiction of courts limited. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure of this state relating to writs of review shall, so far as applicable and not in conflict with this act, apply to proceedings in the courts under the provisions of this section. No court of this state, except the supreme court and the district courts of appeal to the extent herein specified, shall have jurisdiction to review, reverse, correct or annul any order, rule, regulation, decision or award of the commission, or to suspend or delay the operation or execution thereof, or to restrain, enjoin or interfere with the commission in the performance of its duties; provided, that a writ of mandamus shall lie from the supreme court or the district courts of appeal in all proper cases.

§ 68. Order, etc., suspended by application for rehearing. The filing of an application for a rehearing shall have the effect of suspending the order, decision, award, rule or regulation affected, in so far as the same applies to the parties to such application, unless otherwise ordered by the commission, for a period of ten days, and the commission may, in its discretion and upon such terms and conditions as it may by order direct, stay, suspend or postpone the same during the pendency of such rehearing.

(b) Stay of order by court. The filing of an application for, or the pendency of, a writ of review, shall not of itself stay or suspend the operation of the order, decision, award, rule or regulation of the commission subject to review, but the court before which such application is filed may, in its discretion, stay or suspend in whole or in part the operation of the order, decision, award, rule or regulation of the commission subject to review, upon such terms and conditions as it may by order direct, except as provided in the following subsection.

(c) Written undertaking by petitioner. The operation of any order or award entered by the commission under the provisions of sections six to thirty-one, inclusive, of this act, or any judgment entered thereon, shall not at any time be stayed by the court to which petition is made for a writ of review, unless a written undertaking be executed on the part of the petitioner by two or more sureties, to the effect that they are bound in double the amount named in such order, award or judgment; that if the order, award or judgment appealed from, or any part thereof, be affirmed, or the proceeding upon review be dismissed, the petitioner shall pay the amount directed to be paid by the order, award or judgment, or the part of such amount as to which the order, award or judgment is affirmed, if affirmed only in part, and all damages and costs which may be awarded against the petitioner; and that, if the said petitioner does not make such payment within thirty days after the filing with the commission of the remittitur from the reviewing court, judgment may be entered, on motion of the adverse party, in his favor, and to which the said undertaking may be transferred, in any superior court in which a certified copy of the order or award may be filed against the sureties for such amount, together with interest that may be due thereon, and the damages and costs which may be awarded against the said petitioner. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, except in so far as they may be inconsistent with this act, are applicable to said undertaking. Such undertaking shall be filed with the commission, and the certificate of the commission, or any proper officer thereof, of the filing and approval of such undertaking, is sufficient evidence of the compliance of the petitioner with the provisions of this subsection.

§ 69. Interpretation by court. (a) Whenever this act, or any part or section thereof, is interpreted by a court, it shall be liberally construed by such court with the purpose of extending the benefits of the act for the protection of persons injured in the course of their employment.

(b) Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, subdivision, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, subdivision, sentence, clause or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, subdivisions, sentences, clauses or phrases is declared unconstitutional.

(c) Employers engaged in interstate commerce. This act shall not be construed to apply to employers or employments which, according to law, are so engaged in interstate commerce as not to be subject to the legislative power of the state, or to employees injured while they are so engaged, except in so far as this act may be permitted to apply under the provisions of the constitution of the United States or the acts of congress.

§ 70. Other employers may come under provisions of act. (a) Any employer, having in his employment any employee not included within the term "employee" as defined by section eight of this act or not entitled to compensation under this act, and any such employee, may, by their joint election, elect to come under the compensation provisions of this act in the manner hereinafter provided.

(b) Other employers may come under provisions of act. Such election on the part of the employer shall be made by filing with the commission a written statement to the effect that he accepts the compensation provisions of this act, which, when filed, shall operate, within the meaning of section six of this act, to subject him to the compensation provisions thereof, and of all acts amendatory thereof, for the term of one year from the date of filing, and thereafter without further act on his part, for successive terms of one year each, unless such employer shall, at least sixty days prior to the expiration of such first or succeeding year, file in the office of the commission a notice in writing that he withdraws his election. Such acceptance shall be held to include employees whose employment is both casual and not in the course of the trade, business, profession or occupation of the employer, unless expressly excluded therefrom. In case any employer is insured against liability for compensation under this act, he shall be deemed to have so elected during the period that such policy shall remain in force, without filing such written notice with the commission, as to all classes of employees covered by such policy of insurance, anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding.

(c) Other employers subject to compensation privileges when. Any employee in the service of any employer who has made an election in either of the modes above prescribed, shall be deemed to have accepted, and shall, within the meaning of section six of this act, be subject to the compensation provisions of this act, and of any act amendatory thereof, if, at the time of the injury for which liability is claimed:

(1) The employer charged with such liability is subject to the compensation provisions of this act, whether the employee has actual notice thereof or not; and

(2) Such employee shall not, at the time of entering into the employment, have given to his employer notice in writing that he elects not to be subject to the compensation provisions of this act; or, in the event that such employment was entered into in advance of the election by the employer, such employee shall have given to his employer notice in writing that he elects to be subject to such provisions, or without giving either of such notices, shall have remained in the service of such employer for five days after the employer has filed his election, in which case the time at which the employee becomes subject to said compensation provisions shall be deemed to be at the beginning of said period.

(d) State employments. The state, and all political or other subdivisions thereof, as defined in section seven, and all state institutions, shall be conclusively presumed to have elected to come within the provisions of this act as to all employments otherwise excluded from this act.

(e) Acceptance of act of 1913 continued. All written acceptances filed by employers with the commission prior to the taking effect of this act, accepting the provisions of the workmen's compensation, insurance and safety act, chapter one hundred seventy-six, Statutes of 1913, and all acts amendatory thereof, shall, unless written notice be given to the contrary by said employer within sixty days after the taking effect of this act, be deemed acceptances of the provisions of this act, and all acts amendatory thereof, in accordance with the provisions of this section.

§ 71. Repealed. Continued. Sections two, twelve, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen, eighteen, nineteen, twenty, twenty-one, twenty-two, twenty-three, twenty-four, twenty-five, twenty-six, twenty-seven, twenty-eight, twenty-nine, thirty, thirty-one, thirty-two, thirty-three, thirty-four, thirty-five, fifty-one, fifty-two, fifty-three, fifty-four, fifty-five, fifty-six, fifty-seven, fifty-eight, fifty-nine, sixty, sixty-one, sixty-two, sixty-three, sixty-four, sixty-five, sixty-six, sixty-seven, sixty-eight, sixty-nine, seventy, seventy-one, seventy-two, seventy-three, seventy-four, seventy-five, seventy-five a, seventy-six, seventy-seven, seventy-eight, seventy-nine, eighty, eighty-one, eighty-two, eighty-three, eighty-four, eighty-five, eighty-six and eighty-seven of chapter one hundred seventy-six, Statutes of 1913, and all other acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith, are hereby repealed; provided, that nothing contained in this act shall be construed as limiting or repealing sections one, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven, thirty-six, thirty-seven, thirty-eight, thirty-nine, forty, forty-one, forty-two, forty-three, forty-four, forty-five, forty-six, forty-seven, forty-eight, forty-nine, fifty, eighty-eight and ninety of the said chapter one hundred seventy-six, Statutes of 1913.

§ 72. Proceedings, etc., under act of 1913 not disturbed. Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to limit, interfere with, disturb, or render ineffective in any degree, any matter, proceeding or transaction pending, done or performed under the provisions of chapter one hundred seventy-six, Statutes of 1913, and all acts amendatory thereof, or supplementary thereto, by the industrial accident commission, or any department or division thereof, or to affect any right or liability accrued or accruing or to accrue under said acts, but each and every part thereof are hereby expressly saved and continued under the jurisdiction of said industrial accident commission, with full power, authority and jurisdiction, and with the right and duty in said industrial accident commission to fully administer and dispose of the same.

§ 73. Injuries sustained prior to passage of act. The compensation provisions of this act, except procedural provisions, shall not apply to any injury sustained prior to the taking effect hereof.

§ 74. In effect, when. This act shall take effect on the first day of January, 1918.

An act to prohibit employers or certain agents or representatives of employers from demanding or receiving any money or other consideration from an employee as a condition of employment or of continuing to perform services in such employment; and to provide for the en-enforcement of this act by the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics; and to provide a penalty for the violation thereof; and to repeal an act entitled "An act to forbid managers, superintendents, foremen and other persons having authority from their respective employers to hire, employ, or direct the services of other persons in such employments, to demand or receive any fee, gift or other remuneration in consideration of any such hiring, employment or permission to continue to perform work or services in such employment; and to provide for the enforcement of this act by the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics," approved April 12, 1915.

§ 1. Employer receiving gifts or part of tips from employees guilty of misdemeanor. Any employer or agent or representative of an employer or other person having authority from his employer to hire, employ or direct the services of other persons in the employment of said employer, who shall demand or receive directly or indirectly from any person then in the employment of said employer, any fee, gift or other remuneration or other consideration, or any part or portion of any tips or gratuities received by such employee while in the employment of said employer, in consideration or as a condition of such employment or hiring or employing any person to perform such services for such employer or of permitting said person to continue in such employment, is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not more than three hundred ($300) dollars for such offense, or by imprisonment for not more than six months or by both fine and imprisonment. All fines imposed or collected under provision of this act shall be paid into the state treasury and credited to the contingent fund of the bureau of labor statistics.

§ 2. Employment agencies excepted. Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to apply to employment agencies or employment agents licensed and operating under the laws of the state of California.

§ 3. Enforcement. This act shall be enforced by the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics.

§ 4. Stats. 1915, p. 61, repealed. An act entitled "An act to forbid managers, superintendents, foremen and other persons having authority from their respective employers to hire, employ, or direct the services of other persons in such employments to demand or receive any fee, gift, or other remuneration in consideration of any such hiring, employment or permission to continue to perform work or services in such employment; and to provide for the enforcement of this act by the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics," approved April 12, 1915, and designated chapter fifty-six of the Statutes of 1915, is hereby repealed.

ACT 2143e.

An act establishing and defining the jurisdiction of the industrial accident commission of the state of California and of the railroad commission of the state of California over the safety of employees of public utilities.

§ 1. Jurisdiction of industrial accident commission over safety of employees of public utilities. The industrial accident commission of the state of California is hereby vested with jurisdiction, as provided in the workmen's compensation, insurance and safety act of one thousand nine hundred seventeen, and acts amendatory thereof, subject to the provisions of section three hereof, over the safety of employees of steam railroads employed in shops devoted to the construction or repair of railroad equipment; the safety of employees of electric interurban or street railroads, employed in the generation, transmission or distribution of electric energy, or in shops devoted to the repair of railroad equipment, or in any nonpublic utility operation of such railroads; and the safety of employees of all other public utilities as such utilities are defined in the public utilities act.

§ 2. Jurisdiction of railroad commission not affected. The jurisdiction vested in the industrial accident commission of the state of California by section one hereof shall in no instance, except those affecting exclusively the safety of employees, be construed to impair, diminish or in any way affect the jurisdiction of the railroad commission of the state of California over the construction, reconstruction, replacement, maintenance or operation of the properties of public utilities as defined in the public utilities act, or over any matter affecting the relationship between such public utilities and their customers or the general public.

§ 3. Power of railroad commission. If the industrial accident commission, in the exercise of the authority and jurisdiction conferred by this act, makes or issues any order, decision, ruling or direction, which, in the judgment of the railroad commission, unduly and prejudicially interferes with the construction or operation of any public utility affected thereby, or with the public, or with a consumer or other patron of a public utility affected thereby, the railroad commission, of its own motion, or upon application of any utility or person so affected, may suspend, modify, alter, or annul such order, decision, ruling or direction of the industrial accident commission, and the action of the railroad commission in that regard shall supersede and control the order, decision, ruling or direction of the industrial accident commission previously made in the premises.

§ 4. Act of April 22, 1911, unaffected. This act shall not be construed to repeal or modify the act entitled "An act regulating the placing, erection, use and maintenance of electric poles, wires, cables and appliances, and providing the punishment for the violation thereof," approved April 22, 1911, as amended.

ACT 2143f.

An act to provide for the protection of beneficiaries of workmen's compensation insurance policies against the default or insolvency of insurance carriers issuing such policies by requiring such carriers to provide security for the payment of such compensation.

Amended 1919, p. 611.

§ 1. Workmen's compensation insurance carrier to file bond. Every insurance carrier except the state compensation insurance fund, transacting the business of workmen's compensation insurance in this state, shall as a prerequisite to doing business in this state, file and maintain on file in the office of the insurance commissioner of this state a bond in favor of said insurance commissioner as trustee for the beneficiary or of awards of compensation rendered by the industrial accident commission, executed by said carrier and some surety company or companies, approved by said insurance commissioner and authorized to transact the business of suretyship in this state. Said bond shall be in an amount not less than the reserve for outstanding losses of said insurance carrier on compensation insurance in this state on December thirty-first of the preceding year, calculated as prescribed by the laws of this state, nor more than double the amount of said reserve, but in no case for less than the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, whether such company has previously done such business in this state or not. [Amendment approved May 15, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 611.]

§ 2. Bond to provide for payment of awards by surety. It shall be provided in said bond that, in the event said insurance carrier shall fail to pay any award or awards which shall be rendered against it by said industrial accident commission, within thirty days after the same become final, the said surety will forthwith pay, to the extent of its liability under said bond, said award or awards to said insurance commissioner as trustee for said beneficiaries. Said bond shall further provide that, if said insurance carrier shall suspend payment or become insolvent or a receiver shall be appointed therefor, the said surety will pay said awards, to the extent of its liability under said bond, upon the expiration of thirty days after the same become final, without regard to any proceedings for the liquidation or reinstatement of said insurance carrier. It shall be further provided in said bond, but as a cumulative remedy only, that, in the event said insurance carrier shall fail to pay any award which shall be rendered against it by said industrial accident commission within thirty days after the same becomes final, an award may be rendered by said commission against said surety and in favor of said insurance commissioner as trustee for the beneficiary of said award without notice to said surety for the amount of the unpaid portion of said award against said carrier. Said industrial accident commission is hereby vested with the same full power, authority and jurisdiction as to such awards against said sureties in such cases as it has over said insurance carrier, and it shall issue a certified copy thereof upon the application of any party affected thereby. Said party may file a certified copy of any such award in the office of the clerk of the superior court of any county or city and county of the state of California, and, upon the filing of the same, said clerk shall immediately enter a judgment thereon against said surety. Said certified copy of said award and said judgment shall constitute the judgment-roll and shall conclusively establish the liability of said surety without any additional evidence in any and all proceedings to renew said judgment or to enforce the payment thereof. Said bond shall provide for the payment of all legal costs, including reasonable attorneys' fees, incurred in all actions or proceedings taken to enforce payment of said bonds or payment of said awards or said judgments against said surety. No stay of execution of any such judgment shall be granted except upon the order of said industrial accident commission. Nothing herein contained shall operate to enlarge the liability of said surety beyond the penal sum of its bond. Payment of awards by said surety aggregating the amount of its bond shall constitute a full discharge of all liability under said bond.

§ 3. Filing of new bond each year. Every such insurance carrier shall on or prior to the first day of July of the year A. D. 1918, and of each succeeding year, file in the office of the insurance commissioner of this state a new bond conditioned as aforesaid in an amount not less than the amount of the reserve for outstanding losses of said insurance carrier on compensation insurance in this state on the thirty-first day of the month of December of the preceding year, as shown by its last report of said business filed in the office of said insurance commissioner, nor for more than double the amount of said reserve, but in no case for less than the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, except where said insurance carrier has ceased to do such business in this state, in which case said bond shall be fixed by said insurance commissioner at such amount as he may deem sufficient for the protection of the beneficiaries of the policies of such insurance carrier. Upon the filing of said new bond, approved as herein required, and not until such filing and approval, all liability under the previous bond shall thereby terminate. Said new bond shall embrace the entire liability of said previous bond except in so far as the same may have been paid or discharged.

§ 4. Financial ability of surety. Said insurance commissioner shall, before approving any such bond, satisfy himself of the financial ability of the surety to assume the obligations imposed thereby, and no company shall be accepted by him as surety which shall have assumed obligations in excess of the limits prescribed by standards of suretyship recognized as reasonable and proper and which it shall be the duty of said commissioner to promulgate for uniform application in such cases.

§ 5. No authorization issued until bond filed. No authorization shall be issued or renewed to any insurance carrier to transact the business of workmen's compensation insurance in this state, until it has filed said bond with the insurance commissioner and the same has been approved by him. It shall be the duty of the insurance commissioner to notify the industrial accident commission of the approval and filing of every bond given pursuant to the provisions of this act.

§ 6. Additional bond. The insurance commissioner shall have the right, and it shall be his duty, to require any such insurance carrier at any time to file an additional bond, conditioned as aforesaid, if the amount of the bond then on file is in his judgment insufficient to cover the liability of said insurance carrier for said compensation, or if the surety on said bond has become insufficient in the judgment of the said commissioner.

§ 7. Liability of two or more sureties. Two or more surety companies may be accepted as sureties on said bond, or separate bonds may be executed by different sureties for amounts aggregating the sum specified by the said commissioner. In such cases each of said sureties shall be jointly and severally liable to the extent of the amount of the liability assumed by it.

§ 8. Liability of sureties. The liability of the sureties under the bonds hereby required to be given shall be the entire liability of the principals named therein, not exceeding the amount of said bonds or the limit of the liability assumed by any such surety, for the payment of awards of compensation rendered or to be rendered against said principals by said industrial accident commission under the terms of the workmen's compensation insurance and safety act and acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto, without regard to the time when the injury upon which an award was based may have occurred, but said bond shall not include any other liability of said carrier nor shall any payment made under any such bond by said surety be applied otherwise than in satisfaction of awards of compensation rendered by said industrial accident commission.

§ 9. Insurance commissioner may act as trustee. Full power and authority is hereby conferred upon said insurance commissioner to act as trustee for all beneficiaries under awards rendered by said industrial accident commission, and he may take assignments in his own name as trustee and as such he shall have the authority to institute and maintain actions against said sureties, and, upon the collection by him by suit or otherwise of the amount of said awards, he shall pay the same to the parties entitled thereto. The payment of any such award or part thereof by said insurance commissioner shall constitute a satisfaction thereof to the extent of the payment made and, in the event any judgment shall have been entered on any such award, the said commissioner shall file a satisfaction thereof, to the extent of said payment, in the office of the clerk of the court wherein such judgment has been entered.

§ 10. Right of surety to require new bond of principal. Any such surety shall have the right to require the principal on its bond, on thirty days' notice, to furnish a new bond, to be approved by the insurance commissioner as in other cases, and, in the event of a failure to do so, said principal shall forfeit the right to continue to issue compensation policies in this state.

§ 11. Deposit of security with state treasurer. Any compensation insurance carrier may, in lieu of said bond and subject to the same conditions, deposit with the state treasurer, through the insurance commissioner, from time to time as may be demanded by said commissioner, cash or approved interest-bearing securities readily convertible into cash, equal to the reserves for outstanding losses required by section six hundred two (a) of the Political Code at the time of said deposit, on the compensation business of said carrier in the state of California, calculated as hereinbefore provided, as security for the payment of its obligations on said business done in this state, and said deposit shall not be withdrawn except upon the written order of the insurance commissioner in payment of compensation claims, but shall be forthwith payable by the state treasurer to the insurance commissioner upon such order; provided, that any such deposit, or any remainder thereof, may be repaid to such carrier upon satisfactory showing to the insurance commissioner that every liability to pay compensation shall have been reinsured with a solvent carrier or fully paid and discharged. Said deposit shall be used only for the payment of compensation claims so long as there shall remain unpaid any such claim or any part thereof.

§ 12. Revocation of certificate. The insurance commissioner shall have power to revoke the certificate of authority to transact compensation insurance business in this state of any insurance carrier failing to comply with the requirements of this act.

ACT 2144a.

An act to promote the general welfare of the people of this state as affected by accident causing the injury or death of employees in the course of their employment, by creating a liability on the part of employers to compensate such employees and their dependents for such accidental injury or death irrespective of the fault of either party, and providing the means and methods of enforcing such liability; and creating a "state compensation insurance fund" to insure employers against such liability and providing for its administration and regulating such insurance by other insurance carriers; and requiring safety in all employments and places of employment in this state and providing the means and methods of enforcing such safety; and requiring reports of industrial accidents; and providing penalties for offenses by employers, their officers, agents, and by employees and other persons and corporations; and creating an industrial accident commission, providing for its organization, defining its powers and duties and providing for a review of its orders, decisions and awards; and appropriating moneys to carry out the provisions of this act; and repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act.

Amended 1915, pp. 913, 1079, 1302.

Sections 2, 12-35, 51-87 repealed May 23, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 831. See Act 2143c.

ACT 2144g.

An act requiring employers who provide hospital service for their employees and who make a charge therefor, to keep books, records and accounts of all such charges, and to make an annual written report thereof; requiring each such charge to be just and reasonable and to be devoted to no other purpose than such hospital service; and prescribing penalties for violations of the provisions thereof.

[Approved June 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1310.]

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 3. Hospital charges must be just. Every such hospital charge demanded, collected or received by an employer shall be just and reasonable. The railroad commission is hereby given authority to decide what is an unreasonable charge in all cases where such charge is made by a hospital maintained by a common carrier by rail, and in all cases where the charge is made by a hospital maintained by other than a common carrier by rail, the industrial accident commission is hereby given authority to decide what is an unreasonable charge. [Amendment approved April 6, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 83.]

§ 5. Common carrier subject to railroad commission. Other employees under industrial accident commission. Every common carrier by rail employer who is under a duty to render the report referred to in section two of this act shall be subject to the jurisdiction, control and regulation of the railroad commission in respect to auditing and inspection of all books, records and accounts and to enforce its orders in the same manner and to the same extent as said commission now possesses over any public utility that is subject to the provisions of the "public utilities acts" of this state, approved December 23, 1911, as amended June 11, 1913, and June 14, 1913, and all acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto. Every employer coming under the provisions of this act shall be required to post a copy of this statement or report upon all bulletin-boards at terminals or in a conspicuous place where employees can read such statement or report. Every employer other than a common carrier by rail, who is under a duty to render the report referred to in section two of this act, shall be subject to the jurisdiction, control and regulation of the industrial accident commission in respect to the auditing and inspection of all books, records and accounts and the authority is hereby conferred upon said industrial accident commission to enforce by appropriate orders and processes the provisions of this act. The written report required by section two hereof when made by a common carrier by rail shall be filed with the railroad commission. All other written reports required by section two hereof shall be filed with the industrial accident commission. [Amendment approved April 6, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 83.]

ACT 2144h.

An act to provide for the support of vocational re-education and rehabilitation of workmen disabled in industry in this state, and to create a fund for these purposes to be known as the "industrial rehabilitation fund" by fixing an additional liability upon all employers liable under said act in cases where employees receive fatal compensable injury and leave no dependents.

§ 1. "Industrial rehabilitation fund" created. Whenever any fatal compensable injury is suffered by any employee coming under the provisions of said compensation, insurance and safety act and such deceased employee does not leave surviving him any person entitled to a death benefit, the employer, or his insurance carrier, if he be insured under said compensation act, shall pay into the treasury of the state of California the sum of three hundred fifty dollars for each such fatal injury in addition to any other payments under the provisions of said compensation act; provided, that the total payments shall not exceed three times the average annual earnings of said deceased employee. Said moneys paid into the state treasury under the provisions of this section shall be covered into a special fund to be known as the "industrial rehabilitation fund," which fund is hereby created and appropriated for the purposes set forth in this act.

§ 2. Purpose. The industrial accident commission may draw upon said fund for the promotion of vocational re-education and rehabilitation of persons disabled in industry in this state, in addition to any other money appropriated for such purposes. The controller is hereby ordered to draw his warrant on said fund from time to time in accordance with the direction of the commission, and the treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay the same.

§ 3. Disposition of remainder. The treasurer shall place the remainder, if any, of the fund, after making the payments required by the preceding sections of this act, semi-annually, to the credit of the accident prevention fund, established by said compensation act.

§ 4. Revolving fund. Expense of administration. As soon as the sum of five thousand dollars shall have accumulated in said fund, the treasurer shall, upon the order of the industrial accident commission, deposit the same with the state compensation insurance fund as a revolving fund. The state compensation insurance fund shall, upon the order or award of the industrial accident commission, make the payments required by sections two, three and four from said revolving fund, accounting therefor to the state board of control as in other cases, and the state treasurer shall from time to time, upon the order of the commission, reimburse said state compensation insurance fund from the industrial rehabilitation fund for expenditures made from said revolving fund. The reasonable expense of administration of the said state compensation insurance fund in carrying out the duties imposed by this act shall, upon the auditing and approval thereof by the state board of control, be paid from said industrial rehabilitation fund in the same manner as is provided in this section for other payments. The controller is hereby directed to draw his warrant from time to time in favor of the state compensation insurance fund in accordance with the direction of said commission, and the treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay the same.

§ 5. Proceedings to collect amount or determine liability. If claim of dependency established. If any proceedings are necessary to collect from any employer the amount mentioned in the preceding section, or to determine the liability of any employer under said compensation act with respect to said amount, such proceedings shall be instituted before the industrial accident commission of its own motion or by the attorney general on behalf of the people of the state of California and such proceedings shall be tried and determined in the same manner and with the same effect as any other proceeding to collect compensation; provided, that if proceedings be instituted by any other person to collect benefits under the compensation act on account of such fatal injury, the commission may, if it finds said sum of three hundred fifty dollars payable to the state treasurer, award said sum to the state of California without the people of the state of California being a party to said proceedings; and provided, further, that if said sum of three hundred fifty dollars shall be paid into the treasury and at any time thereafter any person claiming to be a dependent of the deceased employee shall establish such dependency and secure an award therefor, the commission may make an award against the state of California in favor of said dependent for said sum of three hundred fifty dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary to meet the claim of such dependent, said sum to be applied to said death benefit and to relieve to that extent the employer or his insurance carrier against liability therefor.

§ 6. Authority of industrial accident commission. The industrial accident commission of the state of California is hereby vested with full jurisdiction and authority to hear and determine any and all questions and controversies arising under this act and to make and enter all orders and awards necessary to carry out the purposes herein set forth.

TITLE 336.

MEDICINE.

ACT 2164.

An act to regulate the examination of applicants for license, and the practice of those licensed, to treat diseases, injuries, deformities, or other physical or mental conditions of human beings; to establish a board of medical examiners, to provide for their appointment and prescribe their powers and duties, and to repeal an act entitled "An act for the regulation of the practice of medicine and surgery, osteopathy, and other systems or modes of treating the sick or afflicted, in the state of California, and for the appointment of a board of medical examiners in the matter of said regulations," approved March 14, 1907, and acts amendatory thereof, and also to repeal all other acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act.

Amended 1915, p. 184; 1917, p. 93; 1919, pp. 1296, 1299.

The amendments of 1917 and 1919 follow:

§ 2. Board of medical examiners organized. Meetings. Applications for certificates. Directory of practitioners. Fees. Forfeiture of license and restoration. Surplus receipts. The board shall be organized on or before the first Tuesday of September, 1913, by electing from its number a president, vice-president, and a secretary who shall also be the treasurer, who shall hold their respective positions during the pleasure of the board. The board shall hold one meeting annually beginning on the third Monday in October in the city of Sacramento and at least two additional meetings annually, one of which shall be held in the city of Los Angeles, and the other in the city of San Francisco, with power of adjournment from time to time until its business is concluded; provided, however, that examinations of applications for certificates may, in the discretion of the board, be conducted in any part of the state designated by the board. Special meetings of the board may be held at such time and place as the board may designate. Notice of each regular or special meeting shall be given twice a week for two weeks next preceding each meeting in one daily paper published in the city of San Francisco, one published in the city of Sacramento, and one published in the city of Los Angeles, which notice shall also specify the time and place of holding the examination of applicants. The secretary of the board upon an authorization from the president of the board or the chairman of a committee, may call meetings of any duly appointed committee of the board at a specified time and place and it shall not be necessary to advertise such committee meetings. The board shall receive through its secretary applications for certificates provided to be issued under this act and shall, on or before the first day of January of each year, transmit to the governor a full report of all its proceedings together with a report of its receipts and disbursements. The board shall, on or before the first day of January of each year, compile and may thereafter publish and sell, a complete directory giving the addresses of all persons within the state of California who hold unrevoked licenses to practice under any medical practice act of the state of California, which license shall in any manner authorize the treatment of human beings for diseases, injuries, deformities, or any other physical or mental conditions. The board is hereby authorized to require said persons to furnish such information as it may deem necessary to enable it to compile the directory. The directory shall contain in addition to the names and addresses of said persons, the names and symbols indicating the title, name or names, school or schools, which such person has attended and from which graduated, the date of issuance of the license, the present residence of said person and a statement of the form of certificate held. The directory shall be prima facie evidence of the right of the person or persons named therein to practice. It shall be the duty of every person holding a license to practice under any medical act of this state, or who may hereafter be so licensed to practice, to report immediately each and every change of residence, giving both the old and the new address. To comply with the provisions of this section relating to the compilation, publication and sale of a directory in addition to the fee required for the filing of any application, or the issuance of any certificate hereinafter provided for, each licentiate granted a certificate under the provisions of this act, or any preceding medical practice act of the state of California, shall, on or before the first day of January of each year, pay to the secretary-treasurer of the board of medical examiners an annual tax and registration fee of two dollars ($2). Receipt or acknowledgment of payment by the secretary-treasurer shall be evidence that the holder and possessor of such certificate is entitled to practice the particular system for which he was granted such certificate for a period of one year from the first day of January; but notwithstanding the possession by any certificate-holder of such receipt or acknowledgment of payment, the license or certificate issued to such licentiate to practice any system recognized by this or any preceding medical practice act of the state of California, may, at any time, be forfeited or revoked for a violation of the further provisions and requirements of this act. The failure, neglect and refusal of any person holding a license or certificate to practice a system under this or any preceding medical practice act of the state of California, to pay said annual tax of two dollars ($2) during the time his or her license remains in force, shall, after a period of sixty days from the first day of January of each year, ipso facto, work a forfeiture of his or her license or certificate, and it shall not be restored except upon the written application therefor, and the payment to the said board of a fee of ten dollars ($10) except that such licentiate who fails, refuses or neglects to pay such annual tax within a period of sixty days after the first day of January of each year shall not be required to submit to an examination for the reissuance of such certificate. It shall be the duty of the executive officer herein designated as the secretary-treasurer of said board of medical examiners to mail to the last known address of each licentiate who has paid said annual tax a copy of the said directory, and all new issues thereof and copies of all supplements thereto. The receipts of the said annual tax referred to herein shall be paid into the contingent fund of the board of medical examiners of California, and after the expenses of issuing said directories have been paid, in the event that there shall be a surplus of such funds, the board may from time to time, in its discretion, apply said surplus for any other expenses incurred by the board under the provisions of this act. [Amendment approved April 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 94.]

§ 8. Forms of certificates. "Physician and surgeon certificate." "Drugless practitioner certificate." Chiropody certificate. Midwifery certificate. Reciprocity certificate. Four forms of certificates shall be issued by said board under the seal thereof and signed by the president and secretary; first, a certificate authorizing the holder thereof to use drugs or what are known as medicinal preparations in or upon human beings and to sever or penetrate the tissues of human beings and to use any and all other methods in the treatment of diseases, injuries, deformities, or other physical or mental conditions, which certificate shall be designated "physician and surgeon certificate"; second, a certificate authorizing the holder thereof to treat diseases, injuries, deformities, or other physical or mental conditions without the use of drugs or what are known as medicinal preparations and without in any manner severing or penetrating any of the tissues of human beings except the severing of the umbilical cord, which certificate shall be designated "drugless practitioner's certificate"; third, a certificate authorizing the holder thereof to practice chiropody; for the purpose of this act chiropody is defined to be the surgical treatment of abnormal nails and superficial excrescences occurring on the feet, such as corns, callosities, and the treatment of bunions; but it shall not confer the right to operate upon the feet for congenital or acquired deformities, or for conditions requiring the use of anesthetics other than local, or incisions involving structures below the level of the true skin; fourth, a certificate to practice midwifery which shall be in the form designated by the board and in conformity with this act. Such certificate shall entitle the holder thereof to attend cases of childbirth. As used in this act, the practice of midwifery means the furthering or undertaking by any person to assist a woman in normal childbirth, but it does not include at any childbirth the use of any instrument, except such instrument as is necessary in severing the umbilical cord, nor the assisting of childbirth by any artificial, forcible or mechanical means, nor the performance of any version, nor the removal of adherent placenta, nor the administering, prescribing, advising or employing in childbirth of any drug, other than a disinfectant or cathartic. The provisions hereof shall not authorize any midwife to practice medicine and surgery. A "reciprocity certificate" shall also be issued under the provisions hereinafter specified. Any of these certificates on being recorded in the office of the county clerk, as hereinafter provided, shall constitute the holder thereof a duly licensed practitioner in accordance with the provisions of his certificate. [Amendment approved April 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 94.]

§ 9. Applicants must file testimonials, diplomas, etc. Preliminary education. Work in physics, chemistry and biology. Every applicant must file with the board, at least two weeks prior to the regular meeting thereof, satisfactory testimonials of good moral character, and a diploma or diplomas issued by some legally chartered school or schools approved by the board, the requirements of which school or schools shall have been at the time of granting such diploma or diplomas in no degree less than those required under this act, or satisfactory evidence of having possessed such diploma or diplomas, and must file an affidavit stating that he is the person named in said diploma or diplomas, and that he is the lawful holder thereof, and that the same was procured in the regular course of instruction and examination without fraud or misrepresentation; provided, that in addition thereto, each applicant for a "physician and surgeon certificate" must show that he has attended four courses of study, each such course to have been of not less than thirty-two weeks duration, but not necessarily pursued continuously, or consecutively, and that at least ten months shall have intervened between the beginning of any course and the beginning of the preceding course; provided, further, that an applicant for a "drugless practitioner certificate" must show that he has attended two courses of study, each such course to have been of not less than thirty-two weeks duration, but not necessarily pursued continuously or consecutively, and that at least ten months shall have intervened between the beginning of any course and the beginning of the preceding course; the course in chiropody is to consist of not less than thirty-nine weeks consisting of not less than six hundred sixty-four hours; provided, further, that an applicant for a certificate to practice midwifery must show that the applicant has attended a one-year course in a hospital recognized as reputable by the board, and that a course of instruction in anatomy, physiology, obstetrics and hygiene and sanitation as set forth in section ten hereof has been taken, covering a period of one year; provided, further, that in lieu thereof, an applicant who can submit satisfactory proof of the possession of a diploma from a recognized reputable hospital, and who in addition thereto has attended a course of instruction in the subjects enumerated in section ten hereof and satisfactory proof that such instruction has been taken covering a period of at least three months; and provided, further, that in lieu thereof an applicant may present proof satisfactory to the board that the applicant has taken a course of instruction with the minimum requirements as designated in section ten of any school or schools approved by the board as giving a course of instruction in said subjects for a certificate to practice medicine and surgery; provided, also, that before July 1, 1918, in lieu of the diploma or diplomas and preliminary requirements herein referred to where the applicant can show to the satisfaction of the board of medical examiners that he has taken courses hereinafter required in a school or schools approved by the board totaling for applicants for "drugless practitioner certificate" not less than sixty-four weeks consisting of not less than two thousand hours and for "physician and surgeon certificate" totaling not less than one hundred twenty-eight weeks consisting of not less than four thousand hours, it being required that all applicants shall have received passing grades in all such courses, that the applicant or applicants shall be admitted to examination for their respective form of certificates.

The said application shall be made upon a blank furnished by said board and it shall contain such information concerning the medical instruction and the preliminary education of the applicant as the board may by rule prescribe. In addition to the requirements hereinabove provided for, applicants for any form of certificate hereunder shall present to said board at the time of making such application a diploma from a California high school or other school in the state of California requiring and giving a full four years' course of same grade, or other schools elsewhere, requiring and giving a full four years' standard high school course, or its equivalent, approved by the board, together with satisfactory proof that he is the lawful holder of such diploma, and that the same was procured in the regular course of instruction. The passing of an examination before the entrance examining board for the entrance to the academic department of the University of California, or Stanford University or the University of Southern California, or the possession of documentary evidence of admission to the academic department of such institutions as a regular student or in full standing shall be sufficient basic or preliminary educational qualifications. In lieu of such diploma, the applicant may present: (1) a certificate from the college entrance examination board, or the college examining board of any state or territory showing that such applicant has successfully passed the examination of said board; or (2) if such applicant be thirty years or more of age he may show to the satisfaction of the board of medical examiners proof of preliminary education equivalent in training power to the foregoing requirements. After January 1, 1919, every applicant for a "physician and surgeon certificate" shall in addition to the foregoing requirements, present to the board satisfactory evidence that before beginning the last half of the second year in the study of medicine he has completed a course which includes at least one year of work, of college grade, in each of the subjects of physics, chemistry, and biology. The preliminary or basic educational requirements for a chiropodist, shall be as follows: On and after July 5, 1915, the successful completion of one year of high school work or its equivalent; on and after July 1, 1918, two years of high school work or its equivalent; on and after July 1, 1920, three years of high school work or its equivalent; on and after July 1, 1922, four years of high school work or its equivalent.

The preliminary or basic educational qualifications for an applicant to practice midwifery in this state shall be the completion of one year of high school work or its equivalent, and after October, 1918, the presentation to the board of a diploma from a California high school giving a full four years' standard high school course or its equivalent. [Amendment approved April 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 97.]

§ 10. Course of instruction. Physicians and surgeons. Drugless practitioners. Chiropodists. Midwives. Hours required. § 104. Board must approve schools meeting requirements. Action in event of disapproval. The board must approve every school which shall comply with the requirements of section ten of this act and must admit to the examination every applicant who shall comply with the requirements of sections nine and ten of this act. Nothing in this act shall prohibit the board from considering the quality of the course of instruction outlined in section ten hereof. If any school should be disapproved by the board or any applicant for examination rejected by it, then such school so disapproved or such applicant so rejected may commence an action in the superior court against said board to compel the board to approve such school or to admit such applicant to examination or for any other appropriate relief. In any such action, the court shall have full power to investigate and decide all facts anew without regard to any previous determination of the board thereon. Such action shall be speedily determined by said court and shall take precedence over all matters pending therein save and except criminal cases, applications for injunction or other matters to which special precedence may be given by law. [New section added May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1299.]

§ 11. Additional requirements for physicians and surgeons. For drugless practitioners. Exceptions. Examination for chiropodists. Examination for midwives. Re-examination. Admission to drugless practitioner examination. Admission without examination. Examination papers kept on file. Secretary not to be examiner. Form of certificates. In addition to above requirements, all applicants for "physician and surgeon certificate" must pass an examination to be given by the board in the following subjects:

1. Anatomy and histology.
2. Physiology.
3. Bacteriology and pathology.
4. Chemistry and toxicology.
5. Obstetrics and gynecology.
6. Materia medica and therapeutics, pharmacology, including prescription-writing.
7. General medicine, including clinical microscopy.
8. Surgery.
9. Hygiene and sanitation.

All applicants for "drugless practitioner certificates" must pass an examination in the following subjects:

1. Anatomy and histology.
2. Physiology.
3. General diagnosis.
4. Pathology and elementary bacteriology.
5. Obstetrics and gynecology.
6. Toxicology and elementary chemistry.
7. Hygiene and sanitation.

Provided, that a person who holds a "drugless practitioner certificate," issued upon satisfactory proof of the course of instruction and minimum requirements demanded in section ten hereof and who presents evidence of having successfully completed the additional courses required for the "physician and surgeon certificate" as hereinbefore provided, shall be permitted to take his examination in subjects required for a "physician and surgeon certificate" without being re-examined in "drugless practitioner" subjects.

The subjects for such examination shall be:

1. Advanced chemistry.
2. Advanced bacteriology.
3. Surgery.
4. Materia medica and therapeutics, pharmacology, including prescription writing.
5. General medicine, including clinical microscopy.

All applicants for a certificate to practice chiropody must pass an examination in the following subjects:

1. Anatomy and histology.
2. Physiology, chemistry and hygiene.
3. Pathology and bacteriology.
4. Dermatology and syphilis.
5. Orthopedics and surgery.
6. Chiropody and therapeutics.

All applicants for a certificate to practice midwifery must pass an examination in the following subjects:

1. Anatomy and physiology.
2. Obstetrics.
3. Hygiene and sanitation.

All examinations shall be practical in character and designed to ascertain the applicant's fitness to practice his profession, and shall be conducted in the English language, and at least a portion of the examination in each of the subjects shall be in writing. The board in its discretion upon the submission of satisfactory proof from the applicant that he is unable to meet the requirements of the examination in the English language, may allow the use of an interpreter either to be present in the examination room or to thereafter interpret and transcribe the answers of the applicant. The selection of such interpreter is to be left entirely to the board and the expenses thereof to be borne by the applicant, the payment therefor to be made before such examination is held. There shall be at least ten questions on each subject, the answers to which shall be marked on a scale of zero to one hundred. Each applicant must obtain no less than a general average of seventy-five per cent, and not less than sixty per cent in any two subjects; provided, that any applicant shall be granted a credit of one per cent upon the general average for each year of actual practice since graduation; provided, further, that any applicant for "physician and surgeon certificate" obtaining seventy-five per cent each in seven subjects and any applicant for "drugless practitioner certificate" obtaining seventy-five per cent each in five subjects and an applicant for a certificate to practice chiropody obtaining over seventy-five per cent in seven subjects, and an applicant for a certificate to practice midwifery obtaining seventy-five per cent in one subject, shall be subsequently re-examined in those subjects only in which he failed, and without additional fee. Any person who at any time prior to January 1, 1916, shall pay to the secretary of said board the fee of twenty-five dollars and submits satisfactory proof of good moral character and of a resident one-year course of not less than one thousand hours in a legally chartered school approved by the board and satisfactory proof of three years of actual practice of a drugless system of the healing art, such three years of actual practice to have been in the state of California, shall be admitted to the drugless practitioner examination; provided, however, that in the event of a license being granted to such applicant he will not be eligible thereafter for the physician's and surgeon's certificate without a full and complete compliance with the terms and provisions of sections nine and ten hereof. Anyone who shall pay the fee of fifty dollars to the secretary of the board prior to January 1, 1916, and submits to the board satisfactory proof of good moral character and proof of six years' actual practice of a drugless system of the healing art, three years of which must have been in the state of California, and satisfactory proof of a resident one-year course of not less than one thousand hours in a legally chartered school approved by the board and upon proof of competency in a drugless system may be granted a certificate to practice a drugless system in this state; provided, however, that such licensee shall not be permitted to take the physician's and surgeon's examination without a full and complete compliance with the terms of sections nine and ten hereof.

The examination papers shall form a part of the records of the board, and shall be kept on file by the secretary for a period of one year after each examination. In said examination the applicant shall be known and designated by number only, and the name attached to the number shall be kept secret until after the board has finally voted upon the application. The secretary of the board shall in no instance participate as an examiner in any examination held by the board. All questions on any subject in which examination is required under this act shall be provided by the board of medical examiners upon the morning of the day upon which examination is given in such subject, and when it shall be shown that the secretary or any member of the board has in any manner given information in advance of or during examination to any applicant it shall be the duty of the governor to remove such person from the board of medical examiners, or from the office of secretary.

All certificates issued hereunder must state the extent and character of practice which is permitted thereunder and shall be in such form as shall be prescribed by the board. [Amendment approved April 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 102.]

§ 12. Army and navy surgeons authorized to practice. Fee. When certificate may be refused. Exceptions. Any medical director, medical inspector, passed assistant surgeon, or assistant surgeon of the United States navy, honorably discharged or temporarily detached, or placed upon the retired list without being discharged or on active duty, from the medical department of the United States navy, or who by resignation has honorably severed all connection with the service, and any surgeon of the United States army, honorably discharged, or temporarily detached or placed upon the retired list without being discharged or on active duty from the medical department of the United States army, or who by resignation has honorably severed all connection with the service and any commissioned officer, viz.: surgeon general, assistant surgeon general, senior surgeon, surgeon, passed assistant surgeon and assistant surgeon of the United States public health service on active duty with such service, temporarily detached or who has honorably severed all connection with the United States public health service, is hereby authorized to practice medicine and surgery within the state of California by filing a sworn copy of his discharge, if he be discharged, or of the order temporarily detaching him or the order placing him upon the retired list, with the state board of medical examiners or by proving to the satisfaction of the board that by resignation he has honorably left the service, of either the army or navy, and paying said board a fee of fifty dollars; provided, that when it appears to the satisfaction of the board, that in the year in which the applicant was appointed or commissioned in the United States army, navy or public health service, that the requirements of such service for such appointment or commission, were in any degree or particular less than those which were required for the issuance of a similar certificate to practice in California at the date of such issuance, then the board in its discretion may refuse to issue such certificate; provided, further, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to any contract surgeon in the United States army, navy or public health service, and shall not apply to any officer of the medical reserve corps of said army, navy or public health service. [Amendment approved April 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 104.]

§ 12½. Chiropody certificate for persons already practicing, Midwifery certificate to persons already practicing. Investigation of moral character. Applicants to practice osteopathy. Examination. Any person who at any time within ninety days from and after the passing of this act shall pay to said board, the registration fee of fifty dollars, as herein provided, and furnish to said board satisfactory proof of the fact that such applicant has been actually engaged in the practice of chiropody in the state of California for the period of one year prior to July 1, 1915, and that such applicant possesses a good moral character and competency in the practice of chiropody, shall be entitled to practice chiropody, and said board must issue to him a chiropody certificate.

Any person who at any time within one hundred eighty days from and after the passing of this act shall pay to said board the registration fee of twenty dollars as herein provided, and furnish to said board satisfactory proof that such applicant has been actually engaged in the practice of midwifery in the state of California for at least a period of one year, and that such applicant possesses a good moral character and competency in the practice of midwifery, shall be entitled to practice midwifery, and said board must issue to such applicant a midwifery certificate.

The actual practice referred to herein shall consist in satisfactory proof that the applicant has attended at least twenty-five cases of labor and has had the care of at least twenty-five mothers and new-born infants during the lying-in period. The lying-in period referred to herein shall consist of a period of ten days following delivery. The good moral character referred to herein shall be evidenced by the certificates of two physicians and surgeons or practitioners licensed under this or any preceding medical practice act of this state, and the certificate of one layman, preferably a clergyman, priest, rabbi or recognized minister of the gospel. The competency referred to herein shall be evidenced by affidavits of reputable citizens preferably physicians of the vicinity wherein the applicant has recently resided. The board, however, may disregard such certificates and in its discretion may give an oral, practical or clinical examination. The proof of the attendance and completion of the twenty-five cases of labor referred to herein shall be evidenced, if the board shall so require of any applicant, by the submission of the name of the mother, and a reference to the birth certificate required under the law. The board shall have the power to disregard the certificates of moral character referred to herein and may order that an investigation under the direction of the board be held upon the moral character of the applicant. If the said investigation should result in an adverse report to applicant, the applicant shall be entitled to a hearing before said board and after such hearing the board shall be the judges of the moral fitness of the applicant to receive a certificate to practice midwifery. In the event that a certificate to practice midwifery shall not be granted under the provisions of this section, the applicant will be entitled to a refund of ten dollars. Any person who files an application for a "physician and surgeon certificate" two weeks prior to a regular or special meeting, and who submits satisfactory proof to the board that the applicant has been licensed to practice osteopathy under the provisions of an act entitled "An act to regulate the practice of osteopathy in the state of California and to provide for the state board of osteopathic examiners, and to license osteopaths who practice in this state, and to punish persons violating the provisions of this act," which became a law under constitutional provision without the governor's approval March 9, 1901, or who submits satisfactory proof that the applicant has been licensed to practice osteopathy under an act entitled "An act to provide for the regulation of the practice of medicine and surgery, osteopathy and other systems or modes of treating the sick or afflicted in the state of California, and for the appointment of a board of medical examiners in the matter of said regulation, approved March 14, 1907, and who submits satisfactory testimonials of good moral character and a diploma or diplomas issued by some legally chartered school or schools approved by the board, or satisfactory evidence of having possessed such diploma or diplomas and that he is the lawful holder thereof, and that the same was procured in the regular course of instruction and examination without fraud or misrepresentation, and that the applicant has complied with the provisions of sections nine, ten and eleven of this act, may be granted an oral, practical or clinical examination for the "physician and surgeon certificates"; provided, that the board must accept in lieu thereof the educational qualifications enumerated in this section or in sections nine, ten and eleven of this act satisfactory proof to the board of actual practice in the system of treatment known and designated as osteopathy for a period of four years, and upon the presentation of such proof the applicant will be entitled to an oral, practical or clinical examination for a "physician and surgeon certificate." The fee for filing such application shall be twenty-five dollars, fifteen dollars to be returned to the applicant in the event that a certificate is not issued under the provisions hereof. [Amendment approved April 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 105.]

§ 13. Certificates to applicants licensed to practice since August 1, 1901. Requirements. Contracts of reciprocity. Applicant with certificate prior to August 1, 1901. Examination. Fee. Said board must also issue a certificate to practice a system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted recognized by this act or any preceding practice act in the state of California to any applicant, without any examination, authorizing the holder thereof to practice a system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted in the state of California, upon payment of a registration fee of one hundred dollars, upon the following terms and conditions and upon satisfactory proof thereof, viz.: The applicant shall produce a certificate entitling him to practice a system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted, as provided in this act or any preceding practice act of the state of California, issued either by the medical examining board, or by any other board or officer authorized by the law to issue a certificate entitling such applicant to practice a system or mode for treating the sick or afflicted either in the District of Columbia or in any state or territory of the United States, or if such certificate shall have been lost, then a copy thereof, with proof satisfactory to the board of medical examiners of the state of California that the copy is a correct copy. Said certificate must not have been issued to such applicant prior to the first day of August, 1901, and the requirements from the college from which such applicant may have graduated, and the requirements of the board which was legally authorized to issue such certificate permitting such applicant to practice a system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted shall not have been at the time such certificate was issued, in any degree or particular less than those which were required for the issuance of a similar certificate to practice a system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted in the state of California at the date of the issuance of such certificate, or which may hereafter be required by law and which may be in force at the date of the issuance of any such certificate; and provided, further, that said applicant shall furnish from the board which issued said certificate, evidence satisfactory to the board of medical examiners of the state of California showing what the requirements were of the college and of the board, issuing such certificate at the date of such issuance. If, after an examination of such certificate, and the production on the part of the applicant of such further reasonable evidence of the said requirements as may be deemed necessary by the board of medical examiners of the state of California and any other or further examination or investigation which said board may see fit to make on its own part, it shall be found that the requirements of the board issuing such certificate were, when said certificate was issued, in any degree or particular less than the requirements provided by the law of the state of California at the date of the issuance of such certificate or that the applicant has not been a resident of the state from which the application is based for a period of one year subsequent to the issuance of such certificate he will not be entitled to practice within the state of California without an examination. An oral examination shall not be deemed to be of equal merit with a written examination and no certificate shall be issued in the case where a written examination was given in California and an applicant was given an oral examination in another state at the same time. The board is hereby authorized to enter into a contract or contracts of reciprocity with other states wherein the standard of such states is not in any degree or particular less than were the requirements in the state of California in the same year, for the issuance of a certificate to practice a system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted, such certificate to be similar in scope of practice as the certificate issued in the other state; provided, however, that an application based upon a certificate to practice any system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted issued in the District of Columbia or in any state or territory prior to March 4, 1907, if refused or denied by reason of the insufficiency of the standard of such state or territory then such applicant may have the privilege of either a written or oral examination before the board at the option of the applicant. Any person may file an application with the said board to practice medicine and surgery within the state of California, in the event that such applicant has been duly licensed prior to August 1, 1901, and has practiced medicine and surgery in another state or territory, or the District of Columbia, for a period of time commencing prior to the first day of August, 1901. Such application shall be verified and shall contain a statement showing: (a) the full name of the applicant; (b) all institutions at which he has studied and the period of such study, and all institutions from which he has graduated; (c) a statement of whatever certificate or certificates to practice medicine and surgery may have been issued to him, together with the date of such certificate and a description of the same, and, if required by the board, the certificates themselves, or satisfactory proof of their issuance; (d) a statement of all places in which said applicant has practiced medicine and surgery; (e) such other general information as to his past practice, as may be required by the said board. The said board shall make such independent investigation of the character, ability and standing of the applicant as it may deem proper and necessary, and if it shall find after such investigation that said applicant has been a practicing physician and surgeon in any other state or territory or the District of Columbia, prior to August 1, 1901, and prior to said last-named date has been duly licensed so to practice, and that his reputation as such physician and surgeon is good in the community in which he has so practiced medicine and surgery, and has been a resident of his last state of residence for a period of one year prior to date of filing his application in the state of California, they shall afford him an examination on a day suiting the convenience of the board not more than six months subsequent to the presentation of said application. Said examination shall be oral, practical, and clinical in nature, and full consideration shall be given to the duration and character of the applicant's practice. If after such last-mentioned examination it is determined by a majority vote of the said medical examiners conducting said examination, that such applicant is so qualified to practice medicine and surgery within the state of California, and that his reputation and standing in the community in which he has previously practiced is good, the said applicant shall be entitled to receive a "physician and surgeon certificate." Each applicant on making such application shall pay to the secretary of the board, a fee of one hundred dollars, which shall be paid to the treasurer of the board, of which sum ninety dollars shall be returned to him should he not receive a certificate hereunder. All certificates issued pursuant to this section shall be marked across the face thereof "reciprocity certificate." Any person granted a "reciprocity certificate" to practice any system or mode for treating the sick or afflicted recognized by this or any preceding medical practice act in this state, such certificates not being of equal scope with the certificates known and designated as the "physician and surgeon certificate," will not be eligible for the "physician and surgeon certificate" as designated in this act without a full and complete compliance with the terms and provisions of sections nine, ten and eleven hereof.

§ 14. Refusal of certificate for unprofessional conduct. Refusal to obey subpoena. Revocation of certificate for unprofessional conduct. Said board must refuse a certificate to any applicant guilty of unprofessional conduct. On the filing with the secretary of a sworn complaint, charging the applicant with having been guilty of unprofessional conduct, the secretary must forthwith issue a citation, under the seal of the board, and make the same returnable at the next regular session of said board, occurring at least thirty days next after filing the complaint. Such citation shall notify the applicant when and where the charges of said unprofessional conduct will be heard, and that the applicant shall file his written answer, under oath, within twenty days next after the service on him of said citation or that default will be taken against him and his application for a certificate refused. The attendance of witnesses at such hearing may be compelled by subpoenas issued by the secretary of the board under its seal. Said citation and said subpoenas shall be served in accordance with the statutes of this state then in force as to the service of citation and subpoenas generally, and all the provisions of the statutes of this state then in force relating to subpoenas and to citations are hereby made applicable to the subpoenas and citations provided for herein. Upon the secretary's certifying to the fact of refusal of any person to obey a subpoena or citation to the superior court of the county in which the service was had, said court shall thereupon proceed to hear said matter in accordance with the statutes of this state then in force as to contempts for disobedience of process of the court, and should said court find that the subpoena or citation has been legally served, and that the party so served has willfully disobeyed the same, it shall proceed to impose such penalty as provided in cases of contempt of court. In all cases of alleged unprofessional conduct, arising under this act, depositions of witnesses may be taken, the same as in civil cases and all the provisions of the statutes of this state then in force as to the taking of depositions are hereby made applicable to the taking of depositions under this act. If the applicant shall fail to file with the secretary of said board his answer, under oath, within twenty days after service on him of said citation, or within such further time as the board may allow, and the charges on their face shall be deemed sufficient by the board, default shall be entered against him, and his application refused. If the charges on their face be deemed sufficient by the board, and issue be joined thereon by answer, the board shall proceed to determine the matter, and to that end shall hear such proper evidence as may be adduced before it; and if it appear to the satisfaction of the board that the applicant is guilty as charged, no certificate shall be issued to him. Whenever any holder of a certificate herein provided for is guilty of unprofessional conduct, as the same is defined in this act, and the said unprofessional conduct has been brought to the attention of the board granting said certificate, in the manner hereinafter provided or whenever a certificate has been procured by fraud or misrepresentation, or issued by mistake, or the person holding such certificate is found to be practicing contrary to the provisions thereof and of this act, it shall be the duty of said board either to suspend the right of the holder of said certificate to practice for a period not exceeding one year, or in its discretion to revoke his certificate. In the event of such suspension, the holder of such certificate shall not be entitled to practice thereunder during the term of suspension; but, upon the expiration of the term of said suspension, he shall be reinstated by the board and shall be entitled to resume his practice, unless it shall be established to the satisfaction of the board that said person so suspended from practice, has, during the term of such suspension, practiced in the state of California, in which event the board shall revoke the certificate of such person. No such suspension or revocation shall be made unless such holder is cited to appear and the same proceedings are had as is hereinbefore provided in this section in case of refusal to issue certificates. Said secretary in all cases of suspension or revocation shall enter on his register the fact of such suspension or revocation, as the case may be, and shall certify the fact of such suspension or revocation under the seal of the board, to the county clerk of the counties in which the certificates of the person whose certificate has been revoked is recorded; and said clerk must thereupon write upon the margin or across the face of his register of the certificate of such person, the following: "The holder of this certificate was on the — day of — suspended for —," or, "This certificate was revoked on the — day of —," as the case may be, giving the day, month and year of such revocation or length of suspension, as the case may be, in accordance with said certification to him by said secretary. The record of such suspension or revocation so made by said county clerk shall be prima facie evidence of the fact thereof, and of the regularity of all the proceedings of said board in the matter of said suspension or revocation. The words "unprofessional conduct" as used in this act, are hereby declared to mean:

First—The procuring or aiding or abetting or attempting or agreeing or offering to procure a criminal abortion.

Second—The willfully betraying of a professional secret.

Third—All advertising of medical business which is intended or has a tendency to deceive the public or impose upon credulous or ignorant persons, and so be harmful or injurious to public morals or safety.

Fourth—All advertising of any medicine or of any means whereby the monthly periods of women can be regulated or the menses re-established if suppressed.

Fifth—Conviction of any offense involving moral turpitude in which case the record of such conviction shall be conclusive evidence.

Sixth—Habitual intemperance or excessive use of cocaine, opium, morphine, codeine, heroin, alpha eucaine, beta eucaine, novocaine or chloral hydrate or any of the salts, derivatives or compounds of the foregoing substances or the prescribing, selling, furnishing, giving away or offering to prescribe, sell, furnish, or give away such substances to a habitue who is not under the direct personal and continuous treatment and care of the physician for the cure of the above-mentioned drugs.

Seventh—The personation of another licensed practitioner or permitting or allowing another person to use his certificate in the practice of any system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted.

Eighth—The use, by the holder of any certificate, in any sign or advertisement in connection with his said practice or in any advertisement or announcement of his practice, of any fictitious name, or any name other than his own.

Ninth—The use by the holder of a "drugless practitioner certificate" of drugs or what are known as medicinal preparations, in or upon any human being, or the severing or penetrating by the holder of said "drugless practitioner certificate" of the tissues of any human being in the treatment of any disease, injury, deformity, or other physical or mental condition of such human being, excepting the severing of the umbilical cord.

Tenth—Advertising, announcing or stating, directly, indirectly, or in substance, by any sign, card, newspaper, advertisement or other written or printed sign or advertisement, that the holder of such certificate or any other person, company, or association by which he is employed or in whose service he is, will cure or attempt to cure, or will treat, any venereal disease, or will cure or attempt to cure or treat any person or persons for any sexual disease, for lost manhood, sexual weakness, or sexual disorder or any disease of the sexual organs; or being employed by, or being in the service of, any person, firm, association, or corporation so advertising, announcing or stating.

Eleventh—The use by the holder of any certificate of any letter, letters, word, words, or term or terms used either as prefix or affix or suffix indicating that such certificate holder is entitled to practice a system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted for which he was not licensed in the state of California.

Twelfth—The employment of "cappers" or "steerers" or other persons in procuring practice for a practitioner for a system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted provided for in this act.

Thirteenth—The certificate issued herein for the practice of midwifery may be revoked when it appears to the satisfaction of the board that in any case or cases that the licentiate may have treated, that due caution and circumspection was not used or that the holder of said certificate in its treatment of any case or cases had not used proper aseptic and antiseptic precautions.

Fourteenth—The certificate to practice midwifery herein may be revoked upon conviction for the violation of any health statute, order or ordinance or for the neglect or refusal to comply with the health rules and regulations of any state, county, city and county, city or township.

Fifteenth—The certificate issued herein for the practice of midwifery may be revoked for the treatment by any midwife in any case of labor in which case there is a complicated vertex presentation in which said licentiate did not call or attempt to call a licentiate licensed to practice a system including the practice of obstetrics under this act or any preceding medical practice act in this state.

Sixteenth—The certificate issued herein for the practice of midwifery may be revoked for a failure to refer to a licentiate under this act or any preceding act in the state of California licensed to practice a system including obstetrics, a case which during pregnancy has, or develops any of the following conditions: a contracted pelvis or other deformity that will interfere with labor; bleeding from the uterus; swelling of the face and hands; excessive vomiting; persistent headache; dimness of vision; convulsions; or for failure to call or summons a physician if any of the following conditions exist or develop at the beginning of or during labor: Complicated presentation of a vertex (head); convulsions, excessive bleeding; prolapse of the cord; a swelling or tumor that obstructs the birth of the child; signs of exhaustion or collapse; unduly prolonged labor; or the failure to refer to a licentiate in this act or any preceding act in the state of California licensed to practice a system including obstetrics, a case, which during the lying-in period, develops the following conditions: Convulsions; excessive bleeding; foul smelling discharge (lochia); persistent rise of temperature to one hundred one degrees Fahrenheit for twenty-four hours; swelling and redness of the breasts; severe chill (rigor) with rise of temperature; inability to nurse the child; or for a failure to refer to a licentiate under this act or any preceding act in the state of California licensed to practice a system including obstetrics, a case where the child has or develops any of the following conditions: Deformities or malformations or injuries; inability to suckle or nurse; inflammation around or discharge from the navel; swelling and redness of the eyelids with a discharge of pus from the eyes (ophthalmia neonatorum); bleeding from the mouth, naval or bowels; inability to urinate.

Seventeenth—The certificate issued herein for the practice of midwifery may be revoked for the treatment by the said midwife licentiate known as the introduction of the hand into the vagina or uterus to remove placenta or membranes.

Eighteenth—The certificate issued herein for the practice of midwifery may be revoked for the failure to have the following equipment (in each case): Nail brush; wooden or bone nail cleaner; jar of green or soft castile soap; rubber gloves; tube of sterile vaseline; clinical thermometer; agate or glass douche reservoir; two rounded vaginal douche nozzles; two rectal nozzles, large and small; one soft rubber catheter; blunt scissors for cutting cord; either lysol, carbolic acid or bichloride of mercury tablets; boric acid powder; one per cent solution of nitrate of silver; medicine dropper; narrow tape or soft twine for tying cord; absorbent cotton (preferably in one-quarter pound packages); no other instruments are to be used, owned or possessed by a midwife. [Amendment approved April 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 109.]

§ 15. Certificates to be recorded. Every person holding a certificate under the laws of this state authorizing him to practice any system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted in this state must have it recorded in the office of the county clerk of the county or counties in which the holder of said certificate is practicing his profession, and the fact of such recordation shall be indorsed on the certificate by the county clerk recording the same. Any person holding a certificate as aforesaid, who shall practice or attempt to practice any system, or mode of treating the sick or afflicted in this state, without having first filed his certificate with the county clerk, as herein provided, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished as hereinafter designated in this act. [Amendment approved April 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 113.]

§ 17. Practice without license. Penalty. Any person who shall practice or attempt to practice, or who advertises or holds himself out as practicing, any system or mode of treating the sick or afflicted in this state, or who shall diagnose, treat, operate for, or prescribe for, any disease, injury, deformity, or other mental or physical condition of any person, without having at the time of so doing a valid unrevoked certificate as provided in this act, or who shall in any sign or in any advertisement use the word "doctor," the letters or prefix "Dr.," the letters "M.D.," or any other term or letters indicating or implying that he is a doctor, physician, surgeon or practitioner, under the terms of this or any other act, or that he is entitled to practice hereunder, or under any other law without having at the time of so doing a valid unrevoked certificate as provided in this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished as designated in this act. [Amendment approved April 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 114.]

§ 18. Penalty for selling certificate. Altering of certificate. Practice under false name. Records of associates of practitioner. Any person, or any member of any firm, or official of any company, association, organization or corporation shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable as designated in this act, who, individually or in his official capacity, shall himself sell or barter, or offer to sell or barter, any certificate authorized to be granted hereunder, or any diploma, affidavit, transcript, certificate or any other evidence required in this act for use in connection with the granting of certificates or diplomas, or who shall purchase or procure the same either directly or indirectly with intent that the same shall be fraudulently used, or who shall with fraudulent intent alter any diploma, certificate, transcript, affidavit, or any other evidence to be used in obtaining a diploma or certificate required hereunder or who shall use or attempt to use fraudulently any certificate, transcript, affidavit, or diploma, whether the same be genuine or false, or who shall practice or attempt to practice any system or treatment of the sick or afflicted, under a false or assumed name, or any name other than that prescribed by the board of medical examiners of the state of California on its certificate issued to such person authorizing him to administer such treatment, or who shall assume any degree or title not conferred upon him in the manner and by the authority recognized in this act, with intent to represent falsely that he has received such degree or title, or who shall willfully make any false statement on any application for examination, license or registration under this act, or who shall engage in the treatment of the sick or afflicted without causing to be displayed in a conspicuous manner and in a conspicuous place in his office the name of each and every person who is associated with or employed by him in the practice of medicine and surgery or other treatment of the sick or afflicted, or who shall, within ten days after demand made by the secretary of the board, fail to furnish to said board the name and address of all such persons associated with or employed by him or by any company or association with which he is or has been connected at any time within sixty days prior to said notice, together with a sworn statement showing under and by what license or authority said person or persons, or said employee or employees, is or are, or has or have been practicing medicine or surgery, or any other system of treatment of the sick or afflicted. It shall be the duty of any person or persons upon whom the board of medical examiners may make a demand for the name or names and address or addresses of a person or persons associated or employed by him or them to make affidavit that there are no such person or persons associated or employed by him or them, if such be the fact; provided, that such affidavit shall not be used as evidence against said person or employee in any proceedings under this action. [Amendment approved April 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 114.]

missioned medical officer in the United States army, navy or marine hospital, or public health service, in the discharge of his official duties; nor to any licensed dentist when engaged exclusively in the practice of dentistry. Nor shall this act apply to any practitioner from another state or territory, when in actual consultation with a licensed practitioner of this state, if such practitioner is, at the time of such consultation, a licensed practitioner in the state or territory in which he resides; provided, that such practitioner shall not open an office or appoint a place to meet patients or receive calls within the limits of this state. Nor shall this act be construed so as to discriminate against any particular school of medicine or surgery, or any other treatment, nor to regulate, prohibit or to apply to, any kind of treatment by prayer, nor to interfere in any way with the practice of religion. Nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent a student regularly matriculated in any legally chartered school or schools approved by the board from treating without compensation to such student the sick or afflicted as a part of his course of study. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1297.]

§ 24. Title of act. Penalties. Disposition of fines. This act when referred to, cited or amended may be designated as the state medical practice act, and for a violation of any provision of this act, the said violator shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, unless otherwise specifically provided in this act, and shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than six hundred dollars or by imprisonment for a term of not less than sixty days nor more than one hundred eighty days or by both such fine and imprisonment. The fines or forfeitures of bail in any case wherein any person is charged with a violation of the provisions of this act shall be paid upon the collection by the proper officer of the court seventy-five per cent thereof to the state treasurer to be deposited to the credit of the contingent fund of the board of medical examiners and such payment to said treasurer shall be made without placing such fine or forfeiture of bail in any special or contingent or general fund of any county, city and county, city, or township. The balance or twenty-five per cent of such fines or forfeitures of bail shall be paid to the county wherein the case is pending. [New section added April 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 115.]

An act authorizing the state board of medical examiners to refund taxes, fees and penalties collected by mistake, error or inadvertence, and providing an appropriation therefor.

§ 1. Refund of money collected through error. The state board of medical examiners is hereby authorized, empowered and directed to refund any taxes, penalties or fees collected by the state board of medical examiners illegally, by mistake, inadvertence or error.

§ 2. Payments from contingent fund. The state board of medical examiners is hereby authorized to expend out of its contingent fund whatever sum may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, and the state treasurer, and all other officials having custody of such funds are hereby authorized upon request or direction of the state board of medical examiners to pay out such refunds or approve such payments from said contingent fund.

TITLE 343.

MILITARY COMPANIES.

ACT 2203.

An act creating a state defense guard, providing for its control and compensation, prescribing its duties and making an appropriation therefor. [Approved May 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1279.]

Repealed 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 255.

TITLE 345.

MINES AND MINING.

ACT 2213b.

An act establishing and creating a department of the state mining bureau for the protection of the natural resources of petroleum and gas from waste and destruction through improper operations in production; providing for the appointment of a state oil and gas supervisor; prescribing his duties and powers; fixing his compensation; providing for the appointment of deputies and employees; providing for their duties and compensation; providing for the inspection of petroleum and gas wells; requiring all persons operating petroleum and gas wells to make certain reports; providing procedure for arbitration of departmental rulings; creating a fund for the purposes of the act; providing for assessment of charges to be paid by operators and providing for the collection thereof; and making an appropriation for the purposes of this act.

Amended June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1586; 1919, p. 1166.

The amendments of 1917 and 1919 follow:

§ 1. Department of petroleum and gas created. A separate department of the state mining bureau is hereby established and created, to be known as the department of petroleum and gas. Such department shall be under the general jurisdiction of the state mineralogist. He shall appoint a supervisor who shall be either a competent engineer or geologist experienced in the development and production of petroleum, or a competent oil operator, having had not less than five years' actual practical experience in California oil fields, and who shall be designated the "state oil and gas supervisor," and whose term of office shall be four years from the date of his appointment. [Amendment approved May 25, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1166.]

§ 2. State mineralogist's compensation. Secretary's added compensation. Supervisor's salary. For his services in the general supervision of said department, the state mineralogist shall receive as compensation one thousand four hundred dollars annually which shall be in addition to his compensation fixed in section two of the act of June 16, 1913, relating to the state mining bureau.

The secretary of the state mining bureau shall receive for his services in connection with the department of petroleum and gas, a sum not to exceed six hundred dollars annually, which sum shall be in addition to his compensation paid from the funds of the state mining bureau.

The supervisor shall receive an annual salary of six thousand dollars, and shall be allowed his necessary traveling expenses. The state mineralogist may, at the request of the state oil and gas supervisor, and subject to the civil service laws of the state, appoint one chief clerk at a salary of not to exceed one thousand eight hundred dollars annually; twelve office assistants or stenographers each at a salary of not to exceed one thousand two hundred dollars annually; four geological draftsmen each at a salary not to exceed one thousand five hundred dollars annually; four petroleum engineers each at a salary not to exceed two thousand four hundred dollars annually; twelve inspectors each at a salary not to exceed one thousand eight hundred dollars annually.

The additional salary herein authorized to be paid to the state mineralogist and the secretary of the state mining bureau and the salaries of the supervisor and of the deputies, clerks, stenographers, assistants and other employees shall be paid out of the funds hereinafter provided for at the times and in the manner that salaries of other state officers and employees are paid. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1586.]

§ 4. Deputies. It shall be the duty of the state oil and gas supervisor to appoint one chief deputy and five field deputies, one for each of the districts hereinafter provided for, and prescribe their duties and fix their compensation, which shall not exceed four thousand dollars per annum for the chief deputy, and not to exceed three thousand six hundred dollars per annum for each field deputy. Such deputies shall serve during the pleasure of the supervisor. He shall also employ an attorney at a compensation not exceeding three thousand dollars per year, payable out of said fund. The supervisor and the deputies shall not be subject to the civil service act. [Amendment approved May 25, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1166.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 1587.

§ 5. Qualifications of deputies. The chief deputy appointed by the supervisor shall be a competent engineer or geologist experienced in the development and production of petroleum; and each field deputy shall be either a competent engineer or geologist, experienced in the development and production of petroleum, or shall be a competent and experienced oil operator, having had not less than five years' actual experience in the oil fields of the state of California. At the time any field deputy is appointed, notice of such appointment shall be transmitted in writing to the board of commissioners of the district for which said deputy is appointed, which field deputy shall maintain an office in the district for which he is appointed, convenient of access to the petroleum and gas operators therein. The office shall be open and the deputy shall be present at certain specified times, which shall be posted at such office. [Amendment approved May 25, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1166.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 1587.

§ 7. Records open to inspection. The records of any and all operators, when filed with the deputy supervisor as hereinafter provided, shall be open to inspection to those authorized in writing by such operators, to the state officers, and to the board of commissioners hereinafter provided for. Such records shall in no case other than those hereinafter and in this section provided, be available as evidence in court proceedings and no officer or employee or member of any board of commissioners shall be allowed to give testimony as to the contents of said records, except at such court proceedings as are hereinafter provided for in the review of the decision of the state oil and gas supervisor, or a board of commissioners, or in any proceedings initiated for the enforcement of an order of the supervisor, or any proceeding initiated for the enforcement of a lien created by this act, or any proceeding for the collection of the assessment levied under and pursuant to the provisions of this act or in criminal proceedings arising out of such records, or the statements upon which they are based. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1588.]

§ 8. Tests and remedial work. It shall be the duty of the supervisor to order such tests or remedial work as in his judgment are necessary to protect the petroleum and gas deposits from damage by underground water, to the best interests of the neighboring property owners, and the public at large. The order shall be in written form, signed by the supervisor, and shall be served upon the owner of the well, or the local agent appointed by such owner, either personally or by mailing a copy of said order to the postoffice address given at the time the local agent is designated, or if no such local agent has been designated, by mailing a copy of said order to the last known postoffice address of said owner, or if the owner be unknown by posting a copy of said order in a conspicuous place upon the property, and publishing the same in some newspaper of general circulation throughout the county in which said well is located, once a week for two successive weeks. Said order shall specify the condition sought to be remedied and the work necessary to protect such deposits from damage from underground waters. For this purpose each operator or owner shall designate an agent, giving his postoffice address, who resides within the county where the well or wells are located, upon whom all orders or notices provided for in this act may be served.

Whenever the supervisor or any deputy supervisor or inspector makes any written recommendation or gives any written direction concerning the drilling, testing or other operation in any oil or gas well drilled, in process of drilling or being abandoned, and the operator, owner or representative of either, serves written notice, either personally or by mail, addressed to the supervisor or his deputy at his office in the district, requesting that a definite order be made upon such subject, the supervisor or his deputies shall, within five days after such notice, deliver a final written order on such subject matter in such manner and form that an appeal may be taken at once therefrom, to the board of oil and gas commissioners of the district created under this chapter. [Amendment approved May 25, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1167.]

§ 9. Owner's Objections. The well owner, or his or its local agent, may, within ten days from the date of the service of any order from the supervisor or his chief deputy or field deputy, file with the supervisor or his deputy in the district where the property is located, a written statement that the order is not acceptable, and that appeal from said order is taken to the board of commissioners of said district under the provisions of this chapter. Such appeal shall operate as a stay of any order issued under or pursuant to the provisions of this act. Immediately upon filing of such notice of appeal, the deputy supervisor of the district, as secretary ex-officio of the board of oil and gas commissioners, shall immediately call a meeting of said commissioners to hear and pass upon said appeal. The hearing upon said appeal before said district board of oil and gas commissioners, shall be de novo and at such place in the district as the commissioners may designate, and within ten days from the taking of such appeal; five days' notice in writing shall be given to the appellant of the time and place of such hearing, and for good cause the commissioners may postpone such hearing on the application of appellant, or the state oil and gas supervisor, or the field deputy in said district, for not exceeding five days. [Amendment approved May 25, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1165.]

§ 10. State divided into five districts. For the purposes of this act, the state shall be divided into five districts, as follows:

District No. 1, including the counties of Los Angeles, Riverside, Orange, San Diego, Imperial, and San Bernardino.

District No. 2, the county of Ventura.

District No. 3, including the counties of Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo, Monterey, Santa Cruz, San Benito, Santa Clara, Contra Costa, San Mateo, Alameda, and San Francisco.

District No. 4, including the counties of Tulare, Inyo, and Kern.

District No. 5, including the counties of Fresno, Madera, Kings, Mono, Mariposa, Merced and all other counties in California not included in any of said other districts.

District oil and gas commissioners. Election. Attorney expenses. Successors. Recall. Vacancy. Advice of supervisor. There shall be elected, at the times and in the manner hereinafter provided, district oil and gas commissioners for each such districts, as follows: For district number one, five; for district number two, five; for district number three, five; for district number four, seven; for district number five, five.

Said district oil and gas commissioners shall be elected by vote of the companies, individuals, copartnerships or associations, who shall have been assessed, and whose names shall appear on the last record of assessments (next preceding such election) for and on account of the fund in this act provided to be raised, within said districts respectively, said vote to be taken at a meeting to be held in each of said districts, respectively, and on the third Monday in September of each year, such place and the time and details of such meeting to be fixed by the state oil and gas supervisor, and of which meeting at least two weeks previous notice shall have been given by letter addressed to each of said persons, corporations, copartnerships and associations, entitled to vote as aforesaid, at his or its postoffice address or principal place of business.

At said meeting each of those entitled to vote as herein provided may be represented by one person holding the written authority of such voter to act for him at such meeting. At said meeting each voter shall be entitled to one vote for each member of the board of district oil and gas commissioners who are required to be selected for such district. In addition thereto, in each district in which five commissioners are to be elected, each voter shall be entitled, for each one hundred dollars, or fraction thereof, which said voter shall have paid in accordance with his last assessment hereunder, to cast one vote for the two commissioners who are elected for three years; and in each district in which seven commissioners are to be elected, each voter shall be entitled, for each one hundred dollars, or fraction thereof, which such voter shall have paid in accordance with his last assessment hereunder, to cast one vote for the three commissioners who are elected for three years. In all subsequent elections the qualification of voters in the election of a commissioner shall be the same as in the election of the commissioner whose successor in office is being elected. Said meeting shall select by ballot, by a majority vote of the votes represented, the number of persons as hereinbefore specified to act as district oil and gas commissioners for such district. In any district entitled to seven commissioners, two shall be chosen for a term of one year, two for two years and three for three years. In any district entitled to five commissioners, one shall be chosen for a term of one year, two for two years and two for three years.

The chairman and secretary of the meeting shall issue a written certificate to the state oil and gas supervisor, setting forth the result of such election, and the name and address of each of the persons elected at said meeting as the district oil and gas commissioners for said district, and the term for which each has been elected. No person shall be eligible as a district oil and gas commissioner who is not a resident of the district for which he is elected, nor shall any person be eligible for such position who is not actually engaged in the business of oil or gas development or production within the district. Upon receipt of the certificate so made by the chairman and secretary of any such meeting, the state oil and gas supervisor shall issue a certificate of election to the respective persons in said district named as the district oil and gas commissioners for said district, and for the periods of one, two or three years from and after the first Monday in October, 1917, as shall be shown in such certificate, and until their respective successors shall have been elected.

Within thirty days after their appointment by the state oil and gas supervisor, the district oil and gas commissioners for each district shall meet at a time and place within the district to be designated by the state oil and gas supervisor, and shall thereupon select one of the number as chairman. The deputy supervisor of the district shall be ex officio secretary of said board, and shall keep a record of its proceedings, and his office shall be the office of the commissioners.

Each board of commissioners may appoint one of its number as assistant secretary who shall, in the absence of the secretary, keep the minutes of said board, and shall perform such further secretarial duties as the board, by resolution, may direct.

In case of any litigation in which any district board of oil and gas commissioners shall be a party, such board shall have full authority to employ a competent attorney for each such litigation, and to fix his compensation, either before or after his services shall be concluded, and said compensation shall, when certified by the chairman of said board and by the state board of control, be paid from the fund created by this chapter.

Said commissioners shall serve without compensation, except their necessary traveling expenses and other actual expenses incident to their office.

In case of any hearing upon appeal before any board of district oil and gas commissioners, they shall have authority to employ a competent stenographer to take the testimony and proceedings, and in case either party shall take proceedings in the superior court, by writ of certiorari, from any order or decision of such board, it shall cause the stenographer so employed to make a full transcript of the testimony and proceedings before said board of commissioners, and three copies in addition to the original thereof. The original and one copy shall be for the use of said board of commissioners, and one copy shall be furnished to the state oil and gas supervisor, and one copy shall be furnished to the owner of the well in question. The cost and expense of employing any such stenographer, and the transcribing of his notes and making said copies, shall be part of the expenses of said commissioners, and when certified by the chairman of said board, and audited by the state board of control, shall be paid from said fund.

The traveling expenses of said commissioners, and all actual expenses incurred by or under the order of said commissioners, in the hearing and determination and carrying out of orders appealed to them, shall be certified by the deputy supervisor and the chairman of such board of supervisors, to the state supervisor, and when audited by him and by the state board of control, shall be paid from said fund.

Successors elected. On the third Tuesday in September of each year at an hour and place in said respective districts to be fixed by the state oil and gas supervisor, and of which notices shall have been given as hereinbefore specified, the successor of each of the district oil and gas commissioners whose term of appointment shall expire that year, shall be elected and qualified in the manner and subject to the provisions hereinbefore set forth, and the term of each shall be for a period of three years from and after the first Monday in October next succeeding.

Recall of commissioners. All, either or any of the district oil and gas commissioners elected in any district may be recalled by the votes of a majority of the qualified votes of the district entitled to vote as to such commissioners, respectively. In case there shall be filed in the office of the state oil and gas supervisor, a written petition, signed by not less than forty per cent of those entitled to vote as to the election of any commissioner or commissioners, asking the recall of such commissioner or commissioners, said state oil and gas supervisor shall, within ten days thereafter, order and give notice of, a special election in such district to fill the office or offices of the commissioner or commissioners named in said petition for recall; and shall cause notice to be given of said election in the manner and for the time required for regular election, and said notice shall fix the time and place of such election. At such election, the commissioner or commissioners named in such petition for recall shall be voted upon as though candidates for election for the unexpired portion of the term for which they, respectively, were originally elected, and any other candidate or candidates may, at the same time, be voted upon. It shall require a majority of all the qualified votes entitled to vote for such commissioners, respectively, to constitute an election. In case less than a majority of all qualified votes shall be cast for any candidate, said recall shall be deemed to have failed as to the commissioner concerning whose office such vote was taken; and in case such commissioner himself shall receive a majority of the votes, said recall shall be deemed to have failed, and in either of such cases, such commissioner shall continue to serve until the expiration of his term, as though no such special election had been held. But in case any person other than such commissioner shall receive a majority of the votes for such unexpired term, then such recall shall become effective and the office of the commissioner so recalled shall be vacant and upon written certificate of such election being filed with the state oil and gas supervisor, the person so chosen and elected for such unexpired term shall become the successor of the commissioner so recalled, and a certificate of his election for such unexpired term shall be issued and transmitted to him by the state oil and gas supervisor. And like proceedings shall be had in case more than one commissioner shall be included in said petition for recall.

In all recall elections, qualifications for voters and the number of votes which they will be entitled to cast shall be the same as they respectively were in the election of the commissioner as to whom such recall election is being held.

In case of vacancy caused by the death, resignation or removal from district or ceasing to be engaged in the business of development or production of oil or gas in the district as to the office of any commissioner, such vacancy shall be filled until the next annual election by the remaining commissioners of such district.

Upon any subject in which any commissioner is personally interested, or upon which any corporation, copartnership, association or individual by whom he is employed is directly interested as a party, such commissioner shall not be entitled to sit or vote. The board of commissioners shall be entitled to call upon the supervisor for advice, and written report upon any matter referred to the board of commissioners, and the supervisor shall be entitled to call meetings of the commissioners at the office of the field supervisor, upon five days' written notice, to obtain their written advice upon any matters relating to his work within their district. [Amendment approved May 25, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1168.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 1589.

§ 11. Investigation upon complaint. Upon receipt by the supervisor or deputy supervisor of a written complaint specifically setting forth the condition complained against, signed by a person, firm, corporation or association owning land or operating wells within a radius of one mile of any well or group of wells complained against, or upon the written complaint specifically setting forth the condition complained against, signed by any one of the board of commissioners for the district in which said well or group of wells complained against is situated, the supervisor must make an investigation of said well or wells and render a written report stating the work required to repair the damage complained of, or stating that no work is required. A copy of said order must be delivered to the complainant, or if more than one, each of said complainants, and if the supervisor order the damage repaired, a copy and by the state board of control, be paid from the fund created by this chapter.

Said commissioners shall serve without compensation, except their necessary traveling expenses and other actual expenses incident to their office.

In case of any hearing upon appeal before any board of district oil and gas commissioners, they shall have authority to employ a competent stenographer to take the testimony and proceedings, and in case either party shall take proceedings in the superior court, by writ of certiorari, from any order or decision of such board, it shall cause the stenographer so employed to make a full transcript of the testimony and proceedings before said board of commissioners, and three copies in addition to the original thereof. The original and one copy shall be for the use of said board of commissioners, and one copy shall be furnished to the state oil and gas supervisor, and one copy shall be furnished to the owner of the well in question. The cost and expense of employing any such stenographer, and the transcribing of his notes and making said copies, shall be part of the expenses of said commissioners, and when certified by the chairman of said board, and audited by the state board of control, shall be paid from said fund.

The traveling expenses of said commissioners, and all actual expenses incurred by or under the order of said commissioners, in the hearing and determination and carrying out of orders appealed to them, shall be certified by the deputy supervisor and the chairman of such board of supervisors, to the state supervisor, and when audited by him and by the state board of control, shall be paid from said fund.

Successors elected. On the third Tuesday in September of each year at an hour and place in said respective districts to be fixed by the state oil and gas supervisor, and of which notices shall have been given as hereinbefore specified, the successor of each of the district oil and gas commissioners whose term of appointment shall expire that year, shall be elected and qualified in the manner and subject to the provisions hereinbefore set forth, and the term of each shall be for a period of three years from and after the first Monday in October next succeeding.

Recall of commissioners. All, either or any of the district oil and gas commissioners elected in any district may be recalled by the votes of a majority of the qualified votes of the district entitled to vote as to such commissioners, respectively. In case there shall be filed in the office of the state oil and gas supervisor, a written petition, signed by not less than forty per cent of those entitled to vote as to the election of any commissioner or commissioners, asking the recall of such commissioner or commissioners, said state oil and gas supervisor shall, within ten days thereafter, order and give notice of, a special election in such district to fill the office or offices of the commissioner or commissioners named in said petition for recall; and shall cause notice to be given of said election in the manner and for the time required for regular election, and said notice shall fix the time and place of such election. At such election, the commissioner or commissioners named in such petition for recall shall be voted upon as though candidates for election for the unexpired portion of the term for which they, respectively, were originally elected, and any other candidate or candidates may, at the same time, be voted upon. It shall require a majority of all the qualified votes entitled to vote for such commissioners, respectively, to constitute an election. In case less than a majority of all qualified votes shall be cast for any candidate, said recall shall be deemed to have failed as to the commissioner concerning whose office such vote was taken; and in case such commissioner himself shall receive a majority of the votes, said recall shall be deemed to have failed, and in either of such cases, such commissioner shall continue to serve until the expiration of his term, as though no such special election had been held. But in case any person other than such commissioner shall receive a majority of the votes for such unexpired term, then such recall shall become effective and the office of the commissioner so recalled shall be vacant and upon written certificate of such election being filed with the state oil and gas supervisor, the person so chosen and elected for such unexpired term shall become the successor of the commissioner so recalled, and a certificate of his election for such unexpired term shall be issued and transmitted to him by the state oil and gas supervisor. And like proceedings shall be had in case more than one commissioner shall be included in said petition for recall.

In all recall elections, qualifications for voters and the number of votes which they will be entitled to cast shall be the same as they respectively were in the election of the commissioner as to whom such recall election is being held.

In case of vacancy caused by the death, resignation or removal from district or ceasing to be engaged in the business of development or production of oil or gas in the district as to the office of any commissioner, such vacancy shall be filled until the next annual election by the remaining commissioners of such district.

Upon any subject in which any commissioner is personally interested, or upon which any corporation, copartnership, association or individual by whom he is employed is directly interested as a party, such commissioner shall not be entitled to sit or vote. The board of commissioners shall be entitled to call upon the supervisor for advice, and written report upon any matter referred to the board of commissioners, and the supervisor shall be entitled to call meetings of the commissioners at the office of the field supervisor, upon five days' written notice, to obtain their written advice upon any matters relating to his work within their district. [Amendment approved May 25, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1168.]

of such order shall be delivered to each of the owners, operators or agents having in charge the well or wells upon which the work is to be done. Said order shall contain a statement of the conditions sought to be remedied or repaired and a statement of the work required by the supervisor to repair such condition. Service of such copies shall be made by mailing to such persons at the postoffice address given. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1592.]

§ 12. Oaths and subpoenas. Depositions. Refusal to comply with order, etc., misdemeanor. In any proceeding before the board of commissioners as herein provided, or in any other proceeding or proceedings instituted by the supervisor for the purpose of enforcing or carrying out the provisions of this act, or for the purpose of holding an investigation to ascertain the condition of any well or wells complained of, or which in the opinion of the supervisor may reasonably be presumed to be improperly drilled, operated, maintained or conducted, the supervisor and the chairman of the board of commissioners shall have the power to administer oaths and may apply to a judge of the superior court of the state of California, in and for the county in which said proceeding or investigation is pending, for a subpoena for witnesses to attend at said proceeding or investigation. Upon said application of said supervisor or said chairman of said board of commissioners, said judge of said superior court must issue a subpoena directing said witness to attend said proceeding or investigation; provided, however, that no person shall be required to attend upon such proceeding, either with or without such books, papers, documents or accounts unless residing within the same county or within thirty miles of the place of attendance. But the supervisor or the chairman of the board of commissioners may in such case cause the depositions of witnesses residing within or without the state to be taken in the manner prescribed by law for like depositions in civil actions in superior courts of this state, and to that end may, upon application to a judge of the superior court of the county within which said proceeding or investigation is pending, obtain a subpoena compelling the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers and documents at such places as he may designate within the limits hereinbefore prescribed. Witnesses shall be entitled to receive the fees and mileage fixed by law in civil causes, payable from the fund hereinafter created. In case of failure or neglect on the part of any person to comply with any order of the supervisor as hereinbefore provided, or any subpoena, or upon the refusal of any witness to testify to any matter regarding which he may lawfully be interrogated, or upon refusal or neglect to appear and attend at any proceeding or hearing on the day specified, after having received a written notice of not less than ten days prior to such proceeding or hearing, or upon his failure, refusal or neglect to produce books, papers or documents as demanded in said order or subpoena upon such day, such failure, refusal or neglect shall constitute a misdemeanor and each day's further failure, refusal or neglect shall be and be deemed to be a separate and distinct offense, and it is hereby made the duty of the district attorney of the county in which said proceeding, hearing or investigation is to be held, to prosecute all persons guilty of violating this section by continuous prosecution until such person appears or attends or produces such books, papers or documents or complies with said subpoena or order of the supervisor or chairman of the board of commissioners. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1594.]

§ 13. Decision of board. Within ten days after hearing the evidence, the board of commissioners must make a written decision with respect to the order appealed from and in case the same is affirmed or modified, shall retain jurisdiction thereof until such time as the work ordered to be done by such order shall be finally completed. This written decision shall be served upon the owner or his agent and shall supersede the previous order of the supervisor. In case no written decision be made by said board of commissioners within thirty days after the date of notice by the supervisor as provided in section ten hereof, the order of the supervisor shall be effective and subject only to review by writ of certiorari from the superior court as provided in section fourteen hereof. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1594.]

§ 14. Commencement of work. Review of decision. Extent of review. Lien enforced. On or before thirty days after the date of serving an order of the supervisor, provided for in section eight hereof, or in case of appeal to the board of commissioners, on or before thirty days after date of serving the decision of the board, as provided in sections 12 and 13 hereof, or in the event review be taken of the order of the board of commissioners within ten days after affirmance of such order, the owner shall commence in good faith the work ordered and continue until completion. If the work has not been so commenced and continued to completion, the supervisor shall appoint agents as he deems necessary who shall enter the premises and perform the work. Accurate account of such expenditures shall be kept and the amount paid from the fund hereinafter created upon the warrant of the state controller. Any amount so expended shall constitute a lien against the property upon which the work is done. The decision of the board of commissioners in such case may be reviewed by writ of certiorari from the superior court of the county in which the district is situated, if taken within ten days after the service of the order upon said owner, operator or agent of said owner or operator as herein provided; or within ten days after decision by the board of commissioners upon petitions by the supervisor. Such writ shall be made returnable not later than ten days after the issuance thereof and shall direct the district board of oil and gas commissioners to certify their record in the cause to such court. On the return day the cause shall be heard by the court unless for good cause the same be continued, but no continuance shall be permitted for a longer period than thirty days. No new or additional evidence shall be introduced in the court before the cause shall be heard upon the record of the district board of oil and gas commissioners. The review shall not be extended further than to determine whether or not—

1. The commission acted without or in excess of its jurisdiction.
2. The order, decision or award was procured by fraud.
3. The order, decision, rule or regulation is unreasonable.
4. The order, decision, regulation or award is clearly unsupported by the evidence.

If no review be taken within ten days, or if taken in case the decision of the board is affirmed, the lien upon the property shall be enforced in the same manner as the other liens on real property are enforced, and

of such order shall be delivered to each of the owners, operators or agents having in charge the well or wells upon which the work is to be done. Said order shall contain a statement of the conditions sought to be remedied or repaired and a statement of the work required by the supervisor to repair such condition. Service of such copies shall be made by mailing to such persons at the postoffice address given. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1592.]

§ 12. Oaths and subpoenas. Depositions. Refusal to comply with order, etc., misdemeanor. In any proceeding before the board of commissioners as herein provided, or in any other proceeding or proceedings instituted by the supervisor for the purpose of enforcing or carrying out the provisions of this act, or for the purpose of holding an investigation to ascertain the condition of any well or wells complained of, or which in the opinion of the supervisor may reasonably be presumed to be improperly drilled, operated, maintained or conducted, the supervisor and the chairman of the board of commissioners shall have the power to administer oaths and may apply to a judge of the superior court of the state of California, in and for the county in which said proceeding or investigation is pending, for a subpoena for witnesses to attend at said proceeding or investigation. Upon said application of said supervisor or said chairman of said board of commissioners, said judge of said superior court must issue a subpoena directing said witness to attend said proceeding or investigation; provided, however, that no person shall be required to attend upon such proceeding, either with or without such books, papers, documents or accounts unless residing within the same county or within thirty miles of the place of attendance. But the supervisor or the chairman of the board of commissioners may in such case cause the depositions of witnesses residing within or without the state to be taken in the manner prescribed by law for like depositions in civil actions in superior courts of this state, and to that end may, upon application to a judge of the superior court of the county within which said proceeding or investigation is pending, obtain a subpoena compelling the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers and documents at such places as he may designate within the limits hereinbefore prescribed. Witnesses shall be entitled to receive the fees and mileage fixed by law in civil causes, payable from the fund hereinafter created. In case of failure or neglect on the part of any person to comply with any order of the supervisor as hereinbefore provided, or any subpoena, or upon the refusal of any witness to testify to any matter regarding which he may lawfully be interrogated, or upon refusal or neglect to appear and attend at any proceeding or hearing on the day specified, after having received a written notice of not less than ten days prior to such proceeding or hearing, or upon his failure, refusal or neglect to produce books, papers or documents as demanded in said order or subpoena upon such day, such failure, refusal or neglect shall constitute a misdemeanor and each day's further failure, refusal or neglect shall be and be deemed to be a separate and distinct offense, and it is hereby made the duty of the district attorney of the county in which said proceeding, hearing or investigation is to be held, to prosecute all persons guilty of violating this section by continuous prosecution until such person appears or attends or produces such books, papers or documents or complies with said subpoena or order

§ 13. Decision of board. Within ten days after hearing the evidence, the board of commissioners must make a written decision with respect to the order appealed from and in case the same is affirmed or modified, shall retain jurisdiction thereof until such time as the work ordered to be done by such order shall be finally completed. This written decision shall be served upon the owner or his agent and shall supersede the previous order of the supervisor. In case no written decision be made by said board of commissioners within thirty days after the date of notice by the supervisor as provided in section ten hereof, the order of the supervisor shall be effective and subject only to review by writ of certiorari from the superior court as provided in section fourteen hereof. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1594.]

§ 14. Commencement of work. Review of decision. Extent of review. Lien enforced. On or before thirty days after the date of serving an order of the supervisor, provided for in section eight hereof, or in case of appeal to the board of commissioners, on or before thirty days after date of serving the decision of the board, as provided in sections 12 and 13 hereof, or in the event review be taken of the order of the board of commissioners within ten days after affirmance of such order, the owner shall commence in good faith the work ordered and continue until completion. If the work has not been so commenced and continued to completion, the supervisor shall appoint agents as he deems necessary who shall enter the premises and perform the work. Accurate account of such expenditures shall be kept and the amount paid from the fund hereinafter created upon the warrant of the state controller. Any amount so expended shall constitute a lien against the property upon which the work is done. The decision of the board of commissioners in such case may be reviewed by writ of certiorari from the superior court of the county in which the district is situated, if taken within ten days after the service of the order upon said owner, operator or agent of said owner or operator as herein provided; or within ten days after decision by the board of commissioners upon petitions by the supervisor. Such writ shall be made returnable not later than ten days after the issuance thereof and shall direct the district board of oil and gas commissioners to certify their record in the cause to such court. On the return day the cause shall be heard by the court unless for good cause the same be continued, but no continuance shall be permitted for a longer period than thirty days. No new or additional evidence shall be introduced in the court before the cause shall be heard upon the record of the district board of oil and gas commissioners. The review shall not be extended further than to determine whether or not—

1. The commission acted without or in excess of its jurisdiction.
2. The order, decision or award was procured by fraud.
3. The order, decision, rule or regulation is unreasonable.
4. The order, decision, regulation or award is clearly unsupported by the evidence.

If no review be taken within ten days, or if taken in case the decision of the board is affirmed, the lien upon the property shall be enforced in the same manner as the other liens on real property are enforced, and shall first be enforced against the owner of the well, against the operator and against the personal property and fixtures used in the construction or operation thereof, and then if there be any deficiency against the land upon which the work is done, upon the request of the supervisor, the state controller must, in the manner provided in section forty-four of this act, bring an action for the enforcement of said lien. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1594.]

§ 15. Wells to be cased. Shut-off test. It shall be the duty of the owner of any well now drilled, or that may be drilled in the state of California, on lands producing or reasonably presumed to contain petroleum or gas, to properly case such well or wells with metal casing, in accordance with methods approved by the supervisor, and to use every effort and endeavor in accordance with the most approved methods to effectually shut off all water overlying or underlying the oil or gas-bearing strata, and to effectually prevent any water from penetrating such oil or gas-bearing strata.

Whenever it appears to the supervisor that any water is penetrating oil or gas-bearing strata, he may order a test of water shut off and designate a day upon which the same shall be held. Said order shall be in written form and served upon the owner of said well at least ten days prior to the day designated in said order as the day upon which said shut-off test shall be held. Upon the receipt of such order it shall be the duty of the owner to hold said test in the manner and at the time prescribed in said order. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1594.]

§ 16. Abandonment of well. It shall be the duty of the owner of any well referred to in this act, before abandoning the same, or before removing the rig, derrick or other operating structure therefrom, or removing any portion of the casing therefrom, to use every effort and endeavor in accordance with methods approved by the supervisor, to shut off and exclude all water from entering oil-bearing strata encountered in the well. Before any well is abandoned the owner shall give written notice to the supervisor, or his local deputy, of his intention to abandon such well and of his intention to remove the derrick or any portion of the casing from such well and the date upon which such work of abandonment or removal shall begin. The notice shall be given to the supervisor, or his local deputy, at least five days before such proposed abandonment or removal. The owner shall furnish the supervisor, or his deputy with such information as he may request showing the condition of the well and proposed method of abandonment or removal. The supervisor, or his deputy, shall before the proposed date of abandonment or removal, furnish the owner with a written order of approval of his proposal or a written order stating what work will be necessary before approval to abandon or remove will be given. If the supervisor shall fail within the specified time to give the owner a written order such failure shall be considered as an approval of the owner's proposal to abandon the well, or to remove the rig or casing therefrom. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1596.]

§ 17. Notice of intention to drill. The owner or operator of any well referred to in this act shall, before commencing the work of drilling an oil or gas well, file with the supervisor, or his local deputy, a written notice of intention to commence drilling. Such notice shall also contain the following information: (1) Statement of location and elevation above sea level of the floor of the proposed derrick and drill rig; (2) the number or other designation by which such well shall be known, which number or designation shall not be changed after filing the notice provided for in this section, without the written consent of the supervisor being obtained therefor; (3) the owner's or operator's estimate of the depth of the point at which water will be shut off, together with the method by which such shut-off is intended to be made and the size and weight of casing to be used; (4) the owner's or operator's estimate of the depth at which oil or gas producing sand or formation will be encountered.

After the completion of any well the provisions of this section shall also apply, as far as may be, to the deepening or redrilling of any well, or any operation involving the plugging of any well or any operations permanently altering in any manner the casing of any well; and provided, further, that the number or designation by which any well heretofore drilled has been known, shall not be changed without first obtaining a written consent of the supervisor. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1596.]

§ 18. Drilling log. Prospect wells. It shall be the duty of the owner or operator of any well referred to in this act, to keep a careful and accurate log of the drilling of such well, such log to show the character and depth of the formation passed through or encountered in the drilling of such well, and particularly to show the location and depth of the water-bearing strata, together with the character of the water encountered from time to time (so far as ascertained) and to show at what point such water was shut off, if at all, and if not, to so state in such log, and show completely the amounts, kinds and size of casing used, and show the depth at which oil-bearing strata are encountered, the depth and character of same, and whether all water overlying and underlying such oil-bearing strata was successfully and permanently shut off so as to prevent the percolation or penetration into such oil-bearing strata; such log shall be kept in the local office of the owner or operator, and together with the tour reports of said owner or operator, shall be subject, during business hours, to the inspection of the supervisor, or any of his deputies, or any of the commissioners of the district, except in the case of a prospect well as hereinafter defined. Upon the completion of any well, or upon the suspension of operations upon any well, for a period of six months if it be a prospect well, or for thirty days, if it be in proven territory, a copy of said log in duplicate, and in such form as the supervisor may direct, shall be filed within ten days after such completion, or after the expiration of said thirty-day period with the field supervisor, and a like copy shall be filed upon the completion of any additional work in the deepening of any such well.

The state oil and gas supervisor shall determine and designate what wells are prospect wells within the meaning of this act and no reports shall be required from such prospect wells until six months after the completion thereof.

The owner or operator of any well drilled previous to the enactment of this act shall furnish to the supervisor or his deputy a complete and correct log in duplicate and in such form as the supervisor may direct, or his deputy, of such well, so far as may be possible, together with a statement of the present condition of said well. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1597.]

§ 19. Notice of shut-off test. It shall be the duty of the owner or operator of any well referred to in this act to notify the deputy supervisor of the time at which the owner or operator shall test the shut-off of water in any such well. Such notice shall be given at least five days before such test. The deputy supervisor or an inspector designated by the supervisor shall be present at such test and shall render a report in writing of the result thereof to the supervisor, a duplicate of which shall be delivered to the owner. If any test shall be unsatisfactory to the supervisor he shall so notify the owner or operator in said report and shall within five days after the completion of such test, order additional tests of such work as he deems necessary to properly shut off the water in such well and in such order shall designate a day upon which the owner or operator shall again test the shut-off of water in any such well, which day may, upon the application of the owner, be changed from time to time in the discretion of the deputy supervisor. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1597.]

§ 20. Statement of oil produced. It shall be the duty of every person, association or corporation producing oil in the state of California, to file with the supervisor, at his request but not oftener than once in each month, a statement showing amount of oil produced during the period indicated from each well, together with its gravity and the amount of water produced from each well, estimated in accordance with methods approved by the supervisor, and the number of days during which fluid was produced from each well, the number of wells drilling, producing, idle or abandoned, owned or operated by said person, association or corporation; provided, that, upon request and satisfactory showing a longer interval may be fixed by the state oil and gas supervisor as to such reports in the case of any specific owner or operator.

This information shall be in such form as the supervisor may designate. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1598.]

§ 21a. Primary interest of state. The charges hereinafter provided for are directed to be levied by the state of California as necessary in the exercise of its police power and to provide a means by which to supervise and protect deposits of petroleum and gas within the state of California, in which deposits the people of the state of California are hereby declared to have a primary and supreme interest. [New section added June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1598.]

§ 22. Charges for support of department. Charges levied, assessed and collected as hereinafter provided upon the properties of every person, firm, corporation or association operating any well or wells for the production of petroleum in this state, or operating any well or wells for the production of natural gas in this state which gas wells are situate on lands situate within two miles, as near as may be, of any petroleum or gas well the production of which is chargeable under this act, shall be used exclusively for the support and maintenance of the department of petroleum and gas hereinbefore created, and shall be assessed and levied by the state mineralogist, and collected in the manner hereinafter after provided. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1598.]

§ 24. Annual charge on gas. Every person, firm, corporation or association operating any gas well or wells in this state shall annually pay a charge to the state treasurer based upon the amount of gas sold in the preceding calendar year, at a fixed rate per thousand cubic feet, at the times and in the manner hereinafter provided, based upon a verified report as herein provided. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1599.]

§ 27. Estimate of moneys required. The state mineralogist shall annually, on or before the first Monday in March, acting in conjunction with the state board of control, make an estimate of the amount of moneys which shall be required to carry out the provisions of this act.

At the time of making such estimate, the state mineralogist shall report to the state board of control the amount of money in the petroleum and gas fund on the day such estimate is made, less the amount of money necessary for the support of the department of petroleum and gas for the remainder of the fiscal year, and the amount of such estimate shall in no event exceed the difference between the amount thus determined as remaining in the petroleum and gas fund at the end of the fiscal year and the sum of one hundred fifty thousand dollars. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1599.]

§ 31. Penalty. Any person, firm, corporation or association failing or refusing to make or furnish any report which may be required pursuant to the provisions of this act, or who willfully renders a false or fraudulent report, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of not less than three hundred dollars, nor more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or both such fine and imprisonment for each such offense. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1599.]

§ 33. Determination of rate. On or before the third Monday before the first Monday in July of each year, the state mineralogist shall determine the rate or rates which shall produce the sums necessary to be raised as provided in section twenty-seven of this act. Within the same time the said state mineralogist shall extend into the proper column of the record of assessments hereinafter provided for, the amount of charges due from each person, firm, corporation or association. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1599.]

§ 36. Notice of assessment published. On the third Monday before the first Monday in July of each year the state mineralogist shall cause to be published a notice, one or more times, in a daily, or weekly, or semi-weekly newspaper of general circulation published in the counties of Fresno, Kern, Los Angeles, Orange, Ventura and Santa Barbara, and such other counties as may contain lands or produce oil or gas charged under and pursuant to the terms and provisions of this act, if one be published therein, otherwise in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county nearest to such county designated herein in which no such paper is published, that the assessment of property and levy of charges under and in pursuance of this act has been completed and

§ 38. Record delivered to controller. On the first Monday in July the state mineralogist must deliver to the state controller the record of assessments and charges for the petroleum and gas fund, certified to by said state mineralogist, which certificate shall be substantially as follows: "I, —, state mineralogist, do hereby certify that between the first Monday in March and the first Monday in July, 19—, made diligent inquiry and examination to ascertain all property and persons, firms, corporations and associations subject to assessment for the purpose of the petroleum and gas fund as required by the provisions of the act of legislature approved June 10, 1915, providing for the assessment and collection of charges for oil protection; that I have faithfully complied with all the duties imposed upon me by law; that I have not imposed any unjust or double assessment through malice or ill will, or otherwise; nor allowed any person, firm, corporation or association or property to escape a just assessment or charge through favor or regard, or otherwise." But the failure to subscribe such certificate to such record of assessments and charges for oil protection, or any certificate, shall not in any manner affect the validity of any assessment or charge. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1600.]

§ 40. Publication of controller's notice. Within ten days after the receipt of the record of assessments and charges for oil protection, the state controller must begin the publication of a notice to appear daily for five days, in one daily newspaper of general circulation published in each of the counties of Fresno, Kern, Los Angeles, Orange, Ventura and Santa Barbara, and such other counties as may contain lands or produce oil or gas charged under or pursuant to the terms and provisions of this act, if one be published therein, otherwise for at least two times

semi-weekly paper of general circulation published to be neither a daily nor weekly nor semi-weekly paper published in any one of such counties, then the notice for such county shall be made in a similar paper of general circulation published in the county, specifying: (1) That he has received from the state record of assessments and charges for oil protection; charges therein assessed and levied are due and payable Monday in July and that one-half thereof will be delinquent with Monday after the first Monday in July at six o'clock P. M., and unless paid to the state treasurer at the capital prior thereto, five per cent will be added to the amount thereof, and unless paid prior to the first Monday in February next thereafter at six o'clock P. M., an additional five per cent will be added to the amount thereof; and that the remaining one-half of said charges will become delinquent on the first Monday in February next succeeding the day upon which they become due and payable, at six o'clock P. M. and if not paid to the state treasurer at the capital prior thereto, five per cent will be added to the amount thereof. Costs of such publication in any county shall be paid from the petroleum and gas fund. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1601.]

§ 41. Assessments constitute lien. The assessments and charges levied under the provisions of this act shall constitute a lien upon all the property of every kind and nature belonging to the persons, firms, corporations and associations assessed under the provisions hereof, which lien shall attach on the first Monday in March of each year. Such lien shall be enforced and said charges collected by an action by the state controller as provided in section forty-four of this act. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1601.]

§ 42. Charges paid to state treasurer. All charges assessed and levied under the provisions of this act shall be paid to the state treasurer upon the order of the state controller. The controller must mark the date of payment of any charge on the record of assessments for the petroleum and gas fund and shall give a receipt for such payment in such form as the controller may prescribe. Errors appearing upon the face of any assessment on said record of assessments or overcharges may be corrected by the controller by and with the consent of the state board of control, in such manner and at such time as said controller and said board shall agree upon. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1602.]

§ 43. Action to recover damages. Procedure. Failure to bring action. Any person, firm, corporation or association claiming and protesting as herein provided that the assessment made or charges assessed against him or it by the state mineralogist is void, in whole or in part, may bring an action against the state treasurer for the recovery of the whole or any part of such charges, penalties or costs paid on such assessment, upon the grounds stated in said protest, but no action may be brought later than the third Monday in February next following the day upon which the charges were due, nor unless such person, firm, corporation or association shall have filed with the state controller at the time of payment of such charges, a written protest stating whether the whole that the records of assessments containing the charges due will be delivered to the state controller on the first Monday in July, and that if any person, firm, corporation or association is dissatisfied with the assessment made or charge fixed by the state mineralogist, he or it may, at any time before said first Monday in July, apply to said board of review, correction and equalization to have the same corrected in any particular. The said board shall have the power at any time before said first Monday in July to correct the record of assessments and may increase or decrease any assessment or charge therein if in its judgment the evidence presented or obtained warrants such action. Costs of such publication in any county shall be paid from the petroleum and gas fund; provided, however, that the omission to publish said notice as hereinbefore and in this section provided, shall not affect the validity of any assessment levied under or pursuant to the provisions of this act. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1600.]

§ 37. Record of assessments and charges. The state mineralogist must prepare each year a book in one or more volumes, to be called the "Record of assessments and charges for the petroleum and gas fund," in which must be entered, either in writing or printing, or both writing and printing, each assessment and levy or charge made by him upon the property provided to be assessed and charged under this act, describing the property assessed, and such assessments may be classified and entered in such separate parts of said record as said state mineralogist shall prescribe. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1600.]

§ 38. Record delivered to controller. On the first Monday in July the state mineralogist must deliver to the state controller the record of assessments and charges for the petroleum and gas fund, certified to by said state mineralogist, which certificate shall be substantially as follows: "I, —, state mineralogist, do hereby certify that between the first Monday in March and the first Monday in July, 19—, made diligent inquiry and examination to ascertain all property and persons, firms, corporations and associations subject to assessment for the purpose of the petroleum and gas fund as required by the provisions of the act of legislature approved June 10, 1915, providing for the assessment and collection of charges for oil protection; that I have faithfully complied with all the duties imposed upon me by law; that I have not imposed any unjust or double assessment through malice or ill will, or otherwise; nor allowed any person, firm, corporation or association or property to escape a just assessment or charge through favor or regard, or otherwise." But the failure to subscribe such certificate to such record of assessments and charges for oil protection, or any certificate, shall not in any manner affect the validity of any assessment or charge. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1600.]

in a weekly or semi-weekly paper of general circulation published therein, or if there be neither a daily nor weekly nor semi-weekly paper of general circulation published in any one of such counties, then the publication of the notice for such county shall be made in a similar manner in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county nearest such county, specifying: (1) That he has received from the state mineralogist the record of assessments and charges for oil protection; (2) that the charges therein assessed and levied are due and payable on the first Monday in July and that one-half thereof will be delinquent on the sixth Monday after the first Monday in July at six o'clock P. M., and that unless paid to the state treasurer at the capital prior thereto, fifteen per cent will be added to the amount thereof, and unless paid prior to the first Monday in February next thereafter at six o'clock P. M., an additional five per cent will be added to the amount thereof; and that the remaining one-half of said charges will become delinquent on the first Monday in February next succeeding the day upon which they become due and payable, at six o'clock P. M. and if not paid to the state treasurer at the capital prior thereto, five per cent will be added to the amount thereof. Costs of such publication in any county shall be paid from the petroleum and gas fund. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1601.]

§ 41. Assessments constitute lien. The assessments and charges levied under the provisions of this act shall constitute a lien upon all the property of every kind and nature belonging to the persons, firms, corporations and associations assessed under the provisions hereof, which lien shall attach on the first Monday in March of each year. Such lien shall be enforced and said charges collected by an action by the state controller as provided in section forty-four of this act. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1601.]

§ 42. Charges paid to state treasurer. All charges assessed and levied under the provisions of this act shall be paid to the state treasurer upon the order of the state controller. The controller must mark the date of payment of any charge on the record of assessments for the petroleum and gas fund and shall give a receipt for such payment in such form as the controller may prescribe. Errors appearing upon the face of any assessment on said record of assessments or overcharges may be corrected by the controller by and with the consent of the state board of control, in such manner and at such time as said controller and said board shall agree upon. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1602.]

§ 43. Action to recover damages. Procedure. Failure to bring action. Any person, firm, corporation or association claiming and protesting as herein provided that the assessment made or charges assessed against him or it by the state mineralogist is void, in whole or in part, may bring an action against the state treasurer for the recovery of the whole or any part of such charges, penalties or costs paid on such assessment, upon the grounds stated in said protest, but no action may be brought later than the third Monday in February next following the day upon which the charges were due, nor unless such person, firm, corporation or association shall have filed with the state controller at the time of payment of such charges, a written protest stating whether the whole assessment or charge is claimed to be void, or if a part only, what part, and the grounds upon which such claim is founded, and when so paid under protest the payment shall in no case be regarded as voluntary.

Whenever, under the provisions of this section, an action is commenced against the state treasurer, a copy of the complaint and of the summons must be served upon the treasurer, or his deputy. At the time the treasurer demurs or answers, he may demand that the action be tried in the superior court of the county of Sacramento, which demand must be granted. The attorney employed by the state oil and gas supervisor must defend such action; provided, however, the said mineralogist may at the request of the said oil and gas supervisor employ additional counsel, the expense of which employment shall be paid from the petroleum and gas fund. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to pleadings, proofs, trials and appeals are applicable to the proceedings herein provided for.

A failure to begin such action within the time herein specified shall be a bar against the recovery of such charges. In any such action the court shall have the power to render judgment for the plaintiff for any part or portion of the charge, penalties, or costs found to be void and so paid by plaintiff upon such assessment. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1602.]

§ 44. Action to collect delinquent charges. Procedure. The state controller shall, on or before the thirtieth day of May next following the delinquency of any charge as provided in this act, bring an action in a court of competent jurisdiction, in the name of the people of the state of California, in the county in which the property assessed is situated, to collect any delinquent charges or assessments, together with any penalties or costs, which have not been paid in accordance with the provisions of this act and appearing delinquent upon the records of assessments and charges for the petroleum and gas fund in this action provided for.

The attorney for the state oil and gas supervisor shall commence and prosecute such action to final judgment and the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to service of summons, pleadings, proofs, trials and appeals are applicable to the proceedings herein provided for. The state mineralogist may employ additional counsel to assist the attorney for the state oil and gas supervisor, and the expense of such employment shall be paid from the petroleum and gas fund.

Payments of the penalties and charges, or amount of the judgment recovered in such action must be made to the state treasurer. In such actions the record of assessment and charges for oil protection, or a copy of so much thereof as is applicable in said action, duly certified by the controller showing unpaid charges against any person, firm, corporation or association assessed by the state mineralogist is prima facie evidence of the assessment upon the property, the delinquency, the amount of charges, penalties, and costs due and unpaid to the state, and that the person, firm, corporation or association is indebted to the people of the state of California in the amount of charges and penalties therein appearing unpaid and that all forms of law in relation to the assessment of such charges have been complied with. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1603.]

§ 46. Petroleum and gas fund. All the moneys heretofore paid to the state treasurer under or pursuant to the provisions of this act and deposited to the credit of the oil protection fund, shall be withdrawn from said fund, which is hereby abolished, and deposited to the credit of the petroleum and gas fund which is hereby created. All of the moneys hereafter paid to the state treasurer under or pursuant to the provisions of this act shall be deposited to the credit of the petroleum and gas fund. All moneys in such fund shall be expended under the direction of the state mineralogist, drawn from such fund for the purpose of this act upon warrants drawn by the controller of the state, upon demands made by the state mineralogist, and audited by the state board of control. Of the moneys in said petroleum and gas fund, when such action has been authorized by the state board of control, the state mining bureau may withdraw, without at the time furnishing vouchers and itemized statements, a sum not to exceed five hundred dollars, said sum so drawn to be used as a revolving fund where cash advances are necessary. At the close of each fiscal year, or at any other time, upon demand of the board of control, the moneys so drawn shall be accounted for and substantiated by vouchers and itemized statements submitted to and audited by the board of control. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1603.]

§ 47. Repair work. All moneys received in repayment of repair work done under the order and direction of the supervisor as hereinbefore provided, shall be returned and credited to the petroleum and gas fund. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1604.]

§ 48. Supervisor's annual report. On or before the first day of October of each and every year the supervisor shall submit a report in writing to the state mineralogist showing the total number of barrels of petroleum produced in each county in the state during the previous calendar year, together with the total cost of said department for the previous fiscal year and the net amount remaining in the petroleum and gas fund available for the succeeding fiscal year's expense, also the total amount delinquent and uncollected from any assessments or charges levied under or pursuant to the provisions of this act. Such report shall also include such other information as the supervisor may deem advisable. The state mineralogist shall make public such statements promptly after receipt of the same from the supervisor for the benefit of all parties interested therein. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1604.]

§ 49. Certificate showing names of persons claiming interest. The owner or operator of any lands or tenements subject to assessment under this act shall, within six months after this act goes into effect, file with the supervisor a certificate which shall contain the names of all the parties claiming an interest in or to said lands and full description of the property and the names of all parties in interest where such interest is held by lease, license or assignment. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1604.]

The amendments of 1917 and 1919 follow:

§ 1. Words and phrases defined. The words and phrases used in this act shall for the purposes of this, unless the same be contrary to or inconsistent with the context, be construed as follows: (1) "motor vehicle" shall include all vehicles propelled otherwise than by muscular power, except trailers and such vehicles as run upon stationary rails or tracks; (2) "automobile" shall include all motor vehicles excepting motorcycles; (3) "motorcycle" shall include all motor vehicles designed to travel on not more than three wheels in contact with the ground, and of not exceeding ten horse-power, and of not exceeding the weight of five hundred pounds unladen; provided, however, that any motor vehicle which shall be operated on the public highway drawing a trailer shall be deemed to be an automobile for all the purposes of this act; and provided, further, that for the purposes of this act a trailer shall be deemed to be any vehicle which is at any time drawn upon the public highway by a motor vehicle, excepting any implements of husbandry temporarily drawn, propelled or moved upon such highway; (4) "highway" shall include any public highway, county road, state highway or state road, public street, avenue, alley, park, parkway, driveway, square or place, bridge, viaduct, trestle, or any other territory or structure, whether public or private, designed, intended or used by or for the general public for the passage of vehicles, in any county, or incorporated city and county, city or town within the state of California, including driveways, upon the grounds of universities, colleges, schools, and other institutions, whether public or private; (5) "business district" shall mean the territory of any county or incorporated city and county, city or town, contiguous to a public highway, which is on the line of said highway mainly built up with structures devoted to business; provided, that the local authorities having charge of such highway shall have placed conspicuously thereon at the boundary lines of such business district, signs which shall be placed on the right side of such highway looking toward such district, and which shall be triangular in shape, apex upward, the sides thereof being of equal length and not less than twenty-four inches in length, which shall bear in white letters of a size to be easily readable by a person using the highway the words and figures: "15 miles speed limit." Such letters shall be on a background colored dark green and the back of such sign shall also be colored dark green; (6) "closely built up" shall mean the territory of any county or incorporated city and county, city or town, contiguous to a public highway, which is on the line of said highway not mainly devoted to business, where for not less than a quarter of a mile the dwelling-houses and business structures on such highway average less than one hundred feet apart; provided, that the local authorities having charge of such highway shall have placed conspicuously thereon at the boundary lines of such district, signs of sufficient size to be easily readable by a person using the highway, bearing the words and figures "20 miles speed limit" which words shall be printed in white letters on a red background; such signs shall also be colored red on the back thereof and shall be of the same size and shape as those specified in subdivision five of this section and shall be similarly placed on the highway; (7) "local authorities" shall include all boards of supervisors, trustees or councils, commissions, committees, and other public officials of counties, incorporated cities and counties, cities or towns, or municipal or quasi-municipal corporations when such officials possess or exercise legislative or police powers; (8) "chauffeur" shall mean any person who operates an automobile in the transportation of persons or property and who receives any compensation for such service in wages, commission or otherwise, paid directly or indirectly, or who as owner or employee operates an automobile carrying passengers or property for hire; provided, however, that this definition shall not include manufacturers' agents, proprietors of garages and dealers, salesmen, mechanics, or demonstrators of automobiles in the ordinary course of their business; (9) the term "state" as used in this act, except where otherwise expressly provided, shall also include the territories, federal districts and insular possessions of the United States; (10) "nonresidents" shall mean residents of states or countries other than the state of California whose sojourn in this state, or whose occupation of their regular place of abode or business in this state, if any, covers a total period of less than three months in the calendar year; (11) "owner" shall include any person, firm, association, or corporation, having the lawful use or control, or the right to the use or control, of a vehicle, under a lease or otherwise, for a period of ten or more successive days; (11a) the legal owner is hereby defined as the owner of the legal title; (12) "manufacturer" or "dealer" shall signify a person, firm, association, or corporation regularly in the business of having in his, its or their possession vehicles for sale or trade and for use and operation pursuant thereto, and shall be considered owners of vehicles manufactured or dealt in by them for the purposes of this act, prior to sale and delivery thereof, and of all vehicles in their possession and operated or driven by them or by their employees; provided, however, that anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, the determination of the motor vehicle department shall be final and conclusive upon the question whether or not an applicant for registration shall be a manufacturer or dealer within the meaning and intent of this act; (13) "garage" shall mean every place of business where motor vehicles are received for housing, storage or repair, for compensation; (14) "intersecting highway" shall mean any highway which joins another at an angle, whether or not it crosses the other; (15) "operator" shall mean any person other than a chauffeur who operates a motor vehicle and any person who operates, rides, drives or propels any vehicle other than a motor vehicle; (16) "person" shall include any corporation, association, copartnership, company, firm, or other aggregation of individuals; and where the term "person" is used in connection with the registration of a vehicle, it shall include any corporation, association, copartnership, company, firm, or other aggregation of individuals which owns or controls such vehicle as actual owner, or for the purpose of sale or for renting, whether as agent, salesman, or otherwise; (17) "department" as used in this act shall mean the motor vehicle department of California, acting directly or through its duly authorized agent; (18) "vehicle" shall include every wagon, hack, coach, carriage, omnibus, bicycle, tricycle, automobile, cyclecar, motorcycle, truck, trailer, traction engine, tractor, or other conveyance or contrivance for moving persons, animals or things, in whatever manner and by whatever force or power the same may be ridden, driven, propelled, drawn or moved, which is ridden, driven, propelled, drawn or moved on the public highway, including implements of husbandry temporarily drawn, propelled or moved on the public highway, and excepting only conveyances drawn or propelled by pedestrians, and railroad, street or interurban cars, engines and motors moving upon stationary rails or tracks; (19) the city and county of San Francisco shall be considered a county; (20) "net receipts" shall signify the balance remaining of the money paid to the department in conformity with the provisions of this act after the payment of all salaries, expenses and refunds incident to the administration and enforcement of this act; (21) "specially constructed" motor vehicle shall mean a motor vehicle which shall not have been originally constructed under a distinctive name, make, model or type by a generally recognized manufacturer of motor vehicles; provided, that in case of dispute the determination of said department as to the character of construction of any such motor vehicle shall be conclusive; (22) "reconstructed motor vehicle" shall mean a motor vehicle which shall have been assembled or constructed largely by means of essential parts, new or used, derived from other motor vehicles or makes of motor vehicles of various names, models or types, or which, if originally otherwise constructed, shall have been materially altered by the removal of essential parts or by the addition or substitution of essential parts, new or used, derived from other motor vehicles or makes of motor vehicles; provided, that for the purpose of this act the term "essential parts" shall include not only integral parts but also body parts, such as fenders, hood, cowl, and other parts the removal, alteration or substitution of which will tend to conceal the identity or substantially alter the appearance of the motor vehicle; and provided, further, that in case of dispute the determination of said department as to the character of such assembly, reconstruction or alteration shall be conclusive; (23) "imported motor vehicle" shall mean any motor vehicle which shall be brought into this state from another country or state otherwise than in the ordinary course of business by or through a manufacturer or dealer, and which has not been registered in this state, except such motor vehicles, owned by nonresidents, as are provided for by section twenty-seven of this act; (24) "highway commission" shall mean the appointed members of the advisory board of the department of engineering of the state of California. [Amendment approved May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 193.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 382.

§ 3. Application for registration. Horse-power formula. Steam-driven motor vehicle. Specially constructed motor vehicle. Imported motor vehicle. Trailers. Notice of change of address. Every owner of a motor vehicle which shall be operated or driven upon the public highways shall, for each motor vehicle owned, except as herein otherwise expressly provided, cause to be filed, by mail, or otherwise, with the department an application for registration on a blank to be furnished by said department for that purpose, containing, in addition to such other particulars as may be required by said department, a statement of the name and postoffice address of the applicant and the name and postoffice address of the legal owner, a description of such motor vehicle, including the name of the maker, the number, if any, affixed to the motor or engine by the maker, the character of the motive power, and the diameter of the cylinder bore and the number of cylinders; and with such application the applicant shall deposit the proper registration fee as provided in section seven of this act; provided, that for all the purposes of this act the horse-power of any motor vehicle, except electric or steam-driven vehicles, shall be determined by the formula commonly known as that of the association of licensed automobile manufacturers (A. L. A. M.), being as follows: Square the diameter of the cylinder in inches, multiply by the number of cylinders, and divide by two and five-tenths; provided, further, that for the purpose of this act the horse-power of any steam-driven motor vehicle shall be the horse-power rating fixed and advertised by the manufacturer thereof; provided, further, that in case the motor vehicle sought to be registered shall be a specially constructed or a reconstructed motor vehicle, that fact must be stated by the applicant in his application for registration and he shall furnish the department on demand such additional information relating to said motor vehicle as shall be satisfactory to the department before it may register such vehicle; and provided, further, that in case the motor vehicle sought to be registered shall be an imported motor vehicle, within the meaning of this act, that fact must be stated by the applicant in his application for registration, and he shall furnish the department on demand such additional information relating to said motor vehicle as shall be satisfactory to the department before it may register such vehicle, and in case such vehicle shall have been theretofore registered in any other state or country, the applicant shall with his original application for registration supply the department with full information relating to such former registration and shall surrender to the department any number plates, seals, certificates of registration or other evidences of such former registration as may be in the applicant's possession or control. Every owner of a trailer or trailers which shall be drawn upon a public highway when any such trailer shall exceed one ton in weight shall cause to be filed by mail or otherwise, with the department, an application for registration on a blank to be furnished by said department for that purpose, containing in addition to such other particulars as may be required by said department, a statement of the name and postoffice address of the applicant, and with such application the applicant shall deposit the proper registration fee, as provided in section seven of this act.

Whenever the owner of any motor vehicle shall after making application for registration of any motor vehicle move from the address named in such application or change his postoffice address he shall within ten days after such moving or change of address notify the department in writing of such change and of his new postoffice address. Failure to so notify the department shall constitute a misdemeanor. [Amendment approved May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 196.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 385.

§ 4. Registration. Record posted. Assignment of number. Upon the receipt by the department of an application for registration of a motor vehicle or trailer or trailers accompanied by the fee required by section seven of this act, the department shall file such application and if satisfied that the applicant is entitled to registration of said vehicle or vehicles as the owner thereof, within the meaning of this act, and if all fees theretofore payable to the department in connection with the registration, or any renewal thereof, of said vehicle or vehicles shall have been duly paid, shall alphabetically, and also numerically, register such motor vehicle or trailer or trailers with the name and postoffice of the owner, and of the legal owner together with the facts stated in such application, in a book or on index cards to be kept for the purpose, under a distinctive number assigned to such motor vehicle or trailer or trailers by the department, which book or index cards shall be open to inspection by the public during reasonable business hours. A full record of all motor vehicle registration shall be posted daily by the department upon a bulletin board so located as to be easily accessible to the public, and no information relative to any such registrations shall be made public by any employee of the department in advance of such posting.

Upon the filing of such application and the payment of the fee provided in this act, the department shall upon registration assign to such motor vehicle or trailer or trailers, a distinctive registration number. [Amendment approved May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 197.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 346.

§ 5. Number plates. Annual change. The department shall furnish to every person whose motor vehicle or trailer or trailers shall be registered as aforesaid, on original registration, one number plate for motorcycles and trailers, and two number plates for automobiles, the same to have displayed upon them the registration number assigned to such vehicle, together with the abbreviation "Cal."; provided, however, that number plates furnished for trailers and for such motor vehicles as are exempted by section two of this act from the payment of the fees in this act prescribed shall contain suitable distinguishing marks or symbols, and the numbers assigned in such cases shall run in different numerical series from the numbers assigned to other vehicles registered under the provisions of this act; and provided, further, anything to the contrary in this act notwithstanding, that it shall not be necessary to apply for registration of implements of husbandry temporarily drawn, moved or otherwise propelled upon the public highway, nor shall it be necessary for the department to assign any distinguishing numbers to such implements of husbandry or to furnish number plates for display thereon; the number plates assigned as herein provided shall be and remain with the motor vehicle for the period of registration mentioned in the application therefor; such number plates shall be changed annually and shall be of a distinctly different color each year, and there shall be a marked contrast between the color of the number plates and that of the numerals or letters thereon. [Amendment approved May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 198.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 387.

§ 6. Renewal of registration. All motor vehicle registrations under this act shall expire January 31st of each year and shall be renewed annually in the same manner and upon the payment of the same fee as provided for original registrations, such renewal to take effect on the first day of February of each year. The plates and certificates of registration furnished by the said department as heretofore provided shall be valid during the year only in which they are furnished or issued. [Amendment approved May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 198.]

This section was also amended in 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 387.

§ 7. Registration fees. Motorcycles. Automobiles. Electric Motor Vehicles. Chauffeur's license. Duplicates. Portion of year. The following fees shall be paid to the department upon the registration of a vehicle in accordance with the provisions of this act and shall accompany the application hereinabove provided for: For the registration of every motorcycle, two dollars; for the registration of every automobile, except electric automobiles, the sum of forty cents for each horse-power, or major fraction thereof, according to the formula specified in section three of this act; for the registration of every motor vehicle equipped with other than pneumatic tires, and used for commercial purposes, weighing under four thousand pounds unladen, five dollars in addition to the fees provided herein for horse-power rating or for electric motor vehicles; for every such vehicle weighing four thousand pounds and over and less than six thousand pounds unladen, ten dollars in addition to the fees provided herein for horse-power rating or for electric motor vehicles; for every such vehicle, weighing six thousand pounds and over and less than ten thousand pounds unladen, fifteen dollars in addition to the fees provided herein for horse-power rating or for electric motor vehicles; for every such vehicle weighing ten thousand pounds and over unladen, twenty dollars in addition to the fees provided herein for horse-power rating or for electric motor vehicles; for the registration of every electric motor vehicle, five dollars; for the registration of motor vehicles owned by or under the control of a manufacturer of, or dealer in, motor vehicles, ten dollars for the first set of number plates, and five dollars for each additional set, two number plates of the same kind shall constitute a set; for the registration of the motorcycles owned by or under the control of a manufacturer of or dealer in motorcycles five dollars for the first number plate and one dollar for each additional number plate; for every registration number plate for trailers, two dollars; for every chauffeur's license, two dollars; for an original operator's license no fee shall be charged; for the registration of every transfer of ownership shall be charged a fee of one dollar. Upon the filing of an affidavit showing the fact of loss or mutilation or illegibility, the fees for additional number plates, duplicate container, certificate of registration, chauffeur's badge, chauffeur's certificate, or duplicate operator's license shall be as follows: provided, that no affidavit will be required for duplicate operator's license: For every such number plate, one dollar; for every such duplicate container, twenty-five cents; for every such certificate of registration, fifty cents; for every such chauffeur's badge, one dollar; for every such chauffeur's certificate, fifty cents; for every such operator's license, twenty-five cents.

Anything herein to the contrary notwithstanding, if application for the registration of a motor vehicle or for chauffeur's license is made during the period beginning on the first day of May and ending on the thirty-first day of July in any year, three-fourths of the annual fee shall be paid; if application is made during the period beginning on the first day of August and ending on the thirty-first day of October, one-half of such annual fee; if application is made during the period beginning on the first day of November and ending on the thirty-first day of January, one-fourth of such annual fee. [Amendment approved May 3, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 198.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 387.

§ 8. Certificate of registration. Legal owner designated. Container. Transfer of ownership. The department shall also furnish with each number plate for motorcycles and with each pair of number plates for automobiles, and on each annual renewal of registration, a certificate of registration which shall contain upon the face thereof the following data: The name of the registered owner of the motor vehicle, his post-office address, the name and address of the legal owner, and the make of the vehicle, the year model denoted by the manufacturer, the model or letter denoted by the manufacturer, if any, the engine or motor number, the registered horse-power, the registration number and the amount of annual registration fee, together with the date of issue of the certificate; provided, however, the name and address of the legal owner shall appear on the bottom line of the certificate of registration. In case of motorcycles, the manufacturer's serial number shall be stated in lieu of the engine number. Such certificate shall contain a blank space for the signature of the registered owner and shall be signed by such owner. The reverse side of said certificate shall contain forms (a) for notice to the department by the registered owner and the legal owner in case of transfer of ownership, as hereinafter required, and (b) for application to the department by the transferee, in case of transfer of said motor vehicle, for registration thereof in his name, said application to be in the form of a joint statement to be signed by both transferrer and transferee and the legal owner and to contain in addition to such other particulars as may be required by said department, a statement of the postoffice address of the transferee so applying for registration. Said certificate shall contain the identical registration number denoted on the number plate or plates in connection with which such certificate is issued, and it shall be valid only for the year in which it is issued. Said certificate shall be inclosed in a suitable container, to be furnished by the department, such container to have a frame of aluminum or other metal and to have a cover of isinglass or other transparent material, through which such certificate can be easily inspected, and with such container said department shall furnish screws or other suitable means of attachment to the motor vehicle. Said number plates, certificates and containers shall be furnished by the department without further charge than the fees specified in section seven of this act, with transportation prepaid, and shall be of substantial character and suitable form and design, to be determined by the department.

Upon the transfer of ownership of any motor vehicle registered under section three of this act the person in whose name such vehicle is registered shall forthwith (a) file with the department a notice, upon the form furnished by the department and attached to the certificate of registration, containing the date of such transfer of ownership and the name and postoffice address of the transferee, and upon such transfer the title of the number plates shall vest in the transferee.

Upon the transfer of ownership of any motor vehicle, the person in whose name such vehicle is registered and the person to whom ownership of such vehicle is to be transferred shall forthwith join in a statement of said transfer indorsed upon the reverse side of the certificate of registration of said motor vehicle in the space provided for said purpose, which statement shall be signed by the transferrer and the legal owner in the manner and form of his signature contained on the face of said certificate and which statement shall likewise be signed by the transferee, who shall also set forth below his signature his postoffice address. Said statement shall include an application by the transferee for registration of said vehicle in his name. Said certificate so indorsed and bearing upon the reverse side thereof the signatures of the transferrer and transferee, shall be forwarded by the transferee within ten days to the department together with proper fee of one dollar required by section seven of this act. The department shall file said certificate so jointly indorsed by transferrer and transferee and upon receipt of the proper fee as above provided, the department, if satisfied of the genuineness and regularity of said transfer, shall register said motor vehicle in the name of said transferee.

Upon such registration the department shall issue and forward to the applicant without further charge than as provided in section seven of this act, a new registration certificate in the manner and form as hereinabove provided for original registration. Until said transferee has received said certificate of registration and has written his name upon the face thereof in the blank space provided for said purpose by the department, delivery of said motor vehicle shall be deemed not to have been made and title thereto shall be deemed not to have passed and said intended transfer shall be deemed to be incomplete and not to be valid or effective for any purpose; provided, that where such transfer is made to a manufacturer or dealer to whom has been assigned a general distinguishing number and who intends to resell or otherwise retransfer said vehicle the provisions of this act relative to the joint statement of transferrer and transferee indorsed thereon, shall be complied with upon such sale or transfer. In case of transfer of ownership of a motor vehicle, registered under the provisions of this act, by operation of law, as upon inheritance, devise or bequest, order in bankruptcy or insolvency, execution sale, repossession upon default in performance of the terms of a lease or executory sales contract, or otherwise than by the voluntary act of the registered owner, the notice of transfer as well as the joint statement hereinabove provided for shall be signed by the executor, administrator, receiver, trustee, sheriff, or other representative or successor in interest of the registered owner, in lieu of such owner, and the transferee's application for registration shall be accompanied by a statement of the special facts in the premises; provided, that the department may in its discretion require from the transferee, before registering such motor vehicle, such additional information respecting such involuntary loss of ownership by the former registered owner as may be satisfactory to the department.

Anything to the contrary hereinabove notwithstanding, upon the transfer of ownership of any motor vehicle to a person not intending either to operate the same or to cause or permit the same to be operated upon the public highways and not intending to transfer such motor vehicle to another person, a statement by said transferee of such fact or intent shall accompany the application for registration, in which case no fee for registration need be paid by the applicant, whereupon the department, if satisfied of the genuineness and regularity of said transfer and if satisfied of the facts stated in said application for registration, shall register, without any charge whatever, such motor vehicle in the name of said transferee and shall issue and forward to him a new registration certificate in a distinctive form to be determined by the department; provided, that until said transferee has received said registration certificate, delivery of said motor vehicle shall be deemed not to have been made, and title thereto shall be deemed not to have passed and said intended transfer shall be deemed to be incomplete and not to be valid or effective for any purpose; and provided, further, that nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to permit such motor vehicle to be operated upon the public highway under such distinctive certificate of registration last hereinabove provided for.

If the department shall determine, at any time, that for any reason a motor vehicle or trailer is unsafe or is improperly equipped or is otherwise unfit to be operated, or that the applicant for registration thereof is not entitled as owner thereof to such registration, the department may refuse to register such vehicle and may, for a like reason, revoke any registration already acquired. [Amendment approved May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 199.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 388.

§ 9. Dealer's registration. Moving unregistered vehicle. Dealer's notice of sale, of transfer of ownership, of dismantling. Every manufacturer of, or dealer in, motor vehicles may make application to the department, by mail or otherwise, upon a blank provided by the department, for a general distinguishing number or symbol, instead of registering each motor vehicle owned by him, and with such application he shall deposit the proper registration fee as provided in section seven of this act; and the department shall grant the application if satisfied of the facts stated in the application and shall issue to the applicant a certificate of registration containing the name and business address of the applicant and the general distinguishing number or symbol assigned to him, and made in such form and containing such further information as the department may determine; and every motor vehicle owned or controlled by such manufacturer or dealer shall be regarded as registered under such general distinguishing number or symbol until ten days after being sold, or until let for hire or until loaned for a period of more than ten successive days. The department shall furnish, without other charge than the fee specified in section seven of this act, with transportation charges prepaid, to every manufacturer of or dealer in automobiles or motorcycles applying therefor whose vehicles are registered in accordance with the provisions of this section, one pair of automobile plates or one single motorcycle number plate, of suitable design, the plates to have displayed upon them the registration number which is assigned to the motor vehicles of such manufacturer or dealer, with a different symbol on each pair of automobile number plates and on each single motorcycle plate. The department shall furnish such additional number plates as required by any dealer, upon the payment of the fee therefor set forth in section seven of this act. If the department shall determine at any time for due cause that any such manufacturer or dealer to whom the certificate of registration provided for in this section has been issued and to whom such general distinguishing number or symbol has been assigned has failed to comply with the requirements of this section hereinafter contained with reference to notices or reports of transfer of motor vehicles, or has caused or suffered, or is causing or suffering, the unlawful use of such certificate or number, the department may revoke said certificate of registration and recall and cancel said general distinguishing number or symbol, in which event said manufacturer or dealer, after notice of such action on part of the department, shall, without further demand, return to the department any and all number plates that may have been furnished him by the department under said certificate so revoked; provided, that no manufacturer or dealer or any employee of such manufacturer or dealer, shall cause or permit the display, or other use, of any number plate, or certificate of registration which may have been furnished to such manufacturer or dealer under the general distinguishing number or symbol hereinbefore provided for, excepting upon motor vehicles owned by such manufacturer or dealer within the meaning and intent of this act; provided, further, that no person shall display or otherwise use or have in his possession any number plate, or certificate of registration furnished by the department under a general manufacturer's or dealer's distinguishing number or symbol, except such manufacturer or dealer or his employees; and provided, further, that if the department, upon receiving from any manufacturer or dealer an application for the issuance for the ensuing calendar year of the certificate of registration and general distinguishing number or symbol provided for in this section, shall determine upon due cause that such manufacturer or dealer during the previous calendar year has failed to comply with the requirements of this section hereinafter contained respecting the filing of notices or reports of transfer of motor vehicles, or has caused or suffered, or is causing or suffering, the unlawful use of such certificate or number, the department may refuse such application.

When it shall become necessary for a manufacturer of, or dealer in, or consignee of, motor vehicles to move any vehicles owned by or consigned to him, not being registered under any of the provisions of this act, from any vessel, railroad depot, or warehouse, to the salesrooms or other place of business of such manufacturer or dealer, or to a warehouse or other place of storage, over the public highways, he may operate such vehicle, either under its own power or otherwise, over such public highways as are necessary for said purpose, without first registering said motor vehicle or affixing thereto any number plates issued to him under the general distinguishing number or symbol hereinabove specified; provided, however, that in such event he shall first obtain from the police authorities or marshal of the city or town in which said vessel, railroad depot or warehouse is situated, a written permit authorizing such operation; and there is hereby conferred upon police authorities, including town marshals, within the state of California, authority to issue such permits in proper cases as hereinbefore provided.

Upon the transfer of any motor vehicle by a manufacturer or dealer, whether by sale, lease or otherwise, such motor vehicle not being registered under the provisions of section three hereof, such manufacturer or dealer shall, forthwith upon such transfer, file with the department, upon a blank to be furnished by the department, a notice or report containing the date of such transfer, a description of such motor vehicle, and the name and postoffice address of the purchaser, lessee or other transferee. Before any person, firm or corporation shall wreck, dismantle or disassemble any motor vehicle, or substantially alter the form thereof, such person, firm or corporation shall give notice in writing upon forms to be furnished by the motor vehicle department of the intention so to do to the chief of police or marshal of the city or town in which such work is to be done or if such work is to be done outside of an incorporated city or town, such notice shall be given to the sheriff of the county in which the work is to be done.

Upon the transfer of any automobile engine or motor, except a new engine or motor transferred with intent that the same be installed in a new automobile, and whether such transfer be made by a manufacturer or dealer or otherwise, and whether by sale, lease or otherwise, the transferrer shall within three days after such transfer file with the department, upon a blank to be furnished by the department, a notice or report containing the date of such transfer and a description, together with the maker's number of said engine or motor, the name and postoffice address of the purchaser, lessee or other transferee. [Amendment approved May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 202.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 392.

§ 10. Residents of other states. [Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 395.]

§ 11. Display of number plates. Display of registration certificates. Added penalty for failure to register. In case of renewal. Except as in this act otherwise provided, no person shall operate or drive, or cause to be operated or driven, a motor vehicle, or cause a trailer to be drawn by a motor vehicle, on the public highways unless such vehicle shall at all times have displayed the number plate or plates furnished for it as hereinbefore provided; in case of automobiles, each such vehicle shall display one number plate on the front and the other on the back thereof; in case of motorcycles and trailers, but one number plate shall be required to be displayed and such number plate upon motorcycles and trailers shall be at the rear thereof; in all cases such number plates shall be securely fastened to the motor vehicle or trailer so as to prevent said plates from swinging, and at a minimum distance of sixteen inches from the ground. Nothing in this act shall be construed to require the display of any number plate on other than the rear trailer, when more than one trailer is drawn by a motor vehicle. No person shall attach to, or display on, such motor or other vehicle, any number plate, or registration seal or certificate other than as assigned to it for the current year, or a fictitious, or altered number plate, registration certificate, or a number plate, or registration certificate that shall have been canceled by the department. All letters, numbers, printing, writing and other identification marks upon said plates, and certificates, shall be kept clear and distinct and free from grease, dust or other blurring matter, so that they shall be plainly visible at all times during daylight and under artificial light in the night-time; provided, that in case any such plate, or certificate of registration, operator's license or chauffeur's license or badge shall be lost, mutilated or shall have become illegible, the person to whom such plate, seal, certificate, license or badge shall have been furnished shall immediately apply to the department for a duplicate thereof, accompanying his application with the fee specified in section seven of this act.

No person shall operate or drive a motor vehicle on the public highway unless such vehicle shall at all times carry in or upon it, subject to inspection by any peace officer, or employee of the department, the registration certificate furnished for it as hereinabove provided, which in case of an automobile shall be affixed, in the container furnished by the department, in plain sight in the driver's compartment of the automobile and which, in case of a motorcycle, shall be carried either in plain sight affixed to said motorcycle, or in the tool bag or some other convenient receptacle attached to said motorcycle.

The registration fee required under this act to be paid upon a motor vehicle or trailer shall become delinquent in the case of any such vehicle forthwith upon the operation of the vehicle on the public highways without the registration fee required by this act first having been paid to the department, accompanied by the application for registration provided herein. It is hereby provided, in addition to any and all other penalties provided by this act, that if, at the expiration of thirty days after any registration fee becomes delinquent, such fee has not been paid and registration applied for, a penalty shall be added to the amount of such fee in an amount equal to twenty-five per cent of the fee required by section seven of this act, and that such fee, together with the amount of said penalty, shall be a lien upon the motor vehicle or trailer in regard to which said registration fee is delinquent, and the department shall have power and it is hereby made its duty to collect the said registration fee, together with the penalty, by seizure of such motor vehicle or trailer from the person in possession thereof, if any, and by the sale thereof. The seizure and sale herein authorized shall be conducted and carried out by the department in the same manner as is provided by law for the seizure and sale of personal property by the county tax collector for the collection of taxes due on said personal property; provided, however, that in case of annual renewal of registration, where the applicants have in all things complied with the requirements of this act and have duly applied for such annual renewal of registration before the commencement of the ensuing calendar year, accompanying their applications with the proper fees for such registration, they shall be entitled to operate said vehicles during the month of February without displaying the registration certificates of the current year, on condition that they have at all times displayed upon said vehicles the number plates assigned to said vehicles respectively, together with the registration seals and certificates assigned thereto for the previous year. [Amendment approved May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 204.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 395.

§ 13. (a) Lights. Tail-lights. Horse-drawn vehicles. Where there is not sufficient light within the lateral boundaries of the public highway to reveal all persons, vehicles or other substantial objects within said boundaries for a distance of at least two hundred feet, and all times during the period from a half hour after sunset to a half hour before sunrise, every automobile while on the public highway shall carry at the front at least two lighted lamps and every such automobile and every trailer, at the times and under the conditions in this section hereinafter specified, shall carry at the rear a lighted lamp exhibiting a red light plainly visible, under normal atmospheric conditions, for a distance of five hundred feet toward the rear and so constructed and placed that the number plate carried on the rear of such automobile or trailer shall be illuminated by a white light in such manner that the number thereon can be plainly distinguished under normal atmospheric conditions at a distance of not less than fifty feet toward the rear; provided, however, that where more than one trailer is attached to a motor vehicle, only the rear trailer shall be required to exhibit said light. At the times and under the conditions in this section hereinafter specified, all other vehicles, except bicycles, motorcycles and motor trucks of two tons carrying capacity or over which are so governed or mechanically constructed or controlled that they cannot, exceed a speed of fifteen miles per hour, shall carry one or more lighted red lamps or lanterns so arranged that said red lamp or lamps shall be visible from every direction for a distance of not less than two hundred feet.

(b) Bicycles. At the times and under the conditions in this section hereinbefore specified, every bicycle while on the public highway shall carry a lighted lamp visible under normal atmospheric conditions at least three hundred feet in the direction toward which such bicycle is faced, and shall also carry at the rear of such bicycle a reflex mirror or a lighted lamp exhibiting a red light plainly visible under normal atmospheric conditions for a distance of at least two hundred feet toward the rear.

(c) Motorcycles. At the time and under the conditions in this section hereinbefore specified, every motorcycle while on the public highway shall carry at the front at least one lighted lamp which shall give a light of sufficient power and so distributed as provided in subdivision (f) and shall also carry at the rear of such motorcycles a lighted lamp, exhibiting a red light plainly visible under normal atmospheric conditions for a distance of at least two hundred feet towards the rear.

(d) Motor trucks. At the time and under the conditions in this section hereinbefore specified, every motor truck of two tons carrying capacity or over, which is so governed or mechanically constructed or controlled that it cannot exceed a speed or fifteen miles per hour, shall carry at the front at least two lighted lamps which shall be visible at least two hundred feet in the direction in which the motor truck is proceeding, and when the vehicle is proceeding on a street or highway not so lighted as to reveal any person, vehicle or substantial object on the street or highway straight ahead of such motor truck for a distance of at least two hundred feet, such front light shall be sufficient to reveal any person, vehicle or substantial object on the road straight ahead for a distance of seventy-five feet or over, and shall be equipped with a tail-light such as is required on other motor vehicles.

(e) Overhanging loads. Red flag. In any case where a motor or other vehicle shall be loaded with any material in such a manner that any portion of such load extends toward the rear four feet or more beyond the rear of the bed or body of such vehicle, there shall be displayed at the extreme end of the load, at the times and under the conditions in this section hereinbefore specified, in addition to the ordinary rear or tail-light hereinbefore required to be displayed on such vehicle, a red light plainly visible under normal atmospheric conditions at least two hundred feet from the rear; provided, further, that at other times while such vehicle is upon the highway a red flag or cloth not less than sixteen inches in length nor less than sixteen inches in width shall be displayed at the extreme rear end of said load as a warning signal to persons operating vehicles approaching from the rear.

(f) Headlights. Sidelights. When lights not required. At the times and under the conditions in this section hereinbefore specified the headlights of all automobiles upon the highways shall give a light of sufficient power and so distributed as provided herein in addition to and irrespective of any other requirements concerning headlights in this section contained. The term "headlight" as used herein, shall denote any light, located upon any portion of the said motor vehicle other than on the windshield, the windshield supports or top thereof, the rays of which are projected forward, except sidelights of not to exceed four candle power; provided, further, anything to the contrary notwithstanding.

ing, that where there is sufficient light within the lateral boundaries of the public highway within any incorporated city, town or city and county, to reveal all persons, vehicles or substantial objects within said boundaries for a distance of two hundred feet, no lights shall be required to be displayed on any vehicle while the same is not in operation, providing that a wheel of such standing vehicle nearest the sidewalk is located within twelve inches of such sidewalk.

(g) Candle-power. The headlights of motor vehicles shall be so arranged, adjusted, and constructed when the car is fully loaded, that any pair of headlights under the conditions of use must produce a light which:

1. When measured on a level surface on which the vehicle stands at a distance of two hundred feet directly in front of the car and at some point between the said level surface and a horizontal passing through the top of the headlight reflector or lens, is not less than one thousand two hundred apparent candle-power.

2. When measured at a point one hundred feet directly in front of the car, and at a height of sixty inches above the level surface on which the vehicle stands, does not exceed two thousand four hundred apparent candle-power nor shall this value be exceeded at a greater height than sixty inches.

3. When measured at a distance of one hundred feet ahead of the car and seven feet or more to the left of the axis of same, and at a height of sixty inches above the level surface on which the vehicle stands, does not exceed eight hundred apparent candle-power.

(h) Tests of devices for controlling. Specifications. Any device or adjustment used in connection with a light upon a motor vehicle to enable the same to comply with the requirements of subdivision (f) hereof shall not be used upon a motor vehicle operated upon the highways of this state until the same shall have been tested as provided herein; such test shall be made by a skilled testing agency, appointed for that purpose by the superintendent of motor vehicle department and such tests shall be laboratory tests according to the following specifications:

Two pairs of samples of the device submitted shall be subject to test. In the case of front glasses the samples shall be of nine and one-fourth inches diameter when practicable.

The reflectors used in connection with the laboratory tests shall be of standard high-grade manufacture of one and one-fourth inch focal length, with clean and highly polished surfaces and as nearly truly paraboloidal in form as practicable, and as approved for this purpose by the testing agency selected by the superintendent of the motor vehicle department.

The incandescent lamps used in connection with the laboratory test shall be of standard high quality manufacture and as approved for this purpose by the testing agency selected by the superintendent of motor vehicle department.

The manufacturer of the device shall be given due notice of the date and place of test. Manufacturers' representatives present at the test shall be privileged to adjust their devices in any way which represents an ordinary and legitimate adjustment including tilting the lamps or reflectors, which can be carried out by purchasers of the device, or such adjustment may be made by the laboratory expert acting on the instructions of the manufacturer. The character of the adjustments so made shall be carefully noted and stated in the report as manufacturer's adjustment.

The tests shall be as follows:

Test 1. Four-point test of pairs of samples. A pair of testing reflectors, mounted similarly to the headlamps on a car shall be set up in a dark room, or at the request of the applicant, out of doors in darkness under such conditions that no light thrown or reflected from any source other than from the device being tested shall materially affect the test readings, at a distance of not less than sixty feet, nor more than one hundred feet from a vertical white screen. If a testing distance of one hundred feet is taken the reflectors shall be set twenty-eight inches apart from center to center, and if a shorter testing distance is taken, the distance between reflectors shall be proportionately reduced. The axes of the lamps shall be parallel and horizontal, or as tilted in accordance with the manufacturer's adjustment. The intensity of the combined light shall then be measured with each pair of samples in turn, with the reflectors fitted with a pair of each of the following types of incandescent lamps in turn:

(1) Vacuum type, 6-8 volts, 17 mscp.

(2) Gas-filled type, 6-8 volts, 20 mscp.

The lamps shall be adjusted to give their rated candle-power. Measurements shall be made at the following points at the surface of the screen:

A. In the median vertical plane parallel to the lamp axes, on a level with the lamps.

B. In the same plane one degree of arc below the level of the lamps.

C. In the same plane one degree of arc above the level of the lamps.

D. Four degrees of arc to the left of this plane and one degree of arc above the level.

In an acceptable device both pairs of samples shall conform to the following specifications for observed apparent candle-power. Points A and B. At at least one of these points the apparent candle-power shall not be less than one thousand two hundred. Point C. The apparent candle-power shall not exceed two thousand four hundred. Point D. The apparent candle-power shall not exceed eight hundred; provided, however, that if the test indicates that a device which is unacceptable with either of the test lamps will come within the specifications with lamps of another candle-power or of the other type, the device may be passed with corresponding limitations as to the incandescent lamps to be used in connection with it.

Test 2. Complete test of single sample.

A single sample taken as an average representative of the device as manufactured shall be submitted to a complete test with a vacuum incandescent lamp of seventeen candle-power 6-8 volt rating. This test shall show its light distribution characteristics by actual measurements made according to recognized and exact methods.

One pair of the samples shall be retained by the testing agency for the purpose of future reference and as samples of construction and the other pair shall be returned to the office of the superintendent of the motor vehicle department.

The report of the tests shall be rendered in duplicate to the superintendent of the motor vehicle department, and shall be signed or initialed not only by the expert making the test, but also by an executive officer of the institution making the test.

It shall include a statement by the testing agency or the testing official as to whether or not the device when properly applied substantially complies with the requirements of section thirteen of the California motor vehicle act.

(i) Report to local authorities. The superintendent of the motor vehicle department shall immediately upon the completion of the tests made as herein provided, prepare a written report of the results of such tests and transmit a copy thereof to the clerk of each county within the state of California, who shall thereupon immediately file such report. A copy shall also be sent to the city, town or county traffic departments, whose duty it is to enforce the law. The superintendent of the motor vehicle department shall indorse upon such report the statement of the testing agency or the testing officials as to whether or not the said device when properly applied, substantially complies with the requirements of section thirteen of the California motor vehicle act.

(j) Home-made devices. It shall be unlawful for any manufactured device that is sold commercially to be used in connection with the headlight upon a motor vehicle to enable the same to comply with the provisions of subdivision (f) hereof unless such device shall have been first tested as provided in subdivision (h) hereof, and the testing agency shall have reported that such device, when properly applied, substantially complies with the requirements of section thirteen of the California motor vehicle act; and such reports shall have been incorporated in the said report of the said superintendent of the motor vehicle department and a copy thereof filed in the office of the clerk of the county in which said device is used and a copy sent to city, town or county traffic departments whose duty it is to enforce the law.

(k) Submission of device for test. Fee. Certificate of approval. Diffusing lens. Any person, firm or corporation may submit to the superintendent of motor vehicle department a device for controlling the front lights of motor vehicles, so that they shall comply with the provisions of this section, together with an application that such device be tested as prescribed by this section. Such applicant shall pay to the motor vehicle department a fee of fifty dollars. Thereupon the superintendent of motor vehicle department shall upon notice to the applicant submit such device to the testing agency appointed for this purpose as hereinbefore provided with the request that it be tested as to its compliance with the provisions of this section. Upon notice from such testing agency that such test has been made and that such device, when properly applied, substantially complies with the provisions of this section, and specifying the maximum candle-power to be used therewith, the superintendent of motor vehicle department shall issue a certificate to the applicant describing the device, certifying that such test has been made, that the device, when applied, complies with the provisions of this section and prescribing the said maximum candle-power to be used therewith. All fees paid into the department with said applications shall be paid into the state treasury and deposited in a fund to be known as the "testing fee fund," and the moneys in said fund are hereby appropriated, or so much thereof as may be necessary to meet the expenses of the test provided for in this section, and the balance thereof, if any, after meeting all expenses incurred in connection with said test shall be paid into the motor vehicle fund. Diffusing type of lens may be used with candle-power not sufficiently great to produce a dangerous glare. The maximum of such candle-power shall be established by the testing agency selected by the superintendent of the motor vehicle department, based upon tests as herein above provided. Any device so certified shall be equipped with light bulbs labeled with the true candle-power thereof, not exceeding that prescribed.

(1) Spotlights. The term "spotlights" as used herein shall denote any light fastened to the windshield, the windshield support or top of a motor vehicle, the rays of which are projected forward, except sidelights of not to exceed four candle-power.

All spotlights used upon motor vehicles shall be so constructed or arranged that no portion of the main, substantially parallel beam of light when measured one hundred feet or more ahead of said lights shall rise or shall be capable of being raised from the driver's seat, to more than forty-two inches above the level surface upon which the vehicle stands directly ahead of such vehicle. [Amendment approved May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 206.]

This section was also amended in 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 395.

§ 15. (a) Cleats, etc., on tires. Other than on vehicles actually engaged at the time in construction or repair work on public highways, no tire on any motor or other vehicle operated on or over any public highway or bridge shall have on its periphery any block, stud, flange, cleat, ridge, bead or any other protuberance of metal or wood which projects beyond the tread or traction surface of the tire; but this section shall not be so construed as to prohibit the use of tire chains of reasonable proportions on motor vehicles when required for safety because of snow, ice or other conditions tending to cause such motor vehicle to slide or skid; provided, however, that traction engines or tractors the propulsive power of which is exerted not through wheels resting upon the ground but by means of a flexible band or chain, known as a movable track, may be operated upon the public highways with transverse corrugations upon the periphery of said movable tracks, on condition that a permit shall first have been obtained as hereinafter in this section provided.

(b) Total weight limit. No motor or other vehicle shall be operated on or over any public highway or bridge, nor shall any object be moved over or upon any public highway or bridge on wheels, rollers, or otherwise, except when transported in or upon vehicles running exclusively on stationary rails or tracks, in excess of a total weight, including load, of thirty thousand pounds, when said motor or other vehicle or contrivance is equipped with four wheels running on the highway, or in excess of a total weight, including load, of forty thousand pounds when said motor or other vehicle or contrivance shall be equipped with six wheels running on the highway and with three axles not less than ninety-six inches apart, without first obtaining a permit as hereinafter in this section provided.

(c) Weight limit per inch of tire width. In freeholders' charter cities. Regulation by county. Penalty. No motor or other vehicle or other object, or contrivance for moving loads, except as hereinafter otherwise provided, shall be operated or moved upon or over any public highway or bridge, the weight of which resting upon the surface of said highway or bridge exceeds eight hundred pounds upon any inch of width of tire, when said vehicle is equipped with tires made of other material than metal; and no motor or other vehicle, object, or contrivance for moving loads shall be operated or moved upon or over any public highway or bridge the weight of which resting upon the surface of said highway or bridge exceeds six hundred pounds upon any inch of width of tire, roller, wheel or other object supported on the surface thereof when such tires or the rolling surface of such rollers, wheels or other objects are made in whole or in part of metal, without first obtaining a permit as hereinafter in this section provided; provided, however, that traction engines or tractors the propulsive power of which is exerted not through wheels resting upon the ground but by means of a flexible band or chain, known as a movable track, shall not be subject to the foregoing limitations upon permissible weights per inch of width of tire if the portions of the movable tracks in contact with the surface of the highway present plane surfaces; and provided, further, that cities heretofore or hereafter organized under freeholders' charters may permit or prohibit the increase, beyond the maximum weight per inch of width of tire hereinabove prescribed, of the weight of loads carried within the limits of such cities in or upon metal-tired vehicles drawn by muscular power, but where any such city has not by proper and suitable ordinance or other regulation permitted or prohibited such increase of maximum weight of loads, the regulations and limitations prescribed by this act shall not apply.

The supervisors of any county shall have power to require a lighter load on county roads in their respective counties. Any person violating the provisions of this subsection shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and is liable to a penalty of twenty dollars for each full ton in excess of the limitation herein imposed, and any peace officer making the arrest of the owner or driver of any vehicle violating the provisions of this subsection shall keep said vehicle with its load in his custody until such time as said penalty shall have been paid; provided, that the owner or driver of any such vehicle may give to said peace officer a bond in favor of the state of California in case of state highways, and in the name of the county in which the offense has occurred in the case of county roads, conditioned to secure the payment of said penalty within the time prescribed in said bond. Furthermore, any peace officer may require the owner or the driver to drive any such vehicle to the nearest public scales to be designated by such peace officer for the purpose of establishing the weight and the load of any such vehicle.

(d) Trailer limitation. No motor vehicle shall be operated or driven over any public highway or bridge drawing or having attached thereto more than two trailers; provided, that all four-wheeled trailers excepting light camping trailers shall be equipped with suitable brakes.

(e) Permits by department of engineering. Anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, upon application in writing to the state department of engineering, said department of engineering in its discretion may issue a special permit to the owner or operator of any vehicle allowing heavier or wider loads than hereinabove in this section or elsewhere in this act permitted to be moved or carried over and on the public highways and bridges, or allowing more than two trailers to be drawn by a motor vehicle; and may also issue such special permit to increase the permissible weights per inch of width of tire and may also permit the use of corrugations on the periphery of the movable tracks of traction engines or tractors propelled not by wheels resting upon the ground but by flexible bands or chains. Such permits shall be in writing and they may limit the time of use and operation over the particular highways and bridges which may be traversed and may contain such special conditions and provisions and require such undertaking or other security as the said department of engineering shall deem to be necessary to protect the public highways and bridges from injury, or provide indemnity for any injury resulting from such operation. All such special permits shall be carried in the vehicles to which they refer and shall upon demand be open to the inspection of any peace officer, any authorized agent of the department of engineering or of the motor vehicle department, or any officer or employee charged with the care or protection of the public highways. It shall be unlawful for any person to violate, or to cause or permit to be violated, the limitations or conditions of such special permits and any such violation shall be deemed for all purposes to be a violation of the provisions of this act.

(f) Weight on bridges, etc. Anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, the state department of engineering may in its discretion limit the maximum load to be carried over or on any public bridge, causeway, viaduct, trestle or dam, below the maximum established by law; provided, however, that in such event said department of engineering shall cause suitable signs to be erected and maintained, specifying such limitation of load, such signs to be placed at a distance of not less than one hundred feet nor more than one hundred fifty feet from the approaches to such bridge, causeway, viaduct, trestle or dam.

(g) Liability for damages. Anything to the contrary in this act notwithstanding, the owner and the operator, driver or mover of any vehicle, object or contrivance over a public highway or bridge, shall be jointly and severally responsible for all damages which said highway or bridge may sustain as the result of so operating or driving or moving such vehicle and the amount of such damages may be recovered in an action at law by the authorities in control of such highway or bridge. [Amendment approved May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 212.]

§ 17. Intoxicated driver, penalty. No person who is under the influence of intoxicating liquor and no person who is an habitual user of narcotic drugs shall operate or drive a motor or other vehicle on any public highway within this state. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than six months nor more than one year or by imprisonment in the state prison for not less than one or more than three years or by a fine of not less than five hundred dollars nor more than five thousand dollars. [Amendment approved May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 212.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 400.

§ 18. Owner's consent. [Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 400.]

§ 20. (a) Rules of the road. Right side of road. The driver or operator of any vehicle in or upon any public highway shall drive or operate such vehicle in a careful manner with due regard for the safety and convenience of pedestrians and of all other vehicles or traffic upon such highway, and wherever practicable shall travel on the right-hand side of such highway. Two vehicles which are passing each other in opposite directions shall have the right of way, and no other vehicle to the rear of either of such two vehicles shall pass or attempt to pass such two vehicles. On all occasions the driver or operator of any vehicle in or upon any public highway shall travel upon the right half of such highway unless the road ahead on the left-hand side is clear and unobstructed for at least one hundred yards ahead and in all cases while crossing an intersecting highway. For the purposes of this section and its subdivisions, an animal or animals attached to any conveyance shall, with such conveyance, be deemed to constitute one vehicle.

(b) Passing vehicles. Vehicles proceeding in opposite directions shall pass each other to the right, each giving to the other one-half the road as nearly as possible.

(c) Overtaking vehicles. Vehicles overtaking other vehicles proceeding in the same direction shall pass to the left thereof and shall not again drive to the right until reasonably clear of such overtaken vehicle.

(d) Overtaken vehicle. It shall be the duty of the driver, rider or operator of a vehicle about to be overtaken and passed to give way to the right in favor of the overtaking vehicle, on suitable and audible signal being given by or on behalf of the operator, driver or other person in charge and control of such overtaking vehicle if such overtaking vehicle be a motor vehicle.

(e) Distance between vehicles. Vehicles must be operated so as to allow a safe distance between such vehicles and any persons, vehicles or animals preceding them upon the highway, and outside of the business district of any county, incorporated city and county, city or town, contiguous to a public highway as such business district is defined in this act, no vehicle shall, while in motion, be closer than fifteen feet to any vehicle, person or animal in front thereof.

(f) Intersections, right of way. Excepting where controlled by such traffic ordinances or regulations as are permitted under this act the operator of a vehicle shall yield the right of way at the intersection of their paths to a vehicle approaching from the right unless such vehicle approaching from the right is further from the point of the intersection of their paths than such first-named vehicle.

(g) Highway divided by parkway or isle of safety. Any vehicle traveling on a public highway which is divided longitudinally by a parkway or an isle of safety, shall keep to the right of such parkway or isle of safety unless otherwise directed by the provisions of any ordinance, rule or regulation of competent local authorities.

(h) Overtaking vehicle. Sounding horn. It shall be the duty of the person operating or in charge of an overtaking vehicle to sound audible and suitable signal before passing a vehicle proceeding in the same direction.

(i) Turning at intersections. All vehicles approaching an intersection of a public highway, with the intention of turning thereat shall in turning to the right keep to the right of the center of such intersection, and in turning to the left shall run beyond the center of such intersection, passing to the right thereof, before turning such vehicle toward the left. For the purposes of this subdivision the "center of such intersection" shall be held to mean the meeting point of the medial lines of the two highways traversed by the vehicle making the turn.

(j) Horses, precautions on meeting. In all passing and overtaking such assistance shall be given by the occupants of each vehicle respectively to the other as the circumstances shall reasonably demand in order to obtain clearance and avoid accidents; every person having control or charge of any motor vehicle or other vehicle upon any public highway and approaching any vehicle drawn by a horse or horses, or any horse upon which any person is riding, shall operate, manage and control such motor vehicle or other vehicle in such manner as to exercise every reasonable precaution to prevent the frightening of any such horse or horses and to insure the safety and protection of any person riding or driving the same; and if such horse or horses appear frightened the person in control of such motor vehicle or other vehicle shall reduce its speed, and if requested by signal or otherwise by the driver or rider of such horse or horses shall not proceed further toward such animal or animals unless such movement be necessary to avoid accident or injury, until such animal or animals be under the control of the driver or rider thereof.

(k) Passing at street intersection. The operator of any vehicle shall not operate or drive the same so as to pass or overtake any other vehicle going in the same direction at any street intersection unless directed so to do by a traffic or police officer.

(l) Slowly moving vehicle. The person in control of any vehicle moving slowly along and upon any public highway shall keep such vehicle as closely as practicable to the right-hand boundary of the highway, allowing more swiftly moving vehicles reasonably free passage to the left.

(m) Mirror required, when. No person shall operate or drive any motor vehicle that is so covered, loaded or constructed as to obscure the driver's view of the highway to the rear, nor any vehicle which is so covered, loaded or constructed that any portion thereof to the rear of the driver projects more than twelve inches beyond the extreme left side of the driver's seat, unless there is placed on said vehicle a mirror so located as to reflect to the driver a view of the highway for at least two hundred feet behind such vehicle.

(n) Arm signals. Mechanical or electrical device. The person in charge of any vehicle in or upon any public highway, before turning, stopping, or changing the course of such vehicle, and before turning such vehicle when starting the same, shall see first that there is sufficient space for such movement to be made in safety, and if the movement or operation of other vehicles may reasonably be affected by such turning, stopping or changing of course, shall give plainly visible signal to the persons operating, driving or in charge of such vehicles of his intention so to turn, stop, or change his course, either by the use of his hand and arm, which shall be visible from the rear, or by the use of an approved mechanical or electrical device. Any such device shall upon application to the motor vehicle department be tested and certified as adequate to give the signal herein required, in the same manner and upon the payment of the same fee as in the case of headlights.

When the signal required by this section is given by the use of the hand and arm the intention to turn such vehicle toward the right or the left shall be indicated by extending the hand and arm horizontally from and beyond the side of the vehicle toward which the turn is to be made or by extending the hand and arm vertically with the hand pointing upward from the side opposite the direction toward which the turn is to be made; when the signal to be given is to indicate the intention to stop a vehicle or to abruptly or suddenly check its speed, such signal if given with the hand and arm shall be given by extending the hand and arm out from and beyond either side of the vehicle and pointed in a downward direction.

(o) Passing street-cars. In passing any railroad, interurban or street car while passengers are alighting from or boarding the same, vehicles shall be operated or driven on the right-hand side of such cars and at a rate of speed not exceeding ten miles an hour and no portion thereof or of any load thereon shall come within six feet of the running board of steps of such cars, and shall at all times be operated with due care and caution so that the safety of such passengers shall be assured; provided, however, that where local authorities have plainly marked upon the surface of the highway safety zones for the protection of such passengers, vehicles shall not, at any time, be operated or driven within such zones; provided, further, that said safety zones shall only be marked at street corners or at other regularly established stations or stopping places of such railroad, or interurban, or street cars, and shall not extend beyond seven feet toward the boundary of the highway from the outer rail of such railroad, interurban or street care line.

(p) Moving in defiles, canyons, etc. Every motor vehicle when moving in defiles, canyons, or mountain passes where the curvature of the road or highway prevents a clear view for a distance of one hundred yards shall be held under control and not permitted to coast and the operator thereof in approaching curves shall give a warning of his gong or other adequate signaling device.

(q) Turning so as to proceed in opposite direction. No vehicle except vehicles operated by the fire department or police department of any incorporated city and county, city or town, shall be turned so as to proceed in the opposite direction except at an intersection of the public highway. In so turning vehicles shall pass beyond and around the center of such intersection. This provision shall not apply except in a business district or closely built up territory, as such district and such territory are defined in this act.

(r) Police and fire department vehicles. Police and fire department vehicles shall at all times be equipped with a siren and it shall be unlawful for any other vehicle to be equipped with or use such a device.

(s) Idem. Vehicles of the police or fire department of any incorporated city or county, city or town, shall in all cases while being operated as such, have right of way over all other vehicles with due regard to the safety of the public; but this provision shall not protect the driver or operator of any such vehicle or his employer or principal from the consequence of the arbitrary exercise of this right, nor shall it be construed as permitting the violation by the operators of any such vehicles of any of the provisions of section twenty-two of this act, except the operators of police vehicles when such vehicles are being operated in the chase or apprehension of violators of the law or of persons charged with or suspected of any such violation.

(t) Idem. Upon the approach of any police or fire department vehicle it shall be the duty of the operator of any street-car, upon the sounding of a signal by such police or fire department vehicle, to stop such street-car forthwith, unless at the time such street-car is crossing an intersection of the public highways, in which event it shall be operated so as to clear the intersection of the highways and then stopped, and every other vehicle shall immediately be moved to a position as near as possible and parallel to the right-hand curb, and shall remain there until the police or fire department apparatus has passed such vehicle.

(u) Fire hydrants protected. No person shall hitch or leave standing, or cause or permit to be hitched or left standing, any animal, or leave standing or cause or permit to be left standing, any vehicle, or stop or cause or permit to be stopped any animal or vehicle at any time upon the public highway within fifteen feet of any public fire hydrant located upon the public highway or sidewalk, unless such animal is under the charge of some person capable of driving the same or unless such vehicle is in the charge of some person capable of operating or driving the same.

(v) Width of vehicle. Luggage, trunks, etc. Hay wagons, etc. No motor or other vehicle as defined in this act shall be operated or driven on or over any public highway or bridge if the outside width of tread exceeds one hundred twelve inches or if the total outside width of the bed of said vehicle and any load thereon shall exceed one hundred two inches, nor shall any pleasure type automobile be operated on or over any public highway or bridge if any luggage, package, trunk, crate, box or other load carried thereon extends to the left side more than twelve inches beyond the body of such automobile; provided, however, that any city now or hereafter organized under freeholders' charter may permit or prohibit an increase beyond the maximum hereinbefore prescribed of the total outside width of the beds of vehicles and any loads thereon, where such vehicles are operated or driven and said loads are carried wholly within the limits of said city, but where any such city shall not by proper and suitable ordinance or other regulation permit or prohibit such increased width, the regulations and limitations prescribed by this act shall not apply; and provided, that the regulations and limitations prescribed by this act relative to the maximum widths of vehicles and their loads shall not apply to implements of husbandry temporarily drawn, propelled or moved upon the highway; and provided, further, that loads not exceeding ten feet in width of loosely piled material not crated, baled, boxed, sacked or carried otherwise than loosely in bulk, may be carried upon vehicles on the highway; provided, that the extreme width of such vehicles, including any loading racks thereon, shall not exceed one hundred twenty inches, as hereinbefore prescribed.

(w) Repairing vehicle on highway. No person shall leave standing, or cause or permit to be left standing upon the main traveled portion of any public highway, a vehicle undergoing repair, or which has been stopped for the purpose of having repairs made thereon, or for the purpose of camping; provided, however, that this provision shall not apply to a vehicle which shall be disabled, while on such main traveled portion of the highway, in such manner and to such extent that it shall be impossible to avoid stopping such vehicle on said main traveled portion of the highway, and impracticable to remove the same therefrom until repairs shall have been made.

(x) Riding animals regulated. The provisions of subdivisions (a), (b), (c), (d), (e), (g), (j), (k), (l) of this section shall be applicable to the rider of every horse, mule or other riding animal ridden upon the public highway, to the end and effect that the same duties, rules and regulations imposed thereon upon the drivers or operators of vehicles upon the public highway, including the care to be exercised in driving or operating vehicles, the portion of the highway upon which they shall travel, the right of way as between vehicles passing or overtaking each other, or upon approaching intersections, the duty of giving way in favor of overtaking vehicles, the manner of turning at intersections and at other places upon the highway and of stopping or changing the course of the vehicles and the duties imposed upon operators or drivers of vehicles in passing railroad, interurban or street cars, shall be imposed, and they are hereby imposed, upon the riders of animals upon the public highways.

(y) Livestock on highway. No person owning, or controlling the possession of, any horse, cow, mule, ass, sheep, goat, hog or other livestock, shall voluntarily or negligently permit such animal to stray upon or remain unaccompanied by a herder or other person in charge or control thereof upon a public highway, either side of which is adjoined by property which is separated from such highway by a fence, wall, hedge, sidewalk, curb, lawn or building, or shall permit the tether or any portion thereof to which such animal may be attached, to lie across or upon any public highway, and no person shall feed, pasture or camp any such livestock upon any public highway between the hours of sunset and sunrise without keeping a sufficient number of herders on continual duty to keep open the road so as to admit at all times of the ready passage of vehicles, and also keeping red lanterns or lights burning to warn the public of the presence of such stock.

(z) Firearms. No person shall discharge any firearms on any public highway.

(aa) Leaking contents, etc. No vehicle shall be operated on any public highway unless it is so constructed as to prevent its contents from dropping, sifting, leaking, or otherwise escaping from such vehicle.

(ab) Wind-shields. Every motor vehicle used for commercial purposes shall be equipped with an adequate wind-shield. [Amendment approved May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 215.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 400.

§ 22. (a) Speed limits. General. Maximum. Crossings and intersections. Signs at railway crossings. Regulations by highway commission. Signs. Any person operating or driving a motor or other vehicle on the public highways shall operate or drive the same in a careful and prudent manner and at a rate of speed not greater than is reasonable and proper, having regard to the traffic and use of the highway, and no person shall operate or drive a motor vehicle or other vehicle on a public highway at such rate of speed as to endanger the life or limb of any person or the safety of any property; provided, that it shall be unlawful to operate or drive at a rate of speed in excess of thirty miles an hour, except in the daytime and except when the operator or driver has a clear and uninterrupted view of the highway on which he is traveling in the direction toward which he is traveling and of all highways which intersect such highway within four hundred feet ahead of such operator or driver, to a distance of at least four hundred feet from the highway on which he is traveling and there is no person, vehicle or other object visible ahead on such highway on which such operator or driver is traveling within four hundred feet of such operator or driver or on any such intersecting highway within four hundred feet of the point of the intersection of the center lines of such highways; provided, also, that in no case shall any vehicle be operated at a rate of speed in excess of thirty-five miles an hour; and provided, further, that in any event no person shall operate or drive a motor vehicle or other vehicle on any public highway where the territory contiguous thereto is closely built up, at a greater rate of speed than twenty miles an hour, or in the business district of any incorporated city and county, city or town, at a greater rate of speed than fifteen miles an hour; provided, further, that no person shall operate or drive a motor vehicle or other vehicle on any public highway at a greater rate of speed than fifteen miles an hour in approaching any steam, electric or other railway crossing at grade, or in approaching or traversing an intersecting highway, or crossing or intersection of highways, or in approaching or going around corners or curves in the highway, when in any of the foregoing cases the operator's or driver's view of the road or railway traffic is obstructed, but anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, no person shall operate or drive a motor vehicle or other vehicle on any public highway at a greater rate of speed than ten miles an hour in traversing any steam, electric or other railway crossing at grade when the operator's or driver's view of the crossing or of any traffic on such railway within four hundred feet of such crossing is obstructed; provided, further, that the board of supervisors of any county and city and county within this state, and the board of trustees, city council or other governing body of every municipality within this state, within six months after the passage of this act, shall place and thereafter maintain warning signs on every public highway approaching a crossing at grade of such highway and the tracks of any railway, at a reasonable distance, not less than three hundred feet, from such crossing, and on either side thereof. Such sign shall consist of a metal disc twenty-four inches in diameter, the field enameled white, with an enameled black border line one inch wide, and with an enameled black vertical and horizontal cross-line two and one-half inches wide; the reverse side of such disc to be colored black. In each of the upper quarters shall appear in black enamel the letter "R," five inches high, three and three-quarter inches wide, lines one inch stroke. Anyone defacing, injuring, knocking down or removing any such sign shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, further, that the maximum rate of speed over any bridge, dam, trestle, culvert, causeway or viaduct as well as the maximum rate of speed over any state highway or portion of state highway may be established by the state highway commission at less than the rate established by law, when in the judgment of said commission the safety of persons using the highway or the protection of the highway shall be promoted thereby, but whenever any such different rate of speed is so established by said commission, the commission shall cause to be erected suitable signs to mark the location and limits of the highway to which said different rate of speed shall apply, and such signs shall be placed at a distance of not less than one hundred feet or at a greater distance than one hundred fifty feet from the highway or portion of highway or from the approaches of any bridge, dam, trestle, culvert, causeway or viaduct with respect to which such different rate of speed may be so established. In the case of a bridge, dam, trestle, culvert, causeway or viaduct, such maximum rate of speed so established by said commission shall not be less than ten miles an hour, and in the case of any other highway or portion of highway, such maximum rate of speed so established shall not be less than fifteen miles an hour.

(b) Speed limit of trucks. Equipped with pneumatic tires. No motor or other vehicle carrying a weight in excess of nine thousand pounds, including the vehicle, shall be operated, driven, drawn or otherwise moved on any public highway or bridge at a rate of speed greater than twenty-five miles an hour; no motor or other vehicle carrying a weight in excess of twelve thousand pounds, including the vehicle, shall be operated, driven, drawn or otherwise moved on any public highway or bridge at a rate of speed greater than fifteen miles an hour; no motor or other vehicle carrying a weight in excess of twenty-four thousand pounds, including the vehicle, shall be operated, driven, drawn or otherwise moved on any public highway or bridge at a rate of speed greater than ten miles an hour; provided, however, that no motor vehicle or trailer equipped with tires made wholly or partly of metal shall be operated, driven, drawn or otherwise moved on any public highway or bridge at a rate of speed greater than six miles an hour; provided, fur ther, that any such motor vehicle or trailer, with tires made wholly or partly of metal, may be operated, driven, drawn or otherwise moved, subject to the other provisions of this act, up to ten miles an hour, if it be equipped with springs and if the rear wheels be not less than forty-six inches in diameter, with a bearing surface of not less than eighteen inches; and provided, further, however, anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, that no motor or other vehicle constructed or otherwise adapted for carrying loads weighing four tons or more, exclusive of such vehicle, shall be operated, driven, drawn or otherwise moved upon the public highway, whether laden or unladen, at a rate of speed exceeding fifteen miles an hour; and provided, further, that nothing contained in this subdivision shall apply to motor vehicles equipped with pneumatic tires.

(c) Arrests for speeding. Place of trial. In case of any person arrested for violation of the provisions of this section, unless such person shall demand that he be taken forthwith before the most accessible magistrate, the arresting officer shall take the name and address of such person and the number of his motor vehicle and notify him in writing to appear before a magistrate of the township in which the offense for which such person is arrested is alleged to have been committed at a time and place to be specified in such writing at least five days subsequent to the date of such notice upon the promise in writing of such person to appear at such time and place, such officer shall forthwith release him from custody. In the event that any person arrested for any violation of the provisions of this section, demands to be or is taken forthwith after his arrest before a magistrate he shall be entitled to at least five days' continuance of his case within which time to prepare to plead or prepare for trial and he shall not be required to plead or to be tried within such five days unless he waives such time in writing or in open court; provided, that he promises in writing, after notice in writing of the time and place for his further appearance in court to appear at such time and place. Upon the giving of such written promise or, if he refuse to give such promise, on bail fixed by the magistrate he shall thereupon be forthwith released from custody. Any person willfully violating such promise shall be guilty of a misdemeanor regardless of the disposition of the charge upon which he was originally arrested.

(d) Local regulations. Limitations as to the rate of speed herein fixed shall be exclusive of all other limitations fixed by any law of this state or any political subdivision thereof. Local authorities shall have no power to enact, enforce or maintain any ordinance, rule or regulation in any way in conflict with, contrary to or inconsistent with the provisions of this act, or of any section or other subdivision thereof, and no such ordinance, rule or regulation of said local authorities heretofore or hereafter enacted shall have any force or effect, excepting, however, that (1) such powers as are now or may hereafter be vested in local authorities to enact ordinances and regulations, applicable equally and generally to all vehicles and other users of the highways, and providing for traffic or crossing officers or semaphores, to bring about the orderly passage of vehicles and other users of the public highways on certain portions thereof, where the traffic is heavy and continuous, as well as (2) the powers now or hereafter vested in local authorities to license and to regulate the operation of vehicles offered to the public for hire, and to regulate the use of the highways for processions or assemblages, shall remain in full force and effect, and all ordinances, rules and regulations which may have been or which may be hereafter enacted in pursuance of such powers, shall remain in full force and effect; and provided, further, that local authorities may by general rule, ordinance or regulation, exclude vehicles from any cemetery or ground used for the burial of the dead, or exclude vehicles used solely or principally for commercial purposes from any park or part of a park system where such general rule, ordinance, or regulation is applicable equally and generally to all other vehicles used for the same purpose; provided, that at the entrance, or at each entrance if there be more than one, to such cemetery or park from which vehicles are so excluded, there shall have been posted a sign plainly legible from the middle of the public highway on which such cemetery or park opens, plainly indicating such exclusion and prohibition; and provided, further, that the local authorities of any city, town, or city and county may impose additional restrictions to those herein contained applicable to vehicles exclusively used in the carrying of merchandise or articles of freight and of a capacity in excess of one ton in weight and may designate certain streets whereon heavy laden vehicles may be excluded or declared to be "one way" streets, may, further, restrict or prohibit, the use of trailers. § 23. Revocation of operator's license. Suspension of license. [Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 407.] •

§ 24. (a) Operator's and chauffeur's licenses. Certificate. Chauffeur's badge. Minor's license. It shall be unlawful for any person to operate or drive a motor vehicle upon the public highway unless licensed by the department as hereinafter provided; provided, however, that the requirements of this section shall not apply to the operators or drivers of any implements of husbandry temporarily drawn, propelled or moved on the public highway. Before operating a motor vehicle upon the public highway, application for a license to operate such vehicle shall be made by mail or otherwise to the department upon a blank to be prepared and furnished on request by said department. To each person shall be assigned some distinguishing number or mark and the department shall issue to the licensee a certificate in such form as the department shall determine; it shall contain the distinguishing number or mark assigned to the licensee, his name, age, place of residence, business address if any, and a brief description of the licensee for the purpose of identification, and such other information as the said department shall deem necessary. Every person licensed to operate motor vehicles as aforesaid, whether as chauffeur or operator, shall indorse his usual signature in the space on the license certificate provided for the purpose, immediately upon the receipt of said certificate and his license shall not be valid until the certificate is so indorsed. Licenses to chauffeurs shall be valid during the calendar year only in which issued. Licenses issued to operators shall be valid until revoked. The department shall furnish to every chauffeur licensed a suitable metal badge with the distinguishing number assigned to him stamped thereon, without extra charge therefor, such badge to have stamped thereon the words "Registered Chauffeur No. —, Cal." with the said license number and year of issue inserted therein. This badge shall thereafter be worn by such chauffeur, affixed to his clothing in a conspicuous place, at all times when he is operating or driving a motor vehicle upon the public highway, and the license certificate issued to each chauffeur or operator, under the provisions of this section, shall be carried by the licensee at all times when he is operating or driving a motor vehicle upon the public highway and shall be produced by him for inspection upon request of any peace officer. In case of the loss of such badge or certificate a duplicate will be issued by the department on the filing of an affidavit showing the fact of loss, and on payment of a fee of one dollar to the department in the case of a badge and fifty cents in case of a certificate. Duplicate license certificates shall be issued by the department to operators other than chauffeurs upon application therefor, whether in case of loss or otherwise, upon payment of a fee of twenty-five cents to the department. Applications for the annual renewal of licenses by chauffeurs shall be accompanied by the fee required by section seven of this act. No chauffeur's license or badge shall be issued to any applicant under the age of eighteen years; provided, that it shall be unlawful for any person to cause or knowingly to permit his or her child, ward or employee to operate or drive a motor vehicle upon the public highway, whether as a chauffeur or operator, without having first obtained such license as is hereinbefore specified; provided, that the application to the department of a minor to operate or drive a motor vehicle, whether as chauffeur or operator, shall not be granted by the department unless the parent or parents having the custody of such applicant or the guardian of such applicant shall have joined in said application by signing the same; and provided, further, that any negligence of a minor, so licensed, in operating or driving a motor vehicle upon the public highway, whether as chauffeur or operator, shall be imputed to the person or persons who shall have signed the application of such minor for said license, which person or persons shall be jointly and severally liable with such minor for any damages caused by such negligence. [Amendment approved May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 223.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 407.

§ 26. Use of fictitious name, etc. (a) No person shall use a fictitious name in applying for such chauffeur's or operator's license, nor shall any chauffeur or operator licensed as herein provided voluntarily permit any other person to possess or use his license certificate or badge; nor shall any person while operating or driving a motor vehicle use or possess any license certificate or badge belonging to another person.

(b) No person shall display or cause or permit to be displayed, or have in his possession, any canceled, revoked, suspended, altered or fictitious registration number plate, registration seal, registration certificate, operator's license certificate, chauffeur's license certificate or chauffeur's badge, as the same are respectively provided for in this act.

(c) No person shall knowingly buy, sell, receive, dispose of, conceal or have in his possession any motor vehicle from which the manufacturer's serial number or motor number or any other distinguishing number or identification mark has been removed, defaced, covered, altered or destroyed for the purpose of concealment or misrepresenting the identity of said motor vehicle. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 408.]

§ 27. In effect after December 31, 1917. Nonresident operator. Registration of certificate. No person shall operate or drive a motor vehicle or cause a trailer to be drawn upon a public highway after the thirty-first day of December, one thousand nine hundred seventeen, nor shall any owner of a motor vehicle or of any trailer permit such motor vehicle or trailer to be so operated, driven or drawn after said date, unless the requirements of this act relative to the registration of motor vehicles and trailers and to licensing of chauffeurs and operators shall have been in all respects complied with; provided, however, that a nonresident operator or chauffeur who has complied with the provisions of the country or state of his residence relative to the operation of motor vehicles and who, while operating a motor vehicle upon the highways of this state shall wear such badge and carry such license certificate as may have been assigned to him in the country or state of his residence, shall be exempt from license hereunder for a period not to exceed three months in any calendar year; and provided, further, that the provisions of this act relative to registration and the payment of the fees therefor and the display of registration number plates and seals shall not apply to a motor vehicle or trailer owned by a nonresident, other than a foreign corporation doing business in this state, who is only sojourning within this state; provided, that the registration number plate assigned and furnished for said motor vehicle or trailer for the current calendar year by the country or state of which such owner is a resident shall be displayed on such motor vehicle or trailer substantially as provided in this act for vehicles registered pursuant to the provisions hereof; provided, however, that a nonresident owner of a motor vehicle or trailer so registered in such other country or state shall, not later than twenty-four hours after commencing to operate said vehicle, or to cause or permit the same to be operated, on any public highway within this state, apply to the department for registration of such vehicle, said application to be made upon a form to be prepared and to be furnished on request by the department, and shall state in addition to such other matters as may be required by the department, the name and postoffice and residence address of the applicant, together with the registration number of said vehicle in the country or state in which the same shall be registered, which country or state shall be designated by the applicant in said application. Upon receipt of said application, the department, if satisfied of the facts stated therein, shall, without charge to the applicant, register said motor vehicle or trailer and shall furnish to the applicant a registration certificate or device, of a distinctive form to be determined by the department, indicating that the holder thereof has complied with the requirements of this act and containing such other matter as may be deemed suitable by the department, which certificate or device shall be valid not to exceed three months from the date of its issuance, at the end of which period it shall be returned by said owner, transportation prepaid, to the department. In case of a motor vehicle, said certificate or device shall be carried, at all times while said motor vehicle is being operated or driven upon the public highways, in plain sight in or upon said motor vehicle, in the manner required of resident owners with respect to registration certificates, and in case of a trailer, such certificate or device shall be displayed in such manner as the department shall determine. The department shall file said applications for registration by nonresident owners, and shall suitably index said applications and registrations, which files and index shall be open to inspection by the public during reasonable business hours. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 409.]

§ 28. Using car without owner's consent. It shall be unlawful for any person to drive or operate, or cause to be driven or operated, upon the public highway any motor vehicle not his own, whether with or without intent to steal the same, in the absence of the owner thereof without such owner's consent; provided, such consent shall not be implied in any instance because of the fact that upon a previous occasion such owner had consented to the use of the same or another motor vehicle by such person. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not less than one year nor more than five years. [Amendment approved May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 225.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 410.

§ 32. (a) General penalties. Excepting as in this act otherwise provided, or where a different penalty is expressly fixed by this act, any person violating any of its provisions, or knowingly making a false statement or knowingly concealing a material fact or otherwise committing a fraud in an application for the registration of a vehicle, or in an application for an operator's or chauffeur's license, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, unless in this act otherwise provided, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(b) Revocation of license. Complaints of reckless driving. Hearing. Immediately upon receipt by the department of information concerning the conviction of any person for the violation of section seventeen of this act, or concerning the third conviction within one year of any person for the violation of any of the provisions of section twenty-two of this act, the department shall forthwith revoke the operator's or chauffeur's license issued to such person by the department and shall issue no operator's or chauffeur's license to any such person within one year thereafter.

Upon the suspension or revocation of any chauffeur's or operator's license, the department shall demand the surrender of the license certificate, and any duplicates thereof that may have been issued, and also the license badge, if any, and it shall be unlawful for any person whose license has been suspended or revoked as herein provided to fail or neglect forthwith to surrender to the department any such certificate or badge in his possession or under his control. Upon receiving within one year verified written complaints made by one or more persons of two or more separate instances of reckless, negligent or unlawful operation of a vehicle on any public highway in this state by any person to whom the department has issued a valid unrevoked operator's or chauffeur's license the department may, in the discretion of the superintendent thereof, fix a time and place for a hearing to determine whether or not the operator's or chauffeur's license held by such person should be revoked on the ground that such person is an unfit person to be so licensed. The person so complained of shall be served with a written notice, at least ten days prior to the date of said hearing, to appear and show cause, at such hearing, why his license to operate a motor vehicle upon the public highways should not be suspended or revoked. Such hearing shall be held by the superintendent of the department or by any person or persons, not exceeding three, officers or employees of the department whom he may designate. If upon such hearing it is determined that there is good and sufficient reason therefor findings and an order shall be made by the superintendent or by the person or persons holding such hearing on his behalf to the effect that such license should be revoked. The department shall thereupon cause such person's license as an operator or chauffeur to be forthwith revoked if the findings hereinbefore provided for show or declare that such operator or chauffeur is a reckless or negligent driver or that he is incompetent or unfit to operate a motor vehicle because of mental or physical infirmities or disabilities.

If in any case the respondent shall fail to appear at the time and place fixed for any such hearing as is provided in this section, he shall be in default, and if in the opinion of the superintendent or of the person or persons holding such hearing on his behalf, there is sufficient reason therefor, the license of the respondent may be ordered revoked or suspended, whereupon the department shall upon notice of such order, revoke or suspend, as the case may be, such license.

The superintendent or the person or persons holding such hearing may summon witnesses in behalf of the state and may administer oaths and take testimony, may cause depositions to be taken, and may order the production of books, papers, agreements and documents.

The fees for the attendance and travel of witnesses shall be the same as for witnesses before the superior court, and shall be paid by the state upon demand by the department filed with the controller.

The supreme court, any district court of appeal or any superior court shall have jurisdiction, upon the application, to enforce all lawful orders of the department under this section.

(c) Suspension of license by court. In addition to any or all other punishments provided in this act and imposed by the court upon any person for violation of any of the provisions of this act, the court may, in its discretion, suspend an operator's or chauffeur's license for a period of not to exceed thirty days, in which case the court shall take up the license certificate of such person together with, in case of a chauffeur, the license badge, and shall forward them to the department.

(d) Return of license. Upon the expiration of the period of suspension of any license as hereinbefore in this section provided for, the department shall return to the licensee his license certificate, or in its discretion may issue to him a new certificate, and such license shall be valid for the remainder of the current calendar year, subject to the other provisions of this act; and in like manner the department shall return to any chauffeur whose license badge may have been forwarded to the department upon suspension of his license, such license badge or issue to such licensee a new badge. [Amendment approved May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 225.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 410.

§ 33. Revocation of operator's license. Suspension of license. [Repealed 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 412.]

§ 34. Motor vehicle fund. Transfer and operators' license fund. Payments to counties. State highway expenditures. There is hereby created in the state treasury a fund which shall be known as the "motor vehicle fund." All moneys received by the department under any of the provisions of this act must be paid into the state treasury within twenty-four hours after the receipt thereof and shall be deposited to the credit of the motor vehicle fund, but if at any time such payment can not be made because of the intervention of a Sunday or a holiday, then such money shall be paid into the state treasury before twelve o'clock noon of the first business day following such Sunday or holiday; provided, however, that there is also hereby created in the state treasury a fund which shall be known as the "transfer and operators' license fund," and the moneys received by the department for transfers and for operators' and chauffeurs' licenses shall not be credited to the motor vehicle fund but to the credit of said transfer and operators' license fund. One-half of the net receipts under this act except those credited to the transfer and operators' license fund shall be paid from the motor vehicle fund to the counties from which the moneys were received, as determined by the places of residence of the persons to whom the registration certificates are issued, and all such amounts so returned shall be paid into the road funds of the several counties receiving the same, and shall be expended by such counties exclusively in the construction and maintenance of roads, bridges and culverts in said counties respectively. In the event that any county has not established a road fund, its proportion of said net receipts shall be retained by the state until provision for such road fund has been made, and it shall then be paid over. In the months of February and August of each year the department shall make to the controller a report setting forth the gross and net receipts for the preceding six months, and thereafter the controller shall draw his warrants upon the motor vehicle fund in favor of the county treasurer of each county for the amount to which such county is entitled; provided, nevertheless, that the controller shall not draw such warrant in favor of any county which theretofore shall not have established a road fund or which shall be delinquent in its annual report to the state department of engineering as hereinafter required. Of the moneys in said motor vehicle fund, when such action has been authorized by the board of control, the department may draw, without at the time furnishing vouchers and itemized statements, sums not to exceed in the aggregate ten thousand dollars, said sums so drawn to be used as a revolving fund where cash advances are necessary. At the close of each fiscal year, or at any other time upon demand of the board of control, the moneys so drawn must be accounted for and substantiated by vouchers and itemized statements submitted to and audited by the board of control and by the controller. All moneys remaining in the motor vehicle fund after the expenditure herein authorized, in addition to all sums that have been heretofore or that may be appropriated hereafter by the legislature for the same purpose, shall be expended under the direction of the state department of engineering for the maintenance and improvement of the state roads and highways under the jurisdiction of said department of engineering, and for the maintenance and improvement of roads and highways in state parks subject to the approval of the official or officials charged by law with the management and control of such parks, such moneys to be so drawn from said motor vehicle fund for the purpose of such maintenance and improvement upon warrants executed by the state controller upon demand made by the state department of engineering, and allowed and audited by the board of control. The transfer and operators' license fund and so much of the motor vehicle fund as may be necessary is hereby appropriated to be expended by the department in carrying out the provisions of this act; provided, however, that there shall not be so expended out of the motor vehicle fund in any one year more than ten per cent of said fund; and provided, further, that the board of supervisors of each county in the state shall make an annual report to the state department of engineering not later than three months after the close of the county's fiscal year, upon forms to be provided by the state department of engineering, showing the amount of moneys received from the motor vehicle fund during the preceding fiscal year and the disposition of said moneys, specifying in such detail as may be required by said department of engineering the roads, bridges and culverts constructed or maintained out of said moneys and the sums applied to the several items of such construction or maintenance; and provided, further, that whenever said report shall not have been duly filed in the manner and form hereby provided at or before the time hereinbefore specified, no further warrants shall be drawn upon the motor vehicle fund in favor of the county treasurer of such delinquent county until said report has been furnished. [Amendment approved May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 227.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 412.

§ 35. Disposition of fines. (a) All fines or forfeitures collected in cases of conviction for violation of any of the provisions of this act following arrests by any officer employed by an incorporated municipality, except a city and county, shall be paid to the treasurer of the county in which such municipality is situated and such moneys shall belong to the several counties, to be used by them, when authorized and permitted by law, in the discretion of the respective boards of supervisors in the construction, maintenance and improvement of roads, streets, bridges and culverts within the limits of the incorporated municipalities of said counties, and for no other purpose; provided, however, that when not so authorized or permitted by law to use such moneys for said purposes, said counties shall receive said moneys for the benefit of, and said moneys shall belong to, the several incorporated municipalities in said counties respectively, excepting as herein otherwise provided, and at quarterly intervals the supervisors shall apportion and pay over said moneys to said municipalities according to their population ascertained in the manner provided by law, which moneys shall be expended by such municipalities solely in the construction, maintenance and improvement of streets, bridges and culverts within the city limits along routes directly connecting interurban public highways entering such cities respectively; provided, however, anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, that no (1) incorporated city and county, (2) city of more than twenty-five thousand population, or (3) city operating under a freeholder's charter and enforcing or seeking to enforce any ordinance, rule or regulation in conflict with or covering the same or any part of the ground covered by this act, except as expressly permitted therein, shall be entitled to share in said moneys.

(b) Any and all other fines or forfeitures collected by or in any court for violation of any of the provisions of this act, whether by a justice of the peace, police court, city recorder's court, city justice of the peace, or otherwise, shall be paid to the treasurer of the county or incorporated city and county in which the court is held, and said moneys shall be used by the several counties and incorporated cities and counties solely in the construction, maintenance and improvement of roads, streets, bridges and culverts within their respective limits, and for no other purpose. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 414.]

§ 36. Record of cases by court. A full record shall be kept by every justice of the peace or police judge or court in this state of every case in which a person is charged with violation of any provision of this act, and an abstract of such record shall be sent forthwith by the justice of the peace, or police judge or court to the clerk of the county in which the justice of the peace, police judge, or other magistrate holds his court, whereupon said clerk shall forward said abstract to the department. Said abstracts shall be made upon forms prepared by the department and shall include all necessary information as to the parties to the case, the nature of the offense, the date of hearing, the plea, the judgment, the amount of the fine or forfeiture as the case may be, and every such abstract shall be certified by the justice of the peace, police judge or clerk of such police court as a true abstract of the record of the court. Each clerk of any court of record of this state shall also, within ten days after any final judgment of conviction of any violation of any of the provisions of this act, send to the department a certified copy of such judgment of conviction, together with any other information concerning said conviction required by said department. The said department shall keep such records in its office, and they shall be open to the inspection of any person during reasonable business hours.

Failure, refusal or neglect to comply with any of the provisions of this section shall constitute misconduct in office and shall be ground for removal therefrom. [Amendment approved May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 229.]

§ 37. Motor vehicle department. Inspectors. Distribution of act and synopsis. There is hereby created a department to be known as the motor vehicle department of California. The chief officer shall be known as the superintendent, who shall be a civil executive officer and shall be appointed by the governor and shall hold office at the pleasure of the governor. He shall within fifteen days from the time of notice of his appointment take and subscribe to the constitutional oath of office and file the same in the office of the secretary of state and execute to the people of the state a bond in the penal sum of ten thousand dollars. He shall receive an annual salary of three thousand six hundred dollars to be paid monthly upon warrant of the controller. He shall have the power to appoint one chief clerk, who shall be a civil executive officer;

one cashier, and, with the approval of the board of control, such additional employees as the proper and economical conduct of the business of the department may demand, and shall fix and prescribe their duties, compensation and term of employment; provided, that such employees shall include field deputies or inspectors, upon whom are hereby conferred, for the purposes of the enforcement of this act, the powers now or hereafter vested by law in peace officers, and who may exercise said powers in any portion of the state or of any political subdivision thereof, but solely in the enforcement of the provisions of this act. The cashier shall execute to the people of the state a bond in the penal sum of five thousand dollars. The salaries herein provided for shall be payable monthly, and the expenditures authorized by this act, shall be made upon the certificate of the superintendent of the department, allowed and audited by the board of control, and the warrant of the state controller.

There shall be printed fifty thousand copies of the vehicle act, as amended by this act, which shall be distributed to the public on request, without charge by the department, and in addition thereto a synopsis of said act as amended shall be prepared and printed by the motor vehicle department, and distributed free of charge to each person who shall obtain a vehicle license, or who shall receive a transfer of a vehicle license under the provisions hereof. Such copies shall be transmitted together with the certificate of registration or transfer. [Amendment approved May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 229.]

§ 42. Copies printed. [Repealed May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 415.]

The amendatory act of 1917 contained the following sections:

§ 28. Printed copies of act. There shall be printed two hundred fifty thousand copies of said vehicle act, as amended by this act, which shall be distributed to the public on request, without charge, by the department. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 415.]

§ 29. In effect when. Excepting the provision of section eleven hereof requiring that the light displayed upon a trailer shall illuminate the number plate carried upon such trailer, each and all of the provisions of sections one, eleven, twelve, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen, twenty-one, twenty-two, twenty-three, twenty-five, twenty-seven, twenty-eight and twenty-nine of this act, together with such provisions of section twenty-six of this act as relate to the salaries of the officers or employees of the department, and such other provisions of this act as relate to or require the preparation or purchase of forms and supplies, and other work incident to the registration of motor vehicles and trailers and the licensing of operators and chauffeurs, shall go into effect ninety days after the final adjournment of this session of the legislature, and the remainder of this act shall go into effect at midnight on the thirty-first day of December, in the year one thousand nine hundred seventeen. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 415.]

The amendatory act of 1919 contained the following provisions:

§ 20. When in effect. Each and all of the provisions of this act except sections one, ten, eleven, twelve, thirteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen and eighteen, together with such provisions of section nineteen of this act as relate to the salaries of officers and employees of the department, and such other provisions of this act as relate to or require the preparation or purchase of forms and supplies and other work incident to the registration of motor vehicles and trailers and the licensing of operators and chauffeurs, shall go into effect at midnight on the thirty-first day of January in the year 1920. [Amendment approved May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 230.]

§ 21. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional. [Amendment approved May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 230.]

§ 22. Repealed. All acts or parts of acts in any ways in conflict herewith are hereby expressly repealed. [Amendment approved May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 230.]

ACT 2331d.

An act providing for the supervision and regulation of the transportation of persons and property for compensation over any public highway by automobiles, jitney buses, auto trucks, stages and auto stages; providing for the issue by incorporated cities and towns, cities and counties, and counties of permits for the operation of such automobiles, jitney buses, auto trucks, stages and auto stages; empowering incorporated cities and towns, cities and counties, and counties to enact ordinances for the supervision and regulation of automobiles, jitney buses, auto trucks, stages and auto stages and providing penalties for the violation of such ordinances; defining transportation companies and providing for the supervision and regulation thereof by the railroad commission; providing for the enforcement of the provisions of this act and for the punishment of violations thereof; and repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act.

Amended 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 457.

The title of the Act of 1917 was amended in 1919 to read as follows:

An act providing for the supervision and regulation of the transportation of persons and property for compensation over any public highway by automobiles, jitney buses, auto trucks, stages and auto stages; defining transportation companies and providing for the supervision and regulation thereof by the railroad commission; providing for the enforcement of the provisions of this act and for the punishment of violations thereof; and repealing all acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act. [Amendment approved May 13, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 457.]

§ 1. Words and phrases defined. (a) The term "corporation" when used in this act, means a corporation, a company, an association or a joint stock association.

(b) The term "person," when used in this act, means an individual, a firm or copartnership.

(c) The term "transportation company," when used in this act, means every corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, owning, controlling, operating or managing, any automobile, jitney bus, auto truck, stage or auto stage used in the business of transportation of persons or property, or as a common carrier, for compensation, over any public highway in this state between fixed termini or over a regular route, and not operating exclusively within the limits of an incorporated city or town or of a city and county; provided, that the term "transportation company," as used in this act, shall not include corporations or persons, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, in so far as they own, control, operate or manage taxicabs, hotel buses or sightseeing buses, or any other carrier which does not come within the term "transportation company" as herein defined.

(d) The term "public highway," when used in this act, means every public street, road or highway in this state.

(e) The words "between fixed termini or over a regular route," when used in this act, mean the termini or route between or over which any transportation company usually or ordinarily operates any automobile, jitney bus, auto truck, stage or auto stage, even though there may be departures from said termini or route, whether such departures be periodic or irregular. Whether or not any automobile, jitney bus, auto truck, stage or auto stage is operated by a transportation company "between fixed termini or over a regular route" within the meaning of this act shall be a question of fact and the finding of the railroad commission thereon shall be final and shall not be subject to review. [Amendment approved May 13, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 457.]

§ 2. Jitney bus, etc., must be operated according to law. No corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, shall operate any automobile, jitney bus, auto truck, stage or auto stage for the transportation of persons or property for compensation on any public highway in this state except in accordance with the provisions of this act.

§ 3. Permit to operate. [Repealed 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 460.]

§ 4. Power of railroad commission over transportation companies. The railroad commission of the state of California is hereby vested with power and authority to supervise and regulate every transportation company in this state; to fix the rates, fares, charges, classifications, rules and regulations of each such transportation company; to regulate the accounts, service and safety of operations of each such transportation company; to require the filing of annual and other reports and of other data by such transportation companies; and to supervise and regulate transportation companies in all other matters affecting the relationship between such companies and the traveling and shipping public. The railroad commission shall have power and authority, by general order or otherwise, to prescribe rules and regulations applicable to any and all transportation companies. The railroad commission, in the exercise of the jurisdiction conferred upon it by the constitution of this state and by this act, shall have power and authority to make orders and to prescribe rules and regulations affecting transportation companies, notwithstanding the provisions of any ordinance or permit of any incorporated city or town, city and county, or county, and in case of conflict between any such order, rule or regulation and any such ordinance or permit, the order, rule or regulation of the railroad commission shall in each instance prevail.

§ 5. Certificate from railroad commission. No transportation company shall hereafter begin to operate any automobile, jitney bus, auto truck, stage or auto stage for the transportation of persons or property, for compensation, on any public highway in this state without first having obtained from the railroad commission a certificate declaring that public convenience and necessity require such operation, but no such certificate shall be required of any transportation company as to the fixed termini between which or the route over which it is actually operating in good faith at the time this act becomes effective, or for operations exclusively within the limits of an incorporated city, town, or city and county. Any right, privilege, franchise or permit held, owned or obtained by any transportation company may be sold, assigned, leased, transferred or inherited as other property, only upon authorization by the railroad commission. The railroad commission shall have power, with or without hearing, to issue said certificate as prayed for, or to refuse to issue the same, or to issue it for the partial exercise only of said privilege sought, and may attach to the exercise of the rights granted by said certificate such terms and conditions as, in its judgment, the public convenience and necessity may require.

The railroad commission may at any time for a good cause suspend and upon notice to the grantee of any certificate and opportunity to be heard revoke, alter or amend any certificate issued under the provisions of this section. [Amendment approved May 13, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 457.]

§ 6. Order authorizing issue of stock and bonds. Application of public utilities act. Fees. No transportation company may issue any stock or stock certificate, or any bond, or any note or other evidence of indebtedness payable at a period of more than twelve months after the date thereof unless such transportation company, in addition to the other requirements of law, shall first have secured from the railroad commission an order authorizing such issue and stating the amount thereof and the purpose or purposes to which the issue or the proceeds thereof are to be applied and that, in the opinion of the railroad commission, the money, property or labor to be procured or paid for by such issue is reasonably required for the purpose or purposes specified in the order and that, except as otherwise permitted in the order in the case of bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness, such purpose or purposes are not, in whole or in part, reasonably chargeable to operating expenses or to income. Such order may be made, in the discretion of the railroad commission, either with or without a public hearing. Except as in this section otherwise provided, the provisions of section fifty-two of the public utilities act referring to the purposes for which stocks and stock certificates, bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness, may be issued and the application of and the accounting for the proceeds thereof, the powers and duties of the railroad commission and the rights and duties of public utilities with reference thereto, the legal status of stocks and stock certificates and of bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness, issued without an order of the railroad commission then in effect, and the relationship of the state of California to such stocks and stock certificates, and such bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness, shall apply to and govern the issue of stocks and stock certificates, and of bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness, of transportation companies with the same force and effect as though section fifty-two of the public utilities act were restated in this section with the substitution of the words "transportation company" for the words "public utility" and of the words "transportation companies" for the words "public utilities." The provisions of section fifty-seven of the public utilities act referring to fees to be charged and collected by the railroad commission for certificates authorizing the issue of bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness of public utilities shall apply to and govern authorizations by the railroad commission of the issue by transportation companies of bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness. [Amendment approved May 13, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 459.]

§ 7. Application of public utilities act. In all respects in which the railroad commission has power and authority under the constitution of this state or this act, applications and complaints may be made and filed with the railroad commission, process issued, hearings held, opinions, orders and decisions made and filed, petitions for rehearing filed and acted upon, and petitions for writs of review or mandate filed with the supreme court of this state, considered and disposed of by said court, in the manner, under the conditions and subject to the limitations and with the effect specified in the public utilities act.

§ 8. Violation. Every officer, agent, or employee of any corporation, and every other person who violates or fails to comply with, or who procures, aids or abets in the violation of any provision of this act, or who fails to obey, observe or comply with any order, decision, rule or regulation, direction, demand or requirement, or any part or provision thereof, of the railroad commission, or who procures, aids or abets any corporation or person in his failure to obey, observe or comply with any such order, decision, rule, direction, demand or regulation, or any part or provision thereof, is guilty of a misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

§ 9. Foreign or interstate commerce. Neither this act nor any provision thereof shall apply or be construed to apply to commerce with foreign nations or commerce among the several states of this union, except in so far as the same may be permitted under the provisions of the constitution of the United States and the acts of congress.

§ 10. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

§ 11. Repealed. Stats. 1905, p. 777, not to apply. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed. The provisions of an act entitled "An act providing for the sale of street railroad and other franchises in counties and municipalities and providing conditions for the granting of such franchises by legislative or other governing bodies, and repealing conflicting acts (approved March 22, 1905, Stats. 1905, p. 777)," are declared not to apply to the use of highways for the kind of transportation herein regulated.

MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS.

ACT 2348.

An act to provide for the organization, incorporation, and government of municipal corporations.

Amended 1885, pp. 127, 134; 1887, p. 12; 1889, pp. 371, 389; 1891, pp. 21, 28, 54, 55, 114, 233; 1893, p. 299; 1895, pp. 24, 159, 266; 1897, pp. 89, 175, 183, 196, 403; 1899, p. 98; 1901, pp. 12, 18, 70, 269, 293, 656; 1903, pp. 40, 93, 135, 336; 1905, pp. 16, 45, 72, 73, 88, 89, 408; 1907, p. 272; 1909, pp. 148, 420, 937; 1911, pp. 58, 253, 316, 359, 842; Ex. Sess. 1911, pp. 131, 135; 1913, pp. 10, 15, 31, 32, 33, 34, 375; 1915, pp. 170, 331, 828, 1304; 1917, pp. 1528, 1663, 1666; 1919, pp. 19, 158, 311, 761.

The amendments of 1917 and 1919 follow:

§ 763. Limitation on passage of ordinances. No resolution granting any franchise, and no ordinance for any purpose, shall be passed by the board of trustees on the day of its introduction, nor within five days thereafter, nor at any other than a regular meeting, or an adjourned regular meeting, and no such resolution and no ordinance granting any franchise shall be passed without being first submitted to the city attorney. No resolution or order for the payment of money shall be passed at any other than a regular meeting, or an adjourned regular meeting, and no resolution or order for the payment of money, no resolution granting a franchise, and no ordinance for any purpose, shall have any validity or effect unless passed by the affirmative vote of at least three trustees. In cases of urgency the board of trustees by a four-fifths vote may adopt any ordinance or resolution affecting the health and safety of the public on the day of its introduction or at any regular or special meeting. [Amendment approved May 5, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 311.]

§ 764. Powers of board of trustees of city. The board of trustees of such city shall have power:

1. To pass ordinances not in conflict with the constitution and laws of this state, or of the United States.

2. To purchase, lease, or receive such real estate and personal property as may be necessary or proper for municipal purposes, and to control, dispose of, and convey the same for the benefit of the city; provided, that they shall not have any power to sell or convey any portion of any waterfront; but may rent such waterfront for a term not exceeding ten years for the purpose of erecting bathhouses thereon.

3. To contract for supplying the said city with water, and gas, and electric lights or other lights for municipal purposes; to purchase, lease, construct or otherwise acquire waterworks, electric plants, and gas works or plants or any of same, and all machinery, conductors, lands, appliances and all other things needed therefor, and to supply said city with, and to sell to the inhabitants of said city, gas, electric light or other light, and heat, and power; provided, that no such purchase or lease shall be made unless the question of acquiring such property is submitted to the voters of such city in the same manner as other propositions, at a general or special municipal election, and a majority of the electors, voting at such election shall vote in favor of such proposition.

4. To establish, build and repair bridges; to establish, lay out, alter keep open, open, improve and repair streets, sidewalks, alleys, squares, and other public highways and places within the city, and to drain, sprinkle, oil, and light the same; to remove all obstructions therefrom; to establish the grades thereof; to grade, pave, macadamize, gravel and curb the same in whole or in part, and to construct gutters, culverts, sidewalks, and crosswalks therein, or upon any part thereof; to cause to be planted, set out, and cultivated, shade trees therein; and generally to manage and control all such highways and places.

5. To establish, construct and maintain drains and sewers, and to provide by ordinance for a general system of sewers, and the expense of building and maintaining the same.

6. To provide fire-engines and all other necessary or proper apparatus for the prevention and extinguishment of fires.

7. To impose and collect from every male inhabitant between the ages of twenty-one and sixty years, an annual street poll tax, not exceeding two dollars, and no other road poll tax shall be collected within the limits of such city; that any member of a volunteer fire company in such city shall be exempt from such tax.

8. To impose and collect an annual license, not exceeding two dollars on every dog owned or harbored within the limits of the city.

9. To levy and collect annually a property tax, which shall be apportioned as follows: For the general fund, not exceeding sixty cents on each one hundred dollars; for street fund, not exceeding thirty cents on each one hundred dollars; for school fund, not exceeding twenty-five cents on each one hundred dollars; for sewer fund, not exceeding ten cents on each one hundred dollars. The levy for all purposes for any one year for all purposes to which such funds are applicable shall not exceed one dollar on each one hundred dollars of the assessed value of all real and personal property within such city.

10. To license, for purposes of regulation and revenue, all and every kind of business, including the sale of intoxicating liquors, authorized by law and transacted or carried on in such city, and all shows, exhibitions, and lawful games carried on therein; to fix the rates of licenses upon the same, and to provide for the collection of the same by suit or otherwise.

11. To improve the rivers and streams flowing through such city, or adjoining the same; to widen, straighten, and deepen the channels thereof, and to remove obstructions therefrom; to improve the waterfront of the city, and to construct and maintain embankments and other works to protect such city from overflow.

12. To erect and maintain buildings for municipal purposes.

13. To permit, under such restrictions as they may deem proper, the laying of railroad tracks and the running of cars drawn by horses, steam, electricity, or other power thereon, and the laying of gas or water pipes in the public streets, and to construct and maintain, and to permit the construction and maintenance of telephone, telegraph and electric light lines therein.

14. In its discretion to divide the city, by ordinance, into a convenient number of wards, not exceeding five, to fix the boundaries thereof, and to change the same from time to time; provided, that no change in the boundaries of any ward shall be made within sixty days next before the date of said general municipal election, nor within twenty months after the same shall have been established or altered. Whenever such city shall be divided into wards, the board of trustees shall designate by ordinance the number of trustees to be elected from each ward, apportioning the same in proportion to the population of such ward; and thereafter the trustees so designated shall be elected by the qualified electors resident in such ward, or by the general vote of the whole city, as may be designated in such ordinance.

15. To appoint and remove such policemen and such other subordinate officers as they may deem proper, and to fix their duties and compensation.

16. To impose fines, penalties, and forfeitures for any and all violations of ordinances, and for any breach or violation of any ordinance to fix the penalty by fine or imprisonment, or both, but no such fine shall exceed three hundred dollars, nor the term of such imprisonment exceed three months.

17. To cause all persons imprisoned for violation of any ordinance to labor on the streets, or other property or works within the city.

18. To establish fire limits, and the same to alter at pleasure; to regulate or prevent the erection of wooden or other buildings or structures of combustible materials; to regulate the construction of all buildings, shades, awnings, signs, or any structure of a dangerous or unsafe character; to provide, by regulation, for the prevention and summary removal of all filth and garbage in the streets, sloughs, alleys, backyards or public grounds of such city, or elsewhere therein; to regulate or prohibit the storage of gunpowder and combustible or explosive materials of every kind and nature within the city limits, and to prescribe the limits in which the same may be kept or stored.

19. To do and perform any and all other acts and things necessary and proper to carry out the provisions of this chapter, and to exact and enforce within the limits of such city all other local, police, sanitary, and other regulations as do not conflict with general laws.

20. To levy and collect a property tax in addition to that now authorized by law for the purpose of improving, repairing, and maintaining any and all streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks of said municipality, which have heretofore been accepted by said municipality, under and pursuant to the provisions of any street improvement act, providing for the acceptance of streets by said municipality, which such tax shall not exceed thirty cents on each one hundred dollars of the assessed value of all real and personal property within such municipality. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stata. 1917, p. 1663.]

§ 765. Enacting clause of ordinances. The enacting clause of all ordinances shall be as follows: "The board of trustees of the city (or town) of — do ordain as follows:" Every ordinance must be signed by the president of the board of trustees, attested by the clerk, and must be published by said board at least three times in a newspaper of general circulation published in such city or town, or if there be none published in such city or town, then every ordinance must be posted in at least three public places therein; provided, that emergency ordinances subject to the referendum must be published at least one time. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1666.]

§ 852. Elections. Term of trustees. Appointive officers. The members of the board of trustees and the clerk and treasurer shall be elected by the qualified electors of said city or town at a general municipal election. Such a general municipal election shall be held therein on the second Monday in April in each even-numbered year. Members of the board of trustees and the clerk and the treasurer shall hold office for the period of four years from and after the Monday next succeeding the day of such election, and until their successors are elected and qualified. The respective terms of the members of the first board of trustees elected under the provisions of this section shall be determined as follows: The two members elected by the highest number of votes shall hold office for four years, and the three members elected by the lowest number of votes shall hold office for two years. In the event that two or more persons should be elected by the same number of votes, the respective terms of each shall be decided by lot. The board of trustees shall appoint the marshal and the recorder; they may also, in their discretion, appoint an attorney, a superintendent of streets, a civil engineer, and such other subordinate officers as in their judgment may be deemed necessary, and fix their compensation. Said officers shall hold office during the pleasure of said board. [Amendment approved April 4, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 19.]

§ 859. Meetings of board of trustees. Notice of adjourned meeting. At any meeting of the board of trustees a majority of the trustees shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, but a less number may adjourn from time to time, and may compel the attendance of absent members in such manner and under such penalties as may be prescribed by ordinance; and in the absence of all of the trustees from any meeting the clerk may declare the same postponed and adjourned to a stated day and hour, and must thereupon give to each of the trustees written notice of the time to which the meeting has been adjourned, which notice may be delivered personally to the trustee or may be left at his known residence or place of business at least six hours before the time to which the meeting has been postponed. The president of the board shall preside at all meetings of the board, and in case of his absence the board may appoint a president pro tempore; and in case of the absence of the clerk, the president or president pro tempore shall appoint one of the members of the board clerk pro tempore. [Amendment approved April 30, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 158.]

§ 862. Powers of city trustees. The board of trustees of said city shall have power:

1. Pass ordinances. To pass ordinances not in conflict with the constitution and laws of this state or of the United States.

2. Acquire real estate. To purchase, lease, or receive such real estate situated inside or outside of the city limits and personal property as may be necessary or proper for municipal purposes, and to control, dispose of, and convey the same for the benefit of the city or town; provided, they shall not have power to sell or convey any portion of any waterfront.

3. Supply water for city use. To contract for supplying the city or town with water for municipal purposes, or to acquire, construct, repair, and manage pumps, aqueducts, reservoirs, or other works necessary or proper for supplying water for the use of such city or the inhabitants, or for irrigating purposes therein.

4. Manage highways. To establish, build and repair bridges; to establish, lay out, alter, keep open, improve, and repair streets, sidewalks, alleys, and other public highways, squares and parks, and places within the city or town, and to drain, sprinkle, oil, and light the same; to remove all obstructions therefrom; to establish the grades thereof; to grade, pave, macadamize, gravel, and curb the same, in whole or in part, and to construct gutters, culverts, sidewalks, and crosswalks therein, or on any part thereof; to cause to be planted, set out, and cultivated, shade trees therein; and generally to manage and control all such highways and places; and in the exercise of the powers herein granted to expend, in their discretion, the ordinary annual income and revenue of the municipality in payments of the costs and expenses of the whole or any part of such work or improvement.

4a. Open streets. To acquire property required for the opening and laying out of any street, alley or lane from the point where the continuity of such street, alley or lane ceases, to the point where such street, alley or lane again commences, to lay out and improve said street, alley or lane; and to pay the cost and expense incurred in the acquisition of the required property out of the general fund of the city.

5. Sewers. To construct, establish, and maintain drains and sewers.

6. Fire protection. To provide fire-engines and all other necessary and proper apparatus for the prevention and extinguishment of fires.

7. Collect street poll tax. To impose on and collect from every male inhabitant between the ages of twenty-one and sixty years, an annual street poll tax, not exceeding two dollars; and no other road poll tax shall be collected within the limits of the city.

8. Dog tax. To impose and collect an annual license not exceeding two dollars on every male dog, and four dollars on every female dog owned or harbored within the limits of the city.

9. Property tax. To levy and collect annually a property tax, which shall not, without the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors of such city or town voting at an election to be held for that purpose exceed one dollar on each one hundred dollars; provided, however, that in cities which have constructed or may hereafter construct embankments, seawalls, or other works to protect such cities from overflow, said board of trustees may levy and collect annually, a property tax which shall not exceed twenty cents on each one hundred dollars, which, when collected, shall be kept in a separate fund and used for the construction and maintenance of embankments, seawalls, or other works to protect such city from overflow and for no other purpose.

10. License business. To license, for the purpose of revenue and regulation, all and every kind of business authorized by law and transacted and carried on in such city or town, and all shows, exhibitions, and lawful games carried on therein; to fix the rates of license tax upon the same, and to provide for the collection of the same by suit or otherwise.

11. Improve rivers and streams. To improve the rivers and streams flowing through such city or adjoining the same; to widen, straighten, and deepen the channels thereof, and remove obstructions therefrom; to improve the waterfront of the city; including the ocean front thereof, and to build and construct breakwaters, jetties, and seawalls; to construct and maintain embankments and other works, to protect such city from overflow and to acquire, own, construct, maintain, and operate on any lands bordering on any navigable bay, lake, inlet, river, creek, slough, or arm of the sea within the corporate limits of such city or contiguous thereto, wharves, chutes, piers, breakwaters, bathhouses, and life-saving stations.

12. Municipal buildings. To erect and maintain buildings for municipal purposes, and to acquire and maintain cemeteries, situated inside or outside of said city.

13. Acquire public utilities. To acquire, own, construct, maintain, and operate street railways, telephone and telegraph lines, gas and other works for light, power, and heat; public libraries, museums, gymnasiums, parks, and baths, and to grant franchises for the construction of public utilities as they may deem proper, the laying of railroad tracks and the running of cars drawn by horses, steam, or other power thereon, and the laying of gas and water pipes in the public streets, and to permit the construction and maintenance of telegraph and telephone lines therein.

14. Impose fines. To impose fines, penalties, and forfeitures for any and all violations of ordinances; and for any breach or violation of any ordinance; to fix the penalty by fine or imprisonment, or both; but no such fine shall exceed three hundred dollars, nor the term of imprisonment exceed three months.

15. Compel labor of prisoners. To cause all persons imprisoned for violation of any ordinance to labor on the streets, or other public property, or works within the city.

16. Fire limits. To establish and maintain fire limits, and regulate building and construction and removal of buildings within the municipality.

16a. Regulate construction of buildings. To regulate the construction of and the materials used in all buildings, chimneys, stacks and other structures; to prevent the erection and maintenance of insecure or unsafe building walls, chimneys, stacks, or other structures, and to provide for their summary abatement, destruction, or removal; to provide for the abatement, destruction or removal of unsightly or partially destroyed buildings; to regulate the materials used in and the method of construction of foundations and foundation walls, the manner of construction and location of drains and sewers, the materials used in wiring buildings or other structures for the use of electricity for lighting, power, heat or other purposes and materials used for piping buildings or other structures for the purpose of supplying the same with water, gas, or electricity, and the manner of so doing; to prohibit the construction of buildings and structures which do not conform to such regulations.

16b. Regulate advertising, etc. To regulate the exhibition, posting or carrying of banners, placards, posters, cards, pictures, signs or advertisements in or on the street, or on or upon buildings, fences, billboards or other structures; or on or upon any pole in any sidewalk, alley, street, lane, court, park or other public place; to regulate the suspension of banners, flags, signs, advertisements, posters, pictures, or cards across or over any sidewalk, alley, street, lane, court, park, or other public place, or such suspension from fences, poles, houses, or other structures; to prohibit and prevent encroachments upon or obstructions in or to any sidewalk, street, alley, lane, court, park or other public place, and to provide for the removal of such encroachment or obstruction.

16c. Compel removal of dirt, weeds, etc. To compel the owner, lessee or occupant of buildings, grounds, or lots to remove dirt, rubbish, weeds and rank growths from the sidewalk opposite thereto, and from the building or grounds, and on his default, after such notice as the board of trustees may prescribe, to authorize the removal or destruction thereof by some officer of the city at the expense of such owner, lessee or occupant, and by such procedure as the board of trustees may prescribe, to make such expense a lien upon such buildings or grounds.

17. Issue subpoenas. To issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses, or the production of books or other documents, for the purpose of producing evidence or testimony in any action or proceeding pending before the board of trustees, which subpoenas must be signed by the president of the board of trustees, and attested by the city clerk and may be served in the same manner as subpoenas are served in civil actions. Whenever any person duly subpoenaed to appear and give evidence, or to produce any books or any documents as herein provided, shall neglect or refuse to appear, or to produce such books or documents, as required by such subpoena, or shall refuse to testify before such board, or to answer any questions which a majority thereof shall decide to be proper and pertinent, it shall be the duty of the president of the board to report the fact to the judge of the superior court of the county, who shall thereupon issue an attachment in the form usual in the court of which he shall be judge, directed to the sheriff of the county where such witness was required to appear and testify, commanding the said sheriff to attach such person, and forthwith bring him before the judge by whose order such attachment was issued. On the return of the attachment and the production of the body of the defendant, the said judge shall have jurisdiction of the matter, and the person charged may purge himself of the contempt in the same way, and the same proceedings shall be had, and the same penalties may be imposed, and the same punishment inflicted as in the case of a witness subpoenaed to appear and give evidence on the trial of a civil cause before a superior court.

18. Music and promotion. To expend such sum as the board of trustees shall deem proper, not to exceed five per cent of the property tax levy in any one fiscal year, for music and promotion.

19. Other acts. To do and perform any and all other acts and things necessary or proper to carry out the provisions of this act. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1528.]

§ 862a. Powers of trustees in cities of sixth class. In any city of the sixth class the board of trustees shall have power:

(a) To establish and maintain a municipal hospital.

(b) To prescribe rules for the government and management thereof and the terms upon which patients may be admitted thereto.

(c) To appoint and fix the compensation of physicians, surgeons and other necessary officers and employees of the hospital who shall hold their positions during the pleasure of the board of trustees.

(d) To acquire any and all property, real or personal, by purchase or donation, and construct and equip such buildings as the board may deem necessary and suitable for the proper conduct of the hospital. In receiving any donation of money, the city may agree to pay the donor or donors interest upon the principal at a rate not exceeding seven per cent per annum during the lifetime of the donors, or of any of them, or of the survivor, but not exceeding a period of forty years, and without repayment of the principal or any part thereof. In the case of the incurring of such indebtedness in favor of donors, the indebtedness shall be incurred and means for the payment thereof shall be provided in the manner prescribed by the provisions of the act entitled, "An act authorizing the incurring of indebtedness by cities, towns and municipal corporations for municipal improvements, and regulating the acquisition, construction, and completion thereof," in effect February 25, 1901, as amended, so far as the same may be applicable; provided, however, that the ordinance calling the election shall not contain any statement as to bonds that are to be issued, but shall in general terms describe the proposed donation, the purpose for which it is to be used, and the terms upon which the same is to be made and accepted.

(e) To levy and collect annually a property tax for the maintenance of the hospital which shall not in any one year exceed the cost of the care of indigent patients and the interest charge upon any donation accepted in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (d) of this section. [Amendment approved May 21, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 761.]

§ 863. Enacting clause of ordinances. The enacting clause of all ordinances shall be as follows: "The board of trustees of the city (or town) of — do ordain as follows:" Every ordinance must be signed by the president of the board of trustees and attested by the clerk and must be published by said board at least once in a newspaper of general circulation published and circulated in such city or town; provided, that if there be no such newspaper published and circulated in such city or town, then all ordinances must be posted in at least three public places therein; provided, further, that in all cities or towns which have been incorporated less than one year, all ordinances may be either published or posted as aforesaid, as the board of trustees may determine; and provided, further, that in no case shall the price charged for such publication of any ordinances exceed the customary rate charged by such newspaper for the publication of legal notices of a private character. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1666.]

ACT 2355e.

An act to validate the organization and incorporation of municipal corporations.

[Approved April 18, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 118. In effect July 22, 1919.]

§ 1. Organization of municipal corporations validated. Exceptions. All municipal corporations, the organization and incorporation of which have been authenticated by the board of supervisors in this state declaring the same incorporated, as municipal corporations of the classes to which such corporations may respectively belong, and a certified copy of which order has been filed by such board of supervisors in the office of the secretary of state, and which corporations thereafter have acted in the form and manner of municipal corporations under the provisions of "An act to provide for the organization, incorporation and government of municipal corporations," approved March 13, 1883, and the amendments thereto, are hereby declared to be and to have been municipal corporations from the date of filing the certified copy of said order of the board of supervisors with the secretary of state; and all acts of the said municipal corporation heretofore performed according to the act aforesaid, are hereby validated, and declared to be legal; provided, however, that all municipal corporations shall be excepted from this act where the right to act as such is being contested or inquired into in legal proceedings brought within six months after a certified copy of the order of the board of supervisors was filed in the office of the secretary of state.

ACT 2368.

An act authorizing the common council, board of trustees, or other governing body of any incorporated city or town other than cities of the first class to refund its indebtedness, to issue bonds therefor, and to provide for the payment of the same. [Approved March 9, 1897; Stats. 1897, p. 75.]

Amended 1901, p. 274; 1919, p. 498.

§ 1. Refunding bonded indebtedness of municipal corporations. Interest. "Serials." "Funding fund." When election necessary. Application of proceeds of sale of bonds. The common council, board of trustees, or other governing body of any incorporated city or town other than cities of the first class in this state, having an outstanding indebtedness evidenced by bonds or warrants thereof, or by judgment or judgments, is empowered, by a two-thirds vote of its number, to fund or refund the said indebtedness and issue bonds of such city or town therefor in sums of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars each, and having not more than forty years to run, and bearing a rate of interest not exceeding six per cent per annum, payable semi-annually; provided, that no indebtedness shall be refunded at a higher rate of interest than that borne by the original debt. Such bonds shall be of the character known as "serials," not less than one-fortieth of the principal being payable each year, together with the interest due on all sums unpaid. Principal and interest on said bonds shall be payable in gold coin or other lawful money of the United States, as may be expressed in said bonds, at the office of treasurer of said city or town. Said bonds shall be sold in the manner provided by such city council or other governing body, to the highest bidder therefor, for not less than their face value, in the same character of money as that in which they are payable. The proceeds of such sale shall be placed in the treasury of such city or town to the credit of the "funding fund," and shall be applied only to refunding the indebtedness for which said bonds are issued. Said trustees, or other governing body, shall at the time for fixing the general tax levy for each year, and in the same manner as such tax levy is made, levy and collect sufficient money to pay such part of the principal of said bonds issued under this act, as one year bears to the number of years for which the bonds are to run, and also the annual interest upon the sums unpaid.

Where such indebtedness is evidenced by judgment or judgments obtained for indebtedness or liability incurred by any such incorporated city or town exceeding the income and revenue provided for the year in which such indebtedness or liability was incurred, within the meaning of section eighteen of article eleven of the constitution, bonds to fund the same shall not be issued unless authorized by the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors of such incorporated city or town voting at an election to be called and held for that purpose. The election shall be called and held in the manner provided for in an act entitled "An act authorizing the incurring of indebtedness by cities, towns and municipal corporations for municipal improvements, and regulating the acquisition, construction or completion thereof," in effect February 25, 1901, and amendments thereto, and the ordinance calling the election shall recite the object and purposes for which such bonded indebtedness is proposed to be incurred. The proceeds arising from the sale of such bonds shall be applied by the treasurer to the satisfaction of such judgment or judgments. [Amendment approved May 10, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 499.]

An act authorizing the incurring of indebtedness by cities, towns, and municipal corporations for municipal improvements, and regulating the acquisition, construction, or completion thereof.

[Became a law under constitutional provision without governor's approval, February 25, 1901. Stats. 1901, p. 27.]

Amended 1907. pp. 570, 609, 634; 1909, p. 720; 1913, pp. 13, 29; 1915. pp. 97, 1453; 1917, p. 79.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 6½. Cancellation of unsold bonds. At any time after three years after the date of any election, heretofore or hereafter held, at which an issue of any of the bonds herein provided has or shall have been authorized, the legislative body of the municipality may, by ordinance duly adopted by a two-thirds vote of all of the members of such legislative body, determine that no part of such bond issue, or, if a portion of the bonds so authorized at such election shall have been sold, that no part of the remainder of such issue then remaining unsold, shall be thereafter issued or sold, and upon the taking effect of such ordinance the authority to issue the bonds authorized at such election and described in such ordinance shall cease, and the whole or that portion of the bonds issued pursuant thereto remaining unsold and described in such ordinance shall become void.

An act to validate bonds issued and sold, or to be issued and sold for the purpose of the acquisition or construction of any public improvement work or public utility in any portion of a municipality.

§ 1. Bonds issued by portion of municipality validated. Where, in any portion of a municipality of this state proceedings have been taken for the purpose of creating an indebtedness, to be represented by bonds of such district, the proceeds from the sale of which are to be used for the acquisition or construction therein of any public improvement work or public utility which the municipality of which such district forms a part is authorized by law to acquire or construct, all acts and proceedings leading up to and including the issuance of such bonds, if they have heretofore been sold, and all such acts and proceedings heretofore had, although the bonds are not yet sold, are hereby legalized, ratified, confirmed and declared valid to all intents and purposes, and the power of said district and of the legislative body of such municipality to issue such bonds is hereby ratified, confirmed and declared, and the bonds already are declared to be and the bonds hereafter sold shall be, the legal and binding obligation of and against such district for which such bonds have heretofore, or may hereafter be, issued, and the full faith and credit of such district is hereby pledged for the prompt payment and redemption of the principal and interest of said bonds; provided, that this act shall not operate to legalize any bonds of any district that have not, at the time of the passage of this act, been authorized by the vote of not less than two-thirds of the qualified electors in said district voting at an election held for the purpose of voting upon the question of the issuance of such bonds, or any bonds which have been sold for less than their par value.

ACT 2372a.

An act to provide for the formation of districts within municipalities for the acquisition or construction of public improvements, works and public utilities therein; for the issuance, sale and payment of bonds of such districts to meet the cost of such improvements; and for the acquisition or construction of such improvements., [Approved April 20, 1915; Stats. 1915, p. 99.]

Amended 1919, p. 670.

The amendment of 1919 follows:

The title of this act was amended in 1919 to read as follows:

§ 1. Title amended. An act to provide for the formation of districts within municipalities for the acquisition or construction of public improvements, works and public utilities; for the issuance, sale and payment of bonds of such districts to meet the cost of such improvements, and for the acquisition or construction of such improvements. [Amendment approved May 16, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 670.]

The body of the act was amended as follows:

§ 1. Municipal improvement district. Any portion of a municipality incorporated under the laws of this state may be formed into a municipal improvement district for the purpose of creating an indebtedness, to be represented by bonds of said district, the proceeds from the sale of which shall be used for the acquisition or construction of any public improvement work or public utility which such municipality is authorized by law to acquire or construct. Such districts shall be formed and such bonds shall be issued and sold in the manner and under the proceedings hereinafter set forth. [Amendment approved May 16, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 670.]

§ 2. Petition for election. Ordinance of intention. What ordinance shall contain. Whenever a petition signed by not less than ten per cent of the qualified electors residing in the territory which is proposed to be formed into a municipal improvement district, setting forth a general description of the improvement work or public utility to be acquired or constructed and a general description of the exterior boundaries of such proposed district, shall have been filed in the office of the clerk of the legislative body of said city, said legislative body may adopt an ordinance declaring its intention to call an election in said proposed district, or as the same may have been modified as herein provided, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors of said district the proposition of authorizing the issuance and sale of bonds of such district in the manner and for the purpose set forth in said ordinance of intention. Said legislative body shall have power to change or modify the boundaries of said district and the nature, character or extent of such proposed public improvement work or public utility. Said ordinance of intention shall also contain:

1. An accurate description of the exterior boundaries of the proposed municipal improvement district;

2. A general description of the improvement work or public utility proposed to be acquired or constructed therein;

3. An estimate of the cost of the proposed improvement work or public utility and of the incidental expense in connection therewith;

4. That upon a certain date fixed therein an election will be called in said district for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters thereof the proposition of incurring indebtedness by the issuance of bonds of such district to pay the cost and expenses of the proposed improvement work or public utility, and that a map showing the exterior boundaries of said district with relation to the territory immediately contiguous thereto, and a general description of the proposed improvement are on file in the office of the clerk of the legislative body of such city; which said map shall govern for all details as to the extent of the said district.

5. A date, hour and place fixed for the hearing of protests. [Amendment approved May 16, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 670.]

§ 14. Construction. The provisions of this act shall be liberally construed to effect the purpose thereof and no provision hereof shall be deemed or construed to prohibit the inclusion within the boundaries of any district formed under the provisions of this act, of any territory which has heretofore or which may be hereafter included within any other district formed under the provisions of this act. [Amendment approved May 16, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 671.]

ACT 2372b.

An act to legalize bonds heretofore issued and sold, or to be issued and sold, by municipal improvement districts where authority for such issuance has already been given by a vote of not less than two-thirds of the electors of such districts voting upon the question of incurring such indebtedness.

§ 1. Municipal improvement district bonds legalized. In all cases where the legislative branch of any municipality in this state has called an election under the provisions of an act entitled "An act to provide for the formation of districts within municipalities for the acquisition or construction of public improvements, works and public utilities therein; for the issuance, sale and payment of bonds of such districts to meet the cost of such improvements; and for the acquisition or construction of such improvements," approved April 20, 1915, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors of any municipal improvement district formed in such municipality the question whether an indebtedness shall be incurred for any of the purposes authorized by said act, and where at such election not less than two-thirds of all the voters voting thereat shall have voted in favor of incurring such indebtedness, and the mode of creating such indebtedness has been by the proposed issuance of the bonds of such municipal improvement district, the power to issue such bonds and all the acts and proceedings of such municipality leading up to and including the issuance and sale or the proposed issuance and sale of such bonds are hereby legalized, ratified, confirmed and declared valid to all intents and purposes; and all such bonds, sold either before or after the passage of this act for not less than their par value are hereby legalized and declared to be legal and valid obligations of and against such municipal improvement district of the municipality so issuing and selling the same, and the faith and credit of such municipal improvement district of such municipality is hereby pledged for the prompt payment and redemption of the principal and interest of said bonds.

§ 2. Exception. This act shall not operate to legalize any bonds of any municipal improvement district of a municipality that have not, at the time of the passage of this act, been authorized by the vote of not less than two-thirds of the qualified electors of such municipal improvement district voting at any such election, or any bonds which have been sold for less than their par value.

An act to provide for the alteration of the boundaries of and for the annexation of territory to incorporated towns and cities, and for the incorporation of such annexed territory in and as a part of such municipalities, and for the districting, government, and municipal control of annexed territory.

Amended 1905, p. 551; 1911, pp. 857, 1459; 1917, p. 419.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. Procedure for annexing new territory to cities. Election on question. The boundaries of any incorporated town or city, whether heretofore or hereafter formed, incorporated, reincorporated, organized, or reorganized, may be altered and new territory annexed thereto, incorporated and included therein, and made a part thereof, upon proceedings being had and taken as in this act provided. The council, board of trustees, or other legislative body of any such municipal corporation, upon receiving a written petition therefor containing a description of the new territory asked to be annexed to such corporation, and signed by not less than one-fifth in number of the qualified electors of such municipal corporation, computed upon the number of votes cast at the last general municipal election held therein, must, without delay, submit to the electors of such municipal corporation and to the electors residing in the territory proposed by such petition to be annexed to such corporation, the question whether such new territory shall be annexed to, incorporated in, and made a part of said municipal corporation. Such question may be so submitted at the next general municipal election to be held in such municipal incorporation, or it may be so submitted prior to such general election either at a special election called therein for that purpose, or at any other municipal election therein, except an election at which the submission of such question is prohibited by law; and such legislative body is hereby empowered to and it shall be its duty to cause notice to be given of such election by the publication of a notice thereof in a newspaper printed and published in such municipal corporation, and also in a newspaper, if any such there be, printed and published outside of such corporation, but in the county in which the territory so proposed to be annexed is situated, in each case at least once a week for a period of four successive weeks next preceding the date of such election. Such notice shall distinctly state the proposition to be submitted, i. e., that it is proposed to annex to, incorporate in, and make a part of such municipal corporations the territory sought to be annexed, specifically describing the boundaries thereof; and in said notice the qualified electors of said municipal corporation, and the qualified electors residing in said territory so proposed to be annexed, shall be invited to vote upon such proposition by placing upon their ballots the words "For annexation" or "Against annexation," or words equivalent thereto. Such legislative body is hereby empowered, and it shall be its duty, to establish, and in such notice of election designate the voting precinct or precincts, and the place or places at which the polls will be opened in such territory so proposed to be annexed, and also in such municipal corporation. And such place or places shall be that or those commonly used as voting places within such municipal corporation, and also that or those commonly used within such new territory, if any such there be. Such legislative body is empowered to, and it shall, appoint the officers of such election, who shall he, for each voting place in such municipal corporation, and for each voting place in said new territory, two judges and one inspector, each of whom shall be a qualified elector of the voting precinct in which he is appointed to act as an officer of such election. The ballots used at such election, the opening and closing of the polls, and the holding and conducting of such election, shall be in conformity, as far as may be, with the general laws of this state concerning elections; and the judges and inspectors of such election shall immediately on the closing of the polls, count the ballots, make up and certify the tally sheets of the ballots cast at their respective polling places, seal, and then immediately return the same as below provided, doing so, as nearly as practicable, in the manner provided in the election laws of this state; but the ballots, tally sheets, and returns shall be so returned to and deposited with the clerk of such legislative body. Such legislative body shall, at the time provided for its regular meeting next after the expiration of three days from and after the date of said election, meet and proceed to canvass said returns; and such canvass shall be completed at such meeting, if practicable, and in any event, as soon as practicable, avoiding adjournment or adjournments, if possible, until said canvass is completed. Said canvass by such legislative body shall be conducted and completed as follows: The returns of the votes cast in said outside territory, so proposed to be annexed shall be canvassed separately; and the returns of the votes cast inside of said municipal corporation shall be canvassed separately. Immediately upon the completion of such canvass, said legislative body shall cause a record thereof to be made and entered upon its minutes, showing the whole number of votes cast in such outside territory, the whole number of votes cast in such municipal corporation, the number thereof cast in each in favor of annexation, and the number thereof cast in each against annexation; and it shall appear from such canvass that a majority of all the votes cast in such outside territory, and a majority of all the votes cast inside of said municipal corporation, are in favor of annexation, the clerk, or other officer performing the duties of clerk, of such legislative body, shall promptly make and certify, under the seal of said municipal corporation, and transmit to the secretary of state, a copy of said record, so entered upon said minutes, together with a statement showing the date of said election and the time and result of said canvass, which document shall be filed by the secretary of state immediately upon the receipt thereof. From and after the date of the filing of said document in the office of the secretary of state, the annexation of such territory so proposed to be annexed shall be deemed and shall be complete, and thenceforth such annexed territory shall be, to all intents and purposes, a part of such municipal corporation, except only that no property within such annexed territory shall ever be taxed to pay any portion of any indebtedness or liability of such municipal corporation contracted prior to or existing at the time of such annexation, excepting as provided in section one a of this act. No territory which, at the time such petition for such proposed annexation is presented to such legislative body, forms any part of any incorporated town or city, shall be annexed under the provisions of this act. [Amendment approved May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 419.]

An act to provide for the alteration of the boundaries of and for the annexation of territory to municipal corporations, for the incorporation of such annexed territory in and as a part thereof, and for the districting, government and municipal control of such annexed territory. [Approved June 11, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 587.]

Amended 1915, p. 305; 1917, p. 26.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 3. Should majority in outside territory favor. Question submitted in city. If it shall appear from the canvass of the returns of the election held in the territory proposed to be annexed to any municipal corporation, as provided in section two of this act, that a majority of all the votes cast in such outside territory on the question of such annexation are in favor of annexation, such legislative body may, by ordinance, approve such annexation, or, in case of failure to so approve, by ordinance, such annexation, shall then submit to the electors of such municipal corporation the question whether such territory shall be annexed to, incorporated in and made a part of such municipal corporation. Such question may be so submitted at the next general municipal election to be held in such municipal corporation, or it may be so submitted prior to such general election, either at a special election called therein for that purpose, or at any other special municipal election therein, except an election at which the submission of such question is prohibited by law. Whenever such question is submitted at any election in such municipal corporation, such question shall be stated in the notice of such election and on the ballots to be used at such election, and the electors shall vote thereon, in the same manner as hereinbefore provided in the case of the election in the territory proposed to be annexed. And whenever such question is submitted at any such municipal election, general or special, as above provided, it shall be submitted and voted upon as other questions are required by law to be submitted and voted upon at such elections, except in particulars otherwise in this act set forth; and the laws applicable to and governing the time and manner of giving notice, conducting holding, canvassing the returns, and declaring the result of any such election shall apply to and govern the submission of such question to the electors of such municipal corporation at any such election. [Amendment approved April 2, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 26.]

§ 4. Record of votes cast. Should majority favor. Annexation complete. Territory of city may not be annexed. Immediately upon the completion of the canvass of the returns of any election in any municipal corporation at which the question of annexation of new territory thereto was submitted, as in this act provided the legislative body of such municipal corporation shall cause a record to be made, and entered upon its minutes, showing the total number of votes cast in such municipal corporation upon such question at such election, the number thereof cast in favor of annexation, and the number thereof cast against annexation. If it shall appear from the canvass of the returns of such election, that a majority of the qualified electors of such municipal corporation voting on the question of such annexation are in favor thereof, the clerk or other officer performing the duties of a clerk of the legislative body of such municipal corporation shall make and certify, under the seal thereof, and transmit to the secretary of state, a copy of the record of the canvass of the returns of the election in such new territory and of the election in such municipal corporation at which the question of the annexation of the said new territory was submitted and entered upon its minutes as aforesaid, together with a statement showing the dates of such elections in said new territory and in said municipal corporation, and the time and the result of the canvass of the returns of such elections, and containing a description of such territory. If such annexation has been approved by ordinance of such legislative body, as herein authorized, a certified copy of such ordinance, giving the date of its passage, shall be substituted in said document in place of the copy of the record of the canvass of the returns of the election in such municipal corporation provided for in case such annexation was not approved by ordinance. Said document, in either case, shall be filed by the secretary of state immediately upon the receipt thereof. From and after the date of the filing of said document in the office of the secretary of state, the annexation of such territory so proposed to be annexed and described therein, shall be deemed to be and shall be complete, and thenceforth such annexed territory shall be, to all intents and purposes, a part of such municipal corporation, except only that no property within such annexed territory shall ever be taxed to pay any portion of any indebtedness or liability of such municipal corporation contracted prior to or existing at the time of such annexation, excepting as hereinafter provided. No territory which, at the time of the presentation of a petition to the legislative body of any municipal corporation for the annexation of such territory thereto forms any part of any municipal corporation, shall be annexed under the provisions of this act. [Amendment approved April 2, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 27.]

§ 5. Question of taxing annexed territory to pay indebtedness of city. Proposition submitted. Notice to specify improvements, etc. Majority favoring. Annexation complete. When property subject to taxation. Whenever any municipal corporation to which it is proposed to annex territory under the provisions of this act shall have incurred, or authorized the incurring of, any bonded indebtedness for the acquisition, construction or completion of any municipal improvement or improvements, the petition presented to the legislative body of such municipal corporation, as provided in section two of this act, may contain a request that the question to be submitted to the electors residing in the territory proposed by such petition to be annexed to such municipal corporation, shall be, whether such new territory shall be annexed to, incorporated in, and made a part of, said municipal corporation, and the property therein be, after such annexation, subject to taxation, equally with the property within such municipal corporation, to pay any specified portion of such bonded indebtedness of such municipal corporation, outstanding at the date of the filing of such petition or theretofore authorized. If such request shall be made in said petition, proceedings shall be had thereon, and an election shall be called and held in the territory proposed to be annexed, the same in all respects as upon a petition presented under the provisions of section two of this act, excepting that the notice of election shall distinctly state the proposition to be submitted to wit: that it is proposed to annex to, incorporate in, and make a part of, such municipal corporation, the territory sought to be annexed, specifically describing the boundaries thereof, and that the property therein, shall, after such annexation, be subject to taxation, equally with the property within such municipal corporation, to pay such specified bonded indebtedness of such municipal corporation, outstanding at the date of the said annexation, or indebtedness theretofore authorized and to be represented by bonds of such municipal corporation thereafter to be issued. The said notice shall, in general terms, specify the improvement or improvements for which such indebtedness was so incurred or authorized, and state the amount or amounts of such indebtedness already incurred, outstanding at the date of the first publication of such notice, and the amount or amounts of such indebtedness theretofore authorized, and to be represented by bonds thereafter to be issued, and the maximum rate of interest payable, or to be payable on such indebtedness; and upon the canvass of the returns of the votes cast in any territory proposed to be annexed at any election held therein under the provisions of this section, if it shall appear that a majority of all the votes cast in such outside territory are in favor of annexation, the legislative body of such municipal corporation may, by ordinance, approve such annexation; or, in case of failure to so approve, by ordinance, such annexation, shall submit to the electors thereof the question whether such territory shall be annexed to, incorporated in and made a part of such municipal corporation. Such question may be so submitted to the electors of such municipal corporation in the same manner as provided in section three of this act, and if it shall appear from the canvass of the returns of the election in such municipal corporation at which such question shall have been submitted, that a majority of the qualified electors thereof voting upon the question of such annexation are in favor thereof, like proceedings shall thereupon be taken, and with the same force and effect as provided in sections three and four of this act. The provisions of sections two, three and four of this act, so far as applicable, shall apply to annexation under the provisions of this section. From and after the date of the filing in the office of the secretary of state of the document containing a copy of the record of the proceedings for the annexation of such new territory to such municipal corporation, as provided in section four of this act, the annexation of such territory so proposed to be annexed, and described therein, shall be deemed, and shall be, complete, and thenceforth such annexed territory shall be, to all intents and purposes a part of such municipal corporation, and the property within such annexed territory shall be taxed to pay the bonded indebtedness or liability of such corporation, specified in said notice, equally with the property within such municipal corporation as it existed prior to the filing of such petition.

The property in any such new territory annexed to any municipal corporation, under the provisions of this act, after twelve o'clock meridian of the first Monday in March, and before the completion of the assessment-roll of such municipal corporation, shall be subject to taxation for municipal purposes for the fiscal year following said first Monday in March. [Amendment approved April 2, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 28.]

ACT 2383a.

An act to provide for the consolidation of municipal corporations.

[Approved June 11, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 577.]

Amended 1915, p. 311; 1917, p. 30.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 3. Should majority favor. Question submitted to larger city. If it shall appear from the canvass of the returns of the election mentioned in section two of this act, that a majority of all the votes cast in the municipal corporation in which such election was held, upon the question of consolidation submitted at such election, are in favor of such consolidation, the clerk of the legislative body of such municipal corporation, shall forthwith make, under the seal thereof, and deliver to the clerk of the legislative body of the other of the municipal corporations proposed to be so consolidated, to wit, the municipal corporation having the greater population, a copy in duplicate of the record of such canvass, together with a statement of the proposition submitted at such election. The clerk of the legislative body of such municipal corporation so having the greatest population shall present one such copy of said record and said statement to such legislative body without delay, and retain the other to be filed as hereinafter provided. Upon receiving the copy of such record so presented such legislative body may, by ordinance, approve such consolidation, or, in case of failure to so approve, by ordinance, such consolidation, shall then submit to the electors of such other of the municipal corporations so proposed to be consolidated and having the greatest population, the question whether such consolidation shall be effected. Such question may be so submitted at the next general municipal election to be held in such municipal corporation, or it may be so submitted prior to such general election, either at a special election called therein for that purpose, or at any other special municipal election therein, except an election at which the submission of such question is prohibited by law. Whenever such question is submitted at any election in such municipal corporation, such question shall be stated in the notice of such election and on the ballots to be used at such election, and the electors shall vote thereon, in the same manner as hereinbefore provided in the case of the election mentioned in section two of this act. And whenever such question is submitted at any such municipal election, general or special, as provided in this section, it shall be submitted and voted upon as other questions are required by law to be submitted and voted upon at such elections, except in particulars otherwise in this act set forth; and the laws applicable to and governing the time and manner of giving notice, conducting, holding, canvassing the returns, and declaring the result of any such election shall apply to and govern the submission of such question to the electors of such municipal corporation at any such election. [Amendment approved April 2, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 30.]

§ 4. Declaration of result. Should majority favor. Consolidation complete. Immediately upon the completion of the canvass of the returns of any election in the municipal corporation having the greater population of two municipal corporations proposed to be consolidated, at which the question of such consolidation was submitted, as provided in section three of this act, the legislative body of such municipal corporation having the greater population shall declare the result of such election, and shall cause a record to be made and entered upon its minutes, stating the proposition submitted, and showing the total number of votes cast in such municipal corporation upon the question of such consolidation at such election, the number thereof cast in favor of consolidation, and the number thereof cast against consolidation. If it shall appear from the canvass of the returns of such election, that a majority of the qualified electors of such municipal corporation, voting on the question of such consolidation, are in favor thereof, the clerk or other officer performing the duties of clerk of the legislative body of such municipal corporation shall promptly make and certify, under the seal thereof, and transmit to the secretary of state, a copy of the record of the canvass of the returns of the election in such municipal corporation having the greater population, at which the question of such consolidation was submitted, and entered upon its minutes as aforesaid, and one copy theretofore delivered to him as aforesaid, of the record of the canvass of the returns of the election in the other of the municipal corporations proposed to be consolidated, together with a statement showing the date of each such election in each such municipal corporation, and the time and result of the canvass of the returns of each such election. If such consolidation has been approved by ordinance of such legislative body, as herein authorized, a certified copy of such ordinance, giving the date of its passage, shall be substituted in said document in place of the copy of the record of the canvass of the returns of the election in such municipality provided for in case such consolidation was not approved by ordinance. Said document, in either case, shall be filed in his office by the secretary of state immediately upon receipt thereof. Upon the filing of said document in the office of secretary of state, such consolidation shall be deemed to be complete and such municipal corporations shall be deemed to be consolidated and the one of such municipal corporations not having the greatest population, shall be deemed to be, and shall be, annexed and joined to and merged into the one of said municipal corporations having the greatest population. [Amendment approved April 2, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 31.]

§ 5. Question of taxation to pay bonded indebtedness. Notice to specify improvements. Canvass of returns. Majority favoring. Question submitted to larger city. When property subject to taxation. Whenever any two municipal corporations are proposed to be consolidated, under the provisions of this act, and either or both of such municipal corporations shall have theretofore incurred, or authorized the incurring of, any bonded indebtedness for the acquisition, construction or completion of any municipal improvement or improvements, the petition provided for in section two of this act may contain a request that the question to be submitted to the electors of the municipal corporation proposed to be consolidated shall be, whether such municipal corporation shall be consolidated, as hereinbefore in this act provided, and the property in such municipal corporations, shall after such consolidation, be subject to taxation at the same rate, to pay any of such bonded indebtedness specified in said petition; provided, however, that if such petition contains a request that the property in such municipal corporations be, after such consolidation, subject to taxation to pay all of the bonded indebtedness incurred or authorized of such municipal corporations, such bonded indebtedness and improvements for which such bonded indebtedness was incurred or authorized may be described in such petition and in all other proceedings hereunder as "the bonded indebtedness of — (insert the names of the municipal corporations)," without specifying the improvements. If such request be made in such petition, proceedings shall be had thereon and the question of such consolidation shall be submitted to the electors in such municipal corporation not having the greatest population, the same in all respects as upon a petition presented under the provisions of section two, excepting that the notice of election shall, in addition to the matters required by said section, distinctly state that it is proposed that the property in such municipal corporations shall be taxed at the same rate to pay such bonded indebtedness set forth in said petition. Except as hereinabove provided, the said notice shall, in addition, in general terms specify the improvement or improvements for which such indebtedness was so incurred or authorized, and state the amount or amounts of such indebtedness already incurred, outstanding at the date of the first publication of such notice, and the amount or amounts of such indebtedness theretofore authorized, and to be represented by bonds thereafter to be issued, and the maximum rate of interest payable, or to be payable on such indebtedness.

The returns of such election held in pursuance of such notice shall be canvassed, as provided in section two of this act, by the legislative body of the municipal corporation in which such election was held, and immediately upon the completion of such canvass, such legislative body shall declare the result of such election and shall cause a record of such canvass to be made and entered upon its minutes, as provided in said section two, and there shall be included in such record a statement of such bonded indebtedness incurred and outstanding, or authorized, as set forth in the notice of such election, for the payment of which the property in said municipal corporations shall be subject to taxation as set forth in the notice of such election. If it shall appear from such canvass that a majority of all votes cast at such election upon the question of such consolidation, are in favor thereof, the clerk of such legislative body in which such election was held shall forthwith deliver a copy in duplicate of such record and statement to the clerk of the legislative body of the other of the municipal corporations so proposed to be consolidated, and having the greatest population. Thereupon the legislative body of such other municipal corporation having the greatest population may, by ordinance, approve such consolidation; or, in case of failure to so approve, by ordinance, such consolidation shall submit the question of such consolidation to the electors of such other municipal corporation at an election therein in the same manner in all respects as provided in this section for submitting to the electors in such municipal corporation not having the greatest population, and, in other respects, in the same manner as provided in section three of this act. After the passage of said ordinance approving such consolidation, or, if such consolidation was not approved by ordinance if, upon the canvass of the returns of such election it shall appear therefrom, that a majority of the votes cast at such election in such other municipal corporation having the greatest population, upon the question of such consolidation, are in favor thereof, the same proceeding shall be had as provided in section four of this act, and such consolidation shall be deemed to be, and shall be, completed in the same manner, and with the same effect as in said section provided. After the completion of the consolidation of such municipal corporations, as hereinbefore provided, the property in said municipal corporations so consolidated shall thereafter be taxed at the same rate, to pay such bonded indebtedness set forth in said petition.

The property in any such municipal corporations consolidated, under the provisions of this act, after twelve o'clock meridian of the first Monday in March and before the completion of the assessment-roll of such municipal corporation having the greater population, shall be subject to taxation for municipal purposes by said consolidated city for the fiscal year following said first Monday in March. [Amendment approved April 2, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 32.]

An act authorizing municipal corporations to permit other municipal corporations to construct and maintain sewers, water-mains, and other conduits therein, also to construct and maintain sewers, water-mains, and other conduits for their joint benefit, and at their joint expense, and to make and enter into contracts for said purposes.

§ 4. Sewers, water-mains, etc. constructed by municipalities for joint use. Use of streets authorized. Whenever the city councils, sanitary boards or other legislative bodies of two or more municipal corporations, two or more sanitary districts, or one or more municipal corporations, and one or more sanitary districts, shall by resolutions adopted by them determine and declare that it will be for the interest or advantage of such municipal corporations or sanitary districts to do so, such municipal corporations or sanitary districts, by their respective councils, sanitary boards, or other legislative bodies, may enter into a joint agreement authorizing and providing for the joint construction and maintenance of sewers, water-mains, or other conduits situated in the streets or other public places of either or any of such municipal corporations or sanitary districts, including the joint construction and maintenance of all necessary outfall sewers, whether constructed within or outside of the exterior boundaries of such municipal corporations or sanitary districts, and by such joint agreement shall provide for the joint payment of the cost and expense of and for the joint use, benefit and maintenance of all such sewers, outfall sewers, water-mains and other conduits, upon such terms and conditions, and under such regulations, as may be approved by the city councils, sanitary boards or other legislative bodies of all such municipal corporations or sanitary districts; and the city council, sanitary board or other legislative body of each such municipal corporation or sanitary district may, and are hereby vested with power to, bind and obligate such municipal corporations or sanitary districts to pay such proportionate part of the cost of the construction of such sewer, outfall sewer, water-mains, or other conduits, at such times and in such installments as may be provided for in such join agreement. All contracts for the construction of sewers, outfall sewers, water-mains, or other conduits, under the provisions of this section shall be made and entered into by the one of such municipal corporations or sanitary districts designated by the city councils, sanitary boards or other legislative bodies of all such municipal corporations or sanitary districts, and in the manner provided in section three of this act. Two or more municipal corporations, two or more sanitary districts, or one or more municipal corporations, and one or more sanitary districts, may also, by their city councils, sanitary boards, or other legislative bodies, enter into an agreement or agreements with each other for the joint use by such municipal corporations or sanitary districts, of any sewers, outfall sewers, water-mains, or other conduits theretofore, constructed in whole or in part in the streets or other public places of either or any such municipal corporations or sanitary districts, upon such terms and conditions as they by mutual agreement may by their respective city councils, sanitary boards or other legislative bodies, determine to be proper. Authority is hereby specifically granted to use the streets within the public corporations entering into such an agreement, for the construction and maintenance of sewers provided for by this section, and whenever it is necessary to extend such sewers without the limits of the public corporations entering into such joint or mutual agreement then authority is hereby granted to use public highways without the limits of an incorporated city for the construction and maintenance of such sewers subject only to the right of the board of supervisors to make reasonable police regulations for the protection of the highways so used [Amendment approved May 3, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 153.]

§ 5. Payment for joint construction. Whenever any municipal corporation or sanitary district shall enter into a joint agreement for the joint construction and maintenance of sewers, outfall sewers, water-mains or other conduits, as provided for in section four of this act, then the proportionate part of the cost and expense of the construction and maintenance of such sewers, outfall sewers, water-mains or other conduits required to be paid by such municipal corporation or sanitary district, as provided for in the joint agreement entered into by any such municipal corporation or sanitary district, may be raised by any means provided by law including the issuance and sale of the bonds of such municipal corporation or sanitary district. [New section added May 3, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 153.]

§ 6. Right of eminent domain. Whenever, in the construction of any sewer, outfall sewer, water-main or other conduit authorized or provided for by this act it shall become necessary to take or damage private property, all such property necessary may be condemned and taken by appropriate action under the right of eminent domain. Such action shall in all respects be subject to and governed by the Code of Civil Procedure relating to eminent domain; provided, that all such actions may be brought by and in the name of the one of the municipal corporations or sanitary districts designated by all of the municipal corporations or sanitary districts which have entered into such joint agreement for the construction thereof. [New section added May 3, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 153.]

ACT 2389k.

An act granting to any city of the state whose corporate limits include or bound upon any harbor, bay, estuary, or other navigable body of water, the power to improve the same and to establish, acquire, construct, improve and maintain in, upon and along the waters thereof works for use in connection therewith.

[Approved April 6, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 72. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Cities authorized to maintain piers, etc. Property rights not affected. Any city of this state whose corporate limits include or bound upon any harbor, bay, estuary, or other navigable body of water, is hereby granted power to establish, acquire, construct, improve and maintain in, upon and along the waters of any such harbor, bay, estuary, or other navigable body of water, piers, docks, wharves, bulkheads, quays, and other necessary works for use in connection therewith, and power to construct, improve, dredge, deepen or straighten, channels, turning basins, canals, slips and waterways to, from and along any of the aforesaid works, and connecting with any other navigable water either within or without the limits of such city, and to do any and all other things necessary or convenient to the establishment, improvement, conduct and maintenance of a harbor, and in furtherance of commerce and navigation. Nothing herein, however, shall be deemed or construed to affect or limit the use and enjoyment by persons, firms or corporations of their property or property rights; nor shall anything in this act be construed or deemed to grant to any city the right to destroy, injure, impair or interfere with any private or quasi-public property or property rights, leasehold or otherwise, or to the use and enjoyment thereof.

ACT 2389 l.

An act providing for hours of rest for persons employed by municipal corporations during more than one hundred twenty hours per week, and prescribing penalties for violations hereof.

§ 1. Hours of rest for certain municipal employees. Any person in the employ of a municipal corporation and whose hours of labor exceed one hundred twenty hours in a calendar week of seven days, shall be entitled to be off duty at least three hours during every twenty-four hours for the purpose of procuring meals and no deduction of salary shall be made by reason thereof.

§ 2. Penalty. Any officer or agent of a municipal corporation having supervision and control of the employees referred to in section one hereof who shall violate the provisions hereof shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punishable as provided in section nineteen of the Penal Code.

ACT 2389m.

An act to provide for the formation of special municipal tax districts within municipalities for the acquisition, construction or operation of public improvements, works or utilities of local necessity or convenience, or for the furnishing of special local service; and for the acquisition, construction or operation of such improvements, works or utilities, or the furnishing of such service by or for such district.

§ 1. Special municipal tax districts for constructing improvements, etc. Any portion of a municipality incorporated under the laws of the state may be formed into a special municipal tax district for the purpose of levying upon the taxable property in such district a special tax not to exceed fifteen cents per annum on each one hundred dollars of assessed valuation, the proceeds from which shall be used for the acquisition, construction or operation of any public improvement or work or utility of local necessity or convenience, or for the furnishing, performing or doing of any special local service, which such municipality is authorized by law to acquire, construct, operate, furnish, perform or do, including music, recreation or advertising. Such districts shall be formed and such tax levied in the manner and under the proceedings hereinafter set forth. Such districts may be formed to continue one, two, three, four or five years, and such special tax may be levied each year for such period of time.

§ 2. Petition to form district. Resolution of intention. What ordinance shall contain. Whenever a petition signed by not less than ten per cent of the qualified electors residing in the territory which is proposed to be formed into a special municipal tax district, setting forth a general description of the improvement, work or utility to be acquired, constructed or operated, or the special local service to be furnished, performed or done, a general description of the exterior boundaries of such proposed district, and a statement of the duration of such district and the maximum annual special tax proposed to be levied, shall have been filed in the office of the clerk of the legislative body of said city, said legislative body may adopt an ordinance or resolution declaring its intention to call an election in said proposed district, or as the same shall have been modified as hereinafter provided, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors of said district the proposition of authorizing the formation of such special municipal tax district and the levying therein of a special tax in the manner and for the purpose set forth in said ordinance or resolution of intention. In said ordinance or resolution of intention said legislative body shall have power to change or modify the boundaries of said district and the nature, character or extent of such proposed public improvement, work, utility, or local service. Said ordinance or resolution of intention shall also contain:

1. A description of the exterior boundaries of the proposed special municipal tax district;

2. A general description of the improvement, work, utility or local service proposed to be acquired, constructed, operated, furnished, performed or done;

3. The maximum annual special tax proposed to be levied, and the number of years, not exceeding five years, that it is proposed said special tax shall be levied, and said proposed district shall remain in existence;

4. A statement that an election will be called in said district for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors thereof the proposition of the formation of such special municipal tax district and the levying therein of said special tax to pay the cost and expenses of the proposed improvement, work, utility or local service, and that a map showing the exterior boundaries of said district with relation to the territory immediately contiguous thereto, and a general description of the proposed improvement are on file in the office of the clerk of the legislative body of such city;

5. A date, hour and place fixed for the hearing of protests.

§ 3. Publication of ordinance. Said ordinance or resolution shall be published once a day for at least six days in some newspaper of general circulation published at least six days a week in said city, or once a week for two weeks in some newspaper published less than six days per week in such municipality, and one insertion each week for two succeeding weeks shall be a sufficient publication in such newspaper published less than six days per week. Such ordinance or resolution shall take effect upon the completion of said publication. In municipalities where no such newspaper is published, such ordinance or resolution shall be posted in three public places therein, and shall take effect two weeks after the date of such posting of notice.

§ 4. Objections to formation of district. Notice of intention to change boundaries. Objections. Any person interested, objecting to the formation of said district, or to the extent of said district, or to the proposed improvement or work, or to the acquisition, construction, or operation of the proposed utility, or to the special local service, to be furnished, performed or done, or to the inclusion of his property in said district, may file a written protest, setting forth such objection, with the clerk of said legislative body at or before the time set for the hearing of said protests. The clerk of said legislative body shall indorse on each such protest the date of its reception by him, and, at the time appointed for the hearing above provided for, shall present to said body all protests so filed with him. Said legislative body shall hear said protests at the time appointed, or at any time to which the hearing thereof may be adjourned, and pass upon the same, and its decision thereon shall be final and conclusive. If any of such protests against the proposed improvement or work, or against the acquisition, construction, or operation of the utility, or against the special local service to be furnished, performed or done, be sustained, no further proceedings shall be had or taken pursuant to such petition, but a new petition for the same or a similar purpose may be filed at any time after the expiration of six months from the date such protest was sustained. If any of such protests be against the extent of said district, or against the inclusion of property in said district, then the legislative body shall have power to make such changes in the boundaries of the proposed district as it shall find to be proper and advisable, and shall define and establish such boundaries, but said legislative body shall not modify such boundaries so as to include any territory which will not, in its judgment, be benefited by said improvement, work, utility, or special local service.

Said legislative body shall not modify such boundaries except after notice of its intention so to do, given by one insertion in said newspaper or by posting in three public places in municipalities where no such newspaper is published, describing the proposed modification, and specifying a time for hearing objections to such modification, which time shall be at least ten days after the publication of said notice. Written objections to said proposed modification may be filed with the clerk of said legislative body by any interested person at or before the time set for hearing the same. Said legislative body shall hear and pass upon such objections at the time appointed, or at any time to which the hearing thereof may be adjourned, and its decision thereon shall be final and conclusive. If such objections, or any of them, be sustained, no further proceedings pursuant to such petition shall be taken, but a new petition for the same or a similar purpose may be filed at any time after the expiration of six months from the date such protest was sustained.

At the expiration of the time within which protests may be filed, if none be filed, or if protests be filed and after hearing be denied, or at the expiration of the time within which objections to the modifications of the boundaries of the district, in case such modification be proposed, may be filed, if none be filed, or if such objections be filed, and, after hearing, be overruled, as above provided, then said legislative body shall be deemed to have acquired jurisdiction to proceed further in accordance with the provisions of this act.

§ 5. Election for formation of district. Ordinance calling election. At any time after said legislative body shall have so acquired jurisdiction, it may call an election to be held within the district described in said ordinance or resolution of intention, or as the same may have been modified as above provided, and provide for the submission to the qualified electors thereof, the proposition of the formation of such special municipal tax district and the levying therein of a special tax for the purposes set forth in said ordinance or resolution of intention. The ordinance or resolution calling such election shall recite the objects and purposes for which the proposed special tax is to be incurred, the nature of the improvement, work, utility, or local service contemplated thereby, the estimated cost thereof, the maximum amount of the special tax annually to be levied therefor, and whether such tax shall be levied for one, two, three, four or five years; and shall fix the date on which such election shall be held, the manner of holding the same and the manner of voting for or against said proposition.

§ 6. Publication of ordinance. Majority vote shall establish district. For the purposes of said election said legislative body shall in said ordinance or resolution establish one or more voting precincts within the boundaries of said district, designate a polling place and appoint one inspector, one judge and one clerk for each such precinct. Said ordinance, or resolution, ordering the holding of said election shall, prior to the date fixed for such election, be published five times in a daily, or twice in a weekly or semi-weekly newspaper of general circulation, printed and published in said city, and designated by said legislative body for such purpose. In cities where no such newspaper is published, such ordinance, or resolution, shall be posted in three public places therein, two weeks preceding the date fixed for the holding of such election. No other notice of such election need be given. In all particulars not otherwise provided in this act, such election shall be held as near as may be in conformity with the law for the holding of municipal elections in such city. If at such election a majority of all the voters voting upon such proposition at said election shall vote in favor of the formation of such special municipal tax district and the levying therein of such special tax, then such legislative body shall thereupon be authorized and empowered to declare such special municipal tax district formed and to levy such special tax. After an election based upon any such petition, the sufficiency of such petition or any proceedings had prior to such election, in any respect, shall not be subject to judicial review or be otherwise questioned, nor shall any defect or irregularity in any proceedings prior to such election affect the validity of the formation of such district or any proceedings or acts had or done subsequent thereto in carrying out the objects or purposes of this act.

§ 7. Tax levy. The legislative body of such city shall, at the time of fixing the general tax levy, and in the manner for such general tax levy provided, levy and collect a special tax not exceeding said maximum rate, upon the taxable property in such district as set forth in the ordinance calling said election. Such tax shall be in addition to all taxes levied for municipal purposes and when collected shall be paid into the treasury of such city and be used for the purposes set forth in the ordinance calling said election.

§ 8. Municipality to act on behalf of district. Municipal officers to be district officers. Appointment of other officers and employees. Said municipality shall, by and through its proper officers, have full power and authority on behalf of such district, to expend the proceeds acquired from such special tax for the purposes or objects set forth in the ordinance or resolution calling said election, and shall also have full power and authority to acquire, construct or operate such improvements, works or utilities, or to furnish, perform or do such special local service, and such improvements, works or utilities, or special local service, so acquired, constructed or furnished shall be the property of such municipality for the benefit of such district.

The legislative body and all other officers, boards or commissions of such municipality, their assistants, deputies, clerks and employees, shall be ex officio the legislative body, officers, boards, commissions, assistants, deputies, clerks and employees, respectively, of such special municipal tax district, and shall respectively perform, unless otherwise provided by said legislative body, the same various duties for said district as they are lawfully required to perform for said municipality, without additional compensation, in order to carry out the provisions of this act.

Said legislative body may in its discretion provide for the appointment of such other officers and employees for said district as in its judgment may be deemed necessary, and prescribe their duties and fix their compensation, which said officers and employees shall hold office during the pleasure of said legislative body and shall not be subject, in their appointment and removal, to the civil service provisions, if any, of such municipality.

§ 9. Name of district. Any district formed under the provisions of this act shall be known as special municipal tax district number (inserting number) of the city of — (inserting the name of the municipality in which such district is located).

§ 10. Intent of act. This act shall not affect any other act or acts relating to the same, or a similar subject, but it is intended to provide an alternative method of procedure governing the subject to which it relates.

§ 11. Construction. The provisions of this act shall be liberally construed to effect the purpose thereof.

ACT 2389n.

An act authorizing cities of the third class whose corporate limits include or front upon any harbor, channel, estuary or other navigable body of water, to do certain acts necessary or convenient to the establishment, improvement, conduct and maintenance of a harbor; to do certain acts, either within or without the corporate limits of such cities, in furtherance of commerce and navigation; to incur indebtedness to carry out the purposes defined herein and to issue and sell bonds for the purpose of securing funds for the payment thereof.

§ 1. Harbor improvements in cities of third class. Any city of the third class of this state, whose corporate limits include or front upon any harbor, channel, estuary, or other navigable body of water is hereby granted power to establish, acquire, construct, improve and maintain, in, upon or along the waters of any such harbor, channel, estuary or other navigable body of water, piers, docks, bulkheads, quays, railroads, bridges and other necessary works in connection therewith on property owned by said city. Any such city is further granted power to construct, improve, dredge, deepen or straighten channels, turning basins, canals, slips and waterways to, from and along any of the aforesaid works, and connecting with any other navigable water, either within or without the corporate limits of such city, and to do any and all other things necessary or convenient, either within or without said corporate limits, to the establishment, improvement, conduct and maintenance of a harbor and in furtherance of commerce and navigation.

§ 2. Authority to incur indebtedness. Any such city is hereby authorized to incur an indebtedness for any or all of said purposes hereinabove specified and for the purpose of providing a fund or funds for the payment of such indebtedness, is hereby authorized to issue and sell its bonds therefor.

ACT 2389o.

An act to provide for and regulate municipal elections in cities of the fifth and sixth class.

§ 1. Elections in cities of fifth and sixth class. All general municipal elections at which city officials are to be voted for in cities of the fifth and sixth class, shall be held and conducted in accordance with the provisions of this act.

§ 2. Notice of election. Form. Not earlier than the sixtieth day nor later than the twentieth day before any such election, the city clerk shall cause a notice of the same to be published at least once in one or more newspapers published and circulated in such city. Said notice shall be headed "Notice of Election," and shall contain a statement of the time of the election, the offices to be filled thereat, (specifying short terms, if there be any), propositions to be voted on, if any, and briefly, a general description of the voting precincts and location of the polling places. In case there is no newspaper published and circulated in such city, said notice shall be typewritten and copies thereof shall be posted conspicuously within said time in at least three public places in said city. Said notice shall be substantially in the following form:

Notice of Election.

Notice is hereby given that a general municipal election will be held in the — of —, on Monday, the — day of April, 19—, for the following offices: (name them). (In case there are any propositions to be submitted, add the following clause.) The following propositions will be submitted at said election: (Give brief synopsis of same).

There will be — voting precincts for the purpose of holding said election, consisting of a consolidation of the regular election precincts established for holding the last general state or county election as follows: Consolidated voting precinct "A" comprising state and county precincts numbers one, two and three, and the polling place thereof shall be at (stating place); consolidated voting precinct "B" comprising state and county election precincts numbers four, five and six, and the polling place thereof shall be at (stating place).

The polls will be open between the hours of — M. and — M.

_____,
City clerk.

Dated, —.

§ 4. Election officers. For every such general municipal election the board of trustees shall appoint one inspector, two judges and two clerks as election officers to have charge of such election in and for each such consolidated voting precinct. The board of trustees may, in their discretion, advertise for election officers, or they may appoint such officers from the register of applicants for such positions on file with the county clerk; provided, that other things being equal, preference shall be given for ability and previous experience. Each election officer must be an elector and a resident of the consolidated voting precinct for which he is appointed. Said election officers shall receive such compensation as the board of trustees may deem just.

§ 5. Nomination of candidates. Form of nomination papers. Candidates may be nominated for any of the elective offices of such city in the manner following:

Not earlier than the sixtieth day nor later than twelve o'clock noon on the twentieth day before such election, the electors may nominate candidates for such election by signing a nomination paper such as hereinafter set forth. Each candidate shall be proposed by not less than five nor more than ten qualified electors, but only one candidate shall be named in any one nomination paper. No elector may sign more than one nomination paper for the same office, but each seat on the board of trustees shall be deemed a different office. Any person or persons may circulate a nomination paper.

The signatures to each nomination paper shall all be appended on the same sheet of paper and each signer shall add thereto his occupation, date and place of residence (giving the street and number [if such there be] otherwise such designation of his place of residence as will enable the location to be readily ascertained). All such nomination papers shall be filed with the city clerk not later than twelve o'clock noon on the twentieth day before such election, and shall be accompanied by a verified statement of the candidate that he will accept the nomination, and also accept the office in the event of his election. Said nomination papers and affidavit shall be substantially in the following form:

Nomination Paper.

We, the undersigned electors of the city of — hereby nominate — for the office of — of said city.

Name.	Occupation.	Date.	Residence.
.....
.....
.....

Affidavit of Nominee.

State of California }
County of — } ss.

— being duly sworn, says that he is the above-named nominee for the office of —, and that he will accept said office in the event of his election.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this — day of —, 191—.

Notary public in and for the county of —, State of California.

§ 6. Publication of names of nominees. Form of notice. It shall not be necessary to print or send out sample ballots for such election, but the city clerk shall publish a list of the names of the nominees, in alphabetical order and the respective offices for which they have been nominated at least twice before the day of election in one or more daily or weekly newspapers published in such city. Said list shall be headed, "Nominees for public office," in conspicuous type, and be substantially in the following form:

Nominees for Public Office.

Notice is hereby given that the following persons have been nominated for the offices hereinafter mentioned to be filled at the general municipal election to be held in the city of —, on Monday, the — day of April, 19—.

(Here follow with the list of nominees.

In case any propositions are to be voted on, set them forth also.)

Dated, —.

—, City clerk.

§ 7. Election booths and supplies. The city clerk shall procure the necessary voting booths and see that they are properly erected; he shall also have the necessary ballots printed and secure the necessary ballot-boxes, stamps, ink-pads, voting lists, roster, instruction cards, affidavits of registration and index thereto, tally lists, returns, envelopes, and all other necessary supplies, and see that they are properly distributed to each voting booth prior to the opening of the polls on the day of election.

§ 8. Ballots. Instructions to voters. Printing, etc., of ballots. All official ballots shall have the names of the candidates printed thereon in a column four inches in width, each name occupying a separate place divided by fine lines one-half an inch apart, and having below the printed list, the necessary blank space or spaces to permit the elector to write in the name or names of other persons not printed on the ballot. The names shall be printed on the ballot in alphabetical order.

Each group of candidates to be voted on shall be headed by the designation of the office and the words "Vote for One" or "Vote for Two," or more as the case may be, according to the number to be elected to such office; and where the office is for a short or unexpired term, the same shall be so specified. On the top of the face of the ballot the following directions shall be printed:

Instructions to Voters.

To vote for a candidate of your selection, stamp a cross (X) in the voting square next to the right of the name of such candidate. Where two or more candidates for the same office are to be elected, stamp a cross (X) after the name of all the candidates for that office for whom you desire to vote not to exceed, however, the number of candidates who are to be elected. If the ballot does not contain the names of candidates for all offices for which you may desire to vote, you may vote for candidates for such offices so omitted by writing the name of the candidate for whom you wish to vote in the blank space left for that purpose. To vote for a person not on the ballot, write the name of such person under the title of the office in the blank space left for that purpose.

To vote on any question, proposition or constitutional amendment, stamp a cross (X) in the voting square after the word "Yes" or after the word "No." All marks, except the cross (X) are forbidden. All distinguishing marks or erasures are forbidden and make the ballot void.

If you wrongly stamp, tear or deface this ballot, return it to the inspector of election and obtain another.

A separate parallel column four inches in width shall be provided for any questions or propositions to be submitted at such election. The right side of each column shall be set off by a light vertical line so as to form half-inch squares or voting spaces.

The ballots shall be printed on tinted paper containing a water-marked design, and they shall be kept secret from all persons not engaged in the preparation of the ballots until the day of election. The printing, perforating, padding, numbering, and amount of the ballots, and the kind of type used in printing the same, shall be substantially the same, as nearly as may be, as is used for the preparation of ballots for state and county elections, except as may be otherwise herein provided.

§ 9. Bound in books. All ballots, when printed, shall be bound in stub-books, each book to consist of ten, or some multiple of ten ballots, and so issued. A record of the number of ballots printed by them shall be kept by the city clerk.

§ 10. Registration. At any such municipal election, the original affidavits of registration, or carbon copies thereof, shall be used therefor, and no person shall be entitled to vote at such election unless he has registered and shall have resided in the city at least thirty days prior to the day of election.

§ 11. Index to registration books. Before opening the polls the election board must post in separate convenient places, at or near the polling place and easy of access to the electors not less than four of the copies of the index to the book of affidavits of registration furnished for that precinct.

§ 12. Oath of election officers. Before opening the polls, the election officers must take and subscribe to an oath to faithfully perform the duties imposed upon them by law. Any elector of the city may administer and certify to such oath.

§ 13. Booths. The clerk shall provide a sufficient number of voting booths or compartments to accommodate the voters, and of such a character that each voter in the marking of his ballot will be screened from the observation of others.

§ 14. Care of ballot-box. Before receiving any ballots the election board shall, in the presence of such persons as may be assembled at the polling place, open, exhibit and close the ballot-box; and thereafter it must not be removed from the polling place or presence of the bystanders, until all the ballots have been counted, nor must it be opened until after the polls are finally closed.

§ 15. Opening and closing polls. The polls must be and remain open on the day of such an election between such hours as the board of trustees may determine, but not less than eight consecutive hours. The hours of opening and closing the polls shall be specified in the notice of election, otherwise such hours shall be the same as those provided for general state elections. Before the board receive any ballots, they must cause it to be proclaimed aloud at the place of election that the polls are open.

§ 16. Manner of voting. Any elector desiring to vote shall write his or her name and address on the roster provided for that purpose. If no challenge is interposed, or if a challenge be interposed and overruled, the election officer shall give him a blank ballot, after registering the number of the same. The voter shall then be permitted to enter the voting booth and stamp his ballot. No persons shall be permitted within six feet of any voting booth except those voting or those assisting voters in the manner authorized by law. Before leaving the booth the voter shall fold the ballot so that the number thereof only is visible. He shall then hand it to the inspector who shall announce the name of the voter and number of his ballot. If found to correspond, the inspector shall tear off the number from the ballot and deposit the ballot in the ballot-box. Any member of the election board may administer and certify oaths required to be administered during the progress of the election.

§ 17. Assisting voters. Voters who cannot read, or by reason of physical disability are unable to mark their ballots may be assisted in voting in the manner provided by section one thousand two hundred eight of the Political Code.

§ 18. Challenges. Voters may be challenged and the challenge disposed of as provided in sections one thousand two hundred thirty-one to one thousand two hundred forty-two inclusive of the Political Code.

§ 19. Spoiled ballot. Any voter who shall spoil a ballot shall return the same to the inspector and obtain another. The inspector shall thereupon cancel the spoiled ballot by drawing two crossed lines over the face thereof in ink.

§ 20. Closing polls. When the polls are closed that fact must be proclaimed aloud at the place of election; and after such proclamation, no ballot must be received; provided, however, that if at the hour of closing there are any other voters in the polling place, or in line at the door, who are qualified to vote and have not been able to do so since appearing, the polls shall be kept open a sufficient time to enable them to vote.

§ 21. Defacing unused and spoiled ballots. Immediately upon the closing of the polls, and before opening the ballot-box and proceeding to count the ballots, the inspector shall deface all the unused and spoiled ballots by drawing across the face thereof, in red ink, with a pen, two lines which shall cross each other; and all spoiled and unused ballots shall be placed within and sealed in an envelope before the ballot-box is opened.

§ 22. Canvass of vote. As soon as the polls are finally closed the officers must immediately proceed to canvass the votes given at such election. The canvass must be public, in the presence of bystanders, and must be continued without adjournment until completed and the result thereof is declared.

§ 23. Ballots folded together. If two or more separate ballots are found so folded together as to present the appearance of a single ballot, they must be laid aside until the count of the ballots is completed; then, if upon comparison of the count with the number of names of electors on the lists which have been kept by the clerks, it appears that the two ballots thus folded together were cast by one elector, they must be rejected.

§ 24. Ballots in excess of names on list destroyed. The ballots must be immediately replaced in the box, and if the ballots in the box exceed in number the names on the lists, one of the officers must publicly, and without looking into the box, draw out therefrom singly, and destroy, unopened, a number of ballots equal to such excess; and the board of election must make a record, upon the poll list of the number of ballots so drawn and destroyed. The number of ballots agreeing or being thus made to agree with the number of names on the lists, the lists must be signed by the members of the board.

§ 25. Count. After the lists are thus signed, the board must proceed to open the ballots and count and ascertain the number of votes cast for each person voted for. All ballots rejected for illegality must have indorsed upon the ballot the cause of such rejection, and be signed by a majority of the election board, and thereafter strung upon a string.

§ 26. Tallies. Each clerk must write down each office to be filled, and the name of each person marked in each ballot as voted for, to fill such office, and keep the number of votes by tallies, as they are read aloud. Such tallies must be made with pen and ink as the name of each candidate voted for is read aloud from the respective ballot, and immediately upon the completion of the tallies the clerks who respectively complete the same must draw two heavy lines in ink from the last tally mark to the end of the line in which such tallies terminate, and also write the initials of the person making the last tally in such line. The ballot so read and the tally sheet so kept must, during the reading and tallying, be within the clear view of watchers at the count.

§ 27. Rules for counting ballots. (a) In canvassing the votes any ballot which is not marked as provided by law shall be void; but such ballot must be preserved and returned with the other ballots; provided, however, that two or more impressions of the voting stamp in one voting square, or a cross (X) made partly within and partly without a voting square or space shall not make such ballot void. Any name written upon a ballot shall be counted for such name for the office under which it is written, provided it is written in the blank space therefor, whether or not a cross (X) is stamped or made with pen or pencil in the voting square after the name so written.

(b) If a voter marks more names than there are persons to be elected to an office, or if, for any reason, it is impossible to determine the voter's choice for any office to be filled, his ballot shall not be counted for such office.

(c) If a voter stamps in the voting square after the name of any candidate and also writes the name of a person for such office in the blank space, such act does not invalidate his ballot, but his vote shall not be counted for any person for that office, but as to all other offices the ballot must be counted for the candidates opposite whose names the ballot is stamped in the voting squares.

(d) No mark upon a ballot which is unauthorized by this act shall be held to invalidate such ballot, unless it shall appear that such mark was placed thereon by the voter for the purpose of identifying such ballot.

§ 28. After counting. The ballot, as soon as the names marked on it as voted for are read and verified, must be strung on a string by one of the officers and must not thereafter be examined by any person, but must, as soon as all are counted, be carefully sealed in a strong envelope, each member of the board writing his name across the seal.

§ 29. Lists containing number of votes. As soon as all the votes are counted and the ballots sealed up, lists must be attached to the tally lists containing the names of persons voted for and for what office, and the number of votes given for each candidate, the number being written at full length, and such lists must be signed by the members of the board.

§ 30. Lists sent to city clerk. Posting returns. Returns sent to city clerk. The board must, before it adjourns, inclose in a cover, and seal up and direct to the city clerk, the copy of the register upon which one of the officers marked the word "voted" as the ballots were received, all certificates of registration received by it, one of the lists of the persons challenged, one copy of the list of voters, and one of the tally lists, and list attached thereto. The board must also, before it adjourns, post conspicuously, on the outside of the polling place, a copy of the result of the votes cast at such polling place; such copy of the result must be signed by the members of the board. The board must also immediately transmit unsealed to the city clerk a copy of the result of the votes cast at such polling place, which copy must be signed by the members of the board, and which copy shall be open to the inspection of the public. It shall be a misdemeanor for any person to remove or deface such posted copy of the result or to delay or change the copy to be delivered to the city clerk.

§ 31. Other lists sent to county clerk. The other lists of voters, tally list and list attached thereto must be sent to the city clerk or registrar and retained by him open to inspection of all electors for at least six months.

§ 32. Delivery of sealed packages. The sealed packages containing the register, lists, papers, and ballots, must, before the board adjourns, be delivered to one of its members, to be determined by lot, unless otherwise agreed upon.

§ 33. Delivery of packages. What packages to contain. The member to whom such packages are delivered, must, without delay, deliver such packages without their having been opened, to the city clerk, who shall indorse on such packages the name of the party delivering them and date of such delivery.

One package to contain the voted ballots, only; one package to contain one poll and tally list only; one package to contain the precinct registers, index to register, list of voters challenged, and list of assisted voters; and one package to contain the unused ballots.

§ 34. Ballots kept twelve months. On receipt of the packages the clerk must file the one containing the ballots, and must keep it unopened and unaltered for twelve months, after which time, if there is not a contest commenced in some tribunal having jurisdiction about such election, he must burn the package without having opened or examined its contents.

§ 35. Canvass of returns by board of trustees. The board of trustees must meet at their usual place of meeting, on the first Monday after such election, to canvass the returns and install the newly elected officers.

The board of trustees must declare elected the persons having the highest number of votes given for each office. Upon the completion of the canvass and before installing the new officers, the board shall pass a resolution reciting the fact of the election and such other matters as are enumerated in the following section.

§ 36. Statement of result. The clerk of the board must, as soon as the result is declared, enter on the records of such board a statement of such result, which statement must show:

1. The whole number of votes cast in the city;
2. The names of the persons voted for, and the propositions voted upon;
3. The office to fill which each person was voted for;
4. The number of votes given at each precinct to each of such persons, and for and against each of such propositions;
5. The number of votes given in the city to each of such persons, and for and against each of such propositions voted upon.

§ 37. Certificate of election. The city clerk must immediately make out and deliver to each of such persons elected a certificate of election, signed by him, and duly authenticated; he shall also impose the constitutional oath of office and have them subscribe thereto.

§ 38. Campaign expenditures. It shall not be necessary for any candidate or nominee for a municipal office to file a statement of his expenditures used in aid of his election.

§ 39. General election law of state to apply. In all other respects, not otherwise provided for herein, such general municipal elections shall be held and conducted in accordance with the general election laws of the state so far as the same may be applicable. This act shall be liberally construed to promote the objects hereof, and no error, omission or irregularity shall ever be held to invalidate such an election providing the provisions of this act have been substantially complied with.

ACT 2389p.

An act to provide for the maintenance by municipalities of lighting systems along public streets, alleys and other public places and for the lighting thereof by electric current, gas or other illuminating agent; and for the assessment of the cost and expense thereof upon the property benefited and the manner of collecting such assessments.

§ 1. Authority to order works for municipal lighting district. Whenever the public interest or convenience may require, the city council of any municipality in this state in which a district has been established for lighting streets, alleys and other public places, shall have full power and authority to order the poles, posts, wires, pipes, conduits, lamps and other necessary works and appliances already installed in or along the whole or any part of any one or more of the public streets, alleys or other public places in such municipality, for lighting purposes, to be maintained, and to order electric current, gas or other illuminating agent to be furnished for such lighting service for a period to commence at a time to be stated in the contract hereinafter provided, but not to exceed five years, from the date thereof, in the manner and under proceedings hereinafter provided.

§ 2. Resolution of intention. Report of board in charge of public improvements. Before ordering any improvement to be made which is authorized by section one of this act, the city council shall adopt a resolution declaring its intention so to do, briefly describing the proposed improvements and designating said district by describing the exterior boundaries thereof to be benefited by said improvements and to be assessed to pay the costs and expenses thereof, and to be known as the assessment district; provided, however, that the city council may, in its discretion, order in said resolution of intention that a certain portion or percentage of the costs and expenses of said improvement, the amount of which portion or percentage shall be specified in said resolution, shall be paid out of the treasury of such municipality from such fund as the city council may designate. The city council shall, in said resolution of intention, provide that the maintenance of said appliances and the furnishing of said electric current, gas or other illuminating agent shall be for a period stated in said resolution of intention, but not exceeding five years. The city council shall also in the same resolution refer the proposed improvement to the board, commission or officer of the city having charge and control of the construction of public improvements of the kind described in such resolution or to the city engineer or to such other board or officer of the city, or competent person employed by the city for such purpose, as the council may name in said resolution, and direct such board, commission, officer or person to make and file with the clerk of the council a report in writing, presenting the following:

- (a) Plans and specifications of the proposed improvement.
- (b) An estimate of the cost of said improvement, for the period of time specified in the resolution of intention.
- (c) A diagram showing the assessment district above referred to and also the boundaries and dimensions of the respective subdivisions of land within said district as the same existed at the time of the passage of the resolution of intention, each of which subdivisions shall be given a separate number in red ink upon said diagram. The said diagram shall govern for all details as to the extent of said assessment district.
- (d) A proposed assessment of the total amount of the costs and expenses of the proposed improvement upon the several subdivisions of land in said district in proportion to the estimated benefits to be received by such subdivisions, respectively, from said improvements; provided, that whenever any portion or percentage of the costs and expenses of such improvement is ordered to be paid out of the treasury of the municipality, as hereinbefore provided, the amount of such proportion or percentage shall first be deducted from the total estimated cost and expense of such improvement, and the assessment upon property, proposed in said report, shall include only the remainder of said estimated costs and expenses. Said assessment shall refer to such subdivisions upon said diagrams by the respective red ink numbers thereon and it shall show the names of the owners, if known, otherwise designating them as unknown. No mistakes in the name of the owner of any parcel of land shall affect the validity of the assessment thereon.

§ 3. Consideration of report. Hearing of protests. Upon the filing of the report as provided in section two of this act, the said clerk shall present the same to the city council for consideration, and said council may modify the same in any respect and in case of any such modification, the report as modified shall stand as the report for the purpose of all subsequent proceedings. Thereafter, the council by resolution, shall appoint a time and place for hearing protests in relation to the proposed improvement, which time shall not be less than twenty days from the date of the passage of said resolution, and shall direct the clerk of the city council to give notice of said hearing in the manner hereinafter provided.

§ 4. "Notice of local improvement" to be posted and published. After the passage of the resolution of intention the clerk of said city shall cause to be conspicuously posted along all streets and parts of streets or other public places where said improvement is proposed to be made, at not more than three hundred feet apart, but not less than three in all, notices of the passage of said resolution. Said notice shall be headed: "Notice of local improvement," in letters of not less than one inch in length and shall, in legible characters, state the fact and date of the passage of the resolution of intention, and of the filing of said report and the date fixed for the hearing of protests and briefly describe the improvement proposed to be made and refer to said resolution and report for further particulars. He shall also cause a notice similar in substance to be published by two successive insertions in a daily or weekly newspaper published and circulated in said municipality and designated by said council for that purpose. Said notices must be posted and published as above provided, at least ten days before the date set for the hearing of said protest.

§ 5. Objections. Hearing. Adoption of report. Assessment levy. Report. Unexpended balance. Any person interested, objecting to the proposed improvement or to the assessment therefor, may file a written protest stating his objections thereto, with the clerk of the city council at or before the time set for the hearing provided in section three hereof. The clerk shall indorse on every such protest the date of its reception by him, and at the time appointed for the hearing as above provided, shall present to said council all protests so filed. The council shall hear and consider said protests, at the time appointed therefor, as above provided, or at any time to which the hearings thereof may be adjourned, and pass upon the same, and may confirm, modify or correct said proposed assessment, and its decision shall be final and conclusive and, if such protests are sustained, the proceedings shall be abandoned but may be renewed at any time; and if such protests are denied, the proposed assessment shall be confirmed, and the city council shall be deemed to have acquired jurisdiction to further proceed in accordance with the provisions of this act. When, upon the hearing, said proposed assessment is confirmed, modified or corrected, or in case no protests are filed, the report provided for in section two hereof shall be adopted as a whole, with any modifications or corrections that have been made therein, and the city council shall, by resolution, declare its action upon said report and assessment, and order said proposed improvement to be made. And the city council shall thereupon levy the assessment for the proportion or percentage required to pay for said improvement for the period of time beginning with the date of such levy and ending with the close of the following fiscal year, upon the respective subdivisions of land in the assessment district, and thereafter during the period of time provided in the resolution of intention, the city council shall on or before the beginning of the following fiscal year, levy in like manner the assessment for the proportion or percentage required to pay for such improvement for such year, and said board, commission or officer of the city authorized therefor shall, on or before sixty days prior to the commencement of such fiscal year, make and file with the city council a report in writing, presenting the following:

1. An estimate of the cost of said improvement for the ensuing fiscal year.

2. A diagram showing the assessment district referred to in the resolution of intention, as provided by section two of this act, also the boundaries and dimensions of the respective subdivisions of land within said district as the same existed at the time of the making of said last-mentioned diagram, each of which subdivisions shall be given a separate number in red ink on said diagram.

3. A schedule showing the proportionate amount of said assessment to be charged in proportion to the benefits to be received by each subdivision shown on the last above-mentioned diagram.

Any unexpended balance remaining in such fund at the expiration of any year shall be credited to the fund to be raised for the next ensuing fiscal year, and the assessment to be levied, as herein provided, for such ensuing year, shall be only for the amount required therefor after deducting from such estimated amount the amount of any such unexpended balance. Any unexpended balance remaining in such fund at the expiration of the period of time provided for in said resolution of intention shall, upon demands therefor made upon the city council of any such city, within one year from and after the expiration of the time specified in said ordinance of intention, be repaid pro rata to the persons by whom such assessments were paid; provided, however, that any such unexpended balance remaining in such fund and not demanded within said period of one year, as herein provided, shall be placed in such fund as the city council may order.

§ 6. Contest of validity of assessment. The validity of any assessment levied under this act shall not be contested in any action or proceeding unless the same is commenced within thirty days after the time said assessment is levied, and any appeal from a final judgment in such an action or proceeding must be perfected within thirty days after the entry of such judgment.

§ 7. Duty of clerk of council. Upon the levying of such assessment as provided in section five hereof, the clerk of said council shall transmit to the city tax collector the diagram and assessment upon which such levy is based.

§ 8. Assessment-roll. Assessments payable immediately. Lien. Publication of notice of record of assessment-roll. Delinquent assessments. Upon the receipt of the diagram and assessment referred to in the last preceding section, the tax collector shall record the same in a suitable book to be kept for that purpose, and append thereto his certificate of the date of such recording, and such record shall be the assessment-roll. From the date of such recording all persons shall be deemed to have notice of the contents of such assessment-roll. Immediately upon such recording, the several assessments contained in such assessment-roll shall become due and payable, and each of such assessments shall be a lien upon the property against which it is made, paramount to all other liens except liens for state, county and municipal taxes, and shall only be discharged by payment of the assessment or by redemption of the land after sale for delinquency. The tax collector shall, upon the recording of such assessment, give notice by publication for five days in a daily newspaper, published and circulated in said city, or by two insertions in a weekly newspaper so published and circulated, that said assessment has been recorded in his office and that all sums assessed therein are due and payable immediately, and that payment of said sums must be made to him within thirty days after the date of the first publication or posting, which date shall be stated in the notice. Said notice shall also contain the statement that all assessments not paid before the expiration of the said thirty days shall be delinquent, and thereupon ten per cent of the amount of each such assessment shall be added thereto. When payment of any assessment is made, the tax collector shall mark opposite such assessment the word, "paid," with the date of the payment thereof, and shall give a receipt therefor. Upon the expiration of said period of thirty days, all assessments then unpaid shall become delinquent, and the tax collector shall mark each such assessment "delinquent," and shall add ten per cent to the amount thereof.

§ 9. Sale of property upon which assessments are delinquent. The tax collector shall, within thirty days after the date of such delinquency, begin the publication of a notice of sale of the property upon which the assessments have not been paid, which publication must be made by two insertions in a daily or weekly newspaper published and circulated in the city. The dates fixed for the sale of the property upon which assessments have not been paid shall be not less than five days, nor more than ten days, after the last publication of said list, or after the completion of posting—as the case may be. The list so published must contain a description of each lot or parcel of land delinquent, and opposite each description the name of the owner in the assessment-roll, and the amount of the assessment and costs due, including the cost of advertisement, which cost of advertisement shall not exceed the sum of fifty cents for each parcel of land separately assessed. He shall append to and publish with said delinquent list a notice that unless each assessment delinquent, together with the penalty and cost thereof, is paid, the property upon which the assessment is a lien will be sold at public auction, at a time and place to be specified in said notice.

At any time after such delinquency and prior to the sale of any parcels of land assessed and delinquent any person may pay the assessment thereon, together with the penalties and costs due thereon, including the cost of advertising, if such payment is made after the first publication of notice of sale.

At the time and place fixed therein the tax collector shall proceed with such sale, commencing at the head of the list of lands contained in such notice and continuing in the numerical order thereof until all the property is sold; provided, that he may postpone, or continue, the sale from day to day until the sale is completed. The tax collector shall separately sell each parcel of land described in such notice, or so much thereof as shall be necessary to realize the amount assessed against the same, together with the penalties and costs as aforesaid, and fifty cents for a certificate of sale. In case there is no other purchaser the same shall be struck off to the city as purchaser.

§ 10. Certificate of sale. The tax collector shall issue for each sale an original and duplicate certificate of sale, referring to the proceedings, describing the parcel sold, and giving the name of the purchaser and the amount for which said parcel was sold. The original certificate he shall deliver to the purchaser, and the duplicate he shall keep on file in his office.

§ 11. Redemption of property. At any time before the expiration of one year from the date of the sale, any property sold under the provisions of the preceding sections may be redeemed by the payment to the tax collector of the amount for which the property was sold, with an additional penalty of twenty per cent of said amount. Said redemption money shall be paid by the tax collector to the person holding the original certificate of sale upon his delivering up the same and receipting for the amount received from the tax collector therefor. Upon redemption of any parcel of land the tax collector shall enter the fact and date of such redemption upon the duplicate certificate of sale thereof.

§ 12. Deed to property. Notice to owner. Owner must pay for service of notice. At any time after the expiration of twelve months from the date of sale, the tax collector must execute to the purchaser, or his assignee on his application, if such purchaser or assignee has complied with the provisions of this section, a deed of the property sold, in which shall be recited substantially the matters contained in the certificate, also any assignment thereof and the fact that no person has redeemed the property. The tax collector shall receive from the applicant for a deed, one dollar for making such deed, unless the municipality is the purchaser, in which case no charge shall be made therefor. The purchaser or his assignee must, at least thirty days before he applies for a deed, serve upon the owner of the property, and upon the occupant of such property, if the same is occupied, a written notice setting forth a description of the property, that said property has been sold for a delinquent assessment (specifying the improvement for which the same was made), the amount for which it was sold, the amount necessary to redeem at the time of giving notice, and the time when such purchaser or assignee will apply to the tax collector for a deed.

If the said owner cannot be found, after due diligence, said notice must be posted in a conspicuous place upon said property at least thirty days before the time stated therein, at which the application for a deed will be made. The person applying for a deed must file with the tax collector an affidavit or affidavits showing that notice of such application has been given, as herein required, and if the notice was not served on the owner of the property personally, that due diligence was used to find said owner; which affidavit or affidavits must be filed by the tax collector in his office. If redemption of the property is made after such affidavits are filed, and more than eleven months from the date of sale, the person making such redemption must pay, in addition to the other amounts required, three dollars for the service of notice and the making of such affidavits, which amount shall be paid over to the purchaser or his assignee in the same manner as other sums paid for redemption. No deed for any property sold for delinquent assessment shall be made until the purchaser or his assignee has complied with all the provisions of this section, and filed the proper affidavits with the tax collector.

§ 13. Deed prima facie evidence. The deed of the tax collector shall be prima facie evidence of the truth of all matters recited therein, and of the regularity of all proceedings prior to the execution thereof, and of title in the grantee.

§ 14. Collection and disbursement of fund for improvement. The funds collected by the tax collector under the proceedings herein provided for, shall be paid by said tax collector, as fast as collected, to the treasurer of the city, who shall place the same in a special fund designated by the name of the improvement proceeding, and payment shall be made out of said special fund only for the purpose provided for in this act. To expedite the making of any such improvement, the city council may at any time, transfer into said special fund, out of any money in the general fund, such sums as it may deem necessary, and the sums so transferred shall be deemed a loan to such special fund, and shall be repaid out of the proceeds of the assessments provided for in this act.

§ 15. Contracts to lowest bidder. Supervision of work. Work done by contract. At any time after the transmission of the diagram and assessment to the city tax collector, as in this act provided, the city council may let the contract or contracts for such improvement. Every such contract shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder after notice published by two insertions in some newspaper published in such municipality and designated by the city council for that purpose. Every bid shall be accompanied by a certified check amounting to ten per cent of the bid, payable to the order of said city clerk, and the same shall be forfeited to the municipality in case the bidder depositing the same does not, within fifteen days after the notice that the contract has been awarded to him, enter into a contract with the municipality for the work, the faithful performance of which shall be secured by an undertaking in such penal sums as the city council shall require, with sureties satisfactory to said council. The contract must provide that the work shall be done, and the work must be done, strictly in accordance with the plans and specifications contained in the report provided for in this act. The work must be done under the supervision of the board, officer or person designated by the city council, and no work shall be paid for until it has been accepted by said board, officer or person. If the contractor abandons the work, or fails to proceed with the same as rapidly as required by his contract, the said city council may relet the work in the same manner as in the case of the first letting thereof and retain the amount of the cost of the same, and of any expense incidental to the reletting out of any funds due or to become due to the contractor, and also hold him and his sureties responsible for such cost and expense, and for any damages resulting from such abandonment or failure upon his bond; provided, however, that the city council, in its discretion may, at any time within ten days after the award of any contract, as above provided, or at any time within ten days after the time fixed for the opening of bids, if no bids have been received, order by resolution adopted by a vote of two-thirds of all its members, that said proposed contract be not made, and that the municipality itself execute the work embraced therein, in accordance with the plans and specifications adopted for such work, and employ the labor, and provide the material, appliances, supplies and illuminating agent necessary therefor; and the cost and expenses of such work shall be paid out of the aforesaid funds; and provided, further, that the amount appropriated and used from said funds for said purpose shall not exceed the amount of the bid upon which the award of contract aforesaid was made, or, if no bids have been received and the work is to be executed by the municipality itself, as herein provided, such cost and expense shall not exceed the amount of the estimate thereof provided for in section two of this act; and if such cost and expense shall exceed the amount of said bid, or of said estimate in case no bids are received, then such excess shall be met out of any moneys in the general fund in the treasury of said city; and provided, further, that at any time after the funds for the proposed improvement, or any part thereof, shall be in the hands of said treasurer, the city council, in its discretion, may, without calling for bids, order, by resolution adopted by a vote of two-thirds of all its members, that the municipality itself perform the work of such improvement, or the respective parts thereof, in accordance with the specifications and plans adopted for such work, and employ the labor, and provide the material, appliances, supplies, and illuminating agent necessary therefor; in which case the cost and expense of such work shall be paid out of the aforesaid funds and if such costs and expense shall exceed the amount of such estimates, then such excess shall be met out of the moneys in the general fund of the treasury of said city.

§ 16. Abandonment of proceedings. The city council may, at any time prior to the awarding of the contract for the improvement herein provided, by resolution abandon such proceedings and upon such abandonment all money collected for such improvement shall be repaid to the several parties paying the same.

§ 17. Application of act. This act shall in no wise affect an act entitled "An act to provide for the acquisition, installation, construction, reconstruction, extension, repair and maintenance by municipalities of waterworks, electric power works, gas works, lighting works, and other public works and utilities; for the assessment of the cost and expenses thereof upon the property benefited; and for the issuance of improvement bonds to represent such assessments, and to repeal an act entitled "An act to provide for the lighting of public streets, lanes, alleys, courts and places in municipalities, and for the assessment of the costs and expenses thereof upon the property benefited thereby," approved March 21, 1905, approved June 6, 1913, or amendments thereto, or any other acts on the same subject, or applied to proceedings had thereunder, but it is intended to and does provide an alternate system of proceedings for making the improvements provided for by this act; and it shall be within the discretion of the city council of any municipality to proceed in making such improvements either under the provisions of this act, or under the provisions of such other acts; but when any proceedings are commenced under this act, the provisions of this act, and of such amendments thereof as may be hereafter adopted, and no other, shall apply to all such proceedings, and any provisions contained in said acts or any acts in conflict with the provisions hereof shall be void and of no effect as to the proceedings commenced under the provisions of this act. The election of the city council to proceed under the provisions of this act shall be expressed in its resolution of intention to order said improvement to be made.

§ 18. In cities having no newspaper. Any notice required by this act to be published in a daily or weekly newspaper may be given in municipalities where there is no such daily or weekly newspaper published and circulated, by posting such notice for four days in three public places in such municipalities.

§ 19. Definitions. The following words and phrases shall, where used in this act, have the following meanings:

1. The term "improvement" includes all of the improvements mentioned in section one of this act.

2. The terms "municipality" and "city" include all incorporated cities, cities and counties, and other corporations organized for municipal purposes.

3. The terms "city council" and "council" include any body or board in which by law is vested the legislative power of any municipality.

4. The terms "clerk" and "city clerk" include any person or officer who acts as clerk of said city council.

5. The terms "treasurer" and "city treasurer" include any person or officer who has charge and makes payment of the city funds.

6. The term "tax collector" includes any person or officer who is charged with the duty of collecting municipal assessments.

§ 20. Construction. Title. The provisions of this act shall be liberally construed to promote the objects thereof. This act may be designated and referred to as the "street lighting act of 1919."

TITLE 367a.

NATIONAL CITY.

ACT 2420.

An act conveying certain tide-lands and lands lying under inland navigable waters, situate in the bay of San Diego to the city of National City, in furtherance of navigation and commerce and the fisheries, and providing for the government, management and control thereof.

[Approved March 21, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 18. In effect July 27, 1917.]

Whereas, since the admission of California into the Union, all tide-lands along the navigable waters of this state and all lands lying beneath the navigable waters of the state have been and now are held in trust by the state for the benefit of all the inhabitants thereof for the purpose of navigation, commerce and fishing; and

Whereas, it is the duty of the state to govern, administer and control such lands and to improve and develop navigation, commerce and fishing thereon and thereover; and

Whereas, the state has not the general power of alienation of such lands, but may, when the interests of commerce, navigation and fishing require it, convey to municipalities limited and defined areas of such lands with the power to govern, control, improve and develop the same in the interest of all the inhabitants of the state; and

Whereas, the conveyance to the city of National City of the lands hereinafter described, together with the right to govern, control, improve and develop the same will result in great advantage and benefit to all the inhabitants of the state, it is provided:

§ 1. Tide-lands granted to National City. There is hereby granted and conveyed to the city of National City, in the county of San Diego, state of California, all of the lands situate on the city of National City side of said bay, lying and being between the line of mean high tide and the pier-head line in said bay, as the same has been or may hereafter be established by the federal government, and between the prolongation into the bay of San Diego to the pier-head line of the boundary line between the city of National City and the city of San Diego, and the prolongation into the bay of San Diego to the pier-head line of the boundary line between the city of National City and the city of Chula Vista.

§ 2. Use of lands. The city of National City shall have and there is hereby granted to it the right to make upon said premises all improvements, betterments and structures of every kind and character, proper, needful and useful for the development of commerce, navigation and fishing, including the construction of all wharves, docks, piers, slips, and the construction and operation of a municipal belt line railroad in connection with said dock system.

§ 3. No discrimination in rates. No grant, conveyance or transfer of any character shall ever be made by the city of National City of the lands described in section one, or of any part thereof, but the said city shall continue to hold said lands and the whole thereof unless the same revert or be receded to the state of California. The harbor of National City shall remain always a public harbor and the said city shall never charge or permit to be charged on any of the premises by this act conveyed any unreasonable rate or toll, nor make nor suffer to be made any unreasonable charge, burden or discrimination. In the event of a violation of any of the provisions of this act, the said lands and the whole thereof shall revert to the state of California.

§ 4. Maximum term of lease. The city of National City may lease for a term not exceeding twenty-five years any wharves, docks or piers constructed by it, and all such leases so executed shall reserve to the board of trustees of the city of National City, the right and privilege, by ordinance, to annul, change or modify such leases as in its judgment may seem proper. The aggregate amount of all wharves, docks and piers so leased by said city shall never exceed seventy-five per cent of all the wharves, docks and piers actually constructed.

§ 5. Conditions of lease. The city of National City, may lease not to exceed an aggregate of seventy-five per cent of the lands conveyed to it by this act, for a term not to exceed twenty-five years and upon which wharves, docks or piers have not been actually constructed, and, except by consent of the board of trustees of the city of National City under an ordinance of such board duly adopted, such leases shall not be assignable or transferable, nor shall any lessee have the right to sublet the leased premises or any part thereof, and all such leases so executed shall reserve to the board of trustees of the city of National City, the right and privilege, by ordinance to annul, change or modify such leases as in its judgment may seem proper; provided, however, that nothing in this act contained shall operate as a limitation upon the right and authority of the harbor commission of the state of California, at any time prior to the city of National City issuing its bonds as required in section six hereof, of leasing any of the lands herein granted and conveyed to said National City, and the right and authority to enter into such leases at any time prior to issuing of such bonds, is hereby expressly conferred upon said harbor commission.

§ 6. Harbor improvement by city. The foregoing conveyance is made upon the condition that the city of National City shall, within five years from the approval of this act, exclusive of such time as said city may be restrained from so doing by injunction issued out of any court of this state or of the United States, and exclusive of such further delay as may be caused by unavoidable misfortune or great public or municipal calamity, issue its bonds for harbor improvement purposes in an amount of not less than one hundred thousand dollars, and shall, within five years after the approval of this act, exclusive of the time in this section hereinbefore mentioned, commence the work of such harbor improvement, and the said work and improvement shall be prosecuted with such diligence, that not less than one hundred thousand dollars shall be expended thereon within five years from the approval of this act. If said bonds be not issued or said work be not prosecuted and completed as and in the manner herein provided, then the lands by this act conveyed to the city of National City shall revert to the State of California.

§ 7. State's right to use docks. The state hereby reserves unto it self at all times, the reasonable use of and access to all wharves, docks, piers, slips and quays hereafter constructed under the provisions of this act, for any vessel or water craft owned, leased, or operated by the state.

An act providing for the return to the national guard of the state of all those organizations, officers, and members of the national guard who entered the service of the United States in 1917 in the war against Germany, and relating to their privileges, exemptions and retirements.

§ 1. Federal service considered as continuous state service. Each and all of the officers and members of the national guard and the naval militia of the state of California who were called into service by the call of the President and who were on the fifth day of August, 1917, drafted into federal service are hereby granted leave of absence from the state forces from the time of call or draft into federal service as national guard and until they shall have been mustered out from the federal service, and while serving as federal troops their time shall be considered as continuous in so far as it pertains to their service as state troops; provided, they re-enter the national guard of this state within ninety days of muster out from federal service.

§ 2. Privileges, exemptions and retirements. All members of the national guard who entered federal service or whose term of office or enlistment would have expired had they remained in the national guard of the state, are hereby granted all privileges, exemptions and retirements up to the date of being mustered out of said federal service, the same as if they had remained in the national guard of the state. In computing the term of service for any members regarding privileges, exemptions or retirements, provided by law, for officers and members of the national guard, the time which any officer or enlisted man has served in the army or navy of the United States shall be computed and allowed for as continuous service in so far as it pertains to state service; provided, that they re-enter the national guard of the state within a period of ninety days from the date of muster out of federal service.

§ 3. Preference in reorganization. When reorganizing the national guard of the state, those units who have or may be in federal service shall be first considered in such reorganization; provided, they shall request such re-entry into state service within the ninety days from the period of discharge from federal service.

§ 4. Rank. In compliance with the national defense act, all officers must be recommissioned and all enlisted men re-enlisted. All officers will be commissioned with the same rank as that held by them upon their entrance into federal service, or such rank as they may have attained while in federal service; provided, that in all cases officers must be commissioned in accordance with the table of organization provided by the war department of the United States government.

§ 5. Pay not allowed during leave of absence. No organization, officer or member hereby granted leave of absence shall draw or be allowed any pay, allowance, money or property from the state of California, during the said leave of absence, but organizations shall be entitled to all military allowances provided by law as soon as they are recruited up to the minimum required by law and accepted as national guard, and that fact is reported and approved by the governor.

TITLE 369a.

NAUTICAL SCHOOL.

ACT 2436.

An act to establish a nautical school at the port of San Francisco, to provide for the conduct and maintenance thereof, to make an appropriation therefor, and to authorize the governor to request and to receive aid from the United States in compliance with the provisions of an act of congress approved March 4, 1911.

[Approved May 14, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 527. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. "California state nautical school" established. There is hereby established at the port of San Francisco a nautical school to be known as "the California state nautical school," for the instruction of pupils in navigation, steamship-marine engineering, and all matters pertaining to the proper construction, equipment and sailing of vessels, or any particular branch thereof.

§ 2. School board. The governor, the president of the state board of education, and the president of the state board of harbor commissioners shall constitute the nautical school board, which shall be the governing body of the school hereby established. The expenses incurred by the members of said board while engaged in the business of the nautical school shall be refunded to them from the appropriation herein provided.

§ 3. Duties of board. The said nautical school board shall provide and maintain at the nautical school, for the instruction and training of pupils in the science and practice of navigation, accommodations for the school on board a proper vessel, shall purchase and provide books, stationery, apparatus and supplies needed in the work of the school, shall appoint and remove instructors and other necessary employees and determine their number and compensation, shall fix the terms and conditions upon which pupils shall be received and instructed in the school, and be dismissed or discharged therefrom, and shall establish all regulations necessary for the proper management and conduct of the school and for carrying out efficiently the purposes of this act.

§ 4. Use of United States vessels. The nautical school board may receive from the United States government and use for the accommodation of the school, such vessel or vessels as the secretary of the navy may furnish. The governor is hereby authorized and directed to apply in writing to the secretary of the navy for a suitable vessel of the navy, with all her apparel, charts, books and instruments of navigation for the use of the school hereby established, and to request that the President of the United States detail proper officers of the navy as superintendents or instructors in the said school.

§ 5. Nautical school fund. There is hereby created the nautical school fund, which shall consist of such money as shall be appropriated from time to time by the legislature, and such sum as may be received from year to year from the government of the United States for the purpose of maintaining the school hereby established in compliance with the provisions of an act of congress entitled "An act for the establishment of marine schools and for other purposes," approved March 4, 1911.

There is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the establishment of said school and for its maintenance during the sixty-ninth and seventieth fiscal years, the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, which shall become available when the nautical school board has received from the secretary of the navy a suitable vessel of the navy for the use of said nautical school.

§ 6. Vouchers. The moneys hereby appropriated shall be expended in accordance with law upon vouchers certified by the superintendent of the nautical school and approved by the nautical school board.

§ 7. Report. A report of the conduct of the affairs of said nautical school, including a statement of the moneys expended in its establishment and maintenance, shall be presented to the legislature at its convening for the forty-third session and at each biennial session thereafter.

TITLE 373.

NET CONTAINER BILL.

ACT 2453.

An act to provide for the indicating of the net quantity of foodstuffs and stuffs intended to be used or prepared for use as food for human beings when sold or offered or exposed for sale in containers and providing penalties for the violation thereof. [Approved May 24, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 247.]

Amended 1915, p. 1263; 1917, p. 87; 1919, p. 145.

The title of the act was amended in 1917 and again in 1919 to read as follows:

An act to provide for the indicating of the net quantity of foodstuffs and stuffs intended to be used or prepared for use as food for human beings, and medicine, when sold or offered or exposed for sale in containers, and providing for the indicating of quantity in the sale of commodities in respect to which there exists a definite trade custom, and providing penalties for the violation thereof. [Stats. 1917, p. 87; 1919, p. 145.]

The remainder of the amendments of 1917 and 1919 follow:

§ 3. Application of act. The provisions of this act shall apply to foodstuffs and stuffs intended to be used or prepared for use as food or medicine for human beings and shall apply to any commodity when sold, offered or exposed for sale in containers. [Amendment approved May 3, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 145.]

§ 5. Designation of quantity. The designation of the quantity of the commodity required by section four of this act shall be in terms of weight, measure or numerical count, subject, however, to the following provisions:

(a) The quantity of the contents so marked shall be the net amount of food or stuff or other commodity in the package or container.

(b) If the designation is by weight it shall be in terms of avoirdupois pounds and ounces; if the designation is in liquid measure it shall be in terms of the United States gallon of two hundred thirty-one cubic inches and its customary subdivisions, i. e., in gallons, quarts, pints, or fluid ounces; provided, that, by like method, such designations may be in terms of the metric system of weight or measure.

(c) The quantity of solids shall be designated in terms of weight, and of fluids in terms of measure, except in case of an article in respect to which there exists a definite trade custom; in such case the designation shall be in terms of weight, or measure, or numerical count, in accordance with such custom.

(d) The quantity of the contents shall be designated in terms of weight or measure, unless the container be marked by numerical count and such numerical count gives accurate information as to the quantity of the food or other commodity in the package. When designation is by numerical count it shall be in English words or Arabic numerals.

(e) The quantity of the contents may be stated in terms of minimum weight, minimum measure or minimum count, but in such cases the designation must approximate the actual quantity and there shall be no tolerance below the stated minimum.

(f) The quantity of viscous or semi-solid foods, or of a mixture of solids and liquids, may be stated in terms of weight and measure. When products are packed in brine or other preserving fluids, the weight or measure of such brine or fluids shall not be included in the weight or measure of the edible or commodity indicated on the container. [Amendment approved May 3, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 146.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 87.

§ 10. Container defined. The term "container" used in this act is hereby defined to be any receptacle or carton into which a commodity is packed, or any wrappings with which any commodity is wrapped or put for sale, or to be offered or exposed for sale. No containers, boxes, or baskets wherein food products or other commodities are packed shall have a false bottom, or be so constructed as to facilitate the perpetration of deception or fraud. [Amendment approved May 3, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 146.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 87.

TITLE 377a.

NEWPORT BEACH.

ACT 2476.

An act granting certain tide-lands and submerged lands of the state of California to the city of Newport Beach, upon certain trusts and conditions.

§ 1. Tide-lands granted to Newport Beach. There is hereby granted to the city of Newport Beach, a municipal corporation of the state of California, and to its successors, all of the right, title and interest of the state of California held by said state by virtue of its sovereignty, in and to all that portion of the tide-lands and submerged lands within the present boundaries of said city, and situated below the line of mean high tide of the Pacific Ocean which border upon and are in front of the upland now owned by said city and such other upland as it may hereafter acquire, to be forever held by said city, and by its successors in trust for the uses and purposes and upon the express conditions following, to wit:

(a) Use of lands. Said lands shall be used by said city and by its successors solely for the establishment, improvement and conduct of a harbor and for the establishment and construction of bulkheads or breakwaters for the protection of lands within its boundaries, or for the protection of its harbor, and for the construction, maintenance and operation thereon of wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays, ways and streets, and other utilities, structures and appliances necessary or convenient for the promotion or accommodation of commerce and navigation, and the protection of the lands within said city. And said city or its successors shall not at any time grant, convey, give or alien said lands or any part thereof to any individual, firm, or corporation for any purposes whatever; provided, that said city or its successors may grant franchises thereon for a period not exceeding twenty-five years for wharves and other public uses and purposes, and may lease said lands or any part thereof for a period not exceeding twenty-five years for purposes consistent with the trust upon which said lands are held by the state of California and with the requirements of commerce or navigation at said harbor.

(b) Improvement of harbor. Said harbor shall be improved by said city without expense to the state and shall always remain a public harbor for all purposes of commerce and navigation, and the state of California shall have at all times the right to use, without charge, all wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays, and other improvements constructed on said lands or any part thereof for any vessel or other water craft or railroad owned or operated by the state of California.

(c) Rates, tolls, etc. In the management, conduct or operation of said harbor, or of any of the utilities, structures, or appliances mentioned in paragraph (a) no discrimination in rates, tolls or charges, or in facilities for any use or service in connection therewith shall ever be made, authorized or permitted by said city, or by its successors. The absolute right to fish in the waters of said harbor with the right of convenient access to said water over said lands for said purpose is hereby reserved to the people of the state of California.

An act granting to the city of Newport Beach, a municipal corporation, the right and authority to construct and maintain sewer, water, gas, and other conduits upon public lands.

[Approved May 25, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1012.]

§1. Conduit rights granted to Newport Beach. There is hereby granted to the city of Newport Beach, a municipal corporation of this state, the right, power and authority to construct and maintain over, across, and along the public lands of the state of California under and bordering upon Newport bay sewer, water, gas, and other pipe lines and conduits, and to go upon said public lands to construct and maintain the same.

TITLE 385.NURSING.*ACT 2508b.

An act to promote the better education of nurses and the better care of the sick in the state of California, to provide for and regulate the examination and registration of graduate nurses, and to provide for the issuance of certificates of registration as registered nurses to qualified applicants by the state board of health, and to repeal an act approved March 20, 1905, entitled, "An act to promote the better education of the practice of nursing the sick in the state of California, to provide for the issuance of certificates of registration as a registered nurse, to qualified applicants of the board of regents of the University of California, and to provide penalties for violation thereof."

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 4½. False representation in nurse's examination. Any person who shall willfully make any false representation or who shall impersonate any other person or permit or aid in any manner any person to impersonate him in connection with any examination or application for examination or registration or request to be examined or registered such person shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [New section added April 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 45.]

§ 11. Monthly report of receipts. Within ten days after the beginning of each month the secretary of the state board of health shall report to the controller the amount and source of all collections made under the provisions of this act, and at the same time all such amounts shall be paid into the state treasury and shall be placed to the credit of the special fund to be known as the fund for examination and registration of nurses; provided, that whenever and as often as there is in the state treasury to the credit of the fund for the examination and registration of nurses, funds in excess of ten thousand dollars the same may be invested by the state board of control in the same manner that the funds of the state school land fund are invested and the interest upon such investment when collected shall be placed to the credit of the fund for the examination and registration of nurses. All amounts paid into this fund shall be held subject to the order of the state board of health, to be used only for the purpose of meeting necessary expenses in the performance of the purposes of and the duties imposed by this act. Claims against the fund shall be audited by the state board of health and by the board of control and shall be paid by the state treasurer upon warrants drawn by the state controller. [Amendment approved April 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 45.]

An act to promote the better education of trained attendants and the better care of the sick in the state of California; to provide for and regulate the examination and licensure of trained attendants; to provide for the issuance of licenses as trained attendants to qualified applicants by the state board of health; to provide that the state board of health shall enforce the provisions hereof; to provide penalties for the violation of any of the provisions hereof and to repeal all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act.

§ 1. Certificates for trained attendants for sick. The state board of health is hereby authorized to issue certificates to applicants to care for the sick as trained attendants and to formulate and issue rules and regulations from time to time as may be necessary for the proper conduct of the care of the sick by a trained attendant; to establish centers of training for trained attendants; to prescribe the course of instruction and length thereof, and to provide for an examination before a license may be issued.

§ 2. Qualifications. Any person applying for the certificate as trained attendant shall be at least eighteen years of age, of good moral character, and, after one year from the passage of this act, shall have had not less than one year's practical experience in the care of the sick in a reputable hospital or sanatorium, connected with a school for trained attendants, and systematic instruction in the following subjects, namely: Anatomy and physiology, hygiene, diet for the sick, nursing care of the sick, including children and the aged, and obstetrics.

§ 3. Persons now engaged in practice. Provided that any person engaged in the practice of the care of the sick as a business or for hire as an attendant, practical or undergraduate nurse, or in any capacity other than a registered nurse, may be granted a certificate as a trained attendant without taking an examination, provided such application shall be made within one year of the passage of the act and that such application shall be accompanied by credentials of character and show extent of training and experience, and a license fee of five dollars.

§ 4. Examination. On or after one year following the passage of the act all applicants for certificate as trained attendants shall be required to pass an examination, the fee for which will be five dollars and will in no case be returned to the applicant. Said examination will be practical in character and designed to ascertain the applicant's fitness to practice her calling, and will be conducted by a committee of three examiners appointed by the board and under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by said board, and shall be held at least every six months. Due notice of said examination shall be published in not less than three daily papers of the state. The subjects on which applicants will be examined are elementary anatomy and physiology, hygiene, diet for the sick, nursing methods in the care of the sick, including children and aged people, obstetrics. The board shall issue to each applicant successfully passing this examination a certificate as provided for in this act.

§ 5. Title. All persons who have been duly licensed in accordance with the provisions of this act shall be known and styled as trained attendants and may use the words "trained attendant" after their names.

§ 6. Penalty for false representation, etc. Any person who shall willfully make any false representation or who shall impersonate any other person or permit or aid in any manner any person to impersonate her in connection with any examination or application, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. It shall be unlawful for any person to advertise as, or assume the title of trained attendant, or to use the words "trained attendant" after her name, or any other words, letters or figures to indicate that the person using the same is a trained attendant, or to impersonate in any manner or pretend to be a trained attendant.

§ 7. Revocation of license. The board shall have the power to revoke a license to any person for gross incompetency, dishonesty, addition to the use of alcohol or narcotic drugs, or for any habit rendering him or her unsafe or unfit to care for the sick. Before revocation, notice of such charges shall be sent to the defendant with opportunity to appear in his or her own defense.

§ 8. Penalty for violating act. Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction be liable to a fine of not less than ten dollars or more than one hundred dollars for the first offense, and not less than twenty dollars or more than two hundred dollars for each subsequent offense.

§ 9. Accounts, collections, etc. All accounts, collections and fees made under the provisions of this act shall be paid into the state treasury and shall be placed to the credit of the traveling and contingent fund of the state board of health.

§ 10. Repealed. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

TITLE 386.

OAKLAND.

ACT 2509.

Charter of. [Stats. 1911, p. 1551.]

Amended 1917, pp. 1699, 1948, 1963; 1919, pp. 1364, 1515.

ACT 2534.

An act granting certain tide-lands and submerged lands of the state of California to the city of Oakland and regulating the management, use and control thereof.

[Approved May 1, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 1258.]

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 63; 1919, p. 1088.

The amendments of 1917 and 1919 follow:

§ 1. Tide-lands granted to Oakland. There is hereby granted to the city of Oakland, a municipal corporation of the state of California, and to its successors, all the right, title and interest of the state of California held by said state by virtue of its sovereignty in and to tide-lands and submerged lands, whether filled or unfilled, which are included within that portion of the city of Oakland that lies westerly of the western line of Pine street, as Pine street exists between Atlantic street and Goss street, and as shown upon that certain map entitled

"map of land on Oakland point (railroad ferry landing) city of Oakland, tract 406," filed May 24, 1864, in book of maps 5, page 33, records of Alameda county, and said western line of Pine street produced northerly and southerly, to be forever held by said city and by its successors in trust for the use and purposes and upon the expressed conditions following, to wit:

(a) Use of lands. That said lands shall be used by said city and its successors, only for the establishment, improvement and conduct of a harbor, and for the construction, maintenance and operation thereon of wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays and other utilities, structures and appliances necessary or convenient for the promotion and accommodation of commerce and navigation, and said city, or its successors, shall not, at any time, grant, convey, give or alien said lands, or any part thereof, to any individual, firm or corporation for any purposes whatever; provided, that said city, or its successors, may grant franchises thereon for limited periods, but in no event exceeding fifty years for wharves and other public uses and purposes, and may lease said lands or any part thereof for limited periods, but in no event exceeding fifty years, for the purposes consistent with the trusts upon which said lands are held by the state of California, and with the requirements of commerce or navigation at said harbor.

(b) Improvement of harbor. That said harbor shall be improved by said city without expense to the state, and shall always remain a public harbor for all purposes of commerce and navigation, and the state of California shall have, at all times, the right to use, without charge, all wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays and other improvements constructed on said lands, or any part thereof, for any vessel or other water craft, or railroad, owned or operated by the state of California.

(c) Rates, tolls, etc. That in the management, conduct or operation of said harbor, or of any of the utilities, structures or appliances mentioned in paragraph (a), no discrimination in rates, tolls, or charges or in facilities for any use or service in connection therewith shall ever be made, authorized or permitted by said city or its successors.

(d) Right to fish reserved to people. There is hereby reserved, however, in the people of the state of California the absolute right to fish in all the waters of said harbor, with the right of convenient access to said waters over said land for said purpose. [Amendment approved May 25, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1088.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 63.

OFFICERS.

ACT 2554.

An act relating to the liability of public officers for damages resulting from defects and dangers in streets, highways, public buildings and public works or property. [Approved April 26, 1911; Stats. 1911, p. 1115.]

Repealed 1919, p. 756. See post, Act 2554a.

ACT 2554a.

An act relating to the liability in damages of the officers of districts, towns, cities, cities and counties, counties and of the state of California for injuries to person or property resulting from defects and dangers in public streets, highways, bridges, buildings, work or property, prescribing the duties of certain public officers with respect thereto, and repealing an act entitled "An act relating to the liability of public officers for damages resulting from defects and dangers in streets, highways, public buildings, public work or property," approved April 26, 1911.

§ 1. When officers are not liable for damages. No officer of any district, town, city, city and county, county, or of the state of California, shall be liable for any damage or injury to any person or property hereafter resulting from the defective or dangerous condition of any public street, highway, bridge, building, work or property, unless it shall first appear: (1) That the injury sustained was the direct and proximate result of such defective or dangerous condition, (2) that such officer had notice of such defective or dangerous condition or that such defective and dangerous condition was directly attributable to work done by him, or under his direction, in a negligent, careless or unworkmanlike manner, (3) that he had authority and it was his duty to remedy such condition at the expense of the state or of a political subdivision thereof and that funds for that purpose were immediately available to him, and (4) that, within a reasonable time after receiving such notice and being able to remedy such condition, he failed so to do, or failed to take reasonable steps to give adequate warning of such condition; and then only when it shall further appear that such damage or injury was sustained while such public street, highway, bridge, building, work or property was being carefully used, and that due care was being exercised to avoid the danger due to such condition; provided, however, that this act shall not be construed as enlarging the duty or liability of any public officer.

§ 2. Counsel in defense of suit brought against officer. If suit is brought against any such officer of any district, town, city, city and county, county, or of the state of California, on account of any action, or work done by him, in his official capacity as such officer, when done under and according to the provisions of the law respecting his said office, it shall be the duty of the attorney for the district, the corporation counsel, city attorney, district attorney, county counsel, or attorney general of the state, as the case may be, to act as counsel in defense of such suit, unless provision has been made by law for the employment of other counsel in connection with the performance of the work out of which such suit arises, and in such event it shall be the duty of such other counsel to defend such suit.

§ 3. Stats. 1911, p. 1115, repealed. An act entitled "An act relating to the liability of public officers for damages resulting from defects and dangers in streets, highways, public buildings, public work or property," approved April 6, 1911, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

TITLE 394.ORANGE COUNTY.*ACT 2580.

An act granting certain tide-lands and submerged lands of the state of California to the county of Orange in said state upon certain trusts and conditions.

§ 1. Tide-lands granted to Orange county. There is hereby granted to the county of Orange and to its successors all of the right, title and interest of the state of California held by said state by virtue of its sovereignty in and to all that portion of the tide-lands and submerged lands bordering upon and under Newport bay in the said county of Orange, which are outside of the corporate limits of the city of Newport Beach, a municipal corporation, the same to be forever held by said county and by its successors in trust for the uses and purposes and upon the express conditions following, to wit:

(a) Use of lands. Said lands shall be used by said county and by its successors solely for the establishment, improvement and conduct of a harbor and for the establishment and construction of bulkheads or breakwaters for the protection of lands within its boundaries, or for the protection of its harbor, and for the construction, maintenance and operation thereon of wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays, ways and streets, and other utilities, structures and appliances necessary or convenient for the promotion or accommodation of commerce and navigation, and the protection of the lands within said county. And said county or its successors shall not at any time grant, convey, give or alien said lands or any part thereof to any individual, firm, or corporation for any purposes whatever; provided, that said county or its successors may grant franchises thereon for a period not exceeding twenty-five years for wharves and other public uses and purposes, and may lease said lands or any part thereof for a period not exceeding twenty-five years for purposes consistent with the trust upon which said lands are held by the state of California, and with the requirements of commerce or navigation at said harbor.

(b) Improvement of harbor. Said harbor shall be improved by said county without expense to the state and shall always remain a public harbor for all purposes of commerce and navigation, and the state of California shall have at all times the right to use, without charge, all wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays, and other improvements constructed on said lands or any part thereof for any vessel or other water craft or railroad owned or operated by the state of California.

(c) Rates, tolls, etc. Right to fish reserved to people. In the management, conduct or operation of said harbor, or of any of the utilities, structures or appliances mentioned in paragraph (a) no discrimination in rates, tolls or charges, or in facilities for any use or service in connection therewith shall ever be made, authorized or permitted by said county, or by its successors. The absolute right to fish in the waters of said harbor with the right of convenient access to said water over said lands for said purpose is hereby reserved to the people of the state of California.

PAROLE COMMISSIONERS.

ACT 2623.

An act to authorize the state board of prison directors to provide for assisting paroled and discharged prisoners and to secure employment for the same and making an appropriation for that purpose.

§ 1. Authority to assist paroled and discharged prisoners. The state board of prison directors shall have the power and authority to provide for assisting paroled and discharged prisoners and to secure employment for the same and for that purpose they may employ necessary officers and employees, may purchase tools, and give any other assistance that, in their judgment, they may deem proper for the purpose of carrying out the objects and spirit of this act.

§ 2. Moneys drawn without submitting vouchers. Upon this act becoming effective, the state board of prison directors may draw upon the moneys herein appropriated in the amount of one thousand dollars, without submitting vouchers thereon, which amount shall, from time to time, be replenished by demand upon said appropriation equal to the amount of expenditures represented by vouchers submitted to the state board of control and filed with the controller.

§ 3. Appropriation. The sum of seventeen thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, for the purpose of this act; the state controller is hereby directed to draw his warrant therefor, payable to the state board of prison directors in such amount as may be required from time to time, and the state treasurer is directed to pay the same.

An act to authorize the state board of prison directors to provide for assisting paroled and discharged prisoners and to secure employment for the same and making an appropriation for that purpose.

§ 1. Assistance for paroled and discharged prisoners. The state board of prison directors shall have the power and authority to provide for assisting paroled and discharged prisoners and to secure employment for the same and for that purpose they may employ necessary officers and employees, may purchase tools, and give any other assistance that, in their judgment, they may deem proper for the purpose of carrying out the objects and spirit of this act.

§ 2. Amounts to one thousand dollars drawn without vouchers. Upon this act becoming effective, the state board of prison directors may draw upon the moneys herein appropriated in the amount of one thousand dollars, without submitting vouchers thereon, which amount shall, from time to time, be replenished by demand upon said appropriation equal to the amount of expenditures represented by vouchers submitted to the state board of control and filed with the controller.

§ 3. Appropriation. The sum of twenty-nine thousand five hundred dollars is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, for the purpose of this act; the state controller is hereby directed to draw his warrant therefor, payable to the state board of prison directors in such amount as may be required from time to time, and the state treasurer is directed to pay the same.

TITLE 406.

PAUPERS.

ACT 2631.

An act to provide for the maintenance and support, in certain cases, of indigent, incompetent, and incapacitated persons (other than persons adjudged insane and confined within state hospitals), becoming a public charge upon the counties or cities and counties within the state of California, and for the payment thereof into a fund for the maintenance and support of such persons.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 5. Duty of board of supervisors. It shall be the duty of the board of supervisors of every county and every city and county as a whole, or by committee or by such person or society as it may authorize, to investigate every application for relief from the funds of such county or city and county, to supervise by periodic visitation every person receiving such relief, to devise ways and means for bringing persons unable to maintain themselves to self support and to keep full and complete records of such investigation, supervision, relief and rehabilitation, as shall be prescribed by the state board of charities and corrections. [Amendment approved May 14, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 445.]

§ 10. Duty of state board of charities and corrections. It shall be the duty of the state board of charities and corrections to prescribe forms of records for the use of board of supervisors and their agents in keeping records heretofore mentioned. [New section added May 14, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 445.]

TITLE 408.PENSIONS.*ACT 2643.

An act to provide for the payment of retirement salaries to public school teachers of this state; creating a public school teachers' retirement salary fund, and also a public school teachers' permanent fund, providing for the administration of such funds, and making an appropriation for the uses of said funds.

The amendment of 1919 follows:

§ 15. Service in California Polytechnic and normal schools. Service of a teacher in the California Polytechnic School with a valid certificate or a teacher with or without a certificate in a state normal school, shall be equivalent to service under legal certificate in a day or evening school, and the time of said service in the California Polytechnic School, or in a state normal school, shall be reckoned in determining the right of retirement salaries under provisions of sections thirteen and fourteen of this act. [Amendment approved May 9, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 500.]

ACT 2644.

An act to provide for the gathering of data concerning teachers of California who are bound by the provisions of "An act to provide for the payment of retirement salaries to the public school teachers of this state; creating a public school teachers' retirement salary fund and also a public school teachers' permanent fund, providing for the administration of such funds and making an appropriation for the uses of said funds," approved June 16, 1913.

§ 1. Teachers bound by retirement plan to file data. During the month of November, 1919, each teacher in the public schools of California, each teacher in a state normal school and each school administrator or other person who is bound by the provisions of "An act to provide for the payment of retirement salaries to the public school teachers of this state; creating a public school teachers' retirement salary fund and also a public school teachers' permanent fund, providing for the administration of such funds and making an appropriation for the uses of said funds," approved June 16, 1913, shall file with the state board of education at its offices in Sacramento, in person or by registered mail, a statement made under oath, of his age at his nearest birthday, his teaching experience in the public schools of California, his teaching experience in the public schools of other states of the United States of America, and any other experience he may have had in public schools or in the service of the state that may be counted as service under the provisions of said act, and such other information as may be required by said state board of education for the purpose of making an investigation and estimate of probable future expenditures from such fund.

§ 2. Records confidential. All such statements shall be considered confidential and no individual records shall be divulged by any official who has access to them and shall be used by the state board of education solely for the purpose of making such investigation and estimate, and such statements shall not be open to inspection by anyone except the state board of education, and its officers, or any person authorized to make such inspection by the legislature.

§ 3. List to be filed with county superintendent. On or before January 1, 1920, the state board of education shall file with the county superintendent of schools of each county, a list of the names of all teachers of such county who have filed the statement hereinbefore referred to. Upon receipt of such list, it shall be the duty of the county superintendent of schools to withhold payment of the first warrant for the payment of the salary of each teacher bound by the provisions of said act, who, being employed during the month of November, 1919, shall have failed to file such statement, and shall not issue a warrant for such payment until such statement has been filed with the state board of education and a receipt therefor presented.

An act to authorize the counties of the state of California to establish retirement systems for their employees.

[Approved May 20, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 782.]

§ 1. Definitions. In this act, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) The words "retirement system" mean the arrangements provided in this act for the payment of annuities, or the payment of total sums in lieu of annuities.

(b) The word "annuity" means the payments for life derived from money deposited by the employees and contributed by the county.

(c) The words "regular interest" mean interest calculated on March thirty-first, June thirtieth, September thirtieth and December thirty-first on payments received during the preceding quarter from the last of that quarter at four per cent per annum compounded annually on the last day of December.

(d) The word "employees" includes both appointive officers and employees of the county.

(e) The words "in continuous service" mean uninterrupted employment, except that a temporary lay-off on account of illness or for purposes of economy, a leave of absence, suspension or dismissal followed by reinstatement within one year shall not be considered as breaking the continuity of service; provided, further, that in case of reinstatement of any member who at the time of his separation from the service receives a refund under section six of this act, he shall be deemed to be a new entrant to the service and the monthly deductions from his salary shall be computed from the date of such reinstatement unless he shall, within ninety days from such reinstatement, return to the members' deposit reserve the amount refunded to him.

(f) The word "county" shall mean "county" or "city and county."

(g) The term "salary fund" shall mean in any city and county the fund from which salaries are ordinarily paid.

§ 2. Retirement system for county employees established. There is established in each of the several counties of the state, a retirement system for its employees, as defined in section three; provided, however, that the provisions of this act shall become effective in any particular county only upon condition that the provisions of this act are accepted by ordinance passed by a four-fifths' vote of its board of supervisors, in which event the provisions of this act shall become operative in such county on the first day of January, or on the first day of July next following the expiration of three months after the passage of said ordinance. Within thirty days after the passage of such ordinance, the clerk of the board of supervisors shall mail a certified copy of such ordinance to the insurance commissioner of this state, who shall forthwith issue a certificate that the retirement system, provided for in this act, is declared established in such county to become operative therein, as above set forth.

§ 3. Organization of retirement association. Whenever the provisions of this act shall become operative in any particular county a retirement association shall be organized as follows:

(1) Except as otherwise herein provided, all employees of the county shall become members of the association thirty days after the retirement system becomes operative, or thirty days after their entrance into the service; provided, however, that employees entitled to become beneficiaries under a retirement or pension system already provided by law or freeholders' charter, are exempt from the provisions of this act.

(2) No officer holding an elective office or elected by popular vote may become a member of the association.

(3) After one year subsequent to the formation of a retirement system any member who reaches or has reached the age of sixty years and who has been in the continuous service of the county for a period of ten years immediately preceding may retire, and any member who reaches the age of seventy must retire; provided, however, that within thirty days before reaching the age of compulsory retirement a member may be retained for a period not to exceed one year and similarly thereafter from year to year, if the head of the department or office in which he is employed, or the board or commission having power of appointment, certifies to the board of retirement that, by reason of his efficiency and willingness to remain, his further continuance would be advantageous to the public service and if such recommendation is approved by the board of retirement and the board of supervisors.

(4) After the said first year has elapsed any member who has completed a period of thirty-five years of continuous service may retire or may be retired at any age by the officer, board or commission having power to dismiss such member if such action be deemed advisable for the good of the service.

(5) After the said first year has elapsed any member who becomes permanently disabled for any cause whether incurred in the performance of duty or otherwise shall be retired in the same manner as prescribed in subdivision (4) of this section.

(6) Membership in the association shall be evidenced by membership certificate and the right to an annuity shall be evidenced by an annuity certificate to be issued by the board of retirement.

(7) Nothing contained in this act shall be construed as in any way affecting the power of removal vested in officers, boards or commissions.

§ 4. (1) Board of retirement. The management of the retirement system is hereby vested in the board of retirement, consisting of three members, one of whom shall be the county treasurer. The second member shall be a member of the association elected by the latter within thirty days after the date when the retirement system becomes operative as provided under section two, in a manner to be determined by the county board of supervisors. The third member shall be an officer or employee of the county chosen by the board of supervisors. The first person so chosen or appointed as third member shall serve for two years; otherwise and thereafter the term of office of the two elected members shall be three years. On a vacancy occurring in the board for any cause or on the expiration of the term of office of any member, a successor of the person whose place has become vacant or whose term has expired shall be chosen in the same manner as was his predecessor. Separation from the service of the county of a member of the board of retirement shall automatically vacate his office.

(2) Compensation. The members of the board of retirement shall serve without compensation, but they shall be reimbursed out of the funds of the county, appropriated in section five (1) to defray the cost of operating the retirement system, for any expense or loss of salary or wages which they may have incurred through service on the board.

(3) County treasurer shall have control of funds. Subject to the approval of the board of retirement, the county treasurer shall have charge and control of and shall safely keep the funds of the system, and shall invest and reinvest the same, and may from time to time sell any securities held by him and invest and reinvest the proceeds therefrom, and any and all unappropriated income of said funds; provided, however, that all funds received by him not required for current disbursements shall be invested in first mortgages on improved real estate situated within the county not exceeding sixty per cent of the value thereof; or in bonds of the United States or of the state of California, or of any county, city and county, or municipal corporation, or other subdivision thereof; or deposited at interest in any state or national bank doing business within the county; provided, that the credit of the county shall not be given or lent in aid of, or to, any person, association, or corporation, whether municipal or otherwise, nor shall it be pledged in any manner whatever for the payment of the liabilities of any individual, association, municipal or other corporation whatever. He may, whenever he sells such securities, deliver the securities so sold upon receiving the proceeds thereof, and may execute any and all documents necessary to transfer the title thereto. The duties herein imposed upon the county treasurer shall be deemed a part of his official duties and for the faithful performance of which he shall be liable on his official bond.

(4) Employees' retirement fund. A trust fund account to be known as employees' retirement fund is hereby created to be opened upon the books of the auditor and treasurer of the counties adopting a retirement system under the provisions of this act.

All transfers or payments to the retirement system, and all withdrawals and other cash transactions, shall be accounted upon the books of the auditor and treasurer in and out of this fund account, in the manner they would be accounted if they were county transactions.

All warrants drawn on the employees retirement fund shall be signed by the treasurer and at least one other member of the board of retirement, who shall be designated by such board, but no warrant so drawn shall be valid until it has been countersigned and numbered by the county auditor and a record made of it by him.

(5) By-laws and regulations. The board of retirement shall have power to make by-laws and regulations not inconsistent with the provisions of this act and such by-laws and regulations shall become effective when approved by the board of supervisors. The by-laws shall provide among other things:

(a) Election of officers. For the election of officers, terms for which elected, times of meeting and all other matters relating to the administrative procedure of the board.

(b) Exemption from membership. In the discretion of the board, for exemption from membership of persons whose tenure is temporary, or intermittent, or part time; and for exemption from membership, or for reduced rate of deposit (which in no such case shall be less than two dollars per month) of, or by persons whose rate of compensation is less than eighty dollars per month, or by persons whose compensation is measured by a per diem wage.

(c) Employee's statement. For the filing of a sworn statement by every person who is or who shall have become an employee of the county, showing date of birth, nature and duration of employment with the county, compensation received, and giving any other information that may be required by the board that will enable it to determine eligibility for membership and retirement.

(d) Forms. For forms of membership and annuity certificates and for such other forms as may be required.

(6) Statement of county treasurer to insurance commissioner. The county treasurer in January of each year shall, unless for cause the insurance commissioner shall have granted an extension of time, file in the office of the insurance commissioner a sworn statement which shall exhibit the financial condition of the retirement system at the close of the thirty-first day of the preceding December and its financial transactions for the year ending with such day. Such statement shall be in a form approved by the insurance commissioner and shall show the following assets and liabilities:

A. ASSETS.

- (1) Cash on hand.
- (2) Cash on deposit.
- (3) Securities owned.
- (4) All other assets, showing each kind separately.

B. LIABILITIES.

- (1) Members' deposit reserve—Less than ten years—The total of the deposits of members actually received by the treasurer or due from the county under section five, (2), (a), for the first nine and a fraction years, and held subject to withdrawal by such members, together with regular interest thereon separately reported.

(2) Members' deposit reserve—Ten years and over—The total of the deposits of members who have made deposits for ten or more years actually received by the treasurer or due from the county under section five, (2), (a), and held subject to withdrawal by such members, together with regular interest thereon separately reported.

(3) County advance reserve—The unused amount advanced by the county during the first ten years under section five, (2), (d).

(4) County contribution reserve—An amount equal to the net amount of the deposits by members that have made deposits for ten or more years plus regular interest, as reported under the provision of subdivision (6), B, (2) of this section.

(5) Annuity reserve—The present worth of the combined annuities as a group entered upon under section six, on the basis of the mortality and annuity tables and regular interest rates provided for in this act. The unpaid annuities, resulting from the death of members before the full amount reserved for such annuities has been paid, shall not be deducted from this reserve but such amounts shall be used for the payment of annuities of persons exceeding their life expectancy.

(6) Prior service annuity reserve—The unexpended amount contributed by the county for the payment of annuities for prior service as provided by section six 2, B (4), and section five, (4), which must not be less than the amount of the annuities due and unpaid.

(7) Gifts and bequests—The amount received as gifts or bequests and held under the terms of such gifts or bequests.

(8) All other liabilities.

C. RESULTING SURPLUS OR DEFICIT.

(1) Surplus if assets exceed liabilities.

(2) Deficit if liabilities exceed assets.

Creation of Funds.

§ 5. Creation of funds. The funds of the retirement system shall be raised as follows:

(1) Expense. Expense—The county shall appropriate annually such an amount as may be necessary to defray the entire expense of administration according to estimates prepared by the treasurer. All payments for this purpose except salaries shall be from the general fund of the county and all liabilities created hereunder shall be deemed liabilities created by law.

(2) Deposit and contribution funds. Deposit and contribution funds—(a) Deposits by members. From the first salary or wage warrant drawn in each month in favor of each member of the association for an amount not less than four dollars, there shall be deducted, by the county auditor or other officer charged with the duty of drawing salary or wage warrants, the sum of four dollars which shall be paid by such officer to the county treasurer and placed to the credit of the member's account in the members' deposit reserve; provided, that where the board of retirement has, in accordance with the by-laws, permitted the exemption of certain members or the deductions of smaller amounts from their salaries or wages, the action of the board in such cases shall govern. Deductions shall not be made for any member for a period longer than twenty-five years.

(b) Contributions by the county. Whenever any member has made his or her deposits for ten years during a period of not less than ten years, or whenever a member becomes permanently disabled during the first ten years of his or her membership and is entitled to an annuity or to a lump sum payment from the county under the provisions of this act, the county shall transfer to the county contribution reserve, from the county advance reserve or from the salary fund if the former is not large enough a sum equal to that contributed by such member with regular interest added thereto. Thereafter for a period not exceeding fifteen years, the county shall at the end of each month contribute a sum equal to the sum deposited by such member during that month.

(c) Whenever any member entitled to an annuity retires or is retired under the provisions of this act, during the first ten years of its operation, an amount equal to the amount deposited by such member with regular interest shall be transferred from the county advance reserve, or from the salary fund if the former is not large enough, to the county contribution reserve.

(d) Deposit and contribution funds. For the first ten years after the adoption of this act by any county in this state the board of supervisors thereof shall pay or transfer to the retirement system an amount not less than one per cent of the pay-roll for the preceding year, which amount shall be paid from the salary fund, and be used only for the purpose of making contributions under the provisions of section five, (2), (b), and (c).

(e) If the amount so reserved shall at the end of ten years be in excess of the amount required to be contributed under provision of this act the balance shall be used in making contributions in the following year or years.

If the amount to be contributed by the county during the tenth year after the establishment of the retirement system is greater than the amount reserved under the provisions of this subdivision, the difference shall be contributed from the salary fund.

(3) Annuity fund—The annuity fund shall be created by transfers from the deposit and contribution funds as follows:

(a) When a member has been retired upon an annuity, the amount of his deposits plus regular interest shall be deemed transferred from the deposit fund to the annuity fund.

(b) A similar amount shall be deemed transferred from the contribution fund.

(c) The actual funds, i. e., the cash and other assets of the retirement system, shall be treated as a whole and no attempt made to keep and invest separately the amounts coming in from the several sources of income, but separate reserve or other accounts shall be kept to show from what sources the income is derived and for what purpose and to show the several liabilities of the system to be paid from the funds.

(4) Prior service annuity fund—Upon the establishment of the retirement system and upon the first of the first month of each succeeding quarter, there shall be contributed by the county from the salary fund a sum as determined by the board of retirement equal to the total amount of prior service annuities as defined in section six 2, B, (4), that will be payable during the time that will intervene before the beginning of the next quarter.

Nothing herein contained however shall prevent a county from creating a fund for the payment of prior service annuities by dividing the total amount to be raised for this purpose as determined by the board of retirement into monthly, quarterly or annual contributions of equal amount; provided, that there shall always be in this fund a balance not less than the current demands against it.

Distribution of Funds.

§ 6. Distribution of funds. The county treasurer shall administer the funds of the retirement system in accordance with the following plan:

1. The cost of operation of the retirement system shall be borne by the county from funds provided under section five, (1), and the liabilities incurred in connection therewith paid as other county charges are paid. These expenses are hereby made county charges.

2. Deposit, contribution, and annuity funds—

A. REFUNDS.

(1) Refunds. Should a member separate from the service of the county for any cause except permanent disability before retirement, there shall be paid to him or, in case of death to his legal representatives, all the money that shall have been paid in by him under section five, (2), (a), with regular interest on such deposits.

(2) The amount contributed by the county for such member with regular interest shall be transferred from the county contribution reserve to the surplus and deficit account.

B. ANNUITIES FROM EMPLOYEE'S DEPOSITS AND CONTRIBUTIONS BY THE COUNTY.

(1) Annuities. Any member who reaches the age of sixty years and has been in the continuous service of the county for ten years immediately preceding and then or thereafter retires or is retired, any member who retires or is retired at the age of seventy years, or thereafter, and any member who retires or is retired for the good of the service or for permanent disability under the provisions of section three, (4) and (5), shall receive a life annuity to which the sum of his deposits under section five, (2) (a), with regular interest and contributions by the county with regular interest under section five, (2), (b), and (c), shall entitle him according to the annuity tables adopted by the board of retirement in one of the following forms at his option:

(a) A life annuity, payable quarterly.

(b) A life annuity payable quarterly with the provision that in the event of the death of the annuitant before receiving payments equal to the sum at the date of his retirement of his deposits under section five, (2), (a), with regular interest, the difference shall be paid to his legal representatives.

(2) Annuities for permanent disability.—Any member who has been retired for permanent disability as provided under section three, (5) shall receive an annuity based upon the sum of his deposits and of the county's contributions with regular interest. Except that any member who receives compensation from the county under any workmen's compensation act or by virtue of any judgment obtained against the county for permanent disability, shall in lieu of such annuity receive a refund of all the money that has been paid in by him under section five, (2), (a), with regular interest on such deposits. The annuities paid hereunder shall cease whenever, upon investigation, the board of retirement shall find that such disability has been removed, but if the member has not received a sum equal to the amount he deposited with regular interest the difference shall be refunded to him.

(3) If the sum of the deposits made by an employee entitled to an annuity and the contributions by the county with regular interest do not amount to more than five hundred dollars, such amount shall be paid to the retiring employee in one lump sum in lieu of an annuity.

(4) Annuities based on prior service—Any member in the service of the county at the time this law becomes operative shall, upon being retired receive an annuity based upon an annuity reserve of such sum as the county's contributions at regular interest would have produced for the period of years, not exceeding twenty-five, that he shall have been in the actual service of the county at the date of retirement, plus the amount of the reserve created by his own deposits with regular interest. In all such cases that portion of the annuity not produced by the member's deposits and similar contributions by the county shall be paid from the prior service annuity reserve. Nothing herein contained shall prohibit any employee from paying into the retirement system any sums in excess of the regular monthly contributions. Any payment so made shall be made in accordance with rules adopted by the board of retirement, be credited to a separate and special account of the employee so making the payment, held for his sole use and benefit, and increased with regular interest as provided by this act. When a member who has made an extra deposit retires or separates from the service of the county, the amount of such extra deposit with regular interest shall be returned to him in a lump sum, or used to increase his annuity reserve and annuity, as the circumstances of each particular case may require.

(5) The amount of the surplus as of December thirty-first of each year, if there be a surplus, shall be paid into the salary fund of the county. The deficit, if there be a deficit, shall be made good by a transfer from the salary fund of the county, on order of the board of supervisors, to the fund of the retirement system.

(6) Refunds to the county shall go to the fund from which disbursements were originally made.

Taxation, Attachments and Assignments.

§ 7. Taxation, attachments and assignments. The title to all property acquired under the provisions of this act shall be taken in the name of the county. The title to any moneys which may become due to any member shall not pass from the county to such member until such member is entitled thereto under the provisions of this act.

That portion of the wage of a member deducted or to be deducted under this act, the right of a member to an annuity, and all his rights in the fund of the retirement system shall be exempt from taxation, and from the operation of any law relating to bankruptcy or insolvency, and shall not be attached or taken upon execution or other process of any court. No assignment of any right in or to said funds shall be valid.

Supervision by Insurance Commissioner.

§ 8. Supervision by insurance commissioner. The insurance commissioner shall prescribe for each county that adopts a retirement system under the provisions of this act mortality and annuity tables based upon the rate of interest herein named and may later modify such tables or prescribe other tables to represent more accurately the cost of the annuity system, and may determine the application of the change so made. He shall also prescribe and supervise methods of bookkeeping of each retirement association formed under the provisions of this act.

The insurance commissioner shall at least once in each year, either personally or by deputy or assistant, thoroughly inspect and examine the affairs of the retirement association to ascertain its financial condition, its ability to fulfill its obligations, whether all parties in interest have complied with the provisions of law applicable to the association, and whether the transactions of the board of retirement have been in accordance with the rights and equities of those in interest. The retirement system shall be credited, in the account of its financial condition, with the amounts due from the county, under the provisions of section five, its investments with fixed maturities at amortized values, and its other investments at a reasonable valuation.

For the purposes aforesaid the insurance commissioner or other persons making examination shall have access to all the securities, books and papers of the retirement system, and may summon and administer oaths and examine as witnesses the members of the board of retirement or any other person, relative to the financial affairs, transactions and conditions of the retirement system. The insurance commissioner shall preserve in a permanent form a full record of the proceedings at such examination and the results thereof. Upon the completion of such examination, verification and valuation, the insurance commissioner shall make a report in writing of his findings to the board of retirement and shall send a copy thereof to the county board of supervisors.

§ 9. Violation of act. If, in the judgment of the insurance commissioner, the county or the board of retirement have violated or neglected to comply with any of the provisions of this act, or of the rules and regulations established by the board of retirement hereunder, he shall give notice thereof to the county and to the board of retirement, and thereafter if such violation or neglect continues shall forthwith present the facts to the attorney general for his action. It shall be the duty of the attorney general by mandamus or other proper proceedings in his own name to compel compliance with this act.

§ 10. Purpose of act. Constitutionality. The purpose of this act is to recognize a public obligation to such of its employees as may become incapacitated by age or long service in public employment and its accompanying physical disabilities by making provision for a retirement annuity as an additional element of compensation for future services, and at the same time to provide a means whereby public employees who may become incapacitated may be replaced by more capable employees to the betterment of the public service without prejudice and without inflicting a hardship upon the employees removed.

This act, therefore, shall be given a liberal interpretation with a view of carrying out such purpose, and it shall not be construed as a local measure or one intended as a benefit to particular persons or places.

"In case any section, or sections, or part of any section, of this act, shall be found to be unconstitutional or invalid, for any reason, the remainder of the act shall not thereby be invalidated, but shall remain in full force and effect.

ACT 2645a.

An act to provide for teachers employed by the California Polytechnic, the Whittier State School, the California School for Girls, the Preston School of Industry, and the California School for the Deaf and Blind holding valid certificates in this state being made subject to the burdens and entitling them to all the benefits of an act entitled "An act to provide for the payment of retirement salaries to public school teachers; creating a public school teachers' retirement salary fund, and also a public school teachers' permanent fund; providing for the administration of such funds, and making an appropriation for the uses of said funds," approved June 16, 1913.

[Approved May 3, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 151.]

§ 1. Teachers in state schools entitled to pension benefits. All teachers employed by the Whittier State School, the California School for Girls, the Preston School of Industry, the California Polytechnic School in the county of San Luis Obispo, and the California School for the Deaf and the Blind holding valid certificates in this state shall be subject to the burdens and entitled to all the benefits of an act entitled "An act to provide for the payment of retirement salaries to public school teachers; creating a public school teachers' retirement salary fund, and also a public school teachers' permanent fund; providing for the administration of such funds, and making an appropriation for the uses of said funds," approved June 16, 1913; and the contributions of said teachers shall be collected and paid into the treasury of the state in the same manner as in the several state normal schools.

TITLE 410.

PETALUMA.

ACT 2650.

Charter of. [Stats. 1911, p. 1799.]

Amended 1915; p. 1803; 1919, p. 1434.

TITLE 417a.

PLUMBING.

ACT 2712a.

An act providing for the examination, certification and registration of plumbers, prescribing powers and duties of the state board of health in reference thereto, and penalties for a violation of the provisions hereof.

[Approved April 6, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 73. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. "Master plumber" defined. "Journeyman plumber" defined. Certain terms as used in this act shall be construed as follows:

(a) The term "master plumber" means one who has an established place of business and works by contract.

(b) The term "journeyman plumber" means one who, as an employee, personally installs plumbing work, but does not mean a helper or an apprentice working under the direct personal supervision of a plumber who holds a temporary permit or a certificate of competency issued pursuant to the provisions of this act.

§ 2. Certificate of competency. It shall be unlawful for any journeyman plumber or master plumber in any city or town maintaining a public sewer system to personally install any plumbing or drainage system or portion thereof unless he shall first obtain a temporary permit or a certificate of competency issued pursuant to and as provided for in this act.

§ 3. Examining board. In each county in which there is a city or town having a sewer system, the state board of health shall appoint an examining board of three members, one of whom must be a journeyman plumber who has had at least five years' practical experience as a plumber in this state, one a master plumber who has engaged in the plumbing business as a master plumber for at least five years in this state, and one a regularly licensed and practicing physician of this state. They shall serve for twelve, eighteen and twenty-four months respectively, or until their successors are duly appointed and qualified, and each member shall receive as compensation fifty cents for each applicant examined, such compensation to be paid out of the funds of the state board of health semi-annually. Within ten days after their appointment the board shall meet and choose one of its members to act as secretary of the board. The state board of health shall provide each examining board with the necessary application forms, registration books, temporary permits, certification blanks, and all tools, materials and office or shop room in which to properly conduct the examinations. Applications for examination may be made in writing. The state board of health shall adopt such rules and regulations as may be necessary and advisable to carry out the purposes of this act.

§ 4. Application for certification. Examination. Application for certification shall be made to the secretary of the examining board. The fee for filing the application shall be two and one-half dollars and shall be paid to the secretary of the examining board and by him to the state board of health to the credit of the contingent fund thereof. In no case shall the filing fee be returned to the applicant. The examining board shall issue to the applicant a temporary permit which shall be valid only until the examination is held and the certificate granted or denied. The examination shall consist of an oral or written examination and practical test and shall be of sufficient strictness to properly test the qualifications of the applicant as to his knowledge of plumbing, house draining and ventilation. If the applicant shows by a proper examination that he is qualified the board shall issue to him a certificate of competency which shall thereafter be renewed every twelve months without the necessity of an examination, upon the payment of an annual fee of two dollars. Any person possessing such a certificate of competency to work in a particular county shall be entitled to work at the plumbing business in any other county in this state upon registering with the examining board thereof. Such registration shall be without cost and without examination.

§ 5. Revocation of certificate. Said board may make such rules and regulations as may be necessary to effectively carry out the provisions of this act and may at any time revoke a certificate granted by it for the violation of any such rules or regulations or of municipal building, plumbing or sanitary ordinance.

§ 6. Provisions of city charters. Nothing in this act contained shall be deemed to repeal or in any manner supersede the authority conferred upon the board of health, department of public health, or health officer, by the charter of any incorporated city or city and county, or the power, under such charter, to enact ordinances providing for the conduct of any of the matters and things embraced within the terms of this act.

§ 7. Penalty. Any person violating any provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor as defined in section nineteen of the Penal Code.

TITLE 419.

POISONS.

ACT 2724.

An act to regulate the sale and use of poisons in the state of California and providing a penalty for the violation thereof.

Amended 1909, p. 422; 1911, p. 1106; 1913, p. 692; 1915, pp. 863, 1066; 1919, p. 1275.

The title of the amendatory act of 1919 said that a new section 8g was added to the act but no such section is incorporated in the act. See note at end of act.

The amendment of 1919 follows:

§ 7. Penalty for unlawful sale of narcotics. Second offense. Third offense. Disposition of fines. Schedule "A." Schedule "B." Any person violating any of the provisions of sections eight or eight a of this act shall upon conviction be guilty of and shall be punished as follows, viz., for the first offense said person so convicted shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars, and not to exceed four hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for not less than fifty days and not exceeding one hundred eighty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment; for the second offense said person so convicted shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not less than two hundred fifty dollars, and not to exceed five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for not less than ninety days and not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and for the third offense said person so convicted shall be deemed guilty of a felony and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not less than one year and not more than five years. Any person violating any of the provisions of this act, except those contained in sections eight or eight a, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined in a sum not less than thirty dollars, nor more than two hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for not less than thirty days and not more than fifty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. All moneys, forfeited bail or fines, received under the operation of this act shall be paid by the magistrate receiving same, seventy-five per cent to the state board of pharmacy, and twenty-five per cent to the city treasurer of the city, if incorporated, or to the county treasurer of the county in which the prosecution is conducted. The following is schedule "A" referred to in section one, viz: Schedule "A," arsenic, its compounds and preparations, corrosive sublimate, and other poisonous derivatives of mercury, cyanide of potassium, strychnine, hydrocyanic acid, oils of croton, rue, savin, and tansy, phosphorus and its poisonous derivatives and compounds, strophanthus or its preparations, aconite, belladonna, nux vomica, veratrum viride, their preparations, alkaloids or derivatives, and poison containing any of the poisons enumerated in this schedule.

The following is schedule "B": Hydrochloric or muriatic acid, nitric acid, oxalic acid, sulphuric acid, bromide, chloroform, cowhage, creosote, ether, solution of formaldehyde or formaline; cantharides, cocculus indicus, all their preparations; iodine, or its tinctures, oil of pennyroyal, tartar emetic, and other poisonous derivatives of antimony, sugar of lead, sulphate of zinc, wood alcohol, lysol and compound solution of cresol. [Amendment added May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1274.]

§ 8. Unlawful to sell certain narcotic drugs. Regulation concerning sale. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell, furnish or give away or offer to sell, furnish or give away or to have in their or his possession any cocaine, opium, morphine, codeine, heroin, alpha eucaine, beta eucaine, nova caine, flowering tops and leaves, extracts, tinctures and other narcotic preparations or hemp or loco weed (Cannabis sativa), Indian hemp, peyote (Anhalonium), or chloral hydrate or any of the salts, derivatives or compounds of the foregoing substances or any preparation or compound containing any of the foregoing substances or other salts, derivatives or compounds excepting upon the written order or prescription of a physician, dentist or veterinary surgeon, licensed to practice in this state, which order or prescription shall be dated and shall contain the name of the person for whom prescribed, written in by the person writing said prescription, or if ordered by a veterinary surgeon it shall state the kind of animal for which ordered and shall be signed by the person giving the prescription or order. Such order or prescription shall be permanently retained on file by the person, firm or corporation who shall compound or dispense the articles ordered or prescribed, and it shall not be again compounded or dispensed if each fluid or avoirdupois ounce contains more than ten grains of chloral hydrate, or four grains of Indian hemp or loco weed excepting upon the written order of the prescriber for each and every subsequent compounding and dispensing. No copy or duplicate of such written order or prescription shall be made or delivered to any person but the original shall be at all times open to inspection by the prescriber and properly authorized officers of the law and shall be preserved for at least three years from the date of the filing thereof; provided, that the above provisions shall not apply to sales at wholesale by jobbers, wholesalers and manufacturers to pharmacies, as defined in section one of an act entitled "An act to regulate the practice of pharmacy in the state of California and to provide a penalty for the violation thereof; and for the appointment of a board to be known as the California state board of pharmacy," approved March 20, 1905, and acts amendatory thereof; or physicians, nor to each other, nor to the sale at retail in pharmacies by pharmacists to physicians, dentists or veterinary surgeons duly licensed to practice in this state; provided, further, that all such whole sale jobbers, wholesalers and manufacturers, in this section mentioned shall keep in a manner readily accessible, the written orders or blank forms required to be preserved under the provisions of section two of the act of congress, approved December 17, 1914, relating to the production, importation, manufacture, compounding, sale, dispensing or giving away of opium or coca leaves and salts, derivatives or preparations. And said records shall always be open for inspection by any peace officer or any member of the board of pharmacy or any inspector authorized by said board and such records shall be preserved for at least two years after the date of the last entry therein. The taking of any order, or making of any contract or agreement, by any traveling representative, or any employee, of any person, firm or corporation, for future delivery in this state, of any of the articles or drugs mentioned in this section shall be deemed a sale of said articles or drugs by said traveling representative, or employee, within the meaning of the provision of this act; provided, further, that a true and correct copy of all orders, contracts or agreements, taken for narcotic drugs specified in this section shall be forwarded by registered mail to the secretary of the California state board of pharmacy within twenty-four hours after the taking of such order, contract or agreement, unless such order, contract or agreement is recorded as required under the provisions of section two of an act of congress, approved December 17, 1914, relating to the production, importation, manufacture, compounding, sale, dispensing or giving away of opium or coca leaves, their salts, derivatives or preparations of some wholesale jobber, wholesaler, or manufacturer permanently located in this state, as provided for in this section. It shall be unlawful for any practitioner of medicine, dentistry or veterinary medicine to administer to himself as a habitual user or furnish to or prescribe for the use of any other habitual user of the same, or of anyone representing himself as such, any cocaine, opium, morphine, codeine, heroin, or chloral hydrate, or any salt, derivative or compound of the foregoing substances or their salts, derivatives or compounds; and it shall also be unlawful for any practitioner of medicine or dentistry to prescribe or give any of the foregoing substances for himself or any person not under his treatment in the regular practice of his profession, or for any veterinary surgeon to prescribe or furnish any of the foregoing substances for the use of himself or any other human being; provided, however, that the provisions of this section shall not be construed to prevent any duly licensed physician from furnishing or prescribing in good faith as their physician by them employed as such, for any habitual user of any narcotic drugs who is under his professional care, such substances as he may deem necessary for their treatment, when such prescriptions are not given or substances furnished for the purpose of evading the purposes of this act; provided, that such licensed physician shall report in writing, over his signature, by registered mail, to the office of the California state board of pharmacy, within twenty-four hours after the first treatment, each and every habitual user of such narcotic drugs as are enumerated in this section, whom he or she has taken, in good faith, under his or her professional care, for the cure of such habit, such report to contain the date, name and address of such patient, and the name and quantity of the narcotic or narcotics prescribed in such treatment; and provided, further, that the above provisions shall not apply to preparations of the United States pharmacopoeia and national formulary or other recognized or established formula or remedies sold or dispensed without a physician's prescription containing not more than two grains of opium, or one-fourth grain of morphine, or one grain of codeine, or one-eighth grain of heroin, or ten grains of chloral hydrate or four grains of Indian hemp or loco weed in one fluid ounce, or, if a solid preparation, in one ounce, avoirdupois, except tincture opii camphorata (commonly known as paregoric) which may be sold only upon the prescription of a physician licensed to practice in this state and said prescription shall not be again refilled or dispensed. [Amendment added May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1276.]

§ 8½. Limit of prescriptions to habitual users. Reports of physician. Any licensed physician treating any habitue under section eight of this act shall not prescribe for or furnish such habitue more than eight grains of opium, or four grains of morphine, or two grains of cocaine, or two grains of heroin for each daily treatment and at the end of fifteen days of such treatment the said physician shall not prescribe for or furnish to such habitue, for each daily treatment, more than four grains of opium, or two grains of morphine, or one grain of cocaine, or one grain of heroin, and at the end of thirty days from the first treatment, the prescribing or furnishing of any of the narcotic drugs above enumerated shall be entirely discontinued; and the physician shall report by registered mail as required in section eight of this act, and shall in the same manner further report in fifteen days, and in thirty days, the progress of the patient under the treatment so administered by him; otherwise, said treatment shall not be considered in good faith as provided in section eight of this act; provided, however, that any licensed physician may prescribe for or furnish his patient as their physician employed by them as such, and who is suffering with some incurable disease, ailment, or injury, any of the narcotic drugs mentioned in section eight, in such quantity as may be necessary for a reasonable length of time and the physician prescribing or furnishing any of the narcotic drugs must personally furnish a signed, detailed report in writing, to the office of the California state board of pharmacy, by registered mail, within twenty-four hours after writing the first prescription or furnishing the narcotic drug to such patient; and provided, further, that the California state board of pharmacy may employ a licensed physician to interview, examine and report the result of such interview or examination of any patient coming under the provisions of this section; provided, further, that the California state board of health shall furnish, upon request in writing from the California state board of pharmacy, a list of incurable diseases or ailments which, in its judgment, might require excessive amounts of narcotic drugs to be prescribed for or furnished by a physician for relief or benefit. [New section added May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 279.]

§ 8e. Unlawful to sell hypodermic syringe or needle without physician's order. Permit to sell. Penalties. It is hereby made unlawful for any person to sell, vend, give away, or furnish, either directly or indirectly, to any person other than a duly licensed physician, licensed to practice and prescribe medicines in this state, or to a dentist or a veterinarian, or a pharmacist licensed to practice in this state, or person holding an unrevoked license to practice osteopathy, an instrument commonly known as a hypodermic syringe, or an instrument commonly known as a hypodermic needle, without a written, signed order from a duly licensed physician, dentist or veterinarian licensed to practice and prescribe medicine in this state, said order to contain the name and address of the party for whom ordered; or for any person other than a physician, dentist, veterinarian or pharmacist licensed to practice in this state, to have in his possession such an instrument commonly known as a hypodermic syringe or an instrument commonly known as a hypodermic needle, or any instrument or contrivance used for the same purpose as a hypodermic syringe or hypodermic needle, unless said instrument or contrivance was purchased by said person through and with a written order signed by a duly licensed physician, dentist or veterinarian licensed to practice and prescribe medicine in this state or person holding an unrevoked license to practice osteopathy, as above provided. No order, certificate or prescription shall be for more than one hypodermic syringe or for more than three hypodermic needles and no copy or duplicate of such order shall be made for or delivered to any person and said order or prescription shall be accepted and filled only once; provided, however, that the above restrictions shall not prevent any duly registered nurse of this state or student nurse in any hospital or training school for nurses from obtaining or possessing any hypodermic syringe and hypodermic needles when working under the immediate direction and supervision of a licensed physician or licensed dentist; provided, further, that the board of pharmacy may upon application and at its discretion issue a permit, revocable at the discretion of the said board, to any duly registered pharmacist, for a limited period, permitting and authorizing such pharmacist to sell and dispense hypodermic syringes and needles for specified purposes, to persons not addicted to the use of the narcotic drugs enumerated in this act, and sales made under the authority of and in conformity with the terms of such permit shall not be construed to be in violation of the provisions of this section.

Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall, upon conviction, be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished as follows: For the first offense by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars and not more than fifty dollars or by imprisonment for not less than twenty-five days and not more than fifty days or by both such fine and imprisonment; and for each subsequent offense by a fine of not less than fifty dollars and not more than one hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not less than fifty days and not more than one hundred days or by both such fine and imprisonment. All fines, moneys, or forfeited bail imposed for violation of this section, upon collection thereof, shall be disposed of as is provided for in the disposition of fines, moneys or forfeited bail under section seven of this act. [New section added May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 279.]

§ 8f. Definitions. For the purpose of this act the terms "veterinarian," "dentist," "pharmacist" shall be deemed to mean and shall refer only to persons who hold valid, unrevoked certificates to practice their respective professions in this state, issued by their respective examining boards in California. The term "physician," or "duly licensed physician," or "physician duly licensed to practice in this state," or "duly licensed physician licensed to practice and prescribe medicine in this state," or "practitioner of medicine," or "licensed physician," shall be deemed to mean and refer only to persons holding a valid and unrevoked physician's and surgeon's certificate, or certificate to practice medicine and surgery, issued by the board of medical examiners of the state of California or under the terms or provisions of any preceding medical practice act of the state of California. New section added May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1281.]

§ 9. Sale of carbolic acid. The sale or furnishing of carbolic acid (phenol) in quantities of less than one pound, is prohibited unless upon the prescription of a physician, dentist, or veterinary surgeon duly licensed to practice in this state, but this prohibition shall not apply to solution of carbolic acid (phenol) containing not over ten per cent of the carbolic acid (phenol) and not less than ten per cent of ethyl alcoholic. All sales of carbolic acid (phenol) thus diluted so as to contain no more than ten per cent of carbolic acid (phenol) may be made under the same conditions as the drugs enumerated in schedule "B" as found in section seven, but sales of carbolic acid (phenol) containing more than ten per cent of said acid shall be registered subject to the same regulation as the poisons enumerated in schedule "A" as found in section seven. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1281.]

The going into effect of the foregoing amendments and additions was delayed by the filing of a referendum petition. They will be voted on at the general election held in November, 1920, or at any special election which may be called by the Governor prior to such regular election.

TITLE 420.

POLICE.

ACT 2735.

Creating police relief, health, life insurance, and pension fund.
[Stats. 1889, p. 56.]

Amended 1891, pp. 287, 469; 1897, p. 52; 1917, pp. 119, 120; 1919, p. 101.

The amendments of 1917 and 1919 follow:

§ 3. Who entitled to receive police pensions. Whenever any person at the taking effect of this act, or thereafter, shall have been duly appointed or selected, and sworn, and have served for twenty years, or more, in the aggregate, as a member, in any capacity or any rank whatever, of the regularly constituted police department of any such county, city and county, city, or town which may hereafter be subject to the provisions of this act, said board shall upon the application of such person, order and direct that such person, after becoming sixty years of age, be retired from further service in such police department, and from the date of the making of such order the service of such person in such police department shall cease, and such person so retired shall thereafter, during his lifetime, be paid from such fund a yearly pension equal to one-half of the amount of salary attached to the rank which he may have held in said police department for the period of one year next preceding the date of such retirement; provided, that any person who comes within the purview of this section, who has otherwise complied with its provisions and who has served for thirty years or more as herein provided shall upon his application, be retired from further service upon a yearly pension equal to two-thirds of the amount of such yearly salary. [Amendment approved April 15, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 101.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 119.

§ 12. Moneys to be paid into police pension fund. The board of supervisors, or other governing authority, of any county, city and county, city, or town shall, for the purposes of said "police relief and pension fund" hereinbefore mentioned, direct the payment annually, and when the tax levy is made, into said fund of the following moneys:

First—Not less than five nor more than ten per centum of all moneys collected and received from licenses for the keeping of places wherein spirituous, malt, or other intoxicating liquors are sold.

Second—One-half of all moneys received from taxes or from licenses upon dogs.

Third—All moneys received from fines imposed upon the members of the police force of said county, city and county, city, or town, for violation of the rules and regulations of the police department.

Fourth—All proceeds of sales of unclaimed property.

Fifth—Not less than one-fourth nor more than one-half of all moneys received from licenses from pawnbrokers, billiard-hall keepers, second-hand dealers, and junk stores.

Sixth—All moneys received from fines for carrying concealed weapons.

Seventh—Twenty-five per centum of all fines collected in money for violation of county, city and county, city, or town ordinances.

Eighth—All rewards given or paid to members of such police force, except such as shall be excepted by the chief of police.

Ninth—The board of supervisors, or other governing authority, of any county, city and county, city or town shall for the purposes of said "police relief and pension fund" provide in addition to the salary now paid or which may be hereafter paid to each member of the police department an amount equal to two per cent of the salaries paid to the policemen of such county, city and county, city or town during the preceding year, payable from the funds of such municipal corporation. [Amendment approved April 14, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 120.]

ACT 2736.

An act relating to senior rights of members of paid police departments of counties, cities and counties, cities or towns.

[Approved February 23, 1907. Stats. 1907, p. 46.]

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1610.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. Senior rights in police department. Whenever a member of a paid police department of any county, city and county, city or town shall have served ten years as a member of such police department, he shall be entitled to senior rights in the assignment of duties in the order of their seniority and shall be entitled to day work or to any position held by a member of the same rank not ten years in the service. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1610.]

§ 2. Penalty for failure to make assignments. Any police official whose duty it is to assign the members of the police department to their duties and who fails to make assignments in accordance with the provisions hereof shall forfeit one month's salary. All money forfeited under this act shall be paid into the treasury of the county, city and county, city or town in which the forfeiture occurs. It shall be the duty of the district attorney to enforce the provisions hereof. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1611.]

TITLE 421.

POLICE COURTS.

ACT 2741a.

An act to establish police courts in cities of the first and one-half class, to fix the jurisdiction of said courts and to provide for the officers thereof, to prescribe the powers and duties of the officers of said courts, and to fix the compensation of certain officers thereof, and to repeal an act entitled "An act to establish police courts in cities of the first and one-half class, to fix their jurisdiction and provide for officers of said courts and fix the compensation of certain officers thereof," which became a law under the provisions of the constitution of the state of California without the governor's approval, on the 5th day of March, 1901, and all acts amendatory of said act or supplementary thereto.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 6. Clerk. Bond, salary, duties, monthly account. Business hours. Dockets. Said police court shall have a clerk for each of the judges of said court, who shall be appointed by the judge of said court presiding in the department thereof in which the said clerk is to act, and one additional clerk who shall be appointed by the presiding judge of said court. Each of said clerks shall hold office for the term of four years from the date of his appointment. Each such clerk shall be ex officio a clerk of the city justices of the peace. Each of said clerks shall give a bond in the sum of five thousand dollars, with at least two sureties, to be approved by the mayor, conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office. Each of said clerks shall receive an annual salary of two thousand one hundred dollars, payable in equal monthly installments out of the treasury of said city, which salary shall be full compensation for all services rendered by him. Each of said clerks shall keep a record of the proceedings of said court and issue all processes ordered by the city justices or either of them, or by said police court or a judge thereof, and receive and pay into the city treasury all fines imposed and collected by said court, and all forfeitures of cash deposited in lieu of bail in said court, and all other moneys which may come into his hands belonging to or payable to said city. They shall also render each month to the city council an extract and detailed account under oath of all fines imposed and collected and of all fines imposed and uncollected since their last reports. They shall prepare and approve bonds and may, in the absence of a judge of said court, fix the amount of bail to be required of any defendant charged in such court with any offense of which such court has jurisdiction. Such clerk may also justify bail, and may administer and certify oaths. Said clerks shall remain at the courtrooms of said court during business hours and during such reasonable times thereafter as may be necessary for a proper performance of their duties. Before receiving any monthly payment of salary each of said clerks shall make and file with the city auditor an affidavit that he has deposited with the city treasurer all moneys that have come into his hands belonging to the city. Any violation of this provision shall be a misdemeanor. Said clerks shall keep, compile and be the custodians of the dockets, files and records of said court. Said dockets shall, in civil cases, be kept in conformity to the provisions of sections nine hundred eleven, nine hundred twelve, nine hundred thirteen and nine hundred fourteen of the Code of Civil Procedure of the state of California. In criminal cases the docket shall contain in each case:

1. The title of the case;
2. The demurrer, if any;
3. The motion to dismiss, if any, based upon any defect of the complaint in substance or form;
4. The ruling of the court upon any demurrer or motion to dismiss;
5. The defendant's plea;
6. Any order of the court setting the time for hearing of any demurrer or motion, or setting case for trial;
7. The names of the witnesses sworn and examined at the trial;
8. The verdict;
9. The time set for rendering judgment, if judgment is not passed immediately after verdict or plea of guilty; and the waiver of time for sentence, if there be such waiver;
10. The judgment;
11. A minute of all motions, rulings and orders made after verdict of judgment;
12. The dates of the various actions or things required to be recorded.

Each of said clerks shall perform such other duties as the court by a majority vote of the judges thereof may determine in regulating and conducting the business of said court, and said judges may select one of the said clerks to supervise and audit the books, records and accounts of the several departments of said court in co-operation with the city auditor of said city, and to perform such other duties as said judges may require.

TITLE 422a.

POTATOES.

ACT 2747.

An act to provide for the certification of potato seed, authorizing the state commissioner of horticulture to employ a potato inspector and to fix his salary, declaring the violation of the provisions hereof to be a misdemeanor and making an appropriation to carry out the purposes hereof.

§ 1. Certification of potato seed. The state commissioner of horticulture is hereby empowered to promote and protect the potato industry of California, and to establish and enforce such rules and regulations as may be deemed necessary for the examination and certification of potatoes grown within the state of California, for the purpose of producing improved varieties or a higher quality of seed. He shall issue to each grower a certificate showing the variety, quality and freedom from insect pests and diseases of the seed crop examined, and each certificate shall show the amount of seed which can be sold thereunder. All such certified potato seed shall be labeled with copies of the certificate, such additional copies to be furnished by the state commissioner of horticulture. The state commissioner of horticulture shall fix a reasonable charge to cover the cost of such inspection and certification, and shall publish a list of the growers of all such seeds. All money collected under this section shall be paid into the state treasury for use in the enforcement of this act.

§ 2. Potato inspector. Upon the passage of this act the state commissioner of horticulture shall employ a "potato inspector," who shall have an intimate knowledge of the potato industry, who shall be an expert on varieties, and who shall be qualified to carry on potato investigations and inspections for the purpose of certification of seed. The salary of the "potato inspector" shall be fixed by the state commissioner of horticulture, and he shall be paid the expenses incurred by him while traveling in the performance of his duties.

§ 3. Penalty. Any person, company, firm, or corporation, who willfully misbrands, adulterates, or otherwise misrepresents or interferes with the grade or quality of certified seed, or who in any way changes the certificates issued by the state commissioner of horticulture, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 4. Appropriation. Out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated there is hereby appropriated the sum of ten thousand dollars to be used during the seventy-first and seventy-second fiscal years in carrying out the purposes of this act.

§ 5. Repealed. All acts, or parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

TITLE 430.

PROSTITUTION.

ACT 2799.

An act to establish an institution for the confinement, care and reformation of delinquent women, to provide for its maintenance, conduct and government, to provide for commitment and admission thereto, and to make an appropriation therefor.

[Approved May 3, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 246. In effect in part July 22, 1919; see section 19.]

§ 1. California industrial farm for women. There shall be established within this state an institution for the confinement, care and reformation of delinquent women, to be known as the California industrial farm for women.

§ 2. Purpose. The purpose of said institution shall be to provide custody, care, protection, industrial and other training and reformatory help for delinquent women.

§ 3. Board of trustees. Oath. Expenses. Said institution shall be under the management and control of a board of trustees of five members appointed by the governor, three of whom shall be women. The terms of office of said trustees shall be five years each; provided, that the terms of office of those first appointed shall be one, two, three, four and five years, respectively, and the governor in making such appointments shall indicate the respective terms for which the appointments are made.

Before entering upon the discharge of their duties, the trustees shall take an oath in writing to faithfully discharge the same.

The members of the board of trustees shall be entitled to their reasonable expenses, including traveling expenses, incurred in the discharge of their duties.

§ 4. Duties of board. The duties of said board of trustees shall be:

(a) To organize itself, adopt general rules for the holding of its meetings and the transaction of its business, and for the administration and conduct of the institution.

(b) To select, purchase and procure with all reasonable dispatch a suitable site of not less than two hundred acres, with the necessary appurtenances, for said institution. Such site shall be of such character as to afford ample opportunity for agricultural work and training to those committed to the institution. If there be already owned by the state land suitable for such site or as a part thereof, and not used, or in the opinion of the state board of control not necessary for use by the state for another purpose, such land may be appropriated by the board of trustees with the consent of the state board of control as the site, or part of the site, of said institution.

(c) To construct and equip in connection with or appurtenant to the site so procured or appropriated the buildings, improvements and plant necessary for the accomplishment by said institution of the purposes for which it is established.

The board of trustees are authorized, if they deem it advisable, pending the construction of the permanent buildings, improvements and plant, to construct and equip temporary accommodations and to commence and carry on the work of the institution.

(d) To conduct, supervise and administer the institution for the purposes for which it is established, together with the right to possess, control and administer any and all property given or appropriated to or for the benefit of said institution, either by way of endowment, public or private, or otherwise.

(e) The board of trustees shall employ a skilled superintendent, who shall be a woman, not one of their number, and who shall reside at and have the immediate charge and management of the institution, subject to the control and supervision of the board of trustees. The board shall authorize the employment of such other assistants, officers or employees as may be necessary.

(f) The board of trustees shall report biennially to the governor.

§ 5. Meetings. The board of trustees shall meet at said institution in regular session once a month and in special session as they may deem necessary, and the office of any member who is absent from two consecutive regular sessions, or from more than three regular sessions, in the course of any calendar year, shall, unless such absences are excused by the governor in writing, filed with the board, ipso facto become vacant.

§ 6. Bond of superintendent. The superintendent shall give a bond to the state in such sum as may be prescribed by the board of trustees, but not less than ten thousand dollars, conditioned upon the faithful discharge by her of her duties.

§ 7. Women assistants. All regularly employed assistants, officers and employees, whose duties bring them in contact with the inmates of the institution, shall be women as far as practicable.

§ 8. (a) Commitment to institution. When any woman, eighteen years of age or over is found guilty by any court within this state of prostitution, soliciting for prostitution, keeping a house of ill-fame or residing in such house, frequenting any dance-hall, hotel, rooming-house, or other public place, for the purpose of prostitution, or of vagrancy because of being a common prostitute or a common drunkard, she shall in lieu of any other sentence or disposition provided by law, be committed by the court in which she is so found guilty to said institution for an indeterminate period of not less than six months nor more than five years.

(b) Admission refused, when. The said board of trustees shall not be required to receive for admission any woman committed to said institution, if, in its opinion the accommodations at said institution or the state of its finances is such as not to justify her reception.

§ 9. Transfer from penal or reformatory institution. Any woman, eighteen years of age or over, confined under sentence or commitment in any penal or reformatory institution or prison within this state, may be transferred therefrom for the serving of her sentence or the term of her commitment, or the balance thereof, to the said institution, with the consent of the trustees thereof, by order of the governing official or board of officials of the institution or prison in which she is confined.

§ 10. Admission on request of woman. Any woman, eighteen years of age or over, may, upon her written request, be admitted to said institution by the board of trustees thereof if it believes that she is or is in danger of becoming a prostitute, common drunkard, or a criminal. Such person shall be discharged by order of the trustees at any time upon her written request therefor in writing, unless she has been adjudged to be feeble-minded, as hereinafter provided.

§ 11. Delivery to institution. Woman attendant. Upon the commitment or transfer of any woman to said institution under the preceding sections it shall be the duty of the officer having custody of her, or required to take custody of her, to deliver her to said institution, receiving therefor the fees payable for the transportation of prisoners to the state prison. Such officer shall at the same time deliver to said institution a certified copy of the judgment of conviction and of the order of commitment or order of transfer.

Every woman so committed or transferred under this act shall be accompanied by a woman attendant from the place of commitment or transfer until delivered to the institution.

§ 12. Care of children. If any woman received by or admitted to the institution have a child under two years of age, or gives birth to a child while an inmate of said institution, such child may be admitted to and retained in the institution until it reaches the age of two years, at which time the board of trustees may arrange for its care elsewhere; and provided, that at their discretion in exceptional cases the board of trustees may retain such child for a longer period of time.

§ 13. History of inmates. There shall be kept at the institution a record of the history and progress of every woman received by it during the period she is under its control and, so far as practically possible, prior and subsequent thereto, and all judges, court officials and employees, district attorneys, sheriffs, chiefs of police and peace officers shall furnish such institution with all data in their possession or knowledge relative to any inmate that said institution may request. If upon the arrest of any woman it be discovered that she was theretofore an inmate of said institution, it shall be promptly notified of her arrest.

§ 14. (a) Examination and training. Discharge. Every woman received by said institution shall be examined mentally and physically and shall, if retained by said institution, be given the care, treatment and training adapted to her particular condition. Such care, treatment and training shall be along the lines best suited to develop her mentality, character and industrial capacity to a point where she can be honorably discharged from the institution with reasonable safety and benefit to herself and to the public at large. Upon her reaching such point, in the judgment of the board of trustees, she shall be honorably discharged from the institution, unless she has been transferred to it under section ten hereof and has not fully served her sentence, in which case she shall be recommended by the board of trustees to the governor of the state for pardon.

(b) Transfer to Pacific Colony. If any woman, upon her admission to said institution and examination and observation thereat, is found by the board of trustees thereof to be feeble-minded or moron within the meaning of section sixteen of the act of the legislature of the state of California approved June 1, 1917, creating an institution to be known as the Pacific Colony, such board of trustees may institute proceedings to have such person adjudged to be feeble-minded, and in case of such adjudication shall thereafter have the custody and control over her as a feeble-minded person until discharged or transferred from said institution. The proceedings for the adjudication of any such person as feeble-minded shall conform to those provided in that behalf by said act creating the Pacific Colony. Any such person so adjudicated to be feeble-minded may, by order of the board of trustees of said institution, be transferred to said Pacific Colony or other institution provided by the state for the care of the feeble-minded, with the consent of the governing board of such latter institution and upon such transfer such governing board shall have the same authority and control over such person as theretofore possessed by the board of trustees of the institution created by this act.

(c) Discharge on expiration of maximum term. Any person committed to said institution under sections eight or nine hereof shall in any case be discharged therefrom upon the expiration of the maximum period for which she has been committed to said institution unless she has been theretofore adjudged to be feeble-minded as hereinbefore provided.

§ 15. Parole. The board of trustees shall have the right to parole any inmate of the institution at such time and upon such terms as it may deem wise and to recall such parole in its discretion and to retake her into the custody of the institution. The board of trustees shall have the power to employ parole agents for the purpose of affording protection, assistance and guidance to women on parole.

§ 16. (a) Sale of articles. Employment of inmates. The said institution may manufacture or raise for sale supplies or produce for use in any state institution, and the board of trustees may in their discretion, pay to any inmate producing or assisting in the production of such article the proceeds, or a part of the proceeds, of the sale thereof. The board of trustees shall also have the power to employ inmates in actual work in the institution and to fix their compensation, if any, therefor and to pay the same at such times and in such manner as the board of trustees may see fit.

(b) Disposition of moneys received from sales. All moneys received from the sale of articles of any description, supplies or produce as provided in section sixteen, subdivision (a) of this act, shall be paid to the state treasurer, to be placed in the contingent fund to the credit of the said institution and for its use.

§ 17. Penalty for aiding in escape. Any person who aids in or connives at the escape of any inmate from said institution, or in or at her eluding of pursuit in case she has escaped or her parole has been recalled, or in or at any breach of her parole, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall, upon conviction, be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars or more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than three months or more than one year, or by both fine and imprisonment.

§ 18. Fees of court officers. In all proceedings relating to commitments under this act the fees and compensation of the sheriff and other officers of the court shall be such as are allowed by law for like proceedings and services in criminal cases.

§ 19. Proclamation by governor. When said institution is ready for the admission of women thereto, the board of trustees thereof shall certify such fact to the governor, who shall make due proclamation thereof, and thereupon, but not before, sections eight and nine hereof shall become effective.

§ 20. State commission in lunacy not to supervise. The California industrial farm for women, its inmates, trustees, officers, employees and property, shall be exempt from the operation of Chapter one, Title V,

Part III, of the Political Code, and free from the supervision, inspection or control of the state commission in lunacy.

§ 21. Appropriation. There is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated the sum of one hundred fifty thousand dollars for the purposes of this act, and the controller of the state is hereby directed, on requisition of the board of trustees, duly audited by the state board of control, to draw his warrant on the state treasurer in favor of said board of trustees for any moneys duly appropriated to meet any expenditures under this act.

TITLE 431.

PROTECTION DISTRICTS.

ACT 2804.

An act to provide for the formation of protection districts in the various counties of this state, for the improvement and rectification of the channels of innavigable streams and watercourses, for the prevention of the overflow thereof, by widening, deepening, and straightening and otherwise improving the same, and to authorize the boards of supervisors to levy and collect assessments from the property benefited to pay the expenses of the same.

Amended 1897, p. 219; 1903, p. 328; 1909, p. 807; 1911, p. 446; 1917, p. 1219, 1919, pp. 442, 461.

The amendments of 1917 and 1919 follow:

§ 6. District governed by supervisors. Powers. Emergency work. Surveys. Maps. Plans, etc. Each protection district shall be governed and controlled by the board of supervisors of the county in which it is situated. Said board shall have power, in the name of the county and in behalf of the district, to purchase, receive by donation, or acquire by condemnation any rights of way or other real or personal property necessary to carry out the purposes for which the district was formed, and for that purpose all the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to eminent domain are hereby made applicable to proceedings in behalf of such district to condemn property. The said board shall also have power to employ such engineers, surveyors and others as may be necessary to survey, plan or locate, or supervise the construction or repair of, the improvements necessary to carry out the purposes for which the district was formed; to construct, maintain and keep in repair any and all improvements, and do all other things requisite or necessary to carry out the purposes of the district; and to employ the services of any person, legal or otherwise, which in the judgment of said board, may be necessary to carry out said purposes. All work done in any district shall be ordered by the board of supervisors of the county in which said district is located and shall be under the direction of the county surveyor or county engineer. All work which shall exceed an estimated cost of one thousand dollars shall be advertised and let to the lowest bidder; provided, however, that at the time flood waters shall threaten the levee of a district the board of supervisors may order emergency work done without advertising for bids therefor. As soon as said district is formed, the board shall cause a survey of the contemplated improvements to be made, or adopt a survey already made, and shall also cause a map of such survey, and plans and specifications showing such improvements in detail, to be prepared, and they shall adopt such surveys, maps, plans and specifications, and thereafter all such improvements shall be made in accordance with the survey, maps, plans and specifications so adopted; provided, that at any time after the adoption of said survey, map, plans and specifications, and before the commissioner's report of assessment of benefits and award of damages has been finally adopted and confirmed by the board, said board may rescind their action in adopting said survey, map, plans and specifications, and may modify the same or adopt others in place thereof, in which case a new assessment shall be made, or may, by a four-fifths vote of the members thereof, abandon the contemplated improvement and dissolve the said protection district, in which case the expenses already incurred in behalf of such district shall be a county charge. [Amendment approved May 11, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 461.]

§ 10. Duty of viewers. Assessments. Said commissioners shall proceed to view the lands embraced within the boundaries of such protection district, and may examine witnesses under oath, to be administered by any one of them. Having viewed the land to be taken, and the improvements affected, and considered the testimony presented, they shall proceed with all diligence to determine the value of the land and damage to improvements and property affected and also the estimated amount of the costs of the proposed work or improvement and the expenses incident thereto, and having determined the same, shall proceed to assess the same to the county or counties and upon the lands embraced within the exterior boundaries of such protection district. Such assessment shall be made in the manner following, to wit: The board of supervisors shall assess to the county or counties where more than one is an interested and benefited party or parties not exceeding one-half of such assessment; provided, that in no case shall a county be liable for an amount in excess of one-fourth thereof or for any sum greater than two thousand five hundred dollars where there are two or more counties within which said district is formed, and the remainder of such assessment may be made upon the lands within said district in proportion to the benefits to be derived from said work or improvement, so far as said commission can reasonably estimate the same, including in such estimate the streets in such municipal corporation and the property of any railroad company, within said district, if such there be. And each year thereafter it shall be the duty of the assessor of the county in which the district is situated to assess and enter upon his assessment-roll the property within such protection district. [Amendment approved May 11, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 441.]

§ 11. Commissioners shall make report with plat of district. Said commissioners, having made their assessment of benefits and damages, shall, with all diligence, make a written report thereof to the board of supervisors, and shall accompany their report with a plat of the district, showing the land taken or to be taken for the work or improvement; and the lands assessed, showing the relative location of each district, block, lot, or portion of lot or other piece of land, and its dimensions, so far as the commissioners can reasonably ascertain the same. Each block and lot, or portion of lot, or other parcel or parcels of land taken or assessed, shall be designated and described in said plat by an appropriate number, and a reference to it by such descriptive number shall be a sufficient description of it in all respects. When the report and plat are approved by the board of supervisors, a copy of said plat (appropriately designated and certified by the clerk of said board as a correct copy of the plat on file in his office) shall be, by the clerk of said board, recorded in the office of the recorder and filed in the office of the assessor of the county. Said report of the commissioners shall also contain the names of the persons owning lands taken, or to be taken, for such work or improvement; the names of the land owners who consent to give the right of way, and their written consent thereto; the names of land owners who do not consent, and the amount of damage claimed by each, and the amount of damages awarded to each by the commissioners. [Amendment approved May 11, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 442.]

§ 20½. Refund of unused assessments. Assessments levied and collected under the terms of this act, if unused, and unapplied for a period of one year after the day on which said assessments become due and payable, may be refunded by the board of supervisors in the manner provided by law for the refund of state and county taxes. [New section added May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1219.]

§ 21. Protection district tax levy. The board of supervisors shall, at the time of making the levy of taxes for county purposes for each year, levy a tax upon the real estate in each protection district in their county sufficient in amount to raise the amount of money which will be needed for the current year for maintaining and repairing the works and improvements of said district. Any tax upon the lands within said district, levied either for the purposes specified in section seventeen or for the purposes specified in this section, shall be assessed against said lands in proportion to the benefits to be derived by said lands as shown by the report of the commission adopted by the board of supervisors as hereinbefore provided for. Said tax, when levied, shall be entered upon the assessment-roll and collected in the same manner as state and county taxes. When the same is collected, it shall be placed in the treasury of the county to the credit of the current expense fund of said district, and shall be used only for the purpose for which it was raised. Payments shall be made from said fund in the same manner as from the improvement fund of the district. [Amendment approved May 11, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 462.]

An act to provide for the formation, organization and government of storm-water districts, for the purpose of protecting the land therein from damage from storm water and from the waters of any innavigable stream, watercourse, canyon or wash, for the construction of the necessary works of protection by said district, and for the levying of taxes and assessments to pay for the cost of constructing, repairing and maintaining such improvements.

[Approved March 13, 1909. Stats. 1909, p. 339.]

The amendments of 1917 and 1919 follow:

§ 1. Storm-water districts formed. Petition of land owners. Resolution of intention. Hearing. Notice. Storm-water districts may be formed under the provisions of this act for the purpose of protecting the lands in such district from damage by storm water, dams, ditches, dikes and other structures, and by spreading, conserving, storing, retaining or causing to percolate into the soil any or all waters of any innavigable stream, watercourse, canyon or wash. Said storm-water districts may include within their exterior boundaries land which lies within incorporated territory with land which lies in unincorporated territory, or said districts may be formed from land lying wholly within or wholly without incorporated territory. When twenty-five per cent or more owners of land whose names appear as such upon the last assessment-roll in any district of land which lies in one body and is liable to damage from storm water or from the waters of any innavigable stream, watercourse, canyon or wash, shall present a petition to the board of supervisors of the county in which said land lies, or if the same lies in more than one county, then to the board of supervisors of the county in which the greater area of such land lies, setting forth the exterior boundaries of said district and asking that the district so described be formed into a storm-water district under the provisions of this act. The said board of supervisors shall pass a resolution declaring their intention to form or organize said portion of said county or counties into a storm-water district for the purpose of protecting the land therein from damage from storm water and from the waters of any innavigable stream, canyon or wash, and describing the exterior boundaries of the district. Said resolution shall fix a time and place for the hearing of the matter not less than thirty days after the passage thereof, and direct the clerk of said board to publish the notice of the intention of the board of supervisors to form such storm-water district and of the time and place fixed for the hearing, and shall designate some newspaper of general circulation published and circulated in said proposed storm-water district, or if there is no newspaper so published and circulated, then some newspaper of general circulation published and circulated in each county in which any part of said proposed district is situated in which said notice is to be published. [Amendment approved May 10, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 321.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 215.

§ 2. Publication of notice. Notice to owners. Thereupon said clerk shall cause to be published in the newspaper or newspapers so designated, for a period of twenty days before the date fixed for the hearing, a notice, which shall be headed "Notice of intention of the board of supervisors to form a storm-water district." Said notice shall set forth the fact of the passage of such resolution with the date thereof, the boundaries of the proposed district, and the time and place for the hearing, and shall state that it is proposed to assess all property embraced in said proposed storm-water district, for the purpose of paying the damages, costs and expenses of constructing and repairing such dikes, levees, ditches, canals, reservoirs, shafts and other improvement as may be necessary to protect the land in said district from damage from storm water and from waters of any innavigable stream, canyon or wash, or to spread, conserve, store, retain or cause to percolate into the soil within such district any or all of such waters, and the necessary expense of maintaining said district, and shall refer to the resolution for further particulars. The assessor shall certify to the clerk the name of each owner of land in the proposed district whose name appears as such on the last assessment-roll of the county or counties in which said proposed district lies, and said clerk shall forthwith send a copy of said notice by registered mail, postage prepaid, to each owner so certified, addressed to such owner at his address given on said assessment-roll or, if no address is given, then at his last known address, or if it be not known, then at the county seat of the county in which his land lies. Said clerk shall make and file in his office an affidavit of such mailing, showing the names and addresses of the persons to whom such notices were sent, which shall be prima facie evidence that such notices were mailed as herein required. [Amendment approved May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 215.]

§ 3. Objections. Any person interested objecting to the formation of such proposed district, or to the extent thereof, may, at or before the time fixed for the hearing of the matter, file a written objection thereto, with the clerk of said board of supervisors, who shall indorse thereon the date of its reception by him, and shall at the time fixed for the hearing, place all such objections filed with him before said board of supervisors. [Amendment approved May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 216.]

§ 4. Hearing. Declaration of supervisors. At the time fixed for the hearing, or to which the hearing may be adjourned, the board of supervisors shall hear the objections filed, if any, and pass upon the same. Said board may, in its discretion, sustain any or all of the objections filed, and may change or alter the boundaries of such proposed district to conform to the needs of the district, except that they shall not include therein any territory not included in the boundaries mentioned in the petition, and may, in their discretion, declare such storm-water district formed with the boundaries designated by them, and shall designate such district by name as the — storm-water district of — county (or counties); provided, that no such district shall be formed wherein a majority of the owners of property in said district, according to the last previous assessment-roll, object. Said storm-water district may be organized and incorporated and managed as herein expressly provided, and may exercise the powers herein expressly granted or necessarily implied. The county clerk shall immediately cause to be filed with the secretary of state a certified copy of such order of the board of supervisors, and from and after the date of the filing of such certified copy, the district named therein shall be deemed incorporated as a storm-water district with all the rights, privileges and powers set forth in this act, and necessarily incident thereto. [Amendment approved May 10, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 525.]

This section was also amended in 1919. See Stats. 1917, p. 216.

§ 5. Control of district. Each storm-water district shall be under the control of three trustees, to be elected as hereinafter provided, who shall constitute the governing board thereof. Each trustee shall be a freeholder of the district and shall have resided therein at least one year next preceding his election; provided, however, that when unincorporated territory is included with incorporated territory in said district, at least one of said trustees shall be an eligible freeholder of the unincorporated territory, if such there be residing in said district, and shall give bond in such sum as the board of supervisors who formed the district shall fix, which bond shall be approved by a superior judge of said county and filed with the county clerk thereof. Said trustees, except those first elected, shall take office on the first day of July next succeeding their election, and shall hold office for the term of two years and until their successors are elected and qualified. [Amendment approved May 10, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 526.]

§ 16. Installment assessments. Duty of tax collector. Payment of assessments. After said report has been adopted, the board of trustees, if they consider the total sum to be raised for the payment of the cost of such improvements too great to be properly expended in one year, or too great to be raised in one year by assessment against the property in such storm-water district, may by order entered upon their minutes, provide that the total sum assessed shall be raised in any number of equal annual installments, not exceeding ten. When the board has adopted the report and determined the number of equal annual installments in which such assessment shall be raised, they shall cause their clerk to forward to the tax collector of the county in which such district is situated, who shall file the same in his office, a certified copy of the report, assessment and plat as adopted and confirmed by said board of trustees, together with a certified copy of the order of said board, fixing the number of equal annual installments in which such assessment is to be raised, and the county tax collector shall enter said assessments upon the county assessment-roll in the same manner as county taxes. From and after such entry upon the county assessment-roll, the first year's installment of the amount assessed thereon against each parcel of land shall become due and payable immediately, and the total amount assessed against each parcel of land shall constitute a lien thereon; and thereafter installments of the assessment for the succeeding years shall become due and payable on the first Monday of October of each year; provided, that any or all subsequent installments of the assessment on any parcel of land may, at the option of any person desiring to pay the same, be paid at any time after the first installment becomes due and payable. If the district is situated in two or more counties, a certified copy of said report, assessment, plat and order of the board of trustees shall be filed with the tax collector of each county in which any part of said district is situated, and thereafter each tax collector shall enter the assessments upon the assessment-roll of his county and proceed as to the property in said district within his own county in the manner hereinafter directed, and the assessment on the property in said county shall be collected in the manner hereinafter directed. [Amendment approved May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 215.]

§ 16a. Assessments raised by installments. When the board of trustees orders that the sum to be assessed shall be raised by annual installments as provided in section sixteen of the act, said board shall have the power to provide that all installments after the first installment shall bear interest at the rate of not to exceed seven per cent per annum until paid, said interest to be collected in the same manner as the principal and together with the principal be a lien against the property assessed.

Said board of trustees when the assessments are to be paid by annual installment shall have the power to enter into contracts for said work providing for payments on said contracts in annual installments, not exceeding ten, and not exceeding the amount to be raised by the annual assessment installment provided for in section sixteen a of this act. Interest not to exceed seven per cent per annum may be paid on deferred contract installments. Said contract installments together with interest shall be a lien on the funds raised by annual assessments [New section added May 10, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 526.]

§ 17. Notice by tax collector that assessments are due. Annual notice. Within one month after the filing of such certified copy of said report, assessment, plat and order with the tax collector, and the entry of the same upon the county assessment-roll, said tax collector shall give notice by ten days' publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in said district, or if there is none, in a newspaper of general circulation published in his county, that the assessment-roll of — storm-water district of — county, has been filed in his office, and entered upon the county assessment-roll, with the date of such entry; that the amounts entered thereon are due and payable; that if not paid on or before the first Monday in January next ensuing, the same will become delinquent and will be collected in the same manner as delinquent taxes. If the first Monday in January next ensuing is less than three months from the date of filing the assessment-roll with the tax collector, the date, to be stated in the notice, shall be three months after such entry upon the county assessment-roll. The tax collector shall note on the county assessment-roll all assessments paid, with the dates of payment, giving receipts as in the case of payments of taxes, and shall pay all money collected into the county treasury at the same time and in the same manner as money collected for taxes paid into such treasury. All collections of subsequent installments of the assessment shall be made in the same manner as above set forth, and the tax collector shall annually (after the first year), immediately after the first Monday of October give notice as above directed that the (giving the number) annual installment of the assessments of said district is now due and payable, and that if not paid on or before the first Monday of January next ensuing, the same will become delinquent and will be collected in the same manner as delinquent taxes; and the same proceedings shall be had thereon as upon the collection of the first assessment. If said district is situated in two or more different counties, all moneys collected on account of such assessment shall be paid into the treasury of the county in which said district was organized. [Amendment approved May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 217.]

§ 26a. Bonded indebtedness. Election. Notice. Whenever the board of trustees deem it necessary for the district to incur a bonded indebtedness, it shall, by resolution, so declare and state the proposition to be submitted to the electors, the purpose for which the proposed debt is to be incurred, the amount of debt to be incurred, the maximum term the bonds proposed to be issued shall run before maturity, which shall not exceed twenty years, and the maximum rate of interest to be paid, which shall not exceed six per cent per annum, payable semi-annually. The board of trustees shall fix a date upon which an election shall be held, for the purpose of authorizing said bonded indebtedness to be incurred. It shall be the duty of the board of trustees to provide for holding such special elections on the day so fixed and in accordance with the general election laws of the state, so far as the same shall be applicable, except as herein otherwise provided. Such board of trustees shall give notice of the holding of such election, which notice shall contain the resolution adopted by the board of trustees of the district, boundaries of precincts, the location of polling places, and the names of the officers selected to conduct the election, who shall consist of one judge, one inspector and one clerk in each precinct. Such notice shall be published for two weeks in at least one newspaper, and not more than two newspapers published in such district, which newspaper or newspapers shall be designated by the board of trustees; and if there is no newspaper printed in such district, then by publication for two weeks in one newspaper published in the county in which such district is situated, or by posting such notice in three public places therein, at least two weeks before the date of such election. All the expenses of holding such election shall be borne by the district. The returns of such election shall be made, the votes canvassed by said board of trustees on the first Monday following said election, and the results thereof ascertained and declared in accordance with the general election laws of the state, so far as they may be applicable, except as herein otherwise provided. The secretary of the board of trustees, as soon as the result is declared, shall enter in the records of such board a statement of such results. No irregularities or informalities in conducting such election shall invalidate the same, if the election shall have otherwise been fairly conducted. In all respects not otherwise provided for herein, said election shall be called, managed and directed as is by law provided for general elections in this state applicable thereto. [New section approved May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 218.]

§ 26b. Bonds issued if two-thirds vote favors. If from such returns it appears that more than two-thirds of the votes cast at such election were in favor of and assented to the incurring of such indebtedness, then the board of trustees may, by resolution, at such time or times as it deems proper, provide for the form, denomination and execution of such bonds and for the issuance of any part thereof, and may sell or dispose of the bonds so issued at such time or times and in such manner, either in cash in lawful money of the United States, or its equivalent, as it may deem to be to the public interest, but not for less than the par value thereof; said bonds shall be signed by the president and clerk of said district and the seal of the district shall be affixed. [New section added May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 219.]

§ 26c. Bonds exempt from taxation. Any bonds issued by any district, under the provisions of this act, are hereby given the same force as bonds issued by any municipality, and shall be exempt from all taxation within the state of California. [New section added May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 219.]

§ 26d. Bonds lien upon property of district. Any bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be a lien upon the property of the district and the lien of the bonds of any issue shall be a preferred lien to that of any subsequent issue. Said bonds, and the interest thereon, shall be paid by revenue derived from an annual assessment upon the real property of the district; and all the real property in the district shall be and remain liable to be assessed from such payments. [New section added May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 219.]

§ 26e. Estimate of amount to pay interest and principal. Tax levy. The board of trustees of each storm-water district shall annually during the month of August estimate the amount of money which will be needed to pay the interest and such portion of any bond issue maturing prior to the preceding August, and certify such amount to the board of supervisors of the county or counties in which said district lies. Such boards or boards of supervisors shall, at the time of making the levy of taxes, for county purposes for that year, levy a tax upon the real property in their county in said district, sufficient in amount to raise the sum estimated by the board of trustees to be necessary. When the district is in two or more counties, the amount to be raised upon the part of the district in each county shall be in proportion to the assessed valuation of the several portions of the districts in the respective counties. Said tax, when levied, shall be entered upon the assessment-roll and collected in the same manner as the state and county taxes. When the same is collected, it shall be placed in the treasury of the county in which said district is organized, to the credit of the bond fund of said district, and shall be used only for the purpose for which it is raised. [New section added May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 220.]

§ 27. Proceedings for disincorporation. Any storm-water district may be disincorporated at any time before the adoption of the first commissioner's report by proceedings had in the following manner: Whenever a petition praying for such disincorporation shall be presented to the trustees of said district signed by a majority of the land owners therein, they shall call an election in the same manner as elections for members of the board of trustees are called, and submit to the electors of said district the question of disincorporation. Said election shall be held in all respects in the same manner as regular elections of trustees of the district. If it appears that a majority of the electors voting at said election have voted in favor of disincorporation, the trustees shall cause such fact to be entered upon their minutes, and shall forward a copy of such entry to the board of supervisors by whom the district was organized, who shall file the same with their clerk, and from the date of such filing, said district shall be deemed disincorporated; provided, that if at the time of the dissolution, or disincorporation of said district, there be any outstanding bonded or other indebtedness of such district, then taxes for the payment of such bonded or other indebtedness shall be levied and collected, the same as if such district had not been dissolved and disincorporated, but for all other purposes, such district shall be deemed dissolved and disincorporated from the time of the forwarding of said copy of such entry to said board of supervisors. [Amendment approved May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 220.]

An act to validate bonds of Coachella valley storm-water district of Riverside county, California, and all proceedings relating thereto. [Approved March 31, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 18. In effect July 22, 1919.]

TITLE 435.PUBLIC HEALTH.*ACT 2827.

An act to provide for the reporting of occupational diseases. [Approved April 21, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 953.]

Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 432.

ACT 2830.

An act for the preservation of the public health of the people of the state of California, and empowering the state board of health to enforce its provisions, and providing penalties for the violation thereof.

[Approved March 23, 1907. Stats. 1907, p. 893.]

Amended April 1, 1911, Stats. 1911, p. 565, and June 13, 1913, Stats. 1913, p. 796; May 24, 1917, Stats. 1917, p. 920.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 2. Unlawful to discharge sewage in streams. Unlawful to moor house-boat two miles above intake. It shall be unlawful to discharge, drain or deposit, or cause or suffer to be discharged, drained or deposited, any sewage, garbage, feculent matter, offal, refuse, filth, or any animal, mineral, or vegetable matter or substance, offensive, injurious or dangerous to health, into any springs, streams, rivers, lakes, tributaries thereof, wells or other waters used or intended to be used for human or animal consumption or for domestic purposes, or to maintain a sewer farm or to erect, construct, excavate, or maintain, or cause to be erected, constructed, excavated or maintained, any privy, vault, cess-pool, sewage treatment works, sewer-pipes or conduits, or other pipes or conduits, for the treatment and discharge of sewage or sewage effluents or impure waters, gas, vapors, oils, acids, tar, or any matter or substance offensive, injurious or dangerous to health, whereby the same shall overflow lands or shall empty, flow, seep, drain, condense into or otherwise pollute or affect any waters intended for human or animal consumption or for domestic purposes, or any of the salt waters within the jurisdiction of this state; or to add to, modify or alter any of the plant, works, system thereof or manner or place of discharge or disposal; or to erect or maintain any permanent or temporary house, camp, or tent, so near to such springs, streams, rivers, lakes, tributaries, or other sources of water supply, as to cause or suffer the drainage, seepage, or flow of impure waters, or any other liquids, or the discharge or deposit therefrom of any animal, mineral, or vegetable matter, to pollute such waters without a permit from the state board of health, as hereinafter provided.

It shall also be unlawful for the owner, tenant, lessee or occupant of any house-boat or boat intended for or capable or being used as a residence, house, dwelling or habitation, or for the agent of such owner, tenant, lessee or occupant to moor or anchor the same or permit the same to be moored or anchored in or on any river or stream, the waters of which are used for drinking or domestic purposes by any city, town or village within a distance of two miles above the intake or place where such city, town or village water system takes water from such river or stream; provided, however, that in the transportation of any such house-boat on any such river or stream nothing herein contained shall prevent the owner, agent, tenant or occupant of such house-boat from mooring or anchoring the same when necessary within the limits herein fixed and established; provided, such house-boat shall not remain moored or anchored within such limits for a longer period than one day. [Amendment approved May 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 920.]

§ 3. Petition for permission to discharge sewage, etc., into stream. Plan of work. Hearing. Whenever any county, city and county, city, town, village, district, community, institution, person, firm, or corporation, shall desire to deposit or discharge, or continue to deposit or discharge into any stream, river, lake or tributary thereof, or into any other waters used or intended to be used for human or animal consumption or for domestic purposes, or into or upon any place the surface or subterranean drainage from which may run or percolate into any such stream, river, lake, tributary or other waters, any sewage, sewage effluent, or other substance by the terms of section two of this act forbidden so to be deposited or discharged, or whenever any such county, city and county, city, town, village, district, community, institution, person, firm or corporation shall desire to deposit or discharge, or continue to deposit or discharge any sewage, sewage effluent, trade wastes or any animal mineral or vegetable matter or substance, offensive, injurious or dangerous to health in any of the salt waters within the jurisdiction of this state, or to maintain a sewer farm or to permit the overflow of sewage on to any land whatever, or shall desire to erect, construct, excavate or maintain any privy, vault, cesspool, sewage treatment works, sewer-pipe or conduits, or other pipes or conduits for the treatment and discharge of sewage, sewage effluents, or any matter offensive, injurious or dangerous to health, or shall desire to add to, modify or alter any of the plant, works, or system or manner or place of discharge or disposal, he or it shall file with the state board of health a petition for permission so to do, together with a complete and detailed plan, description and history of the existing or proposed works, system, treatment plant and of such proposed addition to, modification or alteration of any of the plant, works, system or manner or place of discharge or disposal, such plans and general statement to be in such form and to cover such matters as the state board of health shall prescribe. Thereupon a thorough investigation of the proposed or existing works, system and plant, and all circumstances and conditions by it deemed to be material, shall be made by the state board of health. As a part of such investigation, and after ten days' notice by mail to the petitioner, a hearing or hearings may be had before said board or an examiner appointed by it for the purpose. At such hearing or hearings witnesses who testify shall be sworn by the person conducting the hearing, and evidence, oral or documentary, may be required, a record of which shall be made and filed with said board. Upon the completion of such investigation said board,

(a) Petition denied when discharge would endanger public health. Appointment of person to take charge of plant. Temporary permit. If it shall determine as a fact that the substance being or to be discharged or deposited is such that under all the circumstances and conditions it may so contaminate or pollute such stream, river, lake, tributary or other waters or lands on which it may be discharged, deposited or caused to overflow, as to endanger the lives or health of human beings or animals, or to constitute a nuisance, or does or may constitute a menace to public health or a nuisance, or that under all the circumstances and conditions it is not necessary so to dispose of such substance, the state board of health shall deny the prayer of such petition; and shall order petitioner to make such changes as the state board of health shall deem proper for the purpose of this act. The state board of health may order the appointing of a competent person, to be approved by said board, and to be paid by said petitioner, who shall take charge of and operate such plant or system so as to secure the results demanded by the state board of health; and said board may order such repair, alteration or additions to the existing system, plant and works that the sewage or substance being or intended to be discharged or disposed of shall not contaminate or pollute streams or other water supplies, or endanger the lives, health or comfort of human beings or animals; and said board may order such changes of method, manner and place of disposal and the installation of such treatment works that streams and other water supplies will not be polluted or contaminated and the works and disposal shall not constitute a menace to health of human beings or animals, or a nuisance; which orders shall designate the period within which the desired changes are to be made; provided, however, that a temporary permit may be issued by the state board of health for said period to permit compliance with such order or orders.

(b) Petition granted when discharge would not endanger public health. Permits revocable. Examinations by state board of health. Report on works, etc. Suit to enjoin discharge of sewage into streams. Public nuisance. Penalty for violation. If it shall determine, as a fact, that the substance being or to be discharged or deposited, is not such that under all the circumstances and conditions, it will so contaminate or pollute such stream, river, lake, tributary or other waters, as to endanger the lives or health of human beings or animals, or to constitute a nuisance, and that under all the circumstances and conditions it is necessary so to dispose of such substance, it shall grant to petitioner a permit authorizing petitioner so to deposit or discharge or to continue to deposit or discharge such substance; provided, however, that such permit shall not be construed to permit any act forbidden by any provision of the laws of this state relative to the preservation or propagation of fish or game, or relative to the deposit of debris into the streams of the state, or relative to the obstruction of navigation; and provided, further, that all permits issued hereunder shall be revocable by said board at any time or subject to suspension if said board shall determine, as a fact, that the substance discharged or deposited by virtue thereof causes or may cause a contamination or pollution of waters or land that does or may endanger the lives or health of human beings or animals, or does or may constitute a nuisance; and provided, also, that nothing contained in this act shall be construed as limiting or denying the power of any incorporated city, city and county, town or village to declare, prohibit and abate nuisances, or as limiting or denying the power of the state board of health to declare or abate nuisances.

The state board of health and its inspectors shall at any and all times have full power and authority to and shall be permitted to, enter into and upon any and all places, inclosures and structures for the purpose of making, and to make, examinations and investigations to determine whether any provision of this act is being violated. Whenever any petitioner shall be granted any permit by said board and under the provisions of this act, such petitioner shall furnish to said board upon demand a complete report upon the condition and operation of the system, plant or works, which report shall be made by some competent person designated for the purpose by said board, and at the sole cost and expense of the holder of the permit.

Any county, city and county, city, town, village, district, community, institution, person, firm or corporation, who shall deposit, discharge or continue to deposit or discharge, into any stream, river, lake, or tributary thereof, or into any other waters, used or intended to be used for human or animal consumption or for domestic purposes, or into or upon any place the surface or subterranean drainage from which may run or percolate into any such stream, river, lake, tributary or other waters, or into any of the salt waters, or lands, within the jurisdiction of this state, any sewage, sewage affluent or other substance by the terms of section two of this act forbidden to be so deposited or discharged, without having an unrevoked permit so to do, as in this act provided, may be enjoined from so doing by any court of competent jurisdiction at the suit of any person or municipal corporation whose supply of water for human or animal consumption or for domestic purposes is or may be affected, or by the state board of health.

Anything done, maintained, or suffered, in violation of any of the provisions of section 2 or section 3 of this act shall be deemed to be a public nuisance, dangerous to health, and may be summarily abated as such.

Every county, city and county, city, town, village, district, community, institution, firm, corporation or person, or any officer, employee or agent thereof upon whom the duty to act is cast, who shall violate any provision or part thereof of section 2 or 3 of this act, or who shall fail to obey, observe or comply with any direction, order, requirement or demand or any part or provision thereof of the state board of health, or who aids or abets any such county, city and county, city, town, village, district, community, institution, firm, corporation or person, or any officer, employee or agent thereof in any failure to obey or comply with the provisions of this act or the orders of the state board of health as provided in this act, shall become liable for and forfeit to the state of California the penal sum of not more than one thousand dollars to be fixed by the court for each and every offense. The continued existence of any violation of this act for each and every day beyond the time stipulated for compliance with any of its provisions or of any order of the state board of health as provided herein shall constitute a separate and distinct offense. All penalties are to be recovered by the state in civil action brought by the state of California and such penalties when collected shall be paid into the general fund of the state treasury.

Every officer, agent, or employee of any county, city and county, city, town, village, district, community, institution, firm, corporation or person who shall violate or fail to comply with any of the provisions of section 2 or section 3 of this act or with the order or orders of the state board of health or any part thereof, or who aids or abets in any failure to observe and comply with any such provision, order, or part thereof, is guilty of a misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year or by both such fine and imprisonment, for each offense. Each day's violation of this provision shall constitute a separate and distinct offense. [Amendment approved May 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 921.]

ACT 2836a.

An act to prevent the introduction, and provide for the investigation and suppression of contagious or infectious diseases, and appropriating money to be used for such purpose.

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 671.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 2. Extermination of rodents, insects, vermin etc., by property owners. Extermination by state board of health. Whenever any land, place, building, structure, wharf, pier, dock, vessel or water craft, or other property is infested with rodents, insects, or other vermin which are liable to convey or spread contagious or infectious disease from an existing focus declared by the state board of health, it shall be the duty of said board to at once notify the person, firm, copartnership, corporation, city, city and county, county, or district, owning said land, place, building, structure, wharf, pier, dock, vessel or water craft, or other property of the existence of said rodents, insects or other vermin, and said notice shall direct said owner to proceed immediately to exterminate and destroy said rodents, insects, or other vermin, and to continue in good faith such measures as may be necessary to prevent their return. Service of such notice upon a trustee, executor or administrator of the estate of the recorded owner of said property shall be deemed sufficient notice to the owner as provided herein and in the event the owner is absent from the state or cannot with due diligence be found, said notice shall be mailed to such owner addressed to his address given on the last completed assessment-roll of the county, or city and county in which said property is situate, or if no address be so given, then to his last known address and a copy of said notice shall be posted in a conspicuous place upon said property for a period of ten days. In the event that said owner fails, refuses or neglects to proceed and continue as above provided, within ten days from date of receipt of said notice, the state board of health may proceed to destroy said rodents, insects or other vermin, and take other appropriate measures to prevent their return, and the cost thereof shall be repaid to the state board of health by the owner of said land, place building structure, wharf, pier, dock, vessel, water craft or other property; provided, however, that said owner shall not be liable for expenditures in any one year, in excess of ten per cent of the assessed valuation of such property, and the appropriation provided in section one of this act shall be reimbursed by the amount so paid, and may be again expended in a similar manner. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 671.]

§ 3. Lien on property for payment of expense of extermination. Disposition of proceeds. Receiver. Bond. Any and all sums so expended by said state board of health shall be a lien upon the property on which such rodents, insects or other vermin shall have been destroyed, or other appropriate measures taken. The state board of health shall cause to be filed in the office of the county recorder of the county wherein said property is situated a notice setting forth the amount so expended by the state board of health and claiming a lien upon such property for the amount of such expenditures. Such claim of lien must be filed within six months after the first item of expenditure. An action to foreclose such lien shall be commenced within six months after the filing and recording of said notice of lien, which action shall be brought by the state board of health through its attorney and for its benefit; provided, however, that the lien provisions of this act shall not apply to the property of any county, city and county, municipality, district, or other public corporation, but it shall be the duty of the governing body of such county, city and county, municipality, district or other public corporation to repay the state board of health the amount expended by it upon such property under the provision of this act upon presentation by said state board of health of a verified claim or bill showing the amount of such expenditures.

When the property is sold, enough of the proceeds to satisfy such lien and the costs of foreclosure shall be paid into the state treasury for the benefit of the fund herein created and the overplus, if any there be, shall be paid to the owner of the property if known, and if not known, shall be paid into the court for the use of such owner when ascertained.

When it appears from the complaint in such action that the property on which such lien is to be foreclosed is likely to be removed from the jurisdiction of the court, the court may appoint a receiver to take possession of the property and hold the same while the action may be pending or until the defendant shall execute and file a bond, with sufficient sureties, conditioned for the payment of any judgment that may be received against him in the action and all costs. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 672.]

An act regulating the cleaning, laundering, sale, offering for sale, and furnishing for use to employees, of wiping rags; authorizing counties, cities and counties, cities and towns, to enact ordinances prohibiting the cleaning, laundering, sterilizing, and sale of wiping rags without a permit, and to issue and revoke permits to clean, launder, and sell wiping rags within their respective jurisdiction; authorizing peace and health officers to make inspections of wiping rags, and making violations of this act a misdemeanor.

[Approved April 25, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 86.]

Amended 1917, p. 1609.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 3. Not to be cleaned in laundry. Any person or corporation who shall wash, cleanse or launder soiled rags or soiled cloth material for wiping rags by the same machinery or appliances by which clothing and articles for personal wear or household use are laundered, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1609.]

ACT 2840c.

An act to provide for the formation, government, organization, operation and dissolution of local health districts in any part of the state and for changing the boundaries thereof, the appointment and compensation of local district health officers, their deputies and assistants; defining the qualifications, powers and duties of such officers; and to provide for the assessment, levy, collection, custody and disbursement of taxes therein.

[Approved May 21, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 791. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Local health district may be organized. A local health district may be organized, incorporated and managed as herein provided, and may exercise the powers herein granted or necessarily implied. Such a district may include incorporated or unincorporated territory or both, in any one or more counties; provided, that the territory of the district consists of contiguous parcels and that the territory of no municipal corporation is divided.

§ 2. Petition of voters. Publication. Hearing. Boundaries. Whenever the formation of a local health district is desired, a petition, which may consist of any number of instruments, may be presented at a regular meeting of the board of supervisors of the county in which the proposed district or portion thereof is situated, signed by registered voters of each unit of the district equal in number to at least ten per cent of the number of votes cast in each unit respectively for the office of governor at the last preceding general election at which a governor was elected. For the purposes of this act all unincorporated territory in a proposed district and in one and the same county shall be regarded as an entirety and as a unit, and each incorporated city or town in a district shall likewise be regarded as a unit. If an incorporated city or town is included, the common council, board of trustees or other governing body thereof shall, by resolution duly authenticated, request the inclusion of the city or town in the proposed district. The petition shall set forth and describe the proposed boundaries of the district and shall pray that the same be created under the provisions of this act. Prior to the time at which the petition is to be presented, the text thereof shall be posted for thirty successive days in three public places in each incorporated city or town and unincorporated district; and a reference to said text shall be published along with the notice herein mentioned in this paragraph and the following paragraph for four successive publications in a daily, semi-weekly or weekly newspaper of general circulation printed and published in each incorporated city or town included therein, and if there is no such newspaper published in the city or town, then the text of the petition shall be posted for the same length of time in three public places as herein specified. The text of the petition so posted and published by reference as herein mentioned shall have annexed thereto a notice stating the time and place of the meeting of the board of supervisors at which the same will be presented. When the petition is composed of more than one instrument, one copy only thereof need be published or posted as herein specified in the posting and publication of the text and notice. No more than five of the names attached to the petition need appear in such publication or posting, but the number of signers must be stated. At least one month prior to the time at which the petition is to be presented, a copy of the text, notice and petition must be filed with the state board of health and board of supervisors of the county or counties.

With such publication there shall also be published, and if posted, there shall also be posted, a notice of the time of the meeting of the board when such petition will be presented and that all persons interested therein may then appear and be heard. At such time the board of supervisors shall hear the petition and those appearing thereon, and also all protests and objections to the same, and may adjourn such hearing from time to time, not exceeding two months in all. No defect in the contents of the petition or in the title to or form of the notice or signatures, or lack of signatures thereto, shall vitiate any proceedings thereon, provided such petition or petitions have a sufficient number of qualified signatures attached thereto. On the final hearing the board shall make such changes in the proposed boundaries as may be deemed advisable and shall define and establish such boundaries; provided, that if the board deems it proper to include therein any territory not included within the proposed boundaries, they shall first give notice of their intention so to do, in the same manner as required for notice of the initial hearing.

§ 3. Testimony. Order establishing district. Certificate of incorporation. Upon the hearing of the petition the board of supervisors shall determine whether it complies with the provisions of this act and whether the public necessity or the welfare of the inhabitants of the proposed territory requires the formation of the district, and for that purpose must hear all competent and relevant testimony offered in support of or in opposition thereto. The findings of the board shall be final and conclusive against all persons except the state of California upon suit commenced by the attorney general. If it appears to the board that the petition complies with the provisions of this act and that the public necessity or the welfare of the inhabitants requires the formation of the district, it shall by an order entered on its minutes so declare its findings, and shall further declare and order that the territory within the boundaries so fixed and determined be established as a local health district, under an appropriate name selected by the board, which name shall include the words "local health district." The county clerk shall immediately file a certified copy of the order with the secretary of state and with the county clerk of each county in which the district or any portion thereof is situated. Within ten days of such filing the secretary of state shall issue and deliver to the county clerk a certificate reciting that the local health district (naming it) has been duly incorporated under the laws of the state of California. The county clerk shall deliver this certificate to the board of trustees of the district at the first meeting of the board. From and after the date of the certificate of the secretary of state, the district named therein shall be deemed incorporated as a local health district with all the rights, privileges and powers set forth in this act and necessarily incident thereto.

§ 4. Board of trustees. Number. Vacancy. Term. Within thirty days of the issuance by the secretary of state of the certificate of incorporation of the district, a board of trustees for the district shall be appointed. The board shall consist of one trustee to be appointed from each unit in the case of unincorporated territory by the board of supervisors, and in the case of an incorporated city or town, by the local governing body thereof; provided, that if the board of trustees hereby created consists of less than five members, then the board of supervisors shall appoint from the district at large enough additional members to make a board of five trustees, if the unit of the district at large is within one county; and if there are several units of the district at large in more than one county, then by the board of supervisors of the county where such unit is situated; and by the boards of supervisors jointly if the district at large constitutes units in several counties and one additional member is to be appointed. A vacancy shall be filled by the appointing power for the unexpired term. The governing board of the district shall be called "the board of trustees of — local health district" (inserting the name of the particular district). The trustees shall hold office for the term of two years from and after the second day of the calendar year next succeeding their appointment; provided, however, that the first board of trustees appointed in a district shall at their first meeting so classify themselves by lot that one-half of their number, if the total membership is an even number, and if uneven, then that a bare majority of their number, shall go out of office at the expiration of one year, and the remainder at the expiration of two years from the second day of the calendar year next succeeding their appointment.

§ 5. Officers. Expenses. Meetings. The members of the board of trustees shall meet on the first Monday subsequent to thirty days after the issuance of the certificate of incorporation by the secretary of state, and shall organize by the election of one of their members as president and one as secretary. The members of the board shall serve without compensation except that each shall be allowed his actual necessary traveling and incidental expenses incurred in attending meetings of the board. The board shall provide for the time and place of holding its regular meetings and the manner of calling the same, and shall establish rules for its proceedings and may adopt such rules and regulations not inconsistent with law as may be necessary for the exercise of the powers conferred and the performance of the duties imposed upon the board. Special meetings may be called by three trustees and notice of the holding thereof shall be mailed to each member at least forty-eight hours before the meeting. All of its sessions, whether regular or special, shall be open to the public, and a majority of the members of the board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

§ 6. Powers. Each local health district shall have and exercise the following powers:

- (1) To have and use a corporate seal and alter it at pleasure;
- (2) To sue and be sued in all courts and places and in all actions and proceedings whatever;
- (3) To purchase, receive, have, take, hold, lease, use and enjoy property of every kind and description, both within and without the limits of the district, and to control, dispose of, convey and encumber the same and create a leasehold interest in same for the benefit of the district;

(4) To acquire, construct, maintain and operate all works and equipment necessary for the inspection of water, milk, meat and other foods, the extermination of rodents and the disposal of garbage and waste;

(5) To employ public health nurses and health visitors and to co-operate with educational authorities in health inspection in public or private schools in the district;

(6) To exercise the right of eminent domain for the purpose of acquiring real or personal property of every kind necessary to the exercise of any of the powers of the district;

(7) To enforce all statutes relating to the public health and vital statistics, and all orders, quarantine regulations and rules prescribed by the state board of health;

(8) To enforce such local orders and ordinances pertaining to health and sanitary matters within the district as may be authorized by the appropriate local authorities;

(9) To unite with any other local health district or districts in the exercise of any of the powers herein granted to and vested in each district, the cost thereof to be paid by each district in such proportion as may be agreed upon by the respective district boards of trustees;

(10) To exercise all other needful powers for the preservation of the health of the inhabitants of the district, whether such powers are herein expressly enumerated or not;

(11) This grant of power is to be liberally construed for the purpose of securing the well-being of the inhabitants of the district.

§ 7. District health officer. Expenses. Powers. Appointment of district officers, etc. The board shall appoint and fix the compensation of a district health officer, who may be removed by the board only by a two-thirds vote of the members thereof. He shall be the holder of a degree in medicine, sanitary engineering or public health and shall have had at least one year's experience in public health work. He shall devote his entire time to the duties of his office and is expressly prohibited from engaging in any other occupation or business. The board shall provide suitable supplies, equipment and office facilities for the health officer and, upon the recommendation of the health officer, shall fix the compensation and define the powers and duties of such deputies and assistants to the health officer as the board may deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this act. If a meat inspector is employed, he shall be a graduate veterinarian legally qualified to practice veterinary medicine in the state of California.

The health officer, his deputies and assistants, shall receive their actual necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties. In enforcing state statutes, orders, regulations and rules and local orders and ordinances the health officer shall have such powers as are or may be hereafter conferred by general law upon county or municipal health officers. All district officers, deputies and assistants other than the health officer and the members of the board of trustees shall be appointed and may be removed by the board of trustees on the recommendation of the health officer, subject to such rules and regulations as the board of trustees, in its discretion may adopt for the appointment and employment of deputies and assistants, based on merit, efficiency, character and industry.

§ 8. Health officer administrative head. The health officer shall be recognized as the administrative head of the district and, except as herein otherwise prescribed, shall exercise the powers granted to and vested in the district; provided, that he may not purchase property or incur expenditures without the approval or ratification of the board of trustees.

§ 9. Estimate of amount needed. Levy of tax. Apportioned among counties. Annually, at least fifteen days before the first day of the month in which county taxes are levied, the board of trustees of each local health district shall furnish to the board of supervisors of the county in which the district or any part thereof is situated an estimate in writing of the amount of money necessary for all purposes required under the provisions of this act during the next ensuing fiscal year. Thereupon it shall be the duty of the board of supervisors to levy a special tax upon all taxable property of the county lying within the district sufficient in amount to maintain the district. The tax shall in no case exceed the rate of fifteen cents on each one hundred dollars of the assessed valuation of all taxable property within the district, but it may be in addition to all other taxes allowed by law to be levied upon such property. The tax shall be computed, entered upon the tax rolls and collected in the same manner as county taxes are computed, entered and collected. All moneys so collected shall be paid into the county treasury to the credit of the particular local health district fund and shall be paid out on the order of the district board, signed by the president and secretary thereof. If the district embraces territory lying in more than one county, the amount estimated shall be ratably apportioned among the several counties in the district in proportion to the assessed value of the property in the several counties included within said district as shown upon the last assessment-rolls of the said counties, and the estimate apportioned to the several counties shall be rendered to their respective boards of supervisors and the tax shall be levied and collected by the officials of each county upon the property of the district lying therein.

§ 10. Annexation of territory. Petitions. Proposition submitted to electors. If majority favor. Annexation of municipal corporation. Any territory, incorporated or unincorporated, lying adjacent and contiguous to a local health district, may be added and annexed to such district at any time upon proceedings being had and taken as in this act prescribed; provided, that in such annexation the territory of no municipal corporation may be divided. The board of trustees of such district, upon receiving a written petition therefor containing a description of the new territory sought to be annexed to such district, signed by the owners comprising more than one-half of the assessed value of such territory as shown by the last county assessment-roll, must thereupon submit to the electors of the district and also to the electors residing in the territory sought to be annexed, the proposition of whether such proposed territory shall be annexed and added to such district. The proposition to be submitted to the electors at such election, both within said district and within said territory so proposed to be annexed, shall be as follows: "For annexation," or "Against annexation," or words equivalent thereto. Such election must be called and held, and notice thereof shall be published for at least four weeks prior to such election in a newspaper printed and published in such district, and also in a newspaper printed and published in such territory so proposed to be annexed. The board of trustees shall canvass, separately, the votes cast within said district, and the votes cast within said territory so proposed to be annexed, and if it shall appear from such canvass that a majority of all the ballots cast in such district and a majority of all the ballots cast in such territory so proposed to be annexed are in favor of annexation, the board of trustees shall certify such fact to the secretary of state describing said property proposed to be annexed and upon receipt of such last-mentioned certificate, the secretary of state shall thereupon issue his certificate reciting that the territory (describing the same) has been annexed and added to the — local health district (naming it), and a copy of such certificate of the secretary of state shall be transmitted to and filed with the county clerk of each county in which such local health district or any portion thereof is situated. From and after the date of such certificate the territory named therein shall be deemed added and annexed to and shall form a part of said local health district, with all the rights, privileges and powers set forth in this act and necessarily incident thereto. If the property so proposed to be annexed includes a municipal corporation, consent to annexation shall first be obtained from the governing board thereof, and an authentic copy of the resolution or order of such board so consenting to such annexation shall be attached to the petition and be made a part thereof.

§ 11. Dissolution of district. A district may at any time be dissolved upon the vote of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof, upon an election called by its board of trustees upon the question of dissolution and the proposition which shall be submitted to the electors at such election shall be as follows: "Shall the district be dissolved?" Such election must be called and held, and notice thereof shall be published for at least four weeks prior to such election in a newspaper printed and published in the district. If two-thirds of the votes at such election shall be in favor of the dissolution of the district, the board of trustees shall certify such fact to the secretary of state, and upon receipt of such last mentioned certificate, the secretary of state shall thereupon issue his certificate reciting that the local health district (naming it) has been dissolved, and a copy of such certificate of the secretary of state shall be transmitted to and filed with the county clerk of each county in which the district or any portion thereof is situated. From and after the date of such certificate the district named therein shall be deemed disincorporated and the property of the district shall be ratably apportioned among the several municipalities included in the district and the county or counties in which the district or any portion thereof is situated, in proportion to the assessed value of the property included within said district as shown upon the last county assessment roll or rolls.

§ 12. Conditions. Whenever it appears that the territory of the proposed district is in more than one county, it is to be expressly understood in this act that the phrase "board of supervisors" shall include plural as well as singular and that the same procedure and law as herein set forth for the establishing of such local health district in a county only shall likewise apply to the adjoining county or counties whose territory or portion thereof is included in the proposed local health district, and that no district involving more than one county shall be formed without the concurrent consent of the respective board of supervisors of each of said counties, as well as the consent of the municipalities included therein, and that such district shall be officially incorporated under the laws of the state of California when the respective counties have fully complied with the laws herein specified, and when the secretary of state has received the respective certified copies of the orders of the counties and delivered to the respective county clerks within the time in this act specified his certificate reciting that the local health district has been duly incorporated under the laws of the state of California.

§ 13. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

An act to provide for the establishment and maintenance of a bureau of tuberculosis under the direction of the state board of health; defining its powers and duties; providing for the granting of state aid to cities, counties, cities and counties and groups of counties for the support and care of persons afflicted with tuberculosis; making an appropriation therefor, and repealing certain acts of the legislature of the state of California.

The amendment of 1919 follows:

§ 3. Compensation of cities, etc., maintaining tuberculosis wards. May receive pay patients. Delegates from group of counties. Committees. Acquisition and disposal of land. Each county to pay proportionate share. Admission of applicants. Every city, county, city and county, or group of counties is hereby authorized and empowered to establish and maintain a tuberculosis ward or hospital for the treatment of persons in the active stages of tuberculosis. Every city, county, city and county, or group of counties which establishes and maintains a tuberculosis ward or hospital shall receive from the state the sum of three dollars per week for each person suffering from tuberculosis, cared for therein at public expense who is unable to pay for his support and who has no relative legally liable and financially able to pay for his support and who has been a bona fide resident of the city, county, city and county, or group of counties for one year; provided, that the city, county, city and county, or group of counties shall not become entitled to receive such state aid unless the tuberculosis ward or hospital conforms to the regulations of and is approved by the state bureau of tuberculosis. Said hospitals shall be allowed to receive pay patients. The medical superintendent of each hospital receiving state aid under this act shall render semi-annually to the state bureau of tuberculosis a report under oath showing, for the period covered by the report, (1) the number of patients suffering from tuberculosis cared for therein at public expense, unable to pay therefor, and (2) the number of weeks of treatment of each such patient.

Every group of counties desiring to establish and maintain a tuberculosis ward or hospital for the treatment of persons suffering from tuberculosis shall appoint, by its board of supervisors, one of its members as a delegate, who shall attend the general meetings of the delegates of each county in said group; the necessary expense incurred in attending such meetings shall be a county charge.

The body thus formed shall be called the hospital central committee. The said delegates from each county are authorized and empowered to enter into an agreement with the other counties for and on behalf of the county appointing them binding said county to the joint enterprise and apportioning the cost of constructing and establishing said hospital and also apportioning cost of maintaining same.

All sums found due from any county according to its agreement duly entered into shall be a debt against said county and may be collected in the manner provided by law by the said hospital central committee or in its behalf by the board of supervisors of any county in said groups in any county thereof, by action instituted and tried in the county in which said hospital is situated.

The hospital central committee shall have power to appoint a committee to supervise and superintend the construction of the building, approve the bills, and do the usual things required of a building committee.

The hospital central committee shall constitute the governing body of said hospital and shall have the same powers and duties in regard thereto that a board of supervisors has over the county hospital, and shall hold meetings to be governed, as provided by rules duly adopted by said committee for its government, which rules may provide for the addition of other counties to the group, and shall have power to appoint such committees as necessary and prescribe their duties.

Any land required may be acquired or disposed of by the hospital central committee in such manner as it may be determined by a three-fourths vote of the members thereof; provided, that all counties comprising a group shall have had notice of the intention to acquire or dispose of the same. Title to land may be held in the name of the entire group or in any county composing the same as trustee for the use and benefit of all, as may be determined by said hospital central committee.

Each county in said group is authorized, empowered, and directed to pay its proportionate share to the hospital central committee, of such amount as the said committee may designate, to constitute a cash revolving fund to carry on the usual work and expense of the hospital. Each month a statement of the expenses of said hospital shall be sent to the board of supervisors, of each county, together with a claim for its proportionate share of said expenses. Said amounts when collected shall be paid into said cash revolving fund.

Said hospital central committee shall have the power to determine and pass upon the right of admission to said hospital of applicants subject to the limitations of this act. [Amendment approved May 22, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 853.]

§ 4. Appropriation. The sum of two hundred thousand dollars is hereby appropriated, in addition to any amounts heretofore appropriated, out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be expended by the state board of health in carrying out the provisions of this act; provided, however, that not more than the sum of thirty thousand dollars shall be available for the purposes of said act other than the state aid therein provided. All claims against this appropriation shall be submitted for approval and audit to the state board of control, and shall be paid in accordance with law; provided, that there may be withdrawn from such appropriation with the permission of the state board of control and without at the time furnishing vouchers and itemized statements a sum not to exceed five hundred dollars. Said sum so drawn shall be used as a revolving fund where cash advances are necessary and at the close of each fiscal year or at any other time upon the demand of the board of control must be accounted for and substantiated by vouchers and itemized statements submitted to and audited by the board of control and the controller. [Amendment approved May 22, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 854.]

An act to prevent the providing for common use of receptacles for drinking purposes in public places, and prescribing penalties for violations thereof.

[Approved June 1, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1517. In effect July 31, 1917.]

§ 1. Drinking cups for common use unlawful. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation conducting, having charge of, or control of, any hotel, restaurant, saloon, soda fountain, store, theater, public hall, public or private school, church, hospital, club, office building, park, playground, lavatory or wash-room, barber-shop, railroad train, boat, or any other public place, building, room or conveyance, to provide or expose for common use, or permit to be so provided or exposed, or to allow to be used in common, any cup, glass, or other receptacle used for drinking purposes.

§ 2. "Common use" defined. For the purposes of this act the term "common use" when applied to a drinking receptacle shall be defined as its use for drinking purposes by, or for, more than one person without its being thoroughly cleansed and sterilized in boiling water or steam between consecutive uses thereof; provided, that nothing in this act is to be construed as prohibiting the use of cups or devices for individual use only; provided, further, that the state board of health may by resolution prescribe other acceptable methods of sterilization which may be used in place of the methods specified in this act.

§ 3. Protection of water-cooler used for supplying drinking water. No cask, water-cooler or other receptacle shall be used for storing or supplying drinking water to the public or to employees unless it is covered and protected so as to prevent persons from dipping the water therefrom or contaminating the same. All such containers shall be provided with a faucet or other suitable device for drawing the water; provided, that jugs, cans, buckets and similar receptacles without faucets or other devices for withdrawing water may be used if the water is protected against contamination and is withdrawn by pouring only.

§ 4. Duty of health officers. It shall be the duty of the state board of health and of all health officers of counties, municipalities and health districts to enforce the provisions of this act.

§ 5. Penalty for violation. Any person, firm or corporation violating any provision of this act is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty-five dollars for each offense.

ACT 2844f.

An act to prevent the keeping of towels for common use in public places and prescribing penalties for violations of the provisions thereof.

[Approved June 1, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1518. In effect July 31, 1917.]

§ 1. Towel for common use unlawful. No person, firm or corporation conducting, operating, having charge of, or control of, any hotel, restaurant, factory, store, barber-shop, office building, school, public hall, railroad train, railway station, boat, or any other public place, room or conveyance, shall maintain or keep in or about any such place any towel for common use.

§ 2. "Common use" defined. For the purpose of this act the term "common use" when applied to a towel shall be defined as its use by, or for, more than one person without its being laundered by a process involving exposure to boiling water or steam between consecutive uses of such towel; provided, that the state board of health may by resolution prescribe other acceptable methods of sterilization which may be used in place of the methods specified in this act.

§ 3. Duty of health officers. It shall be the duty of the state board of health and of all health officers of counties, municipalities and health districts, to enforce the provisions of this act.

§ 4. Penalty for violation. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty-five dollars for each offense.

ACT 2844g.

An act to provide for the establishment and maintenance of a bureau of child hygiene under the direction of the state board of health, prescribing its powers and duties and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions hereof.

§ 1. Bureau of child hygiene established. The state board of health shall maintain a bureau of child hygiene which in addition to the duties and powers hereinafter prescribed shall have charge of such matters and shall have such powers as may, from time to time, be referred to and delegated to it by the state board of health. Said board shall appoint a director of said bureau who shall be a duly licensed and practicing physician of any system of therapeutics and whose salary shall be fixed by the state board of health. The state board of health may also employ and fix the compensation of other additional professional and clerical assistants and such compensation shall be paid from the funds provided for the maintenance of the bureau of child hygiene.

§ 2. Powers and duties of bureau. This bureau shall have the power under the direction and supervision of the state board of health to investigate conditions affecting the health of the children of this state and to disseminate educational information relating thereto; provided, however, that nothing in this act shall be construed as giving the said bureau of child hygiene the power to force compulsory medical or physical examination of children. It shall be the duty of said bureau, upon request, to advise all public officers, organizations and agencies interested in the health and welfare of children within the state of California.

§ 3. Appropriation. The sum of twenty thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to be expended in accordance with law for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act. All claims against this appropriation shall be audited by the state board of health and by the board of control, and shall be paid by the state treasurer upon warrants drawn by the state controller.

TITLE 437.

PUBLIC LANDS.

ACT 2845a.

An act to provide for the resalection by the state of lands heretofore selected and sold by the state where the selection has been rejected or canceled because of the subsequent exclusion of the base lands from a national forest; and prescribing certain maximum fees to be charged by agents or attorneys for services performed hereunder, and prescribing penalties for the violation hereof.

§ 1. Reselection of land when selection rejected. Where the state has made a selection of other land in lieu of a sixteenth or thirty-sixth section located within a national forest which had been created by proclamation of the President of the United States at or prior to the date when such selection was made and said selection has been or may be held for cancellation, or canceled, because the base land was thereafter excluded from such national forest, the surveyor-general shall make an amendatory selection or a new selection upon application of the record owner of the certificate of purchase issued for the selected land; provided, that the applicant for a resalection forward to the surveyor-general the fees required by the United States land office; and provided, further, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to require the surveyor-general to make any such amendatory selection or new selection in any case wherein the base land originally assigned in support of such selection was situate within an area temporarily withdrawn from entry for purposes of examination by order of the secretary of the interior, and was thereafter restored to the public domain without ever having been in fact incorporated within a national forest or a permanent forest reserve. [Amendment approved May 6, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 313.]

§ 2. Penalty for charging fee over twenty-five dollars. No person who, as attorney or agent for the owner of the certificate of purchase embracing the selected land, applies to the state surveyor-general to amend such state selection or to reselect the land embraced therein, shall charge, demand, or receive for such service any fee or other compensation in excess of the sum of twenty-five dollars. Any violation of the provisions of this section shall be a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not to exceed one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed thirty days or by both such fine and imprisonment; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be held, deemed, or construed, to apply to any person who also acts as agent or attorney for such owner before the general land office of the United States at Washington, D. C., or before the secretary of the interior, in case it becomes necessary to take any action to protect such selection against adverse proceedings.

An act providing for the reselection by the state of lands heretofore selected and sold by the state where the selection has been canceled or held for cancellation because the base lands have been used for another selection or were incorrectly described.

§ 1. Reselection of lands where selection canceled. Where, under authority of section two thousand two hundred seventy-five of the Revised Statutes of the United States, the state has made a selection of other land in lieu of a sixteenth or thirty-sixth section within any Indian or military reservation, or within a permanent forest reserve or national forest established by proclamation of the President of the United States, and where through inadvertence or mistake the surveyor-general of the state has designated as base for such selection land which has also been used as the basis for some other selection or has incorrectly described the base and where such selection has been or may be canceled or held for cancellation by the general land office of the United States for the reason that the base designated therefor has been so used or was incorrectly described, the surveyor-general may, in his discretion, where the state has sold the selected lands, and upon application by the record owner of the certificate of purchase therefor, make an amended selection or reselection of such land upon valid base of the character designated for the original selection, whenever such base is available; provided, that the party applying for relief under this act shall pay all fees and expenses required under the rules of the United States land office; and provided, further, that nothing herein contained shall be held, deemed, or construed to require the surveyor-general to make any amended selection or reselection in any case where the base land designated in support thereof was within an area temporarily withdrawn from entry by the secretary of the interior and subsequently restored to the public domain without having been incorporated within any such permanent forest reserve or national forest.

An act providing for the sale of certain state lands.

The entire act was amended in 1919 [Stats. 1919, p. 306] to read as follows:

§ 1. Sale of school lands authorized. Exchange for lands of United States. The unsold portions of the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections of school lands not included within the exterior boundaries of national reservations, the unsold portions of the five hundred thousand acres granted to the state for school purposes, and the unsold portions of the listed lands selected of the United States in lieu of the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections and losses to the school grant which are not suitable for cultivation shall be sold at public auction to citizens of the United States by the surveyor-general under rules and regulations prescribed by him, payment to be made as follows: The full purchase price of the land, or ten per cent thereof and interest to the first day of January following at the rate of six per cent per annum on the unpaid balance of the purchase price, to be paid at the time of sale; the unpaid balance of the purchase price shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable in advance on the first day of each year, at which time the purchaser may pay as many one-tenths of the purchase price as he may desire; provided, that the legislature may require the payment of the unpaid balance of the purchase price within five years after the passage of an act requiring such payment. All payments to be made to the county treasurer of the county in which the land is situated.

§ 2. Surveyor-general authorized to sell lands. Watersheds or reservoir sites. From and after the date upon which this act takes effect, the surveyor-general may sell in like manner and upon like conditions as to payment and interest any of the lands heretofore reserved from sale by the provisions of section three thousand four hundred eight b of the Political Code which have not been used as bases for indemnity selections, as provided in section three thousand four hundred six a of said code, or otherwise disposed of under any law of this state; provided, however, lands which in his judgment contain growth valuable for forest-cover protection to watersheds, or are valuable for reservoir sites, shall not be sold or exchanged under the provisions of this act.

Whenever he shall deem it to the advantage of the state so to do, he may, with the concurrence of the state board of control, exchange for lands of the United States of equal area, pursuant to law, any of said reserved lands in place, and the lands so acquired in exchange may be thereafter sold in the same manner and upon like conditions as to payment and interest as hereinabove set forth. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to affect the right of the surveyor-general to use as bases for indemnity scrip, as provided in sections three thousand four hundred six a, three thousand four hundred eight b, three thousand four hundred eight c and three thousand four hundred eight d of the Political Code, any of said reserved lands not otherwise disposed of under the provisions of this act.

§ 3. Purchase of land by settler. Whenever any person shall make actual settlement, in good faith, upon any such land, with intent to purchase the same pursuant to the provisions of an act entitled "An act providing for the sale of certain state lands suitable for cultivation," approved May 19, 1915, and the surveyor-general shall, thereafter, upon an examination of such land, determine it to be unsuitable for cultivation, he may, with the concurrence of the state board of control, fix a price at which such land may be sold to such actual settler, as provided in the act last named, and such actual settler shall have the right to purchase such land, at the price so fixed, at any time within a period of six months thereafter. The purchase price of all timber lands shall be paid in full at the time of sale.

§ 4. Rejection of bids. In any and all notices of public sale, the surveyor-general shall reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

§ 5. Patent. When the full purchase price has been paid the purchaser shall be entitled to a patent for the land.

§ 6. Repealed. Those parts of all acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

ACT 2859b.

An act providing for the sale of certain state lands suitable for cultivation.

[Approved May 19, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 634.]

Amended 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 308.

The entire act was amended in 1919 [Stats. 1919, p. 308] to read as follows:

§ 1. School lands suitable for cultivation to be sold. Price. The unsold portions of the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections of school lands not included within the exterior boundaries of national reservations, the unsold portions of the five hundred thousand acres granted to the state for school purposes, and the unsold portions of the listed lands selected of the United States in lieu of the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections and losses to the school grant, which are suitable for cultivation shall be sold to actual settlers in quantities not exceeding three hundred twenty acres to any one person under the provisions of section three thousand four hundred ninety-five of the Political Code, at a price to be fixed by the state board of control and the state surveyor-general, payment to be made as follows: The full purchase price of the land, or ten per cent thereof and interest to the first day of January following, at the rate of six per cent per annum on the unpaid balance of the purchase price; the unpaid balance of the purchase price shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable in advance on the first day of each year, at which time the purchaser may pay as many one-tenths of the purchase price as he may desire; provided, that the legislature may require the payment of the unpaid balance of the purchase price within five years after the passage of an act requiring such payment.

§ 2. Actual settlers defined. Actual settlers, within the meaning of this act, are persons who have resided in good faith on the land for a period of not less than one year, to the exclusion of any other residence or fixed place of habitation during such time.

§ 3. Purchase of land by settler. Any person who shall in good faith settle upon any land in the belief that the same was suitable for cultivation shall, in the event the surveyor-general, upon inspection, determines said land to be unsuitable for cultivation, be a preferred purchaser for a period of six months from the date of such decision; provided, that in cases where the surveyor-general has heretofore decided that lands settled upon were unsuitable for cultivation said settlers shall be preferred purchasers for a period of six months from the date that this act takes effect.

ACT 2867b.

An act authorizing the issuance of letters patent to the heirs at law of P. W. Fahey, deceased, for certain swamp and overflowed land in Tuolumne county, California. [Approved May 21, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 771. In effect July 27, 1917.]

The nature of the act sufficiently appears from the title.

ACT 2874a.

An act providing for the leasing of certain state lands and making an appropriation for the purposes of this act.

[Approved May 17, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 576. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Application to lease land. Fee. Any person, firm or corporation desiring to lease any of the unsold portions of the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections of school lands and the unsold portion of the listed lands selected from the public lands of the United States in lieu of the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections and losses to the school grant must make application therefor to the surveyor-general of the state, describing the lands sought to be leased by legal subdivisions. The application must be accompanied by the filing fee of five dollars. All applications to lease lands under this act shall be approved or rejected by the surveyor-general within ninety days after the receipt thereof.

§ 2. Annual rental. Upon receipt of an application to lease any of the lands under this act the surveyor-general shall appraise such lands and fix the annual rental per acre therefor; such charge to be approved by the state board of control.

§ 3. Lease executed. Whenever any lease is delivered to the applicant by the surveyor-general the lessee shall within fifteen days thereafter, execute and return such lease to the state surveyor-general and make payment of the first annual rental. The surveyor-general shall receive the money and give a receipt therefor. All subsequent annual payments of rental must be paid to the state surveyor-general in like manner fifteen days after they become due. In case payments are not made as herein provided, the lease and all rights thereunder shall cease and terminate.

§ 4. Term of lease. No lease shall be for a period longer than ten years, and such lease shall terminate upon the sale of said lands, or any portion thereof, by the state and the lessee shall be notified by registered mail by the state surveyor-general upon the sale of said land at public auction to the highest bidder as provided in that certain act entitled "An act providing for the sale of certain state lands," approved May 19, 1915. The date of the termination of the lease shall be on the date the certificate of purchase is issued to the purchaser of the land from the state of California by the register of the state land office, except when a lease embraces land suitable for cultivation and an application from an actual settler to purchase said land is received and filed by the surveyor-general, then the lease shall terminate on the date said application is filed of record in the surveyor-general's office and the lessee is to be notified by registered mail of the filing of said application to purchase said land, or any portion thereof, from the state and of the termination of the lease. Possession under any lease hereby authorized shall not be held, deemed or construed to be adverse to that of any person who becomes an actual settler upon any portion of land in such lease described, with intent to purchase the same in the manner provided by law.

§ 5. Land designated as bases for indemnity selections. Any lease for sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections or any portion thereof which may now or may hereafter be included within the exterior boundaries of a national reservation or of a reserve, or within the exterior boundaries of lands withdrawn from public entry, shall terminate whenever the state of California shall designate said lands as bases for indemnity selections as provided by law. The lessee is to be notified by the surveyor-general by registered mail whenever the state of California designates the land as bases for indemnity selection or selections.

§ 6. Surrender of lease. If a lease is terminated by reason of the filing of an application to purchase land suitable for cultivation, or by the sale of land at public auction, or by the designation of land as bases for indemnity selection or selections, the lessee shall surrender the lease to the surveyor-general and receive in exchange therefor from the surveyor-general a certificate showing the proportionate amount of the annual payment to be refunded to the lessee, for the tract or tracts of land that have been disposed of by the state of California, and the state controller, upon the surrender to him of the said surveyor-general's certificate, with the approval of the board of control indorsed thereon, shall issue to the lessee a warrant for the said amount payable out of the state school land fund and the state treasurer shall pay the same. If all the tracts of land described in said surrendered lease have not been disposed of by the state, the lessee shall be entitled, without the payment of any additional fee, to a new lease for the remaining tracts of land for the balance of the unexpired term of the surrendered lease, at the same annual rental per acre.

§ 7. Duty of surveyor-general. The surveyor-general is hereby authorized to prepare, make, execute and deliver all papers, instruments, and documents and to do any and all things necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

§ 8. Payment of moneys. All moneys received as rental for such lands above mentioned shall be paid into the state school land fund.

§ 9. Appropriation. There is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury to the credit of the state school land fund, not otherwise appropriated, the sum of three thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be used in refunding unearned rentals under the provisions of section six of this act.

ACT 2875f.

An act to provide for the forfeiture of certain lands to the state in the event of the nonpayment of delinquent interest upon any part of the unpaid portion of the purchase price thereof, together with penalties and costs as herein provided, as well as for the forfeiture of all moneys previously paid thereon, whether for principal or interest; prescribing the duties of certain public officers with respect thereto; providing for the giving of notice hereof; prescribing certain remedies; and making an appropriation for the purposes of this act.

§ 1. Lands to be sold unless interest and penalties paid. All lands sold by this state for which certificates of purchase were issued prior to the first day of May, A. D. one thousand nine hundred eleven, for which full payment was not made at the time of purchase, and upon which any interest upon any part of the unpaid portion of the purchase price thereof is delinquent at the time this act shall take effect, shall be forfeited to the state, without the necessity of re-entry or judicial ascertainment, and shall revert to the particular class of land to which it originally belonged, to be resold under the provisions of existing law, or any future law, unless all such delinquent interest, together with all additional interest becoming due on the first day of January, A. D. one thousand nine hundred eighteen, and all penalties and costs herein specified, shall be fully paid, as herein provided, on or before the thirtieth day of June, A. D. one thousand nine hundred eighteen.

§ 2. List of lands upon which payments delinquent. On or before the first day of October, A. D. one thousand nine hundred seventeen, the register of the state land office shall prepare, or cause to be prepared, statements showing, by counties, and by proper legal descriptions, all lands in each of the several counties in this state for which there are outstanding and not annulled as provided by article six of chapter one of title eight of part three of the Political Code any certificate or certificates of purchase which were issued prior to the first day of May, A. D. one thousand nine hundred eleven, and upon which any interest upon veyed exempted from forfeiture, when. Any person of the whole or any portion of the lands described in the purchase included in any such statement, but to never been surrendered, may protect his lands such proportion of the interest delinquent certificate described as the acreage claimed in such certificate. He shall register of the state land office satisfy his right to such land, and obtain from the treasurer of the proper county, a statement stating the amount to be paid, which shall include the costs imposed by section nine hereof. Upon compliance made within the time herein limited such land shall be excepted from the forfeiture prescribed in this act. The purchase shall become null and void only as to the lands therein described, and the register in preparing for the notices of forfeiture provided for in section ten hereof shall deduct therefrom all lands upon which the delinquent interest has been paid as in this section permitted. Should due compliance be made with all other provisions of law governing the issuance of patents, a patent shall issue in the name of the original purchaser of such excepted land, but shall be delivered to the person by whom such payment was made, and the title thereby granted shall inure to the benefit of such person, his heirs or assigns.

§ 6. Lands included. This act shall extend to and include all unlisted lien lands and all unsegregated swamp and overflowed lands sold under the authority of any law of this state; subject to the proviso that instead of the land itself becoming forfeit for nonpayment of delinquent interest, all right, title and interest therein or thereto heretofore acquired or hereafter to be acquired prior to June thirtieth, A. D. one thousand nine hundred eighteen, by the original purchaser, his heirs and assigns, shall become and hereby is declared to be forfeit to the state in the event of such nonpayment; and subject to the further proviso that all purchasers of such unlisted lien lands or of such unsegregated swamp and overflowed lands, their heirs and assigns, who protect themselves against such forfeiture by making the payments required by this act, shall not thereby be deprived of any existing right to receive restitution of all sums paid on account of the purchase price of such lands, whether for principal or interest, upon duly complying with all provisions of law governing such restitution.

§ 7. Payment of interest by December 31, 1917. Penalties. Publication of notice. Upon completing the statements required by section two hereof, the register shall add thereto a demand that all interest shown to be delinquent therein shall be paid on or before December thirty-first, A. D. one thousand nine hundred seventeen, to the treasurer of the proper county, together with the sum of three dollars costs, and a notice that if the same be not so paid a penalty of twenty per cent will be added thereto as provided in section three hereof, and a further notice that unless the whole sum delinquent, together with such costs and penalty, and all additional interest falling due January first, A. D. one thousand any part of the unpaid portion of the purchase price is delinquent at the time this act shall take effect. Such statements shall also show the name and postoffice address of the purchaser as the same may appear upon the records of the register's office, and the name and postoffice address of the assignee, grantee or successor in interest of such purchaser in all cases wherein notice of any assignment of such certificate of purchase, or of any conveyance or other transfer of title of any part of the lands therein described shall have been filed in said office prior to the date herein first mentioned. Such statement shall also show the number and date of the survey or location and of the certificate of purchase, the amount of interest paid, the amount of interest unpaid, and the amount of interest then due. No lands within any reclamation district must be embraced in any such statement if the certificate of the board of supervisors that works of reclamation have been commenced in such district has been filed in the register's office prior to the taking effect of this act.

§ 3. Demand for payment of delinquent interest. Demand is hereby made upon all persons who are or who may become liable for the payment of any interest which is delinquent upon any part of the unpaid portion of the purchase price of any of the lands embraced within any of such statements for the payment of all such delinquent interest, together with the costs hereby imposed, on or before the thirty-first day of December, A. D. one thousand nine hundred seventeen; and in the event of the nonpayment of any portion of such delinquent interest, as above provided, a penalty of twenty per cent of the aggregate amount then delinquent is hereby imposed, in each case, upon the person or persons liable for the payment thereof. Except as otherwise provided in sections four, five and six of this act, in the event any portion of such delinquent interest, together with such penalty and costs, and all additional interest falling due on the first day of January, A. D. one thousand nine hundred eighteen, be not paid on or before the thirtieth day of June, A. D. one thousand nine hundred eighteen, all lands on account of the purchase price of which such delinquency shall then exist are hereby declared to be forfeited to the state, together with all moneys previously paid on account of the purchase price thereof, whether for principal or interest, and all such certificates of purchase are hereby declared to be ipso facto null and void from and after such date last mentioned.

§ 4. If owner has died without disposing of lands. In the event the owner of any such certificate of purchase shall have died, without disposing of the lands therein described, and no administration of his estate has been had, the time of payment limited by the provisions of the preceding section is hereby extended for a period of six months; provided, however, that appropriate probate proceedings must be commenced in each case not later than December thirty-first, A. D. one thousand nine hundred seventeen, and written notice thereof forwarded by registered mail to the register of the state land office. In such cases the twenty per cent penalty imposed by section three hereof shall not attach until July first, A. D. one thousand nine hundred eighteen, and such forfeiture shall not become operative until December thirty-first of said year.

§ 5. Lands conveyed exempted from forfeiture, when. Any person having a conveyance of the whole or any portion of the lands described in any certificate of purchase included in any such statement, but to whom the certificate has never been surrendered, may protect his lands from forfeiture by paying such proportion of the interest delinquent upon all the lands in such certificate described as the acreage claimed by him bears to the aggregate acreage embraced in such certificate. He shall first, however, file with the register of the state land office satisfactory evidence of his possessory right to such land, and obtain from the latter a certificate, directed to the treasurer of the proper county, permitting such payment and stating the amount to be paid, which shall in all cases include the costs imposed by section nine hereof. Upon such payment being made within the time herein limited such land shall be, and hereby is, excepted from the forfeiture prescribed in this act. Said certificate of purchase shall become null and void only as to the remaining lands therein described, and the register in preparing for record the notices of forfeiture provided for in section ten hereof shall omit therefrom all lands upon which the delinquent interest has been paid as in this section permitted. Should due compliance be made with all other provisions of law governing the issuance of patents, a patent shall issue in the name of the original purchaser of such excepted land, but shall be delivered to the person by whom such payment was made, and the title thereby granted shall inure to the benefit of such person, his heirs or assigns.

§ 6. Lands included. This act shall extend to and include all unlisted lieu lands and all unsegregated swamp and overflowed lands sold under the authority of any law of this state; subject to the proviso that instead of the land itself becoming forfeit for nonpayment of delinquent interest, all right, title and interest therein or thereto heretofore acquired or hereafter to be acquired prior to June thirtieth, A. D. one thousand nine hundred eighteen, by the original purchaser, his heirs and assigns, shall become and hereby is declared to be forfeit to the state in the event of such nonpayment; and subject to the further proviso that all purchasers of such unlisted lieu lands or of such unsegregated swamp and overflowed lands, their heirs and assigns, who protect themselves against such forfeiture by making the payments required by this act, shall not thereby be deprived of any existing right to receive restitution of all sums paid on account of the purchase price of such lands, whether for principal or interest, upon duly complying with all provisions of law governing such restitution.

§ 7. Payment of interest by December 31, 1917. Penalties. Publication of notice. Upon completing the statements required by section two hereof, the register shall add thereto a demand that all interest shown to be delinquent therein shall be paid on or before December thirty-first, A. D. one thousand nine hundred seventeen, to the treasurer of the proper county, together with the sum of three dollars costs, and a notice that if the same be not so paid a penalty of twenty per cent will be added thereto as provided in section three hereof, and a further notice that unless the whole sum delinquent, together with such costs and penalty, and all additional interest falling due January first, A. D. one thousand nine hundred eighteen, be paid on or before June thirtieth, A. D. one thousand nine hundred eighteen, the lands in said statements described, together with all moneys previously paid on account of the purchase price thereof, whether for principal or interest, will be forfeit to the state in accordance with the provisions hereof, and that all such certificates of purchase will become ipso facto null and void. He shall thereupon cause each such statement, together with such demand and notice, to be published once a week for four weeks successively in some newspaper published in the county wherein the lands described in such statement are situate, or, if there be no newspaper published in such county, such publication shall be made in a newspaper published in an adjoining county.

§ 8. Copies sent to county officers and persons interested in lands. Duty of assessor. In addition to such publication, the register shall, not later than October fifteenth, A. D. one thousand nine hundred seventeen, forward copies of such statements, demands and notice, by registered mail to the treasurer and to the auditor and to the assessor of each county wherein any of said lands may be situate, and shall likewise forward by registered mail to each person shown by the records of his office to have any interest in any of such lands, either as purchaser, or as assignee, grantee, distributee, or other successor in interest of such purchaser, a copy of so much of said statements as pertains to the lands wherein such person may appear to have any interest, together with such demand and notice, directed to such person at his last known place of residence or of business as the same appears upon the records of the register's office.

It shall be the duty of each county assessor to whom a copy of any such statement shall be sent, immediately upon receipt thereof, to cause the same to be carefully compared with the records of assessments in his office of all tracts of land appearing in such list, and in the event it shall appear from such comparison that any person or persons whose names are not included in the register's statement are shown by such assessment records to have any interest in any part of the lands described in such statement, the assessor must forthwith return, by registered mail, to the register of the state land office a statement containing a description of the land affected and the names and addresses, as the same appear upon his records, of all persons appearing to have any interest therein and not included in the register's statement. In every such case the assessor must return his statement to the register within ten days after the receipt by him of the register's statement. Upon receipt of any such return the register shall without delay, forward to each person therein named, in the same manner as above provided, a copy of so much of said statement as pertains to the lands wherein such person is shown by the assessor's return to have any interest, to which shall be appended such demand and notice.

§ 9. Costs. The sum of three dollars to cover the costs of such publication and of such mailing is hereby imposed upon the owner or owners of each such certificate of purchase, as well as upon each person who may have acquired by purchase an interest in all or some portion of the lands in such certificate described, but to whom the certificate has never been surrendered, and it shall be the duty of the treasurer of each county wherein any part of such land may be situate to require the payment of such costs, in all cases, in addition to the delinquent interest, and penalty, if any, and to account for the same in his settlements with the state controller and treasurer, who are hereby authorized and directed to pay all sums so collected for costs into the general fund of the state treasury.

§ 10. Notice of forfeiture. Immediately following the thirtieth day of June, A. D. one thousand nine hundred eighteen, the register shall note upon the records of his office the forfeiture herein and hereby declared, and shall forward to the recorder of each county wherein any of said lands may be situate a notice of such forfeiture, in which there shall be embodied the same data required by section two hereof, supplemented by a statement of the costs, penalties and additional interest accrued at the date of forfeiture. It shall be the duty of the recorder to receive and file such notice and to record the same in a book of deeds. Such notice from the time it is filed with the recorder for record is constructive notice of the contents thereof to subsequent purchasers and mortgagees and to all other persons who may thereafter attempt to acquire any interest in, or lien upon, any of the lands in such notice described. In the event any additional forfeiture shall occur on the first day of January, A. D. one thousand nine hundred nineteen, as provided in section four hereof, the register and each county recorder shall proceed with respect to such lands as before, and with like force and effect.

§ 11. Action to annul forfeiture. In the event any land shall be forfeited under the provisions hereof upon which all interest, costs, penalties and accruing interest had been actually paid prior to such forfeiture, though for any reason not properly credited, the person or persons having a beneficial interest therein may, within one year following the date of such forfeiture, commence an action in the superior court of the county of Sacramento against the register of the state land office for the purpose of having such forfeiture annulled and set aside. And if it be proven to the satisfaction of the court, at the trial of such action, that such payment was in fact made prior to the date upon which such forfeiture occurred, the court shall render judgment annulling and setting aside such forfeiture, and thereupon the plaintiff or plaintiffs in such action shall be restored to his or their former estate in said land, upon making payment of all interest accruing thereon to the date of restoration.

§ 12. Right of state to enforce payment. This act is cumulative and shall not be construed to deny to the state the right to institute any legal proceedings that may be deemed necessary to enforce the payment of all such delinquent interest, or to procure judgments foreclosing the interests of any and all persons in any of such lands, and annulling any or all of such certificates of purchase. Nor shall anything herein contained ever be deemed, held or construed to give to or confer upon the holder or holders of any of such certificates of purchase, as against the state of California, any other or greater right to any land therein described than is now possessed by the holder or holders of such certificates.

§ 13. Appropriation. The sum of four thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be used in accordance with law to defray the costs of the publication and mailing herein provided for.

Judicial determination of forfeiture. See post, Act 2875i.

ACT 2875g.

An act to determine and to declare the effect of state land patents in certain cases.

§ 1. Quitclaim deed not in effect if restitution not made. Whenever any person has, in conformity to the provisions of existing law, conveyed any land to the state of California by quitclaim deed, duly executed, delivered, and accepted by the register of the state land office, for the purpose of receiving restitution of the purchase price thereof, as provided by law, and such restitution has not been made, and a patent for such land shall thereafter issue in the name of the original purchaser, the title granted by such patent shall vest in, and inure to the benefit of, such original purchaser, his heirs, assigns, and successors in interest, notwithstanding the execution, delivery and acceptance of such quitclaim deed, as fully and completely as if such quitclaim deed had never been made, executed, delivered, or accepted.

§ 2. Certificate of register of state land office. Upon the issuance of such patent, the register of the state land office shall make and issue to the patentee therein named, his heirs, assigns, and successors in interest, a certificate under the seal of his office, reciting the making, execution, delivery and acceptance of such quitclaim deed, and further reciting the fact that no restitution of the purchase price of such land was made. Upon the presentation of such certificate to the county recorder of the county wherein such land is situate, it shall be the duty of the recorder to record the same in a book of deeds in the records of such county.

An act authorizing the state board of control for and on behalf of the state of California to retransfer a certain tract of land back to original owners. [Approved May 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1282. In effect July 27, 1917.]

This act authorized the transfer of certain lands in Glenn County to Ella Glenn Leonard, F. B. Glenn and C. H. Glenn.

ACT 2875i.

An act to provide for a judicial determination of whether or not certain lands have been forfeited to the state under the provisions of an act entitled "An act to provide for the forfeiture of certain lands to the state in the event of the nonpayment of delinquent interest upon any part of the unpaid portion of the purchase price thereof, together with penalties and costs as herein provided, as well as for the forfeiture of all moneys previously paid thereon, whether for principal or interest; prescribing the duties of certain public officers with respect thereto; providing for the giving of notice hereof; prescribing certain remedies; and making an appropriation for the purposes of this act," approved May 24, 1917, and to provide for reinstatement of delinquent purchasers in certain cases.

§ 1. Action to have forfeiture of lands annulled. Reinstatement of purchasers. In the event that any lands shall appear to have been or to be forfeited under any of the provisions of the act entitled "An act to provide for the forfeiture of certain lands to the state in the event of the nonpayment of delinquent interest upon any part of the unpaid portion of the purchase price thereof, together with penalties and costs as herein provided, as well as for the forfeiture of all moneys previously paid thereon, whether for principal or interest; prescribing the duties of certain public officers with respect thereto; providing for the giving of notice hereof; prescribing certain remedies and making an appropriation for the purposes of this act," approved May 24, 1917, when in fact all interest, costs, penalties, and accruing interest due and payable thereon and thereunder had been actually paid or in good faith tendered prior to such forfeiture, though for any reason not properly credited or accepted, the person or persons having a beneficial interest therein may, within one year from the taking effect of this act, commence an action in the superior court of the county of Sacramento against the register of the state land office for the purpose of having such forfeiture annulled and set aside. And if it be proven to the satisfaction of the court, at the trial of such action, that such payment was in fact made or tendered prior to the date upon which such forfeiture occurred, the court shall render judgment annulling and setting aside such forfeiture, and thereupon the plaintiff or plaintiffs in such action shall be restored to his or their former estate in said land, upon making payment of all interest accruing thereon to the date of restoration; provided, nevertheless, that where such tender was made after the commencement of proceedings to foreclose the certificate of purchase under which said interest was delinquent, and was refused upon the ground that the costs of said proceedings and district attorneys' fees had not been paid, then, in that event, the said person or persons having such beneficial interest, shall, upon payment to the county treasurer of the county in which the land is situated, not later than December 31, 1919, of the amount so tendered together with such costs and attorneys fees, accrued to the time of such tender, be forthwith restored to his or their former estate in said land without the necessity of commencing such action.

ACT 2875j.

An act providing for the amendment of the base land offered by the state of California in satisfaction of the state school land grant where the selection has become invalid by reason of the restoration to validity of a certificate of purchase embracing the base land, by the vacating of a judgment of annulment.

[Approved April 15, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 81.]

§ 1. Relief of lieu land owners. Where, under authority of acts of congress of the United States and of the legislature of the state of California, the state of California has made a selection of United States lands in lieu of losses to the state school land grant and the base offered therefor became invalid by reason of the restoration to validity of a certificate of purchase embracing the base land, by the vacating of a judgment of annulment, the surveyor-general may, in his discretion, and upon application of the record owner of the certificate of purchase, amend the selection by the substitution of valid base; provided, that the party applying for relief shall pay all fees and expenses incident to such amendatory selection.

TITLE 439.

PUBLIC PARKS.

ACT 2884.

An act to provide for the acquisition by municipalities of land for public park or playground purposes by condemnation, and for the establishment of assessment districts and the assessment of property therein to pay the expenses of acquiring such land.

§ 4. Protests. Contents. Protest signed by owners of majority of frontage. Protest not signed by owners of majority of frontage. Any person interested, objecting to said improvement, or to the extent of the assessment district described in said ordinance of intention, may file a written protest with the clerk of the city council, within thirty days after the first publication of the notice required by section three of this act. Every such protest must contain a description of the property in which each signer thereof is interested, sufficient to identify the same, and must set forth the nature of his interest therein, and must be accompanied by the affidavit of one of the signers thereof that each signature thereof is the genuine signature of the person whose name is thereto subscribed; and in case any signature is made by an agent, there must be attached to the protest the affidavit of the agent that he is duly authorized to sign such protest. Any protest not complying with the foregoing requirements, shall not be considered by the city council. In the case of property held by tenancy in common, if any cotenant signs such protest, only the proportionate share of the frontage thereof represented by his interest therein, shall be counted in determining the amount of frontage represented by such protest. The clerk shall indorse on every such protest the date of its reception by him, and at the next regular meeting of the city council, after the expiration of the time for filing protests, shall present to said city council all protests so filed with him. If such protests are against said improvement, and said city council at said meeting or at any other time to which the hearing of said protests may be adjourned, finds that the same are signed by the owners of a majority of the frontage of the property fronting on streets or parts of streets within said assessment district, all further proceedings under said ordinance of intention shall be barred, and no new ordinance of intention for the same improvement shall be passed within six months after the presentation of such protests to the city council, unless the owners of a majority of the frontage of the property fronting on streets or parts of streets within said assessment district shall, in the meantime, petition therefor. If such protests are against the improvement and the council finds that they are not signed by the owners of a majority of the frontage of the property fronting on streets or parts of streets within the assessment district, or if such protests are only against the extent of the assessment district, the council shall hear said protests at said meeting, or at any time to which the hearing thereof may be adjourned, and pass upon the same, and its decision shall be final and conclusive. If such protests are sustained, no further proceedings shall be had under said ordinance of intention, but a new ordinance of intention for the same improvement may be passed at any time. If such protests are denied, the proceedings shall continue as if such protests had not been made. At the expiration of the time within which protests may be filed, if none are filed, or if protests are filed, and after hearing are denied, as above provided, then upon such denial, the city council shall be deemed to have acquired jurisdiction to order the improvement described in the ordinance of intention.

§ 24. Deed to purchaser. Service of notice by street superintendent. At any time after the expiration of twelve months from the date of sale, the street superintendent must execute to the purchaser, or his assignee on his application, if such purchaser or assignee has complied with the provisions of this section, a deed of the property sold, in which shall be recited substantially the matters contained in the certificate, also any assignment thereof, and the fact that no person has redeemed the property. The street superintendent shall receive from the applicant for a deed, one dollar for making such deed, unless the municipality is the purchaser, in which case no charge shall be made therefor, and at least thirty days before the deed is executed the street superintendent must serve upon the owner of the property, and upon the occupant of such property if the same is occupied, a written notice, setting forth a description of the property that said property has been sold for a delinquent assessment (specifying the improvement for which the same was made), the amount for which it was sold, the amount necessary to redeem at the time of giving notice and the time when the deed will be executed to the purchaser or assignee. If the said owner cannot be found, after due diligence, said notice must be posted by the street superintendent in a conspicuous place upon said property, at least thirty days before the time stated therein, at which the deed will be executed. The street superintendent must file with the city clerk an affidavit or affidavits showing that notice of such application has been given, as herein required, and if the notice was not served on the owner of the property personally, that due diligence was used to find said owner. If redemption of the property is made after such affidavits are filed, and more than eleven months from the date of sale, the person making such redemption must pay, in addition to the other amounts required, three dollars for the service of notice and the making of such affidavits, which amount shall be paid over to the street superintendent and by him paid into the city treasury. No deed for any property sold for delinquent assessment shall be made until all the provisions of this section have been complied with.

An act to authorize municipal corporations with the consent of original dedicators to abandon parks and sell and convey the lands embraced therein and reinvest the proceeds from the sale thereof in the purchase of other public grounds.

[Approved May 27, 1915; Stats. 1915, p. 1250.]

Amended 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 237. In effect July 22, 1919.

The amendment of 1919 follows:

§ 11. Details of sale. The board of trustees may order said land sold en masse or in lots or parcels, for cash or on credit, not exceeding four years, payable in gross or in installments, as the board of trustees may deem to be most advantageous to the city; provided, however, that deferred payments shall bear a rate of interest of seven per cent per annum; they shall determine when and at what price and on what terms said land, or any part thereof shall be sold; and when authorized by a majority vote of the board of said trustees, the president and clerk shall sign, acknowledge and deliver a deed to said land, or any part thereof, in the name and under the seal of said municipal corporation and such deed when so signed, acknowledged and delivered shall convey to the purchaser thereof the title in fee to the land described in said deed. [Amendment approved May 3, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 237.]

ACT 2885b.

An act to cede to the United States exclusive jurisdiction over Yosemite national park, Sequoia national park, and General Grant national park in the state of California.

[Approved April 15, 1919. In effect July 22, 1919.]

§ 1. Jurisdiction over national parks ceded to United States. Exclusive jurisdiction shall be and the same is hereby ceded to the United States over and within all of the territory which is now or may hereafter be included in those several tracts of land in the state of California set aside and dedicated for park purposes by the United States as "Yosemite national park," "Sequoia national park," and "General Grant national park," respectively; saving, however, to the state of California the right to serve civil or criminal process within the limits of the aforesaid parks in suits or prosecutions for or on account of rights acquired, obligations incurred or crimes committed in said state outside of said parks; and saving further, to the said state the right to tax persons and corporations, their franchises and property on the lands included in said parks, and the right to fix and collect license fees for fishing in said parks; and saving also to the persons residing in any of said parks now or hereafter the right to vote at all elections held within the county or counties in which said parks are situate; provided, however, that jurisdiction shall not vest until the United States through the proper officer notifies the state of California that they assume police jurisdiction over said parks.

TITLE 440.

PUBLIC UTILITIES.

ACT 2886.

An act to provide for the organization of the railroad commission, to define its powers and duties and the rights, remedies, powers and duties of public utilities and their officers, and the rights and remedies of patrons of public utilities, and to provide penalties for offenses by public utilities, their officers, agents and employees and by other persons and corporations, creating the "railroad commission fund" and appropriating the moneys therein to carry out the provisions of this act, and repealing Title XV of Part IV of Division First of the Civil Code and all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act.

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, pp. 168, 199, 261, 320, 1329; 1919, p. 438.

(w) "Water system." The term "water system," when used in this act, includes all reservoirs, tunnels, shafts, dams, dikes, headgates, pipes, flumes, canals, structures and appliances, and all other real estate, fixtures and personal property owned, controlled, operated or managed in connection with or to facilitate the diversion, development, storage, supply, distribution, sale, furnishing, carriage, apportionment or measurement of water for power, irrigation, reclamation or manufacturing, or for municipal, domestic or other beneficial use.

(x) "Water corporation." The term "water corporation," when used in this act, includes every corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, owning, controlling, operating or managing any water system for compensation within this state.

(y) "Vessel." The term "vessel," when used in this act, includes every species of water craft, by whatsoever power operated, which is owned, controlled, operated or managed for public use in the transportation of persons or property, except row-boats, sailing boats and barges under twenty tons dead weight carrying capacity, and vessels propelled by steam, gas, fluid naphtha, electricity, or other motive power under the burden of five tons net register.

(z) "Wharfinger." The term "wharfinger," when used in this act, includes every corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, owning, controlling, operating or managing any dock, wharf or structure used by vessels in connection with or to facilitate the receipt or discharge of freight or passengers for compensation within this state.

(aa) "Warehouseman." The term "warehouseman," when used in this act includes every corporation or persons, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, owning, controlling, operating or managing any building or structure in which property is regularly stored for compensation within this state, in connection with or to facilitate the transportation of property by a common carrier or vessel, or the loading or unloading of the same, other than a dock, wharf or structure, owned, operated, controlled or managed by a wharfinger.

(bb) "Heating plant." The term "heating plant," when used in this act, includes all real estate, fixtures and personal property owned, controlled, operated or managed in connection with or to facilitate the production, generation, transmission, delivery or furnishing of heat for domestic, business, industrial or public use.

(cc) "Heat corporation." The term "heat corporation," when used in this act, includes every corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, owning, controlling, operating or managing any heating plant for compensation within this state, except where heat is generated on or distributed by the producer through private property alone solely for his own use or the use of his tenants and not for sale to others.

(dd) "Public utility." The term "public utility," when used in this act, includes every common carrier, pipe line corporation, gas corporation, electrical corporation, telephone corporation, telegraph corporation, water corporation, wharfinger, warehouseman, and heat corporation, where the service is performed for or the commodity delivered to the public or any portion thereof. The term "public or any portion thereof" as herein used means the public generally, or any limited portion of the public including a person, private corporation, municipality or other political subdivision of the state, for which the service is performed or to which the commodity is delivered, and whenever any common carrier, pipe-line corporation, gas corporation, electrical corporation, telephone corporation, telegraph corporation, water corporation, wharfinger, warehouseman or heat corporation performs a service or delivers a commodity to the public or any portion thereof for which any compensation or payment whatsoever is received, such common carrier, pipe-line corporation, gas corporation, electrical corporation, telephone corporation, telegraph corporation, water corporation, wharfinger, warehouseman or heat corporation is hereby declared to be a public utility subject to the jurisdiction, control and regulation of the commission and the provisions of this act. Furthermore, when any person or corporation performs any service or delivers any commodity to any person or persons, private corporation or corporations, municipality or other political subdivision of the state, which in turn either directly or indirectly, mediately or immediately, perform such service or deliver such commodity to or for the public or some portion thereof, such person or persons, private corporation or corporations and each thereof is hereby declared to be a public utility and to be subject to the jurisdiction, control and regulation of the commission and to the provisions of this act. [Amendment approved May 11, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 489.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 1329.

§ 17. (a) No transportation until rates are filed. 1. No common carrier subject to the provisions of this act shall engage or participate in the transportation of persons or property, between points within this state, until its schedules of rates, fares, charges and classifications shall have been filed and published in accordance with the provisions of this act.

2. Different rate not to be charged. No common carrier shall charge, demand, collect or receive a greater or less or different compensation for the transportation of persons or property, or for any service in connection therewith, than the rates, fares and charges applicable to such transportation as specified in its schedules filed and in effect at the time; nor shall any such carrier refund or remit in any manner or by any device any portion of the rates, fares or charges so specified, except upon order of the commission as hereinafter provided, nor extend to any corporation or person any privilege or facility in the transportation of passengers or property except such as are regularly and uniformly extended to all corporations and persons.

3. Passes not to be given except to own officers, etc. "Employees" defined. No pass to shipper. Railroad commission. Newspapers. Express matter to company's officers. Exceptions. No common carrier subject to the provisions of this act shall, directly or indirectly, issue, give or tender any free ticket, free pass or free or reduced rate transportation for passengers between points within this state, except to its officers, agents, employees, attorneys, physicians and surgeons, and members of their families; to ministers of religions, traveling secretaries of railroad men's religious associations, or executive officers, organizers or agents of railroad employees' mutual benefit associations giving the greater portion of their time to the work of any such association; inmates of hospitals or charitable or eleemosynary institutions, and persons exclusively engaged in charitable or eleemosynary work, and persons and property engaged or employed in educational work or scientific research or in patriotic work when permitted by the commission; to the executive officers of mercantile or promotion boards or bodies within this state when traveling in the performance of duties affecting the advancement of the business of such boards or bodies, or the development of trade or industry within or without this state, when authorized by the commission; to hotel employees of season resort hotels, when authorized by the commission to indigent, destitute and homeless persons and to such persons when transported by charitable societies or hospitals, and the necessary agents employed in such transportation; to inmates of the national homes or state homes for disabled volunteer soldiers and of soldiers' and sailors' homes, including those about to enter and those returning home after discharge; to necessary caretakers, going and returning, of livestock, poultry, milk, fruit and other freight, under uniform and nondiscriminatory regulations; to employees of sleeping-car corporations, express corporations and telegraph and telephone corporations; to railway mail service employees, United States internal revenue officers, postoffice inspectors, customs officers and inspectors and immigration inspectors when traveling in the course of their official duty; to newsboys on trains, baggage agents, witnesses attending any legal investigation in which the carrier is interested, persons injured in accidents or wrecks and physicians and nurses attending such persons; provided, that the term "employees," as used in this section, shall include furloughed, pensioned and superannuated employees, persons who have become disabled or infirm in the service of any such carrier, ex-employees traveling for the purpose of entering the service of any such carrier, and the remains of persons dying while in the employment of any such carrier; and the term "families," as used in this section, shall include the families of those persons heretofore named in this proviso, and the families of persons killed, and the widows during widowhood and minor children during minority of persons who died while in the service of any such carrier; and provided, further, that no free ticket, free pass or free or reduced rate transportation shall be issued, given or tendered to any officer, agent or employee of a common carrier, who is at the same time a shipper or receiver of freight, or an officer, agent or employee of a shipper or receiver of freight, unless such officer, agent or employee devotes substantially his entire time to the service of such carrier; and provided, further, that the members of the railroad commission, their officers and employees, shall be entitled, when in the performance of their official duties, to free transportation over the lines of all common carriers within this state; and provided, further, that passenger transportation may issue to the proprietors and employees of newspapers and magazines and the members of their immediate families, in exchange for advertising space in such newspapers or magazines at full rates, subject however to such reasonable restrictions as the commission may impose.

Nothing in this act contained shall be construed to prohibit the issue by express corporations of free or reduced rate transportation for express matters to their officers, agents, employees, attorneys, physicians and surgeons, and members of the families, or the interchange of free or reduced rate transportation for passengers or express matter between common carriers, their officers, agents, employees, attorneys, physicians and surgeons, and members of their families, where such common carriers are subject in whole or in part to the jurisdiction of the commission or of the interstate commerce commission, or where such common carriers, though not in whole or in part subject to the jurisdiction of this commission or of the interstate commerce commission, but which are engaged in the business of transporting passengers and freight by water between the United States and foreign countries, and are permitted by the interstate commerce act to interchange such free transportation with common carriers which are subject to the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission or to the jurisdiction of this commission; provided, that such express matter be for the personal use of the person to or for whom such free or reduced rate transportation is granted, or of his family; nor to prohibit the issue of reduced rate transportation by a common carrier to children attending an institution of learning; nor to prohibit the issue of passes or franks by telegraph or telephone corporations to their officers, agents, employees, attorneys, physicians and surgeons, and members of their families, or the exchange of passes or franks between such telegraph and telephone corporations or between such corporations and such common carriers, for their officers, agents, employees, attorneys, physicians and surgeons, and members of their families; nor to prevent the carrying out of contracts for free or reduced rate passenger transportation heretofore made, founded upon adequate consideration and lawful when made; nor to prevent a common carrier from transporting, storing or handling, free or at reduced rates, the household goods and personal effects of its employees, of persons entering or leaving its service, and of persons killed or dying while in its service.

4. United States, state, etc. property may be carried free in certain cases. Every common carrier subject to the provisions of this act may transport, free or at reduced rates, persons or property for the United States, state, county or municipal governments, or for charitable purposes, or for patriotic purposes, or to provide relief in cases of general epidemic, pestilence or other calamitous visitation, and property to or from fairs or expositions for exhibit thereat; also contractors and their employees, material or supplies for use or engaged in carrying out their contracts with said carriers, for construction, operation or maintenance work or work incidental thereto on the line of the issuing carrier, to the extent only that such free or reduced rate transportation is provided for in the specifications upon which the contract is based and in the contract itself. Common carriers may also enter into contracts with telegraph and telephone corporations for an exchange of service.

(b) Rebates prohibited. Except as in this section otherwise provided, no public utility shall charge, demand, collect or receive a greater or less or different compensation for any product or commodity furnished or to be furnished, or for any service rendered or to be rendered, than the rates, tolls, rentals and charges applicable to such product or commodity or service as specified in its schedules on file and in effect at the time, nor shall any public utility engaged in furnishing or rendering more than one product, commodity or service, charge, demand, collect or receive a greater or less, or different compensation for the collective, combined or contemporaneous furnishing or rendition of two or more of such products, commodities or services, than the aggregate of the rates, tolls, rentals or charges specified in its schedules on file and in effect at the time, applicable to each such product, commodity or service when separately furnished or rendered, nor shall any such public utility refund or remit, directly or indirectly, in any manner or by any device, any portion of the rates, tolls, rentals and charges so specified, nor extend to any corporation or person any form of contract or agreement or any rule or regulation or any facility or privilege except such as are regularly and uniformly extended to all corporations and persons; provided, that the commission may by rule or order establish such exceptions from the operation of this prohibition as it may consider just and reasonable as to each public utility. [Amendment approved May 11, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 493.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 199.

§ 43. No grade crossings without permission. (a) No public road, highway or street shall hereafter be constructed across the track of any railroad corporation at grade, nor shall the track of any railroad corporation be constructed across a public road, highway or street at grade, nor shall the track of any railroad corporation be constructed across the track of any other railroad or street railroad corporation at grade, nor shall the track of a street railroad corporation be constructed across the track of a railroad corporation at grade, without having first secured the permission of the commission; provided, that this subsection shall not apply to the replacement of lawfully existing tracks. The commission shall have the right to refuse its permission or to grant it upon such terms and conditions as it may prescribe.

(b) Power to determine crossing point, etc. Payment of amount apportioned. The commission shall have the exclusive power to determine and prescribe the manner, including the particular point of crossing, and the terms of installation, operation, maintenance, use and protection of each crossing of one railroad by another railroad or street railroad, and of a street railroad by a railroad, and of each crossing of a public road or highway by a railroad or street railroad and of a street by a railroad or vice versa, subject to the provisions of section two thousand six hundred ninety-four of the Political Code so far as applicable, and to alter, relocate or abolish any such crossing, and to require, where in its judgment it would be practicable, a separation of grades at any such crossing heretofore or hereafter established and to prescribe the terms upon which such separation shall be made and the proportions in which the expense of the construction, alteration, relocation or abolition of such crossings or the separation of such grades shall be divided between the railroad or street railroad corporations affected or between such corporations and the state, county, municipality or other political subdivision affected. It shall be the duty of each corporation and political sub division to which any of the expense is apportioned to pay from the funds available therefor in its treasury the amount apportioned to it at the time and to the parties specified by the order of the commission and if the same is not paid in accordance with the commission's order the corporation or political subdivision entitled thereto under the commission's order shall have the right to sue therefor in any court of competent jurisdiction. If no such funds are available as aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the appropriate boards, officers and employees intrusted with the levy and collection of the taxes or assessments of such political subdivision to do all acts necessary to include in the next succeeding tax or assessment levy the amount due and to collect the same, whereupon the amount due shall be paid over to the corporation or corporations, the state, political subdivision, or political subdivisions entitled thereto under the commission's order. The commission shall have the power by order to designate the state, certain of said corporations, and political subdivisions, affected, to do all or specified portions of the acts required by any order of the commission made under the provisions of this subsection, and to prescribe the manner and the time within which the parties so designated shall be paid or reimbursed by the other corporations, the state and political subdivisions among which the expense of the work has been apportioned by the commission.

(c) 1. Power to fix just compensation. The commission shall have power in accordance with the procedure provided in this subsection to fix the just compensation to be paid for property or any interest in or to property to be taken or damaged in the separation or grades at any crossing specified in subsection (b) hereof, or for property or any interest in or to property to be taken or damaged in the construction, alteration or relocation, under the order or with the approval of the commission, of elevated tracks or subways for any railroad or street railroad over or under any public road, street, highway or private right of way, or of any public road, street or highway over or under the tracks of any railroad corporation or street railroad corporation; and upon the payment of the just compensation so fixed to make a final order of condemnation as hereinafter provided.

2. Manner of commencing proceedings. Proceedings under subsection (c) hereof may be commenced by order on the commission's own motion or by a petition filed by the state, county, city and county, incorporated city or town, other political subdivision, railroad corporation, or street railroad corporation affected. Any proceeding commenced under this subsection may be made a part of any proceeding commenced under subsection (b) hereof. Said petition shall set forth the name and interest of the petitioner, and said order on the commission's own motion and said petition shall set forth a statement of the purpose of the proceedings and the use for which property or interest in or to property is sought to be taken, a description of each piece of land or other property or interest in or to property sought to be taken, and whether the same includes the whole or only a part of an entire parcel or tract or piece of property or interest in or to property and the names and addresses of all owners and claimants thereof, if known, or a statement that they are unknown, and a statement of each railroad corporation, the state and political subdivision which in the opinion of the commission or the petitioner has an interest in the proceeding. Said petition shall pray that the commission fix the just compensation to be paid for the acquisition of or damage to the property and interest in or to property specified in the petition, that the commission designate the party or parties to the proceeding who shall pay such compensation and the owners and claimants of the property and interest in or to property condemned to whom such compensation shall be paid and that the commission make its final order of condemnation; provided, that when the proceeding is commenced by order on the commission's own motion said matters shall be included in the statement of the purpose of the proceeding. Said petition shall be duly verified and at the time the same is filed with the commission the petitioner shall also file the additional copies thereof equal in number to three or more than the number of owners and claimants named in the petition.

3. Order to appear. Service. Publication. Notice of hearing. Amendment of petition. Upon the filing of said petition with the commission or the making of said order on the commission's own motion, the commission shall make its order specifying the nature of the proceeding, containing a general description of the property and interest in or to property to be condemned, and directing the owners and claimants and the railroad corporations, street railroad corporations, and governmental authorities in interest named in said petition or order on the commission's own motion, who shall also be named in said order to show cause, to appear before the commission at a time and place specified in said order, to show cause, if any they have, why the commission should not proceed after hearing to fix the just compensation to be paid for the acquisition of or damage to the property and interest in or to property specified in said petition or order on the commission's own motion, to designate the party or parties to the proceeding who shall pay such compensation and the owners and claimants to whom such compensation shall be paid and to make its final order of condemnation. Said order to show cause shall direct the secretary of the commission to serve or cause to be served upon each said owner and claimant, railroad corporation, street railroad corporation and governmental authority in interest a copy of said order certified under the seal of the commission to which shall be attached a true and correct copy of the petition or order on the commission's own motion; provided, that when the proceeding is commenced by order on the commission's own motion said order to show cause may be incorporated in said order on the commission's own motion. Personal service shall be made in accordance with the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure of the state of California; provided, that service may also be made by depositing a copy of said order to show cause certified under seal of the commission with a true copy of the petition or order on the commission's own motion attached thereto or made a part thereof in the United States mail, inclosed in a sealed envelope, registered, with postage prepaid, addressed to each owner or claimant, railroad corporation, street railroad corporation and governmental authority in interest named in said petition or order on the commission's own motion. If any owner or claimant named in the petition or order on the commission's own motion resides out of the state or has departed from the state or cannot after due diligence be found within the state, or conceals himself to avoid service, or is a corporation having no managing or business agent, cashier or secretary or other officer upon whom summons may be served, who, after due diligence, cannot be found within the state, and the fact appears by affidavit to the satisfaction of the commission, and it also appears by such affidavit or by the petition or order on the commission's own motion that a cause of action exists against such owner or claimant on whom service is to be made and that he is a necessary or proper party to the proceeding, the commission may make an order that the service be made on such owner or claimant by publication of the commission's said order to show cause. Said order of the commission shall direct that the publication be made in a newspaper to be designated by the commission as likely to give notice to the owner or claimant to be served, and for such time as the commission may find to be reasonable, at least once a week, but publication against an owner or claimant residing out of the state or absent therefrom shall not be less than two months. If the address of any owner or claimant as stated in the petition or order on the commission's own motion is out of the state, the secretary of the commission shall within fifteen days after the making and filing of said order to show cause, deposit or cause to be deposited a copy of said order to show cause certified under the seal of the commission, with a true and correct copy of the petition or order on the commission's own motion attached thereto or made a part thereof, in the United States mail, inclosed in a sealed envelope registered, with postage prepaid, addressed to such owner or claimant at the address specified in the petition or order on the commission's own motion. Personal service of a copy of the order to show cause and of the petition or order on the commission's own motion out of the state is equivalent to publication and deposit in the United States mail. Within ten days prior to the time set for the first hearing on the petition or order on the commission's own motion, which time shall be not less than thirty days after the filing of said petition or the making of said order on the commission's own motion, the secretary shall serve or cause to be served upon the petitioner a written notice of such hearing, specifying the time and place at which such hearing shall be had. In all respects not in this paragraph otherwise provided, service and the proof of service shall be made as provided by the Code of Civil Procedure of the state of California. Upon the completion of service upon the petitioner or upon any owner or claimant, railroad corporation, street railroad corporation or governmental authority in interest named in the petition or order on the commission's own motion, the commission shall have full and complete jurisdiction in so far as such petitioner, owner or claimant, railroad corporation, street railroad corporation, or governmental authority in interest is concerned, to make each finding hereinafter referred to, to fix the just compensation to be paid for the acquisition of or damage to any property or interest in or to property specified in the petition or order on the commission's own motion, to designate the party or parties to the proceeding who shall pay such compensation and the owner or claimant to whom such compensation shall be paid and to make its final order of condemnation. The failure to make such service upon any person alleging that he is an owner or claimant or party in interest but not named in the petition or order on the commission's own motion or to acquire jurisdiction over such person shall in no way affect the jurisdiction of the commission over owners and claimants and parties in interest on whom service has been made as in this paragraph provided. The commission shall have power at any time subsequent to the filing of the petition, and prior to making and filing its finding of just compensation, to authorize the amendment of the petition, or in case the proceeding is by order on the commission's own motion to amend said order, by altering or modifying the description of said property, or interest in or to property, or by adding to or deducting from said property or interest in or to property, or by bringing in any additional party or parties and in each other respect including each jurisdictional allegation.

4. Hearing. Finding. At the time and place specified in said order to show cause, or at such other time and place as, for good cause, may be otherwise ordered by the commission, the commission shall proceed to a hearing upon the petition or order on the commission's own motion. When the proceeding has been submitted the commission shall make and file its finding upon the question whether the use to which the property or interest in or to property is to be applied is a use authorized by law and whether the taking is necessary to such use, and shall make and file its written finding and fixing the just compensation to be paid for said property or interest in or to property; provided, that if the commission finds that severance damages should be paid, the just compensation for such damages shall be found and stated separately. Said just compensation shall be fixed by the commission as of the day on which the petition was filed or the order on the commission's own motion was made. The commission shall also make its order designating the party or parties to the proceeding who shall pay the just compensation so fixed, or any portion thereof, the amounts in which it shall be paid, the times at which it shall be paid, the property or interest in or to property for which it shall be paid, and the owners and claimants of such property or interest in or to property to whom it shall be paid. The commission may prescribe any other terms or conditions with reference to the payment of such compensation as to the commission may seem proper, including a provision that the money due be paid to the commission to be distributed to the parties entitled thereto. The party or parties whom the commission may designate to pay such compensation or any part thereof shall thereupon become liable therefor, and may be sued in any court of competent jurisdiction by the party or parties entitled to such compensation as provided in the commission's order; provided, that in cases in which the order of the commission authorizing any work to be done under the provisions of this section is permissive in character and not mandatory, the commission may prescribe the time within which the party receiving such permission must elect to proceed and notify the commission thereof, and only in the event such party elects to proceed and so notifies the commission shall any liability arise in such cases to pay the just compensation or any part thereof under the provisions of this subsection. When any political subdivision of the state is designated by the commission to pay such compensation or any portion thereof the same shall be collectible in the manner provided in subsection (b) hereof for the collection of expenses apportioned by the commission to political subdivisions of the state.

5. Final order of condemnation. When the just compensation has been paid in accordance with the commission's order made under the provisions of this subsection for property or interest in or to property, the commission shall make its final order of condemnation which must describe the property or interest in or to property condemned and the purpose of such condemnation. A copy of said order certified under the seal of the commission shall thereupon be filed in the office of the recorder of the county in which the property or interest in or to property therein described is situated, and thereupon the property or interest in or to property described therein shall vest in the parties and for the purposes specified in said order.

6. Finding final. Petition for rehearing. The finding of the commission on the question of the necessity for the taking and the finding, fixing the just compensation to be paid for any property or interest in or to property under the provisions of this subsection shall be final and shall not be subject to modification, alteration, reversal or review by any court of this state. The provisions of this act with reference to rehearing and review shall be applicable to the findings of the commission made and filed under the provisions of this section. Petitions for rehearing must be filed within twenty days from the date of making and filing the finding as to which a rehearing is desired. If a finding of the commission made and filed under the provisions of this section is set aside by the supreme court of the state of California, the matter shall be referred back to the commission for further action in a proceeding before the commission, and the commission shall have the right, on taking further action, to consider the entire testimony theretofore taken in the proceeding before the commission as well as such further testimony, if any, as may be presented in connection with such further action.

7. Procedure not exclusive. The procedure provided in this section shall be alternative and cumulative and not exclusive to the right to pursue any other procedure now or hereafter established providing for the acquisition under eminent domain proceedings of property or interest in or to property.

8. Germane to jurisdiction. The legislature hereby declares that subsection (c) hereof is enacted as a germane and cognate part of and as an aid to the jurisdiction of the railroad commission in the supervision and regulation of railroad and street railroad corporations.

9. Right to receive damages. Nothing in this section shall be construed to entitle any owner or claimant of property and interest in or to property to receive damages when the right to receive such damages does not exist under the laws of this state apart from the provisions of this section. [Amendment approved May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 320.]

§ 46. (a) Power to prescribe standards, etc. The commission shall have power, after hearing had upon its own motion or upon complaint, to ascertain and fix just and reasonable standards, classifications, regulations, practices, measurements, or service to be furnished, imposed, observed and followed by all electrical, gas, water and heat corporations; to ascertain and fix adequate and serviceable standards for the measurement of quantity, quality, pressure, initial voltage or other condition pertaining to the supply of the product, commodity or service furnished or rendered by any such public utility; to prescribe reasonable regulations for the examination and testing of such product, commodity or service and for the measurement thereof; to establish reasonable rules, regulations, specifications, and standards to secure the accuracy of all meters and appliances for measurements; and to provide for the examination and testing of any and all appliances used for the measurement of any product, commodity or service of any such public utility.

(b) Entering premises for tests, etc. The commissioners and their officers and employees shall have power to enter upon any premises occupied by any public utility, for the purpose of making the examinations and tests and exercising any of the other powers provided for in this act, and to set up and use on such premises any apparatus and appliances necessary therefor. The agents and employees of such public utility shall have the right to be present at the making of such examinations and tests.

(c) Testing measuring appliances. Any consumer or user of any product, commodity or service of a public utility may have any appliance used in the measurement thereof tested upon paying the fees fixed by the commission. The commission shall establish and fix reasonable fees to be paid for testing such appliances on the request of the consumer or user, the fee to be paid by the consumer or user at the time of his request, but to be paid by the public utility and repaid to the consumer or user if the appliance is found defective or incorrect to the disadvantage of the consumer or user, under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the commission. [Amendment approved May 11, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 497.]

§ 47. Valuation of public utility property. (a) The commission shall have power to ascertain for each purpose specified in this act, the value of the property of every public utility in this state and every fact and element of value which in its judgment may or does have any bearing on such value. The commission shall have power to make revaluations from time to time and to ascertain the value of all additions, betterments, extensions and new construction to the property of every public utility.

(b) Petition setting forth intention to acquire public utility. 1. Any county, city and county, incorporated city or town, municipal water district, county water district, irrigation district, public utility district or any other public corporation, each of which is hereinafter in this section at times referred to as the political subdivision, may, at any time, file with the commission either a petition, hereinafter in this section at times referred to as a petition of the first class, setting forth the intention of the political subdivision to acquire under eminent domain proceedings, or otherwise, the lands, property and rights of any character whatsoever of any public utility, or any part or portion thereof, or a petition, hereinafter in this section at times referred to as a petition of the second class, setting forth the intention of the political subdivision to initiate such proceedings as may be required under the law governing the political subdivision for the purpose of submitting to the voters of the political subdivision a proposition to acquire under eminent domain proceedings, or otherwise, the lands, property and rights of any character whatsoever of any public utility, or any part or portion thereof.

2. Contents of petition. Commission asked to fix just compensation.

Each such petition shall contain the name of the political subdivision appearing as petitioner therein, a description of the lands, property and rights, or of the part or portion thereof, which the political subdivision intends to acquire, and the names and addresses of all owners and claimants thereof, including each trustee and mortgagee under each deed of trust and mortgage, if known, or a statement that they are unknown. The petition shall pray that the commission fix the just compensation which shall be paid by the political subdivision, under the law, for said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof. The petition shall be signed in the name of the political subdivision and verified by the chairman or other presiding officer or by the secretary or clerk of the legislative or other governing body of the political subdivision. At the time the petition is filed, the petitioner shall also file with the commission additional copies thereof equivalent in number to three more than the number of owners and claimants named in the petition.

3. Order to owners to appear before commission. Service. Publication. Notice of hearing to petitioner. Jurisdiction of commission.

Upon the filing of the petition, the commission shall make its order, specifying the nature of the proceeding, containing a general description of the lands, property and rights, or the part or portion thereof which petitioner desires to acquire by condemnation, or otherwise, and directing the owners and claimants named in the petition, who shall also be named in said order, to appear before the commission at a time and place specified in the order, to show cause, if any they have, why the commission should not proceed to hear the petition and to fix the just compensation to be paid for said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof. The order shall direct the secretary of the commission to serve or cause to be served upon each said owner and claimant a copy of said order, certified under the seal of the commission, to which shall be attached a true and correct copy of the petition. Service shall be made in accordance with the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure of the state of California; provided, that service may also be made by depositing a copy of said order to show cause, certified under the seal of the commission, with a true and correct copy of the petition attached thereto, in the United States mail, inclosed in a sealed envelope, registered, with postage prepaid, addressed to any owner or claimant at the address specified in the petition. If any owner or claimant named in the petition resides out of the state, or has departed from the state, or cannot, after due diligence, be found within the state, or conceals himself to avoid service, or is a corporation having no managing or business agent, cashier or secretary or other officer upon whom summons may be served, who, after due diligence, cannot be found within the state, and the fact appears by affidavit to the satisfaction of the commission, and it also appears by such affidavit or by the petition that a cause of action exists against the owner or claimant on whom the service is to be made or that he is a necessary or proper party to the proceeding, the commission shall make its order that the service be made on such owner or claimant by publication of the commission's said order to show cause.

Said order of the commission shall direct that the publication be made in a newspaper to be designated by the commission as likely to give notice to the person to be served, and for such time as the commission may find to be reasonable, at least once a week; but publication against an owner or claimant residing out of the state, or absent therefrom shall be not less than two months. If the address of any owner or claimant, as stated in the petition, is out of the state, the secretary of the commission shall, within fifteen days after the making and filing of said order to show cause, deposit or cause to be deposited a copy of said order to show cause, certified under the seal of the commission, with a true and correct copy of the petition attached thereto, in the United States mail, inclosed in a sealed envelope, registered, with postage prepaid, addressed to such owner or claimant at the address specified in the petition. When publication is ordered, personal service of a copy of the order to show cause and of the petition out of the state is equivalent to publication and deposit in the United States mail. Within ten days prior to the time set for the first hearing on the petition, which time shall be not less than thirty days after the filing of the petition, the secretary of the commission shall serve or cause to be served upon the petitioner a written notice of such hearing, specifying the time and place at which such hearing will be held. In all respects not in this paragraph otherwise specified, service and the proof of service shall be made as provided by the Code of Civil Procedure of the state of California. Upon the completion of service upon the petitioner or upon any owner or claimant named in the petition, the commission shall have full and complete jurisdiction over such petitioner, owner or claimant, with full and complete jurisdiction, in so far as such petitioner, owner or claimant, is concerned, to make each finding hereinafter referred to. The failure to make service upon any person alleging that he is an owner or claimant but not named in the petition shall in no way affect the jurisdiction of the commission over owners and claimants on whom service has been made as in this paragraph provided.

4. Hearing on petition. Amendment of petition. Finding fixing compensation. Severance damages. At the time and place specified in said order to show cause, or at such other time and place as, for good cause, may be otherwise ordered by the commission, the commission shall proceed to a hearing on the petition. At such times and in such amounts as may be directed by the commission, the political subdivision must pay to the commission all extra costs as determined by the commission, which extra costs the commission may incur to comply with the requirements of section forty-seven (b) of this act, and if such amounts are not paid by the political subdivision as directed by the commission, the commission may suspend further proceedings on the petition. Evidence may be presented by the political subdivision, by each owner or claimant named in the petition, and by the commission. The commission shall have power, at any time subsequent to the filing of the petition, and prior to making and filing its finding as to just compensation, to authorize the amendment of the petition by altering or modifying the description of said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof, or by adding to or deducting from said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof, and in each other respect including each jurisdictional allegation. When the proceeding has been submitted, the commission shall make and file its written finding fixing, in a single sum, the just compensation to be paid by the political subdivision for said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof; provided, that if the commission finds that severance damages should be paid, the just compensation for such damages shall be found and stated separately. Said just compensation shall be fixed by the commission as of the day on which the petition was filed with the commission.

5. Acceptance by owner. Execution of deed by owner. Action on failure to execute deed. Within twenty days after the commission has made and filed its finding, the owner of said lands, property and rights, or of said part or portion thereof, may file with the legislative or other governing body of the political subdivision a written stipulation consenting and agreeing to accept the just compensation fixed by the commission. Upon the filing of such written stipulation, the political subdivision must proceed with all due diligence to provide the necessary funds under the law governing the providing of such funds for paying the just compensation fixed by the commission. Whenever the just compensation has been tendered by the political subdivision, a deed of grant, bargain and sale conveying the owner's right, title and interest in and to said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof, to the political subdivision, shall be executed and delivered by the owner, and the other claimants who have any right, title or interest in the property shall execute appropriate instruments of conveyance or release, conveying or releasing to the political subdivision their respective rights, titles and interests therein. If said deed or said instruments of conveyance or release are not executed and delivered within sixty days after said tender has been made, the political subdivision may commence an action in a court of competent jurisdiction or proceed otherwise in the manner and for the purpose or purposes specified in the next paragraph of this section.

6. Action to take lands, etc., under eminent domain proceedings. Proceedings to submit proposition to voters. Action commenced if voters approve. In the case of a petition of the first class, if the owner does not file said stipulation within said twenty days, the political subdivision, within sixty days after the commission has made and filed its said finding, must commence an action in a court of competent jurisdiction in a manner in accordance with the provisions of law, to take under eminent domain proceedings said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof. In the case of a petition of the second class, if the owner does not file said stipulation within said twenty days, the political subdivision, within sixty days after the commission has made and filed its said finding, must initiate proceedings for the purpose of submitting to its voters a proposition to acquire under eminent domain proceedings said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof. The political subdivision shall not be required, in either case, to delay for more than twenty days after the commission has made and filed its finding, before commencing said further proceedings. In the case of a petition of the second class, if the voters of the political subdivision, shall thereafter, as provided by the law governing said political subdivision, vote in favor of any proposition to acquire under eminent domain proceedings, or otherwise, said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof, the political subdivision shall, within sixty days after its voters have so voted in favor of such acquisition, commence an action in a court of competent jurisdiction in a manner in accordance with the provisions of law, to take under eminent domain proceedings said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof, unless the owner shall have filed with the political subdivision a written stipulation consenting and agreeing to accept the just compensation fixed by the commission.

7. Petition by owner on failure of political subdivision to take action. Notice to political subdivision to appear. Expenses of owner assessed. Against political subdivision. If the political subdivision, in a petition of the first class, fails to file said action in a court of competent jurisdiction within said period of sixty days after the commission has made and filed its said finding, or if the political subdivision in a petition of the second class, fails to proceed diligently to submit said proposition to its voters or fails, if its voters have voted in favor of the acquisition of said lands, property and rights, or of said part or portion thereof, to file said action in a court of competent jurisdiction within sixty days after the voters have voted in favor of said acquisition, the owner of such lands, property and rights, or of said part or portion thereof, may file with the commission a verified petition in writing setting forth said fact, which petition may also set forth in detail the expenditures which the owner has necessarily incurred in the proceeding before the commission. The commission shall thereupon cause written notice of not less than ten days, with a true and correct copy of the owner's said petition attached thereto, to be served upon the political subdivision, to appear before the commission at a time and place specified in the notice, to show cause why an order should not be made by the commission (1) finding that the political subdivision has failed to pursue diligently its rights herein conferred, (2) determining that said finding as to just compensation shall no longer be of any force or effect, and (3) determining the reasonable expenditures necessarily incurred by the owner which, in the opinion of the commission, should be assessed against the political subdivision. If the commission shall determine that the political subdivision, in case of a petition of the first class, has failed to commence said action in a court of competent jurisdiction within said period of sixty days after the commission has made and filed its said finding of just compensation, or that the political subdivision, in case of a petition of the second class, has failed to proceed diligently to submit said proposition to its voters or has failed, after its voters have voted in favor of the acquisition of said lands, property or rights, or said part or portion thereof, to file said action in a court of competent jurisdiction within said sixty days after the voters have voted in favor of said acquisition, the commission shall make and file its order declaring that said finding shall no longer be of any force or effect, and makes its finding as to the reasonable expenditures necessarily incurred by the owner in the proceeding before the commission, which the commission may find should be assessed against the political subdivision. The political subdivision shall thereupon be liable to the owner in the amount thus found by the commission and the owner may thereupon maintain an action against the political subdivision for said amount in any court of competent jurisdiction.

8. Finding of commission final. Judgment of court. The finding of the commission fixing the just compensation to be paid by the political subdivision for said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof, shall be final and shall not be subject to modification, alteration, reversal or review by any court of this state. The court in which the political subdivision shall have commenced its action, subsequent to the making and filing by the commission of its finding as to just compensation, as hereinbefore specified, if said court shall first decide that the political subdivision has the right and power under the law to take said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof, shall enter a judgment in favor of the complainant in said action, as provided by law, fixing as the just compensation which shall be paid for the taking of said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof, the just compensation fixed by the commission. The judgment may include therein the allowance of such costs between the parties as is provided for in the law of eminent domain of this state. The judgment of said court in so far as it refers to the just compensation to be paid for said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof, shall be final and shall not be subject to modification, alteration, reversal or review by any court except as hereinafter in section forty-seven (b) of this act specified. The judgment of said court shall include a provision, in substance, that said judgment is subject to modification by reason of such increase or decrease in the just compensation to be paid as may thereafter be certified to said court by the commission, as hereinafter in section forty-seven (b) of this act provided.

9. Petition by owner asking increase in compensation. Petition by political subdivision asking decrease in compensation. Hearing. Order increasing or decreasing compensation. Judgment of court modified. At any time within thirty days subsequent to the entry of said judgment of said court, the owner of said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof, may file with the commission a verified petition in writing, alleging that by reason of expenditures made by the owner subsequent to the date of the filing of the original petition with the commission, for the purpose of preserving or improving said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof, or by reason of other acts and occurrences subsequent to said date, the just compensation theretofore fixed by the commission should be increased and praying that the commission make its finding increasing said just compensation. At any time within thirty days subsequent to the entry of said judgment of said court, the political subdivision may file with the commission a verified petition in writing, alleging that by reason of loss or destruction of said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof, or a part thereof, or by reason of depreciation or deterioration thereof or by reason of other acts and occurrences, subsequent to the date of the filing of the original petition with the commission, the just compensation theretofore fixed by the commission should be decreased and praying that the commission make its finding decreasing said just compensation. The commission shall, in each instance, cause a copy of said petition or petitions to be served upon each party, other than the petitioner, who was named as the political subdivision, owner or claimant in the original proceeding before the commission, together with a written notice specifying the time and place of hearing on said petition or petitions, which time shall be within forty-five days after the entry of said judgment by said court, and shall cause written notice of the time and place of said hearing to be served upon each petitioner in said petition or petitions. If both such petitions are filed, the commission shall have the power to consolidate said petitions for hearing and decision. After a hearing, the commission shall make and file its finding fixing, as of the date on which such finding is made and filed, the extent to which the just compensation theretofore fixed should be increased or decreased by reason of the matters alleged in said petition or petitions. If the claim is made that the just compensation theretofore fixed by the commission should be increased by reason of expenditures made by the owner subsequent to the date of the filing of the original petition with the commission for the purpose of preserving or improving said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof, the commission may increase said just compensation, by reason of such expenditures, only to the extent to which the commission shall determine that such expenditures were beneficial to said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof, and reasonably and prudently made. The finding of the commission fixing the extent to which the just compensation theretofore fixed should be thus increased or decreased shall be final and shall not be subject to modification, alteration, reversal or review by any court of this state. The commission shall thereupon transmit to said court its finding, certified under the seal of the commission, fixing the extent to which the just compensation theretofore fixed by the commission shall be increased or decreased. Said court shall thereupon modify its judgment so as to conform with said finding of the commission. The judgment of said court, as thus modified, in so far as it refers to the just compensation to be paid for said lands, property and rights, or said part or portion thereof, shall be final and shall not be subject to modification, alteration, reversal or review by any court. The filing of either or both the petitions in this paragraph specified shall not act as a stay of the judgment in condemnation, but upon the payment of the just compensation fixed in the original judgment of condemnation the plaintiff in the action in said court shall be entitled to immediate possession of said lands, property and rights, or of said part or portion thereof.

10. Finding set aside by supreme court. Writ of review. Extension of time. The provisions of this act with reference to rehearing and review shall be applicable to the findings of the commission made and filed under the provisions of section forty-seven (b) of this act. Petitions for rehearing must be filed within twenty days from the date of making and filing the finding as to which a rehearing is desired. If a finding of the commission made and filed under the provisions of section forty-seven (b) of this act is set aside by the supreme court of the state of California, the matter shall be referred back to the commission for further action in the proceeding before the commission, and the commission shall have the right, in taking further action, to consider the entire testimony theretofore taken in the proceeding before the commission as well as such further testimony, if any, as may be presented in connection with such further action. Should a writ of review be obtained from the supreme court of the state of California, the time within which the political subdivision must file an action in a court of competent jurisdiction or submit said proposition to its voters shall be extended to not more than sixty days beyond the final decision of the supreme court upon said writ of review.

11. Procedure not exclusive. The procedure provided in section forty-seven (b) of this act shall be considered as alternative and cumulative and not exclusive and the political subdivision shall continue to have the right to pursue any other procedure now or hereafter established providing for the acquisition under eminent domain proceedings of the lands, property and rights, or any part or portion thereof, of any public utility, and section forty-seven (b) of this act shall not be construed as repealing any law of this state providing for such eminent domain proceedings. Section forty-seven (b) of this act shall not affect pending actions or proceedings, but the same may be prosecuted and defended with the same effect as though section forty-seven (b) had not been amended. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 261.]

§ 50. New construction only after commission's certificate. (a) No railroad corporation whose railroad is operated primarily by electric energy, street railroad corporation, gas corporation, electrical corporation, telegraph corporation, telephone corporation or water corporation shall henceforth begin the construction of a street railroad, or of a line, plant, or system, or of any extension of such street railroad, or line, plant, or system, without having first obtained from the commission a certificate that the present or future public convenience and necessity require or will require such construction; provided, that this section shall not be construed to require any such corporation to secure such certificate for an extension within any city and county, or city or town within which it shall have theretofore lawfully commenced operations, or for an extension into territory either within or without a city and county, or city or town, contiguous to its street railroad, or line, plant, or system, and not theretofore served by a public utility of like character, or for an extension within or to territory already served by it, necessary in the ordinary course of its business; and provided, further, that if any public utility, in constructing or extending its line, plant, or system, shall interfere or be about to interfere with the operation of the line, plant, or system of any other public utility, already constructed, the commission, on complaint of the public utility claiming to be injuriously affected, may, after hearing, make such order and prescribe such terms and conditions for the location of the lines, plants, or systems affected as to it may seem just and reasonable.

(b) Exercise of rights under franchise only when necessity requires. No public utility of a class specified in subsection (a) hereof shall henceforth exercise any right or privilege under any franchise or permit hereafter granted, or under any franchise or permit heretofore granted but not heretofore actually exercised, or the exercise of which has been suspended for more than one year, without first having obtained from the commission a certificate that public convenience and necessity require the exercise of such right or privilege; provided, that when the commission shall find, after hearing, that a public utility has heretofore begun actual construction work and is prosecuting such work, in good faith, uninterruptedly and with reasonable diligence in proportion to the magnitude of the undertaking, under any franchise or permit heretofore granted but not heretofore actually exercised, such public utility may proceed, under such rules and regulations as the commission may prescribe, to the completion of such work, and may, after such completion, exercise such right or privilege; and provided, further, that this section shall not be construed to validate any right or privilege now invalid or hereafter becoming invalid under any law of this state.

(c) Articles of incorporation must be filed. Certificate authorizing construction. Before any certificate may issue, under this section, a certified copy of its articles of incorporation or charter, if the applicant be a corporation, shall be filed in the office of the commission. Every applicant for a certificate shall file in the office of the commission such evidence as shall be required by the commission to show that such applicant has received the required consent, franchise or permit of the proper county, city and county, municipal or other public authority. When a complaint has been filed with the commission alleging that a public utility of the class specified in subsection (a) of this section is engaged or is about to engage in construction work without having secured from the commission a certificate of public convenience and necessity as required by the provisions of this section, the commission shall have power, with or without notice, to make its order requiring the public utility complained of to cease and desist from such construction until the commission makes and files its decision on said complaint or until the further order of the commission. The commission shall have power, after hearing, to issue said certificate, as prayed for, or to refuse to issue the same, or to issue it for the construction of a portion only of the contemplated street railroad, line, plant or system, or extension thereof, or for the partial exercise only of said right or privilege, and may attach to the exercise of the rights granted by said certificate such terms and conditions, including provisions for the acquisition by the public of such franchise or permit and all rights acquired thereunder and all works constructed or maintained by authority thereof, as in its judgment the public convenience and necessity may require. If a public utility desires to exercise a right or privilege under a franchise or permit which it contemplates securing, but which has not as yet been granted to it, such public utility may apply to the commission for an order preliminary to the issue of the certificate. The commission may thereupon make an order declaring that it will thereafter, upon application, under such rules and regulations as it may prescribe, issue the desired certificate, upon such terms and conditions as it may designate, after the public utility has obtained the contemplated franchise or permit. Upon the presentation to the commission of evidence satisfactory to it that such franchise or permit has been secured by such public utility, the commission shall thereupon issue such certificate.

(d) State's reserved power over utilities. The legislature hereby declares that the provisions of this section are being enacted under the state's reserved power over public utilities or corporations, or both, as the case may be, for the purpose of acting on the right of the grantee of a public utility franchise granted by a county, city and county or incorporated city or town, to exercise right thereunder, and not for the purpose of acting on the right of any city and county or incorporated city or town to grant any such franchise. The legislature hereby declares that the provisions of this section shall be and remain in full force and effect concurrently with the right of any city and county or incorporated city or town to grant franchises for public utilities upon the terms and conditions and in the manner prescribed by law. [Amendment approved April 20, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 168.]

§ 70. Hearing on value of property. Notice. Filing of findings of fact. Hearings for making revaluations. For the purpose of ascertaining the matters and things specified in section forty-seven (a) of this act concerning the value of the property of public utilities, the commission may cause a hearing or hearings to be held at such time or times and place or places as the commission may designate. Before any hearing is had, the commission shall give the public utility affected thereby at least thirty days' written notice, specifying the time and place of such hearing, and such notice shall be sufficient to authorize the commission to inquire into the matters designated in this section and in said section forty-seven (a) of this act, but this provision shall not prevent the commission from making any preliminary examination or investigation into the matters herein referred to. All public utilities affected shall be entitled to be heard and to introduce evidence at such hearing or hearings. The evidence introduced at such hearing shall be reduced to writing and certified under the seal of the commission. The commission may make and file its findings of fact in writing upon such matters concerning which evidence shall have been introduced before it as, in its judgment, have bearing on the value of the property of the public utility affected. Such findings shall be subject to review by the supreme court of this state in the same manner and within the same time as other orders and decisions of the commission. The findings of the commission so made and filed, when properly certified under the seal of the commission, shall be admissible in evidence in any action, proceeding or hearing before the commission or any court, in which the commission, the state or any officer, department or institution thereof, or any county, city and county, municipality or other body politic and the public utility affected may be interested whether arising under the provisions of this act or otherwise, and such findings, when so introduced, shall be conclusive evidence of the facts therein stated as of the date therein stated under conditions then existing, and such facts can only be controverted by showing a subsequent change in conditions bearing upon the facts therein determined. The commission may, from time to time, cause further hearings and investigations to be had for the purpose of making revaluations or ascertaining the value of any additions, betterments, extensions and new construction made by any public utility subsequent to any prior hearing or investigation, and may examine into all matters which may change, modify or affect any finding of fact previously made, and may at such time make findings of fact supplementary to those theretofore made. Such hearings shall be had upon the same notice and be conducted in the same manner and the findings so made shall have the same force and effect as is provided herein for such original notice, hearing and findings; provided, that such findings made at such supplemental hearings or investigations shall be considered in connection with and as a part of the original findings, except in so far as such supplemental findings shall change or modify the findings made at the original hearing or investigation. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 269.]

ACT 2895.

An act to secure the payment of the claims of materialmen, mechanics or laborers employed by contractors upon state, municipal or other public work. [Approved March 27, 1897; Stats. 1897, p. 201.]

Amended 1911, p. 1422; 1915, p. 926. Repealed 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 487, see post, Act 2895a.

While this act was repealed by section 3 of the act of May 10, 1919 [Stats. 1919, p. 487], there was no mention of the repeal in the title of the repealing act.

ACT 2895a.

An act to secure the payment of the claims of persons employed by contractors upon public works, and the claims of persons who furnish materials, supplies, teams, implements or machinery used or consumed by such contractors in the performance of such works, and prescribing the duties of certain public officers with respect thereto.

§ 1. Bond of contractor on public work. Sureties. Every contractor, person, company, or corporation, to whom is awarded a contract for the improvement, erection or construction of any building, road, excavating, or other mechanical work for this state, or for any political subdivision or agency of the state shall, before entering upon the performance of such work, file with the commissioners, managers, trustees, officers, board of supervisors, board of trustees, common council, or other body by whom such contract was awarded, a good and sufficient bond, to be approved by such contracting body, officers or board, in a sum not less than one-half of the total amount payable by the terms of the contract; such bond shall be executed by the contractor, and either at least two sureties or by corporate surety as provided by law, in an amount not less than the sum specified in the bond, and must provide that if the contractor, person, company, or corporation, or his or its subcontractor, fails to pay for any materials, provisions, provender or other supplies, or teams, used in, upon, for or about the performance of the work contracted to be done, or for any work or labor done thereon of any kind, that the surety or sureties will pay the same in an amount not exceeding the sum specified in the bond, and also, in case suit is brought upon such bond, a reasonable attorney's fee, to be fixed by the court. Unless such bond is filed as herein provided, no claim in favor of the contractor arising under such contract shall be audited, allowed, or paid by any public officer of this state, or of any political subdivision or state agency, but persons who have in good faith performed work upon such contract, or supplied materials for the execution thereof, shall, upon giving the notice prescribed in section two hereof, be entitled to receive payment of their respective claims in the manner provided by sections one thousand one hundred eighty-four, one thousand one hundred eighty-four a, one thousand one hundred eighty-four b and one thousand one hundred eighty-four c of the Code of Civil Procedure.

§ 2. Claims of materialmen, etc. Any materialman, person, company or corporation furnishing materials, provisions, provender or other supplies used in, upon, for or about the performance of the work contracted to be executed or performed, or any person, company or corporation renting or hiring teams or implements or machinery for or contributing to said work to be done, or any person who performed work or labor upon the same, or any person who supplies both work and materials, and whose claim has not been paid by the contractor, company, or corporation, to whom the contract has been awarded, or by the subcontractor of said contractor, company, or corporation, may at any time prior to the expiration of the period within which claims of lien must be filed for record, as prescribed by the provisions of section one thousand one hundred eighty-seven of the Code of Civil Procedure, file with the commissioners, managers, trustees, officers, board of supervisors, board of trustees, common council, or other body by whom such contract was awarded, a verified statement of such claims, together with a statement that the same have not been paid. At any time within ninety days following the expiration of the period last mentioned, the person, company or corporation filing the same may commence an action against the surety or sureties on the bond, specified and required in section one hereof. And upon the trial of any such action, the court shall award to the prevailing party a reasonable attorney's fee, to be taxed as costs, and to be included in the judgment therein rendered.

§ 3. Act, Stats. 1897, p. 201, repealed. The act entitled "An act to secure the payment of the claims of materialmen, mechanics, or laborers, employed by contractors upon state, municipal, or other public work," approved March 27, 1897, and all acts amendatory thereof are hereby repealed; saving to all persons, however, all rights which have accrued under the provisions of said statutes, or any thereof.

TITLE 445.

RAILROADS.

ACT 2936e.

An act to provide for the equipment of steam locomotives with automatic bell-ringing devices.

§ 1. Automatic bell-ringing devices on locomotives. Every railroad corporation, or receiver or lessee thereof, operating any line of railroad in this state by steam locomotives, shall within one year after the passage of this act or within such additional time as may be prescribed by order of the railroad commission of California after such railroad or receiver or lessee thereof has made a proper showing of its inability to comply therewith, equip all steam locomotives used or to be used in the hauling or propelling of trains over said railroad with a bell-ringer apparatus or device which apparatus or device when set in operation will ring and continue to ring the locomotive bell automatically, such apparatus or device being so constructed that it may be set in operation from either or both sides of the locomotive cab.

§ 2. Penalty. Any railroad company, receiver or lessee thereof, operating any line of railroad within this state by steam locomotives, violating the provisions of this act shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars or more than one thousand dollars for each offense.

TITLE 448.

RECLAMATION DISTRICTS.

ACT 2956d.

An act defining henceforth the exterior boundaries of Reclamation District No. 108, situate partly in the counties of Colusa and Yolo, and providing for the liquidation of the affairs of Reclamation District No. 108, as it now exists, its exterior boundaries being described in that certain act of the legislature, approved May 18, 1915 and approving the acts and proceedings of the said district, as defined in the said act of May 18, 1915, and the board of trustees thereof, and providing for the continuation in office of the present trustees of said district, and for the election and qualification of their successors, and providing that in the management and control of the affairs of said Reclamation District No. 108, as defined in this act, that it is subject to the provisions of the Political Code of the state of California, and to all other laws of the state, except as provided in the said act, in connection with the issuance and payment of warrants and the payment of assessments, providing that all moneys of the said district shall be paid and deposited with the county treasurer of Colusa county, and conferring jurisdiction upon the board of supervisors of the county of Colusa as to all matters concerning said district, and providing also for the management and control and administration of the affairs of said district. [Approved May 26, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1219. In effect July 27, 1917.]
The nature of the act appears from the title.

An act defining henceforth the exterior boundaries of Reclamation District No. 108, situated partly in the counties of Colusa and Yolo, and providing for the continuation in office of the present trustees of said district and for the election and qualification of their successors, and providing that the management and control of the affairs of said Reclamation District No. 108, as defined in this act, are subject to the provisions of the Political Code of the state of California and to all other laws of the state, except as provided in said act, in connection with the issuance and payment of warrants and the payment of assessments, providing that all moneys of the said district shall be paid and deposited with the county treasurer of Colusa county, and conferring jurisdiction upon the board of supervisors of the county of Colusa as to all matters concerning said district; providing also for the management, control and administration of the affairs of said district; also ratifying the incorporation of certain lands in said Reclamation District No. 108, as described in certain notices filed and recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county of Colusa, state of California, and also authorizing the trustees of said Reclamation District No. 108 to make an equitable settlement with the owner of such land as incorporated as to the cost of any work heretofore done by Reclamation District No. 108, or its predecessors in interest, or that may be hereafter done before the going into effect of this act, and also declaring Reclamation District No. 108, as defined in this act, to be the successors in interest of Reclamation District No. 108, defined in that certain act approved May 26, 1917, also that certain Reclamation District No. 108, defined in that certain act approved May 18, 1915, and also that certain Reclamation District, No. 108, defined in that certain act approved April 23, 1913, and also directing the commissioners of assessment, heretofore appointed by the board of supervisors of Colusa county, to include the lands in said assessment, as described in this act, in the event that said assessment is not levied before this act shall take effect. [Approved May 7, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 357. In effect July 22, 1919.]

An act to create a reclamation district to be called Reclamation District No. 1001, and providing for the management and control thereof, and dissolving certain levee districts, swamp-land, districts and reclamation districts within the boundaries of said Reclamation District No. 1001, and providing for the liquidation and winding up of said dissolved districts.

[Approved April 8, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 831.]

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 2. Management vested in trustees. Funds. Rights and powers. What laws apply. The management and control of the said district is hereby made subject to the provisions of the Political Code of the state of California, and other laws of the state, relative to reclamation districts formed under the provisions of the said Political Code, or such as may be hereafter enacted, and is hereby vested in three trustees, who shall be elected in the manner prescribed by law, and who shall have and exercise all the powers and duties conferred or imposed upon trustees of reclamation districts by law; provided, however, that the trustees now in office shall continue to hold office for the remainder of the terms for which they were respectively elected. In case of any vacancy in the office of trustee of the said district, the board of supervisors of the said county of Sutter shall appoint a qualified person as trustee, who shall hold the said office for the unexpired term. The office of the said district shall be in Nicolaus, county of Sutter. The board of supervisors of the county of Sutter shall have jurisdiction of all matters concerning said district. All funds of the said district shall be deposited in the county treasury of the said county of Sutter, and shall be disbursed by the treasurer of the said county of Sutter in payment of the warrants of the said district. The said district shall have power to make by-laws in conformity with the provisions of law, and shall have all the rights and powers which are now or may hereafter be conferred by the provisions of the Political Code, or by other laws of the state, upon reclamation or swamp-land districts, and shall also have the right and power of purchasing real and personal property and rights of way, within the boundaries of said district, or outside thereof, that may be necessary or desirable to carry out the purposes of the said district, or to acquire the same by condemnation proceedings, in the manner provided by law, and shall have the right and power to join in with other reclamation districts, levee districts, or swamp land districts, or other persons, in the construction and maintenance of levee and reclamation works, and to contract as to the same, and also to do all other acts and things that may be lawfully done by any reclamation district. All laws and parts of laws, now existing, or that may hereafter be enacted, relative to the qualification of electors for trustees, election of trustees, levy and collection of assessments, disbursements of funds, and the management and control of reclamation districts, and in and to all other matters pertaining to the management, control, or administration of reclamation districts are, so far as the same may be applicable, made a part of this act, and shall be deemed to be incorporated herein. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 969.]

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 2. Management vested in trustees. Elections. Term of office. Funds. Rights and powers. The management and control of said Reclamation District No. 1500 is hereby made subject to the provisions of article one of chapter one of title eight of part three of the Political Code of the state of California, relating to swamp and overflowed lands and reclamation districts, or any amendments or additions thereto, except as otherwise provided in this act, and the management and control of said Reclamation District No. 1500 shall be vested in five trustees, who shall hold office until their successors are elected or appointed and qualified. F. W. Kiesel, Edward H. Gerber, Charles F. Silva, P. J. Hiatt and Frank G. Snook are hereby appointed trustees for the said reclamation district to act until their successors are elected or appointed and qualified. An election of five trustees shall be held in said district on the third Tuesday in October, one thousand nine hundred twenty-one, and on the third Tuesday in October every four years thereafter, and shall hold office until their successors are elected or appointed and qualified. In case of any vacancy in the office of trustee of said district the governor of this state shall appoint a qualified person as trustee, who shall hold said office until the next election. All the trustees, whether appointed by the governor of this state, or named herein, or elected as herein provided, shall hold office at the pleasure of the governor of this state. The office and principal place of business of said district shall be in the city of Sacramento and in such place as the board of trustees thereof may from time to time fix. The board of supervisors of the county of Sutter shall have jurisdiction of all matters concerning said district to the same extent as if the said district was formed under the provisions of said Political Code of the state of California, except as otherwise provided in this act. All funds of said district shall be deposited in the county treasury of said county of Sutter and shall be disbursed by the treasurer of said county in payment of the warrants of said district. Said district shall have the power to make by-laws in conformity with the provisions of law, and shall have all rights and powers, which are now, or may hereafter be, conferred by the provisions of the Political Code or by other laws of the state of California upon reclamation or swamp land districts, and shall also have the right and power of purchasing real and personal property and rights of way within the boundaries of said district, or outside thereof as may be necessary or desirable to carry out the purposes of said district or to acquire the same by condemnation proceedings in the manner provided by law, and shall also have the right and power to join with other reclamation districts, levee districts or swamp-land districts or other persons in the construction and maintenance of levees and reclamation works, and to contract for the same, and also to do all other acts and things that may be incident to or necessary to the reclamation of the lands of said district, as the board of trustees thereof may determine. All of the provisions of the Political Code of the state of California, unless inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are made a part of this act, and shall be deemed to be incorporated herein. The said reclamation district hereby created shall have the power, in addition to the power hereby conferred; to do all other acts or things that any reclamation district or swamp-land district within the state of California has power to do under any existing law or any law hereafter enacted. The said district may at any time petition in writing by its board of trustees the reclamation board to change the line of location or construction of any levee in this act, or in the act of which this is amendatory, described, or any other levee, or to build any additional or supplemental levee or levees, and the reclamation board may, by an order, allow such petition in whole or in part, and allow such change or the building of any additional or supplemental levee. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 966.]

The amendatory act of 1917 contained the following provision:

§ 3. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with or inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

ACT 2984.

An act to promote the reclamation of arid land and to provide that certain land belonging to the state of California, within the boundaries of an irrigation district shall be subject to the assessments levied in said district.

§ 1. State lands within irrigation districts subject to assessment. Whenever there shall be included in any irrigation district organized and existing under the laws of this state, public lands belonging to the state subject to entry, or which have been entered, and for which no certificates of purchase have been issued, such lands are hereby made and declared to be subject to all of the provisions of the law relating to the organization, government and regulation of irrigation districts to the same extent and in the same manner in which the lands of a like character held under private ownership are or may be subject to such law; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed as creating any obligation against the state of California to pay any of said charges, assessment or debt.

§ 2. Notices served on surveyor-general. All notices required by the act under which such district is organized shall, as soon as such notices are issued, be served upon the surveyor-general of the state of California by mailing to his office a copy thereof inclosed in a sealed envelope with postage prepaid.

§ 3. Assessment lien. No public lands which were unentered at the time any assessment was levied against the same by such irrigation district shall be sold for such assessment, but such assessment shall be and continue a lien upon such land, and no patent shall issue therefor until control thereof and dissolving all levee districts, swamp-land districts, and reclamation districts, lying wholly within the boundaries of said Reclamation District No. 1500, providing for the liquidation and winding up of said dissolved districts, and excluding from any levee district, swamp-land district and reclamation district any land lying within the boundaries of said Reclamation District No. 1500.

[Approved April 30, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 130.]

Amended 1915, p. 1027; 1917, p. 966.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 2. Management vested in trustees. Elections. Term of office. Funds. Rights and powers. The management and control of said Reclamation District No. 1500 is hereby made subject to the provisions of article one of chapter one of title eight of part three of the Political Code of the state of California, relating to swamp and overflowed lands and reclamation districts, or any amendments or additions thereto, except as otherwise provided in this act, and the management and control of said Reclamation District No. 1500 shall be vested in five trustees, who shall hold office until their successors are elected or appointed and qualified. Said district shall have the power to make by-laws in conformity with the provisions of law, and shall have all rights and powers, which are now, or may hereafter be, conferred by the provisions of the Political Code or by other laws of the state of California upon reclamation or swamp land districts, and shall also have the right and power of purchasing real and personal property and rights of way within the boundaries of said district, or outside thereof as may be necessary or desirable to carry out the purposes of said district or to acquire the same by condemnation proceedings in the manner provided by law, and shall also have the right and power to join with other reclamation districts, levee districts or swamp-land districts or other persons in the construction and maintenance of levees and reclamation works, and to contract for the same, and also to do all other acts and things that may be incident to or necessary to the reclamation of the lands of said district, as the board of trustees thereof may determine. All of the provisions of the Political Code of the state of California, unless inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are made a part of this act, and shall be deemed to be incorporated herein. The said reclamation district hereby created shall have the power, in addition to the power hereby conferred, to do all other acts or things that any reclamation district or swamp-land district within the state of California has power to do under any existing law or any law hereafter enacted. The said district may at any time petition in writing by its board of trustees the reclamation board to change the line of location or construction of any levee in this act, or in the act of which this is amendatory, described, or any other levee, or to build any additional or supplemental levee or levees, and the reclamation board may, by an order, allow such petition in whole or in part, and allow such change or the building of any additional or supplemental levee. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 966.]

The amendatory act of 1917 contained the following provision:

§ 3. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with or inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

ACT 2984.

An act to promote the reclamation of arid land and to provide that certain land belonging to the state of California, within the boundaries of an irrigation district shall be subject to the assessments levied in said district.

§ 1. State lands within irrigation districts subject to assessment. Whenever there shall be included in any irrigation district organized and existing under the laws of this state, public lands belonging to the state subject to entry, or which have been entered, and for which no certificates of purchase have been issued, such lands are hereby made and declared to be subject to all of the provisions of the law relating to the organization, government and regulation of irrigation districts to the same extent and in the same manner in which the lands of a like character held under private ownership are or may be subject to such law; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed as creating any obligation against the state of California to pay any of said charges, assessment or debt.

§ 2. Notices served on surveyor-general. All notices required by the act under which such district is organized shall, as soon as such notices are issued, be served upon the surveyor-general of the state of California by mailing to his office a copy thereof inclosed in a sealed envelope with postage prepaid.

§ 3. Assessment lien. No public lands which were unentered at the time any assessment was levied against the same by such irrigation district shall be sold for such assessment, but such assessment shall be and continue a lien upon such land, and no patent shall issue therefor until the applicant shall present a certificate from the proper district officer showing that no unpaid assessments or charges are due and delinquent against said land.

The amendment of 1919 follows:

§ 12. Powers of board to acquire lands, etc. Acquisition of lands required by United States. The reclamation board shall have power to acquire either within or without the boundaries of the district, by purchase, condemnation or by other lawful means, in the name of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district, from private persons, corporations, reclamation, swamp-land, levee, protection or drainage districts, or other organizations or associations, all lands, rights of way, easements, property or material necessary or requisite for the purpose of by-passes, weirs, cuts, canals, sumps, levees, overflow channels and basins, reservoirs and other flood control works, and other necessary purposes, including drainage purposes; to construct, clear and maintain by-passes, levees, canals, sumps, overflow channels and basins, reservoirs and other flood control works; to construct and maintain ditches, canals, pumping-plants, and other drainage works and to operate the same; to make contracts in the name of said district to indemnify or compensate any owner of land or other property for any injury or damage caused by the exercise of the powers by this act conferred, or arising out of the use, taking or damage of any property for any of such purposes; to maintain actions in the name of the people of the state of California to restrain the doing of any act or thing that may be injurious to any of the works necessary to said plan of flood control or that may interfere with the successful execution of said plan or for damages for injury thereto, and any damages so recovered shall be deposited with the state treasurer to the credit of said district and shall be applicable to the payment of warrants against any assessment for the particular portion or project affected by such injury; to establish a standard of levee construction; to do any and all things necessary or incident to the powers hereby granted or to carry out the objects specified herein; to maintain actions in the name of the people of the state of California to compel by injunction the owner or owners of any bridge, trestle, wire line, viaduct, or embankment or other structure which shall be intersected, traversed or crossed by any by-pass, drainage canal, or overflow channel, so to construct or alter the same as to offer a minimum of obstruction to the free flow of water through any such by-pass, drainage canal, or overflow channel, and wherever necessary in the case of existing works, to compel the removal or alteration of any such embankment or other structure; to maintain actions in the name of the people of the state of California to restrain the diversion of the waters of any stream that will increase the flow of water in said Sacramento or San Joaquin rivers or their tributaries, and such diversion of the waters of any stream into said rivers or either of them or any of their tributaries, is hereby declared to be a public nuisance which may be prevented or abated by the reclamation board. In case any land, right of way or easement is or shall be needed for any work of channel excavation, enlargement, rectification or control, or for the construction of any weir, which is a part of the plans to be carried out as contemplated by this act, and which is to be done or constructed in whole or in part by the United States or by the state of California and it is or shall be necessary or be required by the United States or by the state of California before doing such work or constructing such weir, that such land, right of way or easement be conveyed to or provided for the use of the United States or the state of California free of cost, the reclamation board shall have power to acquire such land, right of way or easement and cause the same to be conveyed to the United States or to the state of California free of cost, or to be condemned for the use and in the name of the United States or the state of California in the manner provided by the laws of this state or of the United States, and to pay the cost and expense of acquiring such land, right of way or easement out of the funds of any assessment by said board applicable thereto; or if such land, right of way or easement is or shall have been already acquired by said reclamation board in the name of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district, the said board shall be and is authorized to cause the same to be conveyed by said district to the United States or to the state of California free of cost.

Whenever any work to be done by the reclamation board or the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district under any of the provisions of this act is such that it can be so done in connection with work of public improvement of rivers and harbors authorized by the United States government as to bring it within the provisions of section four of the United States river and harbor act approved March 4, 1915, authorizing the receipt by the United States government agencies of funds to be contributed for expenditures in connection with funds appropriated by the United States for such work, then the funds under the control of the reclamation board and available for such work, or so much as may be necessary, may be contributed by the reclamation board to the United States government under the provisions of said section of said river and harbor act in order that the work may be done in the manner thereby contemplated. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1122.]

§ 13. Levy of assessments. Assessors. To hear objections. To exclude lands not benefited. Assessment list. Maps. Notice of reapportionment. Whenever, in the opinion of the reclamation board it shall be necessary to levy an assessment upon any lands within said drainage district for any of the purposes herein specified, including the expense of bonding such assessment if authorized by law, said board shall cause an assessment to be levied upon such lands within said drainage district for such purposes. The plans to be carried out shall be divided by said board into separate portions or projects in such manner as will in its judgment best facilitate the levying of assessments for each particular portion or project in a just and equitable manner according to benefits upon the lands in said district affected by such portion or project; provided, however, that each separate and particular project or unit shall include all by-passes, cuts, canals, sumps, levees, pumping-plants and other works of flood control and drainage as shall be necessary by reason of the carrying out and construction of the particular project, to properly conduct the water of any stream, natural or otherwise, the outlet of which has been intercepted by the construction of any levee or embankment included in such project or unit into such by-pass.

Said board shall enter in the minutes of the board a resolution to the effect that the execution of each such separate portion or project which they may determine upon is a public necessity. Each such particular portion or project shall be designated by the board in such resolution by name and number. All assessments, plans and funds intended for or connected with the execution of each particular portion or project shall be designated by such name and number and shall be kept separate and shall be used only for the purpose of carrying out such particular portion or project. For the purpose of making any such assessment the board shall appoint three assessors who shall be disinterested persons, and shall have no interest in any real estate within said drainage district, and each of whom, before entering upon his duties, shall make and subscribe an oath that he is not in any manner interested in any real estate within said district, directly or indirectly, and that he will perform the duties of an assessor to the best of his ability. Said assessors shall be exempt from the provisions of the civil service laws of this state. Said assessors must assess upon the lands within said drainage district proposed to be assessed for the plans adopted by the reclamation board the said sums included in the estimates of said board, and shall apportion the same according to the benefits that will accrue to each tract of land in said district, respectively, affected by any particular portion or project by reason of the expenditure of said sums of money. After said assessors have examined the plan or plans of the works contemplated and the estimates of the cost, they shall make a preliminary report to the reclamation board indicating the exterior boundaries of the lands that in their opinion will be benefited by the expenditures. The assessors shall then appoint a time and place in each county in which any of said lands proposed to be assessed are situated, when and where they will hear objections to the said report and also evidence concerning the manner in which said assessment should be apportioned. They shall give notice of such hearing in each of such counties by publication in a newspaper published in such county once a week for three weeks, the first publication to be not later than the twenty-first day before the day of hearing, which notice shall contain a general designation of the lands which will in their opinion be so benefited, as aforesaid, and shall refer to said preliminary report on file in the office of the reclamation board for such exterior boundaries. They shall exclude any land that will not be benefited by the expenditure of said sums and shall assess all lands that will be benefited thereby.

In determining the benefits that will or may accrue to each particular tract of land by the construction or maintenance of the works contemplated by any particular project or unit, the works of such project or unit shall be considered as a whole and lands shall be assessed for the works embraced in such project or unit only in the proportion that will or may be benefited by the construction of the entire works embraced in the said project or unit, and no lands shall be considered as benefited by the construction or maintenance of the works embraced in such project or unit, or any part or portion thereof, nor shall any lands be assessed for the expense of the construction or maintenance of such project or unit or any part or portion thereof, because such lands have been or may be first endangered or flooded, or the natural drainage thereof obstructed by the construction or maintenance of any part or portion of the works embraced in such project or unit in advance of or prior to the completion of the construction of the entire works embraced in such project or unit.

Said assessors shall make a separate list of the lands so assessed in each county, which list shall contain a description of the tracts of land assessed by swamp-land surveys, legal subdivisions, or other boundaries or references sufficient to identify the same, the name of the owner, if known, or if unknown, that fact, and the amount of the charge assessed against each tract. The name of the owner of land which is or is supposed to be the property of the estate of a deceased person in course of administration may be stated as estate of (such person; naming him), deceased. When there are two or more owners or supposed owners of any tract of land, partly known and partly unknown, the assessment may be to such known owner or owners by name and to other owners unknown. No mistake in the name of the owner, or supposed owner, of any real estate shall invalidate the assessment. In the assessment list for any county the assessors may make use of any abbreviation in common use in that county, without explanation thereof. The assessors may also in the assessment list for any county make use of other abbreviations, provided a schedule and explanation thereof with reasonable certainty shall, unless printed on each page of such assessment list, be prefixed to said assessment list and a reference thereto written, printed or stamped on each page of said assessment list whereon any such abbreviation is used. In case any land shall in the assessment list for any county be described in whole or in part by reference to a map, plat or survey, which map, plat or survey shall be on file or of record in any public office, it shall be sufficient in such description to designate such map, plat or survey by name, number or other designation sufficient to identify the same in a schedule of such maps, plats and surveys, which schedule shall be prefixed to said assessment list and shall set forth with reasonable certainty where each such map, plat or survey may be found, and shall be referred to by a reference written, printed or stamped on each page of said assessment list whereon such method of description is relied upon. The assessors appointed for any assessment may also prepare or cause to be prepared a map or maps of the whole or any part or parts of the lands to be assessed with sufficient detail to indicate thereon and identify the several tracts of lands to be separately assessed or any of them, each of which such separate tracts shall be designated on such map or maps by a distinctive number. Each of such maps shall be inscribed and designated as "reclamation board assessment map No. —," giving each map a distinctive number. Any such map may consist of any number of sheets attached together and designated as one map. Such map or maps when approved by the reclamation board, shall be certified by the secretary of said board as having been so approved, and shall be filed for record in the office of the county recorder of the county wherein the land indicated on such map or maps is situated. Thereupon and thereafter, for the purpose of said assessment, or of any future assessment levied by said reclamation board, the assessment list for any county may, for the description of any tract of land so indicated on any such map, refer to such map and to the number by which such tract is designated on such map, and such reference, if used for that purpose, shall be a sufficient description of such tract for the purposes of such assessment list, and for the purposes of the notice of delinquent sale, certificate of sale and deed in pursuance of such sale, and all other proceedings under this act based upon such assessment. No provision of any other statute of this state relative to the filing or recording of maps in the office of the county recorder shall apply to the maps in this section referred to; provided, however, that the maps herein referred to shall have no legal effect for any purpose except for the convenient reference to and description of the tract of land indicated thereon for the purposes of description of such tracts of land by reference thereto in the matter of assessments levied by the reclamation board and acts and proceedings based thereon as herein provided. No fee shall be charged by any such county recorder for the filing for record of such map as in this section provided. Said lists when completed shall be filed with the secretary of the board and said secretary shall forward to the county treasurer of each county in which any lands so assessed are situated, the assessment list for such county, and the same shall be open for inspection by the public for at least thirty days. The compensation of said assessors shall be fixed and allowed by the board. The reclamation board shall appoint a time and place not less than thirty days after said list has been filed with the county treasurer when and where it will meet in each county wherein any of the lands so assessed are situated for the purpose of hearing objections to said assessments, and notice of such hearing in each county shall be filed with the county treasurer and published once a week for two weeks in some newspaper published in such county. At any time before the date of such hearing any person interested in any land upon which any charge has been assessed, may file in the office of the reclamation board written objections to such assessment, stating the grounds of such objections, which said statement shall be verified by the affidavit of such person or some other person who is familiar with the facts. At such hearing, the board shall hear such evidence as may be offered touching the correctness of such assessment or the manner of its apportionment, and may modify or amend the same, and may reapportion all or any part of the entire assessment. Unless the aggregate amount of the whole of such assessment shall be modified or amended by the reclamation board so as to cause a difference of more than two and one-half per cent greater or less than the original total amount of said assessment, it shall be deemed that the assessment has not been substantially modified and no necessity shall exist for a reapportionment thereof.

If said assessment shall be reapportioned, the board shall give two weeks notice as before and proceed to hear objections in each county affected, as before, and shall then reconsider said assessment and make an order approving said assessment as finally fixed; and the decision of said board shall be final, and thereafter said assessment list shall be conclusive evidence, except in the suit hereinafter provided, that the said assessment has been levied and apportioned according to law. Any person interested, as aforesaid, in any land upon which any charge has been so assessed, aggrieved by the decision of the board approving said assessment, may commence an action against the district in the superior court of the county in which said land or the greater part thereof is situated, to have said assessment upon such land modified or annulled. Such action must be commenced within thirty days after the reclamation board has approved such assessment and the assessment list for such county has been deposited in the office of the county treasurer as provided in the next section, and shall have preference over all civil actions in fixing the time of trial. No objection to said assessment shall be considered by the court unless such objection shall have been made in writing to the reclamation board as hereinbefore prescribed, and, excepting in the action above mentioned, no action or defense shall ever be maintained attacking the said assessment in any respect. Whenever an assessment has been levied by the reclamation board upon lands in said district for general administrative expenses and other expenses not pertaining to any particular project, and the boundaries of said district have been or shall be extended so as to include lands other than the lands included within said district at the time such assessment was levied, the reclamation board shall make an estimate of the fair and equitable amount which should be contributed by the lands so included in the district by such change of boundaries for the purposes of such assessment previously levied by said board for general administrative expenses and other expenses not pertaining to any particular project, and shall levy and cause to be assessed, equalized and collected in the manner in this act provided, an assessment to the amount of such estimate upon lands so included in the district by such change of boundaries, according to benefits in the manner in this act provided. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1124.]

§ 32. Assessment of benefit from flood control features of works. The assessors appointed by the reclamation board pursuant to section thirteen of this act, in apportioning the assessment on each tract of land which may be assessed shall, as information for the said reclamation board or the state of California, state, opposite each sum assessed for each particular tract of land, in separate columns respectively, the amount that they shall determine that each tract is so assessed by reason of benefit from the flood control features of said works involved in said plans, and also the amount that they deem each tract of land is so assessed by reason of all other benefit from the said works. The amounts so stated and placed opposite each assessment charged shall be no part of said assessment and shall in no way affect the assessment charged against each tract of land as the same may be fixed, but shall be subject to review and readjustment in the same manner as the assessment itself. [New section added May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1129.]

§ 33. Application of compensation. Any compensation that may be made to any reclamation district, levee district, drainage district, municipal corporation, association, private corporation, or person, in accordance with section eighteen of this act, shall be applied toward the payment of any assessment upon any tract of land assessed for any particular portion or project owned by any such municipal corporation, association, private corporation or person, but in case of any reclamation district, levee district or drainage district, such compensation shall be applied and credited pro rata toward the payment of the balance remaining unpaid upon the assessments levied by the reclamation board against the lands respectively situated within such reclamation district, levee district or drainage district, as part of the assessment out of which such compensation is to be made based upon the total amount of the assessment charges against the lands in such reclamation district, levee district or drainage district respectively, and if such compensation, when so applied, shall exceed the total amount of such credits upon the assessments upon the lands in any such district, the excess shall be paid to the district itself. [New section added May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1129.]

§ 34. Application of moneys to flood control benefits. Amounts credited on assessment accounts. Disposition of moneys received from state. Purchase of bonds by board. Payment of bonds. All moneys which may be hereafter paid to the said reclamation board by the state of California under and by virtue of the provisions of an act entitled "An act to appropriate money to be expended under the direction of and by the reclamation board to aid in carrying out the project adopted by the reclamation board for the Sutter-Butte by-pass assessment number six with such modifications and amendments as may hereafter be adopted by the reclamation board, and to aid in carrying out any work described in the plans of said Sutter-Butte by-pass assessment number six, in conformity with the report of the California debris commission, transmitted to the speaker of the house of representatives of the United States by the secretary of war on the twenty-seventh day of June, 1911, and such modifications and amendments as have been, or may be hereafter adopted by the reclamation board, or by the war department, or the congress of the United States, and providing for the future completion of the entire project," or by any law of similar import which has been or may be hereafter adopted by the legislature of the state of California, shall be applied on said Sutter-Butte by-pass assessment number six, by said reclamation board, to the pro rata payment of such portions of said assessment as are based upon flood control benefits as set opposite each assessment, in the manner hereinbefore provided; provided, however, that if no flood control benefit amount is set opposite any tract of land, the assessment upon such tract of land shall not be entitled to any credit for any of the moneys so received by said reclamation board from said state. In case the amount remaining unpaid, including interest, upon the total of said assessment on any tract of land entitled to such pro rata payment or credit out of the money so received from the state shall be less than such pro rata payment or credit to which such tract is so entitled then the surplus of such pro rata payment or credit shall be by the reclamation board paid to the owner of such tract in cash out of said money so received from the state and deducted from the amount to be paid over by the reclamation board to the state treasurer as hereinafter directed.

The reclamation board shall prepare and furnish to the several county treasurers a statement of the several amounts so applied to the pro rata payment of such portions of the assessments as are by reason of flood control benefit, and the several county treasurers shall enter such amounts on the original assessment lists as payments or credits on account of the several assessments. In making its calls or orders for the collection of installments on said assessment the percentage to be called and paid shall be calculated upon the original total amount assessed against each tract, but no such call or installment need be paid upon the assessment on any such tract except for the excess of the total of such calls over the total of payments so credited to such tract from application of such money received from the state as aforesaid, or otherwise paid thereon.

The money so received by the reclamation board from the state shall, unless bonds based upon said assessment shall have been authorized by law, be by the reclamation board paid over forthwith to the state treasurer and by him credited to the funds of said assessment, to be used and expended in the same manner as funds collected from land owners upon said assessment. But if at the time of the receipt of any such money by the reclamation board from the state, bonds based upon said assessment shall have been authorized by law, the money so received from the state shall be deposited by the reclamation board with the state treasurer to be held as a special fund for the redemption of such bonds and shall, under the direction and as required by the reclamation board, be applied to the payment and cancellation of such bonds in the manner following, to wit:

Upon receipt of any sum of money under said act or acts of similar import, the said reclamation board shall proceed to advertise, at least once a week for four consecutive weeks, in at least one daily newspaper published in the city and county of San Francisco, and one daily newspaper published in the city of Los Angeles, calling for bids or offers for the sale to said state reclamation board of sufficient of the issued and outstanding bonds to cover the amount represented by said money so received from said state; provided, however, that said reclamation board shall not purchase any bonds at a sum in excess of par plus accrued interest. And if the said reclamation board shall receive bids or offers at par plus accrued interest, or less than par plus accrued interest, then the said reclamation board shall purchase a sufficient amount of said bonds to make up the sum of money so received by them from the state, and shall proceed forthwith to cancel said bonds so purchased, together with all interest coupons attached thereto.

But, if the said reclamation board shall not receive bids or offers of a sufficient amount to cover the money so received from the state, then as to the balance thereof, the said reclamation board shall pay bonds in the order of their numbers, beginning as to the first payment, at bond number one, and continuing in numerical order, in a sufficient amount to cover said first payment, and upon such subsequent payments, shall pay the said bonds according to the next succeeding numbers. [New section added May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1130.]

§ 35. Payment of interest on warrants. Whenever any warrant drawn by the state controller upon the state treasurer as provided is section fifteen of this act has been presented to the state treasurer and not paid for want of funds and has been registered by the state treasurer and bears interest as provided in said section fifteen, the state controller shall at any time, on presentation of such warrant to him for that purpose, certify on the back of the warrant, over his signature, the amount of interest accrued thereon to that date, specifying the date, and when the state treasurer pays such warrant he shall, in addition to the amount for which the warrant was drawn, pay the interest accrued thereon as so certified to by the controller. [New section added May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1132.]

ACT 3036.

An act authorizing the state board of control to purchase warrants of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district issued in payment for the expense of continuing construction of the east levee of the Sutter by-pass; appropriating money therefor, and providing for reimbursement to the state of such appropriation.

[Approved January 30, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 5. In effect immediately.]

§ 1. Purchase by state of drainage district warrants. The state board of control is hereby authorized to purchase at their face value, to the extent of not exceeding the total amount hereinafter appropriated, any or all warrants of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district drawn by the state controller as provided in the reclamation board act and payable out of the assessment of the reclamation board known and designated as Sutter-Butte by-pass assessment number six and issued in payment for the expense of continuing construction of the east levee of the Sutter by-pass, or in payment for rights of way or other necessary expenses incident to the prosecution of said work.

§ 2. Auditing of claims. The board of control shall, in the matter of the purchase of such warrants, adopt such measures and impose such conditions as may to said board appear necessary or proper to ensure the proper auditing or preauditing of the claims upon which such warrants are issued, to the end that the work mentioned in section one of this act may be prosecuted economically.

§ 3. Contracts for purchase of warrants. Exchange and sale of warrants. The board of control is hereby authorized to enter into contracts, upon such terms and conditions as said board may impose, for the purchase of all or any of the warrants which it is hereby authorized to purchase. And the said board of control is hereby further empowered to exchange any warrants so purchased by it for other warrants drawn against the same assessment, and to sell all or any part of such warrants so purchased or taken in exchange by it; provided, all such exchanges or sales of warrants shall be effected without loss to the state.

§ 4. Register of warrants. All warrants so purchased or acquired by exchange by the board of control under the provisions of this act against said assessment, shall be registered by the state treasurer, unless already registered, and shall be payable with interest in their proper order of registration, as provided in the reclamation board act, and shall be held by the board of control for the state until paid, whereupon the proceeds thereof shall be returned into the general fund of the state.

§ 5. Appropriation. The sum of three hundred thousand dollars is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be expended by the board of control in carrying out the provisions of this act. The state controller shall draw warrants upon the state treasurer, payable out of said appropriation, in such amounts and at such times and in favor of such persons as the board of control may request, and the state treasurer shall pay the same.

§ 6. Urgency measure. The legislature hereby declares that it deems it necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health and safety that this act shall go into immediate effect, by reason of the following facts, to wit: That unless a sufficient levee along the east side of the Sutter by-pass is constructed without delay, the effect of the levees and other works already constructed under public authority along the west side of the Sutter by-pass and the south side of the Tisdale by-pass will be to cause the spring floods of the year 1919 to overflow and greatly damage a large area of valuable land east of the Sutter by-pass, and to imperil the health and safety of the inhabitants thereof; that the plans of the state for flood control in the Sutter basin contemplate the construction of the east levee of the Sutter by-pass, and that the construction of this levee has been commenced, and in large part completed, by the reclamation board and paid for with warrants against said assessment, but the reclamation board is unable to obtain further prosecution of said work by the issuance of warrants in payment thereof; that without the passage of this act said work can not be further prosecuted until said assessment has been completed and approved and in part collected, which will be not earlier than six months from this time. That the provisions of this act will enable the reclamation board to complete said levee in time to protect said lands to the east of said by-pass, and the inhabitants thereof, against the damage and injury which would otherwise result from the spring floods of the year 1919; that the portions of said east levee already constructed at large expense will also suffer great damage and injury unless the work is prosecuted diligently to completion. And it is hereby declared that this act constitutes an urgency measure which under the provisions of section one of article four of the constitution of the state of California, shall go into immediate effect.

An act to authorize the issuance and sale of bonds of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district based upon assessments levied by the reclamation board upon lands in said district.

§ 1. "Reclamation board act." The words "reclamation board act" when used herein are intended to refer to and mean that certain act of the legislature of the state of California entitled "An act approving the report of the California debris commission transmitted to the speaker of the house of representatives by the secretary of war on June 27, 1911, directing the approval of plans of reclamation along the Sacramento river or its tributaries, or upon the swamp-lands adjacent to said river, directing the state engineer to procure data and make surveys and examinations for the purpose of perfecting the plans contained in said report of the California debris commission and to make a report thereof, making an appropriation to pay the expenses of such examinations and surveys, and creating a reclamation board and defining its powers," approved December 24, 1911, as amended by those two certain acts of the legislature of the state of California approved May 27, 1913, and June 9, 1915, respectively, in which act as so amended it is provided in section thirty-one thereof that said act shall be known and may be cited and referred to as the "reclamation board act."

§ 2. Provisions of reclamation board act regarding bond proceedings superseded. Whenever any assessment levied by the reclamation board upon lands within the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district has been completed and all of the hearings before the reclamation board in regard thereto have been heard and the reclamation board is ready to make its order approving such assessment as finally fixed, as directed by section thirteen of said reclamation board act, the reclamation board may at the time of making said order finally approving the assessment, and in and by such order and as a part thereof, also determine that in its judgment it would be for the best interests of the owners of land in the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district affected by said assessment to issue bonds for the purpose of obtaining money to pay the cost of the works or other expenses for which such assessment was levied; and if the reclamation board shall so determine in and by its said order, then the subsequent proceedings in and about the matter of such assessment and the collection thereof and all other proceedings for the raising of money to be used for the purposes for which said assessment was levied, shall be as in this act provided, notwithstanding any provision or provisions in regard thereto in said reclamation board act contained.

§ 3. Assessment lists retained. If the reclamation board shall so determine that in its judgment it would be best to issue bonds as aforesaid, then the original assessment lists shall not be deposited in the offices of the respective county treasurers as directed by section fourteen of the reclamation board act, but shall be retained in the office of the reclamation board until after final determination of the judicial proceeding provided for in section four of this act.

§ 4. Judicial proceeding to validate assessment. If the reclamation board shall in its order approving such assessment as finally fixed determine that in its judgment bonds should be issued as aforesaid, said board shall thereupon and within ten days after the passage of its said order commence a judicial proceeding for the validation of said assessment, which judicial proceeding shall be commenced, prosecuted and determined as hereinafter in sections five to thirteen, inclusive, of this act provided. During said period of ten days no action or proceeding shall in such case be commenced by any party other than said reclamation board to contest or in any manner question or interfere with the validity of said assessment, nor shall any action be commenced to have the assessment upon any land modified or annulled as provided in section thirteen of the said reclamation board act; nor shall any such action • or proceeding of any kind be commenced by any party other than the reclamation board at any time thereafter; provided, the reclamation board shall itself within said period of ten days have commenced said judicial proceeding to validate said assessment as herein provided.

§ 5. Action in county with largest acreage of land affected. Appointment of judges. Notice of hearing. Within said period of ten days after the passage by the reclamation board of its order approving said assessment as finally fixed by said board, the reclamation board shall commence in the superior court of the state of California in and for the county within which the largest acreage of land affected by said assessment is situate, a proceeding to validate said assessment, which proceeding shall be commenced by filing a copy of the assessment lists for said assessment, together with a copy of said order of the reclamation board approving said assessment as finally fixed by said board, both duly attested by the certificate of the secretary or assistant secretary of the reclamation board, in the office of the county clerk and ex-officio clerk of the superior court in and for the county in which said proceeding is commenced. Thereupon the reclamation board shall notify the governor of the commencement of such proceeding and thereupon it shall be the duty of the governor to designate three judges of the superior court in the state of California, from counties or cities and counties wholly outside the said Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district, and it shall be the duty of said three judges to sit in bank in said proceeding so commenced. Upon the filing of said assessment lists it shall be the duty of said county clerk to fix a time not less than thirty nor more than forty days from the date of such filing when objections will be heard to the said assessment lists, and thereupon it shall be the duty of said clerk to give notice of the time and place of such hearing by publishing a notice for once a week for four weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in each county in said drainage district wherein any lands affected by said assessment are situated, and if in the case of any such county no newspaper be published in the county, or if for any reason such notice cannot be published therein, then such notice shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation published in an adjoining county. Affidavits showing such publications shall, prior to such hearing, be filed with said county clerk.

§ 6. Place of sessions. Said court may for the convenience of witnesses and shall upon written demand of ten interested parties filed in the proceeding, by order duly given and made, conduct sessions and take evidence in said proceeding in any county in said drainage district in which lands affected by said assessment are situated.

§ 7. Filing of written objections. At any time before the day for such hearing fixed in the notice published by said county clerk, any person interested in any land upon which any charge has been assessed in and by said assessment, may file in said proceeding written objections to said assessment, stating in detail the grounds therefor, which said statement shall be verified by the affidavit of such person or of some other person who is familiar with the facts.

§ 8. Hearing. At said hearing or any adjournment thereof, the said court shall hear such evidence as may be offered touching the correctness or validity of such assessment or the manner of its apportionment and as expeditiously as possible shall determine and pass upon all such written objections filed in said proceeding, and shall make and enter its judgment approving said assessment or annulling, modifying or amending the same or any part thereof. Such judgment shall refer to the assessment apportioned to each county separately and it shall be sufficient to refer to the portions of said assessment which are affected thereby. The decision of a majority of said court shall be final and conclusive, and no motion for a new trial of said proceeding shall be allowed, and no appeal from the judgment given and made by said court shall be had.

§ 9. No reapportionment when. Unless the aggregate amount of the whole of such assessment shall be modified or amended by the judgment in said judicial proceeding so as to cause a difference of more than two and one-half per cent greater or less than the original total amount of said assessment, it shall be deemed that the assessment has not been substantially modified and no necessity shall exist for a reapportionment thereof.

§ 10. Assessment lists conclusive evidence. Thereupon and thereafter said assessment lists, unless annulled by the judgment in said judicial proceeding, embracing any modifications made by said judgment shall be conclusive evidence that said assessment has been apportioned according to the benefits that will accrue to each tract of land in such drainage district by reason of the expenditure of the sums of money to be raised thereby.

§ 11. Certified copies of judgment filed. A certified copy of said judgment referring to said assessment lists shall be filed in the office of the reclamation board; and a certified copy of so much of said judgment as relates to the lands in each of said counties affected thereby shall be affixed to the original assessment list for such county; and the reclamation board shall thereupon cause such amendments or modifications to be made and entered upon the original assessment lists as may be necessary to make them conform to the provisions and directions of said judgment. Thereupon the said assessment lists shall be certified to by the secretary or assistant secretary of the reclamation board as being in conformity with the requirements of said judgment.

§ 12. Objections must be in writing. No objection to said assessment shall be considered by such court unless such objection shall have been made in writing to the reclamation board as provided in section thirteen of the reclamation board act; and excepting in the said judicial proceeding herein provided for no action or defense shall ever be maintained attacking the said assessment in any respect.

§ 13. New assessment in case of annulment. In the event that said assessment shall by the judgment in said judicial proceeding be annulled as a whole, it shall be the duty of the reclamation board to cause a new assessment to be made as provided in the reclamation board act, and thereafter the same proceedings shall be had in regard thereto as herein provided.

§ 14. Assessment becomes lien on land on filing of list. Said assessment lists when the same have been so modified and amended if necessary to conform to the requirements of said judgment and have been certified to as provided in section eleven of this act, shall thereupon be by the reclamation board filed in the offices of the county treasurers, respectively, of the several counties in which are situated any of the lands assessed thereby. Each such county treasurer shall indorse thereon the time to the hour and minute when the same was so filed in his office; and from that time such assessment shall constitute a lien upon the lands in such county so assessed, and shall impart notice to all subsequent purchasers or encumbrancers or any person acquiring any interest in or lien upon said lands.

§ 15. Payment of assessments. At any time within thirty days after said assessment list has been so filed in the office of the county treasurer as provided in section fourteen hereof, the whole amount of such assessment upon any tract of land therein separately assessed may be paid in cash to the county treasurer and thereupon the county treasurer shall issue his receipt therefor and shall indorse the fact and date of such payment upon the assessment list, and thereupon the lien of such assessment upon such tract of land shall cease. The report of such payment shall be made by the county treasurer at once to the secretary of the reclamation board, and the amount so received by the county treasurer shall, within thirty days after the receipt thereof by him, be deposited by him with the state treasurer and shall be by said state treasurer safely kept and credited to the construction fund of said assessment.

§ 16. Interest on unpaid assessments. All assessments not paid in full within said period of thirty days as provided in section fifteen hereof shall bear interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum from and after the expiration of said period of thirty days.

§ 17. Election to determine method of paying cost of works. Upon the expiration of said period of thirty days mentioned in section fifteen or this act, an election shall be called and held by the reclamation board in that part of said Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district affected by said assessment or the issuance of said bonds, to determine whether the money necessary to pay the cost of the works and other expenses to be paid out of such assessment shall be raised by calls to be made upon such assessment in such installments as may from time to time be determined by said board, or whether bonds of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district shall be issued in an amount equal to the amount of such assessment then remaining unpaid, which amount shall be entered by the board in its records and stated by said board in its order for said election, which order shall be entered upon the minutes of said board.

§ 18. Polling places. The reclamation board shall in its order providing for said election specify the day on which said election shall be held and shall specify and designate one or more polling places as it may determine to be necessary in each supervisor district wherein are situated any of the lands affected by said assessment for the holding of such election. In case the board shall consider it necessary or proper to provide more than one polling place in any supervisor district for the holding of such election, the board shall in said order divide the lands in such supervisor district and within said Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district, into separate voting districts, and shall designate and provide one polling place for and within each such voting district at which shall be cast the votes of the owners of land within such voting district. The board may, however, combine contiguous portions of different supervisor districts into one voting district in cases where the lands in such voting district shall not be assessed to more than one hundred different owners, counting one owner for each tract assessed to unknown owners and counting the estate of a deceased person as one owner.

§ 19. Board of election. The reclamation board shall also in said order providing such election appoint a board of election for each such polling place, which board of election shall consist of three owners of land assessed in and by said assessment and situated within such voting district where such polling place is located. Each member of such board of election, whether so appointed by the reclamation board or whether acting as a substitute as hereinafter provided, shall be entitled to the sum of five dollars for his services as such, to be paid by said board out of any funds of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district or of said board applicable thereto.

§ 20. Notice of election. Notice of such election must be given by the reclamation board by posting notices thereof in at least three public places in each voting district at least twenty-one days prior thereto, and also by publication for the same length of time in some newspaper of general circulation published in each county in which any portion of the lands assessed in and by said assessment may be situated. Such notice must specify the time and place of holding such election, the aggregate face value of bonds proposed to be issued, and the names of the persons appointed to act as the board of election. Affidavits of publication and posting of such notices must be filed with the county clerk of the county in which the same have been posted or published, together with a copy of said order calling such election certified to by the secretary or assistant secretary of the reclamation board. Duplicate original affidavits of publication and posting of such notice shall also be filed in the office of the reclamation board.

§ 21. One vote for each one cent of assessment. At such election the owner or owners of each tract of land assessed in and by such assessment, upon which tract of land the assessment has not been paid as provided in section fifteen of this act, shall have the right in person or by proxy to cast one vote for each one cent of the amount for which said tract of land is assessed by said assessment. In case there shall be more than one owner of any tract of land separately assessed in and by said assessment, all of such owners shall unite in the ballot to be cast at such election for and on behalf of such tract of land, or shall authorize one or more of their number or some other person to cast such vote for them by proxy.

§ 22. Vote of guardians, corporations, etc. Vote by proxy. Guardians, executors, administrators and other persons holding land in a trust capacity under appointment of court may vote at said election without obtaining special authority therefor. The vote of any public or private corporation or of any reclamation district, levee district, drainage district or other public agency entitled to vote at such election, may be cast by any person authorized by the board of directors or trustees or other sary to conform to the requirements of said judgment and have been certified to as provided in section eleven of this act, shall thereupon be by the reclamation board filed in the offices of the county treasurers, respectively, of the several counties in which are situated any of the lands assessed thereby. Each such county treasurer shall indorse thereon the time to the hour and minute when the same was so filed in his office; and from that time such assessment shall constitute a lien upon the lands in such county so assessed, and shall impart notice to all subsequent purchasers or encumbrancers or any person acquiring any interest in or lien upon said lands.

§ 15. Payment of assessments. At any time within thirty days after said assessment list has been so filed in the office of the county treasurer as provided in section fourteen hereof, the whole amount of such assessment upon any tract of land therein separately assessed may be paid in cash to the county treasurer and thereupon the county treasurer shall issue his receipt therefor and shall indorse the fact and date of such payment upon the assessment list, and thereupon the lien of such assessment upon such tract of land shall cease. The report of such payment shall be made by the county treasurer at once to the secretary of the reclamation board, and the amount so received by the county treasurer shall, within thirty days after the receipt thereof by him, be deposited by him with the state treasurer and shall be by said state treasurer safely kept and credited to the construction fund of said assessment.

§ 16. Interest on unpaid assessments. All assessments not paid in full within said period of thirty days as provided in section fifteen hereof shall bear interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum from and after the expiration of said period of thirty days.

§ 17. Election to determine method of paying cost of works. Upon the expiration of said period of thirty days mentioned in section fifteen or this act, an election shall be called and held by the reclamation board in that part of said Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district affected by said assessment or the issuance of said bonds, to determine whether the money necessary to pay the cost of the works and other expenses to be paid out of such assessment shall be raised by calls to be made upon such assessment in such installments as may from time to time be determined by said board, or whether bonds of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district shall be issued in an amount equal to the amount of such assessment then remaining unpaid, which amount shall be entered by the board in its records and stated by said board in its order for said election, which order shall be entered upon the minutes of said board.

§ 18. Polling places. The reclamation board shall in its order providing for said election specify the day on which said election shall be held and shall specify and designate one or more polling places as it may determine to be necessary in each supervisor district wherein are situated any of the lands affected by said assessment for the holding of such election. In case the board shall consider it necessary or proper to provide more than one polling place in any supervisor district for the holding of such election, the board shall in said order divide the lands in such supervisor district and within said Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district, into separate voting districts, and shall designate and provide one polling place for and within each such voting district at which shall be cast the votes of the owners of land within such voting district. The board may, however, combine contiguous portions of different supervisor districts into one voting district in cases where the lands in such voting district shall not be assessed to more than one hundred different owners, counting one owner for each tract assessed to unknown owners and counting the estate of a deceased person as one owner.

§ 19. Board of election. The reclamation board shall also in said order providing such election appoint a board of election for each such polling place, which board of election shall consist of three owners of land assessed in and by said assessment and situated within such voting district where such polling place is located. Each member of such board of election, whether so appointed by the reclamation board or whether acting as a substitute as hereinafter provided, shall be entitled to the sum of five dollars for his services as such, to be paid by said board out of any funds of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district or of said board applicable thereto.

§ 20. Notice of election. Notice of such election must be given by the reclamation board by posting notices thereof in at least three public places in each voting district at least twenty-one days prior thereto, and also by publication for the same length of time in some newspaper of general circulation published in each county in which any portion of the lands assessed in and by said assessment may be situated. Such notice must specify the time and place of holding such election, the aggregate face value of bonds proposed to be issued, and the names of the persons appointed to act as the board of election. Affidavits of publication and posting of such notices must be filed with the county clerk of the county in which the same have been posted or published, together with a copy of said order calling such election certified to by the secretary or assistant secretary of the reclamation board. Duplicate original affidavits of publication and posting of such notice shall also be filed in the office of the reclamation board.

§ 21. One vote for each one cent of assessment. At such election the owner or owners of each tract of land assessed in and by such assessment, upon which tract of land the assessment has not been paid as provided in section fifteen of this act, shall have the right in person or by proxy to cast one vote for each one cent of the amount for which said tract of land is assessed by said assessment. In case there shall be more than one owner of any tract of land separately assessed in and by said assessment, all of such owners shall unite in the ballot to be cast at such election for and on behalf of such tract of land, or shall authorize one or more of their number or some other person to cast such vote for them by proxy.

§ 22. Vote of guardians, corporations, etc. Vote by proxy. Guardians, executors, administrators and other persons holding land in a trust capacity under appointment of court may vote at said election without obtaining special authority therefor. The vote of any public or private corporation or of any reclamation district, levee district, drainage district or other public agency entitled to vote at such election, may be cast by any person authorized by the board of directors or trustees or other managing body thereof, which authorization shall be in writing and certified to by the secretary or clerk thereof and attested by its seal duly acknowledged and filed with the board of election. No person shall vote by proxy at such election unless authority to cast such vote shall be evidenced by an instrument in writing duly executed, acknowledged and certified in the same manner as grants of real property and filed with the board of election. In case of the change of ownership of any tract of land, or in case the name of the owner of any tract of land be not correctly stated in the voting list, or in case it be assessed to unknown owners, the right to vote shall belong to the owner of such land at the time of the holding of such election; and if the right of any person to vote as the owner of any such tract of land be disputed or challenged, the question of his right to vote shall be determined by the board of election after examining him under oath, which oath any member of such board of election is hereby authorized to administer, and any person testifying falsely upon such examination shall be guilty of perjury. Any person voting or attempting to vote at such election who is not entitled to vote at such election, as herein provided, shall be subject to the same penalties and punishments as provided by the general election laws of this state, for voting or attempting to vote illegally.

§ 23. Voting lists. The reclamation board shall, prior to such election, cause to be prepared and certified by its secretary or assistant secretary, and furnished to the board of election in each such voting district, a true and correct voting list containing the reference number of each tract separately assessed upon the assessment list, to whom assessed, and the amount of the assessment thereon with reference to which the election is to be held, which voting list shall be used by the board of election in determining the right to vote and the number of votes to be cast by each voter, and shall be sufficient evidence thereof.

§ 24. Reference number of each tract. For the purpose of determining the so-called "reference number" of each tract separately assessed upon the assessment lists, the reclamation board shall, before preparing such voting lists, cause each tract of land separately assessed upon the assessment lists, unless already done, to be given a separate number to be designated as the "reference number" of such tract, which reference numbers shall be entered upon the assessment lists opposite the several tracts separately assessed, respectively.

§ 25. Ballots. The ballot cast at such election shall contain the words "Bonds—Yes," or the words "Bonds—No," and also the signature of the person or persons casting the ballot, with the number of votes cast by such voter. If a ballot is cast by proxy, it shall also contain the name of the land owner for whom the ballot is cast and the signature of the person casting the said vote as such proxy. A list of the ballots cast shall be made by the board of election, containing the name of each voter, and if the ballot be cast by proxy, the name of the person casting it and the number of votes cast by each and whether the same be cast for or against the issuing of the bonds.

§ 26. Failure to attend. Oath of members of board of election. If any person appointed as a member of the board of election shall fail to attend at the opening of the polls, the voters then present may appoint in his place any land owner of the district then present and entitled to vote at such election at such polling place, to fill the position of any such absent member thereof. Each member of such board of election must before entering upon the discharge of his duties as such, take and subscribe an official oath, which oath may be administered by any officer authorized by law to administer oaths, or by any land owner in said drainage district. Such oaths shall be to the effect that he will support the constitution of the United States and the constitution of the state of California, and that he will faithfully perform the duties of member of such election board to the best of his ability.

§ 27. Canvass of votes. Canvass by reclamation board. The polls at each such polling place for said election shall be kept open from nine o'clock in the forenoon until five o'clock in the afternoon of the day appointed for such election. At the close of the polls the board of election shall at once proceed to canvass the votes and declare the result, and shall forward a certificate showing such result and the number of votes cast for and against the issuing of bonds, to the reclamation board, and shall deliver a duplicate thereof to the county clerk of the county wherein such voting district is located, and shall also deliver to said reclamation board all ballots, voting lists and lists of ballots cast at such election, and all documents and papers used thereat. Thereupon the reclamation board shall examine and canvass said certificates received from such boards of election, and shall determine therefrom and declare, and enter in its minutes as the managing body of said Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district, the total result of such election. Any person interested may within ten days after the result thereof has been so determined and declared by the reclamation board, contest such election so far and to such extent as the same depends upon the votes or proceedings had in the matter of such election in any county, by bringing suit in the superior court of such county, and if no contest shall be so commenced within said time, the declaration of the result by the reclamation board shall be final and conclusive.

§ 28. Bonds issued if majority vote favors. If a majority of the votes cast at such election are in favor of the issuance of bonds, the reclamation board shall cause bonds of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district, in the amount stated in said order calling such election, to be prepared and executed and delivered to the state treasurer. Said bonds shall be of the denomination of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars each. They shall be signed by the president of the reclamation board and attested by the secretary of said board with the seal of said board affixed thereto, and shall be numbered consecutively in the order of their maturity and shall bear date either January first or July first and shall bear interest at a rate to be fixed by the order of the board for issuance of the bonds not to exceed six per cent per annum payable semi-annually on the first day of January and the first day of July in each year, at the office of the state treasurer upon presentation of the proper coupons therefor. Coupons for each installment of interest shall be attached to said bonds and shall bear the facsimile signature of the state controller.

§ 29. Payment of principal. Redemption of bonds. The principal of said bonds shall by an order of said board entered in its minutes, be made payable on the first day of July or the first day of January and in such years as the board may prescribe, but such bonds shall be payable serially within twenty years from their date in the manner following, to wit: Not less than ten per cent of their aggregate face value of such bonds issued shall be payable within ten years from their date, and not less than nine per cent of the aggregate face value of such bonds issued shall be payable each year beginning with the eleventh year from their date until the whole amount of said bonds have been paid; provided, however, that the reclamation board may call and redeem such an amount of said bonds as in its judgment it may see fit on any interest date subsequent to the first day of July, 1921, at their face value, with accrued interest to date of redemption. Whenever, at any time not less than four weeks before any semi-annual interest date, the amount of money in the hands of the reclamation board, and applicable to the payment of said bonds, shall amount to a sum of not less than twenty-five thousand dollars, in excess of the amount, if any, falling due on the next two semi-annual interest dates for payments of principal and interest, then and in such case, the said reclamation board shall call and redeem at par, before maturity, so many of the outstanding bonds as such excess will suffice to pay; such bonds to be paid in the regular consecutive order of the serial number of said bonds, beginning with the lowest outstanding number. To effect any such redemption, the reclamation board shall cause to be published once each week for four successive weeks, in a newspaper published in the city and county of San Francisco, in a newspaper published in the city of Sacramento, and in a newspaper published in the city of Los Angeles, a notice stating that at such next semi-annual interest date, the bonds specified in such notice will be redeemed and that there will be due and payable on such bonds at the places specified therein for payment, the amount of the principal thereof with accrued interest.

§ 30. Payment of bonds or coupons. Out of the bond fund of such assessment the state treasurer shall, on presentation at or after its maturity, pay to the holder thereof each such bond or interest coupon which shall have been sold or which shall have been issued and delivered upon an order of the reclamation board payable in bonds as herein-after provided. If any bond or interest coupon shall not be presented to the state treasurer for payment when the same becomes due, it shall cease to bear interest, but if presented at or after such time and not paid for want of funds, the state treasurer shall so indorse such bond or coupon, together with the date of presentation, and thereafter such bond or coupon shall bear interest at the rate expressed in the bond until paid or until funds have been provided in the state treasury applicable to its payment.

§ 31. Form of bond. Said bonds may be substantially in the following form:

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

No. —

State of California.

Sacramento and San Joaquin Drainage District.

The treasurer of the state of California will pay to the holder hereof on the — day of —, 19—, at his office in the city of Sacramento, state of California, the sum of $— in gold coin of the United States, out of the funds of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district applicable thereto, for interest on bond of said district numbered —.

Attest: _____,
State Controller.

§ 32. Action to determine validity of bonds. The reclamation board shall deliver the bonds prepared pursuant to this act duly signed and attested, to the state treasurer. Within ten days after said bonds have been delivered to the state treasurer, an action may be commenced by the reclamation board in the superior court of the state of California, in and for the county within which the largest acreage of land affected by the assessment for which bonds are proposed to be issued is situate, against the lands and all persons owning the same or interested therein, in that portion of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district affected by said assessment or the issuance of said bonds, to have it determined that said bonds are a legal obligation of said drainage district. Such action shall be in the nature of a proceeding in rem and the defendants in such action shall be designated as "All persons owning or claiming any interest in or lien upon any lands within the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district affected by that certain assessment levied by the reclamation board known and designated as (giving the name and number of the assessment)." It shall be sufficient to describe said lands as all lands affected by such assessment, without a more specific description. A summons shall be issued in such action which summons, besides the matters required by section four hundred seven of the Code of Civil Procedure, shall contain a statement that the action is brought to determine the validity of bonds of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district to the amount stated therein executed by the reclamation board and delivered to the state treasurer and based upon and to be paid out of an assessment levied by said reclamation board upon lands within the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district assessed in and by that certain assessment known and designated as (giving name and number of the assessment). Jurisdiction by the court over all parties interested in said action shall be obtained by publication of a copy of the summons at least once a week for three successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in each county wherein are situated any lands within said Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district and assessed in and by said assessment, which newspaper, in each county, shall be designated by the court wherein the action is pending or by the judge thereof. If there be no newspaper within any such county, or if said summons is refused publication in the newspaper so designated for any county, then such summons may be published in a newspaper of general circulation published in an adjoining county. Within thirty days after completion of the publication of such summons in each of such counties any owner of land assessed by said assessment or any one interested in any such land may appear and answer the complaint in such action which answer shall be verified and shall set forth the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of said bonds. The default of all defendants not so appearing may be entered. Such action shall be given precedence in hearing and trial over all other civil actions or proceedings in such court, and judgment shall be rendered therein declaring such bonds either valid or invalid. Any party not in default shall have the right within thirty days after the entry of such judgment to appeal therefrom to the supreme court of this state, which appeal shall be advanced upon the calendar of the court in which the appeal may be pending and shall be determined as early as possible. Judgment for the plaintiff in such action declaring such bonds to be valid shall be considered as a judgment in rem and shall be conclusive against said district and against all lands therein and all owners thereof and all other interested persons. Costs may be awarded to or against any party appearing in such action as the court may in its discretion determine. Any action or proceeding commenced by any party other than the reclamation board to contest or in any manner interfere with the validity or disposition of said bonds must be tried in the superior court of the state of California, in and for the county within which the largest acreage of land affected by said assessment or the issuance of said bonds is situated, and no such action or proceeding shall be commenced by any party other than the reclamation board until the expiration of ten days after such bonds have been so executed and delivered to the state treasurer, nor unless the action in this section provided for shall not have been commenced by the reclamation board within said period of ten days.

§ 33. Sale of bonds. Payment for works in bonds. The state treasurer shall receive and place the said bonds to the credit of said Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district, and shall when and as directed by the reclamation board sell any of said bonds for the best price obtainable therefor, but in no event for less than ninety-five per cent of the face value of such bonds and the accrued interest thereon. Before making a sale of any of said bonds, notice shall be given by the state treasurer that he will sell a specified amount of said bonds, stating the day, hour and place of said sale. Such notice shall state that sealed proposals will be received by him for the purchase of said bonds or any part thereof at the day and hour named in the notice. Such notice shall be given by publication once a week for three successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the city of Sacramento. At the time and place appointed in said notice the state treasurer shall open the bids and shall award the purchase of the bonds or any part thereof to the highest responsible bidder, or if the highest bid is not equal to par and accrued interest he shall notify the reclamation board of the amounts of the highest bids received, and reject any or all bids if so required by said board. At any time before all such bonds held by the state treasurer shall have been sold by him, said reclamation board may draw upon the state treasurer for, and issue and deliver any such unsold bonds at not less than the face value thereof in payment for any of the works or other expenses for which said assessment has been levied and for which such bonds have been authorized, and may make contracts for any of the said works or expenses, payable in whole or in part in such bonds; and in making such payments in bonds, said board shall draw orders upon the state treasurer payable in such bonds to the amount therein named, which orders shall be countersigned by the state controller and shall be paid with such bonds by the state treasurer upon presentation of the amount therein provided for, if there be sufficient bonds on hand to pay the same. In drawing any such order upon the state treasurer payable in such bonds as aforesaid, the reclamation board may specify the maturity of the bonds which are to be delivered in compliance with such order and such specifications shall be complied with by the state treasurer as far as possible.

§ 34. Money placed in construction fund. The money derived from the sale of any of said bonds shall be received by the state treasurer and shall be by him safely kept and placed to the credit of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district in a fund to be designated as the "construction fund of (giving name and number of the assessment upon which the bonds are based)," and may be drawn and expended upon warrants drawn by the state controller at the request of the reclamation board upon and payable out of said construction fund, in and for the county within which the largest acreage of land affected by the assessment for which bonds are proposed to be issued is situate, against the lands and all persons owning the same or interested therein, in that portion of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district affected by said assessment or the issuance of said bonds, to have it determined that said bonds are a legal obligation of said drainage district. Such action shall be in the nature of a proceeding in rem and the defendants in such action shall be designated as "All persons owning or claiming any interest in or lien upon any lands within the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district affected by that certain assessment levied by the reclamation board known and designated as (giving the name and number of the assessment)." It shall be sufficient to describe said lands as all lands affected by such assessment, without a more specific description. A summons shall be issued in such action which summons, besides the matters required by section four hundred seven of the Code of Civil Procedure, shall contain a statement that the action is brought to determine the validity of bonds of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district to the amount stated therein executed by the reclamation board and delivered to the state treasurer and based upon and to be paid out of an assessment levied by said reclamation board upon lands within the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district assessed in and by that certain assessment known and designated as (giving name and number of the assessment). Jurisdiction by the court over all parties interested in said action shall be obtained by publication of a copy of the summons at least once a week for three successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in each county wherein are situated any lands within said Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district and assessed in and by said assessment, which newspaper, in each county, shall be designated by the court wherein the action is pending or by the judge thereof. If there be no newspaper within any such county, or if said summons is refused publication in the newspaper so designated for any county, then such summons may be published in a newspaper of general circulation published in an adjoining county. Within thirty days after completion of the publication of such summons in each of such counties any owner of land assessed by said assessment or any one interested in any such land may appear and answer the complaint in such action which answer shall be verified and shall set forth the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of said bonds. The default of all defendants not so appearing may be entered. Such action shall be given precedence in hearing and trial over all other civil actions or proceedings in such court, and judgment shall be rendered therein declaring such bonds either valid or invalid. Any party not in default shall have the right within thirty days after the entry of such judgment to appeal therefrom to the supreme court of this state, which appeal shall be advanced upon the calendar of the court in which the appeal may be pending and shall be determined as early as possible. Judgment for the plaintiff in such action declaring such bonds to be valid shall be considered as a judgment in rem and shall be conclusive against said district and against all lands therein and all owners thereof and all other interested persons. Costs may be awarded to or against any party appearing in such action as the court may in its discretion determine. Any action or proceeding commenced by any party other than the reclamation board to contest or in any manner interfere with the validity or disposition of said bonds must be tried in the superior court of the state of California, in and for the county within which the largest acreage of land affected by said assessment or the issuance of said bonds is situated, and no such action or proceeding shall be commenced by any party other than the reclamation board until the expiration of ten days after such bonds have been so executed and delivered to the state treasurer, nor unless the action in this section provided for shall not have been commenced by the reclamation board within said period of ten days.

§ 33. Sale of bonds. Payment for works in bonds. The state treasurer shall receive and place the said bonds to the credit of said Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district, and shall when and as directed by the reclamation board sell any of said bonds for the best price obtainable therefor, but in no event for less than ninety-five per cent of the face value of such bonds and the accrued interest thereon. Before making a sale of any of said bonds, notice shall be given by the state treasurer that he will sell a specified amount of said bonds, stating the day, hour and place of said sale. Such notice shall state that sealed proposals will be received by him for the purchase of said bonds or any part thereof at the day and hour named in the notice. Such notice shall be given by publication once a week for three successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the city of Sacramento. At the time and place appointed in said notice the state treasurer shall open the bids and shall award the purchase of the bonds or any part thereof to the highest responsible bidder, or if the highest bid is not equal to par and accrued interest he shall notify the reclamation board of the amounts of the highest bids received, and reject any or all bids if so required by said board. At any time before all such bonds held by the state treasurer shall have been sold by him, said reclamation board may draw upon the state treasurer for, and issue and deliver any such unsold bonds at not less than the face value thereof in payment for any of the works or other expenses for which said assessment has been levied and for which such bonds have been authorized, and may make contracts for any of the said works or expenses, payable in whole or in part in such bonds; and in making such payments in bonds, said board shall draw orders upon the state treasurer payable in such bonds to the amount therein named, which orders shall be countersigned by the state controller and shall be paid with such bonds by the state treasurer upon presentation of the amount therein provided for, if there be sufficient bonds on hand to pay the same. In drawing any such order upon the state treasurer payable in such bonds as aforesaid, the reclamation board may specify the maturity of the bonds which are to be delivered in compliance with such order and such specifications shall be complied with by the state treasurer as far as possible.

§ 34. Money placed in construction fund. The money derived from the sale of any of said bonds shall be received by the state treasurer and shall be by him safely kept and placed to the credit of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district in a fund to be designated as the "construction fund of (giving name and number of the assessment upon which the bonds are based)," and may be drawn and expended upon warrants drawn by the state controller at the request of the reclamation board upon and payable out of said construction fund, in the same manner as provided by section fifteen of the said reclamation board act with reference to the expenditure of moneys collected upon assessments as in said reclamation board act provided.

§ 35. Bonds legal investments. The bonds of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district issued pursuant to this act which are investigated and approved by any commission or officer now or hereafter authorized by any law of this state to conduct such investigation and give such approval and by authority of which approval said bonds are declared to be legal investments for savings banks, may be lawfully purchased or received in pledge for loans by banks, trust companies, insurance companies, guardians, executors, administrators and special administrators, or by any public officer or officers of this state or of any county, city, or city and county, or other municipality or corporate body within this state having or holding funds which they are allowed by law to invest or loan.

§ 36. Payment of interest. From the first money received from the sale of any of such bonds the state treasurer shall retain an amount which with the other funds in his hands applicable to the payment of such interest will be sufficient to pay the interest which will fall due during the period of one year thereafter upon all such bonds which have been so sold, or which have been issued and delivered on orders of the reclamation board payable in bonds, and which are still outstanding; and the state treasurer shall at all times retain in his hands sufficient money from the sale of such bonds which, with other funds applicable thereto in his hands, will be sufficient to pay all interest to accrue within the period of one year next succeeding upon all such bonds so sold or leased and delivered and still outstanding; and the money so withheld by the state treasurer shall be applied on said bonds and interest thereon and shall not be used for any other purpose.

§ 37. Statement by state treasurer to reclamation board. Whenever any of such bonds are sold or delivered by the state treasurer either to a purchaser thereof or upon an order from said reclamation board payable in such bonds, the state treasurer shall first detach therefrom and cancel all past due interest coupons and deliver such canceled coupons to the reclamation board or its secretary, and shall also at once certify and deliver to said board or its secretary a list of such bonds so sold or delivered, showing the serial numbers, denominations and date of maturity of the bonds so sold or delivered, the price received for each bond sold, and the date of maturity of the earliest maturing interest coupon left attached to each bond so sold or delivered. The state treasurer shall also certify and deliver to the said reclamation board or its secretary whenever requested, a statement of all such bonds and coupons for interest thereon paid by him and of all bonds or coupons presented for payment and not paid for want of funds, with the date of presentation.

§ 38. Bond record. The reclamation board shall maintain in its office and open to public inspection at all reasonable times during office hours, a book or books to be known as the bond record of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district, containing a complete record of the existing condition of the whole of each such bond issued as compiled from time to time from such reports from the state treasurer, from which can be ascertained the amount of bonds outstanding and the interest accumulated and unpaid thereon.

§ 39. Separate records for each bond issue. In case there shall be several bond issues under this act based upon several different assessments, respectively, all of the proceedings, records and transactions of every kind herein provided for shall be had and kept separately with reference to each such bond issue.

§ 40. Construction of works. Warrants. With the money received from the sale of bonds, or with the said bonds as hereinbefore provided, the reclamation board as the managing body of said Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district shall proceed with the construction and completion or carrying into execution of the works or project for the purpose of which the assessment upon which such bonds are based was levied, in order that the same may be carried out and completed according to the best judgment of said board and without unnecessary delay. For the purpose of paying the cost and expenses of such works or project, and the expenses of making, bonding and collecting the assessment therefor the reclamation board shall from time to time as may be necessary present its written requests to the state controller for the issuance of warrants; specifying the amount of the warrant and the name of the payee thereof, and upon receipt of such written request the state controller shall draw his warrants upon the state treasurer payable out of the said construction fund of the assessment upon which such bonds have been issued, and the state treasurer shall pay the same or make delivery of such bonds as provided herein. Warrants issued by the controller and payable out of such assessment as provided by section fifteen of the reclamation board act shall be paid by the state treasurer out of and only out of the construction fund of such assessment, and in their proper order of registration as in said section fifteen provided.

§ 41. Warrants. No warrant issued pursuant to any of the provisions of this act or of the said reclamation board act shall be accepted or received by the county treasurer in payment of all or any part of any assessment upon which bonds have been authorized.

§ 42. Annual installment for bonds. When the bonds of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district have been authorized and issued as herein provided, based upon any assessment levied by the reclamation board, the reclamation board shall annually thereafter before the first day of July of each year, by an order entered in its minutes, ascertain and determine the total amount necessary to be collected upon such assessment for the payment of principal and interest of all such bonds which will or may become due on the first day of January and the first day of July of the succeeding year, and thereafter and before the first day of September of each year said board shall prepare in duplicate, retaining one original thereof, and causing the other original thereof to be certified by its secretary and delivered to the county treasurer of each county wherein are situated any of the lands covered by such assessment, a statement of the installment of such assessment necessary to be collected for such year, to which there shall be added and collected an additional amount of fifteen per cent of the installment so due to cover possible delinquencies, which said additional sum, together with such installment, shall constitute the amount to be collected and paid into the bond fund and shall be known as the installment for bonds. Such installment for bonds shall, unless otherwise determined by the reclamation board by an order entered in its minutes, a copy of which duly certified shall be transmitted to the county treasurer of each of said counties, be payable in two equal portions, the first of which shall be due and payable to such county treasurer, respectively, on the third Monday in October and shall be delinquent on the first Monday in December next thereafter at six o'clock P. M., and the remaining portion may be paid at any time before the last Monday in April next thereafter at six o'clock P. M., at which time the same shall become delinquent.

§ 43. Annual collection list. For convenience in entering payments of such installment for bonds, the reclamation board shall furnish to the county treasurer of each county affected, an annual collection list in which shall be set forth the reference number of each tract of land assessed and the name of the owner to whom assessed, as stated in the original assessment list, and the total amount assessed upon each tract and the amount to be collected thereon for that year, together with appropriate columns for the entry of payments, sales and redemptions; and the county treasurer shall enter thereon in the proper column all payments, with date of payment, the word "sold" with date of sale, in case of sales for delinquency, and the words "sold to the district" with date of sale, in the case of sales to the district; and shall also enter the word "redeemed," with date of payment, in case such redemption be made. Said county treasurer shall also make a report to the reclamation board as often as requested of all entries so made by him on such collection list.

§ 44. Penalty for delinquent installment. When either portion of any such installment for bonds shall become delinquent, a penalty of one dollar together with twenty per cent of the amount of such installment on each tract so delinquent, shall be added thereto and collected for the use of the bond fund of said assessment. All money so collected by the several county treasurers upon such installment for bonds or for the penalty thereon in case of delinquency shall be by them, respectively, and within thirty days after such collection, paid over to the state treasurer and by him credited to the bond fund of such assessment.

§ 45. Sale of land for delinquent installments. If both portions of said installment are not paid before the last Monday in April at six o'clock P. M., the reclamation board shall publish in each county where such delinquencies exist, in one notice, a list of all said delinquencies in such county at least once a week for two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the said county, which notice shall contain a description of each parcel of land assessed within the said county whereon such installment or installments are delinquent, as such description appears on the assessment list, the name of the owner to whom it is assessed or a statement that it is assessed to unknown owners if such be the fact, the amount of the installment or installments delinquent on such parcel, the amount of the penalty thereon, and a notice that each of said parcels will be sold at public auction by said county treasurer in front of the courthouse of said county at a specified day and hour, which shall not be less than thirty nor more than ninety days from the date of delinquency, to pay such delinquent installment or installments and penalty. At the time and place stated in said notice the county treasurer shall sell each parcel of land described in said notice to the highest bidder unless prior thereto he shall have received payment in full of said delinquent installment or installments together with such penalty. No bid for any parcel shall be accepted less than the aggregate sum then due for said installment or installments thereon, together with such penalty, except that the treasurer may receive from any purchaser at their face value, in lieu of cash, bonds of said drainage district issued upon such assessment, or their interest coupons, which bonds or coupons shall be then matured or will mature within one year after such sale. Any said bonds or coupons so received in payment shall be by the treasurer forthwith cancelled and transmitted to the state treasurer. If the entire amount of any such bond or coupon tendered in payment shall not be required to complete payment of the purchase money, the county treasurer shall indorse thereon as paid the amount of such purchase money credited thereon. There shall be credited to the bond fund of such assessment the amount of purchase money so paid in bonds or coupons on such delinquent sales, and of all sums indorsed as paid upon account of purchase money on any such bonds or coupons, specifying the same, a statement of which shall be furnished by the county treasurer to the state treasurer.

§ 46. Sale of land to district. If no bid is made for any parcel at such delinquent sale equal to the amount of installment or installments delinquent thereon including such penalty, the county treasurer shall bid in and sell said parcel to the said Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district for the amount of said installment or installments and penalty.

§ 47. Certificate of sale. The county treasurer shall execute to each purchaser at such delinquent sale including said drainage district, a certificate of such sale, which certificate of sale shall be recorded by said purchaser in the county recorder's office of said county.

§ 48. Disposition of proceeds. Out of the proceeds of said sales the county treasurer shall transmit to the state treasurer the amount due on the property so sold as shown in said notice, together with the penalty thereon, and the state treasurer shall place the same to the credit of the bond fund of said Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district for the particular bond issue based upon said assessment. The county treasurer shall pay to the owner of said property any surplus remaining after such payment to the state treasurer.

§ 49. Postponement of sale. The county treasurer may if directed by the reclamation board postpone the said delinquent sale from time to time for not less than ten nor more than thirty days by a written notice posted at the place of sale.

§ 50. Redemption of property sold. Deed of conveyance if no redemption. Any person interested in any tract of land sold at such delinquent sale may redeem the same at any time within one year after the date of sale by paying to the county treasurer for such purchaser a sum equal to the purchase price stated in the certificate of sale with interest thereon at the rate of twelve per cent per annum from the date of sale to such redemption, together with the amount remaining due and unpaid of any installment upon any assessment on said land under the reclamation board act or this act, with the penalty herein or in said reclamation board act prescribed for delinquency, if any. If no redemption shall be made within one year the reclamation board upon demand and the surrender of such certificate of purchase and the delivery of a certificate of the county treasurer that no redemption has been made within such year from date of sale, shall execute to the purchaser, his heirs or assigns, a deed of conveyance of the parcel of land described in such certificate, which deed shall convey to the grantee therein named the said land free and clear of all encumbrances except state, county and municipal taxes, assessments levied or assessed by statutory authority, and the unpaid balance of the said or any assessment made by said drainage district, each installment whereof may be called and collected as by law provided, except that no parcel sold and conveyed to the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district shall thereafter, until redeemed or until sold and disposed of by the reclamation board, be subject to sale by the treasurer for delinquent installments of any assessment as in this act provided. Every deed by the reclamation board purporting to be executed under this act shall be prima facie evidence of the truth of the matters therein recited and of ownership by the grantee of the lands therein described. All deeds herein required to be executed by the reclamation board may be executed by the president and secretary thereof on behalf of said board.

§ 51. Sale of land purchased by district. Any parcel of land bid in and purchased by the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district at such delinquent sale shall be held in trust for the bond fund of the assessment upon which the same was sold and may be sold and conveyed by said reclamation board or their successors in office at any time after the expiration of said redemption period of one year at public or private sale and with or without notice to any person paying not less than the amount for which said parcel was bid in by said county treasurer at such delinquent sale for said drainage district, with interest thereon at the rate of twelve per cent per annum compounded yearly from the date of such delinquent sale, and also the amount of all subsequent installments then delinquent, with accrued interest and penalties thereon. Payment for the land so purchased may be made by the purchaser either in cash or matured bonds and coupons issued upon said assessment taken at their face value, and the reclamation board shall execute a deed to such purchaser at such sale conveying said property, free of encumbrances except state, county and other municipal taxes, assessments levied or assessed by statutory authority, and the unpaid balance of the said or any assessment thereon levied by the reclamation board on lands in said drainage district. The purchase price so received in cash shall be by the reclamation board forthwith paid over to the state treasurer; and any bonds or coupons so received in payment by the reclamation board shall be by said board canceled and delivered to the state treasurer; and all such money so paid over and such canceled bonds or coupons so delivered to the state treasurer shall be by him credited to the bond fund of such assessment. If any land so held by the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district shall remain unsold after the final installment of the assessment shall have been collected by payment or sale, then the reclamation board shall sell all such lands so held by said drainage district at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, upon two weeks' published notice substantially in the manner provided for notice upon such delinquent sales, and shall execute to the purchaser a conveyance thereof free of encumbrances except state, county and municipal taxes, and assessments levied or assessed by statutory authority, and shall deposit the proceeds of such sale with the state treasurer to the credit of the bond fund of such assessment.

§ 52. Use of surplus in bond fund. Any surplus remaining in the bond fund of such assessment greater than is necessary to pay all of the amounts due or to become due during the ensuing year may, in the discretion of the reclamation board, be devoted to the purchase in the open market and at the fair market price thereof of any bonds other than bonds of said drainage district available for purchase by savings banks in this state, which shall thereupon be delivered to the state treasurer to be held by him for the benefit of said bond fund until the reclamation board shall direct it to sell the same, whereupon the state treasurer shall sell the same and credit the proceeds to the said bond fund; and said reclamation board shall direct such sale to be made whenever necessary for payment of such bonds of the district or interest thereon.

§ 53. Bond fund held by state treasurer. The said bond fund of each such assessment shall be held and safely kept by the state treasurer and shall be applied by him toward the payment of the bonds and coupons thereon based upon such assessment, as such bonds and coupons fall due; and if any balance shall remain in the bond fund of such assessment after payment in full of the principal and interest of all outstanding bonds issued upon such assessment, such balance shall be held for the benefit of the lands upon which said assessment was made and in proportion to the amounts assessed thereon, and may be distributed to the owners or other persons interested in such lands by the reclamation board.

§ 54. Cancellation of proceedings. If within one year from the time said bonds have been authorized to be issued as in this act provided, the same shall not have been sold or disposed of, the reclamation board may at its discretion by an order duly made and entered in its minutes and a copy duly certified sent to the county treasurer of each county wherein lands affected by said assessment are situated, cancel all proceedings taken in connection with such bond issue; and may thereafter call for the payment of such assessment in such installments from time to time as they shall determine and as provided in the said reclamation board act.

§ 55. Expenses of officers. No officer shall charge or receive any fee for any services required to be performed by him under the provisions of this act; but any reasonable and necessary expense actually incurred by any officer in carrying out any of the provisions of this act relating in any manner to the collection or enforcement of any assessment, shall be paid out of the funds of said drainage district applicable thereto.

§ 56. Supplementary annual assessment. If the amounts raised by means of and upon such assessment as herein provided shall in the end prove insufficient to pay in full all of said bonds and the interest thereon, the reclamation board shall levy and cause to be collected in the same manner as in said reclamation board act and herein provided, a supplementary annual assessment or assessments from time to time as may be necessary upon the same lands previously assessed in the original assessment, which supplemental assessment or assessments shall be levied by resolution of the reclamation board entered in its minutes. It shall not be necessary to appoint assessors therefor nor to prepare new or additional assessment lists for any such supplemental assessment or assessments, but the same shall be levied and apportioned according to benefits and in the same proportion as specified in the original assessment lists for such assessment; and for the purpose of collecting the same said board shall prepare and cause to be certified to the county treasurers of the several counties annual assessment collection lists in the same manner and at the same times as hereinbefore provided for the annual assessment collection lists upon such original assessment; and the same shall be collected by the county treasurers, and the same percentages, penalties and costs added for delinquency and the same proceedings had for sale of property and for redemption thereof and for disposition of the proceeds of sale, and in all other particulars as hereinbefore provided in the case of such annual assessment collection lists upon the original assessment; and all money collected for or on account of any such supplemental assessment or assessments shall be paid over to the state treasurer in the same manner as hereinbefore provided, and credited by the state treasurer to the said bond redemption fund of said assessment.

§ 57. Duty of attorney general and governor. If the reclamation board or any member thereof or any officer or appointee or employee thereof or any public officer in this act mentioned or referred to shall fail to perform any duties imposed by this act, at the time and in the manner in this act provided, the attorney general of the state shall have the power and it shall be his duty to compel the performance of such act by mandamus proceedings or by any other appropriate remedy, legal or equitable; and in case the attorney general shall fail, neglect or refuse so to do, it shall be the duty of the governor to compel the performance of such act by mandamus proceedings or other appropriate legal or equitable remedy and to employ special counsel therefor at the expense of said Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district.

§ 58. If election is against issuance of bonds. If the result of such election provided for in section seventeen of this act be against the issuance of bonds, then such assessment, or that portion thereof involved in and affected by such election, shall be ordered paid and collected in such installments and as often as may in the judgment of the reclamation board be necessary for the purpose for which such assessment was originally levied as provided in said reclamation board act; and all subsequent proceedings in regard thereto shall be had and conducted as provided in said reclamation board act and without any further reference to the provisions in this act contained.

An act to authorize the conveyance by the state to the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district, or to the United States, upon repayment to the state of the cost thereof, of all or any part of any land, right of way, easement or weir site acquired by the state for any work of river channel excavation, enlargement, rectification or control or for the construction of any weir, forming part of the plans approved by the state for flood control in the Sacramento or San Joaquin valleys, and reappropriating the amount so repaid to reimburse the appropriation out of which the same was paid by the state.

§ 1. Conveyance of lands, etc., to Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district authorized. All or any part of any land, right of way or easement required for any work of channel excavation, enlargement, rectification or control or for any site for the construction of any weir, forming part of or incidental to any plan approved by the state for flood control in the Sacramento or San Joaquin valleys, which land, right of way or easement or weir site has been or may hereafter be acquired by the state of California, may, at the request of the reclamation board and with the approval of the state board of control, be sold to the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district at a purchase price equal to the cost thereof to the state, to be determined by said board of control, and upon payment to the state of such purchase price, so determined, may be conveyed to the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district, or to the United States, as may be requested by the reclamation board.

§ 2. Conveyance. The chairman of the state board of control is hereby empowered, when so authorized by said board of control, to execute and deliver any such conveyance in the name and on behalf of the state of California, upon payment to the state treasurer of the purchase price.

§ 3. Purchase price. Such purchase price, when so paid to the state treasurer, shall be credited back to the appropriation out of which the cost of acquiring such land, right of way, easement or weir site was paid by the state, and is hereby reappropriated and shall be available for the same purposes for which such appropriation was made.

An act to appropriate money for the purpose of co-operation in the construction of the public works included in and provided for by that certain project heretofore adopted by the reclamation board, known as Sutter Butte By-pass Project No. 6 of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district, with such modifications and amendments thereof as may be hereafter made, in accordance with law, the said work described in the plans of said Sutter Butte By-pass Project No. 6, as heretofore duly modified and amended, being in conformity with the report of the California debris commission transmitted to the speaker of the house of representatives of the United States by the secretary of war on the twenty-seventh day of June, 1911, and the said report of the California debris commission, together with such amendments and modifications thereof as may be made by the reclamation board, having been heretofore duly adopted by the state of California, and directing the said reclamation board to apply the said moneys so appropriated as it is now, or may hereafter be, provided by law, for the benefit of the said Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district, in connection with said Sutter Butte By-pass Project No. 6, or any modifications or amendments thereof, that may hereafter be made in accordance with law.

§ 1. Appropriation for Sutter Butte By-pass Project No. 6. For the purpose of co-operation in the construction of the public works included in and provided for by that certain project heretofore adopted by the reclamation board, known as Sutter Butte By-pass Project No. 6 of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district, with such modifications and amendments thereof as may hereafter be made, in accordance with law, the said work described in the plans of said Sutter Butte By-pass Project No. 6, as heretofore duly modified and amended, being in conformity with the report of the California debris commission transmitted to the speaker of the house of representatives of the United States by the secretary of war on the twenty-seventh day of June, 1911, and the said report of the California debris commission, together with such amendments and modifications thereof as may be made by the reclamation board, having been heretofore duly adopted by the state of California, there is hereby appropriated the sum hereinafter set forth out of any moneys in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, to be paid to the said reclamation board, for the benefit of the said Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district, in connection with the said Sutter Butte By-pass Project No. 6, or any modifications or amendments thereof that may hereafter be made, in accordance with law, the same to be applied as it is now or may hereafter be provided by law by the said reclamation board, in connection with said Sutter Butte By-pass Project No. 6 of the said Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district.

§ 2. Amount of appropriation. It is the intent and purpose of the state of California to provide a total of three million dollars for the purpose as expressed in section one of this act and there is hereby, for the said purpose, continuously appropriated therefor, out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, the said sum of three million dollars to be paid as hereinafter specified.

§ 3. Time and amount of warrants to be drawn. Immediately upon this act becoming a law, the controller of the state of California shall draw his warrant in favor of the reclamation board for the sum of ten thousand dollars, and the treasurer of the state of California is hereby directed to pay the same out of any moneys in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated.

§ 4. Warrants in favor of reclamation board. The controller of the state of California shall, during the seventy-second fiscal year, namely during the fiscal year commencing on the first day of July, 1921, draw his warrant in favor of the reclamation board for the sum of three hundred thousand dollars; and shall, during the seventy-third fiscal year, namely during the fiscal year commencing on the first day of July, 1922, draw his warrant in favor of said reclamation board for the sum of three hundred thousand dollars; and shall, during the seventy-fourth fiscal year, namely during the fiscal year commencing on the first day of July, 1923, draw his warrant in favor of said reclamation board for the sum of three hundred thousand dollars; and shall, during the seventy-fifth fiscal year, namely during the fiscal year commencing on the first day of July, 1924, draw his warrant in favor of said reclamation board for the sum of three hundred thousand dollars; and shall, during the seventy-sixth fiscal year, namely during the fiscal year commencing on the first day of July, 1925, draw his warrant in favor of said reclamation board for the sum of three hundred thousand dollars; and shall, during the seventy-seventh fiscal year, namely during the fiscal year commencing on the first day of July, 1926, draw his warrant in favor of said reclamation board for the sum of three hundred thousand dollars; and shall, during the seventy-eighth fiscal year, namely during the fiscal year commencing on the first day of July, 1927, draw his warrant in favor of said reclamation board for the sum of three hundred thousand dollars; and shall, during the seventy-ninth fiscal year, namely during the fiscal year commencing on the first day of July, 1928, draw his warrant in favor of said reclamation board for the sum of three hundred thousand dollars; and shall, during the eightieth fiscal year, namely during the fiscal year commencing on the first day of July, 1929, draw his warrant in favor of said reclamation board for the sum of three hundred thousand dollars; and shall, during the eighty-first fiscal year, namely during the fiscal year commencing on the first day of July, 1930, draw his warrant in favor of said reclamation board for the sum of two hundred ninety thousand dollars. And the treasurer of the state of California is hereby directed to pay each of said warrants out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated. All of said sums shall be applied by the reclamation board in the manner as provided by section one of this act.

§ 5. Collection of fund. There shall be collected annually in each of the fiscal years commencing on the first day of July, 1921, and ending on the thirtieth day of June, 1931, at the same time as other state revenue is collected, such a sum as may be necessary to provide the amount hereby appropriated, and all officers charged by law with any duty in regard to the collection of said revenue are hereby required and obligated to do and perform each and every act and thing which shall be necessary to collect such sum.

ACT 3158a.

An act conveying certain tide-lands and lands lying under inland navigable waters situated in the bay of San Diego to the city of San Diego in furtherance of navigation and commerce and the fisheries, and providing for the government, management and control thereof.

[Approved May 1, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 1357.]

Amended 1913, p. 78; 1915, p. 1323; 1917, p. 916.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 5. Restrictions on land leases. The city of San Diego may lease lands granted and conveyed to it by this act under the following restrictions and conditions:

(a) Term of fifty years. Rentals. Revaluation. Right to sublet. Improvement by lessee. All that portion of the said lands lying on the shores of the bay of San Diego, between a prolongation into the bay of San Diego of the south line of Laurel street and the prolongation into the bay of San Diego of the northerly line of the United States military reservation on Point Loma, and also that portion of said lands lying between a prolongation into the bay of San Diego of the easterly line of Twenty-eighth street, and a prolongation into the bay of San Diego, of the boundary line between the city of San Diego and the city of National City, which shall not have been developed or improved by the city of San Diego at the date of such leasing may be leased by the said city in such areas as, in the judgment of the common council of the said city of San Diego, may seem proper, and for a term not to exceed fifty years; provided, however, that said city may have the right to renew such lease or leases for a further term not exceeding twenty-five years or to terminate the same on such terms, reservations and conditions as may be stipulated in such lease or leases. Every such lease shall provide for the payment of rentals to the city of San Diego, which said rentals shall be either an agreed per cent of the gross earnings derived from the leased lands, or shall be fixed upon a basis of the valuation of such lands. In the event that the rental is an agreed per cent of the gross earnings, the lease shall provide a method for ascertaining and determining from time to time during the term, such gross earnings. In the event that the rentals shall, by any such lease, be provided to be fixed upon the basis of the valuation of the leased lands, then in such event the lease shall provide a method for ascertaining at stated periods during the term, the reasonable value of the leased lands, and in all cases in which the rental is provided to be fixed upon the basis of the valuation of the leased lands, then in such event the lease shall provide a method for ascertaining at stated periods during the term, the reasonable value of the leased lands, and in all cases in which the rental is provided to be fixed upon the basis of the value of the leased lands, the lease shall provide for the payment of a certain per cent of such value ascertained in the manner provided by the lease, and such per cent shall be the rental to be paid until a different valuation is fixed; provided, however, that there shall be no revaluation of any leased lands for the purpose of fixing the rentals oftener than once every ten years. Said leases shall also provide that at no time during their terms shall the said city of San Diego be required to make any improvements on or for the benefit of the leased lands. The lessees named in such leases shall have the right to sublet the said lands, or any part thereof, which subleases shall be subject to the same conditions and restrictions as the original and each lease executed by the city shall contain provisions to this effect. The said city of San Diego may grant wharf franchises for wharves adjoining and extending into the bay from the above-mentioned territory for terms, not to exceed in duration the terms of the leases on the adjacent lands, and the right to regulate and control the waters of the harbor adjacent to said leased land and to fix reasonable rates and tolls for the use of such wharves and docks abutting or adjoining such leased lands, shall be reserved to the city of San Diego and the state of California. Said lease or leases shall provide that a sum of money be expended upon the improvement of said lands by the said lessee or lessees within a reasonable time and said lease or leases shall contain provisions fixing the amount of money to be so expended and the time within which it shall be spent. The city may place such further restrictions or conditions in such leases and franchises when granted as do not conflict with the terms of this act and all grants of leases or franchises shall be authorized by ordinance.

(b) Remainder for fifty years. All the remaining portions of said lands may be leased for a term not to exceed fifty years, and no such lease shall be for a larger area than for forty acres, and such lease shall not be assignable or transferable nor shall any lessee have the right to sublet the leased premises or any part thereof without the consent of the common council by ordinance duly adopted; provided, however, that every lease so executed shall reserve to the common council and to the people of San Diego the right and privilege by ordinance duly adopted to terminate, change or modify such lease or leases on such terms, reservations and conditions as may be stipulated in such lease or leases.

(c) Right of way reserved. The city of San Diego shall reserve over the lands mentioned in subsections (a) and (b) a continuous right of way for a municipal belt line of railway tracks, which right of way shall be not less than one hundred feet in width and shall be so located as to practically parallel the United States bulkhead line, and no lease, franchise or privilege, shall be granted upon any of the lands mentioned in said subsections (a) and (b) that will in any way interfere with said right of way unless there be reserved in said lease, franchise or privilege to the city a right of way for said railroad of not less than one hundred feet in width. [Amendment approved May 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 916.]

An act granting certain lands in the city of San Diego to San Diego Lodge No. 153, of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of California; and ratifying and declaring valid a conveyance of said lands heretofore made by said city to said lodge. [Approved May 24, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 932. In effect July 27, 1917.]

Concerning waterfront of. [Stats. 1877-78, p. 263.]

Amended 1880, p. 10; 1889, p. 379; 1891, p. 233; 1895, p. 194; 1901, p. 627; 1905, p. 109; 1909, p. 434; 1917, p. 583; 1919, p. 252. See Political Code, § 2524, as amended 1901, p. 619; also the case of People ex rel. State Harbor Commissioners v. Pacific Imp. Co., 130 Cal. 442.

§ 6. Commissioners to have control of certain blocks. Lease of seawall lots. The said commissioners shall have the possession, jurisdiction and control over the blocks and parts of blocks formed by the change of the waterfront and the extensions of the streets to the thoroughfare aforesaid, and remove any obstructions placed thereon in the same manner as provided for the removal of obstructions from the piers, wharves and thoroughfares. The commissioners are authorized to keep and maintain said blocks and parts of blocks as open spaces for the use of the public, or they may, in their discretion, inclose them. The commissioners are also authorized to assign the use of such portion thereof as they may deem expedient for such purposes solely as will be most advantageous to the commerce of the port, and upon such terms and conditions as they may determine. All such assignments shall terminate at the pleasure of the commissioners.

The commissioners are also authorized to lease such portions or portion of seawall lots, numbered one, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen, eighteen, nineteen, twenty, twenty-one, twenty-two, twenty-three, twenty-four, twenty-five, "a," "b," and "c," and such portions of that certain land described as follows, to wit: Commencing at a point formed by the intersection of the southerly line of Islais street and the easterly line of Third (formerly Kentucky) street, and running thence easterly and along said southerly line of Islais street eighteen hundred eighty feet; thence at a right angle southerly to the northeasterly line of Arthur avenue; thence northwesterly along the northeasterly line of Arthur avenue to a point on the easterly line of Third (formerly Kentucky) street two hundred nineteen feet and five inches southerly from the southerly line of Islais street; thence northerly along said line of Third street two hundred nineteen feet and five inches to the southerly line of Islais street and the point of beginning; as they may deem expedient for such purposes solely as will be most advantageous to the commerce of the port, save and excepting, however, such portions of the last-described piece of property as may be within two hundred feet of the southerly line of Islais street, and save and excepting such portions thereof as may be within two hundred feet of any portion of any pier, wharf or slip which may now exist fronting on Islais street or hereafter be constructed on any portion of said land; provided, that before the execution of any lease notice of the letting or leasing of any of the lots or property hereinabove mentioned, or parts thereof, shall be given by publication in three of the daily papers published in the city of San Francisco for at least ten days; such notice shall state the property or lot or portion thereof to be leased and that bids will be received by the commissioners at a place and time designated in such notice; and that said lots and property shall be let to the highest and best bidder; provided, further, that all bids for lease of property or lots or portions thereof, herein mentioned, shall set forth the purposes for which said property, or lots or portions thereof shall be used, and that the statement of such bid shall be embodied in the lease given by the board of state harbor commissioners with the condition that the property or lot shall be used for such purposes only; provided, further, that said board shall have the power to reject any and all bids; and provided, further, that in no event shall any such lease or leases be made for a term exceeding twenty-five years; provided, however, that all leases made and executed within two years preceding February 15, 1901, and on file in the office of the secretary of state, of land belonging to the state less than fifty acres in area, and which lease has been made to any corporation incorporated in this state, or to any person or persons, for terminal facilities, is hereby recognized, approved and ratified, and the conditions, covenants and agreements of the parties thereto are made binding on the said parties and on their successors and assigns and on the state of California; provided, further, that all such leases shall contain a provision providing that in the event of the establishment by the United States of a free zone in the port of San Francisco, and in the event that said leased land is necessary to said free zone that then the state board of harbor commissioners for that purpose, shall have the right to declare such leases canceled and terminated upon payment to the lessees of the actual physical value of all improvements erected by said lessees on said leased land. [Amendment approved April 30, 1919, p. 252.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 553.

An act empowering and authorizing the board of state harbor commissioners to insure against loss or damage by fire or other disaster the property of the state of California located on the waterfront of San Francisco, California.

§ 1. Insurance of state waterfront property. The board of state harbor commissioners is hereby empowered and authorized to insure against loss or damage by fire or other disaster the wharves, docks, piers, slips, bulkheads and structures contained thereon, and improvements located on the inside and outside of the waterfront line, and all property of the state of California under the control and supervision of said board of state harbor commissioners.

§ 2. Amount and cost. This insurance is to be effected and distributed at the discretion and under the direction of said board of state harbor commissioners; the aggregate amount of such insurance not to exceed the sum of two million dollars, plus twenty-five per cent, of the actual cost value of improvements made or property acquired by the state through said board or coming under the jurisdiction of said board after this act goes into effect. The cost of said insurance shall not exceed two per cent per hundred in premiums for policies to be written for a three-years' term. Said cost to be defrayed and paid out of the San Francisco harbor improvement fund.

ACT 3335b.

An act concerning the waterfront of the city and county of San Francisco.

[Approved April 30, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 254. In effect July 22, 1919.]

§ 1. Operation of warehouses, grain elevators, etc., by harbor commissioners. The board of state harbor commissioners is hereby authorized and empowered to construct, maintain and operate warehouses, grain elevators, oil-tanks and such other facilities as it may from time to time deem expedient and to the advantage of the commerce of the port of San Francisco, and to fix such charges and make such rules and regulations as it may deem expedient for the operation thereof, and said board is further authorized and empowered to construct, maintain and operate conveyors on, above and under the ground from and to and between the docks and wharves and other property of the state of California and to and from the docks and wharves and other property of the state of California and under the jurisdiction of the board and to and from property owned by the state and fronting on the Embarcadero from any property of the state of California under the jurisdiction of said board, as it may from time to time deem expedient and to the advantage of the commerce of the port of San Francisco, and to fix all charges and make such rules and regulations as it may deem expedient in the operation thereof.

ACT 3348b.

An act to carry into effect the provisions of subdivisions six and seven of section eight and one-half of article eleven of the constitution of the state of California; and also to provide for the alteration of the boundaries of and for the annexation of territory located in the county of San Mateo to the city and county of San Francisco, for the incorporation of such annexed territory in and as a part thereof, and for the government of such annexed territory as an integral part of such city and county of San Francisco.

§ 1. City and county of San Francisco may annex territory in San Mateo county. It shall be competent for the city and county of San Francisco a municipal corporation organized and incorporated under a freeholders' charter under and by virtue of the constitution and laws of the state of California, to annex territory contiguous to such consolidated city and county, unincorporated or otherwise, situate wholly in the county of San Mateo, state of California, said annexed territory to be an integral part of such city and county.

§ 2. Election in incorporated cities on proposal for annexation. If additional territory, including more than one incorporated city or town, is proposed to be annexed to said city and county of San Francisco, the board of supervisors of said city and county will be empowered to give notice by a resolution of said board of supervisors, to the legislative bodies of any such incorporated cities or towns proposed to be so annexed of the said annexation proposal. Upon a petition requesting such notice to be so given, filed with said board of supervisors of said city and county and signed by not less than fifteen per centum of the qualified electors of said city and county, it shall be the duty of said board of supervisors of said city and county to thereupon by resolution of said board of supervisors, to give notice to the legislative bodies of such incorporated cities or towns proposed to be so annexed. Each of said last described legislative bodies of said incorporated cities or towns may, upon such notice, given by said board of supervisors of the city and county of San Francisco either by its own initiative or upon the initiative of such a petition so filed with said board of supervisors, and in any such incorporated city or town, upon a petition requesting such action filed with such a legislative body thereof and signed by not less than fifteen per centum of the qualified electors of such incorporated city or town, proposed to be so annexed, must, thereupon cause notice to be given of an election to be held in such incorporated city, or town, proposed to be so annexed, at which shall be submitted to the qualified electors of such city, or town, a proposal for the annexation thereof to said city and county of San Francisco. Said notice shall be given by publication for at least five successive publications in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in such incorporated city or town so proposed to be annexed, the last publication to be not less than twenty days prior to any such election. This notice shall include a particular description of any such incorporated cities or towns so proposed to be annexed by naming such incorporated cities or towns, together with a particular description of any debts to be assumed by the district as hereinafter set forth, unless such particular description is contained in the said election proposal so submitted. If there be no such newspaper so printed and published in any such incorporated city or town then such publication may be made in any newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the nearest incorporated city or town where such a newspaper may be so printed and published. The electors of said incorporated city or town shall be directed by such notice to vote upon such question in the manner hereinafter set forth. Such legislative body of said incorporated city or town proposed to be so annexed is hereby empowered and it shall be its duty to establish, and in such notice of election, to designate the voting precinct or precincts and the place or places at which the polls will be open for such election in such incorporated city or town so proposed to be annexed, which said place or places shall be that or those usually used as voting places within such incorporated city or town, if any such there be. The legislative body of said incorporated city or town proposed to be so annexed, is hereby empowered to, and it shall appoint the officers of such election, who shall be, for each voting place in such incorporated city or town, two judges and one inspector, each of whom shall be a qualified elector of the voting precinct in which he is appointed to act as an officer of such election.

§ 3. Question for forming district to vote on consolidation. Country ballots. Upon the ballots to be used at any such election there shall be printed the words "Shall (herein insert name of the city or town to be included in such annexed territory) be included in a district to be hereafter defined by the city and county of San Francisco which district shall, within two years from the date of this election, vote upon a proposal submitted as one indivisible question, that such district to be then described and set forth shall consolidate with the city and county of San Francisco in a consolidated city and county government, and that such district shall become subject to taxation, along with the entire territory of the proposed city and county in accordance with the assessable valuation of the property of said district for the following indebtedness of said city and county of San Francisco to wit: (herein insert in general terms, reference to any debt to be assumed and if none insert 'None'), 'Yes,' and "Shall (herein insert name of the city or town, to be included in such annexed territory) be included in a district to be hereafter defined by the city and county of San Francisco, which district shall, within two years from the date of this election, vote upon a proposal submitted as one indivisible question, that such district to be then described and set forth shall consolidate with the city and county of San Francisco in a consolidated city and county government, and that such district shall become subject to taxation, along with the entire territory of the proposed city and county in accordance with the assessable valuation of the property of said district for the following indebtedness of said city and county of San Francisco to wit: (herein insert in general terms reference to any debt to be assumed, and if none insert 'None'), 'No.'" There shall be a voting square to the right of and opposite each such proposition. If an elector shall stamp a cross (X) in the voting square after the printed word "Yes" the vote of such elector shall be counted in favor of the said proposal, and if an elector shall stamp a cross (X) in the voting square after the printed word "No" the vote of such elector shall be counted against such proposal. The judges and inspector of such election for each polling place shall immediately, upon the closing of the polls, count the ballots, make up, certify and seal the ballots and tally sheets of the ballots cast at their respective polling places, doing so as nearly as practicable, in the manner provided in the laws of this state relating to general elections, and they shall thereupon deliver the ballots, tally sheets and returns to and deposit the same with the clerk of the legislative body of such incorporated city or town proposed to be so annexed.

§ 4. Canvass of returns. Returns sent to board of supervisors of San Francisco. Returns sent to secretary of state. Such legislative body of said incorporated city or town proposed to be so annexed shall, at the time provided for its regular meeting next after the expiration of five days from and after the date of said election meet and proceed to canvass said returns, and said canvass shall be completed at such meeting, if practicable, and in any event, as soon as practicable, avoiding adjournment or adjournments until said canvass is completed. Immediately upon the completion of such canvass such canvassing body shall cause a record thereof to be made and entered upon its minutes stating the proposal submitted and showing the whole number of votes cast on the proposal submitted to such incorporated city or town, the number of votes cast therein in favor of the said proposal, and the number of votes cast therein against the said proposal. The clerk or other officer performing the duties of clerk of such canvassing body shall promptly, and within ten days of the completion of such canvass by said body make and certify under the seal thereof, and transmit to the board of supervisors of the city and county of San Francisco a copy of the records of the canvass of the returns of the election so canvassed by said canvassing body, together with a statement showing the date of such election, and the time and the result of the canvass of the returns of such election, and containing a description of such incorporated city or town, by naming the said incorporated city or town. And if it shall appear, from a canvass of the returns of the election held in the said incorporated city or town that a majority of the qualified electors voting on such proposal voted in favor thereof the said clerk or other officer performing the duties of clerk of such body so canvassing such returns shall also, promptly, and within said ten days, make and certify, under the seal thereof, and transmit to the secretary of state of the state of California, a like copy of the record of the canvass of said returns, together with a like statement showing the date of such election, and the time and the result of the canvass of the returns of such election, and containing a description of such incorporated city or town, by naming said incorporated city or town. Said document shall be filed by the secretary of state immediately upon receipt thereof.

§ 5. Limit to number of elections. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as prohibiting a further election or further elections to be held in any such incorporated city or town to which the foregoing proposal shall have been submitted, and a majority of whose qualified electors voting thereon shall not have voted in favor thereof; provided, that there must be an interval of at least ninety days between said elections, and that not more than three such elections shall be held in any one incorporated city or town, upon any one initiation of an annexation proposal by the city and county of San Francisco; and further provided, that no annexation proposal shall be so initiated by the city and county of San Francisco, more than once in a period of two years.

§ 6. District formed of incorporated and unincorporated territory. Size of district. Any and all of the said incorporated cities or towns, to which the foregoing proposal shall have been submitted, and a majority of whose qualified electors voting thereon shall have voted in favor thereof together with such unincorporated territory as the board of supervisors of the said city and county of San Francisco may determine to have included, the whole to form an area contiguous to said city and county shall be by the board of supervisors of said city and county created into a district; provided, however, that with reference to any such district which may be first created following the adoption of this act, no such district shall in any event be created containing a population of less than nine thousand people or a total area of less than seventy-five square miles. The population as ascertained and established by the last preceding census taken under the authority of the congress of the United States, or the legislature of California, or of the board of supervisors of said county of San Mateo, or of any legislative body of any such incorporated city or town may be used as the basis for ascertaining such population. Also, if necessary, such population of the said district or any portion thereof, may be determined by the board of supervisors of said county of San Mateo; and as to any incorporated city or town in said district, such population may, if necessary, be determined by the legislative body of such incorporated city or town.

§ 7. Question for consolidation. Subsequent to said elections in said incorporated cities or towns, and within the two years above described, there shall be submitted by the board of supervisors of the county of San Mateo a proposal to the voters of said entire district, as one indivisible question, substantially in the following form: "Shall the territory (herein designate in general terms the territory to be annexed) consolidate with the city and county of San Francisco in a consolidated city and county government, said consolidation to take effect (herein insert date when such consolidation shall take effect) and shall the said annexed territory become subject to taxation, as an integral part of the city and county so formed, in accordance with the assessable valuation of property of said territory for the following indebtedness of said city and county in San Francisco to wit: (herein insert in general terms, reference to any debts to be assumed, and if none, insert 'None'), 'Yes,' " and "Shall the territory (herein designate in general terms the territory to be annexed) consolidate with the city and county of San Francisco in a consolidated city and county government, said consolidation to take effect (herein insert date when such consolidation shall take effect) and shall the said annexed territory become subject to taxation, as an integral part of the city and county so formed, in accordance with the assessable valuation of property of said territory for the following indebtedness of said city and county of San Francisco (herein insert in general terms, reference to any debts to be assumed, and if none, insert 'None'), 'No.' " There shall be a voting square to the right of and opposite each such proposition. If an elector shall stamp a cross (X) in the voting square after the printed word "Yes" the vote of such elector shall be counted in favor of the said proposal and if an elector shall stamp a cross (X) in the voting square after the printed word "No" the vote of such elector shall be counted against such proposal.

§ 8. Manner of submitting question. Notice. Description of territory and debts. The manner to be followed by the board of supervisors of said county of San Mateo in the submission of said question and the holding of such election, their establishment of election precincts and their appointment of election officers, and the publication of the notice of such election, shall be substantially the same as that set forth in section two of this act for the submission of an annexation proposal to any incorporated city or town, and the notice thereof shall be published in the incorporated city or town included in said district containing the largest population as ascertained and established by the last preceding census taken under the authority of the congress of the United States, or of the legislature of California; provided, that if there be no newspaper printed and published in said incorporated city or town, as provided for herein, then in the nearest incorporated city or town where such a newspaper is so printed and published. This notice shall include a particular description of any such incorporated city or town so proposed to be annexed, by naming such incorporated city or town together with a particular description of any debts to be assumed by such district, as in this act set forth, unless such particular description is contained in the said election proposal so submitted. In addition to such description such territory as may be made up of unincorporated territory, shall also be designated in such notice by some appropriate name or other words of identification, by which such territory may be referred to and indicated upon the ballots to be used at any election at which the question of annexation or consolidation of additional territory is submitted as herein provided. Any such unincorporated territory must in said notice be specifically described by giving the boundaries thereof, unless such particular description is contained in the said election proposal so submitted.

§ 9. Proposal for permitting territory to withdraw from San Mateo county. At the same election so held in said district there must also be held throughout the county of San Mateo, and also under the supervision of the board of supervisors of said county of San Mateo, an election at which a proposition must be submitted to the electors of such county for the consent of such county to such annexation of said district to the city and county of San Francisco. The board of supervisors of said county of San Mateo shall submit a proposal to the voters of said entire county, substantially in the following form: "Shall the territory herein designate in general terms the territory to be annexed) be permitted to withdraw from the county of San Mateo and consolidate with the city and county of San Francisco in a consolidated city and county government, said consolidation to take effect (herein insert date when such consolidation shall take effect) 'Yes,'" and "Shall the territory (herein designate in general terms the territory to be annexed) be permitted to withdraw from the county of San Mateo and consolidate with the city and county of San Francisco in a consolidated city and county government, said consolidation to take effect (herein insert date when such consolidation shall take effect) 'No.'" There shall be a voting square to the right of and opposite each such proposition. If an elector shall stamp a cross (X) in the voting square after the printed word "Yes" the vote of such elector shall be counted in favor of the said proposal, and if an elector shall stamp a cross (X) in the voting square after the printed word "No" the vote of such elector shall be counted against such proposal.

§ 10. Manner of submitting question. Notice. Description of territory. The manner to be followed by the board of supervisors of the said county of San Mateo in the submission of said question and the holding of such election, their establishment of election precincts, and their appointment of election officers, and the publication of notice of such election shall be substantially the same as that set forth in sections two and eight of this act for the submission of an annexation proposal to any incorporated city or town, and to any district as provided for in this act, and the notice thereof shall be published in the incorporated city or town in said county containing the largest population as ascertained and established by the last preceding census taken under the authority of the congress of the United States or of the legislature of California. And if there be no such newspaper so published in said last described city, then in the nearest incorporated city or town where such a newspaper is so printed and published. This notice shall contain a description of the territory proposed to be annexed the same as provided for in section eight of this act for the notice to be given to the district referred to in said section eight. So far as possible, the notices to be published to the county of San Mateo and to the district proposed to be annexed to the city and county of San Francisco shall be consolidated in one notice. And further, so far as possible the election precincts and polling places and election officers for both the county and the district election shall be identical.

§ 11. Returns sent to supervisors of San Mateo county. The judges and inspectors of such elections in said county of San Mateo and in said district so proposed to be annexed, for each polling place, shall immediately, upon the closing of the polls, count the ballots, make up, certify and seal the ballots and tally sheets of the ballots cast at their respective polling places, doing so as nearly as practicable in the manner provided in the laws of this state relating to general elections and they shall thereupon deliver the ballots, tally sheets and returns to and deposit the same with the clerk of the said board of supervisors of the county of San Mateo.

§ 12. Canvass of returns. Returns sent to board of supervisors of San Francisco. Returns sent to secretary of state. Such board of supervisors of the county of San Mateo shall at the time provided for its regular meeting next after the expiration of ten days from and after the date of said elections meet and proceed to canvass said returns, and said canvass shall be completed at such meeting, if practicable, and in any event, as soon as practicable, avoiding adjournment or adjournments until said canvass is completed. The said board of supervisors shall so canvass the returns of any such election held in the county to determine whether the county will permit the withdrawal therefrom of any territory, and likewise the returns of any such election held in any such district. Immediately upon the completion of such canvass such canvassing body shall cause a record thereof to be made and entered upon its minutes stating the proposals submitted and showing: first, the whole number of votes cast on the proposal submitted to the county of San Mateo, the number of votes cast therein in favor of such proposal and the number of votes cast therein against such proposal; and second, the whole number of votes cast on the proposal submitted to the district proposed to be annexed, the number of votes cast therein in favor of such proposal and the number of votes cast therein against such proposal. The clerk or other officer performing the duties of clerk of such canvassing body shall promptly, and within ten days of the completion of such canvass by said body, make and certify under the seal thereof, and transmit to the board of supervisors of the city and county of San Francisco a copy of the records of the canvass of the returns of the elections so canvassed by said canvassing body, together with a statement showing the date of such elections, and the time and the result of the canvass of the returns of such elections, and containing a description of such district so proposed to be annexed, by naming the incorporated cities or towns in said district and also the unincorporated territory in said district, as said incorporated cities or towns and unincorporated territory were described in the election notice as provided for in this act for the elections held in said district. And if it shall appear, from a canvass of the returns of the election held in the county of San Mateo or of the election held in the district so proposed to be annexed, that a majority of the qualified electors voting on such proposal voted in favor thereof, either in such county, or in such district proposed to be annexed, the said clerk or other officer performing the duties of clerk of such body so canvassing such returns shall also, promptly, and within said ten days, make and certify, under the seal thereof, and transmit to the secretary of state of the state of California, a like copy of the record of the canvass of said returns, together with a like statement showing the date of such election, and the time and the result of the canvass of the returns of such election, and containing a like description of such district. Said document shall be filed by the secretary of state immediately upon receipt thereof.

§ 13. Proposal submitted in city and county of San Francisco. If it shall appear from a canvass of the returns of such elections that a majority of the qualified electors of such district, and also a majority of the qualified electors of such county of San Mateo voting on the question of such annexation are in favor of such annexation, the said proposal of annexation shall be, by the board of supervisors of said city and county of San Francisco submitted to the electors of said city and county. The said board of supervisors of the said city and county of San Francisco shall submit a proposal to the voters of the said city and county substantially in the following form: "Shall the territory (herein designate in general terms the territory to be annexed) consolidate with the city and county of San Francisco in a consolidated city the county government, said consolidation to take effect (herein insert date when such consolidation shall take effect) and shall the said annexed territory become subject to taxation, as an integral part of the city and county so formed, in accordance with the assessable valuation of the property of said territory for the following indebtedness of said city and county of San Francisco, to wit: (herein insert in general terms, reference to any debts to be assumed, and if none, insert 'None')—'Yes,'" and "Shall the territory (herein designate in general terms the territory to be annexed) consolidate with the city and county of San Francisco in a consolidated city and county government, said consolidation to take effect (herein insert date when such consolidation shall take effect) and shall the said annexed territory become subject to taxation, as an integral part of the city and county so formed, in accordance with the assessable valuation of the property of said territory for the following indebtedness of said city and county of San Francisco, (herein insert in general terms, reference to any debts to be assumed, and if none, insert 'None')—'No.'" There shall be a voting square to the right of and opposite each such proposition. If an elector shall stamp a cross (X) in the voting square after the printed word "Yes" the vote of such elector shall be counted in favor of the said proposal, and if an elector shall stamp a cross (X) in the voting square after the printed word "No" the vote of such elector shall be counted against such proposal.

§ 14. Manner of submitting question. Description of territory and debts. The manner to be followed by the board of supervisors of the said city and county of San Francisco in the submission of said question and the holding of said election, their establishment of election precincts, and their appointment of election officers, and the publication in said city and county of notice of such election shall be substantially the same as that set forth in sections two and eight of this act for the submission of an annexation proposal to any incorporated city or town and to any district as provided for in this act. The notice required to be published shall include a particular description of any district so proposed to be annexed, together with a particular description of any debts to be assumed by such district, the same as provided for in section eight of this act for the notice to be given to the district referred to in said section eight. Said election in said city and county of San Francisco may, in the discretion of the board of supervisors thereof, be held at the same time as the elections held in said district and in said county of San Mateo.

§ 15. Use of general election laws. The ballots used in any elections provided for in this act, the opening and closing of the polls, and the holding and conducting of such elections, shall be in conformity, as nearly as may be, with the laws of this state concerning general elections, except as herein otherwise provided.

§ 16. Annexation completed. Indebtedness assumed. Upon the approval of any such annexation proposal by the electors of said city and county of San Francisco as shown by a canvass of the returns thereof, and the certification of said returns to the secretary of state, said certification being made in the same manner as provided in section twelve of this act, the secretary of state shall file the document certified to him by the clerk of the canvassing body of the city and county of San Francisco, in his office immediately upon the receipt thereof. The secretary of state having so filed said document in his office, then, from and after the date prescribed in the proposal so submitted at said elections, the annexation of such district so proposed to be annexed, as described therein, shall be deemed to be and shall be complete and thenceforth such annexed district shall be to all intents and purposes a part of such city and county of San Francisco. And from and after said date the indebtedness so referred to in said proposal shall be deemed to have been assumed and upon the said date stated in said annexation proposal such district and such city and county of San Francisco shall be and become one consolidated city and county to be governed by the charter of the city and county of San Francisco and any amendment or amendments thereto.

§ 17. Submission of new charter or amendments. Borough government. Separate propositions. Controlling proposition. In any such submission of any proposal to the electors of any incorporated city or town, or of any district proposed to be annexed to the city and county of San Francisco, or to the electors of said city and county of San Francisco, as provided for in this act, there may be included a condition that any such proposed annexation shall be effected only upon the ratification by the electors of said incorporated city or town, and of said district, and of said city and county of San Francisco, at the same election at which such annexation proposal is submitted to such electors of said incorporated city or town, or district, or city and county of San Francisco, of any proposed new charter for said city and county of San Francisco, or of any proposed amendment or amendments to an existing charter of said city and county of San Francisco, which new charter or amendment or amendments to an existing charter may include provisions for borough government for all or any portion or portions of any territory proposed to be annexed; and also that such proposed annexation shall be effected only upon the final approval by the legislature of such new charter or such amendment or amendments to an existing charter of the city and county of San Francisco.

In submitting any such proposed new charter or such amendment or amendments to an existing charter, at the elections in the incorporated cities or towns, for the ratification of the electors of any of such cities or towns, separate propositions, whether alternative or conflicting, or one included within the other, may be submitted at the same time to be voted on by the electors separately in any one or more of such cities or towns. As between those so related, if more than one receive a majority of the votes of any such city or town, the proposition receiving the larger number of votes shall control as to all matters in conflict.

§ 18. Vote on assumption of indebtedness. No property in any territory annexed to said city and county of San Francisco as provided for in this act, shall be taxed for the payment of any indebtedness of such city and county outstanding at the date of such annexation and for the payment of which the property in such territory was not, prior to such annexation; subject to such taxation, unless there shall have been submitted to the qualified electors of such territory the proposition regarding the assumption of indebtedness, as provided for in this act, and the same shall have been approved by a majority of such electors voting thereon, as provided for in this act.

§ 19. Description of debts. The particular description of any debts to be assumed by any such annexed territory and which particular description shall be published, as in this act provided for, shall distinctly state that the property of such annexed territory shall, after such annexation, be subject to taxation as an integral part of the city and county formed under this act, along with the entire territory of the proposed city and county, in accordance with the assessable valuation of the property of said annexed territory and equally with property within such annexing city and county, to pay any bonded indebtedness of any such annexing city and county outstanding at the date of said annexation or any indebtedness theretofore authorized and to be represented by bonds of such annexing city and county thereafter to be issued, or any other indebtedness of said annexing city and county, which indebtedness it is proposed shall be so borne by the said property so annexed. The said notice shall, in addition, distinctly specify the improvement or improvements, or other purpose for which the indebtedness was so incurred or authorized and state the amount or amounts of such indebtedness already incurred outstanding at the date of the first publication of said notice and the amount or amounts of such indebtedness theretofore authorized and to be represented by bonds thereafter to be issued and the maximum rate of interest payable or to be payable on such indebtedness.

§ 20. Government of unannexed territory. Duty of legislature. In the event of any election as in this act provided for at which there shall be submitted a proposal for the annexation of any territory to the city and county of San Francisco, which annexation will result in the leaving of a portion or portions of the county of San Mateo unannexed to said city and county of San Francisco, then any notice of election or election ballot as provided for in this act shall state that the said annexation and consolidation shall not take effect until the legislature of the state shall have, according to law, provided for the government of any such portion or portions of any such county of San Mateo so remaining and not annexed to said city and county of San Francisco. It shall be the mandatory duty of the legislature, at the first session following any such final election; in the event of the approval of such annexation proposal at such election, or if the legislature be then in session then at such session, to so provide for the government of any such portion or portions of such county of San Mateo so remaining and not annexed to such city and county of San Francisco. Upon such provision being made by the legislature, and upon its finally becoming effective, and upon the said annexation otherwise becoming effective, then the said annexation to such city and county of San Francisco shall be deemed complete and in full force and effect.

§ 21. Legislature to determine proportion of debts and liabilities. Commission to advise legislature. Expenses charged to city and county of San Francisco. At the session of the legislature next after the final consummation of such annexation as herein provided for, or if the legislature is in session at the time of such final consummation then at such session of the legislature, the legislature shall determine the just proportion of the debts and liabilities of the county of San Mateo for which the city and county of San Francisco shall be liable, and the just proportion of the property and assets of such county of San Mateo to which such city and county of San Francisco shall be entitled, as existing at the time that any territory less than the whole of said San Mateo county is taken from such county of San Mateo as a result of any annexation as in this act provided for. The governor of the state shall appoint a commission of three persons; one, a qualified elector of the city and county of San Francisco; one, a qualified elector of the unannexed territory, and one, a qualified elector of some territory other than said annexing city and county and other than such unannexed territory, for the purpose of rendering a report to the legislature in order to advise the legislature; first, upon the proper provision for the government of any portion or portions of such unannexed territory; and, second, upon the proper determination of the just proportion of the debts and liabilities of the county of San Mateo for which such city and county shall be liable, and of the just proportion of the property and assets of such county of San Mateo to which such city and county shall be entitled, as so existing at the time that any territory is so taken from such county of San Mateo as a result of any such annexation as in this act provided. The actual necessary expenses of said commission, and compensation for their services at the rate of ten dollars per day for each day of actual service by each of said commissioners, shall upon a demand therefor being sworn to and presented to the legislative body of the city and county of San Francisco be a proper and legal charge against the treasury of said city and county. The final annexation and incorporation of said additional territory as a part of said consolidated city and county shall be deemed completed upon following of the procedure hereinabove in this act set forth, and it shall not be deemed necessary to await the said action of the legislature with reference to the adjustment of debts and liabilities and property and assets in this section provided for prior to said consolidation being final and complete.

§ 22. County, cities, and governmental agencies dissolved. Charters annulled. Offices surrendered. Superior court. Property, debt and liability. Upon the completion of the annexation of any such territory to the city and county of San Francisco as provided for under the provisions of this act, the county of San Mateo, if the whole of said county be annexed, and each and every incorporated city or town, or governmental agency of any character, so annexed, shall ipso facto be deemed to be and shall be dissolved and disincorporated, and any freeholders' charter thereof shall be deemed to be and shall be surrendered and annulled and such county of San Mateo and any such incorporated cities or towns or governmental agencies, shall be deemed to be and shall be merged in said city and county of San Francisco and shall be thereafter governed in the name of and under the freeholders' charter of and as a part of such city and county of San Francisco or under any amendment or amendments to such charter. Upon the final completion of any annexation as provided for in this act all persons then occupying or possessing the several offices of or under the government of such county of San Mateo or of such incorporated cities or towns, or such governmental agencies, or unincorporated territory so annexed, shall immediately quit and surrender the occupancy or possession of said offices, which shall thereupon cease and terminate and they shall severally forthwith deliver all moneys, funds, books, papers, archives and records in their custody and all other property of such county, incorporated city or town, governmental agency, or unincorporated territory in their hands or under their control, to the proper officers of the city and county of San Francisco; provided, however, that if any portion of said county of San Mateo shall be left unannexed to said city and county of San Francisco that the disposition of such moneys, funds, books, papers, archives and records so in the custody of such officers of said county of San Mateo, or of unincorporated territory so annexed, shall be determined by the legislature in its final action on the government of such unannexed territory as in this act provided for. Any regularly constituted superior court of this state existing at the time of such annexation, within such county of San Mateo or within such incorporated city or town, or unincorporated territory, so annexed, shall upon the consolidation of said territory as a part of said city and county of San Francisco under the terms of this act, become a regularly constituted superior court of the state in and for said city and county of San Francisco, and any person or persons so occupying the position of superior judge in any such annexed territory shall continue to occupy said position, as judge or judges of the superior court of the state in and for said city and county of San Francisco to the end of the term of office for which he or they may have been elected or appointed, with the same salary as theretofore attached to said position, and thereafter such position shall continue to be filled as provided by law, and at the same salary as fixed by law for the judges of the superior court in and for said city and county of San Francisco.

Upon completion of any annexation, as provided for in this act, of the county of San Mateo or of any incorporated city or town, or of any unincorporated territory, or governmental agency, the property, debts and liabilities of every description of said county, or incorporated city or town, or of any unincorporated territory, or governmental agency, shall be and become the property, debts and liabilities of such newly consolidated city and county of San Francisco.

§ 23. Debts, etc., in San Mateo county, cities, etc., not affected. Ordinances repealed. Pending cases transferred. Street proceedings continued. Any annexation provided for under the provisions of this act shall not affect any debts, demands, liabilities or obligations of any kind existing in favor of or against such county of San Mateo or such incorporated cities or towns, or such governmental agencies, so annexed, at the time of such annexation, or any action or proceeding then pending in any court in which any such debt, demand, liability or obligation of any kind may be involved, or any action or proceeding brought by or against such county, incorporated cities or towns or such governmental agencies, prior to such annexation, but all of such actions and proceedings shall be continued and concluded to final judgment or otherwise in all respects the same as if such annexation had not been effected; provided, however, that any such debt, demand, liability or obligation, in favor of or against such county, incorporated cities or towns, or such governmental agencies, so annexed shall, upon such annexation, be and become such a debt, demand, liability or obligation in favor of or against such newly consolidated city and county of San Francisco. All ordinances or resolutions of such county of San Mateo or of any such incorporated cities or towns, or such governmental agencies, so annexed under the provisions of this act, shall immediately upon such annexation becoming effective, be deemed to be repealed and of no further force and effect; provided, however, that such repeal shall not operate to discharge any person from any liability, civil or criminal, then existing, nor affect any prosecution then pending for any violation of any such ordinances, or resolutions, and all cases then pending in any justice's court, police court or court of any recorder or other judicial municipal magistrate or officer of such county, incorporated cities or towns, or such governmental agencies, so annexed shall, upon such annexation becoming effective, ipso facto, be deemed to be and be transferred to the justices' court, police court or other judicial municipal magistrate or officer of such city and county of San Francisco which has jurisdiction of proceedings or misdemeanors or of other actions civil or criminal of the character so transferred; provided, further, that such repeal shall not apply to ordinances or resolutions, under which vested rights have accrued or to ordinances or resolutions relating to proceedings for street or other public improvements, or to proceedings for improving, opening, extending, widening or straightening of streets or other public places, or to proceedings for changing the grade thereof, all of which proceedings shall be continued and conducted by and under the authority of the newly consolidated city and county of San Francisco with the same force and effect as if continued and conducted by and under the authority of the county of San Mateo or of any incorporated city or town by which they were commenced, and all ordinances and resolutions of said city and county of San Francisco shall, upon the completion of such annexation, ipso facto, have full force and effect in and throughout the said annexed territory.

§ 24. Taxes levied but not collected property of San Francisco. Condition. In the event that a tax for county purposes has been levied by the board of supervisors of the county of San Mateo or has been so levied for the purposes of any political subdivision, either by such board of supervisors or by any legislative body of any incorporated city or town, or other governmental agency, against property situated in territory which, subsequent to such levy, is annexed to said city and county of San Francisco under the provisions of this act, but which at the time of such annexation has not been collected, then all such taxes so uncollected shall be and become the property of the city and county of San Francisco; provided, however, that any such taxes which have been levied against the property of any district, for the purposes of such district, must be expended for the benefit of any territory so annexed and included in such a district, in accordance with the purposes of the levy of said tax. This section shall also apply to all such taxes not paid into the county treasury or any treasury of any incorporated city or town, or other political subdivision or governmental agency, prior to the taking effect of this act.

§ 25. Districts unchanged. Nothing in this act shall alter or affect the boundaries of any senatorial or assembly district, or of any congressional district.

§ 26. Expenses paid by city and county of San Francisco. All proper expenses of proceedings for annexation of territory to the city and county of San Francisco under this act shall, in the first instance, be paid by such city and county; provided, that if such annexation be not finally completed, then the expenses for such election incurred in any city or town or district which shall have voted in favor of said annexation, or in the county of San Mateo if said county shall have so voted, shall be returned to the said city and county of San Francisco by such city, town, or county holding such election.

§ 27. Duties performed by other than prescribed officials. With reference to any duties prescribed in this act to be performed by the legislative body or any other board, officer or department of the county of San Mateo or any incorporated city or town so proposed to be annexed under the terms of this act, or of said city and county of San Francisco, if the charter of any such incorporated city or town or of said city and county of San Francisco, or any law, imposes such duties upon any other board, officer or department of said county of San Mateo or of said incorporated city or town or of said city and county of San Francisco, as, upon a board of election commissioners or registrar of voters of said county of San Mateo, or of such incorporated city or town, or of said city and county of San Francisco, then such duties shall be so performed by such other board, officer or department upon which such duties are so imposed.

§ 28. Time for election. Any election provided for in this act may be held at a special election or at any general election.

§ 29. "Governmental agency" defined. The term "governmental agency" as used in this act shall be construed to include school districts, lighting districts, sanitary districts, or any other districts organized or authorized by law, of a special or quasi-municipal character.

§ 30. Constitutionality. If any section of this act other than section thirty-one thereof, or if any subsection, sentence, clause or phrase other than in said section thirty-one contained, is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. If, however, said section thirty-one, or any subsection, sentence, clause or phrase in said section thirty-one contained, is for any reason held to be unconstitutional or inoperative, then in that event the validity of all of the remaining portions of this act shall be deemed affected and invalidated thereby. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections other than said section thirty-one or any one or more subsections, sentences, clauses, or phrases other than in said section thirty-one contained, are declared unconstitutional. Furthermore, this legislature declares that it would not have passed this act, either in whole or in part, unless said section thirty-one was included and incorporated therein and made a part thereof, and it hereby further declares said section thirty-one, and every subsection, sentence, clause and phrase in said section thirty-one contained, to be a substantial and integral part of said act.

§ 31. Approval of constitutional amendment necessary. This act shall take effect upon, and only in event of, the ratification and approval by the people of the state of assembly constitutional amendment number two, being a resolution to propose to the people of the state of California to amend section eight and one-half of article eleven of the constitution of the state, relating to city charters and to provisions therein for municipal courts, submitted by the forty-second session of the legislature; and not otherwise.

§ 32. Title. This act may be designated and referred to as the "San Francisco-San Mateo Consolidation Act."

ACT 3348c.

An act to provide for the establishment of passenger transportation facilities upon The Embarcadero, in the city and county of San Francisco.

§ 1. Harbor commissioners may maintain passenger service on state railroad. The board of state harbor commissioners may when in its judgment the wants of commerce of the port of San Francisco requires, maintain passenger service upon the state railroad located upon The Embarcadero in the city and county of San Francisco; provided, that said board may make such further extensions of said service through, over, under and above lands within its jurisdiction, and through, over, under and above the waterfront as defined by section two thousand five hundred twenty-four of the Political Code, as said board may determine are demanded by public convenience and necessity; and provided, further, that if the establishment and maintenance of said passenger service upon such railroad shall, after careful investigation, be found by said board of state harbor commissioners to be impracticable, or not feasible, such board may establish or maintain such other passenger service or the means, facilities, or modern street improvement by which or over which such other passenger service can be operated and maintained by said board, or by other persons, firms, associations, or corporations thereunto authorized by said board.

§ 2. Acquiring facilities for passenger traffic. Said board of state harbor commissioners shall have power to acquire and furnish such facilities as are reasonable and necessary for the accommodation of passenger traffic upon said Embarcadero.

§ 3. Charges. Charges for carriage by said passenger service shall be made, fixed or determined by the state board of harbor commissioners; provided, however, that such charges shall not be greater than shall be necessary for the obtaining of sufficient revenue which, in connection with the other revenues of the port of San Francisco, shall be necessary for the maintenance of the commerce of the port including the maintenance of said passenger service.

§ 4. Added powers. The state board of harbor commissioners may obtain such added powers under existing licenses, grounds, permits or easements, or such future licenses, grounds, permits or easements, as may be necessary to secure the fulfillment of the object of this act.

ACT 3348d.

An act to authorize the board of state harbor commissioners to acquire by purchase, condemnation, gift, grant or cession, certain property in the city and county of San Francisco, including Mission Rock, and extending the jurisdiction of said board over the same, and providing for the payment for the same.

[Approved May 17, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 625. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Board of state harbor commissioners authorized to acquire certain property. For the purpose of acquiring additional area for the construction of docks, wharves, slips and piers and increasing the harbor facilities on the waterfront of the city and county of San Francisco, the board of state harbor commissioners is hereby authorized and empowered to acquire, when in its discretion it is deemed for the best interests of the harbor, by purchase, condemnation, gift, grant or cession, for and on behalf of the state of California, all that certain tract or parcel of land situated in the city and county of San Francisco, state of California, and particularly described as follows, to wit: Commencing at a point in the bay of San Francisco, distant three thousand five hundred seventy feet southeasterly from the southerly corner of Brannan and Second streets, as the same are laid down on the official map of said city, said distance being measured along the extension southeasterly of the southwesterly line of Second street; thence in a southwesterly direction, at right angles with said line of Second street extended, five hundred feet; thence at right angles southeasterly eight hundred feet; thence at right angles northeasterly eight hundred feet; thence at right angles northwesterly eight hundred feet; and thence at right angles southwesterly three hundred feet, to the point of commencement; said tract of land being a square, including the rock known as Mission Rock, together with the wharves and other improvements thereupon and the appurtenances thereunto belonging.

§ 2. Jurisdiction extended. The jurisdiction of said board shall be and it is hereby extended so as to include all of the land described in section one of this act.

§ 3. How acquired. The portion of said tract that is held in private ownership may be separately acquired by said board, and the portions that are owned by the United States of America may be separately acquired by said board, and said board is hereby authorized to accept from the United States a cession or gift or grant of said last-named portions, if the same can be obtained, or to acquire the same by purchase or condemnation, in its discretion.

§ 4. Action for condemnation. The board of state harbor commissioners may institute any action or actions that may be necessary, and prosecute the same to final judgment, for the condemnation of any portion, or portions, of the said tract of land, and the purposes herein mentioned are hereby declared to be a public use, in behalf of which the right of eminent domain may be exercised by the board of state harbor commissioners for and in the name of the people of the state of California, for the estates and rights specified in, and in the manner provided in part three, title seven of the Code of Civil Procedure of the state of California.

§ 5. Price payable from what funds. The board of state harbor commissioners is hereby authorized to pay the purchase price thereof, or any judgment rendered in pursuance hereof in such condemnation proceedings, by drafts drawn upon the controller of the state, who shall draw his warrant or warrants therefor on the state treasurer, payable out of any money in the state treasury to the credit of the "San Francisco harbor improvement fund" or of the "Third San Francisco seawall fund," or partly from one and partly from the other of said funds, in the discretion of said board of state harbor commissioners.

TITLE 476.

SANITARY DISTRICTS.

ACT 3349.

An act to provide for the formation, government, operation and dissolution of sanitary districts in any part of the state, for the construction of sewers and other sanitary purposes; the acquisition of property thereby; the calling and conducting of elections in such districts; the assessment, levy, collection, custody, and disbursement of taxes therein; the issuance and disposal of the bonds thereof, and the determination of their validity, and making provision for the payment of such bonds, and the disposal of their proceeds.

Amended 1893, p. 88; 1895, p. 85, but this amendment declared unconstitutional (In re Werner, 129 Cal. 567); also amended 1901, p. 633; 1903, p. 121; 1905, p. 94; 1907, p. 83; 1909, pp. 233, 583; 1911, pp. 301, 706; 1913, p. 344; 1919, p. 403.

The amendment of 1919 follows.

§ 22. Sewers may be built at cost of owners of frontage. Owners may object. Bids. Award of contract. Cost of improvements a lien on property. Definitions. The sanitary board shall have power at any time after main sewers, or other sewers are laid, to order and contract for the construction of a sewer in any street or part of a street of the district where a sewer is not already constructed, and to provide by such order that the cost thereof shall be borne by the property fronting along the line of the sewer as ordered; provided, however, that where only a portion of the property fronting along the line of sewer is affected or benefited by the construction of such sewer, then the sanitary board shall have power to provide by an order that the cost of construction of such main sewer shall be borne only by the property to be affected or benefited. Before ordering any work done, or improvement made, which is authorized by this section, the sanitary board shall pass a resolution of intention so to do and describing the work. The secretary of the board shall thereupon cause to be conspicuously posted along the line of said contemplated work or improvement, at not more than three hundred feet in distance apart, but not less than three in all, notices of the passage of said resolution. Said notices shall, in legible characters, state the fact of the passage of the resolution, its date and briefly the work or improvement proposed, and refer to the resolution for further particulars. He shall also cause a notice, similar in substance, to be published for a period of five consecutive days in a daily newspaper published and circulated in said district, and designated by said sanitary board, or by one insertion in a weekly newspaper so published, circulated and designated. If there be no newspaper published and circulated in said district, then and in that case said secretary shall post said notices in three public places in said district, in addition to said posting along the line of said work or improvement. Any owner of property fronting upon said proposed work or improvement may make a written objection to the same within fifteen days from and after the first publication of said notice, or from and after the day of the posting of said notice if the same cannot be pub lished as herein provided, which objection shall be delivered to the secretary of the sanitary board, who shall indorse thereon the date of its reception by him. The sanitary board shall, at its next meeting after the time for presentation of objections has expired, fix a time for hearing said objections, not less than one week thereafter. The secretary of the sanitary board shall thereupon notify the person or persons making such objection, by depositing a notice thereof in the United States postoffice in said district, or if there be none in said district, then in the one nearest thereto, postage prepaid, addressed to each objector, or his agent, when such objector appears by agent. At the time specified said sanitary board shall hear the objections urged, and pass upon the same, and its decision shall be final and conclusive. Upon such decision or at the expiration of the said fifteen days, if no written objection to the work therein described has been made as aforesaid by any owner of the property fronting on said work or improvement, the sanitary board shall be deemed to have acquired jurisdiction to order any work to be done, or improvement to be made, authorized by said resolution and this section. After said sanitary board has acquired jurisdiction to do such work and make such improvement, it may order the work done and improvement made, and provide in such order a time for receiving bids, and likewise authorize the president and secretary of the sanitary board to enter into a contract for the performance of said work and making of said improvement. Such order shall be published for a period of five consecutive days in a daily newspaper published and circulated in said district, and designated by said sanitary board, or by one insertion in a weekly newspaper so published, circulated and designated, and in case there be no such newspaper published and circulated in said district, then and in that event such order shall be posted in at least three public places in said district; and at the opening of said bids the board must award the contract to the lowest responsible bidder, or may reject any and all bids and advertise for bids and upon the opening of such bids award the contract to the lowest responsible bidder, unless the board is satisfied there is collusion between bidders when it may again reject the bids and again advertise for bids until they are satisfied the bids are fair and not made under collusion or fraud when it must award the contract. And in case such order is made and such contract is let, then the cost of such work and improvement done under such contract shall become a lien upon and shall be assessed against such blocks, lots and lands fronting upon said work and improvement as would be assessable for said work and improvement under the provisions of that certain act entitled "An act to provide for work upon streets, lanes, alleys, courts, places, and sidewalks, and for the construction of sewers within municipalities," approved March eighteenth, eighteen hundred eighty-five, and acts amendatory and supplemental thereto, and the manner, method and mode of such assessment and collection of such assessment and foreclosure of such lien shall be made in accordance with the provisions of section six and subsequent of said act and acts supplemental and amendatory to such provisions; provided, however, that the words "city council" used in said act shall be understood to mean "sanitary board"; the words "superintendent of streets" and "city engineer" shall be understood to mean "the engineer of such sanitary district"; the words

"city" and "municipality" shall be understood to mean "sanitary district"; the words "clerk" and "city clerk" shall be understood to mean "secretary of said sanitary board"; the term "treasurer" or "city treasurer" shall be understood to mean any person or officer who shall have charge of and make payment of the funds of such sanitary district; and further provided, that all the powers and duties conferred by the said provisions of said act and acts amendatory and supplemental thereof upon city councils, superintendent of streets, clerks and city clerks, and treasurers and engineers and city engineers are hereby conferred and imposed upon the respective officers and board above specified. [Amendment approved May 8, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 403.]

An act to provide for the formation, government, operation, reorganization, dissolution and alteration of boundaries of sanitary districts in any part of the state, for the construction of sewers, septic tanks, and other sanitary disposal of sewerage matter; the acquisition of property thereby, the calling and conducting of elections in such districts; the assessment, levying, collection, custody, and disbursement of taxes therein; the issuance, disposal and retirement of the bonds thereof, and the determination of their validity and making provision for the payment of such bonds, and the disposal of their proceeds.

§ 1. Petition to organize sanitary district. Whenever twenty-five persons in any county of the state shall desire the formation of a sanitary district within the county, they may present to the board of supervisors of such county a petition, in writing, signed by them, stating the name of the proposed district, and setting forth the boundaries thereof, and praying that an election be held as provided by this act. Each of the petitioners must be a resident and freeholder within the proposed district.

§ 2. Order calling election. When such petition is presented as above provided, the board of supervisors must, within thirty days thereafter, order that an election be held as provided by this act. The order must fix the day of such election, which must be within sixty days from the date of the order, and must show the boundaries of the proposed district, and must state that at such election persons to fill the offices provided by this act, viz., a sanitary assessor, and five members of the sanitary board, will be voted for. This order shall be entered in the minutes of the board, and shall be conclusive evidence of the due presentation of a proper petition, and of the fact that each of the petitioners was, at the time of the signature and presentation of such petition, a resident and freeholder within the limits of the proposed district.

§ 3. Posting and publishing of order. A copy of such order shall be posted for four successive weeks prior to the election, in three public places within the proposed district, and shall be published for four successive weeks prior to the election in some newspaper published in the proposed district, if there be one, and if not, in some newspaper pub lished in the county. It shall be sufficient if the order be published once a week.

§ 4. Conduct of election. If majority vote in favor. If majority vote against. The board of supervisors, at least fifteen days prior to the election, shall select one, and may select two, polling places within the proposed district, and make all suitable arrangements for the holding of such election. They must appoint one inspector and two judges of election in each polling place, who shall constitute the officers of said election; if none are so appointed or if those appointed are not present at the time of the opening of the polls, the electors present may appoint them and they shall conduct the election. The ballots shall contain the words, "for a sanitary district," or "against a sanitary district," as the case may be, and also the names of the persons to be voted for at said election. At such election there shall be elected a sanitary assessor and five persons for members of the sanitary board. Such election, and all subsequent elections in said district, shall be conducted as nearly as practicable in accordance with the general election laws of the state, except that the provisions of said laws as to the form of ballots and the making of nominations shall not apply. Every qualified elector, resident within the proposed district for the period requisite to enable him to vote at a general election, shall be entitled to vote at the election above provided for. If a majority of the votes cast at such election shall be in favor of a sanitary district, the board of supervisors shall make and cause to be entered in the minutes of said board an order that a sanitary district of the name and with the boundaries stated in the petition (setting forth such boundaries) has been duly established, and said order shall be conclusive evidence of the fact and regularity of all prior proceedings of every kind and nature provided for by this act or by law, and of the existence and validity of the sanitary district. If a majority of the votes cast shall be against a sanitary district, the board shall by order entered in its minutes, so declare; no other proceeding shall be taken in relation thereto until the expiration of one year from the date of the presentation of the petition to said board.

§ 5. Powers of sanitary district. Every sanitary district formed under the provisions of this act shall have power to have and use a common seal, alterable at the pleasure of the sanitary board; to sue and be sued by its name; to construct, reconstruct, alter, enlarge, lay, renew, replace and maintain such sewers, drains, septic tanks and other drainage and sewer disposal system as in the judgment of the sanitary board shall be necessary or proper, and for this purpose to acquire by purchase, gift, devise, condemnation proceedings, or otherwise, such real and personal property and rights of way, either within or without the limits of the district, as in the judgment of the sanitary board shall be necessary or proper, and to pay for and hold the same; to make and accept any and all contracts, deeds, releases, and documents of any kind which, in the judgment of the sanitary board, shall be necessary or proper to the exercise of any of the powers of the district, and to direct the payment of all lawful claims and demands against it; to issue bonds as hereinafter provided, and to assess, levy, and collect taxes to pay the principal and interest of the same, and the cost of laying and the expense of maintaining any sewer or sewers that may be constructed subsequent to the issuance of said bonds or any lawful claims against said district, and the running expenses of the district; in all work for the construction and repairs upon such sewers, septic tanks, drains and other drainage and sewer disposal system when the expenditure required for the same exceeds the sum of two hundred dollars, the same shall be done by contract, and shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder, after notice by publication in a newspaper of general circulation, printed and published in such district, for at least two weeks, or by printing and posting the same in at least four public places therein for the same period, as the sanitary board may direct; such notice shall distinctly and specifically state the work contemplated to be done; provided, that the sanitary board may reject any and all bids presented and readvertise in their discretion; provided, however, that in cases of emergency said notice may be dispensed with and the contract let for said repair or said work may be done by day's labor and the material therefor purchased in the open market; to employ all necessary agents and assistants, and pay the same; to lay its sewers, and drains in any public street or road of the county, and for this purpose enter upon the same and make all necessary and proper excavations, restoring the same to proper condition; but in case such street or road shall be in an incorporated city or town the consent of the lawful authorities thereof shall first be obtained; to make and enforce all necessary and proper regulations for the removal of garbage, and the cleanliness of the roads and streets of the district, and all other sanitary regulations not in conflict with the constitution or laws of the state; any violation of any such regulations or ordinances is hereby declared to be a misdemeanor punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both; but no such fine shall exceed the sum of one hundred dollars; and no such imprisonment shall exceed one month; to call, hold and conduct all elections necessary or proper after the formation of the district; to prescribe, by order, the time, mode and manner of assessing, levying, and collecting taxes for sanitary purposes, except as otherwise provided herein; to compel all residents and property owners within the district to connect their houses and habitations with the street sewers, drains or other sewerage disposal system; and generally to do and perform any and all acts necessary or proper to the complete exercise and effect of any of its powers, or the purposes for which it was formed.

§ 6. Officers. The officers of the district shall be a sanitary assessor and five members of the sanitary board.

§ 7. Sanitary assessor. There shall be an election for sanitary assessor on every even-numbered year in which members of the sanitary board are elected, and at the same time, place and manner; and the person then elected shall hold office for two years next thereafter, and until the election and qualification of his successor. The person elected assessor at the election at which the district was formed shall hold office until the election and qualification of his successor; provided, that if at any time a vacancy occur in the office of assessor, the sanitary board shall appoint a suitable person to fill such vacancy until the next elec tion at which an assessor may be elected under the provisions of this act.

§ 8. List of property in district. It shall be the duty of the sanitary assessor to make out, before the first Monday in July of each year, a list of all the tangible real and personal property within the district; he shall list the tangible real and personal property in any annexed district separately. Such list shall contain a general description of the property; said description shall be identical with said descriptions of the same properties as contained on the county assessment list for the current year, an assessment of the value thereof, the name or names of the owner or owners, and such other matters as may be ordered by the sanitary board and such matters as shall be necessary to make such list conform to the provisions of the general laws of the state of California. The land shall be assessed separately from the improvements thereon. No mistake in the name of the owner of any of the real or personal property assessed, or any informality in the description, or in other parts of the assessment, shall invalidate the same. The sanitary assessor shall verify said list by his oath, before some officer authorized to administer oaths, and shall deposit the same with the sanitary board on the first Monday of July of each year, or as soon thereafter as is practicable. He shall have power to administer all oaths and affirmations necessary or proper in the performance of his duty as assessor, and shall receive such compensation as shall be fixed by the order of the board. He shall also perform such further duties and do such further acts as may be ordered or required by the sanitary board.

§ 9. Election and term of sanitary board. Compensation. Canvass of vote. There shall be an election for two members of the sanitary board in every even-numbered year, beginning with the second even-numbered year after the election at which the district was organized, and the two members then to be elected shall hold office until the election and qualification of their successors in the next even-numbered year; and there shall be an election for three members of the sanitary board in every odd-numbered year, beginning with the second odd-numbered year, after the election at which the district was organized, and the three members then to be elected shall hold office until the election and qualification of their successors in the next odd-numbered year. The five members elected at the election at which the district was organized shall, at their first meeting, or as soon thereafter as may be practicable, so classify themselves, by lot, that two of them shall go out of office in the second even-numbered year after the election at which the district was organized, and upon the election and qualification of their successors, as provided by this act each of the members of the sanitary board shall receive for each attendance of the meeting of the sanitary board, five dollars, and shall receive no other compensation, no member of the sanitary board, however, shall receive pay for more than one meeting in any calendar month. All elections for officers, after the formation of the district shall be held on the first Monday after the first Tuesday in the month of March. Not less than twenty days before the day of such election the sanitary board must give notice of said election by posting notices thereof in three public places in the sanitary district, which notices must specify the time and place of election, the hours during which the polls will be kept open, and the officers to be elected. They shall select one, and may select two, polling places within the district; shall appoint one inspector and two judges of election in each polling place, and make all necessary and proper arrangements for holding the election. Said election officers shall constitute the election board. If no election officers are so appointed, or if those appointed are not present at the time of the opening of the polls, the electors present may appoint them and they shall conduct the election. Such election shall be conducted as nearly as practicable in accordance with the general election laws of the state, except that the requirements of said laws as to the form of ballots and the making of nominations of candidates shall not apply. Every qualified elector resident within the district for the period requisite to enable him to vote at a general election, shall be entitled to vote at the election. At such election the last great register of the county shall be used, and any elector whose name is not upon such great register shall be entitled to vote upon producing and filing with the board of election a certificate, under the hand and seal of the county clerk, showing that his name is registered and uncanceled upon the great register of such county, provided that he is otherwise entitled to vote.

The officers of the election must publicly canvass the votes immediately after the closing of the polls, and must certify the result within twenty-four hours after the closing of the polls to the sanitary board. Said board shall within five days after the election canvass said returns, and shall make, sign and deliver certificates of election to the persons or persons elected.

§ 10. Powers of sanitary board. Officers. The sanitary board shall be the governing power of the district, and shall exercise all the powers thereof, except the making of an assessment list in the first instance as herein provided. At its first meeting, or as soon thereafter as may be practicable, the board shall choose one of its members as president, and another of its members as secretary. And all contracts, deeds, warrants, releases, receipts, and documents of every kind shall be signed in the name of the district by its president, and shall be countersigned by its secretary. The board shall hold such meetings, either in the day or in the evening, as may be convenient. In case of the absence or inability to act of the president or secretary, the board shall, by order entered upon the minutes, choose a president pro tem., or secretary pro tem., or both as the case may be.

§ 11. Equalization of assessments. Fixing tax rate. Tax a lien on property assessed. Limit on amount of bonds. On the first Monday of July each year, at the hour of 7:30 o'clock P. M., the sanitary board shall meet at its usual place of meeting within said district, and proceed to organize itself into a board of equalization, and if the sanitary assessor has returned the assessment list for said year said board shall proceed to equalize the property so assessed and returned by said sanitary assessor. If said assessment list has not been returned by said sanitary assessor said board must adjourn from day to day until said assessment list has been returned, and for the purpose of adjournment one or more of the members of said board present may make said adjournment and announce the same. Upon the assessment list having been returned by the assessor, said board of equalization shall proceed to equalize the property listed on said assessment list, and said board shall continue in session as a board of equalization until the property upon the entire list returned by the assessor shall have been examined, rectified and equalized, with such reasonable intermissions during the day and from day to day as may be expedient. The board shall have power to hear complaints as to the proceedings of the assessor, and to adjudicate and determine the controversy thereon, and may of its own motion raise an assessment, after such reasonable notice to the party whose assessment is to be raised, as may be ordered by the board. After the examination and rectification of the assessor's list shall have been completed, the board shall, by resolution, fix the rate of taxation for sanitary purposes, designating the number of cents on each one hundred dollars to be levied for each fund and shall designate the fund into which the same shall be paid; but no more than fifteen cents on each one hundred dollars shall be levied for all the sanitary purposes of any one year, besides what shall be required for the payment of the principal and interest of such year upon outstanding bonds. After the entry in the minutes of the resolution fixing the rate of taxation the sanitary board shall cause the assessor to compute the amount of the tax upon each piece of real and personal property, and enter the same upon the assessment list in a suitable place. The list, when so completed, shall be verified by the assessor and signed by the president and secretary; and the amount of the tax shall thereupon become a lien upon the property upon which it is assessed, and shall have the effect of a judgment against the person of the owner thereof, and every such lien shall have the force and effect of an execution duly levied against all the property of the delinquent; and the judgment shall not be deemed satisfied or the lien extinguished until the taxes are paid or the property sold to satisfy the same, and no statute of limitations shall apply. No bonds shall be voted for or issued at any one time, which in the aggregate shall exceed fifteen per cent of the assessed value of all the real and personal property of such district; whether it be made up of one issue of bonds or of several issues.

§ 12. Duty of county tax collector. Duty of district attorney. Redemption of property sold for delinquent taxes. As soon as practicable, but not later than the third Monday in July, after the taxes have been computed and extended on the assessment list, verified by the assessor and signed by the president and secretary of said board, the board shall transmit, or cause the assessor to transmit, a duplicate of the list so made, to the tax collector of the county, who shall collect the taxes shown by said list to be due, in the same manner as he collects the county taxes, and all the provisions of the laws of the state as to the collection of taxes and delinquent taxes, and the enforcement of the payment thereof, so far as applicable, shall apply to the collection of taxes for sanitary purposes; and said tax collector, and the sureties on his official bond, shall be responsible for the due performance of the duties imposed upon him by this act; provided, that the sanitary board may, in its discretion, direct the district attorney of the county which notices must specify the time and place of election, the hours during which the polls will be kept open, and the officers to be elected. They shall select one, and may select two, polling places within the district; shall appoint one inspector and two judges of election in each polling place, and make all necessary and proper arrangements for holding the election. Said election officers shall constitute the election board. If no election officers are so appointed, or if those appointed are not present at the time of the opening of the polls, the electors present may appoint them and they shall conduct the election. Such election shall be conducted as nearly as practicable in accordance with the general election laws of the state, except that the requirements of said laws as to the form of ballots and the making of nominations of candidates shall not apply. Every qualified elector resident within the district for the period requisite to enable him to vote at a general election, shall be entitled to vote at the election. At such election the last great register of the county shall be used, and any elector whose name is not upon such great register shall be entitled to vote upon producing and filing with the board of election a certificate, under the hand and seal of the county clerk, showing that his name is registered and uncanceled upon the great register of such county, provided that he is otherwise entitled to vote.

The officers of the election must publicly canvass the votes immediately after the closing of the polls, and must certify the result within twenty-four hours after the closing of the polls to the sanitary board. Said board shall within five days after the election canvass said returns, and shall make, sign and deliver certificates of election to the persons or persons elected.

§ 10. Powers of sanitary board. Officers. The sanitary board shall be the governing power of the district, and shall exercise all the powers thereof, except the making of an assessment list in the first instance as herein provided. At its first meeting, or as soon thereafter as may be practicable, the board shall choose one of its members as president, and another of its members as secretary. And all contracts, deeds, warrants, releases, receipts, and documents of every kind shall be signed in the name of the district by its president, and shall be countersigned by its secretary. The board shall hold such meetings, either in the day or in the evening, as may be convenient. In case of the absence or inability to act of the president or secretary, the board shall, by order entered upon the minutes, choose a president pro tem., or secretary pro tem., or both as the case may be.

§ 11. Equalization of assessments. Fixing tax rate. Tax a lien on property assessed. Limit on amount of bonds. On the first Monday of July each year, at the hour of 7:30 o'clock P. M., the sanitary board shall meet at its usual place of meeting within said district, and proceed to organize itself into a board of equalization, and if the sanitary assessor has returned the assessment list for said year said board shall proceed to equalize the property so assessed and returned by said sanitary assessor. If said assessment list has not been returned by said sanitary assessor said board must adjourn from day to day until said assessment list has been returned, and for the purpose of adjournment one or more of the members of said board present may make said adjournment and announce the same. Upon the assessment list having been returned by the assessor, said board of equalization shall proceed to equalize the property listed on said assessment list, and said board shall continue in session as a board of equalization until the property upon the entire list returned by the assessor shall have been examined, rectified and equalized, with such reasonable intermissions during the day and from day to day as may be expedient. The board shall have power to hear complaints as to the proceedings of the assessor, and to adjudicate and determine the controversy thereon, and may of its own motion raise an assessment, after such reasonable notice to the party whose assessment is to be raised, as may be ordered by the board. After the examination and rectification of the assessor's list shall have been completed, the board shall, by resolution, fix the rate of taxation for sanitary purposes, designating the number of cents on each one hundred dollars to be levied for each fund and shall designate the fund into which the same shall be paid; but no more than fifteen cents on each one hundred dollars shall be levied for all the sanitary purposes of any one year, besides what shall be required for the payment of the principal and interest of such year upon outstanding bonds. After the entry in the minutes of the resolution fixing the rate of taxation the sanitary board shall cause the assessor to compute the amount of the tax upon each piece of real and personal property, and enter the same upon the assessment list in a suitable place. The list, when so completed, shall be verified by the assessor and signed by the president and secretary; and the amount of the tax shall thereupon become a lien upon the property upon which it is assessed, and shall have the effect of a judgment against the person of the owner thereof, and every such lien shall have the force and effect of an execution duly levied against all the property of the delinquent; and the judgment shall not be deemed satisfied or the lien extinguished until the taxes are paid or the property sold to satisfy the same, and no statute of limitations shall apply. No bonds shall be voted for or issued at any one time, which in the aggregate shall exceed fifteen per cent of the assessed value of all the real and personal property of such district; whether it be made up of one issue of bonds or of several issues.

§ 12. Duty of county tax collector. Duty of district attorney. Redemption of property sold for delinquent taxes. As soon as practicable, but not later than the third Monday in July, after the taxes have been computed and extended on the assessment list, verified by the assessor and signed by the president and secretary of said board, the board shall transmit, or cause the assessor to transmit, a duplicate of the list so made, to the tax collector of the county, who shall collect the taxes shown by said list to be due, in the same manner as he collects the county taxes, and all the provisions of the laws of the state as to the collection of taxes and delinquent taxes, and the enforcement of the payment thereof, so far as applicable, shall apply to the collection of taxes for sanitary purposes; and said tax collector, and the sureties on his official bond, shall be responsible for the due performance of the duties imposed upon him by this act; provided, that the sanitary board may, in its discretion, direct the district attorney of the county to commence and prosecute suits for the collection of the whole, or any portion of the delinquent taxes; and it shall be the duty of the district attorney to carry out such directions of the sanitary board, and he, and the sureties upon his official bond, shall be responsible for the due performance of the duty imposed upon him by this act.

All money collected for sanitary purposes by the district attorney under this act shall be at once paid to the county treasurer; provided, further, that the sanitary board may, at any time, by order entered in its minutes, provide a system for the collection of delinquent taxes, or make any change in the manner of their collection, which as to such taxes shall have the force of law. Whenever any property is sold for delinquent sanitary taxes, under the provisions of this act, the tax collector shall file with the county recorder, at the expense of the purchaser, a copy of the certificate of such sale; and when at any time redemption is made of any property which has been sold for delinquent sanitary taxes the redemption officer of the sanitary district shall immediately forward a copy of the redemption certificate to the county recorder and the county recorder shall inscribe or stamp upon the margin of the certificate of sale of said property then on file in his office, the word "redeemed," together with the date, the amount paid, and the name of the party redeeming said property; and further provided, that whenever the tax collector issues a deed to the purchaser of any property sold for delinquent sanitary taxes, the said tax collector shall forward a copy of the deed to the county recorder, and the county recorder shall then inscribe or stamp upon the margin of the certificate of sale of said property then on file in his office, the words "deeded to," together with the date, and the name of the party to whom said deed was issued. In the event that property upon which sanitary district taxes have become delinquent is, on account of such delinquency, sold by the tax collector, and a deed therefor is issued to any person other than the state of California, the party who was of record as the owner of such property at the time of such sale and of such issuance of such deed, is hereby granted the right to redeem said property from the tax title purchaser thereof, at any time within a period of five years from and after the issuance of such deed, by the payment to the said tax title purchaser of the amount for which the said property was to him sold by the tax collector and an additional premium which shall not be greater than one hundred per cent of the said purchase price. It is hereby declared to be unlawful for any person or persons who have purchased at a delinquent tax sale any property which is sold for delinquent sanitary taxes, to demand for its redemption any sum greater than the amount which is by this act specified; or to refuse to redeem any such property to the party who was the owner thereof at the time of such delinquent tax sale, when proper tender is made, within five years after date of such sale, of an amount which is not greater than the amount which is by this act permitted.

§ 13. Funds kept by county treasurer. The tax collector shall pay over to the county treasurer all moneys collected by him for sanitary purposes, as fast as the same shall be collected, and the said treasurer shall keep the same in the county treasury as follows: In a fund called the bond fund of sanitary district (naming it) he shall place and keep the moneys levied by the sanitary board for such fund; and no part of the money in this fund shall be transferred to any other fund, or be used for any other purpose than the payment of the principal and interest of the bonds of the sanitary district, and for the retirement of bonds which had been issued by a district which formerly formed a part of the sanitary district as hereinafter provided for, so long as any such bonds shall be unpaid; in a fund called the running expense of sanitary district (naming it) he shall place and keep the moneys levied by the sanitary board for such fund. The whole or any part of the money in the running expense fund may be transferred to the bond fund, or to the other fund hereinafter provided for, upon the order of the sanitary board, and it shall be the duty of the treasurer to comply with such order. The treasurer shall pay out moneys from either of said funds, or from the fund hereinafter mentioned, only upon the written order of the sanitary board, signed by the president and countersigned by the secretary, which order shall specify the name of the person to whom the money is to be paid and the fund from which it is to be paid, and shall state generally the purpose for which the payment is made, and such order shall be entered in the minutes of the sanitary board. The treasurer shall keep the order as his voucher, and shall keep a specific account of his receipts and disbursements of money for sanitary purposes. The treasurer and sureties upon his official bond shall be liable for the due performance of the duties imposed upon him by this act. The treasurer shall keep the money arising from the sale of bonds in the fund hereinafter mentioned.

§ 14. Bond election. At any time after the district is organized the sanitary board, by order entered in the minutes, may, when in its judgment it is advisable, and must, upon a petition of a majority of the qualified electors residing in the district, call an election and submit to the electors of the district the question whether the bonds of such district shall be issued and sold for the purpose of raising money for construction, reconstruction, alteration, laying, renewing, replacing or enlargement of sewers, drains or septic tanks or other drainage or sewer system, whether the same be for a system of the same nature as or of a different nature than the system already installed or constructed for the disposal of sewage.

The order calling such election shall be valid and effectual when signed by two-thirds of the members of said sanitary board, and may so submit to said electors as one proposal the question of issuing bonds to make all said outlays, or so many of them as may be selected, or said order may submit at said election as separate questions the issuance of bonds for any of said outlays singly or in such combinations as the order may direct.

§ 15. Notice of election. Notice of such election shall be given by posting notices, signed by the board, or by a majority thereof, in three public places in the district, not less than twenty days before the election; and by publishing such notice not less than once a week for three successive weeks before the election in a newspaper printed and published in the district, if any newspaper is published therein, and if not, in a newspaper printed and published in the county.

§ 16. Contents of notice. Such notice shall contain:

1. Time and place of holding such election.
2. The names of the officers of election appointed to conduct the same.
3. The hours during the day in which the polls will be open.
4. A statement of the purpose for which the election is held.
5. The amount and denomination of the proposed bonds, the rate of interest and the number of years, not exceeding forty, the whole or any part of said bonds are to run.

§ 17. Conduct of election. Two-thirds vote. At any time prior to the day fixed for the election, the board shall select one, and may select two, polling places within the district, appoint one inspector and two judges of the election for each polling place, and make all necessary and proper arrangements for holding the election. If no election officers are appointed, or if those appointed are not present at the time for opening the polls, the electors present may appoint them and they shall conduct the election. The vote must be by ballot (without reference to the general election law in regard to form of ballot). The ballot shall contain the words "Bonds—Yes" and "Bonds—No," and the persons voting at said bond elections shall put a cross (X) upon their ballots with pencil or ink after the words "Bonds—Yes" or "Bonds—No" (as the case may be) to indicate whether they have voted for or against the issuance of bonds.

The elections shall be conducted in accordance with the general election laws of the state, so far as the same shall be applicable, except as herein otherwise provided.

Every qualified elector resident within the district for the length of time necessary to enable him to vote at a general election shall be entitled to vote at the elections above provided for. After the votes shall have been announced the ballots shall be sealed up and delivered to the secretary or president of the sanitary board, which board shall on the seventh day after the election, at eight o'clock P. M., meet and canvass the returns of the election, and if it appears that two-thirds of the votes cast at said election were in favor of issuing such bonds, then the board shall cause an entry of that fact to be made upon its minutes. Such entry shall be conclusive evidence of the fact and regularity of all prior proceedings of every kind and nature provided by this act or by law, and of the facts stated in such entry. If, at such election, two-thirds of the votes cast be in favor of the issuance of bonds as proposed by the sanitary board, the said board shall thenceforth have full power and authority to issue and dispose of bonds as proposed in the order calling the election; provided, that the total amount of bonds so issued shall not exceed ten per cent of the assessed value of all real and personal property of the district, as shown by the last equalized assessment-book of the county.

§ 18. Form of bonds. All bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be of such denominations as the sanitary board may determine, except that no bonds shall be of a less denomination than one hundred dollars, nor of a greater denomination than one thousand dollars. Said bonds shall be payable in gold coin of the United States at the office of the county treasurer of the county wherein said district is situated, and shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, which interest shall be payable semi-annually in like gold coin. Not less than one-fortieth part of the total issue of bonds shall be payable each year, on a day to be specified by the sanitary board, but no bonds shall be payable in installments, but each bond issued hereunder shall be payable in full on the date specified therein by said board. Each bond shall be signed by the president and countersigned by the secretary of the sanitary board, and said bonds shall be numbered consecutively, beginning with number one, and shall have coupons attached referring to the number of the bond to which they are attached, which coupons shall be signed by the president and countersigned by the secretary of said board. The bonds must be disposed of by the sanitary board in such manner and in such quantities as may be determined by said board in its discretion, but no bond must be disposed of for less than its face value. The proceeds of such sale shall be deposited with the county treasurer and shall be by him placed in the fund, to be called the sewer construction fund of — sanitary district (naming it); the money in such fund shall be used for the purpose indicated in the order calling the election upon the question of the issuance of the bonds, and for no other purpose; provided, that if after such purposes are entirely fulfilled any balance remain in such fund, such balance may, upon the order of the sanitary board, be transferred to either of the other funds provided by this act.

§ 19. Exchange of bonds. If the result of the election be against the issuance of bonds, no other election upon the question shall be called or held for a period of one year. After a district organized under the act of 1891, mentioned in section thirty-one hereof, shall have been reorganized under this act as provided in said section thirty-one hereof, the entire amount of unredeemed bonds issued by such districts under the provisions of said act of 1891 may be presented by the holder or holders thereof to the sanitary board organized under the provision of this act or to sanitary districts reorganized under the provision of section thirty-one of this act, and there shall be exchanged therefor and issued in lieu thereof to such holder or holders, by the sanitary board organized under the provision of this act or to sanitary districts reorganized under the provision of section thirty-one of this act, bonds issued in accordance herewith for the various amounts of the bonds so surrendered; it being the intention hereof to permit the surrender of sanitary district bonds heretofore issued payable in installments by the holder thereof, and the exchange therefor of a like amount of bonds of such sanitary district having a denomination equal to the installments payable under one or more of the bonds heretofore issued by any one sanitary district; said new bonds to be payable as nearly as practicable at the same time as said installments and in equal amounts; the amount of said new bonds issued in lieu of said old bonds to be payable in any one year to equal the amount of the installments on said old bonds payable in such year. All expenses of the exchange shall be borne by the holder of the bonds presented for exchange, and interest on the new bonds shall be paid at the same time and rate as on the old bonds. Upon such exchange being effected the old bonds shall be canceled by punching holes in the signatures thereto attached, and shall be retained by the treasurer of said county as evidence of such cancellation.

§ 20. Tax to pay interest and principal. Payment within forty years. The sanitary board of each district shall annually levy a tax upon the taxable property in the district sufficient to pay the interest of said bonds for the year, and such portion of the principal as is due or is to become due during such year, and in any event the tax must be high enough to raise annually a proportion of the principal of said bonds equal to the sum produced by dividing the whole amount of said bonds outstanding by the number of years said bonds then have to run, so that the entire amount of principal and interest of said bonds shall be paid at or before maturity, and in any event within forty years of the date of issuance of the bonds; and it is hereby made the duty of the tax collector, or such other person as may be charged with the duty of collecting the sanitary taxes, to collect the said taxes so to be levied, and the duty of the sanitary board to order the same to be paid in manner and form as provided by this act, and the duty of the county treasurer to pay the same. If, for any reason, any portion of the tax for any year remains unpaid, and in consequence thereof any portion of the interest or principal due for any year remains unpaid, the same shall be added to the levy for the next year, and be collected and paid accordingly. The payment of the whole amount of the principal and interest of all of said bonds, within forty years from their issuance, is hereby made the imperative duty of the district; and, if necessary for that purpose, a special tax shall be levied; and it is hereby made the duty of every officer and board to do his or its respective part towards the levy, collection, and payment of such tax; and mandamus shall issue from the superior court of the county in which the district is situated, or from any other competent court, upon application of any party interested, for the purpose of compelling the performance of the duty imposed by this act upon any and all officers or boards.

§ 21. Action to determine validity of bonds. If the result of any election upon the question of the issuance of bonds be in favor of such issuance, the sanitary board may, in their discretion, before such issuance, commence, in the superior court of the county, a special proceeding to determine their right to issue such bonds and the validity thereof, similar to the proceeding in relation to irrigation bonds, provided for by an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization and government of irrigation districts and to provide for the acquisition or construction thereby or works for the irrigation of the lands embraced within such districts, and, also, to provide for the distribution of water for irrigation purposes," approved March 31, 1897; and all acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto and all the provisions of said act shall apply to and govern the proceedings so to be commenced by the sanitary board, so far as the same are applicable; and said proceedings shall be in accordance with the provisions of said act, so far as the same are applicable, and the judgment in such proceedings shall have the same effect as a judgment in relation to irrigation bonds under the provisions of said act.

§ 22. Publication of orders. Any general regulation of the sanitary board shall be by order entered in the minutes, but such order shall be published once a week for one week in some newspaper published within the district, if there be one, and if there be no such newspaper then such order shall be posted for one week in three public places within the district. A subsequent order of the board that such publication or posting has been duly made shall be conclusive evidence that such publication or posting has been properly made. Orders not establishing a general regulation need not be published or posted (unless otherwise provided by this act), but shall be entered in the minutes, and the entry shall be signed by the secretary of the board. A general regulation shall take effect immediately upon the expiration of the week of publication or posting thereof. An ordinary order shall take effect upon the entry in the minutes.

§ 23. Duty of district attorney. The board may instruct the district attorney of the county to commence and prosecute any and all actions and proceedings necessary or proper to enforce any of its regulations or orders, and may call upon said district attorney for advice as to any sanitary subject; and it shall be the duty of the district attorney to obey such instructions and to give advice when called on by the board therefor. The board may at any time employ special counsel for any purpose. All fines for the violation of any regulation or order of the sanitary board shall, after the expenses of the prosecution are paid therefrom, be paid to the secretary of the board, who shall forthwith deposit the same with the county treasurer, who shall place the same in the running expense fund of the district.

§ 24. Dissolution of district. The district may at any time be dissolved upon the vote of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof, upon an election called by the sanitary board upon the question of dissolution. Such election shall be called and conducted in the same manner as other elections of the district. Upon such or any other dissolution the property of the district lying within the corporate limits of any city or town shall vest absolutely in the incorporated city or town; and if the whole or a portion of the property of the district is without the corporate limits of an incorporated city or town the whole or the portion of the property of the district that lies without the corporate limits of the city or town shall vest in the board of supervisors of the county until the formation of a city or town; embracing the territory lying without such incorporated city or town; provided, however, that if at the time of such election to dissolve such district there be any outstanding bonded indebtedness of such district, then, in such event, the vote to dissolve the district shall dissolve the same for all purposes, excepting only the levy and collection of taxes for the payment of such indebtedness and for the payment of the expenses of assessing, levying and collecting the same, and the expense of maintenance of said sewer system, and from the time such district is thus or otherwise dissolved, until such bonded indebtedness, with the interest thereon, is fully paid, satisfied and discharged, the legislative authority of said incorporated city or town, where the property of the district lies wholly within the corporate limits of an incorporated city or town, and in all other cases the board of supervisors are hereby constituted, ex officio, the sanitary board of such district. And it is hereby made obligatory upon such board or legislative authority to levy such taxes and perform such other acts as may be necessary in order to raise money for the payment of such indebtedness and the interest thereon, and for the purpose of maintenance of the sewer system as herein provided, and said board or legislative authority shall maintain the sewer system installed in proper condition and shall fulfill and compel fulfillment of any and all contracts made by the sanitary district for the right of connections made with property lying outside of the boundaries of said district; and shall maintain and protect all other rights acquired by the district; and shall not permit connection to be made with the system installed by any property outside of the boundaries of said sanitary district existing at the time of dissolution.

§ 25. Construction of sewers. Street improvement act of 1911 to apply. The sanitary board shall have power, except in incorporated cities or towns, at any time after main sewers, or other sewers are laid, to order and contract for the construction of a sewer in any street, highway or upon property and rights of way owned by the sanitary district or part of any street, highway or property or rights of way owned by sanitary districts where a sewer is not already constructed, and to provide by such order that the cost thereof shall be borne by the property fronting along the line of the sewer, or to be borne by a district as ordered. The provisions of that certain act entitled, "An act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities, and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof and providing a method for the payment of such bonds" (approved April 7, 1911), and the amendatory acts thereto, is hereby made applicable to sanitary districts. All proceedings shall be had in accordance with the provisions of said act and the amendments thereto; provided, however, that the words "city council" and "council" used in said act shall be understood to mean sanitary boards. The words "city" and "municipality" shall be understood to mean sanitary districts. The words "clerk" and "city clerk" shall be understood to mean "secretary" of the sanitary board. The words "superintendent of streets" and "street superintendent" and "city engineer" shall be understood to mean the engineer of such "sanitary district" and the terms "treasurer" and "city treasurer" shall be understood to mean any person or official who shall have charge of and make payment of the funds of such sanitary district. The term "right of way" shall mean any parcel of land through which a right of way has been granted to the sanitary district for the purpose of constructing and maintaining a sewer therein; and provided, further, that all the powers and duties conferred by the said provisions of said act and acts amendatory and supplementary thereto upon city councils, superintendents of streets, clerk and city clerks, and treasurers and engineers, are hereby conferred and imposed upon the respective officers and board above specified.

§ 26. Annexation of territory. Order for election. Posting and publishing of order. Conduct of election. Canvass of votes. Majority vote. Payment of costs if less than majority favors. Issue of bonds after annexation. The boundaries of any sanitary district may be altered, and outlying contiguous territory in the same county as such sanitary district annexed thereto in the manner following: A petition signed by twenty-five per cent of the qualified electors of such contiguous territory proposed to be annexed as shown by the last equalized assessment-book of the county in which said sanitary district is situated, designating specifically the boundaries of such contiguous territory proposed to be annexed, and the assessed valuation thereof as shown by said last equalized assessment-book, and stating that such territory is not within the limits of any other sanitary district, and asking that such territory be annexed to said sanitary district, shall be presented to the sanitary board thereof, together with a duly executed bond for the sum of not less than one hundred dollars, to be approved by said sanitary board and filed with the secretary of the sanitary board as security for the payment by said petitioners of the reasonable costs of the election hereinafter provided for, in the event that at said election less than a majority of the votes cast are in favor of the annexation of the proposed territory to the sanitary district. When such petition is presented and a bond approved and filed as above provided for, the sanitary board must within thirty days thereafter order that an election be held for the purpose of determining whether or not such proposed territory shall be annexed. The order must fix the day of such election, which must be within sixty days from the date of the order, and must show the boundaries of the proposed district. This order shall be entered in the minutes of the sanitary board and shall be conclusive evidence of the due presentation of a proper petition, and of the fact that each of the petitioners was at the time of the signing of the petition and the presentation thereof a resident and freeholder within the limits of the proposed district to be annexed.

A copy of such order shall be posted for four successive weeks prior to the election, in three public places within the district and the district proposed to be annexed, and shall be published for four successive weeks prior to the election in some newspaper published in the district, if there be one, and if not, in some newspaper published in the county. It shall be sufficient if the order be published once a week. At any time prior to the day fixed for the election, the board shall select one and may select two polling places within the sanitary district, and shall select one and may select two polling places within the district proposed to be annexed, appoint officers of election, and make all necessary and proper arrangements for holding the election. Upon the ballots to be used at such election there shall be printed the words, "For annexation to the sanitary district," and "Against annexation to the sanitary district," and there shall be a voting square to the right of and opposite each such propositions. The election shall be conducted in accordance with the general election laws of the state, so far as the same shall be applicable, except as herein otherwise provided. Every qualified elector resident within the district and the district proposed to be annexed for the length of time necessary to enable him to vote at a general election shall be entitled to vote at the election above provided for. After the votes shall have been announced the ballots shall be sealed up and delivered to the secretary or president of the sanitary board which shall, as soon as practicable proceed to canvass the same. Immediately upon the completion of such canvass said sanitary board shall cause a record thereof to be made and entered upon its minutes showing the whole number of votes cast in such sanitary district, the whole number of votes cast in the district proposed to be annexed, the whole number of votes cast in each in favor of annexation, and the number thereof cast in each against annexation; and if it shall appear from such canvass that a majority of all of the votes cast in such sanitary district and a majority of all the votes cast in the district proposed to be annexed, are in favor of annexation the secretary, or other officer performing the duties of secretary of the sanitary board of such sanitary district shall make and cause to be entered in the minutes of said board and endorsed on said petition an order approving said petition, and said petition shall thereupon be transmitted and filed with the board of supervisors of the county in which such sanitary district is situated. Such entry shall be conclusive evidence of the fact and regularity of all prior proceedings of every kind and nature provided by this act or by law, and the facts stated in such entry. Said board of supervisors, at its next regular meeting after filing of said petition, shall by an order alter the boundaries of said sanitary district and annex thereto the contiguous territory described in said petition. Such order shall be conclusive evidence of the validity of all prior proceedings leading up to such annexation and recited in said order, and from and after the same such territory shall become and be a part of such sanitary district. If at said election less than a majority of the votes cast in either the sanitary district or the district proposed to be annexed be in favor of annexation of the proposed territory to the sanitary district, the signers of said petition shall, within ten days after the canvassing of the votes of said election, pay to the sanitary board a sum of money covering the reasonable cost of said election, and if said sum of money is not so paid within ten days, as aforesaid, the sanitary board shall have the right of action under said bond to recover the reasonable cost of said election, and the sanitary board shall, by order, disapprove said petition and enter the same in the minutes of said board, and no other proceedings shall be taken in relation thereto until the expiration of one year from the presentation of said petition, except to collect the costs of said election as herein provided.

At any time after the annexation of such contiguous territory, the sanitary board may issue bonds for the construction of sewers therein in the manner and for the purposes prescribed and specified in sections fourteen to twenty-one, inclusive, of this act; provided, however, that only qualified electors resident within said annexed territory shall be entitled to petition or vote in said proceedings; and provided, further, that taxes for the payment of the principal and interest of such bonds shall be limited to the taxable property situate within such annexed contiguous territory; provided, further, that nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the powers or alter the procedure elsewhere in this act provided for the issuance of bonds by an entire district and payable out of taxes levied upon all the taxable property therein, whether the boundaries of the district remain as originally established or have been altered by the annexation of contiguous territory.

§ 27. Lateral sewer maintained by city. At any time after the sewer or other sanitary system is constructed the board of trustees or other governing body of any municipal corporation lying within the limits of any sanitary district may elect to keep and maintain the lateral sewer lying within said municipality in order and repair and may enter into an agreement with the sanitary board so to do. From and after the date of such agreement said board of trustees shall keep said lateral in repair and the sanitary board shall not be required to keep the same in order or repair. After a municipality elects to keep the lateral sewers within its corporate limits in order and repair the property within the corporate limits of such municipality shall not be taxed for running expenses except for the inspection and repairs of the main sewers lying within such municipality.

§ 28. Payment of bonds by sale of additional bonds. Whenever any sanitary district has an outstanding indebtedness evidenced by the bonds thereof, the sanitary board or other governing body thereof shall have the power at any election calling for the issuance of additional bonds for the construction of a larger or more comprehensive sewer or other sanitary system in the original district or in a sanitary district whose boundaries have been altered by the annexation of outlying contiguous territory thereto as provided for in this act, to submit to the qualified electors of such sanitary district the question of declaring all or any of such bonds to be at once due and payable, and provided for the payment or retirement thereof out of moneys to be realized from the sale of such additional bonds.

§ 29. Construction of larger main sewer or different systems. Whenever the sanitary board of an original sanitary district, or of a sanitary district the boundaries of which have been altered by the annexation of outlying contiguous territory, as provided for in this act, shall by order passed by a vote of two-thirds of all its members and approved by the president of the board, which order shall be entered in the minutes, determine that the public interest or necessity of the original district or of a district whose boundaries have been altered by the annexation of outlying contiguous territory, demands the construction of a larger main sewer or a different system, the board may call an election for the purpose of determining whether bonds shall be issued for the construction of a larger main sewer or for a system different from that already constructed for the disposal of sewage.

The proceedings in respect to the issuance of bonds for such purposes shall in every respect, except as in this section otherwise provided, conform to the requirements of sections fourteen to twenty-one inclusive of this act.

§ 30. Nomination of elective officers. Petition of nomination. The mode of nomination of election of all elective officers of such sanitary district, to be voted upon at any sanitary election, shall be as follows and not otherwise. The name of the candidate shall be printed upon the ballot, when a petition of nomination shall have been filed with the secretary of the board, when the district is already formed, or with the clerk of the board of supervisors when the election is for the purpose of forming a sanitary district, in his behalf in the manner and form as follows: The petition of nomination shall consist of not less than five nor more than twenty signatures which shall read substantially as follows:

Petition of Nomination.

State of California, } ss.
County of —, }

I, (or we) the undersigned certify that I do hereby join in a petition for the nomination of — for the office of — of the sanitary board of sanitary district No. — to be voted for at the sanitary election to be held in sanitary district No. — of the county of — on the — day of —, 191—, and I further certify, that I am a qualified elector, residing within said district, and am not at this time a signer of any other petition nominating any other candidate for the above office, or in case there are several places to be filled in the above named office that I have not signed more petitions than there are places to be filled in the above office.

(Signed) — —.

State of California, } ss.
County of —, }

— being first duly sworn deposes and says: That he is one of the persons who signed the foregoing petition and that the signatures thereto are the genuine signatures of the persons whose names are signed thereto.

The certificate of nomination may be upon one or more papers, which certificate must contain the name of one candidate and no more.

Each signer must be a qualified elector, residing within said district, and must not at the time of the signing a certificate have his name signed to any other certificate for any other candidate for the same office, nor in case there are several places to be filled in the same office signed to more certificates for that office than there are places to be filled for that office. The certificate or certificates shall be verified under oath of one of the signers thereto, that the signature or signatures is, or are, the true and genuine signatures of the persons whose names are signed thereto.

A petition or petitions of nomination, as aforesaid, may be presented to the secretary of the sanitary board, where a sanitary district is already formed or to the county clerk, where a sanitary district has not been formed; not earlier than thirty days nor less than twenty days before the election. The secretary of the sanitary board, where a sanitary district is already formed or the county clerk, where a sanitary district has not been already formed shall indorse thereon the date upon which the petition was presented to him. When a petition of nomination is presented for filing the secretary of the sanitary board, where a sanitary district is already formed or the county clerk, where a sanitary district has not been formed shall forthwith examine the same and ascertain whether or not it conforms with the provisions of this section. If found not sufficient it shall be returned to the person who presented the same. The secretary of the sanitary board, or the county clerk, shall cause the ballots to be printed and they shall contain the names of the candidates whose nomination petition or petitions have been filed as provided for herein.

§ 31. Election for reorganization of district formed under act of 1891. Two-thirds vote. The sanitary board of any district heretofore organized under that certain act entitled, "An act to provide for the formation, government, operation and dissolution of sanitary districts in any part of the state for the construction of sewers and other sanitary purposes; the acquisition of property thereby; the calling and conducting elections in such districts; the assessments, levy, collection, custody and disbursement of taxes therein; the issuance and disposal of the bonds thereof, and the determination of their validity, and making provision for the payment of such bonds and the disposal of their proceeds," approved March 31, 1891, may submit to the electors thereof the question whether such district shall become organized under the provisions of this act. Notice that such question will be so submitted shall be given by posting for four successive weeks prior to the election in three public places within the district, and shall be published for four successive weeks prior to the election in a newspaper printed and published in the district if there be one, and if not, in a newspaper printed and published in the county. It shall be sufficient if the notice be published once a week. Such notice shall distinctly state the proposition to be so submitted and shall invite the electors thereof to vote upon such proposition by placing upon their ballots the words "for reorganization," or "against reorganization," or words equivalent thereto, and there shall be a voting square to the right of, and opposite each such proposition. At any time prior to the day fixed for the election the board shall select one and may select two polling places within the district and make all necessary and proper arrangements for holding the election. The election shall be conducted in accordance with the general election laws of the state, so far as the same shall be applicable except as herein otherwise provided. The votes so cast shall be canvassed by the sanitary board as soon as convenient after the election. If two-thirds of the votes cast at such election are in favor of reorganization then the board shall cause an entry of that vote to be made in its minutes. From and after the date of such entry the district shall be deemed to be organized under this act, with all the powers conferred herein; the persons in office at the time of such reorganization shall be entitled immediately to enter upon the duties of the like offices of the district as reorganized, and shall continue therein until the expiration of the term for which they have been elected or appointed.

§ 32. Effect of reorganization. Any sanitary district organized under the provisions of section thirty-one of this act shall, for all purposes, be deemed and taken to be in law the identical district theretofore formed and existing; and such reorganization shall in no wise affect or impair the title to any property owned or held by such district, or in trust therefor, or any debts, demands, liabilities, or obligations existing in favor of or against such district or any proceedings then pending; nor shall the same operate to repeal or affect in any manner any ordinance theretofore passed or adopted and remaining unrepealed, or, to discharge any person from any liability, civil or criminal, then existing, for any violation of such ordinance; but such ordinances, so far as the same are in any conflict with general laws, shall be and remain in force until repealed or amended by competent authority; provided, that proceedings theretofore commenced shall, after such reorganization, be conducted in accordance with the provisions of this act.

An act granting certain tide-lands and submerged lands of the state of California to the city of Santa Monica upon certain trusts and conditions.

[Approved April 10, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 90. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Tide-land granted to Santa Monica. There is hereby granted to the city of Santa Monica, a municipal corporation of the state of California, and to its successors, all the right, title and interest of the state of California, held by said state by virtue of its sovereignty, in and to all the tide-lands and submerged lands, within the present boundaries of said city, and situated below the line of mean high tide of the Pacific Ocean, to be forever held by said city, and by its successors, in trust for the uses and purposes, and upon the express conditions following, to wit:

(a) Purposes for which land may be used. Term of franchises and leases. Said lands shall be used by said city and by its successors, solely for the establishment, improvement and conduct of a harbor and for the establishment and construction of bulkheads or breakwaters for the protection of lands within its boundaries, or for the protection of its harbor, and for the construction, maintenance and operation thereon of wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays, and other utilities, structures and appliances necessary or convenient for the promotion or accommodation of commerce and navigation, and the protection of the lands within said city, and said city, or its successors, shall not, at any time, grant, convey, give or alien said lands, or any part thereof, to any individual, firm or corporation for any purpose whatsoever; provided, that said city, or its successors, may grant franchises thereon, for a period not exceeding twenty-five years, for wharves and other public uses and purposes, and may lease said lands, or any part thereof for a period not exceeding twenty-five years, for purposes consistent with the trusts upon which said lands are held by the state of California and with the requirements of commerce or navigation at said harbor;

(b) Harbor improved without expense to state. Said harbor shall be improved by said city without expense to the state, and shall always remain a public harbor for all purposes of commerce and navigation, and the state of California, shall have, at all times, the right to use, without charge, all wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays and other improvements constructed on said lands, or any part thereof, for any vessel or other water craft, or railroad, owned or operated by the state of California;

(c) No discrimination in rates. Right to fish reserved to people. In the management, conduct or operation of said harbor or of any of the utilities, structures or appliances mentioned in paragraph (a), no discrimination in rates, tolls, or charges, or in facilities, for any use or service in connection therewith shall ever be made, authorized or permitted by said city or by its successors. The absolute right to fish in the waters of said harbor, with the right of convenient access to said waters over said lands for said purpose, is hereby reserved to the people of the state of California.

SCHOOLS.

An act to authorize and empower the board of trustees of the San Francisco state normal school to sell or exchange and convey the lands and buildings of said school; to acquire by purchase, gift, condemnation or otherwise a new site for said school and to erect thereon buildings suitable and appropriate therefor, or to remodel or reconstruct any building already erected on the site so purchased or acquired, and to purchase therefor necessary and appropriate furniture and equipment; to create a fund into which shall be paid the proceeds of the sale of the present school property and making an appropriation to carry out the purposes of this act.

[Approved January 11, 1916. Stats. Ex. Sess. 1916, p. 41.]

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 3. Disposition of moneys received. Moneys received from the sale of said lands shall be paid into the general fund in the state treasury. The board of trustees of the state normal school at San Francisco is hereby authorized and empowered to examine the lands heretofore and now occupied or owned by the Panama-Pacific International Exposition or any corporation or individual representing or acting for or in conjunction with said exposition, and to select therefrom a new and suitable site for said school and to acquire by purchase, gift, condemnation or otherwise for and on behalf of the state of California the necessary lands and structures; and the lands so selected and purchased shall be and remain the site of the state normal school at San Francisco until otherwise provided by law. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 573.]

§ 6. Improvement and buildings. The said board is hereby authorized and empowered to improve the new site in a manner suitable for its intended uses, to erect and construct thereon new and modern normal school buildings and improvements necessary and proper for said normal school. The said board is also authorized and empowered to provide and purchase such furniture, fixtures, apparatus and other things as may be required for the proper equipment of said buildings and grounds for conducting said normal school.

§ 7. San Francisco State Normal School-Exposition preservation fund. A fund in the state treasury is hereby created and shall be known as "The San Francisco State Normal School-Exposition preservation fund." After the conveyance of said site to the state of California the state controller and the state treasurer shall transfer and make the proper entries upon their records, transferring the money paid into the San Francisco State Normal School-Exposition preservation fund and into the general fund under the provisions of an act entitled "An act to provide for the disposition of any money or other property accruing to or to be received by the state of California as its proportionate share of the returns from the holding of the Panama-Pacific international exposition," approved January 11, 1916, to the general fund in the state treasury and placed to the credit of the appropriation herein made from the general fund of the state treasury. The money so transferred shall be used for the purposes of this act. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 573.]

§ 8. Appropriation. Condition. Out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of four hundred fifty thousand dollars, together with the sum of money herein ordered credited to this appropriation, is hereby appropriated to be expended in accordance with law for the purposes of this act; provided, that no part of the money appropriated herein from the general fund of the state treasury shall be used for the erection of buildings or the making of improvements until any existing structures on said site shall have been removed. Any moneys received from the sale of structures existing on said site at the time of its purchase shall be paid into the general fund of the state treasury and placed to the credit of the appropriation herein made. [New section added May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 573.]

An act confirming and validating the organization of school districts.

[Approved April 24, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 192.]

§ 1. Where the board of supervisors of any county have purported to establish a school district of any kind or class situated within such county and such district has acted as a school district for a period of one year previous to the taking effect of this act, all acts and proceedings taken for the purpose of creating such district are hereby legalized, validated and declared to be sufficient, and such school district is hereby declared to be duly incorporated and as such school district under its appropriate name shall have all the rights and privileges and be subject to all the duties and obligations of a duly incorporated school district.

ACT 3557a.

An act to authorize the board of trustees of the San Jose State Normal School to exchange certain land belonging to said school for other land belonging to the San Jose high school district.

[Approved May 5, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 260. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Board of trustees of San Jose State Normal School may exchange land. The board of trustees of the San Jose State Normal School is hereby authorized and empowered to exchange, with the written approval of the state board of control and of the governor, a certain parcel of land, the property of said normal school, commencing at a point on the original line of east San Fernando street easterly five hundred three feet from the intersection of the original westerly line of south Seventh street with the original southerly line of east San Fernando street; thence southerly at right angles two hundred ninety-six feet; thence easterly at right angles ten feet; thence northerly at right angles two hundred ninety-six feet; thence westerly at right angles ten feet to the place of beginning; for a parcel of land belonging to the San Jose high school district, commencing at a point westerly four hundred forty-three feet from and at right angles to the original line of south Seventh street and southerly three hundred fifty-six feet from the point of intersection of the original westerly line of south Seventh street with the original southerly line of east San Fernando street; thence northerly at right angles to said westerly line sixty feet; thence westerly at right angles fifty feet; thence southerly at right angles sixty feet; thence easterly at right angles fifty feet to the place of beginning.

ACT 3574.

An act to enforce the educational rights of children and providing penalties for the violation of this act.

Amended 1905, p. 388; 1907, p. 95; 1911, p. 949; 1915, p. 762; 1919, p. 406.

The title of the amendatory act of 1919 stated that section two of the act was amended. The body of the act shows however that it was section three and not section two that was amended.

The amendment of 1919 follows:

§ 1. Compulsory school attendance. Exemptions. Each parent, guardian or other person having control or charge of any child between the ages of eight and sixteen years, not exempted under the provisions of this act shall be required to send such child to a public full-time day school for the full time for which the public schools of the city, city and county or school district in which the child resides shall be in session; provided, that the following classes of children shall be exempted from the requirements of attendance upon a public day school:

1. Physical or mental disability. Children whose physical or mental condition is such as to prevent or render inadvisable attendance at school or application to study; provided, that a certificate to this effect by a regularly licensed physician, shall be filed with the clerk of the board of trustees or board of education of the school district.

2. Distance from school house. Children residing more than two miles from the school house by the nearest traveled road; provided, that such children shall be exempted only upon the written approval of the superintendent of schools of the county, notice whereof shall be filed with the clerk of the board of trustees or board of education of the school district.

3. Instruction in private schools. Children who are being instructed in a private full-time day school by persons capable of teaching; provided, that such school shall be taught in the English language and shall offer instruction in the several branches of study required to be taught in the public schools of this state; and provided, further, that the attendance of such pupils shall be kept by private school authorities in a register, such record of attendance to indicate clearly every absence of the pupil from school for a half day or more, during each day that school is maintained during the year.

4. Instruction by private tutor. Children who are being instructed, in study and recitation, for at least three hours a day for one hundred sixty days each calendar year by a private tutor or other person, in the several branches of study required to be taught in the public schools of this state, and in the English language; provided, that such tutor or other person shall be capable of teaching; and provided, further, that such instruction shall be offered between the hours of eight o'clock A. M. and four o'clock P. M.

5. Age and schooling certificate. Children who hold a permit to work or an age and schooling certificate granted by the proper judicial or educational officers in accordance with law. [Amendment approved May 10, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 407.]

§ 3. Investigation of charges against parents. Criminal complaint. The board of education of any city or city and county, or the board of trustees of any school district, shall, on the complaint of any person, make full and impartial investigation of all charges against any parent or guardian or other person having control or charge of any such child, for violation of any of the provisions of this act. If it shall appear upon such investigation that any such parent or guardian or other person has violated any of the provisions of section one of this act, it is hereby made the duty of the secretary of such board of education, except as hereinafter provided, or the clerk of such board of trustees, to make and file in the proper court a criminal complaint against such parent, guardian or other person, charging such violation, and to see that such charge is prosecuted by the proper authorities; provided, that in cities, and in cities and counties, and in school districts having an attendance officer or officers, such officer or officers shall have power and it shall be their duty to make and file such complaint, and see that such charge is prosecuted by the proper authorities. [Amendment approved May 10, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 407.]

§ 3a. Permit to employ minor over fourteen. First—The superintendent of schools of any city, or of any city and county or of any county (over such portions of any such county as are not within the jurisdiction of any superintendent of city schools) shall have authority to issue to any employer a permit to employ any minor of the age of fourteen years who holds a diploma of graduation from the prescribed elementary school course; provided, that such permit shall be issued only when the prospective employer, or the parent or guardian of the minor, shall present to the superintendent asked to issue such permit, (1) a physician's certificate or other evidence acceptable to such authority, that such minor is physically fitted for the labor contemplated; and (2) a sworn statement by the parent, foster-parent or guardian of such minor that such minor is past the age of fourteen years, and that the parent or parents, or foster-parent or foster-parents, or guardian of such minor is incapacitated for labor through illness or injury, or that through the death or desertion of the father of such minor, the family is in need of the earnings of such minor, and that sufficient aid cannot be secured in any other manner. The person authorized to issue such permit in granting the same shall make a signed statement that he, or a competent person designated by him for this purpose, has carefully investigated the conditions under which the application for such permit has been asked, and has found that in his judgment the earnings of such minor are necessary for such family to support such minor, and that in his judgment sufficient aid cannot be secured in any other manner.

Second—Idem. No permit as specified in this section shall be issued except upon a written statement from a prospective employer that work is waiting for such minor and describing the nature of such work. Such permit shall specify the name and address of the employer, the name, address and age of the minor, the kind of work for which the permit is issued and the date on which the permit shall expire, which in no case shall be longer than six months from the date of issuance of the permit. Such permit shall be kept on file by the employer during the term of such employment and all unexpired permits shall be returned by the employer to the authority issuing the same within five days after the termination of such employment. Such permit shall be issued on forms prepared and provided in accordance with the provisions of this act by the superintendent of public instruction. Such permit shall be subject to cancellation at any time by the superintendent of public instruction, or by the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics or by the person issuing the same, whenever any such officer or person shall find that the conditions for the legal issuance of such permit do not exist. Such permit shall be always open to inspection by attendance and probation officers, by the officers of the state bureau of labor statistics and by officers of the superintendent of public instruction, and of the state board of education.

Third—Duplicate copy of permit. A duplicate copy of each permit to employ a minor granted under provisions of this act shall be kept by the person issuing such permit, and a report of all such permits issued during the year shall be included in the annual report of the city superintendent of schools to the county superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools of each county and of each city and county shall include in his annual report to the superintendent of public instruction, a summary of all such reports, which shall include a summary of all such permits to employ minors issued by him during the year. [New section approved May 10, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 409.]

§ 3b. Vacation permits for minors between twelve and fifteen. Any minor over the age of twelve years and under the age of fifteen years who holds a vacation permit issued as hereinafter provided may be employed in any of the establishments or occupations mentioned in section one of "An act regulating the employment and hours of labor of children; prohibiting the employment of minors under certain ages; prohibiting the employment of certain illiterate minors; providing for the enforcement hereof by the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics and providing penalties for the violation hereof," approved February 20, 1905, as amended, and in section one of an act entitled "An act to be known as the child labor law, and regulating the employment, hours, kinds and conditions of labor of children; providing for the administration and enforcement of the provisions of this act by the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics, providing penalties for the violation hereof and repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith," on the regular weekly school holidays and during the regular vacation of the public schools of the school district, city, or city and county, in which the place of employment is situated. Vacation permits shall be signed by the principal of the school, or secretary of the board of school trustees or board of education having control of the school which such minor is attending, or has attended during the term next preceding any such vacation. Such permit shall contain the name and age of the minor to whom it is issued, and when issued for the regular vacation, the date of the termination of the vacation for which it is issued, and in any case shall be kept on file by the employer during the period of employment, and at the termination of such employment shall be returned to the minor to whom it was issued. [New section added May 10, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 409.]

§ 3c. Age and schooling certificate for minors over fifteen. First—No minor of the age of fifteen years shall be employed, permitted or suffered to work during the hours the public schools are in session, unless such minor is provided with an age and schooling certificate as herein provided.

Second—An age and schooling certificate shall be approved only by the superintendent of schools of the county, city or city and county, or hereinafter provided, or the clerk of such court, and each application for an age and schooling certificate shall be filed upon within three days after the filing of such application with the person legally authorized to issue such certificate; provided, that any person charged is prosecuted by the proper officer and in cities and counties, and in towns, such officer shall be their duty to make and file such certificate on the twentieth day of June of each year, file such certificate during the school year. The person authorized to issue such certificates shall have the authority to charge for carrying out the provisions of this act.

§ 3a. Permit to employ minor. The person authorized to issue age and schooling certificates until the minor in question, or the parent or guardian, has personally made application and until he has received, examined, approved and signed the following papers: (1) The school record of such minor, giving age, grade and attendance for the current term, duly signed by the principal or teacher. (2) Evidence of age such as the school enrollment record, or a certificate of birth, or a certificate of baptism duly attested, or a passport, or affidavit of the parent, guardian or custodian of such minor, such as shall convince such officer that the minor is fifteen years of age or upwards. (3) The written statement of the person, firm or corporation in whose service the minor is about to enter, that he intends to employ the minor, which statement shall give the nature of the occupation for which the child is to be employed. (4) A certificate signed by a physician appointed by the school board, or other public medical officer, stating that such minor has been examined by him, and, in his opinion, has reached the normal development of a minor of its age and is in sufficiently sound health and physically able to be employed in the work which it intends to do; provided, however, that no fee shall be charged the minor for such physician's certificate.

Third—Age and schooling certificates shall be issued on forms which shall be prepared and provided by the superintendent of public instruction, and shall be substantially in the following form, to wit:

Age and schooling certificate. This certifies that I am the (father, mother or guardian) of (name of the minor) and that (he or she) was born at (name of the city or town), in the county of (name of county, if known), and state or country of (name of state or country), on the (day and year of birth), and is now (number of years and months) old. Signature as provided in this act.

of the person, firm, or corporation holding the same.
certificate as to the birthplace and age of the minor under six-over fifteen years of age shall be signed by his father, his er, or his guardian, or other person having control or charge of a minor.

Fourth—Every person authorized to sign the certificate prescribed by this act, who knowingly certifies to any false statement therein, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to a fine of not less than five nor more than fifty dollars, or imprisonment for not more than thirty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Fifth—A duplicate copy of each age and schooling certificate issued under the provisions of this act shall be kept by the county, city, or city and county superintendent issuing or authorizing the issuance of such certificates, and a report of all such certificates issued during the year shall be included in the annual report of each city superintendent of schools to the county superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools of each county and of each city and county, shall include in his annual report to the superintendent of public instruction, a summary of all such reports and a statement of the number of all such age and schooling certificates issued by him during the year.

Sixth—No minor having an age and schooling certificate, as herein-before described, and no other minor under sixteen years of age, who would by law be required to attend school, shall be and remain idle and unemployed for a period longer than two weeks while the public schools are in session, but must enroll and attend school; provided, that within five days after any minor having such age and schooling certificate shall have ceased to be employed by any employer, such employer shall, in writing, notify the issuing officer that such minor is no longer employed by such employer, giving the latest correct address of such minor known to such employer; and such issuing officer shall thereupon immediately notify the attendance officer having jurisdiction in the place of such minor's residence, giving the said latest known correct address of such minor and stating that such minor is not at work.

Seventh—No minor of the age of fifteen years shall be permitted to cease school attendance, without securing an age and schooling certificate as provided in this act.

Eighth—Nothing in this act shall be construed to repeal or in any way modify the provisions of sections fourteen and sixteen of "An act regulating the employment and hours of labor of children; prohibiting the employment of minors under certain ages; prohibiting the employment of certain illiterate minors; providing for the enforcement hereof by the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics and providing by a person authorized by him in writing and each application for an age and schooling certificate must be acted upon within three days after such application has been duly filed with the person legally authorized to issue such age and schooling certificate; provided, that any person authorized in writing to issue age and school certificates as herein provided shall on or before the thirtieth day of June of each year, file with the superintendent so authorizing him, all duplicate copies of such certificates issued by him during the school year. The person authorized to issue age and schooling certificates shall have the authority to administer the oaths necessary for carrying out the provisions of this act, but no fees shall be charged for administering such oaths or issuing such certificates. The person authorized to issue age and schooling certificates shall not issue such certificates until the minor in question, accompanied by its parent or guardian, has personally made application to him therefor, and until he has received, examined, approved and filed the following papers duly executed: (1) The school record of such minor, giving age, grade and attendance for the current term, duly signed by the principal or teacher. (2) Evidence of age such as the school enrollment record, or a certificate of birth, or a certificate of baptism duly attested, or a passport, or affidavit of the parent, guardian or custodian of such minor, such as shall convince such officer that the minor is fifteen years of age or upwards. (3) The written statement of the person, firm or corporation in whose service the minor is about to enter, that he intends to employ the minor, which statement shall give the nature of the occupation for which the child is to be employed. (4) A certificate signed by a physician appointed by the school board, or other public medical officer, stating that such minor has been examined by him, and, in his opinion, has reached the normal development of a minor of its age and is in sufficiently sound health and physically able to be employed in the work which it intends to do; provided, however, that no fee shall be charged the minor for such physician's certificate.

Third—Age and schooling certificates shall be issued on forms which shall be prepared and provided by the superintendent of public instruction, and shall be substantially in the following form, to wit:

Age and schooling certificate. This certifies that I am the (father, mother or guardian) of (name of the minor) and that (he or she) was born at (name of the city or town), in the county of (name of county, if known), and state or country of (name of state or country), on the (day and year of birth), and is now (number of years and months) old.

Town or city, and date.

This certificate belongs to the person in whose behalf it is drawn, and it shall be presented to (him or her) whenever (he or she) leaves the services of the person, firm, or corporation holding the same.

The certificate as to the birthplace and age of the minor under sixteen and over fifteen years of age shall be signed by his father, his mother, or his guardian, or other person having control or charge of such minor.

Fourth—Every person authorized to sign the certificate prescribed by this act, who knowingly certifies to any false statement therein, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to a fine of not less than five nor more than fifty dollars, or imprisonment for not more than thirty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Fifth—A duplicate copy of each age and schooling certificate issued under the provisions of this act shall be kept by the county, city, or city and county superintendent issuing or authorizing the issuance of such certificates, and a report of all such certificates issued during the year shall be included in the annual report of each city superintendent of schools to the county superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools of each county and of each city and county, shall include in his annual report to the superintendent of public instruction, a summary of all such reports and a statement of the number of all such age and schooling certificates issued by him during the year.

Sixth—No minor having an age and schooling certificate, as hereinbefore described, and no other minor under sixteen years of age, who would by law be required to attend school, shall be and remain idle and unemployed for a period longer than two weeks while the public schools are in session, but must enroll and attend school; provided, that within five days after any minor having such age and schooling certificate shall have ceased to be employed by any employer, such employer shall, in writing, notify the issuing officer that such minor is no longer employed by such employer, giving the latest correct address of such minor known to such employer; and such issuing officer shall thereupon immediately notify the attendance officer having jurisdiction in the place of such minor's residence, giving the said latest known correct address of such minor and stating that such minor is not at work.

Seventh—No minor of the age of fifteen years shall be permitted to cease school attendance, without securing an age and schooling certificate as provided in this act.

Eighth—Nothing in this act shall be construed to repeal or in any way modify the provisions of sections fourteen and sixteen of "An act regulating the employment and hours of labor of children; prohibiting the employment of minors under certain ages; prohibiting the employment of certain illiterate minors; providing for the enforcement hereof by the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics and providing penalties for the violation hereof," approved February 20, 1905, as amended, or the provisions of sections three and one-half and five of an act entitled "An act to be known as the child labor law, and regulating the employment, hours, kinds and conditions of labor of children; providing for the administration and enforcement of the provisions of this act by the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics, providing penalties for the violation hereof and repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith." [New section added May 10, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 412.]

§ 3d. First—Register of employees under sixteen. Cancellation of permits and certificates. Every person, firm, corporation or agent, or officer of a firm or corporation, employing minors under the age of sixteen years shall keep a register containing the names and addresses of such minor employees and shall post and keep posted in a conspicuous place, in every room where such minors are employed, a written or printed notice stating the working hours per day for each day of the week required of such minors, and shall keep on file all permits and certificates required by this act for minors under the age of sixteen years. Such records and files shall be open at all times to the inspection of the school attendance and probation officers and the officers of the state bureau of labor statistics, of the superintendent of public instruction and of the state board of education.

Except as otherwise provided in this act, all certificates and permits shall be given up to such minor upon his quitting such employment. Any age or schooling certificate or permit granted under this act, shall be subject to cancellation at any time by the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics, or by the superintendent of public instruction, or by the authority issuing such certificate, whenever such commissioner, superintendent, or the authority issuing such certificate shall find that conditions for the legal issuance of such certificate no longer exist or have never existed.

Second—Penalty for violation. Any person, firm, corporation, agent or officer of a firm or corporation that violates or omits to comply with any of the provisions of this act, or that employs or suffers or permits any minor to be employed in violation thereof, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars or more than two hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than sixty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment, for each and every offense. A failure to produce any age and schooling certificate or vacation permit to work or other permit issued under the provisions of this act or to post any notice required by this act shall be prima facie evidence of the illegal employment of any minor for whom an age and schooling certificate or permit is not produced. [New section added May 9, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 413.]

§ 4. Attendance officers. Compensation. Certification of attendance officers. County attendance officers. The board of education of any city, or city and county shall appoint and remove at pleasure, an attendance officer and such assistant attendance officers as may be necessary for such city or city and county and the board of school trustees of any school district having an average daily attendance of at least three hundred children, according to the official school record of the preceding school year, may appoint and remove at pleasure one attendance officer, and assistant attendance officers, and shall fix his or their compensation payable from the county or special school fund of such city, or city and county, or school district, and shall prescribe their duties not inconsistent with law, and make rules and regulations for the performance thereof; provided, that in all school districts with a daily average attendance of one thousand or more school children according to the annual school report of the last preceding school year, such attendance officer, assistant attendance officers, or deputy attendance officers, shall have been duly certificated by the county board of education for such work, such certification to be in accordance with and subject to general regulations established by the state board of education. The authority appointing such attendance officer and assistant attendance officers in such city, city and county, or school district may also appoint and remove at pleasure one or more deputy attendance officers, to serve without compensation. The board of supervisors of any county, unless provision be made otherwise by statute for paid attendance officers, upon the petition of a majority of the boards of trustees of the school districts of the county which are not provided with paid school attendance officer, shall, upon the nomination of the county superintendent of schools, appoint and remove at pleasure an attendance officer and assistant attendance officers, and shall fix his or their compensation payable from the general fund of the county, and shall, upon the recommendation of the county superintendent of schools, prescribe their duties not inconsistent with law, and make rules and regulations for the performance thereof. Such officers shall serve in such portions of the county as are not otherwise provided with paid attendance officers. The board of supervisors, upon the recommendation of the county superintendent of schools, may, in its discretion, appoint and remove at pleasure one or more persons to act as deputy attendance officer or officers, to serve without compensation. The actual, necessary, incidental traveling expenses of such attendance officer, and assistant attendance officers, and deputy attendance officers of such county, incurred in the performance of their duties under the direction of the county superintendent of schools, when sworn to and when approved by such superintendent, shall be ordered paid by such board of supervisors, out of the general fund of the county. [Amendment approved May 10, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 408.]

§ 11a. Authority to enter place of employment. The attendance officer of any county, city and county, or school district in which any place of employment, in this act named, is situated, or the probation officer of such county, shall have the right and authority, at all times, to enter into any such place of employment for the purpose of investigating violations of the provisions of this act; provided, however, that if such attendance or probation officer is denied entrance to such place of employment, any magistrate may, upon the filing of an affidavit by such attendance or probation officer setting forth the fact that he has a good cause to believe that the provisions of this act are being violated in such place of employment, issue an order directing such attendance or probation officer to enter said place of employment for the purpose of making such investigations. [New section approved May 16, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 414.]

An act to validate bonds of school districts and high school districts and to provide for the levy and collection of taxes to pay the principal and interest on such bonds.

[Approved May 4, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 228. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. School district bonds validated. Where in any school district of any kind or class, including union school districts and joint union school districts, or high school district of any kind or class, including union high school districts and joint union high school districts, proceedings have been taken for the purpose of issuing and selling bonds of such district, for any purpose or purposes, all the acts and proceedings of the board of trustees, board of education or other governing body of such district and all the acts and proceedings of the board of supervisors of the county within which such district is situated, leading up to and including the issuance of such bonds if they have heretofore been sold, and all such acts and proceedings heretofore had although the bonds are not yet sold, are hereby legalized, ratified, confirmed and validated to all intents and purposes, and the power of such district and of the board of supervisors of the county in which such district is situated, to issue such bonds, is hereby ratified, confirmed and declared, and the bonds heretofore sold are declared to be, and the bonds hereafter sold shall be, the legal and binding obligations of and against the district having heretofore issued, or hereafter issuing, such bonds, and the faith and credit of such district is hereby pledged for the prompt payment and redemption of the principal and interest of said bonds.

§ 2. Levy of taxes to pay interest and principal. For the purpose of paying the interest on such bonds as it becomes due and the principal thereof at maturity, the assessors, treasurers, boards of supervisors, and other officers of the respective counties, shall have the same powers and shall perform the same duties as are provided by law relative to the assessment, levy, and collection of taxes, and custody of funds, for the payment of the principal and interest of bonds or school districts and high school districts of every kind or class, respectively.

§ 3. Bonds excepted. This act shall not operate to legalize any bonds which have been sold for less than par, nor to legalize any bonds the issuance of which has not received the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors of such district, voting at an election held for the purpose of determining whether such indebtedness should be incurred, nor to legalize any bonds which mature at a date more than forty years from the time of their issuance.

ACT 3585.

An act to provide for health and development supervision in the public schools of the state of California. [Approved April 15, 1909. Stats. 1909, p. 908.]

Repealed April 21, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 128. See ante, § 1618a, Political Code.

ACT 3586h.

An act to provide for the adoption of text-books for use in the public high schools of the state and for furnishing text-books for the use of pupils of such schools.

Amended 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 444.

§ 1. Text-books for use in high schools. Furnished free. Payment. The high school board of each and every high school district shall adopt text-books for use in such district from a list prescribed by the state board of education. Such list shall include text-books in such high school subjects as in the judgment of the state board of education require the use of text-books; provided, that separate classics in English and modern languages need not be listed. The high school board of each and every high school district may purchase text-books for the use of pupils enrolled in the high schools of such district, which text-books shall at all times be and remain the property of such district, to be supplied to the pupils thereof for use without charge, or at an annual rental, payable in advance, which shall not exceed three dollars for all text-books required by any pupil during any school year; provided, that after July 1, 1920, text-books shall be so supplied to pupils of the high schools without charge. Whenever a majority of the heads of families or a majority of the electors in any high school district shall petition in writing the high school board to furnish text-books free for the use of the pupils enrolled in such high school district, it shall thereafter be the duty of the high school board to furnish such text-books free for the use of such pupils. The high school board may pay for text-books furnished in accordance with the provisions of this act, out of the special fund of such high school district. All moneys collected for rental of text-books shall be deposited in the county treasury to the credit of such high school district within thirty days after collection.

§ 2. Text-books furnished free to pupils outside district. Whenever the high school board of any high school district purchases text-books for the use of pupils residing in portions of the county not included in any high school district and attending the high school of such district, and furnishes text-books free for the use of such pupils, the board may on or before August first of each year file with the county superintendent of schools of the county in which such pupils reside, a list of such pupils and an itemized statement of the amount expended for text-books for their use during the preceding school year. The county superintendent of schools shall include such amount in his estimate of the county high school fund required, and the board of supervisors shall include the amount in levying the county high school fund. Before the county superintendent of schools shall apportion any of the county high school fund on average daily attendance, he shall transfer from said fund to the fund of each of the several high school districts of the county, or draw a warrant in favor of the board of trustees of such high school district, for the amount claimed by each on account of text-books furnished free for the use of pupils residing in portions of the county not included in any high school district, and attending such high school.

§ 3. Publisher's application for listing of books. Sworn statement. All publishers desiring to offer school books for the use of pupils enrolled in the high schools of the state shall file with the state board of education at Sacramento a written application for the listing of such book or books accompanied by a fee of ten dollars for each book for which listing is applied, such sum to be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the state board of education; also three copies of each book, together with a statement of the list price of said book as shown by the publisher's catalogue, a statement of all discounts allowed thereon when new copies of such book are purchased by or on behalf of a high school board directly from the publisher, and a statement of the lowest exchange price that will be given when old books on the same subject and of like kind and grade, but of a different series, are received in exchange; provided, that no fee shall be required to accompany the application for the listing of a book in a subject studied by less than one hundred pupils in the high schools of the state. They shall also submit a sworn statement giving the lowest net wholesale price at which such book is sold anywhere in the United States and the maximum total discount allowed thereon to any public school board anywhere in the United States. Such sworn statements shall give the lowest exchange price given anywhere in the United States where old books on the same subject and of like kind and grade, but of a different series, are received in exchange. Such sworn statement shall also include a statement that said publisher is not directly or indirectly associated or connected with any combination in restraint of trade in text-books, and that he is not and will not become a party in any way to any understanding, agreement or combination to control prices or restrict competition in the sale of text-books for use in the state of California. [Amendment approved May 9, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 443.]

§ 4. Bond of publisher. Price at which book furnished. Uniform price. Reduction of price. Quality not to control prices. Each publisher offering one or more books for use in the high schools of the state must, after notification by the state board of education of its intention to place on the list any book or books submitted by him, and as a prerequisite for such listing, file with the state board of education a bond payable to the state of California in a sum to be determined by the state board of education, said sum for any publisher offering one or more books to be not less than one thousand dollars nor more than ten thousand dollars, the bond to be conditioned as follows: First, that the publisher will furnish said book or books offered by him and listed by the state board of education, to the high school board of any high school district in the state at the lowest net wholesale price contained in the statement filed at the time said book or books were offered, less the maximum total discount allowed thereon to any public school board according to such statement, and at the lowest exchange price given according to such statement, when old books in the same subject and of like kind and grade, but of a different series, are given in exchange, which price shall not exceed the lowest price the publisher has made for such book or books anywhere in the United States; provided, that the cost of transporting all text-books to the high school from the publisher's office or depository in California shall be paid by the high school district, or prepaid by the publisher and then charged to the district, as the high school board may determine; second, that he will maintain said price uniformly throughout the state of California, on his book or books, listed under the provisions of this act; third, that the publisher will reduce such price automatically to purchasers within the state of California whenever reductions are made elsewhere in the United States, so that at no time shall any book so filed and listed be sold to school authorities in California at a higher net price than is received for such book elsewhere in the United States; and that upon failure or refusal of the publisher to make such reduction all contracts for such book or books shall become null and void; fourth, that all such books offered for sale, adoption, or exchange in the state of California shall be equal in quality to those filed in the office of the state board of education, as regards paper, binding, print, illustration, subject matter, and all other particulars that may affect the value of such school books; fifth, that the publisher will not in any way, directly or indirectly, become associated or connected with any combination in restraint of trade in text-books, and that he will not enter into any understanding, agreement, or combination to control prices or restrict competition in the sale of school books for use in the state of California; sixth, that the publisher will maintain an office in California or designate an agent or arrange with a depository in California, to receive and handle orders for said book or books.

§ 5. Approval. Term. Such bond shall be approved by the attorney general, and shall continue in force for a period of eight years after its filing, at or before the expiration of which period a new bond shall be given, or the right to continue selling such text-books in the state of California shall be forfeited.

§ 6. List sent to principals, county superintendents, and clerks. Annual publication. The state board of education shall, within six months after the approval of such bond, send a list of such books to the principal of each high school, county superintendent of schools and the clerk of each high school board, with a statement of the list price, discounts and the exchange price of each; provided, that such lists shall not be issued oftener than twice each year; provided, further, that whenever a book is dropped from the list, such action shall not affect existing contracts for such book. The state board of education shall, on or before January 1, 1918, and on or before the first day of January of each following year, publish and send to the principal of each high school, county superintendent of schools and the clerk of each high school board, a printed copy of all such lists then in force.

§ 7. Failure of publisher to furnish books. Forfeit. If any publishers shall comply with the provisions of the foregoing sections and then fail or refuse to furnish such books to any high school board upon the terms herein provided within a reasonable time after an order therefor is filed, said board shall at once notify the state commissioner of secondary schools of such failure or refusal, and he shall at once cause an investigation of such charge to be made. If the state commissioner of secondary schools find such charge to be true, he shall at once report his finding to the state board of education, which shall notify such publisher and notify the principal of each high school and the clerk of each high school board in the state of California that such book or books shall not thereafter be adopted or purchased by any of the public school authorities in the state. Said publishers shall forfeit and pay to the state of California the sum of one hundred dollars for each failure or refusal to furnish said book or books, to be recovered in the name of the state of California in an action to be brought by the attorney general in any proper court, the amount when collected to be paid into the treasury to the credit of the high school fund of the state of California.

§ 8. Adoption of text-books by school boards. No change for period of four years. The high school board of each high school district in the state of California shall adopt text-books for use in the schools under its control, until a complete list of text-books covering the entire course of study has been adopted. The books so adopted shall be put in actual use in such district not later than the beginning of the school year next following such adoption. A majority vote of the membership of any board shall determine which of said books prescribed by the state board of education shall be used in the schools under its control, and after such books have been selected and adopted by said board, no book shall be changed, nor any other book substituted therefor, except as otherwise provided in this act, for a period of four years after the date of its adoption, as shown by the official records of the board; provided, that any such school text-books as may be in use in the public schools of California when this act goes into effect may be continued until text-books are purchased and distributed by the high school board in accordance with the provisions of this act, but when said books are changed or other books substituted, the books adopted shall be from the list prescribed by the state board of education in pursuance of this act and shall be used for a full period of four years. [Amendment approved May 9, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 444.]

§ 9. Text-books purchased direct from publishers. All text-books adopted as provided for in this act may be bought by the various school authorities direct from the publishers at the lowest net wholesale price less the maximum total discount thereon, as listed by the state board of education. The high school board of each and every high school district shall at a regular meeting, cause to be ascertained the number of each of such books adopted as the schools under its charge require. The clerk or secretary of each high school board may order the book so agreed upon direct from the publisher, agent, or depository in California, who, on receipt of such order, shall ship the books as directed without delay. It shall be the duty of the clerk or secretary, or other person named by the board for such purpose, to examine the books when received, and if found to be correct and in accordance with the order, a warrant payable out of the county or district high school fund for the proper amount, shall be issued and remitted to the publisher within thirty days. It shall be the duty of each high school board to make all necessary provisions and arrangements to place the books so purchased within easy reach and accessible for the use of all the pupils in the schools under its control. All orders for books under this act shall be made by a duly authorized agent of the high school board and billed by the publisher or the depository in California designated by him to the high school board.

§ 10. No emolument to be given or accepted. Sample copies. No publisher of school text-books, nor agent of such publisher, shall offer or give any emolument, money, or other valuable thing, or any inducement, to any member of any high school board or school official or teacher connected with any of the high schools of California, for his vote, or promise to vote, or for the use of his influence for the adoption of any school text-book to be used in any of the high schools of this state, nor shall any member of any high school board or school official connected with any of the public schools of California, accept emolument, money or other valuable thing, or any other inducement, from any publisher, or agent of any publisher, for his vote or promise to vote, or for the use of his influence for the adoption of any school text-books; provided, that nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent any person, publisher, or publisher's agent from lending one sample copy of any school text-book to any member of a high school board or school official for examination of such books or books before the adoption of books, as provided for in this act, and nothing shall be construed to prevent such a member of a high school board or school official from receiving such sample copies; provided, that all copies of text-books so received shall be returned within thirty days after the adoption of text-books in the subject or subjects by the high school board.

§ 11. Penalty. Any publisher of school text-books, or agent of such publisher, or any member of any high school board or public school official in the state of California, who violates any of the provisions of this act, on conviction thereof, shall be punished as for a misdemeanor; and any member of a high school board or public school official shall, in addition, be removed from his official position.

ACT 3586i.

An act to provide for the organization and supervision of courses in physical education in the elementary, secondary and normal schools of the state, and appropriating ten thousand dollars therefor.

§ 1. Courses of physical education. The board of education of each county, city and county, and city, whose duty it is to prescribe the course of study for the elementary schools of such county, city and county or city, shall prescribe suitable courses of physical education in accordance with the provisions of this act for all pupils enrolled in the day elementary schools, except pupils who may be excused from such training on account of physical disability; and the high school board of each high school district shall prescribe suitable courses of physical education in accordance with the provisions of this act for all pupils enrolled in the day high schools of such district, except pupils regularly enrolled in high school cadet companies and pupils who may be excused from such courses on account of physical disability.

§ 2. Purposes of courses. The aims and purposes of the courses of physical education established under the provisions of this act shall be as follows: (1) To develop organic vigor, provide neuromuscular training, promote bodily and mental poise, correct postural defects, secure the more advanced forms of co-ordination, strength and endurance, and to promote such desirable moral and social qualities as appreciation of the value of co-operation, self-subordination and obedience to authority, and higher ideals, courage and wholesome interest in truly recreational activities; (2) to promote a hygienic school and home life, secure scientific supervision of the sanitation of school buildings, playgrounds and athletic fields, and the equipment thereof.

§ 3. Enforcement of courses. It shall be the duty of the superintendent of schools of every county, city and county, or city, and of every board of education, board of school trustees, or high school board, to enforce the courses of physical education prescribed by the proper authority, and to require that such physical education be given in the schools under their jurisdiction or control. All pupils enrolled in the elementary schools, except pupils excused therefrom in accordance with the provisions of this act, shall be required to attend upon such courses of physical education during periods which shall average twenty minutes in each school day, and all pupils enrolled in the secondary schools, except pupils excused therefrom in accordance with the provisions of this act, shall be required to attend upon such courses of physical education for at least two hours each week that school is in session.

§ 4. Supervisor and special teachers. When the number of pupils in any city or city and county or school district is sufficient, such city or city and county or school district shall employ a competent supervisor and such special teachers of physical education as may be necessary. The trustees of two or more contiguous elementary school districts, or the trustees of one or more elementary school districts and the high school board of the high school district in which such elementary school district or districts are situated, may by written agreement join in the employment of a competent teacher of physical education for such districts, and the salary of such teacher and the expenses incurred on account of such instruction shall be apportioned as the school board concerned may agree.

§ 5. Courses in normal schools. The state board of education, in standardizing the courses of instruction offered in the several normal schools of the state, shall prescribe a course in physical education and shall make the completion of such course a requirement for graduation.

§ 6. Duty of state board of education. It shall be the duty of the state board of education: (1) to adopt such rules and regulations as it may deem necessary and proper to secure the establishment of courses in physical education in the elementary and secondary schools in accordance with the provisions of this act; (2) to appoint a state supervisor of physical education whose duties are hereinafter defined; (3) to compile or cause to be compiled and printed, a manual in physical education for distribution to teachers in the public schools of the state.

§ 7. State supervisor of physical education. Salary. Expenses. The supervisor of physical education appointed under the provisions of this act, shall be experienced in the supervision of physical education in public schools. He shall not be subject to the provisions of any civil service law of the state. He shall exercise general supervision over the courses of physical education in elementary and secondary schools of the state; shall exercise general control over all athletic activities of the public schools; shall advise school officials, school boards and teachers in matters of physical education; shall visit and investigate the work in physical education in the public schools and shall perform such other duties as may be assigned to him by the state board of education. He shall receive a salary not exceeding three thousand six hundred dollars per annum, as fixed by the state board of education, payable at the same time and in the same manner as the salaries of other state officers are payable. He shall also receive his actual and necessary traveling expenses while on official business. The state board of education may within the limits of the appropriation hereinafter provided, employ such expert and clerical assistance as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

§ 8. Appropriation. The sum of ten thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any moneys belonging to the state not otherwise appropriated to defray the expenses of the state board of education in carrying out the provisions of this act, during the sixty-ninth and seventieth fiscal years.

ACT 3586 L.

An act to accept the provisions and benefits of an act passed by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled and approved February twenty-third, nineteen hundred seventeen, to provide for the promotion of vocational education; to create a vocational education fund and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved May 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1387.]

§ 1. Provisions of federal vocational education act accepted. Acceptance of benefits of federal vocational education act. The people of the state of California do hereby accept the provisions of, and each and all of the funds provided by, an act passed by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, entitled, "An act to provide for the promotion of vocational education; to provide for co-operation with the states in the promotion of such education in agriculture and the trades and industries; to provide for co-operation with the states in the preparation of teachers of vocational subjects; and to appropriate money and regulate its expenditure," and approved by the president February twenty-third, nineteen hundred seventeen. In accepting the benefits of said act the people of the state of California agree to comply with all of its provisions and to observe all of its requirements.

§ 2. Powers of state board of education. The state board of education is hereby designated as the state board to carry out the purposes visions of said act, and is hereby given all necessary power to co-operate with the federal board for vocational education administration of the provisions of the federal act and of state treasurer. Vocational education fund. The fund created by said federal act, is hereby made custodian of the fund received by the state of California under the provisions of said act. He is also hereby made custodian of all state funds in this act for the purpose of co-operating with the federal government in the promotion of vocational education. He is hereby authorized to receive and provide for the proper custody of all moneys provided under the provisions of this act and the above-mentioned federal act. It shall be the duty of the state treasurer, upon receiving any apportionment of funds from the federal government on account of the vocational education fund, to report the same immediately, with the amount thereof, to the state controller and the state board of education and deposit the same to the credit of the "vocational education fund," which fund is hereby created. Thereupon the state controller and the state treasurer shall transfer from the general fund of the state to the vocational education fund an amount which shall equal the amount apportioned to the state of California under the provisions of the federal act mentioned in this act. The moneys so transferred into the vocational education fund are hereby appropriated without reference to fiscal years for the purpose of co-operating with the federal government in promoting vocational education in this state and are exempt from the provisions of part three, title one, chapter three, article eighteen, of the Political Code, relating to the state board of control. The moneys constituting the vocational education fund shall be paid out by the state treasurer on warrants drawn by the controller as requisitioned by the state board of education in carrying out the provisions of this act, the federal act and the rules and regulations of said state board established as required by said acts.

ACT 3586n.

An act to require certain high school districts to provide part-time educational opportunities in civic and vocational subjects for persons under eighteen years of age, who are not in attendance upon full-time day schools, and part-time educational opportunities in citizenship for persons under twenty-one years of age who cannot adequately speak, read or write the English language; to enforce attendance upon such part-time classes where established, and providing penalties for violation of the provisions of this act.

[Approved May 27, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1047. In effect—see section 15.]

§ 1. High school board to maintain day part-time classes. The high school board of each high school district wherein there were enrolled, in the regular day classes of the high schools of said district during the school year next preceding, fifty or more persons living within a radius of three miles of a high school located in said district, must establish and maintain, under the provisions of section one thousand seven hundred fifty c of the Political Code, special day part-time classes which shall provide at least four sixty-minute hours of instruction per week for all persons within the district who are over fourteen and under eighteen years of age who are not in attendance upon full-time public or private day schools for four or more sixty-minute hours per week, and who are not subject to the provisions of an act entitled "An act to enforce the educational rights of children and providing penalties for the violation of the act," approved March 24, 1903, as amended. Said classes must be maintained between the hours of eight A. M. and five P. M. and must provide suitable instruction for the various individuals for whose benefit they are established.

§ 2. Special evening classes for persons not speaking English. The high school board of each high school district wherein there are living, within a radius of three miles of any high school located in said district, twenty or more persons over eighteen and under twenty-one years of age who expect to remain in the district for a period of two or more months, who are not in attendance for at least four sixty-minute hours per week upon regular full-time public or private day schools, or suitable part-time day classes such as those specified under section one of this act, and who cannot speak, read or write the English language, to a degree of proficiency equal to that required for the completion of the sixth grade of the elementary schools of this state, must establish and maintain special classes in evening schools or special evening classes under the administration of day schools, as authorized by section one thousand seven hundred fifty c of the Political Code. Said classes shall provide instruction in citizenship for such persons for at least four sixty-minute hours per week for at least thirty-six weeks of the school year.

§ 3. Compulsory attendance upon part-time classes. Exceptions. First—All persons under eighteen years of age who are too old to be subject to the provisions of an act entitled, "An act to enforce the educational rights of children, and providing penalties for the violation of the act," approved March 24, 1903, as amended, who have not graduated from a high school maintaining a four-year course above the eighth grade of the elementary school, or who have not had an equal amount of education in a private school or by private tuition, who are not disqualified for attendance upon these classes because of their physical or mental condition, or because of personal service that must be rendered to their dependents, who reside within three miles of a suitable class maintained, either voluntarily or under the provisions of this act by a high school district, and who are not in attendance upon a public or a private full-time day school or satisfactory part-time classes maintained by other agencies, shall be, and hereby are, required to attend upon a special part-time class maintained by the high school board of the district wherein they reside, or by the high school board of an adjoining district, for not less than four sixty-minute hours per week for the regularly established annual school term; provided, that the local school authorities may accept in lieu thereof not less than one hundred forty-four hours of attendance which, beginning with the opening of the high schools of the district for the year, shall be accumulated at the rate of not less than four sixty-minute hours per week; and provided, further, that the local school authorities may, in their discretion, arrange with the parents, guardian or other person responsible for any minor for his full-time attendance upon a special class maintained for such minor at a convenient season, wherein he may secure the one hundred forty-four hours of attendance required of him under the provisions of this act. When any such parent, guardian or other person responsible for such minor agrees with the local school authorities that said minor shall attend full-time classes for any given period, such parent, guardian or other person becomes responsible for said minor's compulsory attendance upon these classes for said period.

Second—Compulsory attendance upon classes for persons unable to speak English. All persons over eighteen and under twenty-one years of age who cannot speak, read or write the English language to a degree of proficiency equal to that required for the completion of the sixth grade of the elementary schools of this state; who live within a radius of three miles of an evening class maintained by a high school district, either voluntarily or under the provisions of this act, for the instruction of such persons; who expect to remain in the district for a period of two or more months; who are not disqualified for attendance upon these classes because of their physical or mental condition, or because of personal service that must be rendered to their dependents; and who are not in attendance upon a public or private full-time day school or upon a class established under the provisions of section one of this act for such persons under eighteen years of age, shall be, and hereby are, required to attend, for at least four sixty-minute hours per § 2. Application of act. Nothing contained in this act shall apply to trade schools or classes of instruction conducted by or in connection with any public school, public institution, parochial school, charitable school or institution, private business schools teaching shorthand, type-writing, bookkeeping, mechanical and other usual business subjects or trades schools connected therewith or any school employing teachers having certificates issued by the public school authorities to teach any particular trade, art, science or occupation.

§ 1. High school board to maintain day part-time classes. The high school board of each high school district wherein there were enrolled, in the regular day classes of the high schools of said district during the school year next preceding, fifty or more persons living within a radius of three miles of a high school located in said district, must establish and maintain, under the provisions of section one thousand seven hundred fifty c of the Political Code, special day part-time classes which shall provide at least four sixty-minute hours of instruction per week for all persons within the district who are over fourteen and under eighteen years of age who are not in attendance upon full-time public or private day schools for four or more sixty-minute hours per week, and who are not subject to the provisions of an act entitled "An act to enforce the educational rights of children and providing penalties for the violation of the act," approved March 24, 1903, as amended. Said classes must be maintained between the hours of eight A. M. and five P. M. and must provide suitable instruction for the various individuals for whose benefit they are established.

§ 2. Special evening classes for persons not speaking English. The high school board of each high school district wherein there are living, within a radius of three miles of any high school located in said district, twenty or more persons over eighteen and under twenty-one years of age who expect to remain in the district for a period of two or more months, who are not in attendance for at least four sixty-minute hours per week upon regular full-time public or private day schools, or suitable part-time day classes such as those specified under section one of this act, and who cannot speak, read or write the English language, to a degree of proficiency equal to that required for the completion of the sixth grade of the elementary schools of this state, must establish and maintain special classes in evening schools or special evening classes under the administration of day schools, as authorized by section one thousand seven hundred fifty c of the Political Code. Said classes shall provide instruction in citizenship for such persons for at least four sixty-minute hours per week for at least thirty-six weeks of the school year.

§ 3. Compulsory attendance upon part-time classes. Exceptions. First—All persons under eighteen years of age who are too old to be subject to the provisions of an act entitled, "An act to enforce the educational rights of children, and providing penalties for the violation of the act," approved March 24, 1903, as amended, who have not graduated from a high school maintaining a four-year course above the eighth grade of the elementary school, or who have not had an equal amount of education in a private school or by private tuition, who are not disqualified for attendance upon these classes because of their physical or mental condition, or because of personal service that must be rendered to their dependents, who reside within three miles of a suitable class maintained, either voluntarily or under the provisions of this act by a high school district, and who are not in attendance upon a public or a private full-time day school or satisfactory part-time classes maintained by other agencies, shall be, and hereby are, required to attend upon a special part-time class maintained by the high school board of the district wherein they reside, or by the high school board of an adjoining district, for not less than four sixty-minute hours per week for the regularly established annual school term; provided, that the local school authorities may accept in lieu thereof not less than one hundred forty-four hours of attendance which, beginning with the opening of the high schools of the district for the year, shall be accumulated at the rate of not less than four sixty-minute hours per week; and provided, further, that the local school authorities may, in their discretion, arrange with the parents, guardian or other person responsible for any minor for his full-time attendance upon a special class maintained for such minor at a convenient season, wherein he may secure the one hundred forty-four hours of attendance required of him under the provisions of this act. When any such parent, guardian or other person responsible for such minor agrees with the local school authorities that said minor shall attend full-time classes for any given period, such parent, guardian or other person becomes responsible for said minor's compulsory attendance upon these classes for said period.

Second—Compulsory attendance upon classes for persons unable to speak English. All persons over eighteen and under twenty-one years of age who cannot speak, read or write the English language to a degree of proficiency equal to that required for the completion of the sixth grade of the elementary schools of this state; who live within a radius of three miles of an evening class maintained by a high school district, either voluntarily or under the provisions of this act, for the instruction of such persons; who expect to remain in the district for a period of two or more months; who are not disqualified for attendance upon these classes because of their physical or mental condition, or because of personal service that must be rendered to their dependents; and who are not in attendance upon a public or private full-time day school or upon a class established under the provisions of section one of this act for such persons under eighteen years of age, shall be, and hereby are, required to attend, for at least four sixty-minute hours per week, upon a special day or evening class maintained by a high school district for persons who cannot speak, read or write the English language.

§ 4. Conduct of classes. Combined school enrollment certificate and permit to work. First—It shall be the duty of the local school authorities to provide, in so far as possible through the classes established under section one of this act, educational opportunities which shall be suitable for the different needs of the various persons attending them. In carrying out the provisions of this act:

(a) They shall establish and maintain short unit courses and give instruction in civic and vocational subjects and subjects supplementing home, farm, commercial, trade, industrial or other occupations; and they may give instruction in any elementary, secondary or other school subject.

(b) They shall provide for individual counsel and guidance in social and vocational matters for each pupil enrolled in these classes:

(c) They shall give all persons who are engaged in skilled occupations and who are enrolled in these classes opportunity to better qualify themselves for said occupations.

(d) They shall give all persons who are engaged in unskilled occupations or in occupations that do not offer educational opportunities and who are in attendance upon these classes opportunity to prepare themselves for skilled occupations or for occupations that offer opportunities for promotion or further education.

(e) They shall provide instruction in home economics subjects for those who desire and need work of this character.

(f) They shall provide instruction in oral and written English and in the duties and responsibilities of citizenship for persons enrolled in these classes who cannot speak, read or write the English language to a degree of proficiency equal to that required for the completion of the sixth grade of the elementary schools of this state.

(g) They shall not require of pupils a minimum uniform standard of proficiency in any subjects maintained in these classes, except in those subjects designed to prepare for other classes or other schools.

(h) They shall require the principal of the school to issue in his name a combined school enrollment certificate and permit to work to each person enrolled in these classes, and a duplicate of said certificate for his parents, guardian or other person having control or charge of him, and from time to time such duplicates of said certificate as are necessary for filing with his employers, together with such other blanks as may be necessary for the use of employers in reporting to the principal information concerning the employment of said person. Said certificate shall give the name, age and residence of the pupil, the name and residence of his parents, guardian or other person having control or charge of him, the time of day during which and the days on which he is in attendance upon the classes, and the character of work that he is pursuing. Said certificate shall also state any physical or other condition that should limit the employment of said pupil and shall state the date of issuance and the date of expiration. Said certificate shall be issued to persons enrolling in these classes within five days after their enrollment. Certificates issued during the first school term shall expire five days after the opening of the next succeeding school term of the year, and certificates issued during the last term of the school year shall remain valid until five days after the opening of the first school term of the succeeding year.

Second—Instruction in citizenship. It shall be the duty of local school authorities that maintain classes under the provisions of section two of this act to provide, for persons who cannot speak, read or write the English language, to a degree of proficiency equal to that required for the completion of the sixth grade of the elementary schools of this state, instruction in such subjects and in the duties and responsibilities of citizenship.

§ 5. Parent, etc., to compel attendance of minor. Penalty. Each parent, guardian or other person having control or charge of any minor required under the provisions of section three of this act to attend special part-time classes, must compel the attendance of such minor upon the same. He must retain a copy of the certificate of school enrollment and permit to work provided for under section four of this act, and must present the same upon request of any officer of the law or other person authorized to enforce the provisions of this act.

Should any such parent, guardian or other person having control or charge of any such minor fail to perform any of the above duties, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, shall be liable, for the first offense, to a fine of not more than ten dollars or to imprisonment for not more than five days, and for each subsequent offense he shall be liable to a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars, or to imprisonment for not less than five days nor more than twenty-five days, or to both such fine and imprisonment.

§ 6. Complaint against parents, etc., violating act. The high school board of any high school district wherein a minor resides who has violated section three of this act shall, on the complaint of any person, make full and impartial investigation of all charges against any parent, guardian or other person having control or charge of any such minor for violation of section five of this act.

If it shall appear upon such investigation that any such parent, guardian or other person having control or charge of any such minor has violated the provisions of section five of this act, it is hereby made the duty of the clerk of said board, or other person authorized by said board to bring such actions, to make and file in the proper court a criminal complaint against such parent, guardian or other person having control or charge of any such minor, charging such violation and to see that such charge is prosecuted by the proper authorities; provided, that in cities, and in cities and counties, and in school districts having an attendance officer or officers, such officer or officers shall have power, and it shall be their duty, to make and file such complaint and see that said charge is presented by the proper authorities.

§ 7. Employer of minor to require certificate. Notice to principal of employment. Time at school and at work not to exceed eight hours. The employer of any minor under eighteen years of age who is too old to be subject to compulsory full-time school attendance under the provisions of an act entitled "An act to enforce the educational rights of children and providing penalties for the violation of the act," approved March 24, 1903, as amended, and who resides in a high school district wherein section three of this act has become operative, shall require of said minor a school enrollment certificate and permit to work issued by a high school or elementary school principal of a school in the district. Said certificate shall be the authorization of the employer to employ said minor for the period between the date of the issuance of the certificate and the date of its expiration. Under no conditions shall any person employ a minor under eighteen years of age who is too old to be subject to compulsory full-time school attendance under the provisions of an act entitled "An act to enforce the educational rights of children and providing penalties for the violation of the act," approved March 24, 1903, as amended, and who does not present such a school enrollment certificate and permit to work. The employer shall file and retain permanently said school enrollment certificate and permit to work. Within five days after the beginning of employment he shall send to the principal of the school issuing said enrollment card and permit to work a written notification of such employment. In said notification he shall briefly describe the character of the work performed by the minor and the time of day during which and the days of the week on which he is employed. Said employer shall retain and file, with the enrollment certificate and permit to work mentioned above, a copy of this notification; provided, that, except in agricultural and home-making occupations, it shall be illegal for any one or more employers to employ a minor under eighteen years of age for a greater number of hours each day than will, if added to the number of hours that he is compelled to attend school under the provisions of this act, equal eight hours. It is hereby made the duty of the principal of the school which any pupil subject to the provisions of this act attends, to add his hours of compulsory daily school attendance and employment, and should the sum of such school attendance and employment exceed eight hours for any day of the week, said principal shall give notification to this effect to any employer who may be employing any such pupil after he has already served eight hours in compulsory school attendance and at employment for any such day. Except in agricultural or home-making occupations, it shall be illegal for any employer knowingly to employ on any day a minor under eighteen years of age who is subject to the provisions of this act, and who has already served during said day eight hours of time in compulsory school attendance and at employment combined.

§ 8. Penalty for illegal employment of minor. Any person, firm, corporation, agent or officer of a firm or corporation that violates or omits to comply with any of the provisions of this act, or that employs or suffers any minor under eighteen years of age who is too old to be subject to compulsory full-time school attendance under the provisions of an act entitled "An act to enforce the educational rights of children and providing penalties for the violation of the act," approved March 24, 1903, as amended, to be employed in violation thereof, is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than two hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than sixty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment for each and every offense. Failure to produce an enrollment certificate and permit to work, such as that provided for in section four of this act, and a duplicate of the written notification of employment sent to the high school board, as provided for in section seven of this act, shall be prima facie evidence of the illegal employment of any minor whose enrollment certificate and permit to work is not produced.

§ 9. Action by school board. It shall be the duty of the clerk of the high school board, a truant officer or other person authorized by said board to bring such actions, to bring an action against any person, firm, corporation, agent or officer of a firm or corporation that employs a minor in violation of the provisions of this act.

§ 10. Settlement of controversies by school superintendent. Should any controversy arise in any high school district in this state over the question as to whether any person is exempt from the compulsory attendance features of this act, or over the question as to whether attendance on part-time classes maintained by other agencies may be accepted in lieu of attendance upon the classes contemplated by this act, the school superintendent having jurisdiction over said district shall provide for an investigation and he shall render a decision; provided, that should any of the parties to any such controversy not be satisfied with the decision of the superintendent of schools they may appeal from his decision to the superintendent of public instruction who shall provide for a further investigation, upon the findings of which he shall decide the matter; and provided, further, that no such instruction by other agencies shall be accepted in lieu of the instruction provided by part-time classes under the provisions of this act unless the necessary instruction is given in citizenship and in addition thereto such elementary and secondary school subjects as may be desired by the persons attending these classes or by their parents or guardians.

§ 11. Certificates to pupils in full-time day schools. All principals of high schools and elementary schools located in high school districts, wherein the provisions of section three of this act have become operative, shall issue to all pupils enrolled in their respective schools, who are not otherwise subject to the provisions of this act, who are too old to be subject to compulsory full-time school attendance under the provisions of an act entitled "An act to enforce the educational rights of children and providing penalties for the violation of the act," approved March 24, 1903, as amended, and who are under the age of eighteen years, a combined school enrollment certificate and permit to work, similar to that provided in subdivision first of section four of this act, but modified to meet the needs of full-time day school; and the principals of all high schools wherein reside persons under eighteen years of age who are exempt under the provisions of section three of this act shall, upon request, register such persons and shall issue to them enrollment certificates and permits to work, which shall state the causes of exemption.

§ 12. Provisions of earlier acts to prevail. Should any of the provisions of this act be in conflict with any of the provisions of an act entitled "An act to enforce the educational rights of children and providing penalties for the violation of the act," approved March 24, 1903, as amended, or with any of the provisions of an act entitled "An act relating to the employment and hours of labor of children; prohibiting the employment of minors under certain ages; prohibiting the employment of certain illiterate minors; providing for the enforcement hereof by the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics, and providing penalties for the violation hereof," approved February 20, 1903, as amended, said conflicting provisions of this act shall be null and void.

§ 13. Disposition of fines. Any fine collected under the provisions of this act shall be paid into the high school fund of the high school district wherein the minor resides.

§ 14. Saturday classes. Exemption from attendance. Any high school board may maintain special part-time classes on Saturdays, and should it appear that five or more minors residing in any high school district which maintains such classes are unable to arrange with their employers for attendance upon such classes maintained on other days and other hours, the high school board of said district must provide instruction for them on Saturday afternoons.

Should it appear that the interest of any minor would suffer if he were compelled to attend a special part-time class under the provisions of this act, the high school board of the high school district in which said minor resides may exempt him from compulsory attendance upon any such class; provided, that any such high school board may not exempt, by authority of this section, a number of minors greater than three and in addition thereto a number which shall exceed five per cent of the total number of minors subject to compulsory attendance upon part-time classes in its district under the provisions of this act.

Said board shall cause to be issued to any such exempted minor a combined school enrollment certificate and permit to work which shall contain a statement of the cause of, and the time covered by, such exemption.

§ 15. Time in effect. Minimum attendance. The compulsory attendance features of this act, the restrictions relating to the employment of minors under eighteen years of age, and all penalties relating thereto, shall become operative as follows: During the school year 1919-20 and thereafter they shall apply to all persons under twenty-one years of age who are subject to the provisions of this act and who cannot speak, read or write the English language to a degree of proficiency equal to that required for the completion of the sixth grade of the elementary schools of this state, and they shall apply also to all other persons subject to the provisions of this act who are less than sixteen years of age. During the school year 1920-21 they shall apply also to all persons subject to the provisions of this act who are less than seventeen years of age, and during the school year 1921-22 and thereafter they shall apply also to all persons subject to the provisions of this act who are less than eighteen years of age.

No high school board may be required to establish special part time classes under the provisions of this act unless there are in the district twelve or more minors under eighteen years of age who reside within three miles of a high school in the district and who would become subject, under the provisions of this act, to compulsory attendance upon said classes.

ACT 35860.

An act to provide that the Santa Barbara State Normal School of Manual Arts and Home Economics shall hereafter be known as the Santa Barbara State Normal School, and to provide that it shall hereafter fulfill the functions of and be governed by the laws relating to the normal schools of this state. [Approved May 25, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1208. In effect July 25, 1919.]

ACT 3586p.

An act to authorize the transfer and expenditure of the excess of school building funds in certain cases.

[Approved May 3, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 235. In effect immediately.]

§ 1. Transfer of school building fund to general fund authorized. Whenever the average daily attendance of pupils for the first half of the fiscal year 1918-19, in any school district in this state, shows an increase of more than one hundred per cent over the increase in average daily attendance of the fiscal year 1917-18, and it appears that the income and revenue provided for such district for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1919, will be insufficient to defray the usual current expenses of such district until such date, and there remains in the building fund of such district, created and existing under the provisions of section one thousand eight hundred thirty-eight of the Political Code, any moneys which, by reason of war-time building restrictions imposed by federal authority, or by reason of the present excessive cost of building construction resulting from war conditions, have not been expended, and which in the judgment of two-thirds or more of the board of trustees or board of education of such school district cannot be expended to the economic advantage of such school district during the school year beginning July 1, 1919, such board may, by resolution indorsed upon its minutes and adopted by the affirmative votes of not less than two-thirds of all its members, declare such moneys, or any part thereof, to be surplus moneys of such fund, and may, by a like vote, transfer such moneys or any part thereof, from such building fund to the general fund of the district, and may, thereafter, expend the amount so transferred, or so much thereof as may be necessary, in payment of the usual current expenses of such district incurred during the school year, ending with the said thirtieth day of June, 1919.

§ 2. Time of taking effect. This act, being an act to provide for the payment of the usual current expenses of the state, shall take effect immediately.

TITLE 499.SEWERS.*ACT 3598a.

An act validating the formation and organization and fixing the boundaries of sewer district number two, organized under the provisions of an act of the legislature of the state of California approved May 20, 1915, "An act to provide for the divisions of municipalities in the sewer districts and for the construction of, or acquisition and maintenance of sewers therein, providing a system of district sewer bonds to pay the cost of such construction of, or acquisition and also for the payments of such bonds." [Approved May 11, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 468. In effect July 22, 1919.

TITLE 500.

SHASTA COUNTY.

ACT 3608.

An act fixing the compensation of grand and trial jurors in counties of the twenty-eighth class.

[Approved May 28, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1025. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Fees of jurors, counties of twenty-eighth class. Grand jurors or trial jurors in criminal cases in the superior court shall receive, as compensation for each day's attendance, per day three dollars, and for each mile actually traveled in attending court as a grand juror or juror at a criminal case, in the superior court in going only, per mile fifteen cents. The county clerk shall certify to the auditor the number of days' attendance and the number of miles traveled by each juror, and the auditor shall draw his warrant for the amount to which each juror is entitled and the treasurer shall pay the same.

TITLE 510.

SMELTERS.

ACT 3670.

An act providing for the investigation by the state veterinarian, the secretary of the state board of health and the state commissioner of horticulture of injury to animal life and vegetation in California, caused by smelter wastes, and making an appropriation therefor. Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 280.

TITLE 513.

SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

ACT 3693.

To provide for the burial of ex-Union soldiers, sailors and marines dying without leaving sufficient means to defray burial expenses.

[Approved March 15, 1889. Stats. 1889, p. 198.]

Amended 1901, p. 596; 1911, p. 479; 1913, pp. 17, 330; 1917, p. 749.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. Soldiers, sailors and marines may be buried at county expense. It shall be the duty of the board of supervisors of each county in this state to designate a proper person in the county, who shall be an honorably discharged soldier, sailor or marine who shall have served in the army or navy of the United States, whose duty it shall be to cause to be decently interred the body of any honorably discharged soldier, sailor or marine who shall have served in the army or navy of the United States, or the widow of any such honorably discharged soldier, sailor or marine, who may hereafter die without having sufficient means to defray funeral expenses. Such burial shall not be made in any cemetery or burial ground, or any portion of such cemetery or burial ground, used exclusively for the burial of the pauper dead. The expenses of each burial shall not exceed the sum of seventy-five dollars. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 749.]

Another amendment of Section 1 of this act was passed at the same session of the legislature. It was in almost precisely the same terms as the above amendment. See Stats. 1917, p. 17.

§ 4. Record of deceased soldiers. Headstones. It shall be the duty of the clerk of the board of supervisors, upon receiving the report and statement of expenses provided for in this act, to transcribe in a book kept for that purpose, all the facts contained in such report respecting such deceased soldier, sailor, or marine, or the widow of such soldier, sailor or marine. It shall also be the duty of said clerk, upon the death and burial of any such soldier, sailor or marine, to make application to the proper authorities under the government of the United States, for a suitable headstone, as provided by act of congress and to cause the same to be placed at the head of such soldier, sailor or marine's grave, the expenses of which shall not exceed the sum of five dollars for cartage and properly setting each stone, and it shall be the duty of the board of supervisors to perpetually maintain suitably and properly each grave of any such soldier, sailor or marine whether so marked by a headstone prior to the passage of this act or subsequent thereto. The expenses thus incurred shall be audited and paid as provided in section two of this act for burial expenses. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 749.]

ACT 3693a.

An act to provide for the care of the graves of soldiers, sailors and marines of the United States of America whose remains are buried in certain cemeteries.

[Approved May 11, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 422. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Care of graves of soldiers, sailors and marines. Wherever in any place of burial of human remains, which is now or which may hereafter be established or organized by or under the authority of the board of supervisors of a county, or city and county, of this state, or by or under the authority of the board of trustees, city council or other governing body of a municipality in this state, as a cemetery or place of burial of human remains, there is or shall be any known grave of a former soldier, sailor or marine of the United States of America (who was not dishonorably discharged from the service of said United States), it is hereby made the duty of the trustees or other officers who are or may be hereafter vested by law with the power to manage such cemetery or place of burial, to keep such grave properly marked and identified, and free from weeds and rubbish, and to keep in decent order and repair and free from defacement, injury and unlawful markings any tomb, monument, gravestone, wall or other appurtenance appertaining to such grave.

§ 2. Tax levy. It is hereby made the duty of such officers who are charged or who may hereafter be charged by law with the official power to raise money by taxation for maintaining any such cemetery or place of burial, to include in the tax levy for such purposes sufficient to raise the amount necessary to comply with the requirements of this act.

ACT 3697.

An act to create a state committee on soldiers' employment and readjustment to assist in securing re-employment for soldiers, sailors, marines, and others, who have served with the armed forces of the United States during the European war; to provide a state agency to co-operate with all federal, state, county and municipal officials and agencies having a like object, and to authorize said committee to aid in the expeditious allowance and payment of all allotments and allowances provided for by law for the protection of said soldiers and the maintenance of their dependents, and to make appropriations for the purposes of this act.

[Approved January 24, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 4. In effect immediately.]

§ 1. State committee on soldiers' employment and readjustment created. There is hereby created a state committee on soldiers' employment and readjustment to consist of nine members who shall be appointed by the governor to serve at his pleasure.

§ 2. Powers and duties of committee. The state committee on soldiers' employment and readjustment shall assist in securing employment for soldiers, sailors, marines, and others, who have served with the armed forces of the United States during the European war; and shall likewise have power to co-operate with all federal, state, county and municipal officials and agencies having a like object in so dealing with such problems and in the securing of said employment for said soldiers, sailors, marines, and others, who have served with the armed forces of the United States during the European war; and to stimulate and co-ordinate public and private assistance and to encourage and develop federal, state, municipal and private industrial and constructive enterprises in the meeting of these problems; and said committee shall likewise be authorized and empowered to aid in the expeditious allowance and payment of all allotments and allowances provided for by law for the protection of said soldiers and the maintenance of their dependents.

§ 3. Activities of state council of defense transferred. This committee shall succeed to all the activities of the state council of defense, and said state council of defense is hereby authorized and instructed to deliver all of its records, files and property to said committee.

§ 4. Expenses. Members of the state committee on soldiers' employment and readjustment shall serve without pay, but shall be reimbursed for their actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duty hereunder.

§ 5. Appropriation. Term of office. For the purposes of this act fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated. Claims against such appropriation shall be approved by the chairman of the state committee on soldiers' employment and readjustment, and when so approved shall be audited and paid in the manner provided by law. The term of said state committee on soldiers' employment and readjustment shall expire not later than January 31, 1921, A. D.

§ 6. Emergency measure. Inasmuch as the United States military and naval forces are being demobilized, and, those entering from the state of California are suddenly returning in very great numbers to their homes, without provision for their re-employment or other readjustment to civil life, it is hereby declared that this act is an emergency measure, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health, peace and safety, and that under the provisions of section one of article four of the state constitution an urgency exists, and this act shall take effect immediately.

An act providing for the relief by counties or cities of indigent persons who have been honorably discharged from any branch of the United States army or navy or the American Red Cross, and their families, to be administered through certain organizations organized for that purpose.

§ 1. County relief to indigents discharged from United States service or Red Cross. The board of supervisors of any county in the state is hereby authorized to grant financial assistance, relief and support to indigent persons who have been honorably discharged from any branch of the United States army or navy, or the American Red Cross, and who have served in any war in which the United States has been engaged, such assistance, relief and support to be administered through and by any military, naval or marine organization now existing or hereafter created for the purpose of aiding, relieving and supporting such indigent persons under the terms and conditions set forth in this act.

§ 2. Statement by organizations giving assistance. Any organization desiring to assist the persons mentioned in section one hereof, shall first file with the board of supervisors of the county in which it is operating or intending to operate, a verified statement setting forth the following matters, to wit:

1. Objects and purposes of the organization, one of which must be the purpose mentioned in section one hereof.
2. Date of organization.
3. Names and addresses of officers and relief committee.
4. Name and address of the treasurer or financial officer in charge of the receipt and disbursement of funds.
5. Number of members.
6. Financial-condition showing total assets and liabilities.

7. Statement that financial assistance for persons mentioned in section one hereof to be administered in accordance with the provisions of this act, will be asked for.

§ 3. Consideration of statement. Upon the filing of the said statement the board of supervisors shall set a day not more than ten days from the date of such filing, upon which said statement shall be considered and at least five days' notice thereof shall be given by mail to the clerk or secretary of said organization.

§ 4. Resolution of supervisors. Upon the day set, the board of supervisors shall, after hearing any evidence that may be presented, determine by resolution entered upon its minutes whether or not the said organization is qualified to carry out the provisions of this act. Such resolution shall be effective only for a period of one year and may be revoked at any time.

§ 5. Treasurer of organization to give bond. No money shall be given to any person under this act except to the treasurer or financial officer of the — organization, whose name shall be stated in subdivision four of the statement mentioned in section two hereof, and such treasurer or financial officer shall, before receiving any money hereunder file with the board of supervisors a good and sufficient bond or undertaking signed by at least two sureties, in an amount to be fixed by the board of supervisors; said bond shall inure to the benefit of the county and shall be conditioned upon the faithful and honest administration of the funds intrusted to said officer in accordance with the provisions of this act.

§ 6. Warrant for relief upon request of organization. Upon receipt of a request from any organization qualified under this act, giving the names of all persons for whom relief is desired, together with the branch of service, division, regiment and company or other unit or designation by which each of such persons may be identified, and a further statement that the circumstances of each of such persons has been personally investigated by the relief committee of such organization, and that each of such persons is in all respects worthy and entitled to relief hereunder, the board of supervisors may direct the county auditor to draw his warrant upon the county treasurer for the amount specified therein, or a less amount, and such warrant shall be delivered to the treasurer or financial officer of said organization.

§ 7. Money not to be used for overhead expenses. All money paid out by any county under this act shall be used by the organization receiving it exclusively for the relief of persons mentioned in section one hereof and no part of it shall ever be used for administration or overhead expenses; provided, however, that the indigent and dependent widow, minor child, father or mother of any of said persons may be granted relief by said organization out of said money; provided, further, that the necessary expenses, not to exceed seventy-five dollars for burial or cremation of any deceased person mentioned in section one hereof, may be paid out of such money.

§ 8. Money taken from general fund or raised by tax levy. The money necessary to carry out the provisions of this act may be taken from the general fund of the county, or the board of supervisors in its discretion may levy a special tax not to exceed one-half cent on the one hundred dollars of the assessed valuation of all property within the county to carry out said purposes.

§ 9. Assistance by city. Any municipal corporation may extend assistance to any organization under this act, and in such case all proceedings required to be had before the board of supervisors of the county shall be had before the legislative body of such city, and the words "board of supervisors," "county," "county auditor" and "county treasurer" wherever used in this act shall be deemed to mean "legislative body," "city," "city auditor" and "city treasurer" respectively.

TITLE 526.

STATE.

ACT 3796a.

[Approved June 10, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1390.]

Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1669. See post, Act 3847.

TITLE 530.

STATE ENGINEERING.

ACT 3812.

An act to create for the state of California a department of engineering, to provide for the appointment of the officers and employees thereof, defining its powers and prescribing the duties of said department, its officers and employees, to provide the compensation of such officers and employees, to make an appropriation for the salaries and other expenses for the remainder of the fifty-eighth fiscal year and making certain acts a felony and repealing an act entitled "An act creating a commissioner of public works, defining his duties and powers and fixing his compensation," approved February 9, 1900, and all acts or parts of acts amendatory thereof; also repealing an act entitled "An act to create a department of highways for the state of California, to define its duties and powers, to provide for the appointment of officers and employees thereof, and to provide for the compensation of said officers and employees, and for the additional expenses of said department, and to make an appropriation therefor for the remainder of the forty-eighth fiscal year," approved April 1, 1897; also repealing an act entitled "An act providing for the appointment of an auditing board to the commissioner of public works, authorizing and directing him and them to perform certain duties relating to drainage, to purchase machinery, tools, dredges, and appliances therefor, to improve and rectify water channels, to erect works necessary and incident to said drainage, to condemn land and property for the purposes aforesaid, making certain acts a felony, and making an appropriation of money for the purposes of this act," approved March 17, 1897, and all acts or parts of acts amendatory thereof; also repealing an act entitled "An act to provide for the appointment, duties and compensation of a debris commissioner, and to make an appropriation to be expended under his directions in the discharge of his duties as such commissioner," approved March 24, 1893, and all acts or parts of acts amendatory thereof; also repealing an act entitled "An act to create the office of Lake Tahoe wagon road commissioner, providing the term of office and compensation of such commissioner, defining his duties, and making an appropriation for the salary and expenditures provided for and authorized by this act," approved April 1, 1897, and all acts or parts of acts amendatory thereof.

Amended 1909, p. 558; 1911, p. 823; 1915, pp. 630, 898; 1917, pp. 541, 690.

The amendments of 1917 follow:

§ 1. Department of engineering created. California highway commission. A department of and for the state of California to be known as the department of engineering is hereby created, to consist of an advisory board composed of the governor as ex-officio member and chairman of said board, the state engineer, who shall be the chief executive officer of the department, the general superintendent of state hospitals, the chairman of the state board of harbor commissioners of San Francisco, and three other members to be appointed by the governor, which said three appointive members shall hereafter in this act be designated as the appointed members of said advisory board. Said three appointed members shall compose a subdivision of said department of engineering designated as the California highway commission. The said department, its officers and employees, shall have and exercise the powers and duties hereinafter set forth and specified, and such as are or may be hereafter provided by law. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 692.]

§ 1½. Consulting board. Meetings. Reports. [Repealed May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 692.]

§ 2. Head of department. Upon this act becoming effective the governor shall appoint a competent civil engineer as the head of the department of engineering, and such person shall be known as the state engineer. The state engineer shall devote his entire time to the services of the state and shall not actively engage in any other pursuit while serving as such state official. He shall have charge of all the engineering and structural work of the department. [Amendment approved May 15, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 543.]

§ 6. Employees, engineering department. The department of engineering, by and through the state engineer, shall have power to appoint two assistant engineers, a secretary, one state architect, one assistant state architect, a general superintendent for the architectural division, one mechanical engineer, one architectural designer, one structural engineer, an auditor, one electrical engineer, one estimator, one specification writer, one engineer's draftsman, three architectural draftsmen, two clerks, two stenographers, a blue-print pressman, a janitor, and such additional assistance as the advisory board may, in its judgment, deem necessary, and to fix their salaries and compensation, which officers and appointees shall hold office at the pleasure of the appointive power, and who must be confirmed by the advisory board before proceeding with their duties. Such officers and employees shall devote their entire time to the service of the department. [Amendment approved May 15, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 543.]

§ 9. Control of state highways. Expenditures. Power to obtain rights of way. Powers of state engineer assumed by highway commission. Highway engineering. The department of engineering shall take and have full possession and control of all roads and highways which have been declared and adopted state roads and state highways and all state roads and state highways which may hereafter be acquired and constructed. All expenditures by the state for highway purposes, except as otherwise hereafter provided by law, shall be under the full charge of the department of engineering, and all moneys appropriated for such purpose shall be made payable upon the proper demand of said department when approved and audited by the state board of control. The department of engineering, in the name of the people of the state of California, shall have the power to obtain or condemn necessary rights of way for any authorized state highway or for the change of any existing state highway or for any road placed under the department's charge by law unless otherwise provided. It shall have power to alter or change the route of a road and shall do all things necessary, and obtain all tools and implements required to properly care for and manage the roads under the charge of the department. Whenever, under any statutes of this state, the performance of any duty or obligation is imposed upon the department of highways, the same shall be assumed by, and the performance of the same shall devolve upon, the department of engineering. The said California highway commission shall forthwith assume and have and exercise all of the powers and duties of the state engineer relating to state roads and state highways and other roads and highways heretofore by law conferred or imposed upon said state engineer, and the said state engineer shall immediately relinquish and transfer to the said California highway commission all funds, papers, maps, records and other documents of the department of engineering relating to the roads and highways of the state and thereafter the state engineer shall have no further duty, power or responsibility with regard to roads and highways, save only such as shall devolve upon him as a member of the advisory board of the department of engineering. Said California highway commission shall have the supervision and direction of all state roads and state highways now existing and the improvement, maintenance, repair and protection thereof, and have charge of and perform all other duties relating to state roads and state highways which may be imposed upon said commission by said advisory board. The highway engineer shall be the chief executive officer of the California highway commission and shall perform such duties as may be imposed upon him by the California highway commission which are not in conflict with any duties which may be placed upon him by said advisory board. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 692.]

§ 10. Duties of highway commission. Act for road districts, etc. Biennial reports. The California highway commission, in addition to such other duties as may be imposed upon such commission by law, shall—

(a) Make such investigations as will put at the service of the state the most approved methods of highway improvement;

(b) Compile statistics relative to the public highways of counties and municipalities;

(c) If deemed expedient by said commission and at the expense of the applicants, either in whole or in part, as determined by said commission, said county, road or boulevard district or division and municipal authorities, upon request of such county, road or boulevard district or division and municipal authorities, in establishing grades and road drainage systems and advise with them as to the construction, improvement and maintenance of highways and bridges.

(d) If deemed expedient by said commission and at the expense of the applicants, either in whole or in part, as determined by said commission, cause plans, specifications and estimates to be prepared for the repair and improvement of highways and bridges, and in its discretion, also act as the consulting engineer for any county, road or boulevard district or division, or municipal authorities, when requested to do so by the county, road or boulevard district or division or municipal authorities; and said commission may, in its discretion, and upon the request of the governing board of any county, permanent road division, road or boulevard district or division, accept the funds of any such political subdivision for deposit in the state treasury, said funds to be deposited in such state fund or funds as said commission may designate, and the state department of engineering shall use and expend the funds so deposited for the construction of bridges, roads or boulevards situated within such political subdivision, in accordance with the plans and specifications and other terms as are mutually agreed upon by said commission, on behalf of the state of California, and such governing board; provided, however, that any bridge, road or boulevard constructed under the provisions of this section by and under the jurisdiction of said state department of engineering shall revert to the original jurisdiction and control immediately upon the completion thereof, unless such bridge, road or boulevard shall, in the opinion of said commission, be and constitute an integral part of the state highway system as contemplated by the state highways act and the state highways act of 1915 or as otherwise provided by law; and, further, the governing board of any county, permanent road division, or road or boulevard district or division may pay into the state treasury, as provided herein, for the purposes hereof, any funds under its jurisdiction and control subject to use for bridge road or boulevard purposes, created by tax levy or issuance of the bonds of any such political subdivision or otherwise.

(e) Investigate and determine upon the various methods of road construction adapted to the different sections of the state, as to the best methods of construction and maintenance of highways and bridges, and make such experiments in relation thereto from time to time as said commission deems expedient.

(f) Aid at all times in promoting highway improvement throughout the state.

(g) Have the power to call upon any state, county or municipal official to furnish said commission with any information contained in his office which relates to, or is in any way necessary to, the proper performance of the work of said department of engineering, and it is hereby made the duty of such officials to furnish such information without cost.

(h) Prepare biennial reports relating to road and highway work which shall be incorporated by the state engineer in his biennial reports which he is required by law to submit to the governor at least thirty days before each session of the legislature. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 692.]

§ 13. Co-operative work with United States government. All co-operative engineering work now existing or to be engaged in by the state with the United States government shall be placed under the department of engineering. All plans, estimates and specifications shall be approved by the state engineer except that in the case of road and highway work all plans, estimates and specifications shall be approved by the California highway commission, and the advisory board shall have full power to determine the kind, quality and extent of such work under co-operation with said government before entering into agreement with said government for such work. All unexpended moneys provided for by law on the aforesaid co-operative basis shall be expressly placed under the full control of the department of engineering and the state controller shall transfer such funds to the credit of the said department. Hereafter plans, estimates and specifications for such work shall be filed in the office of said department. All moneys received by the state treasurer from the United States government under project agreements relating to federal aid road work shall be credited by the state controller to such fund or funds as the state department of engineering shall designate. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 694.]

§ 16. Biennial report of state engineer. The state engineer shall prepare biennial reports which shall be submitted to the governor at least thirty days before each session of the legislature. Said report shall embrace the work and investigations of the department under his charge for the previous two years, together with such recommendations for changes in the laws affecting the department as he may deem advisable. It shall be the duty of the state printer to print all reports, bulletins or other matter and furnish any other necessary illustrations or diagram therefor as the department may deem necessary, all of which shall, however, be subject to the approval of the state board of examiners. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 695.]

§ 17. Salaries. Bond. The highway engineer shall receive not to exceed the sum of ten thousand dollars per annum; the state engineer shall receive the sum of five thousand dollars per annum; each assistant engineer shall receive the sum of three thousand dollars per annum; the secretary shall receive the sum of three thousand dollars per annum; the state architect shall receive the sum of four thousand eight hundred dollars per annum; the assistant state architect shall receive the sum of three thousand dollars per annum; the general superintendent for the architectural division shall receive the sum of three thousand dollars per annum; the mechanical engineer shall receive the sum of two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum; the architectural designer shall receive the sum of two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum; the structural engineer shall receive the sum of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; the auditor shall receive the sum of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; the electrical engineer shall receive the sum of two thousand one hundred dollars per annum; the estimator shall receive the sum of two thousand one hundred dollars per annum; the specification writer shall receive the sum of two thousand one hundred dollars per annum; the engineer's draftsman shall receive the sum of two thousand dollars per annum; two architectural draftsmen shall receive the sum of two thousand one hundred dollars per annum, each; one architectural draftsman shall receive the sum of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum; two clerks shall receive the sum of one thousand eight hundred dollars each, per annum; two stenographers shall receive the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars each, per annum; the blue-print pressman shall receive the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum; the janitor shall receive the sum of nine hundred dollars per annum. Such salaries shall be paid at the same time and in the same manner as are the salaries of other state officers. The highway engineer shall furnish the state with a bond in the sum of twenty thousand dollars; the two assistant engineers and the state architect shall each furnish the state with a bond in the sum of ten thousand dollars; and the secretary shall furnish the state with a bond in the sum of fifteen thousand dollars, for the faithful performance of their duties. Such bonds must be approved by the governor of the state of California, and filed in the office of the secretary of state. Each of the three appointed members of the advisory board shall receive the sum of three thousand six hundred dollars per annum. Each and every one of the above-mentioned officers shall take the oath of office as prescribed for other state officers. The members of the advisory board, the state engineer and other officers and employees of the department of engineering shall be allowed their necessary traveling expenses while engaged in the discharge of their duties within the state. Every employee of the department of engineering who is intrusted with moneys belonging to the state and who is not already required by law to furnish an official bond shall file a bond if the said department shall so require in such an amount as the department shall deem to be expedient with two sufficient sureties thereon or with a surety company of recognized standing for the faithful performance of his trust, which bond must be approved by the state board of control and filed with the state treasurer. The premium or charge for every such bond, if given by a surety company, shall be paid by said department out of the particular fund under its control, from which fund the moneys are withdrawn and placed in the custody of the bonded employee or out of that fund to which the services of such employee directly pertain. [Amendment approved May 13, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 543.]

An act to appropriate money to be expended by and under the direction of the department of engineering for the purpose of rectifying and improving the channels of the Sacramento, San Joaquin and Feather rivers and such other waters of the state as the department of engineering may determine; improving the navigability of such waters and acquiring land for necessary rights of way therefor; making surveys, investigations and report upon the feasibility of canalizing the rivers of the state and constructing canals for navigation, and making surveys, investigations and plans for flood control; the examination and supervision of dams; the investigation of rainfall, snowfall and runoff affecting navigation and flood control; and giving the department of engineering authority over dams, making it unlawful to construct or maintain dams in a dangerous condition and providing penalties for violations of the act and directing who shall prosecute such violations.

§ 1. Appropriation: improving Sacramento, San Joaquin and Feather rivers. The sum of one hundred fifty thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be expended by the department of engineering for the purpose of rectifying and improving the channels of Sacramento, San Joaquin and Feather rivers, and such other waters of the state as the department of engineering may determine, improving the navigability of such waters, acquiring land for necessary rights of way for such improvements; making surveys, investigations and reports upon the feasibility of canalizing the rivers of the state and constructing navigable canals, making surveys, investigations and plans for flood control upon any stream, the flood waters of which may injure or menace lands in the state of California, including the examination and supervision of dams, and investigation of rainfall, snowfall and runoff affecting or tending to affect navigation or flood control upon any of the streams of the state; provided, however, that before any expenditure shall be made or contracts awarded by said department for construction work to be done affecting navigable waters, the plans therefor shall be approved by the proper officers of the government of the United States having charge of river work in California.

§ 2. Dams under authority of department of engineering. (a) All dams in the state of California, other than those for impounding mining debris constructed under the authority of the California debris commission, or dams constructed by a municipal corporation maintaining a department of engineering, shall be under the authority of the state department of engineering, and the department shall exercise supervision over any dam, the failure of which would endanger life or property, and shall have power to prescribe and enforce compliance with measures for making such dams safe against failure; provided, that this section shall not apply to any dam which is part of a "water system" as defined in section two of the public utilities act of this state, and nothing in this act shall be construed to limit the jurisdiction of the railroad commission over such dams.

(b) Approval of plans. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, corporation or district to construct, maintain or operate any dam known to be unsafe, or which if the destruction or failure thereof would endanger life or property; or to construct, reconstruct, repair or improve, maintain or operate any dam which is or would be ten feet or more in height or which will impound water or other fluid to the amount of three million gallons unless the plans, specifications and construction thereof shall have been approved in writing by the state department of engineering.

(c) Penalty. Any person, firm, corporation or district who shall violate the provisions of this section is subject to a penalty of not less than five hundred nor more than two thousand dollars for each and every offense. Each day that such violation of the provisions of this section shall continue shall be deemed and considered a separate and distinct offense.

(d) Permitting work contrary to plans felony. Any person acting for himself as owner, or as director, officer, agent or employee of any firm, corporation or district engaged in the construction, reconstruction, improvement or repair of any dam, the plans and specifications of which have been approved by the department of engineering, or any contractor, or agent or employee of such contractor, who shall knowingly permit work to be executed thereon contrary to the plans and specifications approved as aforesaid, or any inspector or employee of the department of engineering who shall have knowledge of such work being done and fail to immediately notify the department of engineering thereof, is guilty of a felony and subject to the penalty of confinement in the state penitentiary for not less than one nor more than five years.

(e) Duty of district attorney. Upon the complaint of the department of engineering any district attorney is hereby authorized and directed to prosecute violations of the provisions of this section.

§ 3. Audit. All expenditures hereunder for rights of way, labor, materials and machinery, or in payment, in whole or in part, of any contract shall, before being paid, be audited by the state board of control, as provided by law.

§ 4. When available. Of the money herein appropriated fifty thousand dollars shall become available immediately upon this act becoming effective and the remaining one hundred thousand dollars shall become available on the first day of July, 1918.

An act to provide for the accomplishment of the work of the direct improvement of the navigation of the Sacramento, San Joaquin and Feather rivers of the state of California, by controlling the floods, removing the debris and continuing the improvement of the Sacramento river, California, in accordance with the plans of the California debris commission contained in the report of said commission submitted August 10, 1910, and transmitted to the speaker of the house of representatives of the United States by the secretary of war on June 27, 1911, and printed in house of representatives document number eighty-one of the first session of the sixty-second United States congress, as modified by the report of said commission submitted February 8, 1913, approved by the chief of engineers of the United States army and the board of engineers for rivers and harbors and printed in rivers and harbors committee document number five, sixty-third United States congress, first session, in so far as said plan provides for the rectification and enlargement of river channels and the construction of weirs; and making an appropriation for such work; and providing for the continuance of such work as provided by section two of an act of the congress of the United States entitled "An act to provide for the control of the floods of the Mississippi river and of the Sacramento river, California, and for other purposes," approved March 1, 1917.

§ 1. Appropriation: flood control. The sum of five hundred thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, which shall be available July 1, 1917, for controlling the floods, removing the debris and continuing the improvement of the Sacramento river, California, in accordance with the plans of the California debris commission contained in the report of said commission submitted August 10, 1910, and transmitted to the speaker of the house of representatives of the United States by the secretary of war on June 27, 1911, and printed in house of representatives document number eighty-one of the first session of the sixty-second United States congress, as modified by the report of said commission submitted February 8, 1913, approved by the chief of engineers of the United States army and the board of engineers for rivers and harbors and printed in Rivers and Harbors Committee Document Number Five, Sixty-third United States Congress, First Session, in so far as said plan provides for the rectification and enlargement of river channels and the construction of weirs.

§ 2. Condition. The appropriation made by section one of this act is made in compliance with the provisions of section two of that certain act of congress of the United States entitled "An act to provide for the control of the floods of the Mississippi river and of the Sacramento river, California, and for other purposes," approved March 1, 1917, and shall be paid to the treasurer of the United States whenever a like sum of five hundred thousand dollars shall have been appropriated or authorized to be appropriated by the congress of the United States, conditional on the payment of an equal amount by the state of California, for the prosecution of said work pursuant to section two of said act of congress.

§ 3. Expended by California debris commission. The money hereby appropriated, when paid to the treasurer of the United States, shall be expended under the direction of the California debris commission and in such manner as it may require or approve, and as provided in section two of said act of congress; and none of the money so appropriated shall be expended in the purchase of or payment for any right of way, easement or land acquired for the purposes of said improvement.

§ 4. Controller's warrant. The controller of the state of California is hereby authorized and directed, upon request of the governor, to draw his warrant or warrants on the state treasurer in favor of the treasurer of the United States for the amount hereby appropriated, and the state controller is hereby directed to pay the same.

§ 5. In case less sum appropriated by congress. If the congress of the United States shall not appropriate the full sum of five hundred thousand dollars for the prosecution of said work in accordance with section two of said act of congress, as hereinbefore referred to, but shall appropriate a less sum or sums from time to time for said purpose, then the said sum hereby appropriated shall become available and be paid over to the treasurer of the United States, for said purpose as hereinbefore provided, in such sum or sums from time to time as may equal the sum or sums so appropriated or authorized to be appropriated by congress.

ACT 3818d.

An act to provide for the accomplishment of the work of the direct improvement of the navigation of the Sacramento, San Joaquin and Feather rivers of the state of California, by controlling the floods, removing the debris and continuing the improvement of the Sacramento river, California, in accordance with the plans of the California debris commission contained in the report of said commission submitted August 10, 1910, and transmitted to the speaker of the house of representatives of the United States by the secretary of war on June 27, 1911, and printed in house of representatives document number eighty-one of the first session of the sixty-second United States congress, as modified by the report of said commission submitted February 8, 1913, approved by the chief of engineers of the United States army and the board of engineers for rivers and harbors and printed in rivers and harbors committee document number five, sixty-third United States congress, first session, in so far as said plan provides for the rectification and enlargement of river channels and the construction of weirs; and making an appropriation for such work; and providing for the continuance of such work as provided by section two of an act of the congress of the United States entitled "An act to provide for the control of the floods of the Mississippi river and of the Sacramento river, California, and for other purposes," approved March 1, 1917. [Approved May 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 851.]

This act appropriated five hundred thousand dollars for the purpose indicated.

An act to appropriate money to be expended by and under the direction of the department of engineering for the purpose of rectifying and improving the channels of the Sacramento, San Joaquin and Feather rivers and such other waters of the state as the department of engineering may determine; improving the navigability of such waters and acquiring land for necessary rights of way therefor; making surveys, investigations and report upon the feasibility of canalizing the rivers of the state and constructing canals for navigation, and making surveys, investigations and plans for flood control; the examination and supervision of dams and the investigation of rainfall, snowfall, runoff, and stream flow affecting navigation, flood control or irrigation and preventing and repairing damage in certain cases. [Approved May 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 856. In effect July 22, 1919.]

This act appropriated one hundred seventy-five thousand dollars for the purpose indicated.

TITLE 532a.STATE LAND SETTLEMENT BOARD.*ACT 3822.

An act creating a state land settlement board and defining its powers and duties and making an appropriation in aid of its operations.

[Approved June 1, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1566. In effect July 31, 1917.]

Amended 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 838.

§ 1. Importance of land settlement. The legislature believes that land settlement is a problem of great importance to the welfare of all the people of the state of California and for that reason through this particular act endeavors to improve the general economic and social conditions of agricultural settlers within the state and of the people of the state in general.

§ 2. Object of act. State land settlement board created. Officers. Compensation. Co-operation with United States government. The object of this act is to provide employment and rural homes for soldiers, sailors, marines and others who have served with the armed forces of the United States in the European war or other wars of the United States, including former American citizens who served in allied armies against the central powers and have been repatriated, and who have been honorably discharged, to promote closer agricultural settlement, to assist deserving and qualified persons to acquire small improved farms, to demonstrate the value of adequate capital and organized direction in subdividing and preparing agricultural land for settlement, and to provide homes for farm laborers.

To carry out the objects herein stated, there is hereby created a state land settlement board to consist of five members appointed by the governor to hold office for a term of four years and until their successors have been appointed and shall have qualified; provided, however, that of the members first appointed two shall be appointed to hold office until the first day in January, 1918, one until the first day in January, 1919, one until the first day in January, 1920, and one until the first day in January, 1921.

The governor shall designate one of the members as chairman of the board and director of land settlement. The secretary may or may not be a member of the board. The board shall appoint such expert, technical, and clerical assistance as may prove necessary, and shall define their duties. It shall fix the salaries of all employees, with the approval of the state board of control.

The four members of the board shall receive a per diem for each meeting attended, and the chairman shall receive a salary, said per diem and salary to be fixed by the state board of control with the approval of the governor. The members shall also receive their actual necessary traveling expenses in the discharge of their duties.

The said land settlement board shall have power to co-operate with and to contract with the duly authorized representatives of the United States government in carrying out the provisions of this act. [Amendment approved May 23, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 839.]

§ 3. Body corporate. Quorum. The state land settlement board hereinafter called the board, shall constitute a body corporate with the right on behalf of the state to hold property, receive and request donations, sue and be sued, and all other rights provided by the constitution and laws of the state of California as belonging to bodies corporate.

Three members of the board shall constitute a quorum and such quorum may exercise all the power and authority conferred on the board by this act.

§ 4. Agricultural lands to be acquired and sold. For the purposes of this act, the board may acquire on behalf of the state by purchase, gift or the exercise of the power of eminent domain, all lands, water rights and other property needed for the purposes hereof, and may take title in trust and shall without delay improve, subdivide and sell such land, water rights and other property with appurtenances and rights to approved bona fide settlers; the board shall have the authority to set aside for town-site purposes a suitable area purchased under the provisions of this act and to subdivide such area and sell or lease the same for cash, in lots of such size, and with such restrictions as to resale, as they shall deem best; and provided, further, that the board shall have authority to set aside and dedicate to public use such area or areas as it may deem desirable for roads, schoolhouses, churches, or other public purposes. [Amendment approved May 23, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 839.]

§ 5. Purchase of private lands. Whenever the board believes that private land should be purchased for settlement under this act, it shall give notice by publication in one or more newspapers of general circulation in this state, setting forth approximately the area and character of the land desired and the conditions that shall govern the proposed purchase, and inviting owners of land willing to enter into a contract of sale on the conditions proposed to submit such land for inspection. [Amendment approved May 23, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 840.]

§ 6. Inspection of tracts. Within thirty days thereafter the board shall direct an officer or officers in its employ, or one or more persons who may at its request be designated by the dean of the college of agriculture of the University of California, to inspect and report on all tracts of land suitable for closer settlement which are so submitted.

§ 7. Report of inspection. The board shall give not less than one week's notice of the approximate date when tracts submitted will be inspected and every report of such inspection shall as far as practicable specify the—

- (a) Situation and brief description thereof;
- (b) Extent and situation of land comprising so much of any tract as it is proposed to acquire;
- (c) Names and addresses of the owners thereof;
- (d) Character of water rights;
- (e) Nature of improvements;
- (f) Crops being grown on land;
- (g) Appraisalment of value of land, water rights and improvements.

§ 8. Decision. On receiving the reports on all of the land examined the board shall decide which of the areas is best suited to the purposes of this act. Before so deciding the board may examine the land, or it may employ one or more competent valuers to fix the productive value of the land and report the same in writing; the owner or his agent may give evidence as to its value.

§ 9. Purchase. If from the evidence submitted or from the results of its personal inspection, the board is satisfied that one or more of the tracts submitted are suited to intensive, closer settlement and can be acquired at a reasonable price, it shall submit to the governor its report, giving the reasons for recommending the purchase, and on the approval of the governor the board shall be authorized to purchase the same; provided, that before such purchase is made, the attorney general shall approve the title of such lands and any water rights appurtenant thereto, and the state water commission shall certify in writing as to the sufficiency of any water rights to be conveyed. [Amendment approved May 23, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 840.]

§ 10. Control by board until moneys advanced repaid. All sales to settlers of land under this act shall be made under such terms and conditions as shall give to the board full control of any subdivisions thereof until all moneys advanced by the state for the purchase, improvement, or equipment of such subdivisions are fully repaid, together with interest thereon as herein provided. [Amendment approved May 23, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 840.]

§ 11. Subdivision. Immediately upon taking possession of any land purchased as above, and after deducting any areas to be set aside for town sites or public purposes in accordance with section four of this act, the board shall subdivide it into areas suitable for farms and farm laborer's allotments, and lay out, and where necessary, construct roads, ditches, and drains for giving access to and insuring the proper cultivation of the several farms and allotments. The board, prior to disposing of it to settlers, or at any time after such land has been disposed of, but not after the end of the fifth year from the commencement of the term of the settler's purchase contract, may—

(a) Improvement of land. Prepare all or any part of such land for irrigation and cultivation;

(b) Same. Seed, plant, or fence such land, and cause dwelling-houses and outbuildings to be erected on any farm allotment or make any other improvements not specified above necessary to render the allotment habitable and productive in advance of or after settlement, the total cost to the board of such dwellings, outbuildings, and improvements not to exceed one thousand five hundred ($1500) dollars on any one farm allotment;

(c) Same. Cause cottages to be erected on any farm laborer's allotment and provide a domestic water supply, the combined cost to the board of the cottage and water supply not to exceed eight hundred ($800) dollars on any one farm laborer's allotment;

(d) Loans. Make loans to approved settlers on the security of permanent improvements, stock and farm implements, such loans to be secured by mortgage or mortgages, deed or deeds of trust on such permanent improvements, stock or farm implements, and the total amount of any such loan, together with money spent by the board on improvements as above specified, not to exceed three thousand dollars on any one farm allotment, or two thousand dollars on any one farm laborer's allotment. [Amendment approved May 23, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 840.]

§ 12. Irrigation works. Authority is hereby granted to the board, where deemed desirable, to operate and maintain any irrigation works constructed to serve any lands purchased and sold under the provisions of this act. All moneys received in tolls or charges for the operation and maintenance of any works or for any water supplied therefrom, shall be deposited in the land settlement fund created by this act and shall become available for the payment of any costs, expenses, or other charges authorized in this act to be paid from said land settlement fund.

§ 13. Lease. After the purchase of land by the board under the provisions of this act and before its disposal to approved bona fide applicants the board shall have authority to lease such land or a part thereof on bonded or secured lease on such terms as it shall deem fit.

§ 14. Allotments. Notice of opening for settlement. Right to reject applications. Sale of allotments. Subdivisions or amalgamation of allotments. Sale of areas not suitable for allotments. Lands disposed of under this act, other than lands set aside for town sites or public purposes, shall be sold either as farm allotments, each of which shall have a value not exceeding, without improvements, fifteen thousand dollars, or as farm laborers' allotments, each of which shall have a value not exceeding, without improvements, one thousand dollars. Before any part of an area is thrown open for settlement there shall be public notice thereof once a week for four weeks in one or more daily newspapers of general circulation in the state, setting forth the number and size of farm allotments or farm laborer's allotments, or both, the prices at which they are offered for sale, the minimum amount of capital a settler will be required to have, the mode of payment, the amount of cash payment required, and such other particulars as the board may think proper and specifying a definite period within which applications therefor shall be filed with the board on forms provided by the board. The board shall have the right in its uncontrolled discretion to reject any or all applications it may see fit and may readvertise as aforesaid as often as it sees fit until it receives and accepts such number of applications as it may deem necessary.

If no applications satisfactory to the board are received for any farm allotment or farm laborer's allotment following such advertising, the board at any time prior to readvertising, may sell any such farm allotment or farm laborer's allotment at the prices at which they were so offered for sale, without the necessity of readvertising.

The board shall also have the power in dealing with any such farm allotments or farm laborer's allotments for which there has been no such application satisfactory to the board, to subdivide or amalgamate any one or more of such allotments as it may see fit, and fix the prices thereon, provided that the limitations of fifteen thousand dollars for a farm allotment and one thousand dollars for the farm laborer's allotment, as in this section set forth, are not violated. Such subdivision or amalgamation may be had without the necessity of readvertising.

The board may also sell at public auction, under such conditions of sale and notice thereof as the board may prescribe, any areas which the board may determine are not suitable for farm allotments or farm laborer's allotments, whether or not included in any subdivision into farm allotments or farm laborer's allotments; provided, that if such area has been included in such a farm allotment or farm laborer's allotment, then such sale at public auction can be made only after a failure to receive any application satisfactory to the board after the advertising thereof, as required by the terms of this section. [Amendment approved May 23, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 841.]

§ 15. Who may apply. Limit. Fitness to cultivate. Co-operation with other public agencies. Preference to soldiers, sailors, etc. Any citizen of the United States, or any person who has declared his intention of becoming a citizen of the United States, and who is not the holder of agricultural land or of possessory rights thereto to the value of fifteen thousand dollars, and who by this purchase would not become the holder of agricultural land or of possessory rights thereto exceeding such value, and who is prepared to enter within six months upon actual occupation of the land acquired, may apply for and become the purchaser of either a farm allotment or a farm laborer's allotment; provided, that no more than one farm allotment or more than one farm laborer's allotment shall be sold to any one person; provided, further, that no applicant shall be approved who shall not satisfy the board as to his or her fitness successfully to cultivate and develop the allotment applied for.

The board may, in offering for sale farm allotments or farm laborer's allotments, co-operate or contract with the duly authorized representatives of the United States government and other public corporations or agencies generally. The board is hereby authorized to perform all acts necessary to co-operate fully with the agencies of the United States engaged in work of similar character, and with similar boards and agencies of other states. In any such sales made in co-operation with such representatives or agencies of the United States government, preference must be given to soldiers, sailors, marines and others who have served with the armed forces of the United States in the European war or other wars of the United States, including former American citizens who served in allied armies against the central powers, and have been repatriated, and who have been honorably discharged. The board may likewise, whether or not acting in co-operation with the duly authorized representatives of the United States government, give such preference to any of such citizens of California, who as soldiers, sailors, marines and others have served with the armed forces of the United States, as in this section described. [Amendment approved May 23, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 842.]

allotments the board shall meet to consider the applications, and may request applicants to appear in person; provided, that the board shall have the power and the uncontrolled discretion to reject any or all applications.

§ 17. Selling prices. The selling prices of the several allotments into which lands purchased under this act are subdivided, other than those set aside for town site and public purposes, shall be fixed by the board, so as to render such allotments as nearly as possible equally attractive, and calculated to return to the state the original cost of the land, together with a sufficient sum added thereto to cover all expenses and costs of surveying, improving, subdividing, and selling such lands, including the payment of interest, and all costs of engineering, superintendence, and administration, including the cost of operating any works built, directly chargeable to such land, and also the price of so much land as shall on subdivision be used for roads and other public purposes, and also such sum as shall be deemed necessary to meet unforeseen contingencies.

§ 18. Contract of purchase. Cash deposit. Loan from federal farm loan bank. Balance paid in amortizing payments. Every approved applicant shall enter into a contract of purchase with the board, which contract shall among other things provide that the purchaser shall pay as a cash deposit a sum equal to five per cent of the sale price of the allotment and in addition not less than ten per cent of the cost of any improvements made thereon, and such applicant shall, if required by the board, enter into an agreement to apply for a loan from the federal land bank under provisions of the federal farm loan act for an amount to be fixed by the board, and shall pay to the board the amount of any loan so made as a partial payment on such land and improvements. The balance due on the land shall be paid in amortizing payments extending over a period to be fixed by the board, not exceeding forty years, together with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum. The amount due on improvements shall be paid in amortizing payments extending over a period to be fixed by the board not exceeding twenty years, together with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum. The repayment of loans made on livestock or implements shall extend over a period to be fixed by the board not exceeding five years; provided, however, in each case, that the settler shall have the right, on any installment date, to pay any or all installments still remaining unpaid. [Amendment approved May 23, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 843.]

§ 19. Calculation of installments. The number and amount of yearly or half yearly installments of principal and interest to be paid to the board under contracts of purchase shall be calculated according to any table adopted or approved by the federal farm loan board.

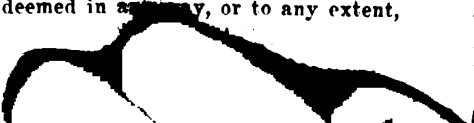

§ 20. Cultivation of land. Insurance. Insurance in name of board. Every contract entered into between the board and an approved purchaser shall contain among other things provisions that the purchaser shall cultivate the land in a manner to be approved by the board and shall keep in good order and repair all buildings, fences, and other permanent improvements situated on his allotment, reasonable wear and tear and damage by fire excepted. Each settler shall, if required, insure and keep insured against fire all buildings on his allotment, the policies therefor to be made out in favor of the board and to be in such amount or amounts and in such insurance companies as may be prescribed by the board.

The board shall have power in its own name to insure and keep insured against fire all buildings or other improvements on any of the lands under the control of the board, and any contract of insurance heretofore made by the board is hereby ratified and confirmed. The board shall likewise have the power in any contract of purchase under which the board purchases lands as authorized in this act, to provide for the return by the board to the owner so selling to the state of any insurance premiums or taxes which may have been paid on said property by such owner, or for which such owner may have become obligated to pay, and any such agreement or contract of purchase heretofore made by the board is hereby ratified and confirmed. [Amendment approved May 23, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 843.]

§ 21. Consent to transfer allotment. No allotment sold under the provisions of this act shall be transferred, assigned, mortgaged, or sublet in whole or in part, without the consent of the board given in writing, until the settler has paid for his farm allotment or farm laborer's allotment in full and complied with all of the terms and conditions of his contract of purchase. [Amendment approved May 23, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 844.]

§ 22. Failure to comply with contract terms. Security. Sale of forfeited land. In the event of a failure of a settler to comply with any of the terms of his contract of purchase and agreement with the board, the state and the board shall have the right at its option to cancel the said contract of purchase and agreement and thereupon shall be released from all obligation in law or equity to convey the property and the settler shall forfeit all right thereto and all payments theretofore made shall be deemed to be rental paid for occupancy. The board may require of the settler such mortgage or deed of trust or other instrument as may be necessary under the terms and conditions of the contract of purchase in order to adequately protect and secure the board. There may be included in such contract of purchase, mortgage, deed of trust or other instrument any conditions with reference to sale of the property or reconveyance back to the board or notice of such sale or reconveyance as may in the discretion of the board be required to be so included in such contract of purchase, mortgage, deed of trust or other instrument, in order to so adequately protect the said board in the premises; and any such contracts of purchase, mortgages, deeds of trust or other instruments heretofore executed are hereby confirmed. The failure of the board or of the state to exercise any option to cancel, or other privilege under the contract of purchase for any default shall not be deemed as a waiver of the right to exercise the option to cancel or other privilege under the contract of purchase for any default thereafter on the settler's part. But no forfeiture so occasioned by default on the part of the settler shall be deemed in any way, or to any extent, to impair the lien and security of the mortgage or trust instrument securing any loan that it may have made as in this act provided. The board shall have the right and power to enter into a contract of purchase for the sale and disposition of any land forfeited as above provided, because of default on the part of a settler, and this right may be exercised indefinitely without the necessity of advertising. [New section approved May 23, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 845.]

There was no section 22 in the original Act.

§ 23. Residence. Actual residence on any allotment sold under the provisions of this act shall commence within six months from the date of the approval of the application and shall continue for at least eight months in each calendar year for at least ten years from the date of the approval of the said application, unless prevented by illness or some other cause satisfactory to the board; provided, that in case any farm allotment disposed of under this act is returned to and resold by the state, the time of residence of the preceding purchaser may in the discretion of the board be credited to the subsequent purchaser.

§ 24. Condemnation of water rights and rights of way. Appropriation of water. The power of eminent domain shall be exercised by the state at the request of the board for the condemnation of water rights and rights of way for roads, canals, ditches, dams, and reservoirs necessary or desirable for carrying out the provisions of this act, and on request of the board the attorney general shall bring the necessary and appropriate proceedings authorized by law for such condemnation of said water rights or rights of way, and the cost of all water rights or rights of way so condemned shall be paid out of the land settlement fund hereinafter provided for. The board shall have full authority to appropriate water under the laws of the state when such appropriation is necessary or desirable for carrying out the purposes of this act.

§ 25. Appropriation. "Land settlement fund." Administrative expenses. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act the sum of two hundred sixty thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated. Of this amount, the sum of two hundred fifty thousand dollars shall constitute a revolving fund to be known as the "land settlement fund," which is calculated to be returned to the state with interest at the rate of four per cent per annum within a period of fifty years from the date of the passage of this act, on the daily balances representing the amounts drawn out of such fund and thus depleting the fund to an amount less than said sum of two hundred fifty thousand dollars, which said daily balances shall be so calculated only on the amounts so drawn out of such fund, from the date of the passage of this act. The remaining ten thousand dollars shall constitute a fund available for the payment of administrative expenses alone until such time as other moneys are available for such purpose from the sales of land as provided for in this act. [Amendment approved May 23, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 844.]

§ 26. Advances by board of control. The state board of control is hereby authorized to provide for advances of money to the board needed to meet contingent expenses to such an amount, not exceeding five thousand dollars as the said board of control shall deem necessary.

§ 27. Money paid for lands, etc. The money paid by settlers on lands, improvements, or in the repayment of advances, shall be deposited in the land settlement fund and be available under the same conditions as the original appropriation. [Amendment approved May 23, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 844.]

§ 28. Rules and regulations. The board shall have authority to make all needed rules and regulations for carrying out the provisions of this act. [Amendment approved May 23, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 844.]

§ 29. Investigation of land settlement conditions. Annual report of board. The board is hereby authorized to investigate land settlement conditions in California and elsewhere and to submit recommendations for such legislation as may be deemed by it necessary or desirable,

The board shall render an annual report to the governor and a copy thereof to the secretary of the interior, which report shall be filed and printed as required by sections three hundred thirty-two, three hundred thirty-three, three hundred thirty-four, three hundred thirty-six and three hundred thirty-seven of the Political Code, with the exception that they shall be so filed and printed annually instead of biennially, as provided in said sections. [Amendment approved May 23, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 844.]

§ 30. Stats. 1915, p. 475, repealed. The act of the legislature entitled "An act providing for the appointment of a commission to investigate and report at the forty-second session of the legislature relative to the adoption of a system of land colonization and rural credits and making an appropriation therefor," approved May 17, 1915, is hereby repealed.

§ 31. Title. This act may be known and cited as the "land settlement act."

The amendatory act of 1919 also contained the following provision:

§ 17. Appropriation. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act and of the act amended by this act, the sum of one million dollars is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, which sum of one million dollars is calculated to be returned to the state within a period of fifty years from the date of this appropriation of one million dollars going into effect, with interest at the rate of four per cent per annum on the daily balances representing the amounts drawn out of such appropriation, and thus depleting the appropriation to an amount less than said sum of one million dollars. The state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw warrants upon such funds from time to time upon requisition of the board approved by the state board of control, and the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay such warrants. [Amendment approved May 23, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 845.]

ACT 3823.

An act to provide for the issuance and sale of state bonds to create a fund to carry out the objects of an act entitled "An act creating a state land settlement board and defining its powers and duties and making an appropriation in aid of its operations," approved June 1, 1917, and any and all acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto; to create a sinking fund for the payment of said bonds; to define the duties of said officers in relation thereto; to appropriate money for the expense of printing and advertising the sale of said bonds; and to provide for the submission of this act to a vote of the people.

[Approved May 27, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1182. In effect—See sections 8, 9.]

§ 1. Bonds for land settlement fund. Limit of issue. When payable. Life of bonds. For the purpose of providing a fund for the payment of the indebtedness hereby authorized to be incurred to carry out the objects and to be expended in accordance with the provisions of an act entitled, "An act creating a state land settlement board and defining its powers and duties and making an appropriation in aid of its operations," approved June 1, 1917, and any and all acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto, the object of which act is to provide employment and rural homes for soldiers, sailors, marines and others who have served with the armed forces of the United States in the European wars or other wars of the United States, including former American citizens in allied armies against the central powers and have been repatriated, and who have been honorably discharged, to promote closer agricultural settlement, to assist deserving and qualified persons to acquire small improved farms, to demonstrate the value of adequate capital and organized direction in subdividing and preparing agricultural land for settlement and to provide homes for farm laborers, the state treasurer shall, immediately, after the issuance of the proclamation of the governor provided for in section ten hereof, prepare thirty-two thousand suitable bonds in the denominations as hereinafter specified. The whole issue of said bonds shall not exceed the sum of ten million dollars and said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of four and one-half per cent per annum from the date of issuance thereof, and both principal and interest shall be payable in gold coin of the present standard of value, and they shall be payable at the office of the state treasurer or at the office of any duly authorized agent of the state treasurer at the times and in the manner following, to wit:

The first eight hundred of said bonds aggregating two hundred fifty thousand dollars shall be due and payable on the second day of January, 1931, and eight hundred of said bonds, aggregating two hundred fifty thousand dollars in consecutive numerical order shall be due and payable on the second day of January in each and every year thereafter until and including the second day of January, 1971. In each lot of eight hundred bonds there shall be one hundred one thousand dollar bonds, two hundred five hundred dollar bonds and five hundred one hundred dollar bonds. Said bonds shall bear date the second day of January, A. D. 1921. The interest accruing on such of said bonds as are sold, shall be due and payable at the office of the state treasurer on the second day of July and on the second day of January of each year after the sale of the same; provided, that the first payment of interest shall be made on the second day of January, 1922, on so many of said bonds as may have been heretofore sold.

At the expiration of fifty years from the date of said bonds, all bonds sold shall cease to bear interest and likewise all bonds redeemed shall cease to bear interest as in this act provided, and the said state treasurer shall call in, forthwith pay and cancel the same out of the moneys in the land settlement sinking fund provided for in this act, and he shall on the first Monday of January, 1971, also cancel and destroy all bonds not theretofore sold. All bonds issued shall bear the signature of the governor and the lithographed counter-signature of the controller and shall be indorsed by the state treasurer either by original signature or by signature stamp adopted for this particular bond issue and the said bonds shall be signed, countersigned and indorsed by the officers who are in office on the second day of January, 1921, and each of said bonds shall have the seal of the state stamped thereon. The said bonds signed, countersigned and indorsed and sealed as herein provided when sold shall be and constitute a valid and binding obligation upon the state of California, though the sale thereof be made at a date or dates after the present signing, countersigning and indorsing, or any or either of them, shall have ceased to be the incumbents of such office or offices. Each bond shall contain a clause giving the date upon which it is subject to redemption in accordance with the provisions of this act and that interest will cease upon such date.

§ 2. Interest coupons. Interest coupons shall be attached to each of said bonds, so that such coupons may be removed without injury to, or mutilation of the bond. Said coupons shall be consecutively numbered, and shall bear the lithographed signature of the state treasurer who shall be in office on the second day of January, 1921. But no interest on any of said bonds shall be paid for any time which may intervene between the date of any of said bonds and the issue and sale thereof to a purchaser, unless such accrued interest shall have been, by the purchaser of said bond, paid to the state at the time of such sale.

§ 3. Expenses of bond issue. The sum of ten thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to pay the expenses that may be incurred by the state treasurer in having said bonds prepared and advertising their sale. Said amount shall be refunded to the general fund of the state treasury out of the land settlement fund in accordance with the provisions of this act on controller's warrant duly drawn for that purpose.

§ 4. Sale of bonds. Notice of sale. Use of proceeds of sale. When the bonds authorized to be issued under this act shall be duly executed, they shall be by the state treasurer sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, in such parcels and numbers as the said treasurer shall be directed by the governor of the state, under seal thereof, after a resolution requesting such sale shall have been adopted by the state land settlement board and approved by the governor of the state; but said treasurer must reject any and all bids for said bonds, or for any of them, which shall be below the par value of said bonds so offered plus the interest which has accrued thereon between the date of sale and the last preceding interest maturity date; and with the approval of the governor, he may from time to time, by public announcement at the place and time fixed for the sale, continue such sale, as to the whole of the bonds offered, or any part thereof offered, to such time and place as he may select. Before offering any of said bonds for sale the said treasurer shall detach therefrom all coupons which have matured or will mature before the day fixed for such sale.

Due notice of the time and place of sale of all bonds must be given by said treasurer by publication in one newspaper published in the city and county of San Francisco and also by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Oakland and by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Los Angeles and by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Sacramento once a week during four weeks prior to such sale. In addition to the notice last above provided for, the state treasurer may give such further notice as he may deem advisable, but the expense and cost of such additional notice shall not exceed the sum of five hundred dollars for each sale so advertised. The proceeds of the sale of such bonds except such amount as may have been paid as accrued interest thereon shall be forthwith paid over by said treasurer into the treasury to the credit of the land settlement fund and must be used exclusively to provide employment and rural homes for soldiers, sailors, marines and others who have served with the armed forces of the United States in the European war or other wars of the United States, including former American citizens who served in allied armies against the Central Powers and have been repatriated, and who have been honorably discharged, to promote closer agricultural settlement, to assist deserving and qualified persons to acquire small improved farms, to demonstrate the value of adequate capital and organized direction in subdividing and preparing agricultural land for settlement, and to provide homes for farm laborers, in accordance with the provisions of an act entitled "An act creating a state land settlement board and defining its powers and duties and making appropriation in aid of its operations," approved June 1, 1917, and any and all acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto; provided, that upon demand of the governor the said land settlement board must pay over to the general fund of the state from the proceeds of the sale of bonds all or any part of any money which has heretofore or may be hereafter appropriated and advanced out of the general fund of the state treasurer for the use of the state land settlement board. The amount that shall have been paid at the sale of said bonds as accrued interest on the bonds sold shall be, by the said treasurer, immediately after such sale, paid into the treasury of the state and placed in the land settlement sinking fund.

§ 5. "Land settlement sinking fund." For the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds a sinking fund, to be known and designated as the "land settlement sinking fund" shall be, and the same is hereby created as follows, to wit: The state treasurer, after the second day of January, 1931, shall, on the first day of each and every month thereafter, after the sale of said bonds, take from the land settlement fund such sum as, multiplied by the time in months, the bonds then sold and outstanding have to run, will equal the principal of the bonds sold and outstanding at the time said treasurer shall so take said sum from said land settlement fund, less the amount theretofore taken therefrom for said purpose; and he shall place the sum in the land settlement sinking fund created by this act. Said state treasurer shall, on controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose, employ the moneys in said sinking fund in the purchase of bonds of the United States, or of the state of California, or of the several counties or municipalities of the state of California, which said bonds shall be kept in a proper receptacle, appropriately labeled; but he must keep always on hand a sufficient amount of money in said sinking fund with which to pay the interest and principal on such of the state bonds herein provided to be issued as may have theretofore been sold. And to provide means for the payment of interest on the bonds that may be sold and outstanding, said treasurer shall monthly take from the land settlement fund, and pay into said land settlement fund, an amount equal to the monthly interest then due on all bonds then sold, delivered and outstanding.

After the payment of all said bonds, the surplus or balance remaining in said sinking fund, if any there be, shall forthwith be paid into the land settlement fund. At the maturity of said state bonds, said treasurer shall sell the United States or other bonds then in said sinking fund, at governing market rates, after advertising the sale thereof in the manner hereinbefore provided for the sale of bonds hereby authorized to be issued, and shall use the proceeds for the payment of such bonds as become due and payable, and at the maturity of said bonds outstanding shall pay and redeem said matured outstanding bonds out of said moneys in said fund in extinguishment of said bonds on controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose.

§ 6. Records and annual report to governor. The state controller and the state treasurer shall keep full and particular account and record of all their proceedings under this act, and they shall transmit to the governor an abstract of all such proceedings thereunder, with an annual report, to be by the governor laid before the legislature biennially; and all books and papers pertaining to the matter provided for in this act shall at all times be open to the inspection of any party interested, or the governor, or the attorney general, or a committee of either branch of the legislature, or a joint committee of both, or any citizen of the state.

§ 7. Payment of interest. It shall be the duty of the state treasurer to pay the interest of said bonds, when the same falls due, out of the sinking fund provided for in this act, on controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose.

§ 8. Time in effect. This act, if adopted by the people, shall take effect on the fifteenth day of November, 1920, as to all its provisions except those relating to and necessary for its submission to the people, and for returning, canvassing, and proclaiming the votes, and as to said excepted provisions this act shall take effect immediately.

§ 9. Election for ratification of act. This act shall be submitted to the people of the state of California for their ratification at the next general election, to be holden in the month of November, 1920, and all ballots at said election shall have printed thereon and at the end thereof, the words, "For the California soldiers' land settlement act of 1919," and in the same square under said words the following in brier type: "This act provides for preferential land settlement loans to those who served this country or its allies in the recent world's war or other wars of the United States." In the square immediately below the square containing such words, there shall be printed on said ballot the words: "Against the California soldiers land settlement act of 1919" and immediately below said words "Against the California soldiers land settlement act of 1919" in brier type shall be printed "This act provides for preferential land settlement loans to those who served this country or its allies in the recent world's war or other wars in the United States." Opposite the words "For the California soldiers land settlement act of 1919" and "Against the California soldiers land settlement act of 1919," there shall be left space in which the voters may make or stamp a cross to indicate whether they vote for or against said act, and those voting for said act shall do so by placing a cross opposite the words "For the California soldiers land settlement act of 1919" and all those voting against the said act shall do so by placing a cross opposite the words "Against the California soldiers land settlement act of 1919." The governor of this state shall include the submission of this act to the people, as aforesaid, in his proclamation calling for said general election.

§ 10. Canvass of votes. The votes cast for or against this act shall be counted, returned and canvassed and declared in the same manner and subject to the same rules as votes cast for state officers; and if it appear that said act shall have received a majority of all the votes cast for and against it at said election as aforesaid, then the same shall have effect as hereinbefore provided, and shall be irrevocable until the principal and interest of the liabilities herein created shall be paid and discharged, and the governor shall make proclamation thereof; but if a majority of the votes cast as aforesaid are against this act then the same shall be and become void.

§ 11. Publication of act preceding election. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state in accordance with law to have this act published in at least one newspaper in each county, or city and county, if one be published therein, throughout this state, for three months next preceding the general election to be held in the month of November, 1920, the costs of publication shall be paid out of the general fund, on controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose and shall be refunded to the general fund out of the land settlement fund in accordance with this act

§ 12. Title. This act may be known and cited as the "California soldiers land settlement act of 1919."

§ 13. Repealed. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

TITLE 533.STATE LANDS.*ACT 3834a.

An act for the relief of purchasers of school lands.

[Approved June 3, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 376.]

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 62.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. Relief of school land purchasers. When application has been made to purchase lands from this state and payment of twenty per cent of the purchase price has been made to the treasurer of the proper county for the same and a certificate of purchase was issued on or after May 1, 1911, to the applicant therefor, and such applicant has failed to pay the interest on the unpaid balance of the purchase price of such land, said certificate shall be in full force and effect; provided, all interest due on the balance of the purchase price is paid to the proper county treasurer on or before December 31, 1917, together with a penalty of ten per centum of the amount of all interest on the unpaid portion of the purchase price of said lands for each year that the annual interest on the balance of the purchase price of said lands has not been paid since the date of the issuance of the certificate of purchase; and provided, further, that the lands described in said certificate of purchase are open to entry and sale under any law of this state at the time this act shall take effect.

TITLE 534a.STATE MARKET COMMISSION.*ACT 3847.

An act to provide for the creation of the "state market commission" and the organization thereof; to define its other duties and powers; to create the position of state market director; to define his duties and powers; to create the state market commission fund, and a revolving fund; and repealing that act known as "state commission market act," approved June 10, 1915, chapter seven hundred thirteen of the statutes of 1915, and all other acts and parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this act.

[Amended 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 264.]

§ 1. "State market commission" created. Purposes. There is hereby created the "state market commission," a state organization for the following purposes, to wit:

First—To act as adviser for producers and distributors when requested, assisting them in economical and efficient distribution of any such products at fair prices.

Second—To gather and disseminate impartial information concerning supply, demand, prevailing prices and commercial movements, including common and cold storage of any such products.

Third—To promote, assist and encourage the organization and operation of co-operative and other associations and organizations for improving the relations and services among producers, distributors and consumers of any such products, and to protect and conserve the interests of the producers and consignors of such products.

Fourth—To foster and encourage co-operation between producers and distributors of any such products, in the interest of the general public.

Fifth—To foster and encourage the standardizing, grading, inspection, labeling, handling, storage and sale of any such products.

Sixth—To act as a mediator or arbitrator, when invited by both parties, in any controversy or issue, that may arise between producers and distributors of any such products.

Seventh—To certify, for the protection of owners, buyers or creditors, when so requested, warehouse receipts for any such products, verifying quantities and qualities thereof, and to charge for such service fees sufficient to make the service at least self-supporting.

Eighth—To issue labels bearing the seal of the state market commission on request of the producer, packer, canner or distributor, for any such products, for which state labels have not otherwise been authorized by law, under such rules and regulations as the director may deem necessary and to charge for such labels such fees as in the judgment of the state market director may be proper.

Ninth—To act on behalf of the consumers of any such products in conserving and protecting their interests in every practicable way.

Tenth—To improve, broaden and extend in every practicable way, the distribution and sale of any such California products throughout the markets of the world.

Eleventh—To promote in the interest of the producer, the distributor, and consumer, economical and efficient distribution and marketing of all or any agricultural, fishery, dairy and farm products produced, grown, raised, caught, manufactured or processed within the state of California.

It shall be within the province of the state market director, hereinafter provided for, to determine and decide, when, where and to what extent, existing conditions render it necessary or advisable to carry out any or all the purposes of this act and he is herewith granted power and authority to carry out any or all of said purposes.

§ 2. Title of act. Terms defined. This act shall be known as the "state market commission act."

The following terms used in this act shall, unless a different meaning is plainly required by the context, be construed as follows:

The "commission" shall be the state market commission.

The "director" shall be the state market director himself personally or his duly appointed and authorized representative.

The word "products" shall refer to the agricultural, fishery, dairy and farm products produced, grown, raised, caught, manufactured or processed within the state of California.

The term "organizations of producers and distributors" shall include all corporations, societies, associations and organizations of producers or of producers and distributors, or of distributors, co-operative or otherwise, formed for the purpose of facilitating the marketing of any such products.

A "person" shall be understood to include individuals, partnerships, associations and corporations or their agents or employees.

When the singular is used the plural is also included. Whenever the masculine is used, the feminine and neuter are included.

§ 3. State market director. Secretary. The state market commission shall consist of a governing body of one person, to be known as the state market director, hereinafter referred to as the director, who shall be appointed by the governor of the state of California, and of a secretary to be appointed by the state market director, as hereinafter provided, and these two shall perform the duties and exercise the powers of the state market commission and shall administer the provisions hereof, administer oaths, certify to all official acts, and do all proper acts to carry out any and all of the purposes hereof.

§ 4. Power of director. The director is hereby vested with full power, authority and jurisdiction to do and perform any and all things which are necessary or convenient in the exercise of any power, authority or jurisdiction designated and conferred upon him under this act.

§ 5. Bureau of correspondence. The commission shall have a bureau of correspondence for gathering and disseminating information on all subjects relating to the marketing of California products, and may issue bulletins thereon, and by every practicable means keep the producers informed of the supply and demand and at what market their products can best be handled.

§ 6. Term of director. Removal. The director shall hold office at the pleasure of the governor and his annual salary shall be five thousand dollars. The legislature by a two-thirds vote may remove the director for misconduct, neglect of duty or incompetency. [Amendment approved April 30, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 264.]

§ 7. Term of secretary. Salary. The state market commission shall have a secretary who shall be appointed by the director and hold office at his pleasure, and shall perform such duties as he may prescribe. The annual salary of the secretary shall be three thousand six hundred dollars.

§ 8. Seal. The state market commission shall have a seal bearing the inscription "state market commission of California," which seal shall be affixed to all such instruments as the director shall require.

§ 9. Salaries. The salaries of the director and secretary shall be paid to them in the same manner as are the salaries of other state officers.

The salary or compensation of all other persons holding office or employment under the director shall be fixed by the director and shall be paid monthly from the state market commission fund, as hereinafter provided, and after being approved by the director upon claims therefor to be audited by the state board of control.

All expenses incurred by the director pursuant to the provisions of this act, including actual and necessary traveling expenses, and other disbursements of the director, his officers and employees, incurred while on business of the commission shall be paid from the state market commission fund in the same manner, except as provided for in section twelve of this act.

§ 10. Whole time devoted to duties. The director shall not engage in any other line of business during his term of office, but shall devote his whole time, attention and ability to the duties of his office. The director shall not hold or own any stock or other interest whatsoever in any produce commission business.

§ 11. "State market commission" fund. There is hereby created a fund to be known as the "state market commission fund." All fees, charges and costs collected by said commission under this act shall be paid into the treasury of the state to the credit of such fund. All appropriations made by this act or any subsequent act for the use of the state market commission, shall be placed to the credit of such fund. All expenses of whatsoever nature, incurred by the commission under the provisions of this act, shall be paid from the state market commission fund, after being approved by the director, upon claims therefor to be audited by the board of control except as provided for in section fourteen a of this act.

§ 12. Revolving fund. A revolving fund of two hundred fifty dollars shall be established by the board of control for expenses of the state market commission, other than salaries, rent and other regular expenses, and the director may expend such revolving fund without first procuring the authority of the board of control, but shall file vouchers monthly with the board of control covering such disbursement.

§ 13. Annual report. The director shall make and submit to the governor, on or before the first day of December of each year, a report containing a full and complete account of the transactions and proceedings of the state market commission for the preceding fiscal year, together with such other facts, suggestions and recommendations as may be deemed of value to the people of the state.

§ 14. Bond. The director, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall make and execute to the people of the state of California an official bond in the sum of five thousand dollars, for the faithful performance of the duties of his office. The director may require of the officers and employees such bonds for the faithful performance of their duties as in his judgment may be necessary.

§ 15. Investigation of products held in storage. The director may make pertinent investigations concerning the aggregate amount of products held in common and cold storage. In connection with any such investigation, the director shall have the right to inspect only the pertinent books and records of common or cold-storage warehouses for the purpose of determining and publishing aggregate amounts of products held in storage, and the director is hereby empowered to issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of pertinent books, papers, accounts, documents and testimony in any such investigation.

§ 16. Moneys transferred. Any and all moneys in the state treasury to the credit of and any moneys due the state commission market fund under the authority of the act creating the state commission market fund, approved June 10, 1915, shall be transferred to the credit of the state market commission fund, created by this act.

§ 17. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason declared to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act and each section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

§ 18. Stats. 1915, p. 1390, repealed. That certain act entitled "An act to provide for the creation of the state commission market, and the organization thereof, to carry on the business of receiving from the producers thereof the agricultural, fishery, dairy and farm products of the state of California and selling and disposing of such products on commission, creating the 'state commission market fund' and appropriating money therefor," approved June 10, 1915, and known as the "state commission market act," chapter seven hundred thirteen of the statutes of 1915, and all other acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

An act to empower the state market director of California to regulate and control the business of buying and selling fresh fish; to regulate the destruction of food fish; to create a state fish exchange; to license those engaged in marketing fish; to create a state fish exchange fund and a revolving fund; to provide penalties for violations of this act; to investigate and report on the fish industry; and to promote the sale of fish.

[Approved June 1, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1673.]

§ 1. Title. This act shall be known as the "state fish exchange act."

§ 2. Purpose. It is hereby declared that it is the purpose of this act to bring about an increased consumption of fresh fish by the people of California, to enable them to obtain the same at reasonable prices, and to empower the state market director to regulate and control the business of buying and selling fresh fish, to regulate the destruction of food fish, to create a state fish exchange, to license those engaged in marketing fresh fish, to create a state fish exchange fund, to provide penalties for violations of this act, to investigate and report on the fish industry, and to promote the sale of fish.

§ 3. Terms construed. The following terms used in this act shall, unless a different meaning is plainly required by the context, be construed as follows:

The "state market director" shall be understood to be himself personally or his duly appointed and authorized representative. A "person" shall be deemed to include individuals, partnerships, associations and corporations or their agents or employees. A "retail dealer," "peddler," or "huckster," is one engaged in the business of selling fresh food fish direct to the consumer. A "wholesale dealer" is one who sells fresh food fish to hotels, restaurants, railroads, steamships, hospitals, institutions and all others than the consumer, and especially to retail dealers for resale. A "fish buyer" or "fish broker" is one engaged in the business of buying or selling fresh food fish for the owner or consignee, or who, without an established place of business, buys from the fishermen for the purpose of reselling to others than the consumer. "Market fishermen" are individuals engaged in the business of catching fish under licenses issued by the state fish and game commission authorizing them to do so. When the singular is used, the plural is also included; whenever the masculine is used, the feminine and neuter are included.

§ 4. Title to fish in state. It is hereby declared that the ownership and title to all fish found in the waters under the jurisdiction of the state are in the state of California; no such fish shall be caught, taken or killed in any manner or at any time except that the person so catching, taking or killing or having the same in his possession, irrespective of the manner in which they were obtained, shall by such act or possession thereby consent that the title to such fish shall be and remain in the state of California for the purpose of regulating and controlling the use and disposition of same after such catching, taking or killing. except that the title to such fish legally taken shall vest in the person so taking or possessing them, subject to the restrictions and provisions of law. All fish found in the possession of a person within the state of California shall be presumed to have been taken under the jurisdiction of the state.

§ 5. Fish business regulated by state market director. (a) The state market director is hereby vested with jurisdiction to regulate and control the business of buying and selling and otherwise disposing of fresh food fish caught in the waters under the jurisdiction of the state, and the business of buying, selling and disposing of such fresh food fish may not be carried on except in accordance with the provisions of this act.

(b) State markets. The state market director is hereby vested with jurisdiction to open and conduct where, when, and for so long as he deems it advisable, state markets for the buying and selling of fresh food fish, and to rent, lease or purchase plants and equipment necessary for the same, and to use so much of the funds placed at the disposal of the state market director by the act creating the state commission market, approved June 10, 1915, or in the event of the repeal of said act, by the state market commission act, as may be required in establishing and conducting said markets.

(c) Additional powers of state market director. The state market director is hereby vested with full power, authority and jurisdiction to do and perform any and all things, whether herein specifically designated, or in addition thereto, which are necessary or convenient in the exercise of any power, authority or jurisdiction conferred under this act.

§ 6. Maximum prices. (a) The state market director shall, when and where and for so long as he deems it advisable, establish maximum prices to be paid or charged in any particular locality, for food fish of any or all varieties intended for human consumption in its fresh condition, caught in the waters under the jurisdiction of the state:

First—To be paid to those engaged in catching such fish for sale.

Second—To be paid to those engaged in the wholesale fish business.

Third—To be charged to the consumer by retail fish dealers, peddlers or hucksters; and said prices shall be such as will allow, in the judgment of the state market director, a reasonable compensation or profit to those engaged in the catching or selling of such fish.

(b) Changes in prices. The state market director may, at his discretion, from time to time make such changes or withdrawals in the prices authorized in section six (a) hereof, as he may deem necessary.

(c) Unlawful to charge more than lawful price. It shall be unlawful for any person engaged in the business of selling fresh food fish in a particular locality to charge more than the maximum prices authorized for such locality, as provided in section six (a) hereof. Any violation of the provisions of this paragraph, after receipt of notice of maximum prices established in accordance with the provisions of section six (a) of this act, shall be good and sufficient ground for the suspension or revocation by the state market director in his discretion of any license issued under the authority of this act.

(d) Advice on maximum prices. In the exercise of powers under this act, the state market director may confer with parties interested with a view of securing their advice and counsel as to maximum prices to be paid and charged.

§ 7. Consent to destruction or diversion of fish. It shall be unlawful for anyone to destroy, or cause or permit to be destroyed any food fish in excess of fifty pounds within one day of twenty-four hours or to divert, or cause or permit to be diverted any food fish to any use other than human consumption, without having first obtained the written consent of the state market director to such destruction or diversion. Consent to such destruction or diversion shall be given only where the applicant establishes to the satisfaction of the state market director that such destruction or diversion is not for the purpose of influencing prices and that reasonable efforts have been made to induce its consumption by the public. Nothing in this section shall be construed to apply:

Fish excepted. First—To the use of food fish by fishermen as bait in the customary manner; and,

Second—To any individual market fisherman who is unable to sell for human consumption fish he has caught and who within forty-eight hours after the destruction or diversion of said fish shall report to the state market director the number of pounds and varieties of fish and how disposed of. The deposit in the United States mail of a written statement of said facts, properly addressed to the state market director and stamped, shall be accepted as a sufficient report.

Third—To food fish in the possession of canners, curers or packers and which are not suitable for their use and which in consequence are destroyed or diverted to use other than human consumption; provided, that within forty-eight hours after the destruction or diversion of any such fish, the person responsible therefor shall report to the state market director the number of pounds and varieties of fish, reason for destruction or diversion and how disposed of. The deposit in the United States mail of a written statement of said facts, properly addressed to the state market director, shall be accepted as a sufficient report.

§ 8. When excessive supply of fish reaches market. In the event of a supply of fresh food fish reaching any market, which supply in the judgment of the state market director is excessive or abnormal:

(a) It shall be the duty of the state market director, in his discretion, to use every means at his command to induce its consumption by the public, including reduction in prices thereon and increased publicity, as hereinafter provided for.

(b) It shall be obligatory on the part of market fishermen and wholesale fish dealers, who find themselves possessed of an excessive supply, to notify the state market director of the fact, and failure to give such notice shall be sufficient grounds for the suspension for a period not exceeding one month, in the discretion of the state market director, of any license issued under the authority of this act.

(c) The state market director may at his option, use the moneys of the state fish exchange fund hereinafter provided for, in purchasing any part or all of an excess of food fish over the amount that can be sold through ordinary channels, and to place same in cold storage, and to resell same to any or all buyers, and any loss or profit in such transactions shall be charged or credited to the state fish exchange fund.

§ 9. License fees. Wholesale fish dealers. Payable in advance. If sales greater or less than amount on which fee based. Every person, individual, partnership, association or corporation, other than market fishermen, engaged in the business of buying and selling fish for consumption in its fresh condition, shall pay to the state a semi-annual license fee, as follows:

First—All retail dealers, dealing exclusively in fish, crustaceans and mollusks, ten dollars.

Second—All retail dealers, handling fish in connection with a retail business, owned by them, in other products than crustaceans and mollusks, and all peddlers and hucksters, five dollars.

Third—All fish brokers and all fish buyers, fifty dollars.

Fourth—All fishermen's organizations selling the catch of their members or agents selling the catch of such fishermen's organizations, fifty dollars.

Fifth—All salesmen or agents representing wholesale fish dealers located outside the state, fifty dollars.

Sixth—All wholesale fish dealers, on the basis of their gross receipts from the sale of fresh food fish, including their sales at branch houses, as follows:

When gross receipts for six months are:

Not in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars, fifty dollars.

Between twenty-five thousand dollars and fifty thousand dollars, seventy-five dollars.

Between fifty thousand dollars and one hundred thousand dollars, one hundred dollars.

Between one hundred thousand dollars and two hundred thousand dollars, one hundred fifty dollars.

Between two hundred thousand dollars and three hundred thousand dollars, two hundred dollars.

More than three hundred thousand dollars, two hundred fifty dollars.

Seventh—All branch houses of wholesale dealers—that is, wholesale dealers operating more than one wholesale establishment—for each branch house, five dollars.

Fees payable by wholesale dealers under paragraph six of this section, as above, shall be due and payable in advance, and shall be based on the applicant's sworn statement as to his gross receipts from the sale of food fish sold for human consumption in its fresh condition, using the corresponding period of the preceding year as a basis. If the applicant did no wholesale business during said corresponding period, a license shall be issued upon payment of a fee of fifty dollars and the execution of a good and satisfactory bond by the applicant to the state market director, guaranteeing the payment of such additional amount as will make the total payable on his actual business during such period equal to the license fee fixed in said paragraph six of this section. If the amount of actual sales of any such dealer for any semi-annual period, for which he has paid license fees in advance, shall be greater or less than the amount on which such license fee was based, he shall at the end of such period, be charged with and shall pay to the state such additional amount as would be due on the basis of actual sales as set forth in paragraph six hereof, if the amount of actual sales be greater than the amount on which license fee was paid; or if the actual sales be less than such amount for any such semi-annual period, he shall, at the end thereof, be credited with the difference between the license fee paid in advance and the fee that would have been due on the basis of actual sales as set forth in paragraph six hereof; but such credit shall be made only on further license fees that may be payable by any such dealer.

§ 10. When payable. For portion of period. License for each place of business. All licenses provided for in this act shall be paid in advance and shall terminate with December thirty-first and June thirtieth, whichever date may first follow the date of issue. A proportionate charge shall be made, according to the number of months covered, for licenses issued for a portion of the semi-annual period, but in no case shall the fee be less than one-half of the semi-annual fee, excepting those issued to wholesale dealers as hereinabove provided in section nine of this act. A separate license shall be required for each place of business from persons owning or operating more than one establishment, except that the sale of fish from a vehicle by the holder of an exclusive retail fish dealer's license shall not require a peddler's license. Persons doing both a wholesale and retail business shall be required to take out both wholesale and retail licenses unless the total receipts of any such person amount to less than ten thousand dollars per annum, and any such person having total receipts of less than ten thousand dollars per annum shall be considered a retail dealer for licenses hereunder.

§ 11. Application. All licenses provided for in this act shall be issued by the state fish exchange hereinafter provided for, upon written application accompanied by proper fee, together with a certificate from the local health authorities, or other satisfactory assurance to the effect that the state and local rules and regulations as to equipment and sanitary conditions have been complied with.

§ 12. Licenses prepared by state controller. The state controller shall prepare suitable license blanks, of the form and class designated by the state market director, which shall purport to license the holder to deal in fish. They shall be numbered consecutively, commencing with one, and shall provide spaces in which to insert the name of the person to whom issued, his business address, and the period covered. The controller shall deliver all licenses to the state market director, who shall thereupon sign and issue them in accordance with the terms of this act.

§ 13. License transferred or assigned. Any license may be transferred or assigned by the holder thereof upon payment of a transfer fee of five dollars; provided, notice shall be given in writing to the state fish exchange, hereinafter provided for, within ten days of such transfer or assignment. In such cases the original license shall be returned to the state fish exchange and canceled and a new license issued in lieu thereof for the unexpired portion of the original license, on payment of the fee named. If notice of transfer or assignment be not given, the license shall be invalid for any other person than the original licensee.

§ 14. Duplicate license. In the event of a license issued under the authority of this act being lost or accidentally destroyed, a duplicate license may be issued by the state fish exchange, hereinafter provided for, upon payment of a fee of five dollars.

§ 15. Display of license. Every license shall be conspicuously displayed in the place of business for which it is issued, or upon request must be shown by any licensee having no established place of business.

§ 16. "State fish exchange" created. To carry out the provisions of this act, there is hereby created a "state fish exchange" as a department of the state commission market, created by chapter seven hundred thirteen of the statutes of nineteen hundred fifteen, approved June 10, 1915, and of the state market commission created by the "state market commission act." The state fish exchange shall have a secretary who shall execute a bond to the people of the state of California in the sum of ten thousand dollars for the faithful performance of his duties. The state market director shall have authority, subject to the state civil service act, to appoint all employees of the state fish exchange necessary to carry out the provisions of this act and shall fix their compensation.

§ 17. Rules and regulations. The state market director shall establish and enforce rules and regulations necessary for the proper carrying out of the provisions of this act, and shall print and distribute the same to all persons applying therefor without charge.

§ 18. "State fish exchange fund." There is hereby created a fund to be known as the "state fish exchange fund." On or before the tenth day of each month, the state fish exchange shall remit to the state treasury all moneys collected by said exchange under this act, during the preceding month. All such remittances shall be placed to the credit of the state fish exchange fund and said fund shall be kept separate and apart from other state moneys. All expenses of whatsoever nature incurred by said exchange pursuant to the provisions of this act, including the actual and necessary traveling and other expenses of its employees incurred while on business of the exchange and including the premium and charge for bonds given by surety companies for employees of the exchange when required by the state market director or by the provisions hereof, shall be paid from the said fund, after approval by the state market director, upon claims to be audited by the state board of control, except as provided in section nineteen of this act.

§ 19. Revolving fund. A revolving fund of five hundred dollars shall be established by the state board of control out of the state fish exchange fund for expenses of the state fish exchange, other than salaries, rent and other regular expenses, and the state market director may expend such revolving fund without first procuring the authority of the board of control, but shall file vouchers therefor monthly with the board of control.

§ 20. Payments to state market commission fund. A sum equaling five per cent of the gross receipts of the state fish exchange shall be paid out of the state fish exchange fund, monthly, to the credit of the state commission market fund or in the event of the repeal of the act creating the state market commission fund, approved June 10, 1915, to the state market commission fund as a commission on the business of the state fish exchange, for services rendered it by the state market director.

§ 21. Educational and publicity campaigns. Any surplus over and above the expenditures of the state fish exchange in the state fish exchange fund shall be expended by said exchange, under the direction of the state market director, in educational and publicity campaigns for the purposes of increasing the consumption of fresh food fish, and of enabling the public to obtain fish at reasonable prices.

§ 22. Fish exempted. Nothing in this act shall be construed as applying to fish bought or sold for canning, curing or packing; or as requiring the payment of license fees by canners, curers, or packers of fish; or to fish caught by other than market fishermen; or to fish sold direct by fishermen to private consumers; or to fish caught in waters within the state privately owned, or to crustaceans or mollusks except that provisions of section seven as to destruction or diversion of food fish shall be of general application.

§ 23. License suspended or revoked. Any license issued under the authority of this act may be suspended or revoked by the state market director in his discretion, as herein provided, or upon evidence that the holder thereof has been or is a violator of the provisions of section six of this act, authorizing the fixing of maximum prices on fish, or of the fish and game laws of the state, as evidenced by conviction in any court of competent jurisdiction; or any such license may be suspended in the discretion of the state market director for a period not to exceed thirty days for any violation of the rules and regulations provided for in section seventeen. Such suspension or revocation shall be made only after due notice of such intention has been given the offender and an opportunity given him to rebut the charge at a formal hearing by the state market director, at which hearing the accused shall be entitled to be represented by attorney.

§ 24. Statement of fish caught. The state market director may require from any person engaged in marketing fish a written statement as to the amount and varieties of fish caught, or on hand, or sold by said person. Failure to furnish such statement on demand shall be good and sufficient grounds for the suspension of license issued under the provisions of this act, at the discretion of the state market director, for a period not exceeding thirty days.

§ 25. Seal. The state fish exchange shall have a seal bearing the inscription "state fish exchange, state of California, seal," which seal shall be affixed to all instruments, including licenses, issued under the provisions of this act.

§ 26. Investigations. (a) The state market director may make investigations concerning all matters relating to the provisions of this act. In connection therewith he shall have the right to inspect the books and records of any person engaged in marketing fish, and the state market director is hereby empowered to hear complaints, administer oaths, certify to all official acts, and to issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers, books, accounts, documents and testimony in any inquiry, investigation, hearing or proceeding in any part of the state.

(b) Subpoenas. The superior court in and for the county, or city and county, in which any inquiry, investigation or proceeding may be held by the state market director, shall have power to compel the attendance of witnesses, the giving of testimony and the production of papers, including books, accounts and documents, as required by any subpoena issued by the state market director. The court upon petition of the state market director shall enter an order directing the witness to appear before the court at a time and place to be fixed by the court in such order, the time to be not more than ten days from the date of the order, and then and there show cause why he had not attended and testified or produced said papers before the state market director. A copy of said order shall be served upon said witness. If it shall appear to the court that said subpoena was regularly issued by the state market director, the court shall thereupon enter an order that said witness appear before the state market director at a time and place to be fixed in such order, and testify or produce the required papers, and upon failure to obey said order, said witness shall be dealt with as for contempt of court.

§ 27. Penalty. Any violation of the provisions of section seven of this act as to destruction or diversion of food fish, of section nine as to licenses required, or of section ten as to license regulations, or of section fifteen requiring licenses to be displayed or shown, shall be a misdemeanor punishable by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars or by imprisonment not exceeding ninety days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

§ 28. Suits commenced, when. All prosecutions or suits brought under this act shall be commenced within six months from the time such offense was committed.

§ 29. Annual report. The state market director shall make and submit to the governor, on or before the first day of December of each year, a report containing a full and complete account of the transactions and proceedings of the state fish exchange, for the preceding fiscal year, together with such facts, suggestions and recommendations as may be deemed of value to the people of the state.

§ 30. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such
